Town Action Overruled

County Commissioners Find For Rotondi In Street Petitions

The County Commissioners last week overruled the action of the Town of Winchester in refusing to accept the Selectmen's layout of Sunset road as a public way, as petitioned by Eugene B. Rotondi of 224 Forest street, and also set aside the Selectmen's action in refusing to lay out Churchill road as a public way, upon the petition of Eugene B. Rotondi, Jr.

From some time Mr. Rotondi has been trying to get Sunset road accepted as a public way. Opposition to the acceptance was made by residents of the neighborhood in which the road is placed, the opposition being apparently based on their belief that the road would be used by the petitioners to transport racing dogs from kennels owned by him in Woburn and for heavy industry.

The Selectmen laid out the road as a public way and the matter came before the town meeting last March, at which time the representative town meeting members voted against acceptance, 102 to 52.

In the case of Churchill road the Selectmen refused to lay out the street after a hearing because the road was a private way, and the petitioners appealed to the County Commissioners, who upheld the town. Their action this year reversed their previous finding.

LEGION INSTALLATION

The Winchester, Post 97, American Legion held its installation of officers at the Legion home last Saturday night with the Dept. of Mass. Senior Vice Commander, Howard Schreiber as the installing officer. His assistant was Dep't. Vice Commander, Frank Nittipshi. The installing officer retired the out-going officers and then installed the new commander, Frank Provizano, who then handled the banquet for the remainder of the evening.

The commander thanked his officers and members of Post 97 for their confidence in electing him commander and predicted with the support of each and every member, the Post will surely go over the top. The commander then called upon George Saltmarsh, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, to bring the greetings of the town to the Post.

The next to say a few words was the popular and well-known candle light, Chaplain Fr. Charles Anadore.

Following Fr. Anadore's message, Commander Provizano introduced and presented bouquets of flowers to his mother and wife with his son Peter also taking a bow.

The President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Post 97, Dot McCormack, was then introduced and was presented with a bouquet of flowers.

Congresswoman Edith Rogers and Senator Fred McDermott sent telegrams stating their last minute duties out of state made it impossible to attend the installation, although they mentioned that Winchester is always a place they like to visit.

Commander Provizano then called upon Past Commander of Post 97 and Past Dep't. Commander, Robert E. "Sam" Murphy who was the enlightening message of what the American Legion means.

"Sam" has just been appointed Special Rehabilitation Officer for the American Legion and his office will be at One Beacon street in Boston. His local Legion "buddies" are very proud of him and wish him luck.

After "Sam's" speech, Commander Provizano introduced the wives of Past Commander Henry O'Neill and Past Dep't. Commander "Sam" Murphy and each was presented with a corsage.

Commander Provizano then called upon Post 97's Past Commander, "Sam" Murphy, Henry O'Neill, Arthur Collins, Joseph McKee, Col. Nate Thumlin, Herbert Proberg, and Kenneth Hall.

The visiting guests were recognized and after Commander Provizano thanked all for their fine cooperation and assistance, Fr. Anadore, gave the benediction and the evening adjourned to enjoy a collation and dancing to Callahan's orchestra.

Present at the gathering were Father Dolphin, Father Anadore, Father Parker, Harriet Fitzgerald, executive secretary to the faculty and teacher of freshmen girls; Agnes Cullen, Gloria Mucera, Virginia Terlasi, William Stanley, Frank Weaver, Richard Haggerty, Anthony Juliano, and John Waite. The latest addition to the staff is Renne Goodrow of Merrimack College.

The students will be assigned to the following rooms: freshmen boys in Merritt Hall; sophomore boys in Room One; sophomore girls in Room Two; sophomore girls in Room Three; junior boys in Room Four; junior girls in Room Five; senior boys will meet in the library; senior girls in the O'Riordan Room. An exceptionally large audience is expected because of the tremendous increase of new families into the parish recently.

BRUSH FIRES

The fire department has been kept busy putting out brush fires in many parts of the town. On Tuesday there was a grass fire on Myopia road and Thursday morning there was a bad brush and grass fire at 131 Ridge street.

The fire department responded to this fire at 12:53 Thursday morning and fought the blaze until 3:10 that morning. The fire worked its way deep into the tinder dry ground, making it especially difficult to put out.

Previous to this fire there was a grass fire on Sylvester avenue near No. 69. A brush fire on the east side of "Money Hill" at the North Reservoir started last Friday and was still in progress Wednesday night, burning underground. Water department men fought this fire with the assistance of a fire department pump.

DEDICATION AND ORGAN RECITAL AT ST. MARY'S

On Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock St. Mary's Church will conduct a dedication ceremony of the newly rebuilt pipe organ in the upper church.

After the blessing of the organ by the pastor, Rev. John M. Maguire, there will be a recital demonstrating the various stops in the different combinations. At the keyboard will be the well-known Mr. Joseph Dempsey, accomplished concert organist, who has given recitals both in this country and abroad.

The program will close with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The entire ceremony will take but 45 minutes.

UNITED CHURCH CANVASS

November 24 has been selected as the date for this year's United Church Canvass. Once again seven of Winchester's Churches are now operating in conducting this campaign. Several meetings of your United Church Canvass Committee have already been held to initiate plans for this coordinated event.

TOWN OFFICES MOVE

NEW QUARTERS FOR ACCOUNTANT

Town Accountant James Costello has moved his office into the new General Committee Room at the Town Hall and will in the future occupy this room. The newly acquired book-keeping machines for his use have been installed there and his clerical staff, Mrs. Henry Dempsey and Mrs. William McMullen, are now located there.

Ever since the Town Accountant became a full time employee he has occupied space in the Park Department office on the second floor of the Town Hall. With the advent of the new fiscal policy and installation of the computing machine, the old office arrangements became wholly inadequate, and the Accountant moved into the much more commodious quarters across the second floor hall.

Moving into the Park Department office space vacated are the Veterans' Service officer and the Personnel Board. The Finance Committee and other town boards customarily using the General Committee Room will now meet in the quarters of the Board of Public Welfare on the first floor of the hall.

A check disclosed that in the past few years there has been little call for hearing in the General Committee Room. It is now believed that hearings too big to be held either in the Selectmen's office or the Welfare office would in any event be of sufficient size to be held in the Small Town Hall.

MRS. RACHEL M. BRADY

Mrs. Rachel M. Brady, widow of Thomas Brady and mother of Mrs. James L. Coughlin of 10 Forest street, died Monday evening, September 30, at the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn following a long illness.

Mrs. Brady had made her home with her daughter in Winchester since her retirement. Her husband died 10 years ago, and besides Mrs. Coughlin she leaves seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

TOUR OF HOMES

On Thursday, October 17, from 1:15 to 5:00 p. m. the Mt. Holyoke Club of Winchester will sponsor a Tour of Homes for the benefit of its Scholarship Fund. Five distinctive homes will hold "open house" for this event. Winchester homemakers and their friends may wander through collecting many an idea on architecture and interior decoration.

The five homes to be opened display fascinatingly different personalities. A strikingly lovely new home overlooking the Mystic Lakes is that of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander P. Aiken, 26 Myopia road. Modern good design in use of space, light and color complement handsome traditional furnishings. The unusual fireplace in the den and the breakfast room with its charming teakwood wallpaper are among many charming features.

Originally a six-room Cape Cod, the home of Dr. and Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale, 15 Jefferson road, has been expanded in many novel and interesting ways to meet the needs of a growing family. The new multi-purpose room which ingeniously combines study, recreation, dining, laundry and guest room facilities deserves special recognition.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Seddon will open their contemporary home at 8 Edgewater place. This unusual home is distinguished for its multi-level fluid floor plan. Interior use of copper, vinyl, stone and wood add fascinating detail. The ultra-modern kitchen with its island-type stove is a cook's dream come true.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo M. Pistorio of 44 Myopia road have an unusually spacious and well-planned ranch home designed for convenient one-floor living. A beautiful use of soft, glowing colors highlight the decoration of this charming home while the best in modern appointments throughout make it a housekeeper's joy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Norton Kidder of 18 Brooks street will open their large older type Winchester home which has been most beautifully remodelled into an ideal home for year-round family living. Sheer elegance characterizes the main floor. Wonderful recreational and entertainment facilities include a swimming pool and a garden room with a fountain.

The Mt. Holyoke Tour offers a delightful and informative afternoon for all homemakers.

BETTER THAN ITALY'S

This was the observation of Cmdr. The Italian pilot is on a good-will mission to 22 cities in Europe, North and South America in behalf of his country. He spent two days in Boston. Shown with him are Pat Giovino, Andover, Prince executive, center; and Sal Cantella, Winchester, treasurer, Prince Macaroni Co., right.

HOLY NAME BOWLING LEAGUE

After two weeks of preliminary bowling the Holy Name Society on last Thursday night started its team competition. If the first night of team play is an example, a fast, exciting, noisy and highly competitive season is definitely in store.

This is the way the eavesdropper hears it: "Cigars" Kimball complaining about his curve ball that wasn't working, "Tiger" Fiore trying to kick 'em down, "Law and Order" Dunbury stealing spares, "Builder" Whitney complaining that they don't fall down, "Procy" Ed Forbes being a gadabout, "Professor" Merenda giving lessons (he can afford to with 105-143-115 for three strings). The Maroli's Leo, 105 and 102, Charley 108 are having a family competition even though Charley tried to buy off "Pa." Leo Roche said things were not the same: "They don't go down like they used to." Lots more alibis and excuses until next week when the stories will be new or resurrected. However, others must be given credit for good strings: "Trying for three hundred" Cleary with 107, Leo Johnson, 108, Al Thorne 100, Duffy 104, Ross 100, Barry squeaking 99.

We would like to see a few more interested in a good night of bowling. Come Thursday at 9 or better still on Sunday morning to hear all about it at our first meeting.

More next week from the Eaves-dropper.

WINCHESTER FRESHMEN LOST OPENER

WOBURN JUNIOR HIGH 7-0 WINNER

Winchester High School's freshman football team lost a 7-0 opening game to the Woburn Junior High School eleven last Friday afternoon on Manchester Field. The game was not as close as the score would indicate, Woburn being in the driver's seat most of the way.

Neither team was able to score until the closing minutes of play when Burnham climaxed a 45 yard Woburn drive by powering over the goal line from three yards out. Burnham also rushed for the extra point.

Facing a 7-0 deficit with only two minutes remaining Winchester took to the air and moved quickly up field to the Tanner 20 where Kevin Carey intercepted a pass to end the threat. The summary:

WOBURN: Niles, Denchy, le. Morrison, Brown, Jr., McHugh, Hogan, Jr., Beauchamp, McAdams, c. Hubert, Hassett, Jr., Murray, Thompson, rt. Bavaio, Halliday, re. Eaton, qb. Schenka, Carey, lb. Carey, rlb. Burnham, fb.

WEE SACHEMS BEAT MEDFORD

The Winchester Pee Wees with their official name changed to Wee Sachems started out by stunning Medford 26-6 at West Medford Sunday.

The first half looked like the Melrose game of last Sunday with the battle even and the only bright spot for Winchester being when big Dan Winn fancy legged around the Medford left end for 6 points.

With the score 6-6 at the half the Wee Sachems came back and showed what they are shaping up to be, a good ball team. Vic Lawson returned a Medford punt to score on a thirty-five yard romp. Paul Grady hit Barry Sullivan with a fine pass to make the point after. Dick Rowe ran the Medford ends like Mr. Outside himself and went all the way to make it 19-6 for Winchester.

The final score came when iron man Vic Pappadinos pulled in a perfect Paul Grady pass on the twenty and galloped all the way. Medford never got underway in the second half when the iron mites Barry Johnson, Kent Parrot, Vic Pappadinos, Barry Sullivan, Vic Lawson and Roddy Wild turned in a real defensive show that bottled up the speedy and elusive Billy Riley of Medford.

The Winchester "B" squad won their second straight in as many starts 6-0. Jeff Peckham, Joe Ruma, John Stabile, and Bob Foley ran Medford ragged, then went in to help out in the Varsity game.

The line-up:
le. Wild, Johnson, Devaney, Rowe, R. Murray, Pappadinos, Gay, Parrot, Broadhurst, Sullivan, Brink, Murray, Longworth, Stabile, qb, Grady, Parrot, Peckham, lb, Winn, Johnson, Foley, rbb, Rowe, Doane, Ruma.

WINCHESTER AT STONEHAM

Winchester plays its second game of the budding '57 season tomorrow afternoon with Stoneham at Stoneham, a Middlesex League contest commencing at 1:30.

Once again this is a Class B contest, Stoneham being one of the teams moved up this year from C to B.

Stoneham dropped its opener last Saturday to Melrose, 21-6, but the Winchester scouts who covered the game, felt Stoneham was better than the score would indicate, with a good passing attack that has Powers throwing to two tall ends.

Against Melrose Stoneham frittered away some scoring opportunities that could have made the score much closer.

Winchester beat Stoneham a year ago, 18-0, in a sloppy game that saw the Indians lose the ball on fumbles three times inside the Stoneham ten and have several promising drives stalled by penalties.

Stoneham has a new coach this year in Jack Downes, who replaced Winchester's Tony DeToro when the fiery little former Winchester and Tufts center moved upstairs to athletic director at Stoneham High. The local scouts were impressed with the Stoneham passing potential, and also said the Light Blue seemed to have good size.

Winchester played both well and poorly at Concord, being especially lackluster in the first half. Fumbles hurt the Indians at Concord, but at times the local boys looked impressive offensively, and though the line had trouble stopping Concord's running plays, this was to be expected with a green line and the tricky Concord offense, one of the best conceived Winchester will face all year.

After the game Concord's veteran coach, Bernie Mesin, appraised Winchester's current football team as the best he has faced, bar Joe Bellino's club. The locals ought to win at Stoneham, but any team with a good passing attack can be dangerous and the local coaches are taking nothing for granted tomorrow.

FRESHMAN DAY
AT SMITH COLLEGE

On Saturday, September 28, a group of eight senior girls at the Winchester High School were driven to Northampton by Mrs. John Huttenlaub, president and Mrs. Ernest L. Weil, scholarship committee chairman, of the Smith College Club. They attended Freshman Day at Smith College. This function entitled them to a conducted tour of the campus, an opportunity to attend classes and lunch at the various houses on the campus. In the afternoon an exhibition of sports was held on the athletic field and college girls paraded under the banners of their various houses.

The trip afforded pre-college girls an excellent opportunity to get acquainted with Smith College more intimately in its daily routine.

Winchester Wins Opener

Concord Beaten, 18-13 In Middlesex League Clash

Winchester opened its 1957 football season with a victory last Saturday, winning its Middlesex League game from Concord High at Emerson Field, Concord, by a score of 18-13. The game was close all the way, with each team missing a touchdown, and for an opening game both teams did well enough.

Concord had the edge statistics-wise, making 15 first downs to 10 for Winchester and rushing for 214 yards to 195 for the Red and Black. The Patriots completed three of nine passes for 44 yards with two passes intercepted, fumbled twice and lost 30 yards in penalties. Winchester passed only three times, completing two heaves for a gain of 25 yards. The Indians fumbled four times, recovering once and lost 40 yards in penalties.

Winchester won the toss and elected to receive, with Thomson running back the kickoff to his 30. Flaherty picked up seven, and Winchester refused an offside against Concord on the play, putting the ball in play from its 37, second and three.

On the next play Cosimo Paonessa, fleet scabbard, broke through the line and got past the secondary, straightening out for the long gallop to the Concord goal. Two long-legged Concord boys took up the chase and when Paonessa veered sharply to his right about the Concord ten, Evans, Patriot 220 yard track man, finally hauled him down at the Concord two.

Paonessa immediately hit tackle for the score, but the attempted extra point, Longworth fumbled the pass back from center so Serratore tried to run with the ball, being dropped just inside the five yard stripe.

Serratore's kickoff was run back by Concord from the 10 to the 30, but the Patriots were assessed 15 yards for clipping on the next play and the ball went back to the Concord 15. On the next play Serratore hit the Concord ball carrier hard, jarring the ball from his grasp, Graham falling on the loose leather for Winchester at the Concord 20.

On the first play Concord was offside placing the ball ahead of the 15, where it was first down and five. Paonessa went to inches of first down and Longworth picked up the first down on the seven on a sweep left.

Flaherty bucked to the three and it looked like an easy second touchdown for Winchester. A "quickie" pass, however, fell incomplete, Flaherty got only a yard at center, and on fourth down Thomson was jammed back on the seven as a full-back sweep right was piled up, Concord taking over.

In three tries, Evans, workhorse of the Concord backfield, made first down at the 19, Anderson on a pretty cut back got out into the clear and was finally dropped by Graham on the Winchester 34.

Evans powered his way into the clear and looked good to go all the way when he was cut down by Thomson at the 15. Anderson bucked to the 6, and Denaro on a roll-out play circled his own left end to score standing up. Denaro's try for the extra point at placement was no good.

That ended the scoring for the half, but Concord was on the march when Freddie Bartlett intercepted a Denaro pass at his own 26 in the opening minute of the second quarter. A Paonessa fumble ended a Winchester march at the Concord 25 as the quarter entered its final few minutes.

Despite a clipping penalty Concord started to roll, with Evans and Anderson making first down at the Concord 37. Denaro and Evans made first down at the Concord 47, and Anderson picked up right, but Bartlett stopped Hewitt for a two yard loss.

Denaro on a keep play reached the Winchester 35 where he was knocked outside by Serratore. With time rapidly running out Denaro took to the air. Two passes 300 Bowlers this week were Peter Lonigro, 308; Tony Saraco, 309; Mel Fiore, 310; Richard Fiore, 302.

Scoutmaster Bob Fiore's team also topped high team pin fall with 1398. His batch of tenderfoots include Joe DiIorio, Pete Lonigro, Henry Subrizio and Joe Ciarcia. Highlights of the night is the continued spectacular bowling of Tony Saraco who hasn't lost a bit of his finesse. Our beloved brother, Musky Tofuri, put on a one man diving show in alley 12 with a beautiful and graceful swan dive that was a beauty. Dr. Chic was in immediate attendance. Anchorman Creeper Gene Roundi last man up for B. C. team needed twelve pins to tie, thirteen pins to win. He had two boxes to do it in. He does the impossible and bowled eleven! The old man made an appearance this evening, his right arm in a sling and a look of dejection graced his face and a severe case of apathy engulfed his very soul. That warrior of old christened "Biaggio" San Giovan Giuseppe "Hokie" Procopio.

This week's honor and glory goes to Sammy Bellino.

MEAT QUIZ!Learn How To Get The Most Value
For The Money You Spend On Meat

Q. What is the highest recognized agency which grades meat?

A. Government licensed meat graders. These experts judge meat and stamp the correct grade right on the meat. This grade is the consumers guide to quality.

Q. How many grades of Beef are there?

A. There are 6 U. S. grades of Beef, Veal and Lamb. Prime, Choice, Good, Commercial, Utility, Canner, and Cutter. Alphabet grades such as "AA" and "A" are not government grades. When you read a Food Ad saying Meat is Western Steer Beef? — don't be confused. Unless the Ad specifies U. S. Grade "Prime or Choice" — you may be getting Western Steer Beef of inferior quality.

Q. What does the round purple stamp on the meat mean?

A. It means government inspected and passed as wholesome food. This inspection is important but it tells nothing about the meat's tenderness and flavor — only that it is wholesome food.

Q. What is meat aging?

A. Meat aging is the holding and conditioning of meat until it reaches eating perfection by its own natural processes — instead of sending it immediately to market.

Q. Will all meat take aging?

A. No. Pork and Veal shouldn't be aged and poor beef and lamb are not improved by aging. But top U. S. Government grades of beef and lamb such as selected by our buyers do benefit.

Q. Does aging improve meat tenderness and flavor?

A. Yes. During the aging of fine beef and lamb under proper conditions — (correctly controlled humidity and temperature) — the flavor-carrying extracts in the meat tissues develop and permeate the meat. Aging softens the tough fibre and tissues — makes for tender eating.

Q. What do you look for when buying beef?

A. Look for heavy, white (not yellow) firm fat with white streaks or grains of fat running thru the meat. This factor more than any other is the reason for good beef.

Q. How can this difference be proved?

A. Select your favorite cut CONVERSE Blue Ribbon Meat. Take it home. Cook it and serve it as you prefer. Eat it and judge its value in tenderness, juiciness and flavor. You'll be convinced it's THE FINEST MEAT SOLD ANYWHERE. You just can't miss. Our years of buying experience assure you of only the best.

We can well imagine the United Fund authorities wish that everyone's cooperation with the coming all-embracing campaign could be like that of the Combined Jewish Appeal of Greater Boston. Not only have those responsible for the Jewish Appeal urged all affiliated, especially solicitors, to do everything possible to assist the United Fund, but they have moved their own drive for funds ahead to spring so as not to conflict with the United Fund campaign. The Jewish authorities are deserving of a warm pat on the back for a splendid cooperative gesture.

It looks now as though providing necessary additional space for our high and junior high pupils is not going to be painless. The newly enlarged and remodelled high school is already reported as too full to function properly, and those studying the problem of providing additional space for the high school seem to feel that the construction of another junior high school isn't going to provide anything like a permanent solution. More room in the high school has to be provided.

Apparently those responsible for the most recent solution of the secondary school facilities problem didn't read the Winchester population trends right, for it was believed when the inter-change of high and junior high school buildings was made that secondary school facilities were being provided for about 11 years. As a matter of fact the high school was filled to capacity almost from the day it opened.

It should not be forgotten that considerable time elapsed between the acceptance of the then school facilities committee's plans and the actual completion of the building. The school population picture well could have changed in that time.

The increase in homes in Winchester has been phenomenal, it is true, but this is not all the story. In many of the more established neighborhoods old homes in which elderly people have lived out their lives are now tenanted by young people with one or several youngsters of school age. Apparently everyone wants his children to grow up in the Winchester schools and it takes room to provide for these youngsters.

The school facilities committee, or that division of the committee studying school population trends, sees no leveling off of school population in the near future. The trend is still upward. Town meeting members need to tighten their belts and brace themselves for some particularly knotty questions that await their decisions.

Reaction to the County Commissioners' decision for Mr. Rotondi, and against the town, in the matter of the Rotondis' petitions to get acceptance of Sunset road and Churchill road is likely to be influenced by whether you have felt the petitioner is entitled to relief from the landlocked condition in which he has been placed by repeated refusal to accept the ways or whether you opposed the granting of the petitions on the grounds that they were really not what they seemed to be. Those most opposed to the granting of the petitions have apparently inclined to the belief that the roads were to be used for heavy industry and for the transportation of racing greyhounds through a residential zone. Mr. Rotondi has contended that the streets are wanted to enable him to develop a large piece of property which he cannot develop without access roads.

The County Commissioners must have thought they had a good reason to set aside a decision of a town meeting on the one hand and the Board of Selectmen on the other. They denied a petition for the roads in 1956 and this year held two hearings before reversing their previous decision.

In handing down their decision the Commissioners stipulate that the roads Mr. Rotondi wants shall be built by him at his own expense and be subject to the provisions of subdivision control. Just how they propose to make the subdivision control stipulation stick on a road which they have directed the town clerk to write into the records as an accepted public way, just as if it had been accepted by the town, is not quite clear to town authorities with whom we have talked. In fact town officials seem to feel the Commissioners' decisions need clarification in several particulars. The Selectmen and Planning Board are studying the decisions closely.

None of the town authorities, for instance, seems to understand what the Commissioners mean by the words appearing in both decisions, "reserving for future return their order setting forth the manner, limits, boundaries, and measurements of said layout."

Until a competent legal opinion can be had on just what the Commissioners can do, and have done, the town's future action, if any there is to be, remains in doubt. Meanwhile if the Commissioners have resolved the road squabble that has long plagued the town in an equitable manner that has not jeopardized the future of subdivision control in Winchester, many will breathe a sigh of relief.

Next week is International Letter Writing Week, sponsored by the post office department. It makes more sense than a lot of so-called "weeks" we are called upon to observe. As a matter of fact the idea behind International Letter Writing Week is that written communications between people in all the countries of the world will contribute toward the building of a lasting peace.

A lot of good will has come from the "pen pal" idea. Warm friendships have been formed and international understanding and tolerance fostered by the letters written by young people in this and foreign countries. International Letter Writing Week is the same idea on a larger scale.

International Letter Writing Week grew from the National Letter Writing Week movement begun by the post office department in 1938. The success of the national week prompted the attempt to spread the movement abroad.

Everybody likes to get letters. If you have a friend anywhere with whom you haven't communicated for some time, write him next week whether he is at home or abroad. If you can do anything to aid in making International Letter Writing Week a success, why not do it? Anything any one of us can do to promote world understanding and peace is worth-while.

There are in this week's Star two articles which should be carefully read by everyone and especially considered by those who as town meeting members will have to decide what is to be done at Monday's special town meeting.

In one spot in the paper the Library Addition Committee is showing floor plans of their proposed changes in our library with an architect's sketch of what the building with the additions and remodeling will look like. Many will find the present appearance much more attractive than that of the building proposed last March.

Unfortunately the library question cannot be considered alone, on its individual merits, desirable as this would be. We have got to build some more schools, one in the West Side hill district and probably another junior high school, if we are to believe the school population figures as presented by the Committee for Additional School Facilities. Nor will the building of another junior high school remove the possibility that additions will have to be made to the present, already enlarged, high school building.

What does all this mean to the library plans? It means that the proposed addition and remodeling of the library must be shown to be absolutely necessary, not from the standpoint of continuing cultural projects which, however desirable, do not come under the head of library functions, but from the standpoint of actual library service.

In several respects this is a bad time of year to come before the town meeting with a request for $294,000 for a building project, the actual need for which is questioned by many. Tax bills have been received, and are going out, and those who have had to pay them, and the extra amount necessitated by the hike due to expenditures at the March town meeting are not in too liberal a mood.

Winchester came as near to a tax payers' revolt last March as we have seen in thirty-odd years of covering town meetings. How much of that opposition to spending anything for anything still remains only time will tell. We hear little to make us feel that the surge toward economy has subsided to any great degree, and this feeling will also apply to school plans.

A lot of the extras that Winchester has built into its schools in the past may come in for close scrutiny and actual rough sailing in the future! Tax payers are commencing to wonder why parochial schools, built on the average more cheaply than public schools, stand up so well and seem so completely functional.

There can be no question that those who pay the bills in Winchester are going to look over future municipal expenditures much more closely than they have in the past. Our steady rise in the tax rate has not been funny. We predict an interesting town meeting session on Monday.

BOARD OF HEALTH DISCUSSES ASIAN FLU

Editor of the Star:

It has been interesting to read in the daily press the "forecasts" and the "predictions" regarding the so-called "Asian Flu." Back in August there were articles describing the disease as it started in the Far East and was found to be caused by a variant of the influenza virus.

On September 12 we read "State Opens Flu Fight" and the "Plans will be drafted at the State House today for a defense against a health foe that has yet to invade Massachusetts." On September 13 the headlines proclaimed "State Warned of Epidemic" and "Communities Told to Guard for Asian Flu Epidemic." Community leaders were urged to prepare for "the most devastating aspect" of an Asian influenza epidemic.

Six days later the headlines reported "Asian Flu Menace to Continue 3 to 4 Years," but a week later reported "Flu Poses Little Danger." About the same time the tempo began to slow down nationwide and we read "N. Y. Officials Cite Mildness of Asian Flu. Advisers See No Need for Mass Vaccination," while from San Francisco on September 28 came an article headed "Flu Vaccine Hysteria Cited. Mass Immunization Deplored by Experts."

As has been pointed out in the smaller print below the screaming headlines, most of the cases of the so-called Asian flu have been of a mild nature with few, if any, complications. Many cases of upper respiratory infections have been "reported" as Asian flu before the tests (if any) have come back from the laboratories.

Following a meeting of the Scientific Advisory Committee on Influenza to the New York City Department of Health, the committee issued a statement in which it emphasized the following points:

Because of the mildness of the disease, there is no need for great concern about any epidemic in the city.

The exact value of the vaccine currently being used as a preventative of Asian influenza has not yet been established.

The most sensible use of existing supplies of vaccine is to reduce absenteeism among those engaged in essential work.

Although Asian influenza is spreading throughout the world, it has remained a mild illness of short duration. Complications and deaths have been few in comparison with the number of cases. This epidemic does not resemble the 1918-19 influenza epidemic.

Here in Winchester the Board of Health is not going to hold clinics for influenza inoculations as it did for polio last year. Persons desiring the vaccine will obtain it from their private physicians.

However, arrangements are being made for the police and firefighters who desire the injections to receive them at the Board of Health Clinic on dates to be announced later. This is in keeping with the state and federal health officials' request that "priority" groups, hospital personnel, police, firefighters, etc., be given inoculations first.

At the present writing a survey of all the Winchester drug stores reveals a complete absence of the vaccine, but it is "predicted" that some will be available in four to six weeks.

It is urged that everyone exercise reasonable precautions during the coming winter months. Adequate diet and rest are essential, and those who develop colds or upper respiratory infections should stay out of crowds and remain at home until fully recovered. These few precautions may help to prevent epidemics of influenza or other diseases.

The Winchester Garden Club held its first fall meeting at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday, September 26, at 1:30 p.m.

The hostesses were: Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. William C. Ross and Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon. After a most delicious buffet dessert and coffee the president, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, most graciously welcomed the members and cordially greeted the two new members, Mrs. Charles E. Abbott and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl.

Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, the program chairman, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Phillips Davis, past president of the Wakefield Garden Club. Her subject was, "Table Setting with Fruit and Flowers."

Mrs. Davis brought with her a very interesting and unusual collection of linens, china, and glassware which she used with her fruit and flower arrangements to make each grouping a unit in itself, suitable for breakfast, luncheon or dinner.

Her first table setting was done using black place mats with white decorations, red linen napkins and white milk glass. With this she made a pyramid of little red crab apples and andromeda tips sitting very erect on an old white milk glass compote. For a change of mood she very quickly changed this arrangement for a black oblong bowl filled with red geraniums and firecracker plant. It was difficult to judge which was more attractive.

Next for a more formal dinner table she used white, black and silver mats, lavender napkins, silver

MISTRETTA — MALENCHINI

Miss Barbara Joanne Malenchini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Malenchini of 49 Ryder avenue, Melrose, and Gaetano Salvatore Mistretta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Mistretta of 5 Harvard street, were married on Sunday afternoon, September 15, at St. Mary's Church, Melrose. Rev. Francis O'Neill, cousin of the bride, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Briar Cliff Lodge in Lynn. Miss Marilyn Gulla of Melrose was soloist.

Miss Malenchini was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace over satin and tulle with a Sabrina neckline and a chapel train. Her bridal veil was caught to a matching headpiece and she carried white orchids.

Mrs. Rocco Rizzuto of Malden was her cousin's matron of honor and Miss Claire E. Malenchini of Melrose, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. The bridesmaids were Mrs. James Coughlin, Jr., of Medford, Mrs. Paul Ryan of Malden and Miss Marilyn Casalinuova of Melrose, cousins of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Wilbur Robinson of Somerville.

Following their wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Mistretta will live in Winchester.

ILSE STANLEY TO SPEAK

The Winchester Branch of the Unitarian Alliance will hold the first meeting of the Fall season next Tuesday, October 8. The program promises to be a memorable one for the chairman, Miss Grace Willis, was able to arrange to have Mrs. Ilse Stanley speak. She is the author of "The Unforgotten," an autobiographical revelation of a world dominated by Hitler, and what one woman did about it. Her book and all that she stands for are so interesting and important that a cordial invitation is extended to everyone. The talk will be held in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church at 2:15 p. m.

The luncheon for members and guests will begin at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Richard A. Hakanson and James C. Breton are the co-chairmen. Mrs. Philip P. Wadsworth, president, will conduct a short business meeting at 2 o'clock, and at 2:15 Mrs. Stanley will be introduced by Mr. Edward Darling of the Beacon Press.

To give just an inkling of what manner of person Mrs. Stanley is, The Saturday Review of Literature in reviewing her book last May wrote "no less than 412 people" were personally rescued from German concentration camps by this astonishing woman. It goes on to state that "she had succeeded in rejecting hatred" . . . in spite of the cruelties she witnessed because of a "strong religious faith" . . . which embraces the best in all religions.

The second part of "The Unforgotten" is the story of a German refugee in America, finding a home for herself and son. She seems always to be seeking to build a bridge between the threatening savagery of men and something like the Kingdom of God.

For an afternoon of good fellowship and a thought-provoking talk you are welcome at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday, October 8. Luncheon at 1 o'clock and to hear Mrs. Stanley at 2:15 p. m.

Mrs. Lane Ash of Washington, D. C., arrived in Boston by plane Monday to spend a week with her mother, Mrs. Fred Hollins of Bacon street.

ART ASSOCIATION

The first meeting of this season of the Winchester Art Association was held in the library gallery Tuesday evening, October 1. Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr., as hospitality chairman served coffee at 7:30 and was assisted by Mrs. William J. O'Malley and Mrs. Hollis Nickerson, who arranged an interesting table decoration.

The president, Mrs. John W. Otiano, warmly welcomed the members and announced that the subjects of the programs for the 1957-1958 season is the relation of the arts to the home through the study of two and three-dimensional arts.

The subject "The Present Looks to the Past" was ably discussed by Mr. Norman C. Fletcher, A.I.A., a distinguished architect of wide experience now practicing in Boston. Slides were shown illustrating the talk and were beautiful and interesting example showing the development of architecture during the 19th century.

Mr. Fletcher stated that this was an eclectic period which went back to Greek, Egyptian and Japanese influence, emphasizing the use of fine materials.

The pictures shown on the screen included examples of Frank Lloyd Wright's houses, a French modern house, a building in the Illinois Institute of Technology, two large Chicago apartment houses, the UN-ECCO building in France, a house in Lexington, Mass., and a house in Everett at a recent awards ceremony at the plant.

Earl C. Sherburne of 31 Loring avenue received a ruby styled pin, emblematic of 25 years employment, and Thomas Y. Frotten of 88 Wendell street received a gold lapel pin for 15 years employment.

These drawings, generously loaned by the American Institute of Architects, will remain hanging in the library gallery through October.

Membership in the Winchester Art Association is open to all who are interested. The subject of the next meeting on November 5 will be "Living with New Dimensions" with Mr. Hans Krieks of Boston University as the speaker.

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The First Iron Works Association in Saugus will be open to members of the Bay State Historical League for their Fall Meeting on Saturday, October 19. The Works will be open at 9:00 a. m. to their visitors.

The afternoon meeting will be held at the First Universalist Church on Main street, Saugus at 2 o'clock, with President J. Sanger Atwill and Professor E. Neal Hartley as speakers. Refreshments will be served at the church following the meeting.

There are restaurants nearby on Route 1, or members may bring picnic lunches.

WIN MONSANTO AWARDS

Two Winchester men were among those winning long-service awards from the Monsanto Chemical Company in Everett at a recent awards ceremony at the plant.

Earl C. Sherburne of 31 Loring avenue received a ruby styled pin, emblematic of 25 years employment, and Thomas Y. Frotten of 88 Wendell street received a gold lapel pin for 15 years employment.

OCTOBER MOTOR VEHICLE INSPECTION

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King today announced that the second periodic motor vehicle inspection for 1957 will take place during the month of October. The law requires every motor vehicle which is registered in the Commonwealth prior to November 1 and which is operated on Massachusetts highways at any time during the month of October, to pass inspection and have displayed on the windshield on November 1, 1957, the official October inspection sticker.

This sticker, which bears black lettering on a red background, is to be placed on the lower right-hand corner of the windshield and in no other position and all other stickers, gadgets, decals, tourist stamps, and other attachments to the inside of the windshield, must also be removed. On wrap-around windshields, the sticker should be placed at the lower edge of the windshield as far to the right as possible and still be visible to the front.

The Registrar points out that there are now more motor vehicles registered in Massachusetts than ever before and that inspection stations and personnel will be overworked during the latter part of the inspection period. It is suggested that early inspections be made and that full and complete cooperation of the driving public will prevent disappointment at the end of the month.

Following the April, 1957 inspection, 880 were penalized because there was no sticker on their windshield on May first.

METHODIST CHURCH YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Junior and Senior High young people of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will meet together with their parents this Sunday evening, Robert Blaney, Youth Director, will tell of his experiences this last summer as a "Summer Evangelist" for the Methodist Church in Deer Lodge Montana.

Selected theological students were chosen to help start new churches, hold summer revivals, direct visitation campaigns, and organize community religious surveys. After a two weeks training period in Adrian, Michigan, these students were assigned to 14 different states to carry out their work. Mr. Blaney served as the Methodist minister in Deer Lodge Montana.

He attended UCLA from 1949 to 1953, graduating with an A.B. degree in Political Science. He attended the University of Mexico for one summer and during the summer of 1951 worked in Germany as a member of a Methodist Work Team. During the summer of 1952 he took part in the National Y.M.C.A. Washington Student Citizenship Seminar.

He was drafted into the United States Army and served with Army Intelligence in Korea. He returned to UCLA in June of 1955 and received an M.P.A., Masters of Public Administration in June 1957. He attended Boston University School of Theology last year as a Rockefeller Brothers Theological Fellow and is now in his second year of studies.

Jane Snook and April Godwin will present the worship service which will be followed by Mr. Blaney's illustrated presentation. Refreshments will be served by the Senior High Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Richard G. Seaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley G. Seaver of 90 Middlesex street, is studying at the Leland Powers School of Radio, Television and Theatre, which has just started its 54th year. He is preparing for a career in radio and television.

The Commissioners also granted Mr. Rotondi, Jr., more in the case of the petition for a public way, asked of the town. In addition to granting the original petition of Mr. Rotondi to the town for acceptance of Churchill Road from Forest Street to the town line, the Commissioners directed the acceptance to proceed some 1000 ft. in both this instance and in that of Sunset Road, giving the petitioners substantially more than they had asked of the town.

Following are the findings as handed down by the County Commissioners:

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

At a meeting of the County Commissioners for the County of Middlesex, held at Lowell, within and for said County, on the first Tuesday of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven.

Present: Mr. Eugene B. Rotondi, Jr., Chairman; Mr. William G. Andrew, William G. Buckley, Assistant Clerk.

FIRE

The fire department had two calls last Thursday for brush fires. The first one was to help the Woburn firefighters with a fire on Holton street. Engine 4 responded to the call and then the Winchester men were called back again that evening for a fire-up of the same fire.

The second fire was a brush fire off Lexington street. Winchester firefighters covered the Woburn station and while they were there answered a call which turned out to be a false alarm.

Last Friday was another busy day. The first call was from Woburn requesting that a truck cover the station while they answered a blaze which threatened a garage. At 6:20 p. m. the station received a report that a fire had broken out in the Fells near North Reservoir and Bear Hill in Stoneham. This fire burned acres of land and the local firefighters were there for the long siege.

Another brush fire was reported at 1 p. m. at Hutchinson road and at 6:50 Gordon Blanchard of 7 Cotuit avenue reported a fire in oil burner. Firefighters went to the house and found that the fire was caused by a flooded oil burner. Firefighters were called back to the scene of the fire and the fire was early Saturday for a fire-up of Friday's fire. At 11:45 they were called out again for a brush fire near 5 Cambridge street.

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB MEETS NEXT FRIDAY

The annual business meeting and Chowder Party is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. on Friday, the 11th of October. This is the meeting when officers for the coming year are elected and where gallons and gallons of delicious chowder vanish like magic. After the meeting there will be entertainment.

On Sunday, October 13, the Turnabout Fleet are having a get-together. The Annual Snipe Fleet Party is this Sunday. If you're a member of the fleet and do not have your ticket yet, please bring it with you. You can still get a ticket to this fine fest at the club until 10 p. m. tonight.

Daw Blamire has won all four races in the Snipe Series but is still trailing Jim Snow who has a little more favorable handicap.

W.S.C.S. MEETING

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will hold its first meeting of the season at the Church on Thursday, October 10, with the president, Mrs. J. Wilson Armstrong presiding.

Serving for the fair will start at 10:00 a. m. and continue all day. Bring something to work on and a hot sandwich. Dessert and coffee will be served at 12:30 by the Wildwood Group.

Our business meeting will start at 1:30 p. m. with devotion by Mrs. Lawrence Kinney. The speaker for the afternoon will be Miss Margaret Harnett, who has served many years as a missionary in India.

All the women of the Church are cordially invited to attend.

REVISED LIBRARY PLANS

WHAT IS RIGHT ABOUT THE WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY?

The operation and organization of our library reach the highest standards of library practice. This claim is borne out by the fact that the Simmons College School of Library Science has chosen our library as one of three in this state to be visited by its classes as an example of good library practice in action. It is further supported by the complimentary report of library consultants hired by the town to make a study of the Winchester Library.

A large number of town residents make use of the facilities of our public library. The percentage of registered borrowers exceeds national library standards in the case of both adults, and children between 5 and 14. The records of book circulation show that use of the library by children and adults is high compared to national averages.

Our library is well integrated with the social and cultural life of our town. It provides film programs which all members of the family can enjoy together. It supplements the school system by supplying books to the various grade schools for their reading programs; it keeps source and reference books required by the high school and junior high school students in their courses; and it offers for young people training classes in library usage which help them greatly in their later schooling. Training is given to groups of Boy and Girl Scouts. A meeting place for small cultural and service organizations in the town is always available. The library supports such cultural groups as the Art Association, the Historical Society and the Garden Club by maintaining meeting and exhibit space as well as book collections in their particular fields. The music room has records which may be borrowed, and recorded concerts are held each week.

The building is centrally located, giving adequate service to people from all parts of the town. For this reason there is no need to contemplate the duplication and inefficiency of branch libraries in Winchester.

We have a beautiful traditional library building. It is a public building of which the residents are justly proud.

WHAT IS WRONG WITH OUR LIBRARY?

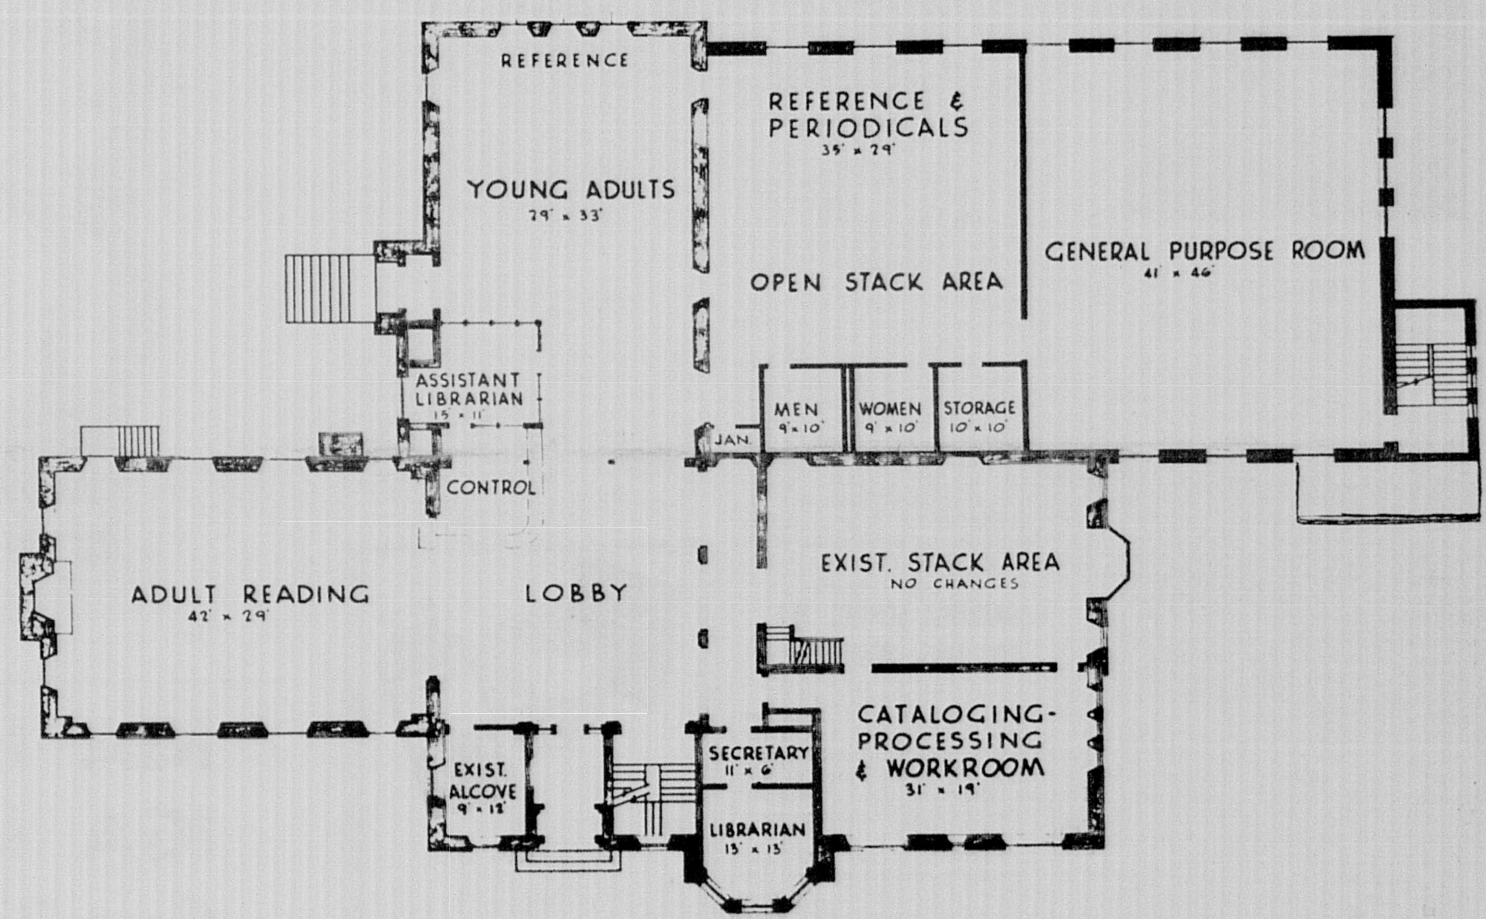

The major trouble with our library is that it has become cramped for operating and storage space. The present building has served us well for almost thirty years during which time the number of volumes and number of registered borrowers has more than doubled. Is it any wonder then that we are running low on book storage space; that more space and facilities to carry out a highly desirable children's program are needed; that our workroom situation demands improvement; and that our facilities for high-school-age young adults are inadequate?

THE REVISED PLANS

The Library Addition Building Committee feels that there are three major questions in people's minds as a result of the discussion at the March Town Meeting. These are the cost of an addition; the ability of modern construction practices to blend with the traditional architecture of the existing building; and the uprooting of certain organizations which presently use the library as a home. With these points in mind the committee re-examined the plan presented at the March meeting minus the "auditorium wing" and found that no simple revision of the remaining plan would answer these criticisms. It was decided that a substitute plan was the only answer. During the summer the committee, the library staff, the library consultants, and the architects have worked to formulate the plan presented here. This, we feel, is a satisfactory compromise as it fulfills the needs for more space for children, young adults, and staff; it is in keeping with the traditional appearance of the present building; and it provides a space which may be used for either outside organizations or library functions as the occasion demands.

The plan effectively "squares off" the right-hand side of the building back to the end of the present children's library. By utilizing existing outside walls of the present building, the amount of costly outside wall construction has been reduced. However, the use of granite facing and a peaked roof increases the cost of construction to offset this saving. A number of refinements of the original plans have been eliminated.

The planned structure will provide on its first floor the enlarged children's library with the badly needed toilets and cloak room which are now lacking. The second floor will add space for senior high school students and a room which may be utilized as a general-purpose room for meetings of organizations or for library functions, such as film programs. The changes to the existing building have been kept to a minimum to keep down costs. The present stack rooms will be unchanged. The control desk will be moved to the opposite side of the main library to permit efficient supervision of the entire upper level. The present offices will become one large workroom in which books are processed. The reference works will be moved to the back of the present art gallery.

Since the volume of the proposed addition is roughly 80 percent of that of the present building, there will be a corresponding increase in heating and lighting expense. However, because of the more efficient layout of the working space, no addition of permanent personnel is anticipated.

The cost of the revised plan is estimated to be $294,900, or approximately $11,000 less than the cost of the original plan minus the auditorium wing. This price includes the new construction, alterations to the existing building, furnishings, site work, and architects' fees.

SPECIAL TOWN MEETING

The revised plan will be presented at the coming special town meeting, Monday evening, October 7. The sum of $17,000, a part of the estimated $294,900, will be requested. This represents the architects' fees necessary to complete working plans and specifications from which bids will be solicited. The low bid will be presented at a subsequent town meeting. At that meeting the town will vote on whether or not construction should be authorized.

The suggested financing of the building program would be as follows: assuming that the $294,900 figure represents the low bid, $82,900 in addition to the above mentioned $17,000 (a total of $99,900) would be required from current funds for the cost of alterations to the existing building. A twenty-year loan would be arranged for the remainder of $195,000 to cover the cost of new construction. The loan would produce an increase in the town tax rate of 36 cents per thousand the first year, dropping to 23 cents the twentieth year.

RETIREES FROM ATLANTIC GELATIN

GURNEY COMPLETED 23 YEARS WITH FIRM

As of the first of September Walter Gurney of the Maintenance Department retired after twenty-three years with the Company. Walter, who lives at 78 Hemingway street, joined AG in 1934 after twenty-three years as Master Mechanic at Beggs and Cobb Company in Winchester. Beginning in the Dry Room, he was transferred shortly after to the Maintenance Department where he remained until his retirement.

Walter will always be remembered at AG as a creative worker. He was a frequent contributor to the Suggestion Plan, winning a total of $145.00 for numerous practicable ideas. And when, in the old days, essential gaskets were impossible to obtain for a new machine, his supervisors will not soon forget how Walter took the problem into his home workshop and produced the much needed gaskets himself.

As far as the future is concerned, Walter and Mrs. Gurney have made a few plans; first a trip to New Jersey to see their son, and then an extended vacation in Florida.

To say he will be missed is an understatement, for even up to the last moment before his retirement, his resourcefulness could be seen. When the time came to turn in his locker key, Walter, inimitably, turned in one he had made himself when the original had proved troublesome.

ELIZABETH EASTMAN

Miss Elizabeth Eastman died on September 21, after a long illness at her home in Washington, D. C. Many of the older residents will remember her coming to Winchester with her father and brother around 1915 to live on Mt. Vernon street, near the Home for the Aged. Her father, Rev. John Huse Eastman, had been pastor of Presbyterian churches in Katouah, New York and Pottsville, Pennsylvania, and her brother, Joseph B. Eastman, was a lawyer in Boston, later becoming a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington.

Miss Eastman was a graduate of Bryn Mawr in the class of 1903. She was a member of the American Association of University Women and of the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association. In 1918 she went from Winchester to France and did canteen work with Y.W.C.A. in Chaumont. After her return from France she joined her brother in Washington where she has lived ever since.

She was very active on the Women's Joint Congressional Committee, representing the Y.W.C.A., and was deeply interested in the Common Council for American Unity and its work for immigrants. She was a member of the Cosmopolitan Club of New York and of many other organizations.

A memorial service was held at All Souls Episcopal Church in Washington. Burial was in Spring Forest Cemetery, Binghampton, N. Y.

CARL L. EATON

Carl Leslie Eaton of 5 Grove street, a real estate broker and resident of Winchester for more than 30 years, died suddenly Monday, September 30, while on a fishing trip at Pierce Pond in Maine.

Mr. Eaton was the son of Mrs. Alice (Morley) and the late Willis L. Eaton. He was born September 18, 1895, in Waltham, and grew up in that city, graduating from Waltham High School and from Wesleyan University in the class of 1917. He was a member of Phi Nu Theta fraternity.

Mr. Eaton's entire business life was spent in the real estate field, dealing exclusively in commercial properties. For 25 years he was associated with the Boston real estate firm of C. W. Whittier and Brother, but for the past 10 years he had his own real estate brokerage business. He was a member of the Boston Real Estate Board and was a incorporator of the Winchester Savings Bank. Interested in civic affairs, he had served as a town meeting member from Precinct 3. He had lived in Winchester since 1925.

Devoted to the out-of-doors and especially to the sport of fishing, Mr. Eaton made many trips to Pierce's Pond in Maine. As a hobby he tied flies and had made many hundreds, including some especially fine specimens.

During World War I, Mr. Eaton served as a lieutenant in the field artillery in France. During World War II he was a naval commander and director of Naval Officer Procurement for the first Naval District.

On May 6, 1922, Mr. Eaton married Mildred Cary of Norwich, Conn., who survives, with a daughter, Mrs. John A. Maynard of Cabot street; two granddaughters, Cary Eaton Maynard and Becky Ayer Maynard; his mother and a sister, Miss Thelma L. Eaton, both of Waltham; also two brothers, Bertram W., of Waltham, and Harold W. Eaton of Worcester.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, and the minister of the Unitarian Church, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial was in Mt. Feake Cemetery, Waltham, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Ernest R. Case, pastor of the Emmanuel Methodist Church, Waltham.

GAS SIPHONED

Mrs. Anthony Dias of 5 Sargent road called police on Saturday to report that between 7 and 11 p. m. on the previous Saturday the gas in her husband's car had been siphoned. Then, on Tuesday, September 24, the gas cap was stolen from the car while it was parked in the driveway.

MRS. ARTHUR E. HEINMILLER

HEINMILLER — HERRMANN

Bouquets of white and pink gladiolus, with white Fuji chrysanthemums and snapdragons decorated the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church on Friday morning, September 20, for the marriage of Miss Florence Herrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Herrmann of 20 Wildwood street, to Arthur Edwin Heinmiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ithamar Heinmiller of Syracuse, N. Y. The Rev. John Snook, Jr., officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony and the bridal music was played by Richard Graff of Danville, Calif., and Harvard University.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Herrmann was attended by Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker, Jr., of Arlington, as matron of honor; and by Miss Arlene Heinmiller of Syracuse, N. Y., sister of the bridegroom, who served as bridesmaid. Another sister, Miss Arlene Heinmiller, also of Syracuse, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride wore a gown of lace over white taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, portrait neckline and short cap sleeves. She wore a wide sash with her full circular ballet-length skirt and her elbow-length veil was caught to a tangle of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book adorned with a matching orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Both the matron of honor and bridesmaid wore peacock blue dresses styled with low fitted bodices and full ballet-length skirts with unpressed pleats. Their headresses were velvet bows to match their gowns and they carried cascade bouquets of white Fuji chrysanthemums.

The junior bridesmaid wore a frock of aqua nylon over taffeta with a matching velvet bow in her hair and she carried a cascade bouquet of blue Fuji chrysanthemums. Carl H. Kopp, Jr., of Syracuse, N. Y., was best man and ushering were Gary Heinmiller of Syracuse, brother of the bridegroom; and John Yetton of Maryland.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield, the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants. Mrs. Herrmann, mother of the bride, wore a mink colored silk faille gown with a fuchsia hat and matching orchid. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Heinmiller, was gowned in Navy blue lace and wore a rose beige cymidium orchid.

After a wedding trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Heinmiller will make their home at Fort Knox, Ky., where the bridegroom is a 2nd lieutenant in the Army.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1953, and of Vermont Junior College, class of 1955. Mr. Heinmiller graduated from Norwich University in 1957.

VEY — KENNY

Of Winchester interest is the marriage which took place at Holy Name Church in West Roxbury, Saturday morning, September 21, when Miss Jeanne Marie Kenny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Joseph Kenny of 26 Edgemont street, Roslindale, became the bride of Robert Joseph Vey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Joseph Vey of 21 Lockland road. The Rev. Edward B. Flaherty officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony and the bridal music was played by Frank Mahler. Leo Costa was soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style organzine taffeta gown with a portrait neckline, a chapel train and long pointed sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of French illusion was caught to a petal type cap of lace and pearls over organzine taffeta and she carried a white orchid with stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Barbara Ann Ainsworth of Roslindale was maid of honor and Miss Katherine Ann Kenny of Dedham, small niece of the bride, was flower girl. Miss Helen Luddy of Dedham, cousin of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

The honor maid and bridesmaid wore princess style, waltz length dresses of royal blue faille with matching veiled hats and shoes and white gloves. The flower girl wore a frock of white frosted organzine and lace with a royal blue sash and hat.

John Connor Molloy of West Roxbury was Mr. Vey's best man, and ushering were Edward Joseph Kenny, Jr., of Dedham, brother of the bride; and John Luddy of Dedham, cousin of the bridegroom. A reception was held after the marriage at the Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Kenmore in Boston. Mrs. Kenny, mother of the bride, wore a street length dress of pink lace with matching hat and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Vey, also wore a white orchid with her Bermuda blue silk dress and American Beauty hat.

After a wedding journey to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Vey will make their home at 45 Mt. Ararat road in Quincy, where the bridegroom is associated as a civil engineer with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

The bride is a graduate of Girls Latin High School, State Teachers College at Framingham and served a dietetic internship at Massachusetts General Hospital. Mr. Vey prepared at Boston Latin and is a graduate of Tufts University. He is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and was released in July from active duty with the Navy Reserve, in which he is a lieutenant junior grade.

AN APPRECIATION

(An Address delivered by Frank Varga at the recent reception given to Winchester by the Hungarian refugees in town.)

"In the eyes
Of a million men
Are tears of mourning
For the people
Whose nation has fallen
Into the grave."

These words were written one hundred years ago by one of Hungary's foremost writers and patriots — Vorosmarty Mihaly. As the wheels of time and destiny turned, the eyes of the world were focused upon the fate of a nation and its people — the Magyars and October 23, 1956. Instilled in the hearts of all men, is the love of God, family or country and he will give his life to sanctify that creed. In Hungary, October 1956, a moral resurrection was instigated, for in order to survive as a distinct nationality, the bondage of the Russian aggressors had to be broken.

In the fight for freedom, the lifeblood of tens of thousands were sacrificed to give tens of thousands who had to flee or hide from fear of retribution, the chance to return from the grave.

We, were the lucky ones. The "tears of mourning" shed by the American people was shown by their willingness to assist us in every way possible and should fill our hearts with gratitude for giving us the opportunity to walk in the light of freedom again. By what tribute other than being good Hungarian-Americans can we give expression to our thanks?

I have conceived the idea of creating a Hungarian Gratitude Memorial to be built from monetary contributions from all Hungarians who acknowledge the United States of America as their homeland and those Hungarians who have found asylum from the October 1956 revolution.

In a sense, this memorial could well serve two purposes. First and mainly, as a tribute to the American people as our expression of thanks for their good will in our time of need and secondly, as an emblem to us of our compatriots who fell in the fight for freedom.

Here in Winchester, plans are underway to organize a non-profit, charitable corporation for the building of such a national Hungarian Gratitude Memorial. I feel it most appropriate that here in this building where we began a new life that the evening be commemorated in asking everyone to sign the guest book which will be placed in the Hungarian Gratitude Memorial for all time should such a memorial become a reality.

ABERJONA AFTERNOON

Simon Strunsky, one fair day Took a walk, and chanced to stray Along our river banks so shady, Whistling a tune from "My Fair Lady". His heart was sensitive to all The beauty of approaching Fall (And to its odors, as I live, His nose was also sensitive! For, let the dreadful fact be known, Hay-fever claimed him for its own).

Now, as he ambled thus along The wind blew from the river strong, Bringing that overpowering smell That some of us know far too well! When Simon's nose caught that aroma,

It almost sent him in a coma; His senses reeled, he looked like death, He stopped dead short, and gasped for breath!

(But all the air that he could find Was of the same obnoxious kind). Then, as he struggled, sore oppressed, A wind came blowing from the West (Where ragweed now, in lieu of grass, Grows on our railroad overpass) And showers of tiny dust-specks rose To tickle that long-suffering nose Into one cataclysmic "Whoop!" Which knocked the poor chap for a loop! (If he felt indisposed before, Here was one lethal wallop more!) He gasped, he stumbled, clutched the air

In paroxysm of despair, Let out one last despairing yell, And into the miasma fell! They dragged the river all around, But just a trace of Simon found — A collar-button first, and then A fragment of his fountain-pen. (The rest of him was in solution In that grim cesspool of pollution!)

Well, anyway, we know for sure That liquid now is Simon-pure! *Note: miasma—noxious effluvia formerly supposed to emanate from putrescent matter, swamps, etc., and to float in the air, esp. in night mists.

A brother Francis R. Murphy is attached to the staff of the A. P. Boston Bureau.

Past Department Commander Murphy will be spending two weeks in the Washington office of the American Legion in an indoctrination course prior to assuming his duties in the Boston office.

AT WHITE MT. RESORTS

Winchester is well represented at resorts in the White Mountains, the autumn season extending until October 12 in the larger hotels, a few remaining open through the year, for the skiing season in winter.

At the Mountain View House, Whitefield, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fay and Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Morey arrived recently, and enjoyed seeing the annual Harvest Ball with its fabulous decorations of autumn leaves, vegetables and fruit. Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Reeves also are from Winchester, and H. R. Davis of Winchester is accompanied by his son, H. R. Davis, Jr., of Lincoln.

Francis B. Crawford of Winchester is visiting his old home at Colebrook, N. H., where his sister, Mrs. Jennie Crawford Walker, and his niece, reside. With the late Mrs. Crawford, he spent several summers in Colebrook, having a cottage there connected with the Colebrook House. When young, Mrs. Crawford's summers were spent in that northern town, near Dixville Notch and the Canadian border.

MRS. MARJORIE VAN VLOTEN
Woman of the Week Paints Animals

(The following story by Joan McGarry appeared in the Boston Traveler's "Woman of the Week" series on September 25. Mrs. Van Vloten is shown at work at her home, 69 Westland avenue. Born in Springfield, she has lived in Winchester 17 years, does all sorts of art work, including ceramics, and has exhibited at the shows of the Winchester Art Association. Many recall the full-length portrait she did of "Wimpy" Burnett for the reception given him after his selection for the U. S. Olympic hockey team. The portrait hung in Randall's during the reception and then was given to Burnett's mother—Ed.)

The Winchester home of Mrs. Marjorie Van Vloten, Woman of the Week, looks like a pictorial lineup of Who's Who in Dogdom. There are paintings and figurines of dogs throughout the house. Pugs, cockers and boxers gaze winsomely from lamps and ashtrays. Walls are covered with dog sketches and oils.

Began as a Hobby
Mrs. Van Vloten, a diabetic for 30 years, turned to animal painting as a hobby several years ago. In addition to her art, she does most of the housework in her nine-room home.

She is the 36th person in the world to receive the Quarter Century Victory Medal from the Diabetic Fund of Boston. The award is given to people with severe cases of diabetes who have "mastered" it for 25 years through diet and insulin injections. "It hasn't affected my work at all. Most people don't even realize that I have diabetes."

"I just have to watch my diet and take three daily injections. I think that having lots of interests is half the battle," she said cheerfully.

Before her marriage, she studied at the Art Students' League in New York.

"I started doing landscapes and seascapes. But animals have always been a main interest with me. I discovered a crying need for animal portraits, and have been doing them ever since," she said.

Mrs. Van Vloten's own menagerie consists of two pug dogs, two cats, parakeets and a collection of tropical fish. The twin pugs, Danny and Duchess, are the "personality kias" of the group.

"They're the biggest hams you've ever seen," she said with a smile.

Their favorite pastime is posing and getting dressed up. Danny will strike a pose and "sit" for hours without any prompting.

The pugs have wardrobes that put them in the running with Park Avenue's "doggiest" poodles for a "Best Dressed Dog of the Year" award.

Sweaters and Coats
Outfits range from jeweled black cocktail sweaters to coral plaids coats. They have corduroy housecoats, raincoats and red overshoes, and sweaters and collars in a variety of colors.

At night, they're tucked in bed with their own silk quilts. Even the cats have their own bunk bed. "I'm afraid we pamper them more than some people pamper their children," Mrs. Van Vloten said.

The pugs celebrate their birthday with a large cake and a party. Each dog guest brings a present. On Halloween, they are dressed in striped jerseys and fancy hats.

For Easter, Duchess has a mink-collared coat on which is pinned a miniature corsage. Each year, she gets a new flowered bonnet for "dressy" occasions.

Mrs. Van Vloten has a studio set up in her home for ceramic work. "With us, it's a family project. My mother and husband both enjoy ceramics and help me with all phases of the work."

"There aren't enough hours in the day to do all the things I enjoy. Doing animal portraits is my favorite job, though. Sometimes it's a real workout. I even have to get down on my stomach at times to sketch a dog sulking under a chair."

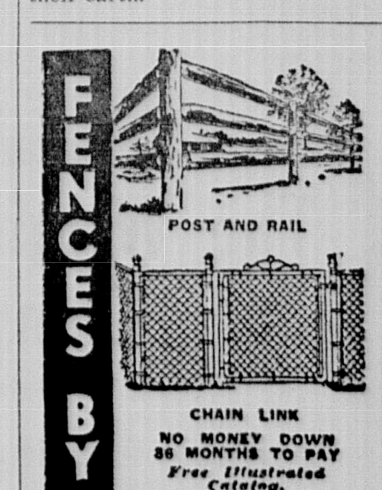

"I never had a lesson in portrait painting, but I've done close to 100 animal paintings," she said.

TRIP TO BABSON INSTITUTE

As a culminating activity in a social studies map unit, Mrs. Donovan and Mrs. Syssoeff, sixth grade teachers at the Lewis Parkhurst school, took their boys and girls to the Babson Institute, Thursday, September 19, to visit the world famous map of the U. S. and the globe recently completed.

It proved to be a highly interesting and educational field trip. The students were impressed and their curiosity stimulated by both projects, each one presented in a forceful, challenging way by the director, Miss Gabellini.

Leaflets containing detailed information of Mr. Babson's projects were distributed to each student for further study and reference. Many of the students expressed a desire to go again for a further opportunity to explore their country and their earth.

School Facilities Committee Reports

High School Over-Crowded Now

Since organization in May of this year, the committee has held meetings directed toward the question of whether additional facilities are needed for the senior high school, the junior high school or the school department. In order to accomplish this, a study was undertaken of present and possible buildings. The results of this study may be summarized as follows:

1. There is no known means of accurately determining the ultimate number of secondary school pupils, or when the number of students in these schools will reach a maximum. The answer to this question is basically dependent upon Greater Boston's economic condition which is responsible for the growth of the town's population, changes in the birth rate, and other like factors. While it is possible to obtain statistics on these factors, those available on the national or state level are not satisfactory for application to a particular town, and those presently available are too few to be of statistical value.

The Committee has made projections of secondary school enrollments over the next few years. Two types of projections have been made: (a) those based on children now in public school, corrected for the effect of parochial and private schools and (b) those based on applying growth factors to the latest year we can present. The first type indicate that the total secondary school population will increase each year until in 1963-1964, the latest year we can present, project, there will be more than 2000 students in Grades 7 through 12. When the second type of projection is used to determine the enrollment in 1963-1964, the result is the same. It should be pointed out, however, that the project enrollments will likely prove, in the absence of a depression, to be a minimum figure rather than a maximum. We shall continue our projection studies so that the present projections may be checked and further projections may be made.

2. The School Committee has voted to plan for the eventual operation of the secondary school system on the basis of a three-year Junior High and a three-year Senior High, with a recommendation that the Building Committee provide as much flexibility in its plans as possible. The present High School was recently remodeled to accommodate three grades and has an educational capacity of 990 students. This educational capacity is determined by the broad curriculum offered, the limited maximum enrollment in certain subjects and the requirements of institutional efficiency. It is presently educating four grades totalling 1048. In order to handle this overload, it is necessary to use certain unsatisfactory areas for classrooms, such as the auditorium and the lounge. The Junior High School, with an educational capacity of 640 and present enrollment of 522 is large enough to take care of two grades for at least several years, but is much too small to handle three grades even now. While it would be possible to use some Junior High classrooms for Senior High classes, we do not think that the constant crossing and recrossing of the main corridor, which would be required, is advisable from a safety point of view; it would also use much valuable instruction time.

With some modifications, the cafeteria, auditorium and gymnasium facilities of each high school appear adequate to accommodate slightly more than presently projected minimum needs. But the secondary school plant has two urgent requirements, classrooms and outdoor athletic space. It is possible to squeeze more students into the High School or to house some advanced classes in the Junior High but only at the expense of what we believe to be the Winchester school system's finest characteristics, a broad curriculum and a high level of teaching. If we are to maintain these standards, we must have more classrooms. While it is possible to cut down our outdoor athletic program (although we must not give our children the balanced program of study and recreation which is necessary for their physical and mental well-being).

The only existing building which might conceivably be used to relieve the need for classrooms is Wadleigh. But the many disadvantages make this impractical. Six months ago the Town Offices Committee estimated it would cost $190,000 to fix up the building for offices. Only a small part of this cost would be saved in using the building as a school again. With only 11 classrooms, it could not accommodate any single grade, nor would it be wise under existing traffic conditions to use it for purposes which would require the frequent moving of pupils across heavily-travelled Washington street. Furthermore, its capacity would be reached by 1960, and it would again be necessary to provide more classrooms.

Study of the further remodeling of present High School buildings is anticipated.

3. As for School Department offices, neither the old building next to the Library nor the present one at the south end of the High School is big enough or in good condition. Wadleigh is too big and too expensive to renovate. The committee has considered other possible buildings which are presently, or might become, available, but nothing satisfactory has been found. Additional and efficient office space is needed; however, the Committee has no recommendation at the present time as to whether to build or buy, or as to whether these offices would be a physical part of new

MYSTIC VALLEY GAS JOINS SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Manager Everett C. Bryant announced today that the Mystic Valley Gas Company has joined with all other companies and groups of the New England Electric System in the month-long 26th Annual October No-Accident Campaign. The System has long been noted as being a pioneer in safety achievement in the nation and the annual October campaigns are a long-time contributor to the System's safety successes.

A very unique little person having the name Joe ACDONTER appears for the first time this year to aid System employees in the attainment of their goal of no disabling accidents for the month. While he has a remarkable resemblance to a pixie, elf or leprechaun, he more aptly resembles a powerful conscience. Joe has the very special assignment of helping to "Safety Guard Our Future." He will be the trademark of the Campaign and will symbolize the wish of each employee to enjoy a life not marred by a needless accident. Joe will be on every job in the form of novelties and reminders urging that an extra minute of job planning be allowed, so that the job will be done safely.

PLAQUE STOLEN

The Sisters of Medical Missionaries of Mary on Arlington street called the police station last Friday to report that someone had taken a gold-plated plaster plaque from the thirteenth Station of the Stations of the Cross. The Stations are located on the hillside opposite the front door of the convent. The Sisters also reported that the chain was missing from the entrance to the driveway at Fernway and cement blocks had been placed in the roadway to obstruct autos.

Police checked on the missing plaque, but were unable to locate it. The officers on the west side visit the area in patrol cars regularly.

GLASS BROKEN AT WADLEIGH SCHOOL

Thomas Drapeau of the School Department reported to police on Thursday, September 26, that he found a pane of glass broken in the rear door of the Wadleigh School. The door had been unlocked. Entrance to the School was gained by breaking the glass and reaching inside and unlocking the door. Everything looked in order, but Mr. Drapeau asked the police to have the patrol car check on the building.

ASSN. FOR RETARDED CHILDREN MET

Mr. Maurice W. Mezzoff, Executive Director of the Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children, Inc., on Wednesday evening, spoke before the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children at the Wakefield Y.M.C.A.

In addressing the group, Mr. Mezzoff stated: "The Massachusetts Association for Retarded Children, Inc. is a non-profit, non-sectarian affiliation of twenty-six local units dedicated to the welfare of all the mentally retarded in Massachusetts. It has pledged itself to serve the retarded of all ages, races and religious beliefs, whether these people are in the community or in institutions. All degrees of retardation—both slight and severe—are of equal concern."

The objectives of MARC are to foster research into the causes and prevention of mental retardation; to disseminate information pertaining to the mentally retarded for the purpose of constantly improving their status; to coordinate direct services of local units such as diagnosis, guidance, training and placement; and to raise funds for carrying on and extending this program.

Mr. Harold E. Trekel of 14 Keeling, Wakefield, is President of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children which serves the area of Melrose, Wakefield, Stoneham, Winchester, Woburn, Burlington, Wilmington, Reading and North Reading. This Association provides services in social training, parent counselling and recreation for retarded children within this area.

This year, the week of November 17 through 24, has been set aside as National Retarded Children's Week and will be climaxed by an Annual Fund Drive to help pay for these greatly needed services for retarded children.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

A dessert and card party was held at the Town Hall on Wednesday, September 25. This was the first meeting of the 1957-58 season. Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and Mrs. Herbert Ross attended to the tickets. It is no easy job to keep track of the members. They want everyone to have an even chance when the drawing came.

Mrs. Herbert Preble and her committee did nobly and such delicious dessert!

The Social Committee poured coffee. Mrs. Alfred W. Drew chairman and co-chairman, Mrs. Herbert Darling had Mrs. Walter Winship, Mrs. George French, Miss Louise Bancroft and Mrs. Charles Crode working with them.

Our president, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne gave a friendly welcome to all those present.

Then Miss Helen Neidringhaus, chairman of prizes took over. The lucky winner of the door prize was Mrs. Antoinette DeTeso. This was a gift certificate from Lemmen's of Winchester.

This beautiful arrangement of chrysanthemums. Peck and Peck, Jury Hair Stylist and Filene's also contributed prizes. We thank them all as well as some of the members of the Board who did the same. The committee working with the chairman was Mrs. Horace Ford, Mrs. Paul Wood and Mrs. Henry A. Dellicker.

The lucky numbers were held by Mrs. Don Greer, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. J. E. Murdock, Mrs. L. G. Whittman, Mrs. Joseph L. Roberts, State Committee woman, 6th Middlesex District, Mrs. Paul Lamarche and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth.

Miss Eleanor P. Dow sold attractive potted plants during the afternoon.

Charles Gibbons, chairman of Republican State Committee will be the speaker at the meeting on October 9. This will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Twombly, 16 Lawson street. This will be a good opportunity to hear an outstanding Republican. Come and bring a friend.

You avoid disappointment and get rid of more last-minute chore during the Christmas rush if you select your personalized greeting cards now. The Star already has several books of sample cards to choose from.

MOTHERS TO PRESENT PIED PIPER

The Mothers' Association, now called the Community School Association, will again bring a play to Winchester to delight the Winchester children on October 25, at 3:30 p.m. This year the Theatre Committee has chosen "The Pied Piper" as presented by the Rockefeller Players.

"The Pied Piper" brings back to life the age-old story of the greedy people of Hamelin who refused to pay the piper who had charmed the swarms of rats out of their village. How the piper's second tune taught the selfish villagers not to break their promises still continues to fascinate modern young audiences.

This new dramatization of the classic legend is directed by John Gregory, who also plays the role of the Pied Piper. Mr. Gregory recently appeared in the Broadway production of Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Medium," and has been seen frequently on the New York stage at the New York City Center and at the Circle-in-the-Square.

The professional cast includes many other fine actors who have appeared on Broadway and in network television dramas. Lucille Rockefeller, director of the Rockefeller Players and co-author with Joyce Patton of this new version of "The Pied Piper," brings to the play her wide experience in both adult and children's theatre and contributes a fine performance as one of the selfish villagers.

As you may remember, this is a non-profit project of the Community School Association to bring good theatre to the children. Each elementary school is represented on the Theatre Committee, of which Mrs. Robert Grenzbeck is chairman.

TO BEG FOR LITTLE ONES

This Sunday, October 6, is Exceptional Sunday. Thousands of Knights of Columbus in more than 100 councils of the Boston Catholic Archdiocese will go out into the streets and beg for the little ones.

The little ones are the children of the archdiocese, of various races and religions, who are mentally or physically afflicted and are cared for by the institutions and services founded and directed by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

In some areas Knights of Columbus members will stand outside churches and in others, a house-to-house solicitation will be made.

The goal, this year, of the K. of C. fund for the exceptional children is $50,000. Deadline for the drive is Columbus Day.

ROTARIANS HEARD INDIAN SPEAKER

Miss Usha Nand, an Indian girl studying in the United States, was the guest speaker at last Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in Masonic Apartments. President Nelson Fontaine presided and Miss Nand was introduced by Henry Clark, vice president of the club.

Miss Nand's father is an English physician and her mother a physician, specializing in gynecology. She was educated at Prabhakar, Punjab University, and at Tufts University, where she majored in sociology and received her Master's Degree in 1957.

At Tufts Miss Nand participated in the social service program, was a member of the Student Council, a member of Alpha Omicron social sorority and of Alpha Kappa Delta honorary sorority as well as being historian of her class. She received the Tufts Student Council Award for academic standing and campus participation.

Miss Nand has appeared on TV in dances with her twin sister, who is a student at Wellesley. She has two brothers, one of whom is a graduate of Tufts Dental School. Interested in sports, she was the eastern division representative of India in the Olympic Games as a javelin thrower.

In her brief, but interesting address at Rotary, Miss Nand told something of India's history as a back-drop for the problems that have, and are besetting the country since the British withdrawal. In India there is much conflict as the new democratic ideology clashes with the old caste system in vogue in the country for so many years. Everywhere is contrast. Beside a new and strictly modern commercial building one sees the old ramshackle bazaar type of store, a picturesque landmark in the country for many years. In India every one works from 8 to 11 a. m., and from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m., resting during the intense mid-day heat.

Miss Nand's original idea in coming to this country was to prepare herself to go back to New Delhi in India to teach and enter the Inter-Civil Service. She has now changed her mind, being so impressed with the United States and its opportunities that she has decided to stay in this country.

W. H. S. WRITERS INVITED

Young journalists in Winchester High, and other schools are being asked through their school administrators to take part in the 21st Annual School Press Project sponsored by the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee in affiliation with the Middlesex Health Association, the National Tuberculosis Association, and in cooperation with the Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The objective of this School Press Project is to stimulate the interest of students in the two timely topics for this year:

"Can We Wipe Out Tuberculosis in Our Future?"

"Our Future in a Health Career"

The subjects may be developed through news and feature stories, editorials, cartoons, and other art work.

A School Press Conference for students and faculty advisors is planned for Wednesday afternoon, October 23, in Waltham. Further details will be announced later.

MATIGNON GUILD

The opening meeting of the Matignon Guild will be held on Thursday, October 10, at 2:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. Rev. Henry E. Ouellette, spiritual advisor and Sister M. Edwidge C.S.J., superior, will greet the members.

Mrs. James Canon, president, will present the officers and board of directors to the mothers of students.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Theodore Carlin, first vice president and Mrs. John Looney, second vice president and their committee.

Following tea, parents may visit the members of the faculty in their home rooms.

BOYS CAUGHT TIPPING MAILBOXES

A telephone call to police Friday evening resulted in the rounding up of four boys who were tipping over mailboxes, carrying off traffic signs and generally causing mischief.

The four boys, all 14 years old, were brought to their parents by the police.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Bowling is a sport which is enjoyed by many this season of the year. Our boys play for keeps and every questionable pinfall develops into a civil war. Naturally it is discussed in a gentle fashion, diplomatically, and if a stalemate is inevitable our appointed commissioner of bowling "Sir Winston" Frongillo has the final say and his decision is acknowledged. For precautionary reasons Dr. Chic for any unforeseen developments.

Being the fourth week Alabama still continues to run roughshod over the opposition as they came up with four more points to widen the gap.

Team Standings:
Alabama	14-2
Bates	11-5
California	8-8
Georgetown	8-8
Holy Cross	7-8-1
St. Mary's	7-9
Notre Dame	5-10-1
Boston College	3-13
Hi Single:
Max La Carubba	137
Hi Triple:
Max La Carubba	367
Top Ten Bowlers:
Tony Saraco	105.6
Max La Carubba	104.4
Choppers Gangi	97.3
Jeff Gaudioso	97.7
Richard Fiore	96.9
Joe Garcia	96.1
Bob Fiore	95.3
M. J. Saraco	94.9
Tony Chafalo	94.3
Pete Lonigro	94.4

Although the boys had their eyes focused on the pins, only four were able to hit the 300 circle. Bob Fiore, 305; Max La Carubba, 302; Area Amico and Babe Tofuri, 300. It's true Alabama again takes high team pinfalls for the fourth week in a row and so again their names appear for recognition for their outstanding accomplishments. Captained by Bob Fiore and capably and ably assisted by Joe DiIorio, Henry Subrizio, Dom Simionetta, Peter Lonigro and Joe Garcia.

Just a few lines about a good family name that graces our organization. Truthfully speaking I don't know how many there are but, for downright sportsmanship and all around athletic ability, the name Fiore is a name to watch. They are all active in our club and all the boys doff their hats in appreciation to Corregidor Fiore of Holy Cross, Pete Fiore of Boston College, Richard Fiore of California, William Fiore of Georgetown, Bob Fiore of Alabama. To say the least, their sisters put on a grand show on the same night in the women's league.

It's too early as yet to predict any outstanding player who may dethrone last year's champion Tony Saraco but if he is to receive any competition the Fiore and Max La Carubba will give him a run for his money.

Our new attraction to this year's column is our weekly ode and this time we honor the commissioner of bowling "Sir Winston" Frongillo.

"Bowlers Hall of Fame"

He is known as "Sir Winston"

With his big black cigar

He drives his bulldozer

As you would your car

A bowler of note

When the game is tight

It's surely a spare

If not a strike

A friend indeed

He never betrays:

His watch word is always

"Believe what Mingy says."

So we put away our scratch pad again for another week and the award of the week went to one of our outstanding softball players,

Mr. "Choppers" Gangi, a truly

BOAT CLUB NEWS

IVERS ELECTED CAPTAIN OF WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB SNIPE FLEET

Genial Jack Ivers, fleet photographer par excellence, boat builder and race committee judge, was elected Fleet Captain for the 1958 season at last Sunday's fleet dinner. More than 60 Fleet members and their crews enjoyed a fine feast and then sat back as Jim Snow did his usual fine job of awarding the coveted cups.

The big winner, Tommy Legere repeated his 1956 victory as Fleet Champion and as a result won the Don-Jan Trophy and the George Jones Memorial Trophy.

Bart Sullivan won first place in the Director's Trophy series (his friends will be delighted to know he's on the mend). Leonard Mead won the Bob Hall Trophy, Daw Blamire, the moonlight racing series and Jim Snow, the Alden Sherman Trophy for the fourth time.

Following the presentation of prizes, an amusing skit was presented, starring Herby Alderson, Peter Freyer and Chipper Mead. These capable youngsters had the audience "rolling in the aisles" as they gently ribbed the wives of the snipe sailors.

Another highlight of the evening was the reading of an original poem by Clarence Borggaard, which is printed herewith:

"I'm Gonna Give Up Sailing"
A sail boat doesn't cost a lot
It just costs all the dough you've got

For whether you made your boat yourself
Or bought it from the dealer's shelf
The blooming thing will send you broke

You won't have a nickel in your "poke"
Unless you give the habit up
Of trying to win a sailing cup

For sail boats do not cost a lot
They take every nickel that you've got.

You work the whole long Winter through
To make the boat as good as new
And when you launch her in the Spring
You've double checked on everything

The stays, the tiller and the cleats
The mast, the rudder and the sheets—
All are in order—all are sound
And should last till the Fall comes around

But sailboats do not cost a lot
They just take everything you've got!

For one day a little clevis pin Drops out from the hole where it was in
And with the pin will go the stay
And the wind will carry your mast away

And Pigeon will want a full weeks pay
To make you another. God forbid
It could not happen but it did.
And I sing this sad refrain

Over and over and over again
That Sailboats do not cost a lot
They just cost everything you've got!

And it's a real good thing for you and me
That the Good Lord sends the wind for Free

ON WEST POINT PLEBE TEAM

The raves over Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo that have been coming out of Annapolis, where these two former Winchester High grid greets have been starring on the Navy plebe eleven, have perhaps blinded local sports fans to the fact that another former Winchester High School football player is playing this fall on the plebe team at West Point.

Big Jim Cullen, who graduated from high school in 1954 and played tackle on the varsity team for three years prior to that, is now a member of the plebe varsity at the U. S. Military Academy.

Weighing around 210, Cullen started at guard last Friday for the West Point yearlings against Villanova frosh at the Point, the Kaydet plebes winning 33-12.

Unfortunately the plebe elevens of the Army and Navy do not meet on the gridiron, for if they did square off against each other this fall, there would be terrific Winchester interest in the game.

Cullen's way to a starting position on the West Point plebes was harder than that of Bellino and Dattilo, who established big reputations while playing at Columbian prep last year, adding to the laurels they won as schoolboys at Winchester. Bellino made every school boy all-scholastic team in Greater Boston.

Cullen's high school football career was less spectacular, and he did not play football at Columbian prep during the time he spent there, devoting all his time to his studies.

It speaks mighty well for Winchester football and the coaching of Henry Knowlton that out of three local boys at West Point and Annapolis all three are first string performers on plebe teams. This has never happened before in the history of Winchester athletics, and we believe few other towns comparable to Winchester have had three prospective varsity football players at the big service academies.

If memory serves, "Bill" West, to date, at West Point, has been Winchester's only varsity service team player. It now looks like we will have three in the years to come, barring the unforeseeable of course!

Philip L. Ewell of Medford, formerly of Winchester has been appointed an Assistant Clerk of Courts for the County of Middlesex, Superior Court.

Second Win for Indians

Stoneham Beaten, 39-13

Winchester High made it two in a row in Middlesex League competition last Sunday afternoon, defeating a game but outclassed Stoneham High team at Stoneham, 39-13. The win kept the Indians tied with Melrose and Wakefield for first place in the league.

Winchester looked a lot better against Stoneham than it did against Concord in the season's opener. There was none of the sluggish indecision that characterized the Indians during the first half of the Concord game, and granting the opposition was not too tough, the local coaches were pleased with the improvement shown.

Coach Knowlton emptied his bench against the light blue in an effort to keep the score within bounds and to try out some of the scrubs who may be badly needed in the climax games to come. All in all the Red and Black warriors gave a good account of themselves.

Stoneham had the edge in first downs, 9-7, but Winchester had a big advantage in yards gained by rushing, rolling up 342 to 138 for Stoneham. Winchester tried three passes, completed one for 27 yards, and had one intercepted. The locals fumbled twice, recovering once, and lost 45 yards in penalties.

Stoneham threw 11 passes, completed two for 53 yards and had one intercepted for a touchdown. Stoneham also recovered one of its two fumbles and lost 20 yards in penalties.

A fumble stopped Winchester right after the Stoneham kickoff, but Stoneham in turn couldn't go and punted to Thomson for three passes, completed one for 27 yards, and had one intercepted. The locals fumbled twice, recovering once, and lost 45 yards in penalties.

nally kicking to Starkweather at the Winchester 30.

On the very first play from scrimmage, Tofuri wriggled through the line, cut out to the left and legged it like a scared rabbit into the Stoneham end zone, 60 long yards. The try for extra point by rushing failed, and the half ended a few plays later.

Stoneham scored in the opening minutes of the third quarter, on a sustained drive from its 38. Cataldo ran the kickoff back 25 yards to the 38, and Powers banged through for eight.

Cataldo made first down at the Winchester 42 and Powers ran through the Winchester second stringers to another first down at the 29. When Cataldo made a third first down at the 19 Coach Knowlton sent in the first team, but the regulars couldn't get their feet on the ground firmly enough to halt the Blue.

Mundo drove to the 15 and a five-yard penalty against Winchester for offside put the ball on the 10. Powers bucked for a first down at the five, and Paonessa carried twice more for the score, making the final three yards on a veer buck off his right tackle.

Manson's kick for the extra point was no good, and Paonessa ran the kickoff back to the Winchester 46. Here Thomson on a sweep right, cut in nicely behind two blockers inside midfield and, driving to the left, outlegged the secondary into the end zone, only to have the play brought back for a clipping penalty that placed the ball at the Stoneham 38.

Paonessa on a quick opener got through the line and streaked all the way to score, with Longworth passing to Thomson for the extra point.

Winchester was in possession as the teams changed goals for the final quarter and with the ball on the Stoneham 45, Thomson got out around his own right, carried twice to the Stoneham five where he was finally brought down. Longworth sneaked to the one and Thomson bulldozed over up the middle. The kick for the extra point was wide.

Neither team could sustain a drive until Winchester was assessed 15 yards for interfering with a Stoneham fair catch, the penalty putting the ball on the Indians' 48. Felton drove through to the 36, and Cataldo drove and twisted to the 15. A buck added one and then Klaymanus circled his own left end for the score. Arsenault added the extra point with a line buck.

McGee ran the Stoneham kickoff back to the 22, and despite a five-yard penalty for taking too much time the local scrubs drove to a first down at the 32. Here Lindsey broke through the line and running like a tin-canned dog easily beat all hands into the end zone.

The joy of the Winchester rooters was short-lived for a flag was down on the play and the ball was brought back, Winchester losing 5 yards for backs in motion. With the ball at the 31, third down and 16 Winchester tried a pass which was intercepted by the omnipresent Cataldo, who raced from the 50 to the Winchester 31 as the final whistle blew.

BUTT — SIBLEY

At the Melrose Highlands Congregational Church on Sunday afternoon, October 6, Miss Margaret Ann Sibley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving C. Sibley of 56 West Hill avenue, Melrose, became the bride of Robert James Butt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Butt of 4 Maple road. Flower arrangements and candelabra decorated the church for the 3 o'clock ceremony which was performed by the Rev. John J. Foster, D.D., pastor of the church. Henry Heald of Needham was tenor soloist.

Miss Sibley was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of embroidered net in tiers over taffeta, fashioned with a bouffant skirt and a fitted bodice with Sabrina neckline and finger-tip sleeves. Her fingertip veil of net was held in place with a princess hat of lace bordered with seed pearls and she carried a crescent shaped spray of stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Barbara Wirth of West Orange, N. J., was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Sibley of Melrose, sister of the bride; Miss Judith Gardner, also of Melrose, and Miss Hilda Pye of Winchester, cousin of the bridegroom.

The honor maid wore a waltz length dress of blue peau de soie with a scoop neckline and round and a bouffant skirt gathered at the waist with a bow in the back. She wore a bow-shaped headband to match her dress with a round veil and carried a spray of fall chrysanthemums and ivy.

The bridesmaids were gowned alike in pumpkin-colored peau de soie dresses like that of the honor maid. They also wore similar matching headresses and carried the same flowers.

Richard Libby of Melrose was best man and ushering were John Foss of Augusta, Me.; Paul Snyder and Warren Butt, brother of the bridegroom, both of Winchester; and Ronald Sibley of Melrose, brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the marriage in the Fellowship Hall of the church, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting with members of the bridal party. Mrs. Sibley, mother of the bride, wore a blue suit dress of polished rayon cotton with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of silver silver roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Butt, wore yellow roses with her champagne colored dress of lace and brown accessories.

After a wedding journey over the Mohawk Trail and through the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Butt will live at 6 Sylvester road in Burlington.

The bride is a graduate of Melrose High School, class of 1955, and attended the New England Conservatory of Music. Mr. Butt also graduated from Melrose High School in the class of 1951 and attended Wentworth Institute.

LWV HEARS BENJAMIN

A large group of League of Women Voters members and their guests found the October 2 meeting at the library stimulating and informative. Mrs. Richard Alt, League president, called the meeting to order. For the sake of brevity the regular business meeting was omitted. Mrs. Richard Freeman, Town Affairs chairman, then presented the documentary, "City in a Shadow."

Following the film, Mr. Allen Benjamin, professional consultant to the Winchester planning board, spoke about some of Winchester's town planning problems. He reviewed some of the Winchester planning board's recommendations since its creation in 1915, including the "master plan" of overall town development drawn up in 1924 and revised in 1952. He thinks that the Skillings Estate land might be a favorable location for an expanded retail shopping area which would bring in welcome tax revenue.

Mr. Benjamin pointed out that the town has been saved much expense by the subdivision control granted to the planning board by the town meeting in 1933. Since that time a developer here must prepare lay-outs of streets and put in utilities, sewers, streets, etc., at his expense and submit all this for approval to the planning board. During the question period there was evidence of interest in plans for trash disposal and in the location of Route 3 and its effect on Winchester. Mr. Harrison Chadwick was present and he and Mr. Benjamin answered questions relevant to these problems.

EPIPHANY JR. Y.P.F.

The first meeting of the Jr. Y.P.F. of the parish of the Epiphany will be held Sunday, October 13, at 5:30 p. m. in the Parish Hall. The program for the year will be discussed and planned. Boys and girls in the 7th and 8th grades are cordially invited to attend.

MRS. PRISCILLA SILCOX

TO LECTURE HERE

Monday, October 14, will mark the opening of the fall season for the Fortnightly. In the social hall of the First Baptist Church, a luncheon at 12:30 will precede the regular meeting at 2:00 p. m. The program promises to be most entertaining. The lecturer, Mrs. Silcox, sailed around the world as a crew member aboard the famed brigantine "Yankee" from November, 1953, to May, 1955. She will describe the fascinating journey of 40,000 miles. Colored slides will afford glimpses of remote areas such as Bali, New Guinea, and Tahiti.

Prior to this adventure, Mrs. Silcox attended the University of Miami to study marine sciences. She is a sparkling person of many interests and has a refreshing sense of humor. We anticipate joining her on this cruise and hope many will.

"The Fortnightly" is the Women's Club of Winchester.

EVENING CLASSES BEGIN OCTOBER 14

Monday evening, October 14, the Senior High School will be open for the first session of the seven courses offered in the 1957 fall program of Adult Education. The "do-it-yourself" classes proved to be most popular on registration night. Classes in the practical and creative arts were rapidly filled by men and women who had waited patiently for an hour in the High School lobby until the opening of registration.

There is still an opportunity to join the Investments or French classes which permit a larger enrollment than the others and in which there are a few vacancies left. Registrations may be made Monday night, October 14 between seven and seven-thirty or by calling Mrs. Howard Aiken, Winchester 6-0007.

Those people on the waiting lists will be notified promptly if any vacancies occur in this fall term.

Mr. Barbara believed that we should be guided by the recommendation of the Finance Committee and as a taxpayer and pensioner was greatly concerned over an ever-rising tax rate.

Mr. Fritch spoke with obvious conviction, stating that the plans proposed are for all time, and not a stop-gap as so many of the school building projects have been. He liked, he said, to think of the enlarged and more adequate library as part of a master plan for a better Winchester. An adequate library is an important part of schools, he said; in fact one is really an extension of the other. He recognized the cost factor, and knew he would have to pay, as other taxpayers, for the services demanded by modern communities. This he professed himself as very willing to do.

Mr. Toner quoted Ben Franklin on the advantages of getting to bed early, and the ensuing laugh relieved the meeting tension somewhat. The motion to give the Library Addition Committee $17,000 as a preliminary step toward the proposed addition was put and beaten decisively on a voice vote.

Mr. Chadwick professed himself as willing to have a polled vote if requested, and the requisite number having arisen, the vote was taken, resulting in the 114 to 34 defeat of the motion mentioned above. Upon the motion of Mr. Erhard the Library Addition Committee was discharged with thanks.

It was 9:30 when the vote was taken and after a recess the meeting proceeded to the consideration of the article inserted by the Building Committee for the addition of the Senior and Junior High Schools and School Administrative Offices.

Under the article a motion was read providing that the meeting adopt the recommendations of the committee that an intermediary building program be undertaken to provide additional secondary school facilities and administrative offices for the School Department.

For a time it looked as if the meeting was going to act on the motion with no explanation whatsoever. Mr. Bigelow, committee chairman, stated that each town meeting member had received his committee's report, that it had also been printed in full in the Star, and he thought speaking about it at the meeting would be wasting time.

Mrs. McDonald admitted she was confused by the motion as presented. Mr. Cusack and Mr. Cullen admitted their inability to understand it, and a great majority of the meeting, including the press, seemed definitely confused.

Mr. Bigelow explained that what the committee wanted was a decision by the town meeting as to whether the committee should go ahead with an intermediary program for solving the school facilities problem for several years, or whether it was the committee's purpose to have the committee provide a long-range plan for additional facilities that could result in providing considerably more school space than is needed right now.

He said if its recommendation were accepted the committee would ask for facilities for 2200 pupils in the secondary schools and then go ahead and pick a site.

A majority of those who spoke on the article seemed to feel that the motion as phrased was much too broad in scope, and was committing the town to accept in advance a program not yet explained. Mr. Cusack felt that without more information he had no alternative but to oppose the motion.

Mr. Cullen asked what an intermediary program is, and was told by Mr. Bigelow that it is a stop-gap. Mr. Schaefer opposed such a program, feeling we have had too many such in the schools as it is.

Mr. Lyman moved to amend the original motion by inserting the words, not binding on the town. Mr. Speers didn't feel the motion was necessary, in view of the authority granted the committee last March, and after a recess this original motion was read by Town Counsel Clarke.

Mr. Twombly opposed the original motion as hazy, and Mr. Harold wondered if what the committee really wanted wasn't two more members and another $1,000. He was told that they were wanted and would be asked for later.

Mr. Speers finally relieved the situation by moving that both the original motion and Mr. Lyman's amendment be laid on the table and this was quickly voted. A sense of the meeting was proposed by Mr. Richardson that additional facilities for the junior and senior high schools and administrative offices be provided was beaten on a voice vote.

The meeting then voted two additional members to the committee and an additional thousand dollars from the Excess and Deficiency Account for the committee's use, ending a debate that proved very little beyond the fact that no one seemed to know what we are going to need for school facilities, at least as far ahead as can be seen.

Under Article 3 the Finance Committee opposed transferring the old Wadleigh Building from the control of the School Committee to the Selectmen. Mr. Broadhurst stated that the building can be disposed of as readily by the School Committee as the Selectmen, and that in view of present conditions, the building might come in handy as a means of relieving the elementary school overcrowding.

Mrs. McDonald agreed, stating the building, in which she once taught, is structurally as good as any school in town except St. Mary's School, that it has large light airy rooms and can be put in shape for use if need be. She deplored the fact that the blackboards had been stripped from the building and proposed a trip to the school to see what other damage had been done. Mrs. McDonald mentioned the return of an old Woburn school to good use, and Mr. Broadhurst told of one being considered for service in Arlington. The School Committee obviously opposed any consideration of the Wadleigh building for school purposes but the meeting supported the Finance Committee, refusing to transfer the building to the Selectmen on a decisive voice vote.

The meeting did vote to return the former school administrative offices to the custody of the Selectmen, although Mr. Saltmarsh explained that the building had always been in their custody from the time it was bought by the town.

Mr. Clarke said this was so, and that it made no difference how the meeting voted on the return of the building, but it had been felt it was well to get a vote for the record.

This brought the meeting to the final article, and after an explanation by Mr. Greer the meeting voted $3500 from the Excess and Deficiency Account to enable the Fiscal Survey Committee to purchase an addressograph as a time and labor saver at the town hall.

Then, upon motion by Mr. Lane the meeting dissolved at 11:03. One hundred fifty-seven of 224 precinct members were present.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The first meeting of the St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club was held on Wednesday evening, October 2, at St. Mary's Hall. The club president, Joe Maloney, welcomed the many new members who were able to turn out for this first meeting.

After a short business meeting, Joe Maloney turned the meeting over to Rosemary Dolan, who introduced Bill Lippman and Bernard and Ellen Hanley. This group presented a very stimulating discussion on the history and growth of St. Mary's Church in Winchester. Their facts proved them experts in their field and this presentation proved to be the highlight of the program for the night.

Informal dancing followed and refreshments were served by Chris and John McDonald and their committee.

Joe Maloney reminded the group of the next meeting, to be held on Wednesday evening, November 6. This will be a military whist and another large turnout is expected, as this is a repeat program of a similar party held last fall, which proved to be one of the best meetings of the year. Joe pointed out that it is not necessary to be a card shark; you can still have a lot of fun, as there will be lots of others who are new at the game, too.

WEE SACHEMS WIN AGAIN

The Wee Sachems "rowed" over the Magnolia Pee Wee football team at the Gloucester High School field Sunday, 33-12. Dick Rowe scored three of the five Winchester T.D.'s on break aways from the thirty, forty and midfield. Paul Grady scored on a Q.B. keep and Kent Parrot added another driving through center.

This Sunday the Wee Sachems have an open date. The winners of the first half, Melrose, came by that exalted position by virtue of their win over Winchester 20-19 in the opening game. The Winchester boys are pointing toward the big game at Melrose Sunday, October 20, at Melrose. This will be the big one and it is hoped many fans will follow the youngsters to Melrose to cheer them on.

The "B" squad lost their first game 12-0 to the Magnolia "B's" despite the excellent direction of Jeff Peckham.

Enders: Wild, Lawson, Sullivan, Brink, Devaney, Murray, Johnson, Rowe, Stabile, Murray. Centers: Pappadakis, Cunningham, Gay, Broadhurst, Longworth. Halfbacks: Winn, Rowe, Johnson, Doane, Foley, Ruma. Quarterbacks: Grady, Parrot, Peckham.

CLASSROOM BUILDING AT MARYCLIFF ACADEMY

MARYCLIFF OBSERVES 10th ANNIVERSARY IN WINCHESTER

Ten years of growth and progress is the motif for the anniversary observance at Marycliff Academy in Winchester, on October 15. It was in the fall of 1947 that Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D., laid the cornerstone for the three storied structure of 24 classrooms which stands at 15 High street today.

Enrollment Doubles
The decade has seen growth in enrollment as well as in structural size. With an enrollment of 154 in 1947, the student body has more than doubled its size with a record of 333 in 1957. The school draws its pupils not only from its home town Winchester, but also from its neighbors, Arlington, Lexington, Stoneham, Woburn, Cambridge, Somerville, Belmont and Burlington.

Excels in Science and Journalism
Scholastically, too, the school has developed. Due to its well equipped science labs, and to the zeal of teachers and students, Marycliff walked off with top honors at the Archdiocesan Science Fairs and the Massachusetts Science Fairs. At the latter, the school won one of the 12 first prizes given throughout the state. One exhibitor was numbered among the 27 who went to the New England Science Fair.

In Journalism as well as science have the students distinguished themselves. The school newspaper, "The Clarion," has maintained an All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press Association. From the Catholic School Press Association it has merited the title "All-Catholic," with an added title of "Paper of Distinction," this year.

Lead in Latin and Art
In the study of Latin, Marycliff students have excelled. Last year, the nation-wide examinations issued by the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin, revealed that 24 out of 53 participants received honors. The leading girls won certificates of Superior Merit, Eminent Merit and Superior Merit.

cellent scores of six girls have won two trophies for the school. In the field of art, the grade school has distinguished itself by winning 3 first prizes, 2 second prizes and four third prizes at the Archdiocesan Art Fair.

Progress Due to Faculty and Parents
Much of the growth and success is due not only to a well trained faculty, but also to the outstanding devotion of the two parent organizations: the Marycliff Mothers' Guild and the Fathers' Club. These two groups observe their tenth anniversary also. Already their monthly activities for 1957-58 are planned and published. Many of their members can look back over their ten years of membership and appreciate the progress and growth of Marycliff Academy.

BOYS STEAL MERCHANDISE FROM STORE

Hagg Der Ananian, proprietor of Jake's Variety Store at 105 Cross street, called police last Thursday morning to report that two boys, about 15 years old, had just stolen some goods from his store.

Officers Poole and Parsons went to the store and were informed by Mr. Der Ananian that the boys had entered the store and ordered a carton of Pall Mall cigarettes. As soon as the cigarettes were put on the counter, the boys took them and other small merchandise and ran out towards the railroad tracks.

Mr. Der Ananian remembered having seen the boys in his store before, but was not able to identify them. The officers searched the area but were unable to locate the boys.

The four cities participating in the drive for new members are Malden, Medford, Winchester and Woburn.

MACDONALD APPOINTED

Clifford P. Macdonald, a former Winchester boy, has become secretary of Field Counseling Publications for the Council on Missionary Cooperation of the American Baptist Convention. The appointment was made October 2 by the Rev. Edwin H. Tuller, general director of the council.

Mr. Macdonald has been a staff assistant to the Rev. Paul K. Sheffield in the field counseling department since 1954. In consultation with the field staff, he has designed and produced the 8-step Every Member Canvasser used in American Baptist Churches across the country, and has also turned out the promotional material in connection with the denomination's United Budget. He will continue to carry these responsibilities, serving now on a full-time basis.

Prior to joining the field counseling department, Mr. Macdonald was staff assistant in the department of literature and press relations. He started his work with the convention in 1950.

B & M PLAN REFLECTS THE CHANGING TRAVELING HABITS OF COMMUTERS — THE CAUSE OF THE RAILROAD'S ACUTE FINANCIAL CRISIS

Look around you today. Everywhere you see new, improved highways, and more and more new cars traveling on them. No one knows how far or how fast this change in our transportation habits will go. Already expert predictions for 1970 private car travel have been exceeded... right here in Metropolitan Boston.

Of course, no one would want to stem this tide if he could. The car has brought new pleasure and freedom to millions. And now as new superhighways enter Boston and parking facilities continue to improve, everyone must eventually benefit.

Everyone, of course, except the passenger-carrying railroads. Just think for a minute how our population has increased and our commuting towns grown since the 1920's. Where last year we carried only 8,225,223 Boston commuters — in 1921, when the automobile was new, we carried over 30 million.

This staggering loss of passengers, together with the Railroad's huge increased cost of operations, has posed a serious financial problem for the B&M.

We have proposed to meet this difficult problem with a modern, integrated commuter program that entails:

- 1 Elimination of our unprofitable and parallel passenger service in the areas also served by the Metropolitan Transit Authority.
- 2 Elimination of service on some branch lines where public need no longer warrants the service and where public transport is generally available.
- 3 Elimination or rescheduling of lightly patronized trains on main lines and on some branch lines.

On the other hand, this program entails:

- 1 No fare increase as part of the plan.
- 2 Improved service for the majority of commuters by elimination of station stops close to Boston.
- 3 Air-conditioned Budd Highliner cars for all commuter service, which will involve the purchase of additional Budd cars and delivery of a Talgo train.
- 4 Revised schedules planned to meet the actual needs of the majority of commuters.

Here are the facts behind this projected program...
PASSENGER LOSS — OVER $1,000,000 A MONTH

First of all, please remember the B&M must operate as a business enterprise as well as a public service. It must provide services that suit the needs of the majority of its customers. But, like any business, if it continues to operate at a loss it must cease to exist.

When you see crowded early morning and evening B&M commuter trains entering and leaving Boston, you have a right to ask how the Railroad can be losing large sums of money on passenger service.

First of all, we must build and operate our plant to accommodate this peak morning and evening load. We must own, operate and maintain sufficient equipment to handle these peak loads. We must also employ train and engine crews and other employees to handle these peak loads. Finally, all of the plant, all of the equipment, and all of the employees that we must have on hand may be used to their capacity for less than four hours of the twenty-four-hour day — and then only for five days out of the seven-day week.

The B&M does lose money on passenger service — in the past ten years $126,721,000 — and $13,678,000 last year alone.

What then about those recent passenger fare increases?

We had only expected these fare increases would reduce our passenger losses by $1,100,000 a year. But even this did not happen. After the increase we lost so many commuters as to practically wipe out the hoped for benefits of the increase granted in passenger fares.

Can we increase freight revenues?

To a large extent favorable freight rates are the life blood of our New England economy and affect the jobs and security of most of us. New England industry must continue to have freight rates competitive with other sections of the country. Therefore the Boston and Maine must maintain freight rates competitive with other railroads in territories such as the South or Southwest which have no commuter passenger problem.

Railroads must show a profit, too

The B&M owes $47,126,000 secured by First Mortgage Bonds — which become due in 1960.

This mortgage the B&M must pay in 1960 is precisely like a mortgage you might have on your own home. And to renew your own mortgage you would have to satisfy your bank that your present salary and future earning power warranted such a loan... the B&M is in exactly the same position.

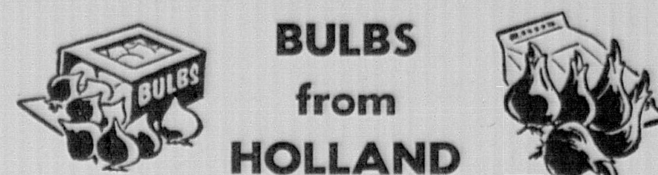

Today net earnings of the B&M are below the level required for sound credit. And as we lose more and more passengers to the automobile and our wage and material costs continue to spiral upwards, our financial position worsens every day.

Right now we must increase our revenues by raising fares or by reducing losses. We know that a present increase in fares is no solution. Therefore, we have no alternative but to reduce our losses wherever possible.

We sincerely regret that for some passengers of many years we will no longer be able to provide service. We are certain that this proposed program will meet the needs of the great majority of our patrons. Thank you.

THE PIED PIPER

A special event of the season for the young people of Winchester will be "The Pied Piper," a professional production by the Rockefeller Players, which the Community School Association is presenting at the High School Auditorium on October 25 at 3:30 p. m.

Heading the fine professional cast, in the role of the Pied Piper, is John Gregory, who has appeared on the New York stage in productions at the New York City Center and the Circle-in-the-Square and in the Broadway company of Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Medium." Mr. Gregory also directed "The Pied Piper" for the Rockefeller Players.

The greedy mayor, whose refusal to pay the piper causes all the trouble, is played by Bob Schauwaker, who has been seen frequently on TV in Alcoa theatre productions and has appeared with Linda Darnell and Talullah Bankhead on the summer circuit. As the mayor's bumbling assistant Paul Brown brings to the play the same comic talents that made him a favorite on the Bobbie Benson TV shows and Dooley the Clown.

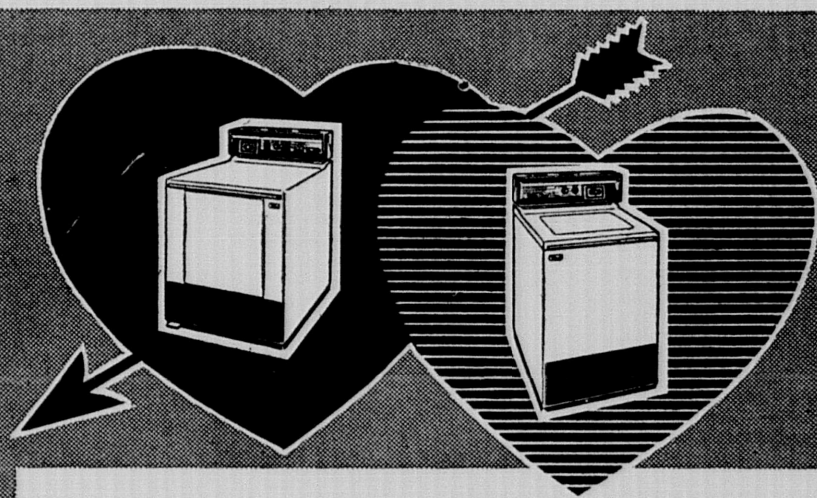

In the role of Willy, the little lame boy who could not keep up with the other children, is Marlene Maesca, a "find" of the Teenack Children's Theatre Workshop who made her professional debut with the Rockefeller Players last season.

in "The Pied Piper," Appearing as townspeople of Hamelin are Lucile Rockefeller, director of the Rockefeller Players, and Marge Smith, whose theatre career includes the road company revival of "Abie's Irish Rose" and who was associated with George Kondolf in the Broadway production of "The Fifth Season."
Tickets, at 50¢, will go on sale in all elementary schools before school on October 16 and 17. If any are left, they will be sold at the door, or you can contact the representative of your school:

ANTIQUES STUDY GROUP MEETS TUESDAY

The first meeting of the Winchester Antiques Study Group will be held Tuesday evening, October 15, at 7:45, at Leonard's Interiors, Cambridge street, in Burlington. At that time Mr. Leonard Pimentel will be host to the group members. Mrs. Clarence Blake will preside at the informal opening meeting. Mr. Pimentel, widely known for his unusual decor and his skill in fabrics and design, has no "topic" for this meeting, but instead has planned a number of surprises for his guests, as they will find when they tour his unusual home in Burlington, and his fabulous workshop. This is the second year of the Study Group, which meets on the third Tuesday evening of each month (usually in the Rich Room of the Winchester Public Library), to learn more about antiques, their value, their practical place in today's living.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL DADS' CLUB APPLAUDS BROCKLESBY

Last Monday evening, Deputy Master John F. Brocklesby of the Middlesex County House of Correction at Billerica spoke at the annual meeting of the George Washington School Dads' Club. It was unfortunate that not every member of the club was present. The illustrated talk, spiked with personal stories, and tempered with cold facts was the finest presentation to the club.

So enthusiastic was the reception, that a tour of the institution is planned by the club in the near future and Deputy Master Brocklesby has been invited to appear again.

Although it was not planned, the main topic of the annual meeting was the need for parents to actively support and assist in the Cub Scout and Boy Scout programs.

The club is the sponsor of Troop 9 and also the Cub Pack.

Mr. Brocklesby, in his talk which followed the meeting, pointed out that former Scouts were the rare exception at his institution. He very strongly urged that any father with any interest in the welfare of his son join the committee to work for the boys. It is hoped that some of the fathers who were unable to attend the meeting and who are interested in Scouting will contact Mr. Dana Peterson at 11 Grayson road and offer their services.

Mr. Brocklesby's fine talk, cheerful, but factual, brought home our blessing to be living in a fine town with a very minimum of juvenile problems. This he felt was due to an understanding, fair, police force, an interested and dedicated school system; a wholesome and healthy recreation program with excellent facilities; and parents and homes, that protect and house. The Dads' Club was pleased to present him and hope more can be present when he returns to Winchester.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick, who represents Winchester and Ward 1 of Woburn, was the speaker Wednesday evening at the Woburn YMCA Men's Club.

Services Held for Lt. Col. Joyce

Memorial Service At Epiphany Funeral At Pinecastle Base

A memorial service for Lt. Col. Charles R. Joyce, Jr., former Winchester boy and Army aviator who was killed October 9 in the explosion of a B-47 nuclear bomber at Pinecastle Air Force Base in Pinecastle, Florida, was held last Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany.

The Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the church, conducted the service, at which military honors were accorded by delegations from Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and the American Veterans of Foreign Wars. Organ music was played by the church organist and choirmaster, Enos Held. Flags on the common and town hall buildings were displayed at half-staff.

It had originally been planned to have the memorial service at Epiphany at the same time as the flyer's funeral in Pinecastle, Fla. Later developments made this impracticable and two services were held on Saturday at the Air Force Base in the south. Col. Joyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Joyce of 15 Webster street, his brother, Norman, of Reading, and his sisters, Barbara and Betty Ann, flew to Orlando to attend the services.

A memorial service for all those killed in the accident was held in the huge hangar at the base at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, with two thousand persons in attendance. Col. Joyce's funeral was held at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the chapel on the base. Burial was in Orlando.

Accident Reports

First reports of the accident stated that the plane in which Col. Joyce was flying with three other air officers, one a British group captain, was in flight over Ben White Raceway in Orlando when it exploded, plowing into a pasture.

Besides Col. Joyce the officers killed were Wing Commander Michael M. W. McCoy of Orleans, Ind., commander of the 321st medium bomber wing; Major Vernon D. Stiff of Dayton, Ohio; and Group Capt. John W. R. Brown of the Royal Air Force Squadron at Pinecastle who arrived at the base September 28 from England to participate in bomber competition lasting the month. It is believed that Col. McCoy, a B-47 pioneer, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal and former commander of the 306th Bomber Wing at Pine Field, was piloting the plane.

Flying at 700 Feet

Later reports of the accident placed the plane, a six-engine stratojet bomber, flying at a height of 700 feet when it burst into flames.

The pilot had apparently done all he could to keep the plane from crashing in a densely populated area. The plane was seen on fire by observers from the other side of Orlando. It passed over the city and was headed for open country when it exploded.

Debris covered a wide area and the bodies of those in the plane were scattered. Some wreckage but several houses but the damage done was negligible.

Air Force Veteran

Col. Joyce was born in Stoneham February 18, 1919, but grew up in Winchester, was graduated from Winchester High School in 1939 and attended Armstrong Junior College in Savannah, Ga.

A veteran of 17 years in the Air Force, Col. Joyce was a senior pilot in World War II, flying B-29's in India and China. He held the Distinguished Flying Cross with two Oak Leaf Clusters, the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, eight Battle Participation Stars, the Presidential Unit Citation and the Philippines Liberation Medal with a Bronze Star.

Held Important Posts

Commissioned in 1942, he had been operations officer of the 306th Medium Bomb Wing at MacDill Air Base, Tampa, Florida, the first all-B-47 combat wing in the U. S. Air Force. He went to Pinecastle at Orlando in March of 1954 when he was transferred to the Strategic Air Command and named commander of one of the three B-47 stratojet combat squadrons at Pinecastle as well as operational planning officer under Col. McCoy. He had previously been at the Central Florida Air Base.

Col. Joyce leaves his wife, the former Jimmie Dousette of New Orleans, La.; three children, his parents, two sisters, Barbara and Betty Ann; and three brothers, Robert of Winchester, Harold of Laconia, N. H., and Norman Joyce of Reading.

A HAPPY FIFTIETH

Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Giuliani of 16 Richardson street, long time residents of Winchester were pleasantly surprised with a party celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary on last Saturday evening. More than two hundred members of the family, relatives, neighbors, friends and well-wishers were present to make the occasion a very happy one.

Following a social hour, gifts were opened and acknowledged, a buffet style collation was served, and music and dancing were enjoyed by all.

Included in the many gifts for the happy couple was a gold plated religious plaque which was presented by the Christopher Columbus Ladies' Club, of which Mrs. Giuliani is a member.

The honored couple are the happy parents of eight children, all of whom are married and have families of their own, bringing the total of Giuliani grandchildren to eighty.

Old Winchester Resident Dies

Mrs. Isabella Tufts In 102nd Year

Mrs. Isabella Parker Tufts, believed to be Winchester's oldest resident, died early Thursday morning, October 17, at the Home for Aged People in her 102nd year. She had been seriously ill only a short time, but had for several weeks been in failing health, due to her advanced years. Until she actually became ill, however, she was especially keen mentally and greatly enjoyed the visits of her many friends from all over town. She had been a popular member of the family at the Home since May 2, 1935.

MRS. TUFTS RECEIVING POST CARD
FROM SELECTMAN LEWIS L. WADSWORTH SEPT. 28, 1955

Mrs. Tufts was able to enjoy birthday parties on both her 100th and 101st birthdays. On September 28, 1955, she was presented by the Board of Selectmen with the Boston Post Card, held by the oldest residents of cities and towns served by that former newspaper. She was the first woman to hold the card in Winchester and was the first member of the family at the Home to reach her 100th birthday.

Mrs. Tufts was the daughter of John and Rebecca (Young) Parker. She was born May 7, 1856, in Roxbury. After her marriage to George Julius Tufts, Boston attorney and prominent Mason, she and her husband lived in West Medford and West Roxbury until Mr. Tufts' death December 19, 1908.

The following year Mrs. Tufts came to Winchester and first lived on Brooks street. Later she lived on Bacon street with her son, the late John L. Tufts, but when her daughter, Henrietta, was married to Roy W. Wilson, she went to live with them in Winthrop. She returned with the Wilsons to Winchester in 1923, and lived with them for many years on Wildwood street before entering the Home.

Mrs. Tufts was a former member of the Portnightly Women's Club and while her health permitted she was an active worker for the Winchester Red Cross and the Crawford Memorial Church. She was an enthusiastic gardener for many years, being known by her many friends as the possessor of a "green thumb."

Sister Rena Plummer escorted past master Janet E. Manzie to the altar where Bro. Hunt presented her with a past master's star. Master Mary Robinson called on visiting masters Chute of Melrose, Henderson of Stoneham, Rose of Woburn, Rocco of Wilmington and master-of-ceremonies Butler of Wakefield for remarks.

Past Master Manzie presented a gift to past lecturer Helen Dewar as a token of appreciation from the Grange. Mrs. Dewar, who presented a personal gift of appreciation to Lorraine Howard who was her assistant.

Mrs. Mary Robinson then presented gifts to the visiting officers and his suite in appreciation of a job well done.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Patrons were present from Lexington, Bedford, Lincoln, Wakefield, Stoneham, Woburn, Wilmington, Melrose and North Reading.

C.D. GENERATOR AIDS WATER PUMP

The Civil Defense generator is being put to good use these days, providing electric power for the newly purchased Civil Defense centrifugal pump which has been mounted at Spot Pond to pump water from that MDC reservoir to the Winchester Middle Reservoir, through the pipes laid by the town after the vote to join the Metropolitan Water Supply System last March.

With the generator the pump is delivering to the Winchester reservoirs from 1,800,000 gallons to 2,000,000 gallons of water daily. This is enabling the local water authorities to maintain the Winchester water level above the danger mark. Actually to date there has been little, if any, gain in the height of the water.

Last week's rain amounted to 1 1/2 in. which had little effect on the level and none on the water level. As of now the local reservoirs are from 15 to 20 inches below normal for the year.

Ken's many Winchester friends will be rooting for him on Saturday, October 26, when the Wesleyan Frosh will be competing against the Amherst College Frosh in their only Massachusetts meet this fall.

Mr. Arthur Gorrasi, 422 Washington street, is presently enrolled as a senior at Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston. He is the son of Mr. Louis Gorrasi.

CAR DAMAGED ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

Robert Deroo of 2 Dana avenue came to the police station on Tuesday to report that the rear window of his DeSoto sedan was broken on Monday between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m.

The car was parked on Highland avenue at the corner of Dana avenue at the time. It is possible that the damage was done by children throwing rocks at lunch time.

THREE MORE FOR BELLINO

DATTILO ALSO STARS IN NAVY PLEBE VILLANOVA FRESHMAN GAME

Former All Scholastic halfback Joe Bellino and his Winchester High School and Columbian Prep teammates are stronger than their Navy Plebe football team's victory over the Villanova Freshmen at Annapolis on Columbus Day.

Dattilo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dattilo of Park road, Mr. Dattilo's cousin, Frank Dattilo of Woburn, and Bellino's older brother, Sammy, a great halfback in his own right at Winchester High, drove down to the game. They saw their boys from Winchester put on a great show.

Dattilo started at left end for the Navy Plebes and Bellino, left halfback. Of the two Dattilo saw the more service, playing an outstanding defensive game at his wing post and getting his fair share of tackles.

Bellino saw only limited service with the first string Plebe backs. While in action Giuseppe toted the leather six times and scored three touchdowns which is par for any course. Joe's touchdown jaunts from scrimmage were of 75 and 36 yards, but his real hat-boosting contribution to the afternoon thrills was an 82 yard touchdown return of the second half kickoff. In addition to his three touchdowns, Bellino added a point-after on a rush, bringing his total to 19 points. His teammates presented him with the ball after the game.

Navy won the game 69-6, which makes it look like the Annapolis yearlings are stronger than their Army prototypes, who defeated Villanova frosh the week previous, 33-12.

The Annapolis Plebes have a big game coming up on November 2, with the strong Penn State freshmen, and quiet plans are being made around the Plains to go on down to Annapolis for that one!

MRS. HARRIET V. JOPP

Mrs. Harriet Venzie Jopp, 83, widow of Charles B. Jopp, formerly of Boston, died suddenly Monday, October 14, at the Winchester Hospital.

Daughter of Francis Winslow, and Emma (Pratt) Venzie, Mrs. Jopp was born January 6, 1874, in Chelsea.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

BURT R. GAGE

Burt R. Gage, a former resident of Winchester, died October 15 at his home in Winter Park, Florida, following a heart attack in his 77th year.

Mr. Gage was born October 16, 1880, in Warren, and lived for many years in Somerville and Winchester, making his home in Winchester at 62 Bacon street until the early fifties.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Mabel H. Gage of Winter Park, Florida; a son, John H. Gage, and a grandson, John Z. Gage, both of East Orange, N. J.

WINCHESTER BOYS ENLIST

Two Winchester boys, David M. Ambrose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Ambrose of 61 Yale street, and Edward R. Ardini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Ardini of 69 Salisbury street, were among the recent enlistees at the Medford Recruiting Station of the U. S. Army.

Both boys are graduates of Winchester High School and enlisted for three years, under the specific duty assignment program. Ambrose elected to serve with the Army Transportation Corps and Ardini chose the Ordnance Corps.

Both chose to enlist for three years with the privilege of choosing their branch of service rather than to be drafted for two years with no option.

FIRES

A burned out washing machine motor at 18 Ardley place called out fire-fighters on Monday. Damage was slight, mainly smoke. On Monday afternoon the Winchester ladder truck went to Stoneham to cover the station there while Stoneham was at the general alarm fire on Main street. Arlington sent men to cover here while our fire-fighters were out.

On Tuesday fire-fighters went out twice. Once for a chimney fire at 25 Central street and again for leaves burning on Nelson street. Both fires were quickly put out.

PARKED CAR DAMAGED

Donald Walsh of 168 Elm street, North Cambridge called the police station on Sunday to report that while his car was parked in front of 28 Chardon road some unknown motorist struck it.

The car, parked on Chardon road between 8:30 and 9:00 p. m. was damaged on the right side, including the door. Mr. Walsh said that there were blue paint marks on the car, evidently made by the vehicle causing the damage.

Football Game Off

Illness Prevents Lexington From Keeping League Engagement

Winchester's Middlesex League football game with Lexington, originally scheduled for Saturday afternoon on Manchester Field, will not be played, at least on this Saturday. Illness to a large number of pupils in Lexington High, including some members of the football team, prompted the Minuteboys to call off their gridiron engagement with the Indians.

Whether the game has been cancelled or postponed wasn't known when the Star went to press. Since the game counts in the Middlesex League standing, it may be necessary to work it in later in the season as opportunity permits.

Lexington, with a tie and two defeats in its first three games, isn't going anywhere in the league this season, but Winchester is as yet undefeated and has to be rated with the contenders for league honors.

Should it be necessary to play the game, Winchester has an open date on the Saturday before Thanksgiving, and it might be possible to play Lexington on that date since many high schools do not schedule any action before their big Thanksgiving Day traditional games.

Couch Knowlton would like to play this Saturday, particularly in view of the lack of competition in both the Stoneham and Cambridge Latin games. He would like to schedule some team that has had a game cancelled to keep his boys in shape for objective games ahead, but here again the possibility of playing Lexington later in the year looms as an obstacle.

By Headmaster's edict Winchester can only play the number of games on its schedule, so that if another outside team was scheduled for tomorrow, and it became necessary to play the Lexington game later in the season, it would take a Headmaster's permissive ruling before that game could be played.

When the game was called off Lexington had 300 high school pupils ill, including 12 members of the football team. Calling off the game under such circumstances seems only sensible.

CALIDYNE COMPANY AFFECTED

The Calidyne Company has been affected by the hold-up in the re-equipment of the Department of Defense to the extent that it has been necessary to suspend production schedules. A general lay-off of production employees went into effect last week. However, the skeleton force has been recalled this week and others will be recalled as soon as order hooking warrants more production.

This cut-back has not been applied to the engineering department, the development and test laboratories, sales department and the general office force, and it is hoped that this will not be necessary. It is expected that defense department releases will be forthcoming soon so that a production schedule can be re-established.

TENNIS FINALS RESULTS

For the past few weeks a rumor has been floating through town that the venerable vice president of the Winchester Tennis Association is now a town champion. Most people scoffed at this report but to those unbelievers we say, it's true!

Joshua Bacon with some aid and assistance from his partner, Bob Horne, prevailed in an exhausting five set doubles final over Tony Apsey, late of Paris, and Jim Moulton, current Brown University threat.

This was a truly close match, sparkling with some good tennis and at times, appalling with some poor. The issue was always in doubt and the pyrotechnics just under the surface.

Bob Horne appeared to be both the calmest and the strongest player on the court, but perhaps the exhortations of his partner provided a needed spur. Joe showed again that when he thinks he can win, he is a strong competitor while Bob was his usual steady and sometimes decisive self.

For the losers, young Mr. Apsey showed the potential of a good doubles player with a consistent overhead and adequate ground strokes. He needs a stronger serve and to learn to play the percentages a bit more. Jim Moulton has unorthodox strokes which are better suited for singles, but on occasion his forehead was devastating.

In the men's singles final, Charlie Watson showed a marked superiority in all departments of the game to easily defeat Bob Horne. Bob was unable to muster the forcing type of tennis that is necessary if one is to give Charlie a battle. Charlie himself played more aggressively than in his worst with very good results. With added tournament experience and somewhat more confidence Charlie could be very tough indeed.

Ruth Murray achieved an ambition which she has had for quite a while by winning the women's championship. Agnes Bixler played very good tennis to reach the final against Ruth, but was no match for her more experienced opponent. Ruth used her very good ground strokes to great advantage and hit a surprising number of outright placements.

In the mixed doubles final, Adolph Alla and Ruth Murray defeated Tony Apsey and Bonnie Campbell. This was another case of experience emerging triumphant. Many of the Palmer street regulars commented on Bonnie's resemblance to her mother, the former queen of Winchester Tennis, Sylvia Hatch.

Bonnie plays with determination, attacking strongly with a well-grounded game. Exposure to stiff competition consistently would undoubtedly do much for her natural talents. Adolph played his best tennis of the tournament in this match, and as many of us have learned to our sorrow his best is quite good enough.

W.D.N. OCTOBER MEETING

The October meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held Friday, October 11, at 9:45 a. m. in the Ladies Parlor of the Unitarian Church. This meeting, being open to associate members as well as members of the Board, was somewhat larger than usual. Mrs. Rowland Patrick, president, welcomed those present, especially the associate members and our honorary member, Mrs. James Russell. She spoke gratefully of the autoclaving carried on by the members during the summer months. Mrs. Keyes, the secretary, read the report of the last meeting and Mrs. Broadhurst, the treasurer, gave her report.

Announcement was made of a luncheon meeting to be held at U.C.S. headquarters in Boston on October 16. Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Kiley of the board will attend. In December there is to be a regional conference in New York. Mrs. Wiklund and Mrs. Symmes of the staff will attend and Mrs. Purdie of the board. Mrs. Gove and Mrs. Patrick attended a meeting this past month at U.C.S. on the subject "Asiatic Flu, Fact and Fantasy."

The next report was that of Mrs. Wiklund, executive director. She said the district had been busy and that calls were about 200 beyond those of last year at this time. She spoke especially of the importance of the health guidance call. She said that the school program was going well with eye and ear screening in process. This is in accordance with state law requiring every student to be screened every year. She announced that the in-service program sponsored by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health has already had three sessions. She also told of her attendance at a meeting sponsored by the Massachusetts League of Nursing on the care of the cardiac patient. In closing she said that on October 23, 24 and 25 at the Massachusetts State Nursing Association will hold their annual meeting and she urged board members to attend.

Mrs. Harris of the Education Committee announced that Mrs. Harry Gilson will be the speaker at the December meeting and that plans for the annual meeting to be held in January were under way. Mrs. Forrester, chairman of the nominating committee placed the name of Mrs. Burton Gove in nomination to take the place of Mrs. Phillips Brooks on the board. Mrs. Gove was duly elected.

Mrs. Patrick then asked Mrs. Wiklund to give a report on the pre-convention seminar of the National League of Nursing Convention which she attended this past spring. Mrs. Wiklund said that the afternoon meetings were of the work shop type and were grouped according to size of the agency which gave administrators a chance to discuss mutual problems. In the general sessions subjects covered were administration, which was explained as being the maximum service within the limitations of number of personnel; Public Health Nursing led by Dr. Dorothy Wilson who said that public health nursing is primarily community centered nursing carried out through service to the individual. A good example of this being the polio vaccine program which was a community project carried out through the individuals of the community. Another point she strongly emphasized was the need for constant evaluation of the service and readiness to make changes with the needs of the whole community in mind. A further subject was the keeping of pertinent records and their importance not only to the association but to research. Another speaker was a Health Officer who discussed the association between the Public Health Nurse and the Public Health Department. The final discussion was led by a board member who explained the importance of board members being educated in the problems and activities of the Association. Mrs. Patrick closed the meeting with a tribute to Mrs. Wiklund for her report and for her consistently fine work as executive director of the Association.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL DADS' CLUB PLAN BILLERICA TOUR

As a result of the program at the annual meeting featuring Deputy Master John P. Brocklesby of the Middlesex County House of Correction at Billerica, a tour of the institution has been arranged.

The evening of Tuesday, November 5, has been set aside for the Club's visit. All members are urged to make the trip. Mr. Brocklesby's talk at the school was well received that his invitation was readily accepted.

Members are requested to form their own groups to travel to Billerica. A cavalcade will leave the school at 6:45 that evening. Car pools will be arranged at the school for any who have not made prior arrangements.

The tour will include an inspection of the complete institution including the dormitories, work shops, farm buildings, and recreation facilities. It will be highlighted by Mr. Brocklesby's commentaries and concluded with a "bull session" over coffee and doughnuts.

The committee on arrangements include Dana Peterson, Dave Choate, and Howard Nichols. Any questions regarding the tour will be answered by them if you care to call. They sincerely urge all members to take the trip.

WYMAN INFORMAL DANCE

The lilting strains of a five-piece band will drift forth from Wyman School Auditorium two weeks from Saturday, November 2, that is, when the Wyman Parents' Association holds its annual fall dance. This year it's the Pumpkin Prom and autumn colors will run riot throughout the hall. There'll be door prizes for some of you lucky people. Punch will be sold; the popcorn is on the house. And this year there'll be comfortably arranged tables and chairs where "Parents" and others may relax between dances.

At intermission a real treat is in store when the well-known entertainer personality, Harvey Davies, will come to us with his delightful Patter-at-the-Piano. The clever Mr. Davies has been compared to Victor Borge and will offer a most stimulating interlude of classics as well as boogie-woogie. The Wyman Parents' Association chairman of ways and means, Mrs. Lyle Longworth, and her committee are working tirelessly to make one money-making project of the year an ever bigger success than last year. See you there!

WEE SACHEMS MEET MELROSE AGAIN

Sunday, October 20, will be the big game of the season for the Winchester boys when they meet Melrose at Pine Bank Field, Melrose. The game will start at 1:45.

It is hoped that many Winchester followers will travel to Melrose to see this game. The field is located near the Melrose-Malden line.

The shortest route from Winchester is to turn left past the Stoneham Zoo, straight to Main street, Melrose, right to the field. The improved Winchester boys are out to avenge their loss by 20-19 to Melrose in the opening game of the season.

The Wee Satchem's only loss was that 20-19 defeat. Since the reverse they have gone on to beat Medford, 26-6, and Magnolia, 33-12, while Melrose is undefeated, winning from Magnolia 27-6, and Medford 12-6.

CHAPEL DEDICATED

The new chapel of the Crittenton-Hastings House was dedicated on Thursday, October 17, at 10:30 a. m. with representatives of all faiths attending and Bishop Anson Phelps Stokes as the main speaker. The chapel, designed by Mr. Gustav Hagen, was made possible by the contributions of members and friends of the Florence Crittenton League and Hastings House.

Directly following the dedication there was an open house at the home.

Phillips Brooks calendars are now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg. Oct. 18-19

"THE DEAC" HEADS SOUTH

Captain and Mrs. Robert S. Hamilton and their young son, Dannie, who have been in Winchester for a month following their return from foreign duty with the Air Force in Iran, left town Wednesday to drive to Captain Hamilton's new station at Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base in Goldsboro, N. C.

"The Deac" and his family have been stopping in town with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lynch, on Nelson street. While here the captain has been reuniting with any members of the old "Tourists Club" in these parts. Bruce Colpas in Needham, "Robbie" Smith in Wakefield and Joseph Eugene Flaherty of this town are members he was able to track down. Another active member, Charlie Dolan, is now in Texas and the "Deac" didn't have the necessary time to look him up.

The Hamiltons left for Goldsboro in their new Mercury, ordered by the Captain while he was in Iran from Jack Stokes of Bonnell & Stokes in Arlington. He found the car awaiting him in Arlington after his arrival here, color he wanted and everything.

On their way south the Hamiltons are going to look up "Oil Chugger" Mobbs, another active member of the Tourists Club, now living in Forestville, Conn.

Captain Hamilton does not yet know what his assignment will be at Seymour-Johnson, except that it will be in the division of supplies.

RECIPE PRIZES AWARDED

Miss Barbara Vincent of 3 Manchester road and Miss Alice Thompson of 70 Grove street were awarded $50 prizes for recipes they submitted in a contest sponsored recently by H. P. Lord and Sons.

A distinguished panel of food experts chose Miss Vincent's and Miss Thompson's recipes from several thousand which were submitted. The contest called for dishes using cottage cheese, soured cream and Nu-Chatel cheese. Entries ranged all the way from mouthwatering muffins and pies to quivering salads and hearty soups and stews.

Winner of the grand prize, an all-expense-paid week's vacation to Mexico City via American Airlines, was Mrs. Vivian Lang of Wollaston, Mass.

MARGARET C. MAHONEY

PASSES STATE BAR

Margaret C. Mahoney, daughter of Mrs. Charles B. Mahoney and the late Attorney Charles B. Mahoney of 228 Cambridge street, was a successful candidate in her first attempt to pass the Massachusetts Bar Examination.

Miss Mahoney graduated from Winchester High School in 1950. She received her B.A. Degree from Mount St. Mary College, Hooksett, New Hampshire in 1954. She was awarded her L.L.B. Degree from the Boston College Law School in June of this year.

For her outstanding speaking ability, Miss Mahoney was selected to represent Boston College Law School in the annual National Moot Court Competition. Previous to this honor, she was a winner of the Bostonian Competition, a series of moot appellate arguments before State and Federal Judges.

Miss Mahoney was the first woman to be elected to an executive position in the Student Bar Association at Boston College Law School. She held the office of Secretary. While at school she did volunteer work for Lawyers Reference Service and was a member of the St. Thomas More Society.

Miss Mahoney is opening her own office at 584 Columbia road at Uphams corner in Dorchester. Thomas Crowley, a classmate, and Representative Robert H. Quinn will be her associates.

AIDED IN SATELLITE PHOTOGRAPHY AT B. U.

Harold L. Alpaugh of 33 Oxford street has been one of a group of Boston University scientists who have been making an accurate photographic record of the third-stage rocket which launched the Russian satellite, commencing Monday morning, October 14, from the roof of the Physical Research Laboratories on the University's Charles street campus in Boston.

Using the interrupted time exposure technique with a makeshift camera and special lens, the group successfully photographed the path of the rocket as it sped some 300 miles above the earth's surface at 6,100 a.m., moving across the northern skies. According to observers, the actual satellite is now trailing the rocket in its orbit by about six minutes, moving in the same general direction.

The data obtained from the photographs taken Monday morning, correlated with a series of short-wave time signals broadcast from the National Bureau of Standards station WWV in Washington, D. C., is expected to provide some of the most accurate precision information yet available to scientists following the satellite's orbit in outer space.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all newcomers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at Winchester 6-3431 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

LAUNDRY TRUCK KNOCKS WOMAN DOWN

MRS. DOYLE INJURED IN SQUARE

Mrs. Katharine Doyle of 83 Sheridan circle was injured last Thursday, October 10, when she was struck by a laundry truck while walking on Converse place.

According to police reports, Louis C. Georgette of 40 Tremont street, Stoneham was operating the International laundry truck which is owned by New England Laundries, Inc. Mr. Georgette reported that while making a right turn into the Laundry's garage, he struck Mrs. Doyle who was walking on the right hand side of the street near the river.

As he turned, the right side of the truck struck Mrs. Doyle and knocked her down. He said the truck was moving about 5 miles per hour at the time.

Mrs. Doyle reported that she did not see the truck until she was struck. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated by Dr. Charles E. Rooney.

According to Dr. Philip J. McManus who is treating her now, Mrs. Doyle will be confined to the hospital for the rest of the week, but the outlook is good. She suffered a severe shaking up and has bruised knees and a bad back, however, no bones were broken.

EDITORIALS

The Star offers for the consideration of the committee studying the streamlining of the Winchester Town Meeting the thought that at least some time and effort can be saved by leaving out of the warrant articles on which votes are not necessary and make no difference. It is just a thought, of course, and offered for what it may be worth!

Some provision ought to be made for better lighting of the walk and steps leading from the front of the high school to the parking lot on the Parkway level behind the building. People using the walk and steps after a late session in the auditorium stand a good chance of being injured in a fall as things are now. A little white paint on the steps would help if some sort of lighting cannot be provided.

It may be that few of the town meeting members at last week's special session had read the report of the Additional School Facilities Committee sent them in the mail and printed in full in last week's Star, but even if they had, the original motion to come before the meeting under Article 2 could well have puzzled them. When town meeting veterans like Mrs. McDonald, Mr. Cusack and Mr. Cullen are "confused" what they are considering must be on the vague side.

Nor can we escape the belief that a vote for that motion could have bound the town to accept the committee's recommendation for an intermediary building program, whatever that program might have turned out to be. That may not have been the committee's intent, but several readings of the motion leave you wondering.

Whatever the state of mind of the town meeting members on the school motion, they certainly were not confused over the library and Wadleigh School questions. They knew what they wanted in both instances.

The library people did not get what they wanted at the recent town meeting, and it may be that the school authorities will have to settle for something less than "optimum" in the matter of school facilities. If we read the signs, the voters are going to be much more interested in actual classrooms this time.

We must have room for the kids to go to school but a lot of people are going to feel that we can get along without some of the things past school groups have seemed to feel were necessary. That tax consciousness we spoke about before the recent special town meeting seemed definitely in the saddle when the actual meeting convened.

Recently residents of the town have been troubled by magazine solicitors who have misrepresented themselves and their publishing houses and have proved so persistent in their attempts to secure subscriptions that the police have been called.

In some instances these solicitors have claimed to represent religious or charitable organizations, but close questioning generally has revealed no connection with either such group.

Householders are warned to make sure for what they are subscribing, and for what purpose, before they sign on the dotted line. If the solicitor is bona fide he will have credentials to show, and will probably show them when he makes his approach.

If there is any doubt, make sure before you buy. The police will be glad to check, and if the solicitor is on the level he will be glad to have them.

The dangerous practice of making U-turns at the intersection of Thompson and Main streets seems to be on the increase. The maneuver is made doubly dangerous by the fact that those using the turn as a brief time saver make the swing into traffic hurriedly to avoid police observation, while those approaching Thompson street either way along Main street are not expecting anyone coming out of a one-way street.

With pedestrians crossing Thompson street constantly the possibility for bodily injury to them has to be considered in the event of a collision of motor vehicles. The U-turns should be stopped, of course! We are sure the police agree!

Winchester residents on the whole have responded splendidly to the restriction of water made necessary by the extreme drought. The Water Commissioners tell us they cannot relax the present restrictions, even though we are now getting water from the Metropolitan system at Spot Pond. The water we are pumping from the M.D.C. supply is merely holding our reservoirs above the danger line.

There are always persons who feel that any restrictions are not for them, and there have been those who have ignored the very necessary water restrictions here. People know who they are. In some instances they have been reported and contacted by the local authorities. Some of these violators have continued to use their hoses and sprinklers in defiance of local regulations.

Naturally persons refraining from the use of water have resented this defiance, and it does seem as if the water authorities could have been a little tougher on the violators. After all, they have no special water privileges. No one has!

Meanwhile those of us who are trying to conserve water, that our supplies may not dwindle beyond the danger level, have the satisfaction of doing our part as good citizens, accepting individual restriction for the over-all public welfare.

We all like to think we are good citizens. How many of us are willing to prove it when the need for self denial is involved?

If memory serves, a school lot selected for use in the West Side hill district several years ago was abandoned when it was found that a gas main would go through the property. As we recall it the main would not go under the school but would be placed under a part of the playground. The school authorities were unwilling to risk the danger potential involved, and, probably, rightly so.

How then do they reconcile with this thinking the fact that not only one, but several mains, including gas, sewer, water and electricity, would go under any building erected across Main street to connect the junior and senior high schools to provide additional secondary school facilities.

We hear more and more about this Foster plan to block off Main street and erect an addition joining the two high schools. What becomes of the mains in the street? Moving them, if they can be moved, would appear to be a costly job.

On the whole traffic has moved well in the square since the advent of the overhead. There is a tendency in the early morning, however, for southbound traffic around the rotary to proceed too fast for safety, and yesterday morning when Box 44 sounded for a fire, bringing the fire trucks through the center, conditions were really bad.

The law, of course, calls for motor vehicles to pull to the side of the road and stop at the advent of fire apparatus, and perhaps the drivers in question thought they were doing the right thing in stopping where they happened to be, for the most part in the middle of the road.

The result was that the fire trucks had a job working their way through the stopped cars and one piece of apparatus went around the rotary to go west on Church street.

The police officer on duty in the square got the stopped cars moving as soon as possible, but one of the stated advantages of the new overhead setup was the free access fire apparatus was to have through the square with no railroad gates to impede their way.

A street full of stopped cars and trucks can prove as effective a barrier as gates, and certainly the local authorities did not have such an impasse in mind when the traffic circle was laid out. The whole setup is new, of course, and it takes time to make provisions for the best possible traffic regulations under abnormal conditions. The conditions of yesterday morning seemed to indicate that some real study should be given to the matter.

UNITED FUND INNOVATION

Editor of the Star:

Comes every charity, our local merchants face a real problem. They are asked to, and want to, give display space in their store windows. There are enough charities so that the merchant who never say, "no" has some poster cluttering up his window display year-round. And there are enough of us well-meaning citizens taking on such charity assignments so that every merchant, be he owner or local manager, is constantly and embarrassingly put on the spot by who are his customers.

The fact of the matter is that though the merchant wants to help, his display space is at a premium. More important, it is an integral part of successful selling. An appealing, attractive display catches the eyes and moves goods. A poster tossed in, can destroy mood and hurt sales.

Now we are into the campaign of campaigns, the first truly United Fund. And publicity of all kinds will be used to remind us all to give and give a lot. What to do about store window posters? We think we have a good answer.

No merchant will be asked to place a United Fund poster in any window designed to display merchandise. Instead of posters, small but effective "stickers" will be offered, for placing on the store door just above the handle.

Reading "Push for Your United Fund" and "Pull for Your United Fund," 100% use of these by our downtown stores will be the most effective reminders possible—and will, at the same time eliminate the risk of harming the effectiveness of well-conceived, patiently-built window displays.

A band of workers under the direction of Mrs. Richard B. Small, of 26 Grove street, will distribute the stickers. If any merchant is missed, a call to Mrs. Small at Winchester 6-173 will bring a sticker to the store immediately.

LIBRARY ACTION TURNING POINT

Editor of the Star:

Whether the action of the town meeting Monday night in refusing the Library addition makes the turning point of Winchester's progress towards an ideal community remains to be seen.

It should be obvious, however, that whatever Winchester's standing may have been in the past, it was not because of a town meeting as negative and indifferent as the one which represented the town Monday. In the worst of the thirties we put up the present library (and the present high school).

If the library seems expensive now what must it have seemed to people in the midst of the depression? The town owes far more to the civic leadership of the Library

Dr. Charles P.

Committee of 1930 than most people realize.

We must also remember that the action of this town meeting in refusing the library proposal will have effects far beyond the limits of the town. Americans usually do not spend their life in one location and the education they take with them, whether gained in a library or a school, is reflected throughout the country.

Every opportunity should be provided to insure that this education is sound enough and broad enough to serve as a guide in our daily decisions, both in public and in private life.

Town meeting members should not think they are to be thanked for saving the town's money. The library will be expanded despite the opposition of the Planning Board and town meeting members, but at a cost greater than that proposed Monday. Two hundred thousand dollars bought the library in 1930, four hundred thousand will buy an addition to-day, but how much will twice that sum buy in 1970?

We have merely postponed the addition and chosen to do without the facilities for the doubtful privilege of paying more for it later. To those thrifty and foresighted members who represented me and voted for the library addition go my sincere thanks.

To the majority of the Planning Board and the Finance Committee, and to the remaining town meeting members I would suggest that they visit the library to read a few chapters in Carl Van Doren's biography of Benjamin Franklin so that they may better understand the leadership, vision, and courage necessary to provide us with what we want in a community today.

TIME NOT SPENT IN VAIN!

Editor of the Star:

The Library Addition Building Committee was naturally very disappointed that the architectural plans were not accepted by the Town Meeting Members at the recent special town meeting. Whereas the previous plans of the committee were not accepted at the March town meeting, the committee tried to incorporate into the new plans the suggestions made by the town and since there were no objections to the plans at this recent meeting, obviously the plans were suitable as far as "looks" were concerned. The only objection seemed to be the future school expenditures coming along.

The committee feels that its time consuming work of a year and a half's duration has not been in vain, however, and that a definite contribution has been made to the town. The plans for the library addition plus much pertinent data will be in the hands of the Library Trustees and at some future date when the town feels it can afford an addition, this material will be available to help in the deliberations of that time.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Town Moderator Harrison Chadwick for his trust in appointing me to this excellent committee; also to thank Mr. John C. Willis, chairman of the Library Trustees who was their representative on the committee, Mr. Bernard E. Becker, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, and Mr. Donald J. Fritch who served the committee so faithfully in a difficult task.

A special thank you is due the Library Staff for their help and for those who spoke for the plans at town meeting and all others who in any way helped the Committee.

Respectfully,
Vincent P. Fitchard, Chairman
Library Addition Building Comm.

WATER COMMISSIONERS THANK C.D.

Theodore J. Boecker, Director
Civil Defense
Town Hall
Winchester, Massachusetts
Dear Mr. Boecker:

The year 1957 has been marked by the most severe drought on record in forty-six years. Coming at a time before the expansion and rehabilitation of our water system was completed, our Department has been sorely pressed to meet the minimum demands of our customers. In this emergency you, Asst. Director Sherman B. Russell and your organization made available to us your portable pump and portable generator. You procured for us hose and other equipment which enabled our Department to establish an additional temporary supply of water. Through your efforts a large temporary pump has been procured to operate our new Spot Pond connection until such time as the State gives us authority to proceed with the erection of our permanent pumping station.

The efforts of your Department have been invaluable to us in helping to meet the water emergency. Our Board wishes to express its sincere thanks to you for your assistance and interest and we are sure our citizens join us in thanking you for the many dollars that have been saved the Town through your actions.

Very truly yours,
James F. Dwinell, Jr. Chrmn.

BRIDGE FLOOR BEAMS MUST BE REPLACED

(Ed. note—The following letter from the Boston and Maine Railroad dated October 1, was in reply to the Board of Selectmen's letter about the closing of the sidewalk on the Swanton street bridge.)

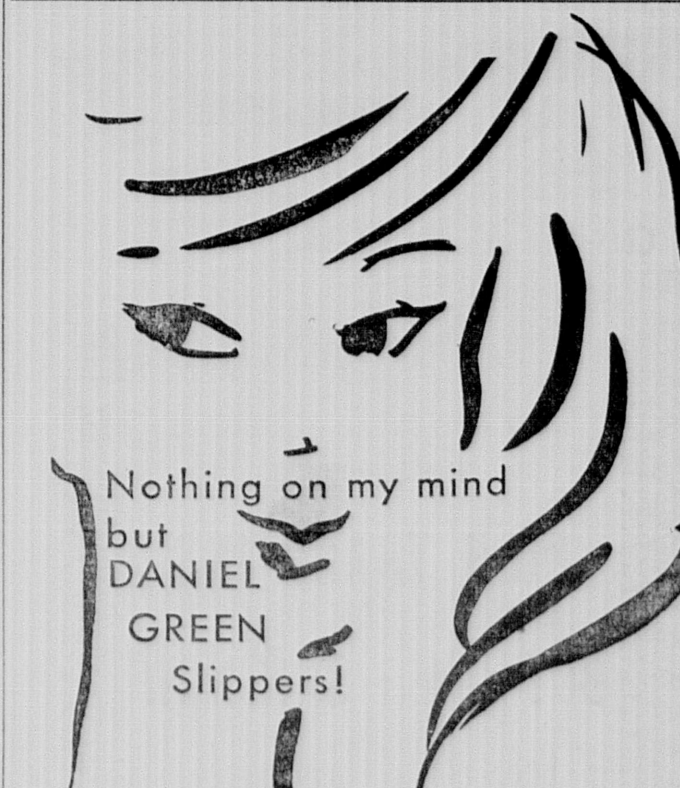

"At the time we commenced repairing the Railroad Bridge at Swanton street, we anticipated only slight steel repairs to the sidewalk hangers and complete deck renewal on the roadway.

"We stripped the deck plank off the bridge and while making the minor repairs it was discovered that the top flanges of the floorbeams where covered by the deck were in very poor condition. Our structural department decided that because of the material of the floorbeams being wrought iron it would be more practical to install new steel floorbeams. We have the new beams in our fabrication shop, but it will be approximately three to four weeks before delivery will be made to the site.

In his own words: "I stated that I knew not what was the matter, but if they would be quiet and in-

Luckily, the trouble was set aright. The Clermont splashed up the Hudson River at a steady five miles an hour. To one poetic seaman, it resembled, not a sawmill, but a "monster moving on the waters defying the winds and tide,
and breathing flames and smoke."
Mr. Fulton himself noted the "romantic and every varying scenery
of the (Hudson) Highlands."

No doubt the former farm boy was in a wondrously romantic mood.
Behind him lay a wake of brilliant failures in art, canal designing, and submarine inventing, but beneath him was a steamboat that actually worked well. It was not his idea, but he had the genius to combine all the best ideas of earlier inventions.
And aboard the Clermont was the fair, hard-playing Harriet Livingston, his beloved.

Happy Ending
Financier Livingston was elated, too. Just after noon the next day, he announced cousin Harriet's betrayal to Robert. Then the Cler-mont docked at Livingston's riverside estate, "Clermont," and everybody went to the manor house to spend the night.
Meanwhile, the Clermont's captain fetched his wife, who had a burning desire to ride to Albany in a vessel driven by a "tea kettle."

The voyage took 32 hours of sail-

NEW YORK MARKS
150th ANNIVERSARY OF FULTON'S FABULOUS SHIP

This summer marks the 150th anniversary of the historic, happy voyage of Mr. Robert Fulton's Clermont.

The Clermont, though not the first steamship by any means, challenged to fame August 17, 1807, on its run from New York to Albany.

Its success, the National Geographic Society says, ushered in the remarkable era of steam transportation that helped build America.
Not many people thought "Fulton's Folly" could do it. Thomas Paine said a whale would have to tow it. To some persons, the low-lying vessel suggested a "backwoods sawmill mounted on a scow and set afloat."

Skeptics gathered at the New York pier on that warm, misty August day in the delicious dread of seeing the Clermont blow up.
It seemed, at first, that their fears would be realized. The boat had hardly pushed away from the dock when it spluttered and clanked to an embarrassing stop.

There was alarm, especially among the select group of sea-sengers. These included Mr. Fulton's backer, New York Chancellor Robert Livingston, his distinguished guests, and quite a few Livingston girls. "Foolish scheme,"
"Told you so," "Foolish scheme," Mr. Fulton, a determined and darkly handsome man, climbed on to a platform and addressed the throng.

In his own words: "I stated that I knew not what was the matter, but if they would be quiet and indulge me for half an hour, I would either go on or abandon the voyage for that time."

Luckily, the trouble was set aright. The Clermont splashed up
the Hudson River at a steady five miles an hour. To one poetic seaman, it resembled, not a sawmill,
but a "monster moving on the waters defying the winds and tide,
and breathing flames and smoke."

Mr. Fulton himself noted the "romantic and every varying scenery
of the (Hudson) Highlands."

WORLD GAINS 25 COUNTRIES AND HALF BILLION PEOPLE SINCE WAR

The world has gained 25 independent nations and more than 500 million people since the start of World War II, the National Geographic Society reports.
This gives the world a total of 103 "states," and a population rapidly approaching the three billion mark. Asia had the lion's share of the increase in population,
All but six of the new states are in Asia.

One State—the Saar—lived and died within a span of 10 years from 1948 to 1957, when it joined West Germany.

The two newest states are Ghana, formerly known as the Gold Coast, and the Federation of Malaya, which joined the family of independent nations on August 31.

The 25 new states have about half the world's population. Perhaps their most urgent single problem is how to raise living standards among ever-increasing masses that must be fed and clothed.

HELP! I CAN'T TALK!

AMERICAN FONDOUK AIDS ANIMALS ABROAD

At the American Fondouk (meaning stables) in Morocco, miserably sick donkeys, camels and horses are treated. Many of these animals suffer from raw open sores resulting from overloading, beating and prodding with sharp instruments. The donkey in the picture is too sick to walk.

This American Fondouk in Fez is the only animal welfare organization in a foreign land flying the American flag. It is financed solely by kind-hearted Americans. The good will toward this country generated by the clinic, its help to stricken animals and, incidentally, their owners, is priceless; in fact, many times as effective as the millions poured into lend-lease.

This benefit to international amity has come as an added dividend from the main objective, i. e., to help the cruelly treated animals and to educate the Arabs to appreciate the beasts who serve them so faithfully.

The Fondouk has a "stateside" office at 180 Longwood avenue, Boston. Contributions may be sent there. Remember, if you give, "you will be there in spirit" whenever suffering is relieved by the attendant who so gently ministers to each animal patient.

You will be there when the ambulance brings help to an overworked horse who has fallen from exhaustion. You will be there helping in the rescue of a donkey fallen into a deep hole. Could a dollar hope to accomplish more!

ROTARY NEWS

The Rotary Club of Winchester last Thursday held its meeting at the House of Correction in Billerica. The club members were guests of Sheriff Fitzpatrick and First Assistant Officer Brockelsby. After a fine lunch Officer Brockelsby spoke of the inmates at the House of Correction, and the treatment of the prisoners. Their aim is not to have their prisoners punished, but to try to show them their faults and how they could, with the help of the sheriff and the officers, at the end of their term, return to society free men with a new lease on life.

A tour of the prison was taken by the members at the end of the meeting. We of the Winchester Rotary Club wish to state that in all the places we have ever been we have never seen a place run as efficiently or as clean as the Middlesex House of Correction. To Sheriff Fitzpatrick and his men the State of Massachusetts owes a great vote of thanks in their handling of the prisoners and the condition of the establishment.

For those who like to start early and take their time in making selections, our Christmas card sample books are on display. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

PERRY — REPUCCI

Miss Geraldine Mary Reppucci, niece of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Castor of 30 Bolton street, Reading, was married at St. Agnes Church in that town on Saturday morning, September 28, to Robert Francis Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry of 727 Washington street, Rt. Rev. Msgr. William F. Reilly, pastor of the church, officiated at the 9 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. A reception was held after the ceremony at Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall in Saugus.

Miss Reppucci was given in marriage by her uncle. She wore a gown of lace and nylon over satin adorned with pearls and sequins, fingertip length lace sleeves and chapel train. Her bridal veil was caught to a crown of matching pearls and sequins and she carried white roses centered with a white orchid and tied with streamers of Stephanotis.

Miss Evelyn MacDonald of Roxbury was her cousin's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Caroline Hart of Wakefield and Mrs. Helen Reppucci of Medford, sister-in-law of the bride.

The honor maid wore a sleeveless dress of turquoise chiffon over net with a simple neckline and capelet. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and wore similar flowers in her hair.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of a warm shrimp shade, fashioned like that of the honor maid. Their cascade bouquets and headresses were of French roses. Bernard Perry of Winchester was best man for his brother, and usher were Robert Welch and Francis Gigliotti, both of Winchester.

After a wedding trip to New York City and upstate New York, Mr. and Mrs. Perry will make their home at 192 Rindge avenue, Cambridge.

The bride is a graduate of St. Clement's High, class of 1953. Mr. Perry graduated from Winchester High School.

JUNIOR HIGH OPEN HOUSE

On Monday evening, October 28, at 7:30 p. m. the annual Open House will be held at the Junior High School. Started experimentally many years ago the open house has been found to answer such a definite need that it is now eagerly anticipated each year by all Junior High parents. This year, as is the custom, Mr. Raymond Dickman, principal, Mr. Gardner Handy, assistant principal, and the twenty-five other members of the faculty and staff of the school will play host to all parents who are invited to come and attend an abbreviated evening session of their 7th and 8th graders' scheduled day.

Assisting the administration in planning for this evening is the executive board of the Junior High Associates. Mrs. Robert Ericson, the social chairman, is in charge of the refreshments which will be served in the handsomely renovated cafeteria. Those helping her will be: Mrs. Roger Carpenter, Mrs. Grover Gaffney, Mrs. Clarence Gay, Mrs. Robert Millican, Mrs. Cedric Robinson, and Mrs. T. W. Shidler, Jr.

PROPHECY FULFILLED!

Mr. Robert F. Lybeck of Everett road, retired Colonial-Esso executive and member of the Northeastern University faculty, was the speaker at the meeting of the Woburn Rotary on October 1.

His topic was "A Trip to the Moon" and in the course of his remarks he predicted the construction of satellites and space travel for the youth of the land in the days to come.

Announcement of the Russian-made satellite came on October 4, only three days after the Lybeck prediction. Local fans are now asking "Bob" to predict the outcome of the Winchester-Woburn game on Thanksgiving.

DR. SAMUEL B. KIRKWOOD

PUBLIC HEALTH OFFICIAL MEN'S CLUB SPEAKER

Dr. Samuel B. Kirkwood, well known Winchester resident and Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health, will speak before the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church at its opening meeting on Tuesday, October 22. The meeting will be preceded by a dinner in Chisney Hall. Mr. Joseph D. Hall is in charge of dinner arrangements.

President Carl W. Wood will outline the activities of the Club for the coming year. Chairman Richard K. Schroeder of the program committee will then tell the club about the very interesting speakers and programs which will be presented.

Dr. Kirkwood will speak to the club on "Problems of International Health." He comes well qualified to speak on this subject since he is presently in charge of the operations of a contract between the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the International Cooperation Administration which provides for employment of professional personnel for the betterment of health in Pakistan.

Dr. Kirkwood has been to that country several times and the club will have the pleasure of seeing many colored slides that he has taken on some of his most recent trips.

Before assuming his duties as Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Health in 1953, Dr. Kirkwood conducted a private practice in obstetrics and gynecology in Boston from 1938. At the same time, he was also clinical professor of Maternal Health at Harvard School of Public Health.

He served in the Army Medical Corps in World War II from 1942 to 1946, the last two years of which were spent in civil affairs training and operation in this country and in Japan.

The Club is indeed fortunate to be able to have as a guest speaker such an outstanding public servant.

Phillips Brooks calendars are now on sale at the Winchester Star, Oct. 18-19.

PROMINENT "VET" TO SPEAK IN QUAIN ANTIQUE HOME

Historic Kimball Arms, 221 Cambridge road, Woburn, built in 1768 and furnished in part with items from the home of Daniel Webster, will be open to members and friends of the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals on Monday afternoon, October 28, at 2 o'clock when Mrs. Willis Kimball, vice-president of the club, opens her unique home for a fall meeting.

Not only will visitors see the original kitchen with its old Dutch oven, but also the amazing collection of old firearms, including the famous "Bunker Hill gun" and six Kentucky rifles, which figured in the Revolution.

Dr. Robert C. Griffith member of the staff of the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, will tell of his experiences, both pathetic and amusing, in treating "patients" at the animal hospital. Dr. Griffith diagnoses diseases brought to the clinic, as well as performing surgery. He has not spoken before in Winchester and will have some surprising things to tell us.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL DADS' CLUB HALLOWEEN DANCE

The annual Hallowe'en Dance for parents of the Washington School will be held Saturday, October 26 at the school. Ned Marshall's "Cultural Group" will provide the music from 8 p. m. to midnight. Joe McDonagh is chairman of the committee making the preparations. Andy Sinclair, Art Myette, and Fred LaTorella are assisting him. All members of the board of directors will distribute the tickets this weekend.

The "fabulous" prizes for the best costumes are being zealously guarded. Each year more and more people are coming "en costume" and that alone makes a fine evening.

The usual seasonal refreshments will be served during the dance. If any Washington School parents are not contacted with tickets, just call Joe McDonagh at Winchester 6-1032-M and he'll run right up with them. Won't you Joe?

ANTIQUES GROUP

On Tuesday evening of this week, the Winchester Antiques Study Group held its first meeting in Burlington, as guests of Mr. Leonard Pimentel of "Leonards" on Route 3, with the full membership present, and a large number of guests. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blake of Pond street were in charge of the meeting, and Mr. John Thornton was program chairman. Mrs. Everett Kiddle officiated as treasurer.

Mr. Pimentel, who is a teacher, a master wood carver and cabinet maker, designer, and craftsman, opened his entire home and studio to the Winchester Group, and for the first time, showed his famous collection of Meissen, Dresden, Bow, Staffordshire, early porcelain figurines, and gave an informal talk on them. Many of his fine porcelain pieces are duplicated only in museums such as Winterthur or the Metropolitan. He owns several that not even museums possess! He was most generous in explaining the marks on these early 18th century porcelains, how to identify them, their meaning and their values.

His home on route 3 is one he designed himself, and did much of the construction personally. His beautiful stairway is a copy of the one in the Derby House in Salem. His distinctive wallpapers and hangings, many pieces of exquisitely made furniture and rare antiques were all on exhibit for the group. At the close of the meeting, Mr. Pimentel served coffee and canapés, and willingly answered further questions from the members.

The November meeting will be a tour of the Boodakian Rug Galleries.

INFORMATIVE FIELD TRIP

On Thursday morning, October 10, Miss Savard's and Mrs. Ryder's second grade children had an informative field trip to the Winchester Post Office and Fire Station. The children voted the most interesting part of the Post Office tour was the cancelling machine. Mr. Foley was their guide and did an excellent job holding the children's interest. At the fire station they were fascinated by Lt. Galuffo's explanation of the workings of the station. Their dreams were fulfilled when one of the firemen came down the brass pole.

Due to the consideration of the Fire and Post Office Departments it will be a long remembered trip by the children.

AMERICA'S SHELF OF SPICES GATHERED FROM MANY LANDS

Tucked away on a shelf in nearly every American kitchen is an exotic essence of geography. It's contained in the familiar small tins of spices. Cloves from Zanzibar and cinnamon from Ceylon, along with the fragrant seeds, buds, leaves, berries, roots, and bark of many plants have been objects of quest since ancient times. Spices, above all other edible substances, have helped shape the fortunes of the world. Spices have been valued above gold and used as currency. Throughout most of recorded history, spices have not only been essential to preserve and give zest to bad food; they have been needed for incense, embalming preparations, andointments. Spice Trade Still Flourishes
No longer are spices so vital to health and comfort, but they remain a valuable commodity in world trade. In the United States, where their use in cookery has sharply increased during the past decade, spices constitute a $150,000,000-a-year business.
Almost every nation contributes to American spice shelves, the National Geographic Society says. Excluding allspice, a product of the West Indies pimento tree, most true spices such as pepper, cassia, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, mace, cloves, saffron, and turmeric come from the traditional spice lands—India, Ceylon, Malaya, Indonesia, Indochina, China, and Japan.
The United States depends heavily on Europe for herbs, a botanical classification including basil, bay leaves, chervil, marjoram, mint, oregano, parsley, rosemary, sage, savory, tarragon, and thyme.
Aromatic seeds—aniise, caraway, cardamon, celery, coriander, cumin, dill, fennel, mustard, and poppy—are grown in Africa, Europe, India, and the Americas.
Nowadays, obtaining spices is no problem except in wartime. But the precious food auxiliaries have not always been available or inexpensive. Demands, especially in the Middle Ages, bordered on mania. For want of spices, men shed blood and even some of history's most thrilling adventures. Marco Polo opened Europe's eyes to the mysterious "lands of spice-rie." Columbus, Da Gama, and a long line of mariners, while looking largely for spices, opened the world to exploration and trade.
Golden Age of Spices
Mastery of the spice trade helped build the empires of Portugal, Spain, England, and Holland. Profits were fabulous, and spice

NEW DOLLAR BILLS JOIN PASSING PARADE OF U. S. PAPER CURRENCY

The old-dollar bill, as cut down in 1929 and later redesigned, is in line for gradual retirement. In the United States, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, new presses are now turning out this year's model at the rate of 288,000 a day. Nearly four times as fast as the old machines, they print 32 hundred dollar bills to a sheet.
By October 1, Director Henry Holtzclaw estimates, more than 250,000,000 examples of America's latest small-format paper currency will be available for distribution. In time the new bills will supplant old ones returned to the government for funeral-pyre rites.
Basic Design Unchanged
The basic design of the 1957 dollar, showing George Washington's portrait on the face and both sides of the Great Seal of the United States on the back, will remain the same, says the National Geographic Society. But there are several noteworthy changes.
The phrase, "In God We Trust," has been added in accordance with the 1955 Act of Congress that required all future paper currency, as well as coins, to carry the motto.
Quality of the bills will be improved. The new presses can reproduce the required fine engraving work on dry paper instead of having to use the damp material of the past.
The dry process also eliminates former shrinkage. Hence George Washington's face will be slightly fuller, although he looks out from a steadily contracting dollar in Humphrey. And on its face will appear the series date 1957-A, a date that represents not the time of printing but the latest change in design.
Letters A B C D and so on that follow the series date stand for successive signatures of United States treasurers or Treasury secretaries.
"The new No. 100 dollar bills now in circulation bear a 1955 series date. Rare dollars of this and earlier series are collectors' items. A special 1918 issue, signed by U.S. Register Huston R. Teehee, an Oklahoman of part-Indian descent, is good for more than a laugh. In good condition one such bill may be worth $100.
Genuine freak bills rate high in collecting circles. Reported have been a dollar bill with the George Washington face on both sides, and an "811 bill" combining one and ten-dollar designs.
The fast-moving everyday dollar has an average life expectancy of 13 months. Officially pronounced too limp for use in circulation, 1,200,000 such bills are annually burned, with as many precautions taken in the destruction as in the production and distribution of the currency.
The art of salvaging mutilated and charred currency is another complex activity of the Government's money handlers.
Using tweezers, needles, blades, and magnifying glasses, the Treasury's trained women technicians each year reconstruct millions of dollars worth of bills from bits and lumps of paper most laymen would judge junk.
Less than two-fifths of an original bill is worthless. Between two-and-a-half and five-eighths of face value; three-fifths and more, full value.
Payments have been made for bills baked with a pie, petrified after long burial, sent to dry cleaners, whirled in washing machines, and swallowed by a goat.

monopolies were guarded like atomic bombs. To prevent the planting and growing of nutmeg trees away from the Spice Islands in the 17th century, the Dutch soaked the nuts in milk of lime before shipping to make them infertile. On the docks of Elizabethan London, stevedores had their pockets sewn to discourage spice thefts.

Among present-day spices, saffron is the most expensive. It takes 75,000 saffron blossoms to yield a pound of spice-bearing stigmas, thus its wholesale bulk price of about $58 a pound.

But pepper has always been a prince among spices. When Alaric the Goth besieged Rome in 408 A.D., he demanded 3,000 pounds of pepper as ransom. Rents and taxes were often paid with pepper in the Middle Ages. As recently as World War II, when supplies were cut off, American restaurants removed pepper from tables to prevent pilfering.

ISRAEL PLANS COPPER INDUSTRY IN REGION OF SOLOMON'S MINES

A Biblical prophecy fulfilled 3,000 years ago has taken on fresh meaning in modern Israel with the launching of a copper-mining project north of Eliat on the Gulf of 'Aqaba.
"For the Lord bringeth thee into a good land . . . a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass," the Israelites were told in the description of the Promised Land (Deuteronomy 8:7-9).
The current undertaking will exploit rich copper deposits at Timna, some 15 miles north of the Gulf. Its ancient prototype was King Solomon's highly successful copper and iron industry whose ruined mines, crushers, and smelters still scar the barren near-by hills.
Using conscript labor, Solomon had the ores "roasted" on the spot, says the National Geographic Society. He then shipped the crudely processed metal to refineries at his Gulf 'Aqaba port, Ezion-geber. Bible Proof Delayed Proof of the Bible's accuracy in the brief reference to mineral wealth of ancient Palestine was uncovered only in comparatively recent years.

During the 1930's the archaeologist Nelson Glueck painstakingly explored the Wadi Araba desert rift that stretches more than 100 miles from the Dead Sea to the Gulf of 'Aqaba.
He came on the remains of many mines worked during the Iron Age, and especially during the reign of King Solomon in the 10th century B.C.
One important site, in what is now western Jordan, was traced by its Arabic name, Khirbet en Nahas, meaning "Copper Ruin."
Another came to light in the Mene'iyeh hills, not far from the copper deposit on which Israel's present operations will be based.
The Mene'iyeh area was the largest of the ancient copper centers uncovered along the Wadi Araba. Glueck's investigations there revealed seven mining establishments, with hundreds of dwellings, ore furnaces, and piles of leftover black slag. Behind wall fragments were ruins of what had probably been prison-labor camps.
A Palestine Pittsburgh
Most spectacular of the Glueck finds was the long-lost city of Ezion-geber at the narrow head of the Gulf of 'Aqaba.
Ezion-geber's arid location offered a puzzle to scholars. Why did Solomon, with his wisdom, build the city west of more abundant sweetwater supplies and, still worse, put it directly in line with hot, fierce winds carrying sandstorms along the Wadi Araba?
The answer became clear with study of the buildings. Made of heat-hardened mud bricks, the walls of many were pierced with flues and stained green by sulphurous gases.
The structures had been used as huge smelters. Their flues, linked by a system of air passages, provided forced draft from steadily blowing winds to keep the flames going for the refineries.

Indians Win Another

Cambridge Latin Outclassed
In Non-League Tilt, 46-7

Winchester High won its third football game in as many starts last Saturday afternoon at Russell Field, Cambridge, outclassing a sizeable but inept Cambridge Latin team, 46-7. The score might well have been much larger had Coach Knowlton not used his reserves and sophomores during much of the game.

Winchester was so busy making touchdowns it didn't make many first downs, Cambridge Latin making eight to its four. Rushing was a different story, Winchester rolling up the terrific yardage total of 423 while Cambridge totaled 153, which is good for so badly beaten a team.

The Indians didn't throw a pass, didn't fumble and failed to draw a penalty, though a couple of officials were refused by Latin. Cambridge completed three of seven passes for 89 yards and a touchdown with two aeriels intercepted. The losers fumbled six times, recovering twice, and lost 25 yards in penalties.

Though the game ceased to be a contest after the first quarter it wasn't without its thrills. "Doug" Thomson turned in hat-trick touchdowns galloping of 79 and 92 yards. Larry Longworth twice broke through for touchdowns on quarterback sneaks, the first time going 26 yards and the last 64 yards. In between Migliaccio went 51 yards for a tally and Keene, 35 yards for a touchdown. Thomson, on a fullback sweep go for 13 yards, made the other tally.

Cambridge Latin tallied its only touchdown on a pass from Bruno Macaro to Tom Dooley, a play covering 70 yards.

Cambridge had a great chance in the very opening minutes of the game when Winchester elected to rush on fourth down and failed to make the necessary two yards. Latin took over at the Winchester 48, but its offense stalled and its kick went into the end zone. Winchester starting again from its 20.

Flaherty bucked for a yard, and then Thomson turned the right corner and fled along the sidelines, 79 yards for the game's first touchdown. Serratore's try for the extra point from placement was wide.

After the ensuing kickoff Latin fumbled and Freddie Bartlett pounced on the ball for Winchester at the Cambridge 26. On the first play Larry Longworth, on a quarterback sneak, broke through the center of the line and outraced the secondary into the end zone. An attempt to pass for the extra point went incomplete.

In the waning minutes of the first quarter Morgan recovered a Cambridge fumble at Latin's 41 and Winchester scored in six plays, Thomson sweeping right end for 15 yards to dive into the end zone on the first play of the second quarter. This time Serratore kicked in the extra point and Winchester led, 19-0.

With the seconds operating for Winchester Cambridge ran the kickoff to its 38 and then steadily pushed up field, making first downs at its 50, the Winchester 36, 21 and finally the 10, a successful pass completion placing the ball there.

Coach Knowlton rushed back his first string, and after Skalski had bucked to the four, "Butch" Murphy broke up an attempted sweep for a two-yard loss. Another try at the line was piled up for no gain and Latin's next try lost another yard. Winchester taking over at its seven.

Paonessa picked up a yard, and then Thomson turned in the game's most spectacular effort. Starting on its 50, the Winchester 36, 21 and finally the 10, a successful pass completion placing the ball there.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

On September 20, the California team was imbedded in seventh place with a two point win and a six point loss. Today finds them in second place with but two points off the pace. It proves one thing "where there's a will, there's a way." They met the leading team, Alabama, and whipped them to a stand still by taking them four straight points.

Team Standings:

Alabama	14-6
California	12-8
Bates	12-8
St. Mary's	11-9
Georgetown	10-10
Holy Cross	9-10-1
Notre Dame	8-11-1

The boys in the 300 circle this week are Musky Tofuri, 318; Richard Fiore, 347; Carl Bertolucci, 300; Tony Saraco, 323; Correction Fiore, 314. Honorable mention goes to Don Provinzano, 290; Dan Gattinieri, 298; Choppers Gangi and Jeff Gaudioso, 296.

High team pinfall went to that aggressive team California which is ably captained by Richard Fiore who is really climbing up the average column himself. This team consists of such good bowlers as Carl Bertolucci, Eddie Fargione, Rocky Di Tesso, the soft spoken, Maxie Di Mambro and the stone-wall backbone from England "Sir Winston" Frongillo.

This week another great bowler has been voted into the Hall of Fame, the Earl of the Club Don Provinzano.

The JV's were led by rapidly improving junior Steve Powers, he finished 8th. Brown, Nichols, Seaver and Root completed the perfect score for the team.

It is interesting to note that the varsity five had only 19 seconds separating them which is an indication of a strong team balance. At the end of the third week of the season the standing in the MCCL Pilgrim Division is as follows:

HARRIERS' FOURTH STRAIGHT

Last Friday the Red and Black runners entertained the Wakefield High team on the home course and the varsity and JV posted identical victories as they scored shutout wins, 15 to 0.

The local squad was hit rather hard by the flu bug and was running without the services of two of the captains, Bill Emerson and Don Seaver. However, Dan O'Connell, returning to form after a serious bout with the virus, filled in ably as he posted his best time for the season in finishing fourth.

The race got underway as 50 runners took off from the Wakefield building and started the long uphill pull into the Fells. The Winchester runners moved into the van in the early stages and Bill Sauman led the tightly bunched Red and Black runners at the halfway point.

Klaus Reuter took over in the last half and chalked up his fourth straight win with his best time for the season of 16:39. Charlie Clifton finished a strong second as he ran under 17 minutes for the first time to finish in 16:49.

Sauman, O'Connell and de Rivera took the next three places to complete the varsity scoring. The next two runners were Steve Powers and Don Brown, both underclassmen, who are showing rapid improvement.

The JV scoring was led by Bob Carlson, who injured his foot during the race and was forced to favor it in the last half, finishing in the 8th spot. Dryer, Nichols, Root, and Cooper completed the shutout scoring for the JV team.

The key meet of the season will be run on Friday, October 18, when two undefeated teams clash at Salem. This meet will decide the championship of the MCCL Pilgrim Division.

Salem has a strong team led by two excellent runners, Oulelette and Gravel. They are primed for this meet and would be pleased to pin a defeat on the only team which has defeated them in dual meet competition in two years.

Winchester does not hold them lightly, and therefore the meet should be a fine one.

The World Series is over, of course, but the good time had by a Winchester delegation while they were attending the home games of the Yankees in New York will long remain a pleasant memory for those who enjoyed it.

Winchester groups attended the first two games and the last two games in New York, each time as guests of a former Winchester boy, Louis Capone, who now lives with his charming wife in Great Barrington, R. I., and is associated as an executive with the Perini Construction Company.

Louis and his wife had a suite at the Commodore for the use of the Winchester guests, those attending the first two games including Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Capone, Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Del Rossi and son, Paul, of Little League fame, "Stutz" DeMino, Bill Daley, Paul Sellitto and Fred McCormack.

The Winchester party going to New York for the last two games included Paul Sellitto, John Lane, Bill Daley, Henry and Fred McCormack.

During their stops in New York both groups were supper guests of Office, Star Building.

ADMITTED TO BAR

Ronald J. Chisholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Chisholm of 227 Cross street, was among those announced last week as admitted to the Massachusetts Bar as the result of successfully passing examinations taken in July at Boston English High School. The oath to the new barristers will be administered at the Supreme Judicial Court in Boston on November 12.

Born in Melrose, Mr. Chisholm is 26 years old and has lived in Winchester since 1941, attending Junior High School here and graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1948. He took his pre-legal training at Boston College and was graduated from Suffolk Law School in the class of 1957, serving as vice president of his class.

Mr. Chisholm was one of four outstanding students in the law schools of Greater Boston selected to serve as interns under the initial intern program in the office of District Attorney James L. O'Dea of Middlesex County.

The young Winchester attorney has not yet made up his mind about plans for the future.

DAMAGE TO PARKHURST TEACHERS' CARS

Albert F. Sutula, principal at the Lewis Parkhurst School, reported to police last week that some damage had been done to several of the teachers' cars while they were parked at the school on October 9. The cars were left in the parking area while the teachers were at a meeting.

Officer Parsons investigated the incident and found that the damage was slight. It was suspected that some of the boys at the school were responsible and they were warned to stay off school property after school hours.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE INVITED TO DEVENS

The third season of the Children's Theatre School is beginning with promise and enthusiasm. The first meeting, held last week, was for the "veteran" boys and girls, some of whom have been in the group since "Peter Pan" in February, '56.

The children's performances, and informal demonstrations at various theatre conferences and on T.V. have acquired for them, and for the project, a reputation of merit. At the recent New England Theatre Conference at Northeastern (the Community Theatre Division of which was so ably planned and conducted by Mrs. Howard J. Childley) the Winchester Community Theatre, Inc., and the Children's Theatre School both had a comprehensive display of productions in the exhibition.

Through this exhibition the entertainment program director of Fort Devens discussed plans and made arrangements with Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, director, for a program at Devens in December.

The Army will send a truck for scenery and buses for the children whose parents do not wish to drive them up. (Mrs. Samoiloff asked for a tank for the boys.)

The theatre at Devens seats 900, and the audience will be made up of children of soldiers and officers and their parents.

The applications for children are many, and the three age groups start next week. Wednesdays and Thursdays from 3 to 5 o'clock are the meeting days.

ON LECTURE TOUR

Dr. William L. Wilson of 8 Oneida road is leaving Sunday on a lecture tour. On Monday he will address a meeting of the Middle Atlantic States Society of Orthodontists in Philadelphia. On Tuesday and Wednesday he will deliver a series of lectures before the Great Lakes States Society of Orthodontists in Detroit.

Thursday at Ann Arbor he will lecture and conduct a teaching seminar at the University of Michigan. On Friday Dr. Wilson returns to New York City where he will give a series of lectures at Columbia University.

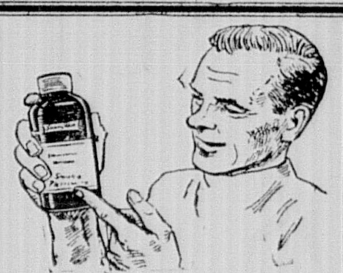

Dr. Wilson is the author of several published articles in scientific journals. A recent article will appear in the November issue of the American Journal of Orthodontics and another is due for publication in December.

Before coming to Winchester, Dr. Wilson was Clinical Instructor of Orthodontics at Harvard University for several years. He also has been a visiting lecturer at Tufts University, Forsyth, and the University of Pennsylvania.

Former Winchester Boy Named

Authority On Robert Burns To Teach English At South Carolina

(Ed. Note—Dr. Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thornton of Indian Hill road, lived as a boy in Winchester and graduated from Winchester High School.)

Dr. Havilah Babcock, head of the Department of English at the University of South Carolina, announces that Dr. Robert D. Thornton, perhaps the foremost authority on the songs of the Scots poet Robert Burns, has begun teaching in the Department of English at the university this September. Dr. Thornton has taught for 17 years, principally at Harvard and the University of Colorado; he comes to Columbia from Austin, Texas.

Last May the University of Kansas Press published Doctor Thornton's "The Tuneful Flame," which presents for the first time 25 songs of Robert Burns exactly as the poet himself sang them and intended them to be sung. Among the compositions are the well-known "Flow Gently Sweet Afton," "Comin' Thro' the Rye," "Auld Lang Syne," "Ye Banks and Braes o' Bonnie Doon," and "Scots Wha Hae," the national anthem of Scotland. Completion of the book was made possible by major research grants from the University of Colorado and the American Philosophical Society, founded by Benjamin Franklin. Much of the preparatory study was done at the National Library of Scotland, the Glasgow Public Library, and the British Museum.

Doctor Thornton's long interest in Burns and Scotland has been evidenced both here by a number of published articles and by scholarly papers read before such groups as the Modern Language Association of America. His latest work includes collaboration with a Scots musician on a long-playing record of Burns' poems and songs, reading proof on two contributions to a volume of world poetry being edited at Yale, and writing an address to be given before the Scots' Charitable Society, which this year celebrates its 300th anniversary.

This past summer Doctor Thornton did research in Cambridge, Mass., on the Besterman Papers—a mass of documents relating to the early editions of Burns' poetry which were willed to him by Theodore N. D. Besterman, pre-eminent bibliographer and director of the Voltaire Museum, Geneva, Switzerland. Final disposition of these papers rests upon the decision of Dr. Thornton and the curator of rare books in the Houghton Library of Harvard University. Upon the request of Mr. Besterman a committee of famous American scholars was designated to select that student of Burns who would best understand and interpret the significances of the papers.

For the past five years Dr. Thornton has become increasingly occupied with the complex subject of reading. After a period of independent study and of apprenticeship at the Boston Institute of Reading he went on to found the various reading courses offered by the Adult Extension Division of the University of Colorado, to develop new tests, to write a text, "A Manual for Reading Improvement," published in 1955 by the University of Colorado, and to train new teachers.

His courses were taught not only in schools and colleges, but also in such industries as the U. S. Bureau of Standards, the Climax Molybdenum Corporation, and Esquire-Coronet. This work with industry was advanced during the summertime at reading clinics for leaders in the business world conducted by Dr. Thornton and associates from the faculties of the University of Colorado and the University of Minnesota.

Several years ago Dr. Thornton was appointed to the Committee on Reading of the National Society for the Study of Communications.

Last year at the University of Texas, Dr. Thornton made a study of developmental reading in the secondary schools of the State of Texas; this study was published in July. While in Texas Dr. Thornton collaborated with Professor J. G. Umstad, nationally-known authority on American education, in writing a chapter on secondary education for the third edition of the "Encyclopedia of Educational Research," announced for publication in 1960.

As an undergraduate, Dr. Thornton was a member of the Honors College at Wesleyan University from which he received the B.A. with honors in general scholarship and highest distinction in English. He was a Dennison Fellow at Wesleyan.

His Master of Arts degrees are from Western Reserve University, where he was a University Scholar; and from Harvard. His Ph.D. is from Harvard. While studying at Harvard, Dr. Thornton was a University Fellow; he was honored also with a Dexter Fellowship for travel abroad.

He holds the United States Navy Japanese Language Certificate. During World War II he served overseas as a Japanese language translator and interpreter.

Dr. Thornton is a member of various academic organizations and of the Chi Psi fraternity. He comes to Columbia with his wife, Grace Ellen, and two sons, Robbie and David. He and his family are members of the Episcopal Church. (The "State," Columbia, S. C.)

UNITARIAN JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The first meeting of the Junior High Fellowship of the Unitarian Church was held on Sunday, October 13, at 4:30. The program for the year was outlined by Mr. Gardner Handy, leader. Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Barnes, Jr., were present as parent guests. Mr. Storer talked about church family living and fellowship. The service of worship was conducted by Mr. Miles McKee, student minister.

After a refreshment period, games were played. The following committees were appointed: Membership, Laurel Ingraham, Gretchen Laban, William Eddy, and Cody Meisner; program, Donald Gross, Janet Rich, Jason Handy and Scott Wild; social, Claudia Gordon, Sue Ellen Puffer and Martha Preston; worship, Jon Abbott, Mimi Barnes, Hope Barker; refreshment, Susan Williams, Peter Judge, Guy Hutchings and Thomas Baird.

Officers for the first half of the year: president, Janet Rich, vice president, Donald Gross; recording secretary, Laurel Ingraham; corresponding secretary, Susan Williams; treasurer, Claudia Gordon.

Parent advisors for the group are Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hutchings, Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood S. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gordon, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. P. Gibb, Mr. and Mrs. W. Langdon Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Davis.

SEEK ADULT EDUCATION INFORMATION

Comprehensive national statistics on the number of persons attending adult education classes will be available for the first time as the result of special questions to be asked in the October Current Population Survey, according to Supervisor James W. Turbitt of the Census Bureau's regional office in Boston, which will participate in the survey.

The special questions on adult education are being asked at the request of the U. S. Office of Education.

Questions on regular school enrollment will also be asked in the October survey as well as the usual monthly inquiries on employment and unemployment.

Current Population Survey information will be collected locally during the week of October 14 by properly identified Census employees.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART

By Richard J. Clark, M.D.

(Today's guest columnist is the director of the Work Classification Unit, 255 Charles street, Boston, of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

"Living With Your Heart" is written and distributed weekly as a public service of the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

Today the public has become acquainted with many facts of coronary thrombosis as exemplified by our President's attack.

Surely it is now widely appreciated that patients who have coronary disease can work successfully, indeed can do jobs of many varieties. In the course of work studies among those with heart disease, we have seen individuals performing tasks of slight and of great responsibility, light desk or bench work and more arduous laboring work. It is true that all convalescents from acute coronary attacks are not so fortunate and there are a few who cannot work, but it is safe to say that three quarters or more can work and most often can return to their old jobs.

This is important. We have found it usually far better and easier for the convalescent to return to accustomed surroundings and occupations than to attempt entering a strange field which on the surface may seem easier and lighter.

It is also of interest to see comparisons of energy demands of various activities. The housewife expends much more on her housework than does the average factory worker. The operator of a crane which lifts several tons may actually perform less physical work than a milk delivery man. Social and recreational activity, as well as certain psychological functions, often place far more burden on the circulation than does the work of the average white collar man or factory worker.

Do work and physical activity produce heart disease? The answer is almost universally no. Indeed, lack of exercise and work, especially when associated with gastronomic over-indulgence, seem far more prone to precipitate trouble.

For the person with known heart disease, will work precipitate further trouble? Generally speaking work which is reasonable for the individual (work which produces no undesirable symptoms or strain) does not appear to hasten complications or recurrence of attacks. In fact, many who carry ahead with work after convalescence appear to thrive under this stimulus to a greater degree than those who simply sit around or retire to a life of leisure and possibly mental anxiety.

It is for the well-qualified physician, or a special group such as the Work Classification Unit of the Heart Association to advise on individual grounds just what type of work the person in question is capable of performing. It is often found that employers will be most cooperative in helping, on the physician's advice, to make necessary modification in the patient's prior work.

When circumstances demand completely new work, this may be more difficult to find, and much will depend on the person's past experience, training and personal qualifications. However, in the Work Classification Unit we have demonstrated that two-thirds of suitable cardiacs can be guided into work.

Fear of work and its consequences, on the part of the patient, family or friends, often hold people back needlessly from work. They sit about and worry unnecessarily over their condition, finances and their families. This has more adverse effect than almost any work. When the confidence of these patients can be established, their fears alleviated and they are finally directed into regular occupational activity, it is often amazing to see a total change for the better both physically and mentally. Reasonable optimism and avoidance of anxiety, when tempered by moderation in all things, is an important prescription for most coronary patients.

UNITED FARMERS TO EXPAND PLANT

A milk plant expansion and modernization program at a cost of over half a million dollars has been started by United Farmers of New England at its Boston plant in Charlestown.

The major plant expansion will begin about November 1, next to the present plant structure. When completed the dairy will have over an acre of milk plant processing area, believed to be one of the most modern milk handling systems in the nation.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Mrs. Harold Twombly of 12 Lawson road entertained the Women's Republican Club of Winchester on October 9.

The president, Mrs. Theodore C. Brown, presided and graciously welcomed a large number of members and guests. The recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas L. Morison brought the members up to date by reading the minutes and refreshing the memory as to past activities and the aspirations for the coming year. Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood, treasurer, read the financial report. We are definitely solvent!

Mr. Charles Gibbons of Stoneham, chairman of the Republican State Committee was the speaker of the afternoon. As Republicans we face many problems. There were bright spots for us too. We will not be discouraged. However, one phase stood out which must be checked. Expenditure of money for many temporary workers. These "30 day jobs" might use 84 men at a time, not the 393 who are being hired, half of whom stand around doing little actual work, then the state pays them for doing next to nothing.

A delicious tea was served by Mrs. Alfred W. Drew and her committee. Mrs. William W. Goodhue and Mrs. Warren C. Whitman poured.

The November meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Reginald Bradlee on November 20. Miss Carolyn Standley will be the speaker. Do not miss hearing her!

"ARE YOU POSITIVE?"

"Are You Positive?" was the major question asked local tuberculosis committee chairmen at the October 10 board of directors' meeting of the Middlesex Health Association at the Middlesex County Sanatorium Library.

Attending from Winchester were: Mrs. Harlow Russell, director at large, Sherman B. Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, and Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth, member.

Other members of the Winchester committee are: George Billman, Mrs. Anthony Zorickian, Mrs. Walford Wiklund, Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen, Mrs. R. Darrell Harvey.

AT CARNEGIE TECH

CONGREGATIONAL STUDY GROUPS

Dr. Naomi Ekdahl, Director in the Department of Women's Work in the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference in Boston, is teaching an adult course on "Christ, the Church and Race" at the First Congregational Church. The group started on October 6 and will meet the following four Sundays in the Palmer Room at 9:30 a. m. The discussion on misconceptions about ethnic groups will be continued. Also, reports and comments on two books will be given by members of the class next time concerning sense and non-sense about race and how to be Christian in race relations.

The next topic will be patterns of discrimination, followed by discussion on ethnocentrism, a tendency for a group to exalt itself and at the same time disparage other groups. Every Christian interested in this most vital subject of our modern times is invited to attend the course. Benefit derived from such study lead by a competent person like Dr. Ekdahl will be great for each individual.

The "Life and Letters of St. Paul" is the topic for the Adult Study Group which started last Wednesday, October 16, at 7:45 in the Palmer Room, of the First Congregational Church. Dr. Cart will be the group leader. At the first meeting Dr. Cart discussed the times in which Paul lived as background for better understanding of the important Christian messages conveyed in his letters. All persons interested are invited to join the group.

WINCHESTER SAVANT
REPORTS POSSIBLE NEW GENUS

"The White Jungle" in southern Brazil contains a paradox, a small tree with white, bell-shaped flowers that may represent a new plant genus.

Dr. Lyman B. Smith, Smithsonian Institution botanist, (son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Smith of 1 Wolcott terrace) and Padre Raulino Reitz, director of the state herbarium of Santa Catarina, Brazil, have reported that they discovered the strange tree while making a botanic exploration of a white jungle. The tree has characters unique to two major plant families that, it is believed, have never before been found in combination.

"Golden rain," a Chinese plant with immense sprays of golden blossoms that has been introduced into American gardens, is typical of the first family, the Sapindaceae. The second family, not even remotely related, is the tea family.

The white jungle, in which the tree was found, probably gets its name, the scientists reported, because of two kinds of forget-me-not trees growing there. They have great crowns of white blossoms. Seen from above, the forest would look like a pale green sea with large white clouds.

AS OTHERS SEE US

While Prof. and Mrs. Carl Zimmermann were in Mexico last summer their home on Cliff street was occupied by Prof. Chris J. Noll, Jr., of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and his family.

The Nolls evidently enjoyed their stay in Winchester, and feeling that the opinion of a town and its people expressed by a stranger is of interest to those who call the town home, the Star is offering the following quotes from Prof. Noll's letter to the Zimmermanns.

"Your town is certainly one of the most progressive communities that we have seen. The neighbors are very friendly and extended to us exceptional warmth and hospitality."

"The recreational facilities in Winchester and the surrounding area are tremendous. The children had a great time swimming in your local ponds and beaches."

"Again we would like to thank you for a very pleasant summer in a charming community. Never in our young lives have we met so many fine people in such a short period. You all should be congratulated on the fine community that you have. I know it takes a lot of cooperation and public spirit to maintain such high ideals. But the reward is well worth the effort."

PARKHURST PARENTS'
FALL MEETING

The first meeting of the Parkhurst Parents' Association was held Wednesday, October 9, in the Lewis Parkhurst auditorium. Mrs. Melvin H. Sidebotham, president of the association, welcomed the mothers.

A short business meeting ensued with the reports from the secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Capodilupo, and the treasurer, Mrs. William D. Sackett. Mrs. Ernest D. Sackett spoke briefly on extra-curricular activities, and Mrs. Clarence G. Gay, vice-president, reported on the work of her committee which is revising the constitution of the organization. One vacancy on the executive board was filled by Mrs. Bruce Young as Ways and Means chairman. Mrs. Sidebotham mentioned a fund being made to provide for the safety of the children going to and from school.

Mr. Albert F. Sutula, principal of the Lewis Parkhurst School, was introduced to the mothers attending the meeting by Mrs. Sidebotham. To achieve the fullest development of each and every child is Mr. Sutula's main objective, and he requested the help of the parents for this attainment.

Proudly, Mr. Sutula introduced his very fine staff of teachers and assistants. The gifts that had been presented to the school by the Parents' Association last year were displayed in the auditorium.

A question and answer period followed, in which many questions regarding school policies were answered by Mr. Sutula. Such subjects as television as a supplement to the child's education, homogeneous grouping, homework, and the marking system were discussed.

At the conclusion of the meeting, coffee and cookies were served by the school's home economics, Gordon Fisher, and her committee.

WINS WELLESLEY HONORS

Miss Mary Christina Page of 48 Samoset road, received recognition for scholastic achievement at the convocation which began the 1957-58 academic year at Wellesley College in Wellesley, Mass.

Names of new members of Phi Beta Kappa, recipients of Freshman Honors, and winners of special prizes were announced at the assembly of all students and faculty. Miss Margaret Clapp, President of Wellesley, led the academic procession and presided at the convocation which marked the official opening of the 83rd session of the College.

FIRES

Two calls last Saturday brought firefighters to brush fires caused by the extremely dry ground. Box 143 signaled the brush fire on Hutchinson road, and Box 51 at 5:40 p.m. was for the fire on Pond Mountain near Horn Pond.

There are many honor clubs, from what Shirley told me. Latin Club, English Club, and Spanish Club require that its members have what is equivalent to a B average in our scholastic system. One more club that I'd like to mention is the Newcomers Club, which is for the new students! Good idea, I think, don't you?

Something that surprised me was that all the girls at Casper wear black skirts and a white blouse with any color sweater, because there are many different social classes and they don't want anyone hurt. Also another fashion tidbit is that the girls wear their socks as what we call in our lingo, "party socks."

Shirley said something that made me feel pretty good, and so I'm passing it on to you, hoping that it impresses you the same way. She said that everyone has made her feel really welcome and that she felt right at home from the start, because she thinks that everyone is like one happy family! Let's keep

by Gail Hendricks

Back again! Well, I really had believed that this town was completely dead, but after talking with some of you kids, I found that we really are still here! This is your article as much as mine, so when something happens, (anything fit to print!), let me know!

Now for some news. A load of the junior girls got up early last Saturday morning to go to Marcia Scott's summer home down in Marshfield for the day. A cheery fire was certainly welcomed after a swim (?) rather dip, in the numbing ocean water. The roof made a wonderful sundeck "and shower!" Dampish and tired, we came home after adding a few pounds from the burnt and underdone (?) hamburgers, and also the fried clams that were the hit at Howard Johnson's.

There have been quite a few parties lately. Elaine Golden had quite a surprise party last Saturday night! Lucky she and her parents were good sports. Agree the kids who went were entertained by John Horn, who really made the Golden's drum beat fantabulously!

Other parties have been given by Jean Chase, Donna Woodcock, Judy Davis, Holly Petri, who had a slumber party (strictly boys!) and then the next morning had a breakfast for the boys and some of the sophomore girls, and also by Diana Wholley, whose pizza, I hear, was scrumptious! Ann Pocaro had a luncheon for some of the Junior girls before the Stoneham game.

Oh, congratulations to Judy Hanley who certainly surprised everybody, when she drove by the school, license christened!

The seniors have been pretty busy looking and applying at all the different colleges. But the colleges haven't been the place for just seniors. Carol McLean had a grand time at Bowdoin this past weekend, going to a football game and then a campus party.

Shirley Ellison, whom many of you know as "Miss Wyoming," is a new Junior, and as her nickname indicates is from Wyoming. She lived in Casper, where the high school has about 2,000 students and several clubs like ours, including Quill and Scroll, and the National Thespian Society.

Home Economics is required for freshmen and Physical Education is required for only the first two years of high school. Sports that are very popular along with football, are basketball and wrestling. The football players have another job besides playing football; that is the pick-a-Mustang Queen, mustang being the name of their athletic teams. The queen with her 4 attendants (also picked by the team) presided over the last dance of the football season. Another big dance that they have is one that the girls ask the boys to!

There are many honor clubs, from what Shirley told me. Latin Club, English Club, and Spanish Club require that its members have what is equivalent to a B average in our scholastic system. One more club that I'd like to mention is the Newcomers Club, which is for the new students! Good idea, I think, don't you?

NEW FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Royal Barry Wills Architect

Ground Broken For First Church Of Christ, Scientist, Here

The new location of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Winchester, is at the corner of Church street and Glen road, on the former Withersell estate. Construction has already begun, with Royal Barry Wills and his associates, Merton S. Barrows and Robert E. Minot, as the architects. It is the first church designed by this famous architect, who has done distinguished houses all over the United States and in foreign countries.

The building contract has been signed with Cushman Brothers, who are particularly skilled in the construction of churches.

it that way for a long time to come! The drive-in is a pretty popular place with the Juniors and Seniors, who just about keep the place going.

A couple of weeks ago Patty Chaffe journeyed to New York with her family, and had a "marvelous" time. Also, Sara Fish had a swell time when she visited her older sisters out in Colorado.

Joe Capone has been going to classes this week by the elevator and crutches! He tore a cartilage in his ankle, playing in last Saturday's football game!

I heard through the grapevine that Joel Peckham won the Batting Trophy for Jr. Legion baseball that went on during the summer. Nice going!

WINS CHOATE HONOR

James Fisher Dwinell, III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr., of Fernway, has been elected a member of the St. Andrews' Cabinet at the Choate School in Wallingford, Conn. To be elected is a high honor, for the Cabinet represents the students in all the religious and charitable work of the school, assists at chapel services, and conducts a summer camp.

While at Choate, Dwinell has been a member of varsity soccer, varsity hockey (co-captain), varsity baseball, "The Choate News" and the dance committee.

Royal Barry Wills is a distinguished expert in traditional colonial architecture. The design of the new Christian Science Church in Winchester will follow the eighteenth century churches in their simpler form, with their arched windows so typical of that period. The steeple will rise gracefully from a square base with arched windows and pilastered corners. The hexagonal spire is to be somewhat more delicately executed than the earlier prototypes.

The exterior of the church will be of white-washed brick and flush boarding. The portico will be recessed and will lead directly to a foyer, beautifully lighted from a bow window to the south. This window will contain doors leading to a pleasant garden.

The interior of the auditorium will be finished in simple paneling and plain plaster with white-painted walls.

Stairs will lead from the foyer to the board room and committee room and offices on the levels above. The auditorium itself will hold 280 people. The board room will be convertible into a balcony for extra capacity of 30 or 40. A folding partition will separate the board room from the auditorium.

Three fan-lighted entrances will lead into the church from the portico. The cornices are all simple, without dentils or moldings. The Doric-columned portico is recessed.

A notable feature of the church is that it will be air-conditioned throughout.

Two readers rooms, a room for the soloist, and a room for the organist are so related to the entrance of the readers platform that readers and soloists can enter the platform simultaneously.

The Sunday School will be on a lower level. Since the land slopes, this lower level has excellent lighting. The Sunday School will have its own parking space, entrance, and foyer.

The heating system is to be designed so that certain individual portions of the church can be heated separately at any given time.

The building will be carefully placed to retain two magnificent beech trees on each side of the church. There is a circular drive. Off-street parking is provided. This is accessible, both to the main church entrance and to the Sunday School entrance.

HOLY NAME
HELD FIRST MEETING

On Sunday, October 13, members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society received Holy Communion in a body at the mass celebrated by Father Edmund Parker at 7:45. After mass, coffee and doughnuts were served in St. Mary's Hall, prepared by Frank Antonuccio and Al Thorne, III, and the opening meeting of the 1957-58 season took place.

Spiritual Director, Rev. Father Martin J. Dolphin led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name Pledge. President John Fitzgerald presided and welcomed all to the society especially those men joining for the first time. Secretary George Ross and treasurer Robert Plunkett read their reports.

The Holy Name bowling league invites members to join one of the teams. The league bowls every Thursday evening starting at 9:00 p.m. at the Bowladrome on Swanton street. Ed Forbes is in charge. The Nocturnal Adoration Society will hold their monthly hour of adoration at St. Clement's Eucharistic Shrine, corner of Boylston and Ipswich streets, Boston, on Friday from 9:00 to 10:00 p.m. Cars will leave St. Mary's parking lot at 8:15 p.m.

Program chairman Paul Mulloy introduced the guest speaker, Dr. John E. Goodman, D.M.D., of the archdiocesan speakers bureau. Dr. Goodman gave an interesting talk on socialized medicine. He showed that while the government should be behind preventive medicine, private enterprise is preferred in treatment medicine. Father Dolphin closed the meeting with a prayer.

"MY FATHER'S BUSINESS"

An outstanding program has been planned for the observance of Laymen's Sunday at the First Baptist Church next Sunday, based on the theme chosen by the Massachusetts Council of American Baptist Men, "My Father's Business." Those participating include: Mr. Lewis M. Foster, Invocation and Lord's Prayer; Mr. Eugene K. Dyson, Responsive Reading; Mr. Theodore W. Shidler, the Scripture; Dr. Cecil W. Brink, Prayer and Response; Mr. Charles A. Huckins, Jr., Children's Story; announcements by Mr. H. Stanley Kinsley; Sermon: "My Father's Business" by Mr. Ganner A. R. A male chorus will enrich the service with renditions of "Dwell in Beulah Land," "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "The Roll is Called Up Yonder."

Ushers will include Robin Carlson, Charles Huckins, III, Allan McLatchy and Richard McLatchy.

A hearty welcome is extended to all friends of First Baptist to share this inspiring service.

We must go and do likewise, else we are not improving the great blessings which our Master worked and suffered to bring upon us."

JUNIOR HIGH OPEN HOUSE ON NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

With 526 students enrolled in this year's combined 7th and 8th grades, the Junior High School is expecting the largest group of parents ever to attend its annual Open House next Monday evening, October 28, when the bell rings for school at 7:30 p. m. Highly anticipated by parents new to the Junior High and always thoroughly enjoyed by those parents returning for repeat performances, the open house serves to orient parents to their youngsters' programs and school life by means of experiencing short classroom sessions and visiting with teachers and staff.

Joining the administration, faculty and staff in organizing this evening will be the Junior High Associates who will be represented Monday night in the person of the room mothers serving as co-hostesses in each classroom along with the teachers and by the mothers serving refreshments. For many parents this will be their first introduction to this organization which endeavors to increase cooperation between them and their school and to stimulate general interest in Junior High affairs. All parents are automatically members of this group, but there will be an opportunity on this evening to pay the association's voluntary dues of fifty cents to Mrs. Roland Hanson, treasurer, or to the room mothers.

Mrs. Andrew Crawford is in charge of the 7th grade room mothers this year and assisting her on Monday night will be Mrs. Adelbert Brink, Mrs. William Crowley, Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. Gordon Peckham, Mrs. Robert Sibley and Mrs. Bruce Young. Working with the 8th grade mothers is Mrs. Malcolm Bennett, and among those helping her will be Mrs. Harry Aranson, Mrs. Daniel Chane, Mrs. Edward Harrington, Mrs. Ashley Lewis, Mrs. Roger Newton, and Mrs. Norman Stafford.

The coffee for new mothers in town held by the Association a week ago this morning was very well attended and very successful in giving to them a special introduction to the Winchester Junior High.

SHEPARD S. SENTER

FORMER WINCHESTER MAN KILLED IN CHATHAM CRASH

Shepard S. Senter, 53, of Bay Lane, Chatham, a former resident of Winchester, was fatally injured on Friday, October 11, when his car went out of control and struck a pole in front of the Chatham police station.

Mr. Senter was born in Dorchester and graduated from Harvard in the class of 1929. He came to Winchester in 1933 from West Medford, living at that time at 223 Forest street and later at 223 Englewood road. He was a member of William Parkman Lodge of the Shrine, Incorporated and a member of the Winchester Country Club.

While in Winchester Mr. Senter was an official of National Transits, Inc. During World War II he served as a lieutenant commander in the Navy. Besides his Masonic affiliation in Winchester he was a member of the Advertising Club of Boston, the Cape Cod Club and the Chatham Chamber of Commerce. He left Winchester in 1953, and had been in the real estate brokerage business on the Cape.

Mr. Senter leaves his wife, Mrs. Alice Bunker Senter; a son, Shepard S. Jr., and a daughter, Linda. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Chatham Memorial Chapel.

EDWARD ROWE SNOW TO SPEAK AT WINCHESTER MORNINGS

Lighthouses, sea serpents, shipwrecks, treasure ships, hurricanes! All these one meets in the books of Edward Rowe Snow, who is to be the speaker at the third Winchester Morning on Thursday, October 31. He is a popular lecturer and the author of a number of books about the New England coast. Mr. Snow is considered an authority on the lore and geography of the coast in this part of the country. Few can equal him as a storyteller. Many people know him as the "Flying Santa Claus" who brings Christmas to lighthouses up and down the shores of New England. Others know him as the man who takes passengers in his boat for extremely interesting expeditions around Boston Harbor.

Mr. Snow will show slides from his enormous collection in connection with his talk to the audience at the last of this year's Winchester Mornings. He will speak at 10:15 in the hall of the Church of the Epiphany after Wessley Club members serve coffee to subscribers to the Mornings.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes, need help at Thanksgiving and Christmas if these holidays are to be happy occasions in accordance with the American tradition.

To help our less fortunate Winchester friends during the holiday season, gifts of money, food and clothing are earnestly solicited.

Gifts may be sent to the Winchester Community Relief Committee.

DR. NERSES M. BAGHDYAN

Dr. Nerses M. Baghdoyan of 2 Pond street, a physician and surgeon, veteran of World Wars I and II, died suddenly at his home late Friday afternoon, October 18, following a heart attack.

Born March 11, 1880, in Aintab, Armenia, Dr. Baghdoyan was educated at Aintab College and the American University of Beirut, receiving his Medical degree from Beirut in 1905.

After a year's internship at the Azaria Smith Memorial Hospital of the American Mission in Aintab, Dr. Baghdoyan spent a year as supervisor and health officer for the County of Aleppo in Syria. From 1907 to 1909 he practiced and did surgery in the Province of Siwas in Turkey, after which for three years he practiced and did general surgery in Bitlis, Turkey.

From 1912 until 1918 he was in war time service, first as a lieutenant and staff surgeon with the 6th Corps of the Turkish Army, attached to the Euphrates Station Hospital in Mesopotamia. He was promoted to captain and staff surgeon at the Station Hospital of the 24th Infantry Division of the Turkish 6th Army Corps and later served at the Field Office of the 1st Infantry Division of the 6th Army at Beylan Pass.

Subsequently Dr. Baghdoyan served as staff surgeon, Ishahiyeh Station Hospital in the Armenian Mountains in Turkey; medical officer and captain in charge of Katma Station Hospital on the Baghdad Railroad in charge of quarantine and sanitation, and finally with the 7th Turkish Army Corps until 1918, when he was taken prisoner by the British.

He served the British from November 5, 1918, until July 14, 1919, first with the 5th Cavalry Division of the British Army of the Anglo-Indian Expeditionary Force in Palestine and Syria, and later as supervisor and house surgeon of the British Army Relief Hospital for war refugees at Aleppo, Syria.

After his war service Dr. Baghdoyan engaged in private practice in Aintab, Armenia, from 1919 to 1920, also serving for a short time with the American Red Cross in the Middle East.

In 1920, because of the political unrest in Armenia Dr. Baghdoyan brought his family to the United States, establishing himself in practice in Boston and becoming a naturalized citizen. He took up residence in Winchester in 1924.

During World War II, from 1943-1946, Dr. Baghdoyan was a contract surgeon with the United States Army, serving for the most part at Fort Devens and at Columbus, Ohio. Following his army service he moved his practice to Winchester. He was a member of the First Congregational Church Men's Club.

On February 5, 1942, Dr. Baghdoyan married Dorothy Kalaian of Aintab, who survives, with two sons, Vazken N., of Winchester and Leon A. Baghdoyan of Hillsboro, N. H.; two daughters, Shoghig A., and Maro A. Baghdoyan, both of Winchester; six grandchildren, a brother, Sarkis M. Baghdoyan of Washington, D. C.; and two sisters, Mrs. Martin Turpin of Waterville, N. J.; and Mrs. Hripsime Viravorian of Roxbury.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at St. James Armenian Apostolic Church in Waterville with the Rev. Artin Ashjian officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

K. of C. INSTALLED

The annual installation of officers of Winchester Knights of Columbus was held October 7, in Saint Mary's Hall. The dinner before the ceremony was well attended and all were eager to meet the new District Deputy Russell McKinnon of Lexington in his first official visit to the Council.

Guests included Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll of the Immaculate Conception parish, Rev. Stephen E. Burke, Chaplain; District Deputy McKinnon and Thomas J. Vangel, who assisted in the installation; Grand Knight-elect Sam Vangel, outgoing grand knight Thomas J. Gramow, deputy grand knight-elect Charles Doucette, Jr., chancellor-elect Vincent McKinnon, and warden-elect Kevin Dunn, who served as toastmaster.

All the speakers gave credit to Sam Vangel for his faithful service and wished him success in the new position. Grand Knight Vangel presented the newest past grand knight, Tom Gramow, with his new office and a gift from the members of the council.

The impressive installation ceremony was conducted by D.D. McKinnon with D.D. Lyons assisting. The degree team from Lexington Council, guests of Winchester, were in attendance. All the incoming officers were instructed in their duties and invested by the district deputies.

"BIG MIKE" INJURED

"Big Mike" Murphy, former Winchester High football star now at St. Joseph's in Reno, Nev., has played his last football for this season. A broken shoulder has sidelined the big bulldozing fullback, and it will be six weeks before he is able to return to the field. He sustained his injury in a recent game against St. Vincent's in LaTrobe, Pa.

Upon his return to college "Mike" was admitted to the hospital in Lafayette, Ind., where a diagnosis established the fact that the shoulder was broken. A plate and screws were inserted to correct the break and "Mike" is out of the hospital and feeling fine.

Yesterday was the big fullback's 21st birthday and he and his wife, the Vangel, Julie, and his mother, Mrs. Vangel, and his nine-month old son, Michael Paul, a general campers favorite by the way, were planning some sort of appropriate celebration.

MRS. EUGENE E. SMITH

MAY WE HELP YOU?

NEW LIBRARIAN TAKES OVER

Mrs. Eugene E. Smith of 141 Washington street, who many in Winchester remember as Lois Gibson, former librarian at Winchester High School, and whom others have come to know as assistant librarian of the Winchester Library since 1957, officially assumed her new duties as town librarian Monday, October 21, succeeding Mrs. Dana R. Philbrook (Doris Maxwell) who resigned last July, after her resignation to take effect in October.

A native of Somerville, Mrs. Smith grew up in Somerville and was graduated from Somerville High School in 1922. She was graduated from the School of Library Science at Simmons in the class of 1926 and her first job was as a librarian at the University of Massachusetts.

In 1928, Mrs. Smith came to Winchester as librarian at the high school and served in this capacity until 1933. She then went as assistant to the Parlin Memorial Library in Everett and from that post, to Newtonville to be librarian of the F. A. Day Junior High School.

In 1936 Mrs. Smith was married and left the library work for 12 years, during which time she had two sons, Donald, now a freshman at M.I.T., and David, a junior at Winchester High School. In 1948 she returned to library work, going west to Tucson, Ariz., where she was head of the circulation department at the University of Arizona Library.

The year, 1950, found Mrs. Smith back in the East on a farm in North Bridgton, Me., while her husband was teaching, and their sons were in college. During that time Mrs. Smith served during that period as house mother for 30 academy boys and laughingly admits this was both an interesting and profitable experience.

From Bridgton Mrs. Smith went to Lewiston, Me., to join the staff at the Bates College Library. From Bates, in the spring of 1957 she came to Winchester as assistant librarian of the Public Library.

Mrs. Smith was appointed by the Library Trustees to succeed Mrs. Philbrook at the time of the latter's resignation. She is presently a teaching widow of sorts since her husband is teaching at and principal of a high school elementary "plantation school" at Wypotepok in Northern Maine near the Canadian border. He is hoping to secure a teaching post nearer Winchester this year, and with the reported teacher shortage this should not be difficult.

JOSEPH P. KENNY

Joseph P. Kenny, 35, of Providence, R. I., known to many in Winchester as the husband of a former Winchester girl, Mary E. Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Nash of Nelson street, died suddenly following an operation on Monday, October 14.

Born in Providence, Mr. Kenny was a graduate of Providence College and was associated with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in the Commercial Department. He was a member of the Providence College Alumni Association, Holy Name Society, Knights of Columbus and other civic, fraternal and religious organizations.

Frequent visits to Winchester had made him many friends in this town. He and Miss Nash were married June 17, 1950.

Besides his wife he leaves three children, Jacqueline, John P., Jr., and Heidi; his father, three brothers, Rev. Bernard D. Kenny, O.P., Rev. John P. Kenny, O.P., and Edward Kenny of Providence, and a sister, Miss Veronica Kenny, an art teacher in the Providence schools.

The funeral was held Friday morning, October 18, with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Pius Church in Providence. Rev. Bernard D. Kenny, O.P., was celebrant, Rev. John P. Kenny, O.P., was deacon, and Rev. Albert P. Hogan, O.P., subdeacon. Members of the Priests' Choir of Providence College, under the direction of Rev. Canon O.P., sang the mass, and many other members of the clergy were seated in the sanctuary.

Attending the mass and acting as guard of honor was a delegation from the Telephone Company headed by Walter L. Dignan of the Commercial-Traffic Department.

Bearers were James F. McGerrett, Jr., John J. Hanley, Thomas F. Casserly, William F. O'Brien, William E. Nash and John J. Cummings.

Interment was in St. Anne's Cemetery, Cranston, R. I.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ATTENDED INTERNATIONAL DAY

The conflict between democracy and communism was the subject of the Eighth Annual All-School Forum sponsored by Beaver Country Day School and the World Affairs Council on Thursday, Oct. 17. Eight seniors from the Winchester High School were among the 250 guests invited from more than 30 secondary schools in the Boston area.

Highlighting the conference were speeches by Prof. Zbigniew Brzezinski, Assistant Professor of Government at Harvard University, and by Dr. Frank W. Rounsley, Jr., U. S. Embassy Attorney in Moscow. In Prof. Brzezinski's lecture he made a brilliant analysis of the factors which resulted in the rise of communism in the modern world. Dr. Rounsley, the author of "From a Window on Red Square," presented an entertaining and informative account of life in the Soviet capital as viewed from an embassy window.

Another notable feature of the day's program was the presence of a group of foreign educators studying at Harvard under an exchange program set up by the State Department. These men and women, all leaders in the educational life of their own countries, took part in the discussion meetings that followed the general meeting in the morning session.

ALSO OF THIS TOWN

In last week's story of Governor Furolo's appointment of three members to the Recess Commission to study the possible establishment of an Atomic Energy Industrial Research Center in Massachusetts, only Raymond I. Rigney was designated as living in Winchester.

This was incorrect. Another appointee, Dr. Theos J. Thompson, also makes his home in Winchester at 14 Everett avenue.

Formerly with the A.E.C. at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Dr. Thompson is professor of nuclear science at M.I.T. and in charge of the Institute's test reactor. He is widely known as a consultant to atomic energy industries throughout New England.

SERVE A SERVICEMAN

The Veterans' Administration Hospital in Bedford, Mass., has issued a strong appeal to the local Red Cross chapter for 190 volunteers to train as Gray Ladies in the following hospital programs for the patients: recreation, nursing service, education therapy, occupational therapy and the manual arts.

Three classes will be held at the hospital on Thursdays at ten a.m., starting on Thursday, October 31. Each class will be for three hours. They will be interesting and informative.

These servicemen have served our country and are in need of our help now. Every volunteer who has assisted at the Bedford Hospital reports that they have never performed a more rewarding or worthwhile service. Won't you help?

Any further information may be obtained from the Winchester Red Cross, Telephone Winchester 6-2300.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Peter Gordon Gilberto of 351 Washington street and Marie Frances Bent of 113 Pleasant street, Woburn, will be married on October 21 at 235 Diamond street, New Haven, Conn., and Elizabeth Jennings of 127 Church street.

HOMEFRONTERS' TAG DAY

Last Saturday in spite of the rainy weather the Homefronters Tag Day was a success. Tags and boxes were handed out at the police station to the workers by the committee in charge, namely: Mrs. Joseph H. Beck, chairman assisted by Mrs. Malcolm W. Burr, Mrs. Harold Wilbur and Mrs. Harold H. Given, executive director.

Since the Christmas of 1951 when the Homefronters was first organized each year Christmas boxes have been sent to all the boys and girls of Winchester who were and are in the service of their country in various places all over the world. The average cost of sending each box is around $4.80 and the postage the last few years has been paid by the generous En Ka Society. Birthday cards are also sent to each one during the year by the birth date chairman, Mrs. Rose Cunningham. There are now over 200 from Winchester in the various services.

The committee wishes to thank each person who helped by standing in the rain to collect the money and make this special Christmas project a success. Now the Christmas Project chairman and committee will go into action and start getting the boxes ready to send. Thanks to the generous Winchester people who contributed. We know your reward will be a warm feeling at Christmas time when our boys and girls receive the boxes and they will know we have remembered them.

The following are the Tag Day workers:

Mrs. Denise Clizgett, Amanda Latourelle, Joyce Beardon, Edith Lynch, Catherine Cavanaugh, Mrs. Donald Davis, Deloye Joseph, Susan Scott, Mrs. Rose Cunningham, Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins, Mrs. James Deschbach, Mrs. Thomas Kneeland, Gail Andrick, Jane Moran, Lynne Goodwin, Mrs. M. STOLEN CAR RETURNED

Mrs. Mary Danielson of Central street, Woburn called local police at 11:30 Monday night to report that her Pontiac sedan had been stolen. She said that the car was parked in the parking lot at the Marchesi Bowling Alleys between 9 and 11 that night.

Early Tuesday morning, Lt. Tenney of the Woburn police called the Winchester station to report that the stolen car had been recovered on Montvale avenue near Woburn High School.

UNITED FUND ADVANCE GIFTS WORK OFF TO FLYING START

According to Vice Chairman William A. Swett of Wolcott terrace, "Our end of the Fund is really working along!" First reports indicate that Advance Gifts work is running at a good 50 percent ahead of a year ago.

Mr. Swett attributes this tremendous start to three different factors. First is a top-notch team of solicitors, fired-up and ready to go. Evidently, every single person approached to do soliciting work said "yes," not a single person refused to have other commitments too pressing an attitude in which Winchester can certainly take pride.

Second, local people are tired of the multiple calling for years past and are now realizing that they have spared a return to that situation in the years to come, they must all chip in now to make this year's Fund an overwhelming success.

A third reason for the good start, according to Bill, is that people are totalling up their charity gifts of other years, looking back through their checkbooks to recall what they have given to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, Red Feather, hospitals such as Children's and Massachusetts General, and figuring their United Gift accordingly.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

It's "back to school night" for all parents of local High School students on Wednesday, October 30 from 7:30 - 9:34 p. m. This annual affair, a very popular activity sponsored by the Charles Crockett Parent Faculty Association, will find hundreds of bewildered parents studiously following their son's or daughter's schedules, thus getting a first-hand acquaintance with the teachers, the building, the facilities, the curriculum, and with other parents as well.

Under the able direction of Mr. Robert Mulford, President of the Parent Faculty Association, a large committee is hard at work planning this affair. The membership committee, headed by Mrs. Austin Nanny, together with Miss Sybil Daniels in her capacity as treasurer, hope that a large number of parents will indicate their support of the P.F.A.

Other family membership dues either on or before the evening of the event. Social chairman, Mrs. George Marks, and chairman of room mothers, Mrs. Charles Crockett, are collaborating to provide plentiful refreshments for the parents to enjoy in the cafeteria during the hour of the evening.

Interesting and worthwhile evening is promised to all parents who attend. Warning: "Students" must be in their "Home Rooms" before at least by 7:30 for "school" starts promptly at that hour.

HEADS SOMERVILLE C. C.

Mr. Richard V. Kiley of 70 Fletcher street, was elected president of the Somerville Chamber of Commerce at its annual dinner on October 16 at Jackson gymnasium, Tufts University.

Mr. Kiley, who served as vice-president of the Chamber for the past year, succeeds Mr. Graydon E. Toothaker who had been president for the past two years. Mr. Kiley is vice president and treasurer of the Somerset Savings Bank, Somerville, president of the Somerville Kiwanis Club and a director of the Somerville Community Council.

Doubtless we will all feel better now, and the summer sports season is about all over, isn't it?

Elections for class officers are all over now. We had some real campaigns going on with all the sponsors rushing around to be first in getting "John Hancock's." Some real snappy signs made by Claire Pearce and Charlie Bond really decorated our "hallowed halls."

DR. NILS Y. WESSELL

TUFTS HEAD COLLEGE CLUB SPEAKER

"Professors are Philanthropists" the challenging question of what lies ahead for college-bound students in another decade, will be discussed by Dr. Nils Y. Wessell, President of Tufts University at the fall meeting of the Winchester College Club on Monday evening, October 28, at 7:45 p. m. in the social hall of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. This meeting is open to all members and to guests, with coffee served before the business meeting.

The distinguished head of Tufts has served as a teacher at Brown University, University of Rochester and University of Michigan, and was a lecturer at Harvard University, before coming to Tufts University in 1939, to serve as Dean of the Liberal Arts College there. In October of 1953 he was named president of the University.

Outside of his educational affiliations and interests, Dr. Wessell has a most imposing list of activities on such committees as the New England Medical Center, Boston Dispensary and Boston Floating Hospital, National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc., Unitarian Laymen's League, Boston Arts Festival, Rhodes Scholarship Committee, Citizens' Committee of Boston, and many others. Most newspaper readers will remember him vividly for his excellent work on the Governor's Committee to Study the Mass. Penal System, of which Dr. Wessell was chairman. He is a man of great humor and tact, a speaker well worth hearing, and in having him as the 1957 fall speaker, the College Club counts itself most fortunate.

Mrs. John W. Harrison will preside at this meeting, with Mrs. George E. Connor, program chairman, Mrs. Donald Fitch, treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Atwood in charge of the coffee hour before the meeting. Mrs. Atwood will have members of the club who are Jackson alumnae assisting her that evening, including Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong, Mrs. George M. Byrne, Mrs. James Gustin, Miss Elizabeth Henneques, Mrs. Howard L. Leary, Miss Charlotte LeClaire, and Mrs. Norman Stafford.

Colonel Waldo B. Jones of 11 New Meadows road, professor of Air Science and Commander of the Harvard Air Force ROTC announces that David Harrison Pingree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Pingree of 50 Allen road, has been selected as a freshman cadet and enrolled in the Air Force ROTC program which will lead to a commission as an Air Force officer. Cadet Pingree is a graduate of Winchester High School.

You know the song, "You've Got To Be A Football Hero," well, Doug Thomson has certainly fitted the song! He was chosen by the Boston Globe, for "high-school football honor roll" following the Cambridge Latin game, in which he and the other boys played a "super tremendous" game!

Various kids have been searching for news for the Pink and Gray newspaper which is being written by the journalism classes! It's otherwise known as the "Faded Red and Black!" Pretty clever!

Robert A. Howard, assistant director of admissions at Colgate University, will visit Winchester High School at 2:30 p. m. on Tuesday, November 12, to talk with students interested in learning about Colgate's educational program and student life.

All Council members are cordially invited to bring their husbands and anyone else interested in the program, to this meeting. The Council Meetings Committee, Mrs. Daniel Fortiere, chairman, will serve refreshments at the close of the program.

Notes From Filenes'

All Girl Scouts and Brownies, 12 years of age and under, including boys and girls from all over town are invited to enter a Halloween contest to be held at the store on Saturday morning, October 26 at 10:30 a. m. Prizes for the most appropriate costumes will be awarded and include a bicycle, a camera and a magazine subscription for honorable mention.

ceive Communion at the 7:45 a. m. Mass on Sunday, October 27, in uniform. The girls will meet at Merritt Hall at 7:30 a. m.

Troop 1—Parent's Night The girls of Troop 1 had a chance to relieve their European trip last Friday night when they entertained their parents with a showing of the colored slides and movies that they took in Europe last summer. The spontaneous comments made by the girls, their occasional bursts of song, and the most unusual and beautiful pictures shown, all contributed to a program enjoyed by every one of the parents. Most of the slides were taken by Elaine Golden and Sue Russell, and the movies by Mrs. W. B. Hersey. All registered adults and other friends of Girl Scouting will have an opportunity to enjoy these pictures at the Council Meeting on November 1, at the Cabin.

Following election, an interesting movie was shown and club members bid each other adieu until spring.

MCCORMACK'S APOTHECARY

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Well, the roof caved in this week as Alabama, who had been riding high, wide and handsome, split at he seams again and was able to take only one point. In the meantime both California and Bates surged to the front by taking three points each thereby creating a three way tie for first place.

Georgetown and St. Mary's are also cut-throatly carrying this but only one point separating the top five teams.

Team Standings:

Bates	35-9	T.P.F.
Alabama	15-9	8470
California	15-9	8357
Georgetown	14-10	8352
St. Mary's	14-10	8347

Notre Dame	9-14-1	8293
Boston College	3-21	8171

The 300 bowlers were a little more abundant this week as six of them were able to surpass this figure. This group was led by Richard Fiore, 335; Choppers Gangi, 332; Babe Tofuri, 327; Bob Fiore, 326; Dom Provinzano, 306; and the "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso, 305.

High Team Pinfalls were pretty closely matched this week but Georgetown went over the top with 1414 T.P.F. Their captain and most capable leader is one of our well known mailmen in town and he can really carry the mail for captain Babe Tofuri punching out a 327 took four points from Boston College. Those who help carry his mail are the "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso who thinks that the "Sputnik" is a new five cent Italian cigar, Mel Fiore one of our well known softball players, Danny Maestretta the town's No. 2 bulldozer operator, Dominic Suppa, who specializes in women's coiffures at Filene's and Paul Lentine our meticulous record keeper.

We are nearing the half way mark of the first half and looking over the records of the previous year I find that this year's teams are more evenly matched with one exception and from my viewpoint any one of the first seven could conceivably take top honors. The deciding factor if a tie should occur will be based on pinfalls. I thought it might have been another runaway in the average department for Tony Saraco but the way Richard Fiore and "Choppers" Gangi are gaining it might possibly turn out to be a pretty good battle for top honors.

This week another great bowler will join our hall of fame, one of Uncle Sam's boys, assistant postmaster Tony Saraco.

HARRIERS DEFEAT SALEM

PILGRIM DIVISIONAL TITLE OF THE MIDDLESEX CROSS COUNTRY LEAGUE RODE ON VICTORY

In one of the most hotly contested cross country races of the year the Red and Black harriers managed to post a victory over a fine Salem team by the score of 25 to 30. The race was run at Salem last Friday.

A squad of 35 Winchester runners, boasting an undefeated record travelled to Salem to match strides with a school with an identical record. This race was to decide the championship of the M.C.C.L., Pilgrim Division. Both squads had been hit by the current "flu" bug but fortunately in an almost even proportion.

The race over the rugged 2.5 mile course saw 52 runners leave the mark. The early pace was torrid and both teams managed to keep several runners up among the leaders.

Dan O'Connell set the early pace and appeared to be headed for his best race of the season until caught by a severe cramp at about the three quarter mark.

At this point Klaus Reuter and Salem's Ouellette moved out in front of the pack and began an individual battle for the finish.

With less than a hundred yards to go it was stride for stride but the Salem captain had that little extra and crossed the line less than a stride in front of Reuter.

The times for the two were 13:41 and 13:41.5.

Victory seemed to be slipping from the Winchester grasp when Gravel of Salem took third, 8 seconds behind the leaders, but the balance was swung to the Red and Black as Clifton, Saurman and Powers took the next three spots. Irving of Salem was 7th and Don Brown running his best race of the season, completed the scoring in 8th.

The JV's experienced little difficulty as they posted a shut out victory 15 to 50. The first scorer was Bill Emerson, who is not back in form after a bout with the virus.

Dryer, Cooper, Nichols and Root completed the scoring for the squad.

Winchester and Salem will have another go at each other when they compete for the M.C.C.L. title at Tufts College on Friday, October 25.

Both Salem and Winchester are in contention for the title won last year by Newton. The favorite appears to be Watertown with Melrose also in the running.

This meet is one of the few meets in cross country where the spectators can see the entire race so the supporters of cross country are urged to make the trip to Tufts for the varsity and junior varsity races starting at 3:15 p. m.

Following are the first 20 finishers at Salem:

WADSWORTH BUSY AT ANDOVER

Chris Wadsworth of 66 Oxford street was recently elected President of Student Congress, the student government body at Phillips Academy at Andover. Earlier this year he had been appointed by the faculty to serve as Chairman of Blue Key, the organization responsible for welcoming new students and their parents and for helping to acclimate the "preps" at the school.

Wadsworth is also vice-president of the Senior Class, captain of the cross country team, one of the deacons at Andover Chapel, and sings bass in the "Sour Grapes," a group of a dozen Andover boys who entertain at school functions.

These activities together with preparing for college next year, give Chris plenty to keep him busy.

JUNIOR HIGH YOUTH RALLY

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church will be host to the Inter-Church Youth Rally to be held at the Baptist Church on Sunday, October 27, at 4:30 p.m.

The young people will join together for an afternoon of fellowship, workshops, dinner and worship.

A get-acquainted time in the social hall will get the rally off to a good start, then the participants will divide into four workshop groups, each being led by the youth directors of each church.

Workshop themes will be illustrated by film strips taken from the Guidance Series. The themes are:

"To Have a Neighbor and be a Neighbor"

"Manners"

"Parents are People, too"

"Understanding Ourselves."

Everyone will bring a box lunch and the youth committee from the Baptist Church will serve milk and ice cream.

The evening will close with an inspirational worship that will be a summary of our workshop study, led by Rev. Walter L. Bailey. Organist will be Mrs. Frederick MacDonald.

ALISON HERSEY

PLAYED AGAINST WELSH WOMEN'S HOCKEY TEAM

Miss Alison Hersey, 29 Woodside road, was one of six girls from Mount Holyoke College who played against the Welsh Women's Hockey Touring Team at Smith College on October 16.

Miss Hersey is a junior at the college. She and the other students are members of the Hampshire Field Hockey Association team. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, she attended Winchester High School and is a graduate of the Northampton School.

Prominent in athletics at Mt. Holyoke, Miss Hersey was selected as left inner on the United States Reserve Field Hockey Team at the annual tryouts last November in Philadelphia. Few undergraduates have been able to make a U. S. team.

As a student at Northampton School in 1954, Miss Hersey made the Northeast Field Hockey team, and she has made the team each year since. She also plays on the Mt. Holyoke varsity.

Mrs. Mary Carroll of 10 Lincoln street is recuperating from a heart attack and has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. John Harney, at 48 Mishawum road in Woburn.

Among the numbers will be hits from "My Fair Lady," "The Pajama Game" and "The King and I." Other features will recall the sawdust ring and big top of circus days and the balmy breezes of Hawaii, with the swaying of the hospital's own lovely hula girls.

Talented local doctors and dentists are appearing in the show, proceeds from which benefit the Lawrence Memorial Nurses Scholarship Fund.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Mrs. Charles Weimer, a past president of the Winchester Circle, graciously opened her lovely home in Lexington for the fall meeting held Friday, October 18.

Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, the president, opened the meeting by reading a very inspirational prayer which had been written by one of the young women at the Home. Mrs. McKenzie stated that the prayer showed the caliber of the unfortunate young women who were being helped materially and spiritually at the Crittenton Home.

In addition to the reports of the various officers and committee chairmen, Mrs. Albert Thompson, Winchester chairman of the annual bazaar to be held Tuesday and Wednesday, December 3 and 4 at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Boston, announced that the Winchester Circle would again sell unusual costume jewelry at their table. Mrs. Thompson displayed the jewelry which was enthusiastically admired by the members.

Mrs. McKenzie commended Mrs. Leon Fernandez and Mrs. Clifton W. Linnell for their fine work as yearbook chairmen and also commended Mrs. Albert Thompson, Mrs. Theodore P. Messer and Mrs. Walter D. Abbott on their efforts.

Mrs. McKenzie mentioned the December meeting and the interesting program planned with Mrs. Ruth Ley, a very amusing entertainer, as speaker. It was suggested that members plan to bring guests, making it a particularly festive holiday afternoon.

Mrs. Allan R. Kingston, sewing chairman, announced that the November sewing meeting would be held November 15 instead of 14 as listed in the yearbook. Mrs. Kingston stated that all members were welcome regardless of their sewing ability.

Mrs. McKenzie reported that Mrs. Ethel M. McGee, transportation chairman, would be happy to drive any members to the meetings.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Theodore P. Messer introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Rosamond Howe whose subject was "Enameling — An Ancient Art — Now a Contemporary Art." Mrs. Howe made the process of enameling a very fascinating subject, bringing to the attention of the audience the scope of color and element of surprise when working with enamel. She told of the interesting ways that enamel is being used today in contemporary architecture, using huge industrial kilns for the firing. Mrs. Howe displayed many handsome pieces of enameling and her audience came away with a much deeper appreciation of the art.

A delightful tea was served by Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and Mrs. Donald J. Lewis and their committee. Mrs. Crosby B. Kelley and Mrs. Robert W. Reynolds poured.

BAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

The Sausage Ironworks Restoration entertained the Bay State Historical League for their fall meeting on Saturday, October 19. Even in the rain, large groups of the League toured the Works with guides, who gave interesting explanations and demonstrations of the blast furnace, forge, rolling and slitting mills to the warehouse and wharf. It was fascinating to watch the water go over the large wheels.

In the Museum were displayed fragments of equipment, etc., excavated on the scene, tools and articles made at the Ironworks. Besides there were movies of the digging operations, as well as one showing the Works being used.

No expense was spared to obtain museum pieces in order to beautifully and authentically furnish the Ironmaster's House. In one of the fireplaces is an iron back plate made in the Sausage Works. In the casement windows the sun had turned the tiny pane lavender.

Mr. T. Temple Pond presided at the League Meeting held at 2:00 p. m. in the First Universalist Church. After a short business meeting and roll call, he introduced Mr. J. Sanger Attwill, president of the Ironworks Restoration, who welcomed the Bay State Historical. He told of the convention held in Swampscott the week before of the National Trust for Restoration, with 200 being entertained at Sunday dinner at the Ironworks.

Prof. E. Neal Hartley of M.I.T. spoke informally and with touches of humor on "Richard Leader, First American Engineer." Although Leader did not appear to have had a college education, he was engaged by John Winthrop, the younger (a college graduate) to build and run Ironworks in Sausage, when Winthrop's ironworks in Braintree had failed after two years. Leader's work showed engineering thinking of high quality in furnishing a continuous flow of material (ore, fuel, etc.) to the finished product with each successive step further downhill to the warehouse and wharf. After a number of years he left after trouble with management over expense accounts and with the laborers who were a rough lot. He went to York, Me., to set up and operate a very successful saw-mill with 20 saws working at once, and still called "Great Works River."

Coffee and doughnuts were served after the meeting. Winchester Historical Society was represented by: Mrs. Louise Mitchell, Mrs. P. J. Glendon, Misses Clara Russell, Laura Tolman, Jean MacLellan, Persis Richardson, and Louise Bancroft.

WEE SACHEMS DEFEATED

The Wee Sachems lost their game at Melrose Sunday by a one sided score 28-0. The game was no different than the score would imply. The Melrose Pee Wees played fast, hard, heads up football all the way while the Winchester boys couldn't seem to get started.

While the Melrose boys put on a good show of blocking, tackling, and running, Winchester failed to give speedy back Rowe any blocking and the line was not charging on defense.

The Wee Sachems, champs of last year, hope to come up with a final record this year of four wins and two losses which will be a very formidable season's performance. To do this, however, they must win from Medford this Sunday at West Side Field, Winchester, and from Magnolia the following Sunday at the same home site.

Remarks from the lockers: Coaches Parrot and Johnson, both Dartmouth men, were heard to say that the Pee Wee game Sunday reminded them of the Dartmouth-Brown game they saw in Hanover. Signals got mixed, however, Melrose played like the Big Indians and the Wee (Sachems) Indians played like the weary Bruins.

It is hoped that the disappointed boys will have a real turn out cheering them on in their comeback against Medford Sunday.

WINCHESTER TO HOST N. E. MUSIC FESTIVAL

Five thousand young high school musicians will take part in the Northeast Music Festival in Winchester next spring, it was announced by Wendell S. Withington, Director of Music in the Winchester Schools and president of the Massachusetts Music Educators Association.

Youngsters from all the cities and towns in Middlesex and Essex Counties will take part in the one-day affair on May 3, 1958. There will be auditions in several halls in Winchester during the morning for orchestras, choruses and bands.

In the afternoon there will be a mammoth parade with 40 bands, followed by a massed band concert on Manchester Field.

This is a big event which is held every year in one of the towns of northeastern Massachusetts. Mr. Withington, who is host chairman this year, said he hopes that all the citizens of Winchester will help to make it the biggest musical event ever held in town.

U. N. ESSAY CONTEST

The Winchester Chapter of the League of Women Voters this fall is sponsoring for the second time an essay contest on a United Nations subject in the high school, with the permission of Dr. Harry Gilson, superintendent of schools, and Mr. Howard Niblock, principal of the high school, with the great help of Mr. Meredith Cooper and the high school social studies department.

The League was encouraged by the student response last year and especially by the enthusiasm expressed by the two winners, David Moore and Peter Dee, for their trip to the U. N. in New York City.

The contest, again open to all juniors and seniors in the Winchester High School, is being announced this U. N. week in the high school by the social studies department. The students are given a choice of three subjects on which to write: 1, The U. N. and Colonialism; 2, The U. N. and Human Rights; and 3, The Expanding Role of the U. N. General Assembly. Papers, to contain from 500 to 1000 words, will be judged on the following: 1, Evidence of study and careful thought; 2, Originality and sincerity; and 3, Organization of material and clarity of presentation. The participating students have from this week until the end of November to complete and hand in their papers.

Participation in the contest is completely voluntary and must be carried out on a student's own time outside the regular school curriculum.

This contest is not a part of a larger state or national program but is limited to the Winchester High School.

There will be two prize winners, selected by a panel of judges, who will receive a trip to the United Nations headquarters in New York City under the sponsorship of the World Affairs Council in Boston.

DUCKS MOVE NORTH TO WINTER HOME

Most people know that ducks and geese usually fly south for the winter. However, Winchester ducks are far beyond such usual patterns. On Monday the ducks were taken from the Mill Pond, crated and moved north to North Woburn where they reside on the farm of Mrs. Dorothy Lord.

Mrs. Lord's duck pen has been the winter home for the Town ducks for about 15 years and 22 ducks and 8 geese were in the first load which went up on Tuesday. About 5 of the fowl were not ready to leave so soon for their winter vacation and waited until later to travel.

WASHINGTON DADS' CLUB ELECT AND PLAN

The slate of officers for the 1957-58 school year was elected at the recent annual meeting of the Washington School Dads' Club. Those elected are: president, Dana Peterson; vice president, Fred La Torrella; recording secretary, Ed Oles; corresponding secretary, Andy Sinclair; and treasurer, Art Myette.

The main purpose of the club is to assist in the extra-curricular activities of the pupils of the George Washington School.

The following programs are planned. For Halloween each room will have a pumpkin and each pupil will be given a "trick or treat" bag. The annual Christmas party will be complete with "Santa" and entertainment and a tree for each room.

The popular father and son night or "chowder party" will be repeated. The competitive "jamboree" with the Lincoln School has become an annual "must."

The dads' club also sponsors a fifth and sixth-grade square dance, and a farewell dinner in cooperation with the mothers.

These activities are raised through dues and activities for the parents. The only fund-raising "fun" party planned for the parents this year is the Halloween dance this Saturday night. Any parents without tickets may procure them from any of the officers or directors listed above.

The Rev. Dr. Forrest L. Knapp of 419 Highland avenue, general secretary of the 1800 church Massachusetts Council of Churches will present his annual report on Monday, November 11, at the annual meeting of the Council November 10 and 11 at three Copley Square Churches in Boston, the Arlington Street Church, Trinity Church and the Old South Church.

The Board of Park Commissioners has made available to the School Department the old Shore Road Athletic Field, for additional space for the Physical Education Department.

For some time, according to the school authorities, the high school and junior high school physical education program has had to be curtailed because of a lack of room. The School Committee has been aware of this situation and in casting about for a solution, even considered moving the varsity football field to the old Bacon Felt Mill area off Grove place to release the present Manchester Field for intramural sports and physical education activity.

The availability of the Shore road property will preclude the necessity of the Bacon Felt Mill move, which seems a questionable one at best, and it now remains to be seen how the old Shore road field will hold up.

This field, built in the thirties, didn't work out well. The nature of the subsoil and the proximity of Black Ball caused the surface to settle badly, and it was always damp and swampy underneath.

After completing the by-pass through the Skillings estate, a representative of the Maney Construction Company stated that the nature of the work done on the by-pass will prevent further settling of the Shore Road Field and that it can now be used again.

It is surely to be hoped that he is right, but unless and until it is definitely known that the level of the field is going to remain stable it would be a mistake to spend much money on reconstruction there. A lot of money went down the drain in the original Shore road job.

Many have felt the Shore Road Field would make an excellent place for Little League activity, or softball, and there is nothing in the Park Commissioners' action in making the field available to the school authorities that need deny the field for such use.

It should be entirely possible to work out a program so that the field can be used, both by the schools and for Park Department sponsored recreation. We believe that such use will be a matter of course.

'NO LESS PRECIOUS'

Editor of the Star:

Last year the Retarded Association described the children they help as "No Less Precious." These words I feel, are more meaningful than "Retarded" which, in itself, misinforming to the public.

Usually one thinks of the word as pertaining to a child who is slow but who can, by more than the usual amount of tutoring be brought up to the ordinary level of learning. Your Retarded Association use it because it also applies to the types of children they are reaching out to help, the Mongoloid and brain-damaged children of a community.

The dictionary gives the definition of a Mongoloid as one having the features and characteristics of the Mongol race. There is no satisfactory definition because Medical Science is still searching for the right answers. The dictionary forgets to state that these children are human beings who, even as their more normal counterparts, long for love, affection and a home life.

The same applies to the brain-damaged child, who through injury at birth, or after birth, sometimes even prenatally, comes under a similar category as the Mongoloid. They are not a Mental Health problem.

These children are rather of "the pure in heart," "the forever young." All children are God's. He did not turn away from one but healed all and those who were brought to Him and said, "Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven." They are "No Less Precious" because of their deficiencies. So spare just a little corner of your heart for these "forever young" during the coming (EM-ARC, Inc.) East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children Fund Drive which runs from November 11 to December 11.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL ASS'N

A meeting of the executive board of the Community School Association was held on Tuesday, October 15, at the junior high school. Dr. Gilson, Miss Lowry, Mr. Forte and Mr. Knowlton, as well as the committee members, were present.

Dr. Gilson led a discussion concerning the after-school sports program in the elementary schools and the temporary suspension of interscholastic competition necessitated by transportation problems. He stressed the need for a supervisor to handle the program in order to relieve Mr. Knowlton, whose schedule is already full.

There will be a survey taken amongst the parents of the elementary school students next week in regard to this problem. The next meeting of the Community School Association will take place at the home of the president, Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, 556 South Border road, on Tuesday, November 19, at 9:45 a.m., at which time it is hoped that an idea of the parents' opinion on this subject can be given.

Open Friday EveningUNITARIAN "WORLD FAIR"
NOVEMBER 5 AND 6

Mrs. Raymond Terhune and Mrs. Olcott Hooper, co-chairmen, have announced that the "World Fair," annual Unitarian Alliance bazaar will be held for two consecutive days for the first time this year, on Tuesday evening, November 5, and all day Wednesday, November 6. Great ceremony will attend the opening of the international fair on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. as the Reverend Robert A. Storer makes a short speech and cuts a gay ribbon to open the secular festivities. On Wednesday, music and flags from countries around the world will attract the young and old to the church at the corner of Mystic Valley Parkway and Main street. Beginning with a gay Hawaiian Islands dessert and coffee to be served Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m., foreign and domestic food of all kinds will be available to the public whether to be enjoyed during the sociability of the fair or taken home to quiet firesides. Many a Winchester kitchen will work overtime to provide delicacies for the light and full repasts and for the snacks and food stalls planned to accent all the many other tables of wares and clothes with which the church will be filled. United Nations cookbooks filled with fascinating recipes will be on sale for those inspired to go home and live up to the family meals.

Working to make the Hawaiian stopover for dessert and coffee a success are co-chairmen, Mrs. George E. Kimball and Mrs. Raymond Gross, and offering a chance to have four coffee in Brazil at 10 a.m. Wednesday is Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur and her group of South American workers.

You will be able to have a delightful Danish luncheon at 12 noon that day which is being supervised by Mrs. Charles Koch, and your tea in a Chinese tea house from 3-5 with Mrs. Lawrence S. Burke and Mrs. Richard Fisher. Just to confound the political experts Mrs. John S. Morgan and her many workers invite you to bring your tired family to a peaceful Turkish restaurant for supper at 6 that evening.

Already mixing up some wonderful candy recipes for their Japanese candy stall are those ladies from the Orient, Mrs. Edward G. Stacy and Mrs. Russell Symmes, and preparing a Swedish table of a great variety of enticing foodstuffs are Mrs. Harold F. Field, Mrs. Leonard C. Mead, and Mrs. Harold E. Marr. Many a coffee break and lunch hour are expected to be suspiciously long on November 6 as the results of all this cooking wait on the breezes around the square!

"FIT TO BE TIED"

Two years ago a popular series of meetings on sex education and preparation for marriage at the Parish of the Epiphany was the talk of Winchester. Almost 100 per cent of the high school members of the Episcopal Young People's Fellowship attended, as well as a large number from other churches in Winchester. The series was entitled: "Fit to be Tied."

Beginning this Sunday, it will be repeated. However, because it was so popular, it is being expanded. The leadership of the course is being provided by the parish from its members and the husbands of its members.

Mr. Bernard Cayne has done special research work with teenagers in New York. He is currently the science editor for Ginn & Company. He will lead a meeting on the subject: "What does it mean to be popular?"

Each young person will be given an opportunity to submit written questions, anonymously. Several small groups will meet to discuss the questions with doctors. Dr. Harry Benson, Dr. Euan Blanch, Dr. Gustaf Kaufmann, Dr. Donald McLean, Dr. Harold Wheeler, and Dr. James Wingate will handle these small groups. The boys will be divided into three groups according to age, and also the girls.

Dr. Arthur Hertig will present an illustrated slide lecture on the development of the human embryo. The clergy of the parish will lead discussions on the subjects of handling the emotions aroused by sexual impulses, and the Christian understanding of sex and marriage.

The excellent book, "Facts of Life and Love for Teen-Agers," will be given to each young person who does not already have a copy. This book, by Evelyn Duvall, is published by the YMCA.

Young people who do not belong to the Episcopal YPF are welcome to attend these meetings, provided that they have the written permission of their parents, and further provided that they agree to attend all five meetings. The meetings will begin at 7:00 p. m.

PARKHURST SCHOOL TEA
FOR MISS FOLEY

On Tuesday, October 22, Mrs. John F. Elliott was hostess at a tea in her home honoring Miss Foley, third-grade teacher at Lewis Parkhurst School.

Miss Foley, having been presented to the mothers by Mr. Albert F. Sutula, gave a talk expressing briefly her own aims and philosophy. A summary of the curriculum was given with stress laid on application in society. A general question period followed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Elliott and her committee, Mrs. Donald Birchall and Mrs. Herman Meissner poured.

PARISH PLAYERS

Take an elderly lady with money, who has been found murdered in her Hampstead home; a nice young man who didn't have a job; a strange foreign-born actress-wife; two of the best barristers in England battling their strange case in Old Bailey; and you have a hint of the good mystery plot in "Witness for the Prosecution." This is the play which the Parish Players will bring to Winchester audiences on November 7, 8 and 9 in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church. Mrs. George H. Gowdy is in charge of ticket reservations, Winchester 6-2728. Season tickets have been mailed this week to subscribers, but there are still a few excellent seats left for all three performances.

The play holds so many surprises, in its cast and in its rapid climax, that the audiences each night are requested not to tell the outcome of the play to their friends who might be tempted to see the show, lest it spoil the suspense for them! But those who like a good mystery, English drama at its best, will thoroughly enjoy "Witness for the Prosecution." Harlan F. Grant, director of the Players, and head of the drama department at Boston Conservatory of Music, will play the role of the judge, a part he played in summer stock at Weston, Vt. Prof. F. Russell Gilbert, director of the radio department at Leland Powers, a member of long standing of the Standing Stone Playhouse in Pennsylvania, will play the prosecuting attorney, George E. Connor will be in the role of Francis Sullivan played by Broderick Johnson in "The Day After Tomorrow." Other cast members include J. Waldo Bond, Charles A. Russell, who has been in many Tufts plays; Daniel F. Blanchard, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Carol Ganem, Beverly Carroll, Grant Burton, Mrs. Warren Haley, George S. Hebb, Jr., Mrs. Elizabeth Shepard, Hayden Richards, Bob Blake, and several "surprise members."

When the dean of mystery writers, Agatha Christie, creates a suspense play, it is a theatrical event; and in presenting "Witness for the Prosecution," the Players feel they have a gourmet evening's entertainment for their audiences.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend sincere thanks to all those whose kindly sympathy, expressed in so many ways, helped so much during our recent bereavement. We want everyone to know how deeply we appreciate their thoughtfulness. Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Joyce and family

CYO LISTS TWO EVENTS

St. Mary's CYO is staging a dance this Saturday evening at St. Mary's Hall with the latest hits from the world of wax being offered for the pleasure of the dancers.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

Last Sunday the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church had the first service of the dedication of the new wing. The young men of the fellowship made tours of the church and guided both local and out-of-town people. The young women of the fellowship helped the Woman's Society of Christian Service serve refreshments.

This coming Sunday, October 27, the Fellowship will make their M.Y.F. Fund pledges. This will be accompanied by a special worship service presented by Carol Mosen, Aprille Godwin, Robert Godwin, Eugene Woods, Gloria Craft and Robert Needham. About two-thirds of every M.Y.F. Fund dollar goes to both local and foreign missions. The other third goes for youth work through both the National Conference of Methodist Youth and the Youth Department of the Board of Education in Nashville, Tennessee.

This coming Saturday evening the fellowship has been invited to attend a dance at the Calvary Methodist Church in Arlington. They will leave from the church at 7:30. Transportation will be provided.

D. A. R. NOTES

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., met October 21 at the home of Mrs. Paul Comins, 9 Roberts road. After a dessert and social period, the meeting was called to order by the regent, Mrs. Hiram F. Moody.

A very interesting program followed the business meeting.

Enid Louise Fairbairn presented a very humorous talk, along with many personal and household articles from the Bradford family, who were her ancestors.

The talk, entitled "Glamour in Grandma's Day," was most revealing but proved that feminine vanity had to be satisfied a hundred years ago as well as today.

LIONS LINES

First Vice President Randy Kan-kazian presided over the weekly meeting of Lions this past Monday evening in the absence of King Lion Shohet. The regular monthly business meeting was conducted and progressive reports from the Tea and Seal drive chairman were given. Vice President Randy Kan-kazian announced that the March of Dimes drive in Winchester for 1957 will be handled by the Winchester Lions Club and Lion Ted Boecker will be the chairman of the drive. Ted is setting up his committees and methods of operation and will announce same at a later date. Last year Ted also headed the drive and feels with the experience gained last year and with more cooperation Winchester will reach its quota handily.

Lion Dick Ingersoll is the chairman of the Winchester delegation to the Woburn Lions gigantic Halloween parade on Halloween night to be held in Woburn. Dick and his fellow Lions will be seen marching along the parade route in costumes and riding on a float. The Lions will have plenty of donuts and candies for the children watching the parade. Anyone who would like to participate in the parade and aid the Lions with an old automobile of the twenties or early thirties or a new 1957 convertible can contact Dick at the Winchester Trust Company. Dick will welcome any and all help.

Today over forty boys from Lions-sponsored One, Boy Scouts, will depart from Winchester for a week end of camping at Camp Fellsland. The scouts have been preparing for weeks and like the Lions Club, they are very anxious to start camping. Rumor had it at the Lions meeting that a well-known Lion Bear named Humphrey will be in the vicinity of Camp Fellsland this week end.
We hope no member of the scout committee takes a shot at Big Humphrey.

"LO AND BEHOLD"—THE SPIRITS

Spirits roam abroad before Halloween this year as the Unitarian Players rehearsed hit full stride, heading for production on November 15 and 16.

Charlotte Hill floats in first as Minnetonka Smallflower, the Indian maiden pushed off a cliff by her lover. She is joined by Donald Curran of WGBH-TV and Tufts Arena Theatre as Ken, the frustrated composer searching for a piano. Then Charlotte Burr drifts in from nowhere as Honey Wainwright, "fo'muhly of Lost Lake, but shot on huh weddin' day by a jealous beau."

These three disturb the rest of the spirit of Milo Alcott, played by Frank Thayer. In contrast to the black pantheism that convulsed us in "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," he now presents the acid, caustic wit of a man of letters, foiled by the other spirits in his scheme to communicate from the after-life.

Very much of this life are: Daisy Durdle, a model in the Sears Roebuck catalogue, jauntily played by our favorite ingenue, Adele Jonah; and Mike, her ex-boy friend, played by newcomer Charles Bund. Our good friend Harry Wood acts to describe his birthday dinner while Milo eats Pabum and white of egg at body temperature — below normal.

Milo's doctor, Bob Dorsey, ably handled by Matthew Connolly who directs at WBZ-TV, bridges this world and that of the spirits by his former agreement to listen for Milo's communication at the prescribed time and place with the words of the play's title, "Lo and Behold!"

Winchester Tries Again
For Home Football Game

Winchester will try again tomorrow afternoon to play its first home football game of the season on Manchester Field, entertaining the Reading Rockets in a Middlesex League engagement commencing at 1:30.

Reading brings a winless team to Winchester, its best showing thus far being a 13-13 tie against Belmont, reputedly one of the stronger clubs in the league and enjoying its best season in several years.

Manchester Field, Saturday, November 2

Kickoff, 1:30 p. m.

The Rockets opened by dropping a 13-0 decision to potent Winchester, then tied Belmont and lost a heart-breaker to Concord, 13-12, and the Minuteboys got an extra shot at the winning conversion because of a Reading offside.

Winchester shut out Reading, 20-0, in a non-league game, and last Saturday, following a cancellation the Rockets took on Newburyport, losing this one 20-12.

Reading has been plagued by the flu bug and last Saturday at Newburyport was without several of its key players, a total of 13 squad members being sick.

Winchester squeaked by Melrose Saturday 20-18 in a game that did little for the Indians' prestige hereabouts, though the game was ruggedly played on both sides.

On paper, with four straight victories, Winchester should be favored heavily tomorrow, but the Rockets have a way of playing over their heads against the Indians, and nothing is being taken for granted by the local coaches, at least.

Reading's Coach Hollingsworth, in announcing his lineup, said he was hopeful only that the boys chosen to start will be able to play. Several, if they do play, will be well below form because of previous illness.

HOSPITAL VISITING LIMITED

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator of the Winchester Hospital, has informed the Star that due to the high incidence of respiratory infections in this area the hospital has placed very strict limitations on the visiting of patients.

Until further notice, maternity patients may be visited only by the husbands. Medical, surgical and pediatric patients may have only one member of their immediate families visit them per day. Persons with colds should not visit patients. These temporary restrictions are established for the sole purpose of protecting the patient, the danger of contagion has decreased to more normal levels.

Mr. Paine states that normal visiting hours will be resumed when in the opinion of the medical staff the danger of contagion has decreased to more normal levels.

TAX CHECK TO TOWN

A lump-sum check for $37,199.50 went into the Winchester town treasurer's office this week, representing the 1957 tax bills of 71 local property owners whose mortgages are held by New England's oldest savings bank, The Provident Institution for Savings, 36 Temple place, Boston.

This check was a part of a lump-sum tax payment totaling $3,199,991.37 which the Provident bank made this week to 126 Massachusetts cities and towns. A total of only 126 checks, sent by the Provident, took care of the 1957 tax bills of 6,509 property owners in the various communities.

Winchester's treasurer's office thus had to handle only one check, instead of 71 separate transactions from local property owners.

FIRES

Firefighters were called out twice Monday afternoon for fires caused by incinerators. The first was behind the home of Thomas McCormack on Winchester place and the second was on Holland street.

HOSPITAL HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Winchester Hospital was held at the hospital on Tuesday evening, October 29. Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting.

Mr. Ralph W. Hatch, the treasurer, read a preliminary financial report which showed that the hospital's expenses for the year were $864,443, and was slightly less than income received. He also stated that it cost the hospital an average of $28.03 to provide one day's care to a patient.

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator, described the past year as the biggest and best year in the hospital's history, and substantiated the statement with figures demonstrating the greatly increased volume of care the hospital is now rendering, and giving many illustrations of improvements that have been made in the hospital in both the physical plant, the organization and in methods of operation. According to Mr. Paine the most difficult problem the hospital is confronted with is obtaining qualified personnel and maintaining competitive salaries in our inflationary economy.

Dr. Milton J. Quinn, president of the medical staff, gave a very interesting report of the medical staff organization and the various committees that carry out the work of the staff. Dr. Quinn demonstrated the complexity and thoroughness of medicine as practiced today, as contrasted with only a few years ago by displaying a rather skimpy and elementary record of the first patient admitted to the hospital in 1912, along with a fifty page record describing all the studies and procedures carried out on a recent admission.

Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the board in his address to the corporation described the increasing responsibilities of hospital directors in these difficult economic times and the duty they have to maintain high standards of hospital operation, regardless of the complexity of the organization, or the economic pressure.

The break was the work done by the many volunteers and organizations associated with the hospital and the work that they have done during the past year to improve the service of the hospital and to help keep its costs down. He also thanked the trustees of the hospital, under the chairmanship of Mr. Maurice T. Freeman, for the excellent job they have done in investing the bequest funds, which this year produced income at the rate of 4.3%.

This $24,522. of income is an important factor in maintaining the low rates charged at Winchester Hospital.

The following new directors were elected by the corporation: Paul W. Atwood, James L. Jenks, Jr., Mr. R. Ashley Lewis, Mrs. Henry E. Moffette and Mrs. F. William Schumacher.

Following the corporation meeting, the directors had a short organizational meeting in which the following officers were elected: President, Gilbert H. Hood, Jr.; Vice Pres., William J. Speers, Jr.; Secretary, Allen O. Eaton; Treasurer, Ralph W. Hatch; Asst. Treas., Mrs. Leah S. Grimes.

WATER MAIN BURST

Last Sunday morning one of the principal water mains from the Turkey Hill standpipe burst at the Winchester - Arlington line on Ridge street. The break was caused by the settling of street construction at that point and took place shortly after the meter there was read at 7:15.

The break was discovered at 7:30 and the broken pipe quickly shut off, making the water loss from the break comparatively slight.

Emergency repairs were effected at once and the flow of water reversed so that the district served by the broken main could be served by Arlington.

Considerable damage was done underground by the settling and the break in the pipe, the chemical feeding equipment being washed away. This equipment fed soda and fluorine into the water, and as a consequence of the damage water on the west side has been yellow again this week.

It is expected that the equipment will be replaced before the end of the week and the water discoloration corrected.

Just as water repair crews completed temporary repairs at the Ridge street break they received a call to go at once to the intersection of Cambridge street near Calumet road where an automobile had knocked over a town hydrant, causing a temporary flood at that point.

This condition was also quickly corrected and again the loss of water was negligible.

JURORS SELECTED

Charles J. Harrold, Town constable, announces the selection of four jurors who are to appear on December 2. Angelo W. Ghivari, 24 Chesterford road and Laura H. Johnston of 7 Myrtle street will report to the Lowell Civil Court. William A. White, Jr., 22 Onondaga road and Clifford W. England of 275 Main street will report to the Cambridge pool on the same date.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Any reports for the 1957 Town Report should be sent to the Selectmen's Office as soon as possible. The Wakefield Item Press has the printing contract again this year. The Reports will be distributed with the warrant for the March Town Meeting during the latter part of February.

DOWN FOR THE COUNT

Truck overturned in collision with station wagon at Cambridge street and Foxcroft road last Saturday.

Minor Personal Injuries

Two Week-end Auto Accidents
On Cambridge Street

Cambridge street was the scene of two automobile accidents this past week end. Luckily, no serious injuries resulted from either of the mishaps.

On Saturday a GMC truck operated by Kenneth N. Lewis of Billerica, while traveling north on Cambridge street, was in collision with a Ford station wagon near the intersection of Foxcroft road. The station wagon was coming out of Foxcroft road and started to cross Cambridge street into Blossom Hill road at the time of the mishap.

Passengers in the two cars were James Martel of Billerica, who was riding with Mr. Lewis and a young boy who was in the station wagon. Mr. Lewis stated that when he reached Foxcroft road he noticed the other car coming out, and to avoid a collision he turned his truck sharply to the left. The right front fender of the truck struck the left side of the other car, pushing the Ford over the curb into the property of Thomas McEnroe of 148 Cambridge street. The sharp turn caused the truck to turn over on the right side.

The fire department brought Engine 4 to the scene to wash down the gasoline which was spilled on the street. Both vehicles were towed away.

On Sunday Thomas McAllister of Billerica was driving north on Cambridge street and when about 100 feet south of Calumet road he claimed the lights of an oncoming car caused him to lose control of his car. His car side-swiped an Edison pole and continued on, striking and knocking over the fire hydrant at the corner of Calumet road.

Mr. McAllister received a cut on his chin. His car was towed away.

Waiting for Bellino

Navy Has Ace Runner,
But He's Year Away

(Ed. Note.—The following AP story clipped from the Washington "Evening Star" for October 29 should prove of interest to sports followers in Winchester.)

Coach Eddie Erdelatz may have to look no further than this year's players to get the best pitcher in the Midshipmen to be an outstanding football team.

A halfback named Joe Bellino from Winchester, Mass., will be re-ported to the varsity next spring. And off his first two performances against Villanova and Pitt freshmen, Erdelatz may be quite happy to have him.

Bellino, a 5-foot-9, 178-pound speedster with a quick change of pace, has broken up two ball games with his dazzling runs and a Plebe Coach Jack McQuary calls him "one of the best halfbacks I've ever seen anywhere."

McQuary was a fullback at California from 1939-42 and is now a coach assigned to the Academy.

Long Distance Runs

Against Villanova, Bellino ripped off touchdown runs of 75 and 36 yards from scrimmage and returned a kickoff 83 yards for a third touchdown. Against Pitt's burly yearlings last week, he popped through the line at a leisurely pace and shifted speeds three or four times as he went through the line, squall 52 yards on another touchdown run.

Last year, playing for Columbian Prep, he almost single-handedly whipped the Navy Plebes as he scored three touchdowns and a Plebe of Navy's two losses for the season.

Bellino runs with an easy, natural grace and has the ability to go all the way on any particular run, something the Navy squad hasn't seen much of since Bob Craig graduated from the 1954 Sugar Bowl team.

Capt. Cutter, Navy's outspoken director of athletics, says the handicap that the 1957 varsity has which will keep it from being a great football team is the lack of such a "climax runner."

"Our halfbacks have been in the clear any number of times only to be hauled down from behind," he says. "You're not going very far that way against a good team."

Not Going Overboard
Bellino, with a variety of speeds and a knowledge of how to use them, runs like he could climax almost anything. But the Navy coaching staff is not going to go overboard on him or anyone else until they've proved themselves with the varsity. They've had too many other bright plebe prospects dim out in the tougher going.

"We're expecting great things of him," McQuary says. He has all the natural prerequisites of being a great football player and his future looks bright. But that's all we can say at this point."

McQuary is almost as high on his hard-driving fullback, Joe Montalvage, a 6-foot, 195-pounder

ANOTHER HIGHLIGHT SUNDAY
AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

One of the outstanding speakers of our country on foreign affairs and they relating themselves to the church, Professor Harold Ehrensperger of the Boston University School of Theology, will bring the message this Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

This will be Missions Sunday and the service is being prepared by Mrs. Donald R. Wilkins, chairman of the commission on missions. She will be assisted by Miss Carol Mosen, chairman of the commission on Outreach of the Methodist Youth Fellowship.

Professor Ehrensperger completed both his university and graduate work at Harvard. His teaching includes Northwestern University, Garrett Biblical Institute, Leonard Theological College in India and Boston University School of Theology.

Professor Ehrensperger has a travelled extensively through Europe, India, China and other oriental countries. He also worked with the famous Dr. Frank Laubach on literacy materials. His lecturing has taken him across the country to more than 100 colleges and universities. At present he is head of the Foreign Student Affairs at Boston University and associated Professor of Religion and the Arts at the School of Theology.

The service is open to the public with a cordial invitation to hear this outstanding man with an outstanding message.

Last week's dedication banquet served an overflow crowd with members and friends listening to an inspiring message by Rev. Wilbur Ziegler of Milton.

The extended program of dedication will climax with a stewardship banquet November 15, and in stewardship Sunday on November 17.

After serving four years with the United States Army in Africa, Italy, France and Germany, he completed the requirements for his Master's Degree in Sociology at Tufts University.

Following his graduation from Tufts he had been engaged in prison and penological work in Michigan, Massachusetts and Connecticut. He married Miss Brown four years ago.

ZONTIANS WORK FOR SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS

In a successful all-out effort to raise a substantial portion of its Scholarship Awards funds in one week, the Zonta Club of Medford held two major fund raising projects last week. Actively participating were Miss Helen G. Ford, president of the club, and Miss Mary's Conference Society of St. Vincent de Paul, an organization engaged in charitable work; was a member of Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, and St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. Farrar was elected to the Board of Public Welfare in March of 1949, and served continually on the Board until he left town. Following his retirement from business he served as a school traffic officer up to the time he became ill and entered the Winchester Hospital for operation during the winter preceding his leaving for Morehead City. During World War I he was a member of the Winchester Machine Gun Company of the old State Guard.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Veitch, he leaves a daughter, Miss Norma Farrar, of Morehead City, N. C., a member of the faculty at the University of Illinois; a son, Charles A. Farrar, Jr., of Phoenix, Ariz.; seven grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Emma Ames of Stoneham, Mass. and Mrs. Addie Furnace of Chelsea; and two brothers, Walter, of Everett, and Ralph Farrar of Roslindale.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. The pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, was celebrant, Rev. Martin J. Dolpkin was deacon and Rev. Edmund L. Parker, student. Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

POST CANE CANDIDATES WANTED

The Board of Selectmen is eager to continue the award of the "Boston Post Cane" to the oldest resident of Winchester.

The death of Mrs. Isabella Tufts at the Home for Aged People recently removed the last holder, and the Selectmen would be glad to fill the vacancy.

For many years the former "Boston Post" awarded a cane to the oldest resident of cities and towns served by the newspaper. When the paper discontinued the practice, several years before it closed its doors, the Selectmen continued to name a holder. Last year, Symmes, Joshua Phippen and Mrs. Tufts were the last three holders.

Any resident who knows of an aged person, man or woman, living in Winchester is urged to send in his or her name to the Selectmen. The Board will be pleased to go over the list and from it select the new holder of the cane.

NOONAN BOARD
ENTERTAINS MRS. MCQUERTY

The Noonan School Mothers' Association board, entertained Mrs. Bernard McQuerty at a luncheon at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn, Monday, October 28. Mrs. McQuerty, a board member, is moving to West Winfield, N. Y.

Dr. and Mrs. Weld have eight grandchildren, two of whom, Robert and Thomas McQuire, were present at the anniversary observance.

Citizens Asked to Use Care

Water Commissioners
Remove Restrictions

The Board of Water Commissioners at their meeting Monday evening voted to remove all restrictions in the use of water in Winchester.

In arriving at their decision the Commissioners are fully cognizant of the fact that the severe water shortage is by no means a thing of the past, and that the local situation, while not as bad as in many communities, is still far from normal for this time of year.

In announcing the removal of all restrictions the Commissioners urge all householders to be careful in the use of water, and still to conserve it wherever possible. The Commissioners believe that the whole-hearted cooperation of the great majority of Winchester residents with the necessary restrictions imposed during the summer have made the present removal of these restrictions possible.

The New England Library Association is comprised of the six state associations as well as other special groups, such as the New England Law Librarians, School Librarians, and the Library Trustees Association.

By special arrangement of schedules, each member of the staff was able to attend one day of meetings and to participate in informative and stimulating discussions.

The theme of the Conference was two-fold: recruitment of young people into the field of librarianship, and the exploitation of all library resources to meet the needs of the people the library serves.

Under direction of Miss Sigrid Edge, professor of Library Science at Simmons College, an all-day program urged the library as an educational institution to share with other agencies the responsibility of meeting the educational needs of the community, and to seek out and aid groups which are organized around special interests, common purposes, or particular goals that fall within the educational function of the library.

Children's and Young Adult Services were discussed at two meetings: the Children's Book Clinic, conducted by a Round Table of Authors and Illustrators and the Round Table of Young Adult Librarians presenting a panel of authors discussing "Writing for Young People." Miss Elizabeth Russell, Children's Librarian, is treasurer of the Children's Round Table and Mrs. Pearl Winter, assistant librarian, is a member of the program committee of the Young Adult Round Table.

A general meeting was held each evening, featuring as speakers, Catherine Drinker Bowen, Chester Bowles, Archibald McLeish, and Dr. Isaac Asimov.

Request from listeners will also be played.

Film Programs Cancelled
The regularly scheduled film programs, which were to begin November 1, have been cancelled until further notice. The programs include the Friday evening Family Night at the Library and the Saturday morning Children's Program.

ST. MARY'S CHI RHO

The monthly meeting of St. Mary's Chi Rho will be held next Sunday, November 3rd, in the parish hall at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Thomas F. Brosnan will discuss "The Ex-Delinquent - Does he need our help?" Fr. Brosnan will draw on his experiences as Chaplain at Concord Reformatory, a post he has held for several years.

Refreshments will be served following Fr. Brosnan's talk.

WASHINGTON MOTHERS AT HOME CARD PARTY

On Thursday, November 7, the Mothers' Association of St. George Washington School is planning to hold an at-home card party. Several festive parties are being planned for both afternoon and evening at the homes of the various members.

Mrs. Leo Belliveau, chairman of the ways and means committee, is in charge of plans for the affair, assisted by Mrs. Richard Hukanson, Mrs. Leon Boodakian, Mrs. John Coakley, Mrs. Robert Westwater, Mrs. William MacDonald, Mrs. Lester Brooks, and Mrs. George Steers.

CORRECTION

In the account of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. George Tansey an error was made in that Mr. and Mrs. Tansey are not graduates of the University of New Hampshire. Mrs. Tansey was a member of the sophomore class at the University of New Hampshire and Mr. Tansey of the senior class.

MRS. SWIFT SPEAKER AT N. E. L. A. CONFERENCE

As part of the New England Library Association Conference, held in Swampscott, the Round Table of Librarians for Young Adults sponsored a panel of authors who discussed "Writing for Young People."

The Round Table was fortunate to have Mrs. Helen Miller Swift, of Winchester, as a member of the panel along with Janet Corbett, Colonel Coby, Elizabeth George Speare, and Joe Archibald.

Mrs. Swift is well known to all New England librarians and teenagers as the author of "Adventure in Store" and "Chocolate Soda," novels for teenage girls.

As the first speaker, Mrs. Swift delighted her audience with a humorous description of her first ventures in the literary field. She spoke with great sincerity of the helpful advice she received from her fellow authors in the Boston area who are members of a writing group, organized by the late Marguerite Dickson.

Members of the Winchester Library staff who were present were impressed with the enthusiastic reception Mrs. Swift received from the entire audience.

ENTERTAINED

Misses Gail and Ann Tansey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. Joseph Tansey, 19 Canal street, entertained on Thursday evening, October 24, for their sister-in-law Mrs. George Tansey. Guests included neighbors, friends and members of the family.

Mrs. Tansey received many lovely gifts, and was most gracious in thanking her guests for their thoughtfulness. Music was enjoyed following the gift opening and a buffet lunch was served.

TO CURB DISABILITY ABUSE

There is continued great interest in town concerning the initiative petition to curb abuse of disability pensions by state and municipal employees. The petition, originally sponsored by Senator Philip A. Graham, will allow voters to take the profit out of retirements on disability by referendum ballot in the 1958 elections.

Under the proposed law, pensions will be reduced in cases where the pensioners gainful employment pays him more with his pension, than he could then be making in the job he has claimed he is too disabled to continue.

Any one wishing to help stop this waste of taxpayers' money can sign one of these petitions at the Wide Insurance Agency, 3 Thompson street. William A. Wilde, Jr., will be there to show you how and give you further information. See him any time during business hours up to November 12.

Others in Winchester who are looking for signers include Richard B. Knight, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, Dr. Robert Blackler, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer, Mr. Edmund A. Chandler, Mrs. W. W. Goodhue, Mr. Miles R. Wadley, Mrs. Walter W. Winship, Mr. R. F. Lybeck, Mrs. Maxwell McCreery, Mr. John McIntyre, Mrs. Blanche Hoover, Mrs. Neil H. Borden, Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman, Mrs. Lilla M. Abbott, Mrs. Rex T. Crandall, Mrs. James M. Joslin, Mrs. Fred J. Cause and many others.

Additional petitions can be obtained from Mrs. Whitman or Mr. Knight, telephone Winchester 6-3329 or at headquarters in Boston, Mr. Neil Ayer, Room 936, 50 Congress street, LAfayette 3-2670.

BROADWAY'S HIT,
"KISS ME KATE," COMES TO WINCHESTER

"Kiss Me Kate," one of Broadway's greatest musical comedy hits, is to be presented by the Winchester Community Theatre on November 22 and 23 at the High School Memorial Auditorium. One of the few shows ever to achieve a run of more than two years on Broadway, this spectacular popular Cole Porter hit with its play by Samuel and Bella Spewack, will have a gay lulling and robust presentation by the Winchester Community Theatre. Its hilariously rowdy story of a temperamental actress, given to hurling flower pots and her equally forceful vis-a-vis (Sidney Blanchard, Jr.) who tames her, first with a royal spanking and then with a bull whip, has the humor and lightning action which lend itself particularly well to a stage presentation.

Highlighting the laughs, Shakespearean drolleries of the story's "Taming of the Shrew" and the romantic dilemmas, is the musical score of some fourteen songs, considered to be the most varied and brilliant to come from the prolific Cole Porter pen.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The November meeting of the St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club will be held Wednesday evening, November 6, at 8:15 at St. Mary's Hall. It will be a military whist night and the members are all making plans to attend this meeting, as it proved to be one of the most entertaining programs of the year on last year's program. Not only can we look forward to having a lot of fun, regardless of our knowledge of cards, but Joe Maloney, the president, tells us that there are many interesting prizes in the offering for the lucky ones.

Helen and Leonard Rafferty are in charge of the evening's program and they are looking forward to another full house, such as we had last year for this meeting.

Refreshments will also be served, under the direction of Rose and Mel Sarao.

Members and guests are reminded of the next big affair on tap, the annual winter dance, to be held on Saturday evening, November 30. Leo and Mary Roche are already making plans for this gala event, so be sure to mark your calendar early, so you can look forward to joining in the fun that night.

Miss Sandra Slone, sophomore daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hall B. Gamage, has been named to the honor roll of the Mary A. Burnham School, having maintained an average of B or better for the first four weeks of the current academic year.

WASHINGTON MOTHERS' GRADE TEA

The first in a series of grade teas for the Washington School was held on Thursday, October 10, at the home of Mrs. Richard H. Anson, 4 Kenilworth road, for the mothers of children in the second grade. Miss Rich and Mrs. Lawrence Lunt poured at the very attractively decorated tea table. Delicious sandwiches and coffee were served by the two room mothers, Mrs. James Barry and Mrs. Edward Howard assisted by their committee members, Mrs. David Chato, Mrs. Salvatore Dantes, Mrs. Howard Chase, Mrs. John Hoffman, Mrs. Robert Gallant, and Mrs. Paul Hayford. After the refreshments were served, there was a general discussion led by Miss Rich and the two second grade teachers, Mrs. Eason and Miss Cullen. The general outline of work for the year was discussed plus the marking system with special explanation of the first quarter marks. Also, some helpful points for the left hand were discussed.

On Tuesday, October 15, Mrs. Joseph Hall of 16 Kenwin road, entertained the mothers of the third grade pupils at the Washington School. The tea was prepared and attractively served by the two room mothers, Mrs. Philip Porter and Mrs. John Wile assisted by their committee members, Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. Kezar Nichols, Mrs. Stanley Osgood, Mrs. Richard Schroeder, Mrs. Robert Foley, Mrs. William Wickwire, Mrs. Richard Stiles, and Mrs. Peter Villari. Following the social hour, the two third grade teachers, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Houghton discussed with the mothers the entire course for the year with particular attention to handwriting, spelling, language, and oral expression.

The mothers of the fifth grade pupils at the Washington School were entertained on Thursday, October 17, at the home of Mrs. Leo Ford. Very delicious fancy cakes and tea were prepared and served by the two room mothers, Mrs. John Mayer and Mrs. Frederic Marotta assisted by members of their committee, Mrs. Joseph Cussen, Mrs. Bernard McLaughlin, Mrs. Steven Dunn, Mrs. Paul Quigley, Mrs. Charles Bund, and Mrs. Mario Marrone. After the refreshments, the mothers had an opportunity to ask Miss Rich and the two fifth grade teachers, Miss Dempsey and Miss Downs questions. The topics discussed were methods for proving multiplication and addition, language with special emphasis on more freedom of expression in writing, as well as the outline of work for the fifth grade year.

Mrs. Norman Weeks of 15 Fells road, entertained the teachers and the mothers of the sixth grade pupils of the Washington School at a tea at her home on Thursday, October 24. The table centerpiece was an unusual pumpkin motif in keeping with the Halloween season. Arrangements for the tea were supervised by the hostess, Mrs. Weeks and the two room mothers, Mrs. William Cruwys and Mrs. James Russo assisted by members of their committee, Mrs. Andrew Sinclair, Mrs. John Peterson, Mrs. Thomas Preston, Mrs. Robert Holland, Mrs. Joseph Santo, Mrs. Walter Overacker, Mrs. John Wile, and Mrs. Louis Errico. Following tea, there was a discussion period led by the two sixth grade teachers, Miss Roberts, and Mr. Nault. Both teachers stressed the importance of the sixth grade and the responsibility of the teachers and parents in preparing the children for Junior High School. Emphasis was given to well organized work habits at home and the importance of being able to carry out directions.

"AUXIE" POLICE
AT MEDFORD BREAKFAST

A delegation of the Winchester Auxiliary Police attended the first annual communion breakfast of the auxiliary and special police groups of Eastern Middlesex County in Medford on October 27.

Chief Herbert Todd Wadsworth lead the local group in a parade from Medford City Hall to St. Joseph's Church where mass was celebrated at 8:00 o'clock by Monsignor James T. Cotter.

Following the services the officers marched to the nearby Lawrence Light Guard Armory for breakfast.

Distinguished guests and speakers at the breakfast included Monsignor Cotter, Congressman Torbert MacDonald, Commissioner of Public Safety Otis M. Whitney, the Honorable Edward M. Viola and the chiefs of several departments represented.

Bringing the greetings of the city of Medford were Mayor Alfred P. Pompeo and city manager John B. Kennedy.

This gathering of nearly 500 men from 20 eastern Middlesex cities and towns was the largest assembly of volunteer police officers since the days of World War II. A group of public spirited citizens who are always available to assist the other citizens of their communities through their police departments, these men are a ready reserve in time of trouble or disaster.

Proposed as an annual function, the communion breakfast will be sponsored each year by the police group of a different city or town. This year's activity under the supervision of the Medford Special Police Division, Thomas J. Kirwan Chief, with Lieut. (sp) Edward P. Sheehan, Jr., acting as general chairman.

Mrs. Lynwood Bryant of 20 Lawson road, is one of the volunteers at the Eliot-Pearson School's current sale at the Shady Hill Thrift Shop, 19 Brookline street, Central square, Cambridge. Part of the sale, proceeds will go toward prettifying up the front of the school for nursery school and kindergarten teaching, a Tufts University affiliate. The sale continues through November 13.

EDITORIALS

With the river virtually dry above the center and our ponds at extremely low level, wouldn't this fall have been a time to clean up, or conclude the cleanup job commenced some years ago on our waterways. We may never have another chance as good as this!

We wish we could understand the mental processes of the youths who go around town, removing decorative pumpkins from door-steps only to smash them in the street, either on the spot or nearby. Such action and the theft or despoiling of Christmas decorations have always struck us as especially low down. If we could understand the thought behind such action we might have the key to much of the so-called juvenile delinquency. It is only a short step to this serious anti-social state from pumpkin snatching and wreath swiping!

The Water Commissioners have announced the end of water rationing in Winchester with the removal of all restrictions. Many will rejoice. Others will wonder and some will question such action with our water reserves so low.

The Commissioners, themselves, say that there is still need to conserve water wherever possible. They believe the people of Winchester, or the great majority of them, will continue to use water sparingly, even though they are now permitted to have water for uses that have been forbidden all summer and early fall.

The water shortage is far from over, even though our position here in Winchester has been improved. This improvement has resulted in large measure from the cooperation of the townspeople with the restrictions set up by the Water Commissioners when conditions were much more dark. Your good citizen will continue to conserve water wherever possible.

Elsewhere in this issue is a report of the formation of a committee in Winchester to secure names for the initiative petition asking a referendum on the matter of alleged disability pension abuses. What the proponents of this petition are asking is that a curb on disability pensions paid state and municipal workers be made impossible for a person to leave a job because he is physically or mentally unable to work, and then take another job which with his disability pension will bring him in considerably more than he was making on his original job.

The proposed curb on disability pensions should not be confused with pensions toward which a worker contributes, or those granted an employee upon his retirement. No one, except perhaps the Social Security authorities, can have any quarrel or interest in what above his pension after the state or municipality says he can no longer work for one or the other.

The initiative petition is aimed solely at the worker who says he is unable to work at one job, and while getting a pension because of this fact goes out and gets another job that may well pay him more, and which, with his disability pension, makes him a good financial return at the tax payers' expense.

There have been reports of gross abuse of the disability pension system in Massachusetts. If so, it is costing us all as tax payers unnecessary dollars in added taxes.

Find out about the initiative petition. You may want to get it on the state ballot next year. It would seem that no harm can be done in having the voters decide how generous they wish to be with those who are still working while being paid because they cannot work.

There are, of course, exceptions. A man or woman actually might not be able to work at a certain type of job, yet could fill another sort of position. As we understand it the provisions of the proposed referendum do not wipe out the disability pension such a person would enjoy, but do reduce it so that it and the wage he or she earns on the new job will together equal, not exceed, the going wage for the job that has been given up.

This would seem fair enough to the worker, and a lot fairer to the tax payer!

Since the recent special town meeting there has been increasing talk about the fitting of the Wadleigh School building into future school plans for the town. At the recent junior high school parent-teacher gathering many seemed to have the idea that the Wadleigh building is to be used to take the freshman class out of the now overcrowded high school, leaving the junior high to house the two classes it presently includes.

The school authorities' plans are not as definite as that, at least at this time. The School Committee still does not like the building for school use, but its chairman, Mrs. Kugler, told the Star that the committee members feel that the recent special town meeting presented to them a mandate to make some sort of use out of the Wadleigh.

As a consequence the committee is studying the building with a view to determining any possible use, and expects to have several plans to present to the town at a future date. Meanwhile an inspection is to be made by the state to determine whether the building is safe to use as a school.

Mrs. Kugler makes it clear it is the committee's belief that any possible use of the Wadleigh building for school purposes will involve considerable expense for renovation. In this connection it would be well to take at once any necessary precautionary measures to prevent further spread of the damage already done the building since it was given up as a school.

The School Committee evidently read correctly the temper of the special town meeting concerning the Wadleigh building. The fact that its remodeling for use as an office building seemed much too costly should not count against the possibility of its use for school purposes.

It is encouraging to know that the School Committee is considering this possibility carefully.

TO UNCLE SAM!

Editor of the Star:
 Keats put it this way—"Then felt like some watcher of the skies, when a new planet swims into his ken."
 Guess I've seen too many "Westerns," but—

When I look up over my roof at night
 And see the fast moving Red Satellite,
 I am reminded of a "Western" show.

The town with its sheriff, old and slow,
 The townspeople scrambling and gaping wide,
 Searching for some safe place to hide.

While a bum in the Main street, acting wise
 Is shouting and shooting things up to the skies,
 He brags that he's "gonna take over the town!"

For the man doesn't live who can now him down.

Well, you're the Sheriff, Sam! I guess he means you.

Come out in the hot sun and show him who's Who!

Come out, Uncle Sam, come out of the bar,
 You can't be the Sheriff with things as they are.

Prove to the wide world, as well as the town
 That you're still the Sheriff when the dust settles down.

Show him how fast you can be on the draw,
 And teach him some decent respect for the Law.

Come out, Uncle Sam, though it's cool in the Bar,
 "Put up, or shut up" and earn in your Star!

You're no longer the Sheriff the way things are!

ROTARY CLUB NEWS

Rotarian Ray Barrett, president of the Mass. Bar Association, spoke at the weekly meeting last Thursday. The Rotarians unanimously agreed that the talk was one of the finest they have ever had. Mr. Barrett's thirty minute talk was packed full of facts and accomplishments of the legal profession.

Topics discussed by Mr. Barrett in his talk included the reorganization of the State's judicial system, the referendum on the Old Age Bill, joint income tax returns, Mass. Heritage Month, Bob Kennedy, defense lawyer for the guilty, the Fifth Amendment, the London Convention and respect for American institutions.

This week's guest speaker was Mrs. George A. Marks, who discussed the history and accomplishments of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. Few people are as well qualified to speak on this subject as Mrs. Marks, for she was one of the original founders of the Foundation and has been an active worker for it from the beginning. She is at present the chairman of the scholarship committee which selects the students who receive help from the Foundation.

MILDRED BARNES

PLAYING LACROSSE IN ENGLAND

Miss Mildred Barnes of the Winchester High School Physical Education Department and coach of girls at Winchester High, has been in England recently with the United States Women's Lacrosse Touring Team.

On Saturday, October 26, the United States women played the English team at the Guinness Ground of the Park Royal in London, the game ending in a 7-7 draw. The Arthur Pratts of this town who are in England, living in Hampton, Middlesex, went up to London for the match and saw Miss Barnes play a stellar game for the United States team at 3rd home.

The Pratts write that the game drew a large and enthusiastic crowd and was well played, full of hard running and crisp action with expert stick handling, quite the opposite from what one might expect from the designation, ladies' lacrosse.

Miss Barnes, who is one of the better known players internationally, and her team have been touring through England and Scotland, playing several games. According to the Pratts their play and good sportsmanship have been prominent friendly bonds with our English cousins wherever they have appeared.

NOONAN SCHOOL TEA FOR MRS. DOHERTY

On Tuesday, October 29, Mrs. Philip Porter, 166 Pond street, was hostess at a tea, in her home, honoring Mrs. Doherty, fourth grade teacher at Noonan School.

In a talk to the mothers, Mrs. Doherty outlined a typical daily program and a general plan for the year. Most enlightening was her way of solving problems by using the "family plan" keeping all difficulties in the school room.

Mrs. John Guiliani, Mothers' Association president, discussed the after-school athletic program. A delightful collation was served by Mrs. Porter and her committee. Mrs. Clifford Sundberg and Mrs. Harry Scott, room mothers, presided at the tea table.

FAITHFUL, INTELLIGENT ELEPHANT IS OVERRATED AS MENTAL PRODIGY

Elephants are smart, but they are hardly the mental giants pictured by the tall-tale fraternity.

One zoo director, after an exhaustive study of animal behavior, placed the Indian elephant third in a list of 10 most intelligent animals, the National Geographic Magazine says. It was outranked by chimpanzee and orangutan, but led horse, beaver, lion, grizzly bear, pack rat, mountain goat, and dog.

Legends of the elephant's phenomenal memory and ability to even old scores often stem from the imagination of the mahouts who train and ride them. M. D. Chaturvedi, who spent 30 years as an officer in the Indian Forest Service, passes on the following anecdote with a grain of salt.

The elephant concerned had seen a keeper steal its bread ration and hid the food under his urban. At the first opportunity, the beast snatched turban and bread, and ate both.

An Impressive Show

As an example of his own credulity, Mr. Chaturvedi recalls an elephant roll call he witnessed when a young officer. As each name was sounded, the animal lifted its trunk, as if to say, "Present, sir." He was much impressed—until he learned that mahouts guided the salutes.

On the other hand, Mr. Chaturvedi once knew an elephant that seemed to show powers of reasoning and memory. He was riding it back to base when it suddenly stopped short and refused to go on. Deciding to humor it, Chaturvedi turned around and discovered his raincoat lying in the road where it had slipped from the elephant's back.

Whatever their intelligence quotient, many elephants labor prodigiously, faithfully, and skillfully under the direction of their mahouts.

The big tuskars that toil in the forests of India and other Asian lands not only move logs but help knot the dragropes too. When loading logs on a trolley, the animal must place them properly in pyramid form. Another then shunts the little wheeled cars into position, pulls the chains tight around the logs, and pushes the loaded train down the yard.

One blind elephant collected logs rolled downhill by other elephants, and staked them in lots of 20. She separated each lot from the other by the same space, measured by the length of her own body.

Trained Beasts Lead Captives
 One method used to round up work elephants calls for digging deep pits across the herds' known trails. The trapped animals are raised up gradually by filling the holes with wood. They are then roped and led away by koomkies, or trained elephants.

More exciting is the keddah, or drive. With encircling fires and an unearthly din made by con-toms, tin cans, and gunshots, beaters force a wild herd into a cul-de-sac. Individual members are separated from the group and noosed while tame elephants crowd about, holding the captives helpless.

Training techniques differ. In Mysore, chanting men march around a captured elephant tied to a tree. The beast is griddly, a mahout jumps on and off its back. After several months, the elephant is ready for walks between two koomkies. Eventually, by force and example, it learns to follow orders given by its riders in the form of subtle pressures by knee, shoulder, or toe on the animal's ears or shoulders.

Trainers say that elephant cows, especially young ones, are more alert and easier to teach than males. After 30 the beasts are considered too old to learn new tricks. But all work elephants know enough to refuse to labor under tropic sun without a daily wallow in fresh running water.

DEW-CONSCIOUS SCIENTISTS TAKE OVER POETS' DOMAIN

Hard-headed scientists are elbowing poets aside to admire the dew. Glistening droplets on grass and leaves, it has been learned, make up an important cog in nature's machinery. In some semi-arid places, dew is vital to plant life.

Dew does not fall from "the wings of clouds," as Shelley put it. It does not fall at all. It is formed in the same way that water films a pitcher of iced tea. The National Geographic Society says.

When the sun goes down, the air cools and can no longer hold as much water vapor as it did during the day. The moisture condenses on leaves and other objects. When the temperature drops below freezing, dew becomes frost.

Dew formed most heavily on clear nights of fall, when there are few clouds to interfere with the radiation of heat from the earth's surface. Muggy or windy nights also hamper dew formation.

Ancient peoples were wise in the uses of dew. Significant current experiments were inspired by the repeated use of dew in the imagery of the Old Testament.

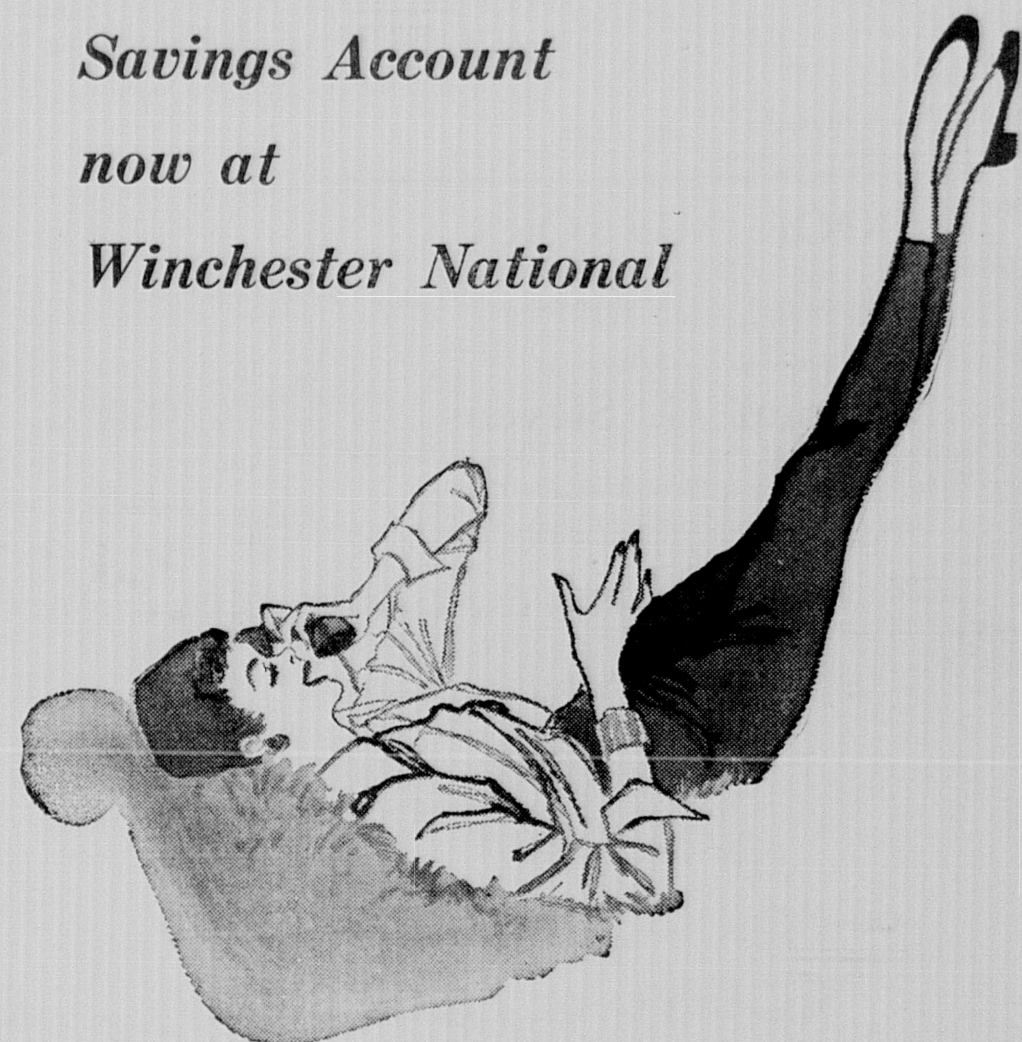

"I will be as the dew to Israel," promised the Lord in Hosea 14:5. Moses, just before his death, blessed the tribe of Joseph with the words, "Blessed be his land for the precious things of heaven, for the dew."

Pondering such statements, modern Israel has set up a network of dew-measuring stations. Experiments there show that some plants grow twice as fast with dew as without it.

In California it has been discovered that certain plants can grow without other water, if they have dew regularly. On dewless nights, a fine spray, using much less water than customary irrigation, keeps them healthy.

Dew is especially beneficial to young leaves. It comes at night, when plants do most of their growing. Scientists often find old leaves wet in the morning and young ones dry.

Young leaves can take in the dew directly and use it. Moreover, many plants can reverse their whole pumping systems, absorbing water through the leaves, distributing it to stem and roots, and even pushing it out into the soil to await a time when it is needed.

"Wells" in the Air
 Some early peoples used much the same principle to provide water for crops and for themselves.

On a plain near Jerusalem, for example, mounds of pebbles can still be found. Centuries ago, they were "aerial wells." The pebbles cooled rapidly at nightfall, condensing quantities of dew. The earth around became wet enough to grow figs and grapes.

Similar pebble mounds in Feodosia in the Crimea were equipped with pipes that carried the condensate to public fountains.

SATELLITE WILL PROVIDE IMPORTANT NEW KNOWLEDGE

To the roar of giant rocket motors under the sky, the Project Vanguard are making final preparations for man's first assault in outer space.

Present plans call for launching the first 21-pound satellite from Florida station early next year—if no hitches develop during final tests. At least six of the tiny moons, it is hoped, will be rocketed into space during 1958. Once established in an orbit, a satellite is expected to stay aloft from two weeks to a year or more.

Spectacular Program
 The satellite program—most spectacular feature of the International Geophysical Year—will broaden man's knowledge in four important fields, says the National Geographic Society.

Sensitive instruments in the elaborately plated and polished magnesium sphere will record information on solar radiation, particularly the effects of ultraviolet light from the towering geysers of flame that periodically convulse the sun's surface.

Other instruments will probe our own planet's radiation—both that reflected from the sun and that generated by internal heat.

In addition, scientists expect to learn more about the mysteries of cosmic rays, as well as the nature of the magnetic field surrounding the earth. By-products will include an accurate determination of atmospheric density and a clearer picture of the earth's shape.

Due to its highly reflective surface, the tiny moon—only 20 inches in diameter—is expected to be visible through binoculars under ideal conditions as it hurtles around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour.

Volunteer observers will supplement official checkpoints in tracing the satellite's path across the heavens. From these sightings, an electronic calculator in Washington will instantly compute speed, altitude, and orbit.

MAN ON THRESHOLD OF SPACE

(BUT WHERE DOES IT BEGIN?)

Science's success in sending manned balloons, rockets, and now an artificial moon into the earth's upper atmosphere raises an age-old question: What and where is space?

The phrase "outer space" is commonly and erroneously used in connection with the edge of the earth's protective blanket of air, the National Geographic Society says. In outer space, outer space means the incredibly distant reaches among stars and galaxies.

Geographically, space is divided into three regions: interplanetary, the local space in our own solar system; interstellar, that among stars; and intergalactic, the countless trillions of miles among galaxies such as the earth's own Milky Way.

Properly speaking, space begins at the limits of the earth's atmosphere. The thickness of the gradually blanket of air is not known.
It may be several thousand miles—or far less.

As yet, man has climbed only some 20 miles from the ground.
Rockets have belched to 250 miles.
The Russian satellite shot into its orbit at a reported height of 560 miles. The mysterious ocean of true space lies beyond.

In popular fancy, space is a cold and silent void, inky black except for the steady white blaze of stars.
Now and then a huge meteor roars through the eternal light, trailing a skirt of fire.

Actually, scientists remind science-fiction fans, space is nothing.
Being nothing, it is neither hot nor cold. The molecules in space are too rare to give it any temperature at all.

Any meteoroid that one might meet in space would not roar or flame. For space has no atmosphere to carry sound or make a moving object incandescent. Only atmosphere can turn a speeding meteoroid—most are smaller than a grain of sand—into a meteor or dazzling "shooting star."

Space, by earth's standards, is a vacuum. But it is not empty.
Scientists believe it holds a very thin gas of scattered molecules.

Traffic is somewhat heavy.
Speeding through the expanse are myriad dust particles, dragon-breathed radiation, and the baffling charged particles called cosmic rays. Like whirlpools, strange gravitational fields of suns and planets tug at matter traveling in space.

Distances are beyond belief. The nearest star visible to earthlings is Alpha Centauri. It would take a jet plane going 700 miles an hour almost million years to reach it.

Earth's atmosphere, compared to space, is a hotbed. Its lower levels brew weather. In upper levels disturbance surge back and forth with the power of a million atomic bombs.

Containing nitrogen, oxygen, argon, carbon dioxide, and traces of other gases, atmosphere is divided into layers—the troposphere, where we live, the stratosphere, chemosphere, ionosphere, and exo-sphere.

Sandwiched in the troposphere and stratosphere is 99 percent of our air mass. Virtually all life is concentrated in the former, which has an average height of about 10 miles at the Equator and five miles at the Poles. Above it, extending to a ceiling of about 20 miles, is the serene stratosphere where jet planes leave their vapor trails.

The remainder of the earth's air mass lies in the 30-mile-deep chemosphere, where atoms undergo chemical changes; in the iono-sphere, the 200-mile belt of rarefied air where particles are ionized or electrically charged; and the exo-sphere, a vaguely defined borderland where the last vestiges of atmosphere gases thin out finally into space proper.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

The Devil's Current surges through the Bosphorus, the historic strait which separates European and Asian Turkey, at six miles an hour. Beneath the surface, the National Geographic Magazine says, a countercurrent of saltier water flows in the opposite direction.

Swifts achieve the most rapid flight known among birds. By means of a stop watch, two species in India have been clocked at 170 to 200 miles an hour.

Algae, primitive water-loving plants, have been found growing in ice and snow above the Arctic Circle and in hot springs where water reaches 200 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mount Vernon, George Washington's 500-acre estate on the Potomac River in Virginia, is saluted by each United States Navy vessel that passes.

Crete, a 3,235-square-mile island in the Mediterranean, had the finest roads in the world 3,500 years ago, the National Geographic Magazine says. Now, with American help, an ambitious building program has provided modern highways.

Scotsmen, whose ancestors were knocking feather balls about heather-clad dunes as early as 1457, organized the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews in 1754. The National Geographic Magazine says thousands of courses of the game today follow the 13 basic principles of "gowd" laid down by the "22 noblemen and gentlemen" who founded St. Andrews.

Apples originated between the Black and Caspian Seas, says the National Geographic Magazine.
Peaches and oranges came not from Georgia, Florida, or California but from China, where they were cultivated 4,000 years ago. The Near and Middle East gave us lettuce, carrots, peas, and spinach. The Andes produced the "Irish" potato.

The Arctic tern probably sees more daylight than any other creature. The world's greatest traveler, it nests each summer in the North Polar regions, then flies some 11,000 miles to Antarctica for another nightless summer, the National Geographic Magazine says.

To keep up with local fashions, some Sudanese women wear earrings stuck in their lower lips.

Quality control of all First National Stores products has extended to railroad yards during the company's current canned goods sale. In order to keep pace with large daily deliveries of merchandise, food technologists Stan Hurley (left) and Richard Gaylord take mobile laboratory testing equipment to each car. After goods have passed quality tests, they are released for store delivery.

HARVARD L. MANN TO BE TOASTMASTER

Announcement has just been made by Delta Sigma Pi of a Golden Anniversary Banquet to be held at the University Club in Boston on Thursday, November 7, under the joint sponsorship of Gamma Chapter at Boston University and Delta Kappa Chapter at Boston College. The International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi, a professional business administration fraternity, was founded fifty years ago, on November 7th, at New York University.

The toastmaster for this gala event will be Harvard L. Mann, for many years a resident of Winchester, now living at Cape Porpoise, Maine. Mr. Mann, a retired partner in the accounting firm of Spark, Mann and Co., was the first initiate of Gamma Chapter at Boston University, and has been a member of the fraternity 38 years.

Ten members of the fraternity are known to live in Winchester, including Major General Ralph A. Palladino, who recently became Chief of the U. S. Army Reserves and ROTC Affairs, with headquarters at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C.

The principal speaker at this Delta Sigma Pi banquet will be Brigadier General James F. McManmon (U. S. Army, retired) of Boston. General McManmon, a graduate of Exeter and Princeton, is a member of the Boston University Chapter. He served in World Wars I and II, retiring after the latter. During World War II, he was War Production Board Administrator for Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. He is a former Deputy Assistant Chief of Staff, and was chairman of the Armed Forces New England Regional Council during the Korean conflict. Under Governor Bradford, he was the first Commissioner of Airports in Massachusetts and was responsible for the construction of Logan and Bedford Airports. A former Tulsa, Oklahoma, banker and oilman, he has extensive oil interests in the Southwest at the present time.

Chairmen of this affair are Lester O. Gatchell, Jr., of Gamma Chapter at Boston University, and Frank Lydon of Delta Kappa Chapter at Boston College, both Medford residents.

JOINS DRAPER, SEARS

Ray E. Brown of 58 Winford way has joined the sales force of the local office of Draper, Sears & Co., according to an announcement made today by John I. Donovan, manager.

Mr. Brown recently retired from the U. S. Coast Guard with the rank of Lieut. Commander after 25 years service. He entered the service as an enlisted man shortly after graduation from a business college in New Albany, Indiana. He had graduated in 1930 from high school in Lanesville, Indiana, where he was valedictorian and captain of the basketball team. He is a native of Lanesville.

His progress during his service in the Coast Guard was steady. Perhaps the highlight of it was during World War II when he was acting as supply officer for the U.S.S. Big Horn, a large decoy vessel employed in antisubmarine warfare in the North Atlantic and in the same capacity on an oil tanker servicing our fleet in the Pacific during the last two years of the war.

Mr. Brown is civic minded and at one time served as superintendent of the Sunday school, Porretal Village Church, North Chicago, which had an enrollment of more than 500 children.

In his busy life he has made time to study investments and enters the investment business with a solid background, including a college course entitled "Investments" given by Dr. Clarence Gillette of the University of Illinois.

PERFORM ORIGINAL PLAY FOR US

A successful play was produced recently for the benefit of the United Fund in the Janson's garage on Valley road. The play, "Autumn Leaves" was written specially for the occasion and was produced and staged by 13 neighborhood children.

The children, it is reported, have done several plays before and when they heard about the United Fund drive, they decided to charge admission and donate the profits to the Fund. Because of this, the Fund is $5.00 richer.

The play was written by Dianne Eleftherios and Linda Griffin. Appearing in the production were Dianne, Dimmie and Peter Eleftherios, Barbara and Dickie Quigley, Linda Griffin, Beverly Janson, Philip and Jackie Porter, Stuart Bowers and Jane, George and John Schiraga.

ATTENDING ANNUAL MEETING

Frank O. Adams, Clinton W. Bennett, Lewis M. Foster, Edward J. McDevitt, E. Ober Pridie and James B. Willing, all of Boston and Winchester, are among about 1,300 certified public accountants attending the 70th annual meeting of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants this week at the Roosevelt Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. Foster is president of the Massachusetts Association of Certified Public Accountants.

The meeting of the 30,000-member national CPA organization includes election of officers. Alvin R. Jennings, CPA, of New York, is the official nominee for president.

GUEST SPEAKER AT ST. MARY'S SODALITY

At the regular meeting of the St. Mary's Sodality on next Tuesday evening at 7:45, the guest speaker will be Rev. Frederick O'Brien, a priest of the archdiocese who has just returned from 3 years of study at the University of Salamanca in Spain. Upon his return to this country he was named director of the newly formed Archbishop Cushing Center for Puerto Ricans and the Spanish Speaking, with headquarters in the rectory of the Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston.

Fr. O'Brien, a native of Arlington, travels widely to scattered communities where Puerto Rican workers are employed on farms. He carries a Mass kit with him frequently and celebrates Mass in farm buildings in the evening when the farm help is at leisure. This helpful program assists the Spanish-speaking people in orienting and integrating into their new surroundings. Fr. O'Brien works with parish and civil agencies as well as offering religious, social and educational help. The large volunteer group of lay people who now assist in this work is known as the "Amigos."

The speaker has traveled extensively throughout Spain and Portugal and his talk to the Sodality will lead with his experiences in those countries, the customs, the problems, the people, the church and the future of Spain. Mrs. Bernard Hanley is prefect of the organization.

We invite you to come in and look over our Christmas card sample books. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

HOLY NAME BOWLING LEAGUE

Since our last article things are really starting to shape up due to the fine efforts of Ed Forbes and everybody participating.

Bob Merenda is pacing the league in just about everything including a 104 average, but Al Thorne says not for long.

The top ten bowlers will be listed each week and other interesting notes.

Last week, Fred Kimball, seemed to be the only one to break the 300 mark with 313 including strings of 118 and 104. Others hitting 100 were A. Thorne with 101 and 103 just missing 300 by 12 pins, Sullivan 100, Sylvester 105, Ross 100, Whitney 105 and Sanford 103.

The following is the team standing at present:

Team I	14-6
Team II	14-6
Team III	11-9
Team IV	9-11
Team V	8-12
Team VI	4-16

High Single:

High Three:

We would like to extend an invitation to anyone who would like to join our bowling league. We bowl every Thursday night at 9:00 p. m. at the Winchester Strike Lanes.

SANTA'S WORKSHOP FAIR!

SAVE TWO IMPORTANT DATES

Wednesday, November 13 and Thursday, November 14. These are the days of the fabulous "Santa's Workshop Fair" at the First Congregational Church. The Fair opens with a dessert at 7:15 on the 13th with the booths officially open at 8. Thursday the Fair will continue from 10 a. m. until 6:30 p. m., the dinner hour.

You will find a silent auction with everything from a permanent wave, storm window installation, lovely antiques, oil for your heater, exquisite modern and antique paintings; knitted items; mouth-watering home baked goods; Christmas decorations that will make your home the "center of attraction" this year; toys for the very young and for the teen agers; driftwood arrangements for every home, a Christmas tea that will be the talk of the town because of its charm and good taste, a real Armenian luncheon under Mrs. Aram Mouradian's direction, a dinner that not only offers food but a fine entertainment afterwards; and during the morning, a coffee bar for the gals who like a "second cup of coffee."

Mrs. Allan Bryson and her workers have created a real "Santa's Workshop" feeling in this 1957 fair, from the delightful Santa and his sleigh at the entrance, the hundreds of glistening, gay Christmas canes and sparkling gift boxes, this group has made a gay Christmas spirit for the Fair. When you come to the Fair, be sure you look at the sign on each booth, notice the exquisite little pixies made by the business and professional women, the pixies with their little styro-foam faces, with their busy little hands and darling costumes! These pixies are the conversation piece of the Fair, and by the time you reach the last booth, we are sure you will feel that these pixies are real people!

This Santa's Workshop Fair is something you have to see to believe. You wouldn't think there was anything new under the sun, that is, until you see the "Father and Son" table, the "Mom and Dad" booth, or the most entrancing "Grandmothers' Corner" with its charming little stuffed animals (and college girls love these animals just as much as the tots do!). Foods, white elephants, Twice Sold Sales (nice new items), "Kiddies' Corner," all these, plus a separate little Fair for the small fry! Yes, at 11:30 to 1, there will be a special 35¢ luncheon for children, followed by a real merry-go-round, a real monkey, special booths for children, movies for little people, and lots of fun.

It's the Santa's Workshop Fair, Mrs. Granville S. Gilpatrick is chairman, at the First Congregational Church, on November 13 and 14. Mark it on your calendar now, it is the thing to see this year!

WINCHESTER'S COMPANY IN PARADE

Led by Brigadier General Chauncey D. Merrill who had been designated as Parade Marshal, the 94th will be in the position of honor along the route of march.

The Winchester unit, commanded by 1st Lt. John L. Burdick, of York street in Canton, is one of the key units in the 94th Division and was recently cited for outstanding achievement.

GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club met on Thursday, October 24. A delicious progressive luncheon was held at the lovely homes of Mrs. Rowland Patrick and Mrs. Edward French on Ledgebrook road. The hostesses for the main course were Mrs. Rowland Patrick, Mrs. William Gilpatrick, Mrs. Herbert Maynard and Mrs. Warren Whitman.

The entire club were seated at beautifully set tables in Mrs. Patrick's spacious home. Her fruit and flower arrangements in each room were outstanding and a work of art. The dining room table was set as though it were Thanksgiving. Mrs. Patrick used a very large crystal compote filled with white grapes, green hedge apples, persimmons pears, limes, nuts and trailing ivy on the center of her dining room table. This formal centerpiece fitted so perfectly in Mrs. Patrick's regal dining room.

The dessert was served at the beautiful home of Mrs. Edward French directly across the road from Mrs. Patrick. Here we had the delightful treat of seeing Mrs. French's extensive birch terrace that stretches out from the back of her house onto the lovely wooded grounds. The plantings of flowering chrysanthemums, boxwood, pyracantha and espalier yew made one think of lovely old English Manor houses. The many bird feeders here and there on the property gave the Club the opportunity to see many interesting birds. Mrs. French had several attractive flower arrangements but the one that caught your eye were the enormous branches of cranberry in a huge brass kettle on her terrace. It seemed so in keeping with the white garden furniture and brick walls.

The president Mrs. Percy Bugbee, opened the meeting at 2:15 p. m. After a short business meeting the president introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Patrick who in turn introduced the members who had brought Thanksgiving arrangements to show the club.

Mrs. Harold Twombly had used a wicker horn of plenty with bronze chrysanthemums and fruit tumbling out of it in a most artistic manner. Her use of mulberry and peony leaves complimented her container.

Mrs. Marshall Pihl set up for us a real old fashioned Cape Cod Thanksgiving table, using a red table cloth mellow with age. As was the custom on Cape Cod she featured oysters in the shell tumbling out of an old wooden measure onto a large pewter plate. She placed her great grandmother's bible and rimmed spectacles on the table, as the bible was always read at Thanksgiving. All her material came direct from the family homestead on Cape Cod.

Mrs. William Bass had a most individual Thanksgiving table, using yellow place mats, yellow china and a pair of combination compotes and candles. The compotes were filled with miniature fruit which were in scale with the table setting. Her place cards were made of small bits of corn stalk and tiny berries.

Mrs. William Whitman designed a most fascinating combination of purple cauliflower and purple heather in a purple container. This she placed on lovely old brocade.

We were very privileged to have Mrs. Norman Mitchell bring us three arrangements. Her Thanksgiving dove piece made of a fan shaped sheath of wheat tied with fruit and a big gold satin bow was most dramatic in feeling.

Her Hunters breakfast table setting was stunning. She used a yellow and brown plaid cloth and green and yellow pottery china. On an old half barrel cover for a fountain she used very small dried cattail, dried dock, hosta leaves and a piece of driftwood which resembled a large bird in flight.

Mrs. Mitchell's third arrangement was a darling little dried arrangement in a small wooden bowl, delicate and choice.

Mrs. Roger Hadley used for her Thanksgiving table setting her grandmother's brown and white Staffordshire china, the period about 1867. With this rare old china she used old amber glass and accessories. Her flowers were bronze, yellow and white garden chrysanthemums. Mrs. Hadley's table created an atmosphere of dignity and grace.

The club is most fortunate to have so many members who can give so much pleasure and instruction to others with such ease and ability.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

The Women's League of First Baptist Church will get back into full swing for another season when they meet on Thursday, November 7.

The busy day will start at ten o'clock with White Cross sewing for the New England Baptist Hospital, under the leadership of Mrs. Frank T. Horne. Luncheon will be served at noon by a committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley P. Cameron.

Mrs. Everett D. Littlefield will preside at the business meeting at one o'clock and the afternoon program, the theme of which is "They Opened Their Treasures." The film "Ordeal in Burma" will be shown. Mrs. Herbert D. Thompson will be in charge of devotion. Members are reminded that the Love Gift Offering will be taken at this meeting.

A warm welcome will be given any women in the area who would like to join the League in rendering Christian service.

Close Shave for Indians

Melrose Edged 20-18
In League Thriller

Winchester High barely squeaked past an aroused Melrose High team last Saturday afternoon at Melrose in a Middlesex League game kept the half-frozen Winchester fans in an agony of suspense until the final whistle.

The Indians got two quick scores fairly easily and this may have caused an involuntary letdown, while Melrose was noticeably fired up after Winchester lost a third touchdown midway through the second quarter on an offside penalty, and played the Indians rather better than even over the second half of the game.

Winchester looked like a team faced with stern opposition after two soft touches on preceding successive Saturdays. The cancellation of the Lexington game the week before Melrose also took its toll from the Indians in that game experience, so the Melrose game, unsatisfactory as the Winchester showing was, may come as a blessing in disguise. The Indians had to dig in best was just barely good enough.

The local boys were hardly in top shape. "But" Murphy, favoring a lame ankle, did not play at all, and "Dom" Serratore was well below par after a week of the flu. Cosmo Paonessa, speedy little halfback also played under a handicap in the shape of an injury sustained while chasing a punt in pre-game practice.

Paonessa with his eyes on the foot, carried the wire cables strung around the field, and was hurled face first into the wire, breaking a couple of teeth and sustaining a cut inside his mouth that took two stitches to close. The gritty little speedy played most of the game, but he didn't look himself out with and probably wasn't.

Winchester sustained another pre-game injury when Dana Kelly, promising sophomore quarterback, ran into a teammate and sustained a knee injury. Kelly, who was one of Winchester's better days; and that the Indians were able to win is to their credit, for Melrose, playing its best ball game of the season, was no mean foe last Saturday, at least.

Winchester scored after the opening kickoff which Longworth ran back to the Melrose 47. Flaherty bulled through for four and then Thomson took a pitchout on a sweep left that covered 21 yards and resulted in the game's first score. Serratore split the up-rights with a perfect point after from placement.

Melrose couldn't go after receiving the kickoff and Dunton kicked outside at Winchester's 32. From there the Indians moved steadily along, despite an offside penalty that nullified a pretty Paonessa sprint.

With the ball back at midfield Longworth hit Morton with a pass good for a first down at the Melrose 33, and Thomson in two tries reached the 20.

Flaherty picked up two at center, but Paonessa lost one of these on an attempted sweep. Thomson made five off tackle, and then on fourth and four, Longworth pitched out to Flaherty sweeping left, and "Flappers" really legged it into the end zone for the fastest bit of running he has shown this year. Serratore got high height and distance on his kick, but it was off center and no good.

Following the kickoff a 15 yard penalty against Melrose for having an illegal receiver down field on a pass play pushed the big Red back to its 20 and Dunton kicked short to Flaherty, barely getting the kick away.

Flaherty ran the punt back to the Melrose 25, but an illegal use of hands penalty set the Indians back to the 45. Paonessa sneaked through for a first down at the Melrose 27, Longworth broke through for three and Thomson went up the middle to the 21.

Once again Flaherty on a sweep left went all the way, but the eagle eye of an official caught the Indians offside on the play and the ball went back to the 26.

Here Melrose braced and stopped Winchester at its 20, taking the ball on downs. The defensive gesture seemed to fire the Red, and after Whitehouse had cracked through for seven, White attempted a fumbling, an attempted handoff, picked up the loose ball and raced 65 yards to a first down at the Winchester 8.

White picked up two and then Whitehouse bulled over from the six. An attempt to rush for the extra point was no good.

Winchester fumbled twice, recovering once. Melrose recovered two of four fumbles and had a big edge in penalty assessments, losing 30 yards to Winchester's 63. The summary:

Neither Winchester nor Melrose could put together any concerted drive in the final minutes before the half.

With the resumption of play after half time Melrose got a great break when Thomson fumbled a Dunton punt at the Winchester 19 and Melrose recovered. Whitehouse swept to the five. Here, however, the visitors fumbled and Morgan fell on the loose ball at the Winchester 3.

Flaherty busted out to the 10 for running room and Thomson made first down at the 15. Melrose stalled the attack at the 22 and Flaherty kicked to the Winchester 45.

The Indians gave the Red six yards in three times and Dunton had to kick, but Winchester was offside on the kick and the penalty gave Melrose a first down at the Winchester 33.

Here Melrose took to the air and White hit Bingham for a first down at the Winchester 19. Winchester piled on and was assessed 15 yards for a personal foul, the ball going to the Indians 4 where it was first down.

Whitehouse picked up three and White banged over for the score. Winchester stopped the attempted rush for the tying point and still held a 13-12 lead.

In the opening minutes of the final quarter Flaherty kicked to White at the Melrose 15, and on the next play the Red was forced back to the 9. Dunton kicked to Thomson, who handed off to Paonessa and Cosimo reached the Melrose 27 before being hauled down.

Thomson and Flaherty made it first down at the 12 and Thomson banged through to the five. Thomson again carried but as he crossed the goal line the ball was jarred from his grasp. Keating, reserve Winchester end, fell on the loose ball in the end zone for what proved to be the winning touchdown. Thomson busted over for the extra point on a drive off tackle.

With a 20-12 lead Coach Knowlton got his seconds into the game, and for several minutes neither team could get going.

After Stavariano, who played a whale of a center all afternoon, had recovered a Melrose fumble on the Melrose 35 a penalty set Winchester back and Melrose recovered a forward pass at the Melrose 30.

Luck still rode with the Red, for the home team recovered a fumble for a four yard gain and Whitehouse drove for another four to the Melrose 38.

Here Dunton broke through and caught the Winchester defense out of position. Cutting to his right, he legged it along the near sideline and looked good to go all the way when McGee finally knocked him outside at the Winchester 7.

The varsity was rushed back to action and drove Melrose back to its 14 in two plays. Here, however, White again hit Bingham for a first down at the 4.

Winchester piled up a try at the line, but was declared offside on the play and the ball was placed a yard short of the goal line.

Rogers banged into the center of the line and his effort was ruled a touchdown on a very quick call by the linesman. Captain Flaherty and others of the Winchester team protested, but to no avail. From the stands, at least the Winchester stands, the ball did not appear to be over.

Winchester stopped the attempted rush for the extra point, and a few moments later the final whistle blew.

Winchester made 12 first downs to 9 for Melrose, rushing for 267 yards to 197 for the Red. Winchester completed one of three passes and had one intercepted. Melrose completed two of seven passes for 27 yards.

Winchester fumbled twice, recovering once. Melrose recovered two of four fumbles and had a big edge in penalty assessments, losing 30 yards to Winchester's 63. The summary:

WINCHESTER—le, Morton, Horn, Homer, It, Serratore, Cullen, Lindvall, Ig, Graham, Needham, e, Stavariano, W, the, Wakefield, Winn, rt, Macdonald, Toby, re, Morgan, Keating, DeMinio, ab, Longworth, Serick, Peckham, hbb, Paonessa, Bartlett, McGee, rbb, Flaherty, Tofuri, Curtis, b, Thomson, Miallecto, Stark, weather.

Miss Laura Snow of Fletcher street was in the bridal party last Saturday morning at the marriage of Miss Sandra Louise Lynch of Clinton, N. Y., to David Patrick Shea of South Easton at St. Mary's of the Annunciation Church in Danvers.

Coffee was served by Mrs. Frederick A. Cardin and her hospitality committee.

A question period followed the panel speakers. Mrs. Robert H. Kroepsch was the moderator for the afternoon.

A special exhibit of the equipment given to the Winchester Hospital by the Friends during the past seven years was an added feature of interest at this meeting. Mrs. Frank B. Kelley, Jr., Friends' president, conducted the business meeting prior to the panel.

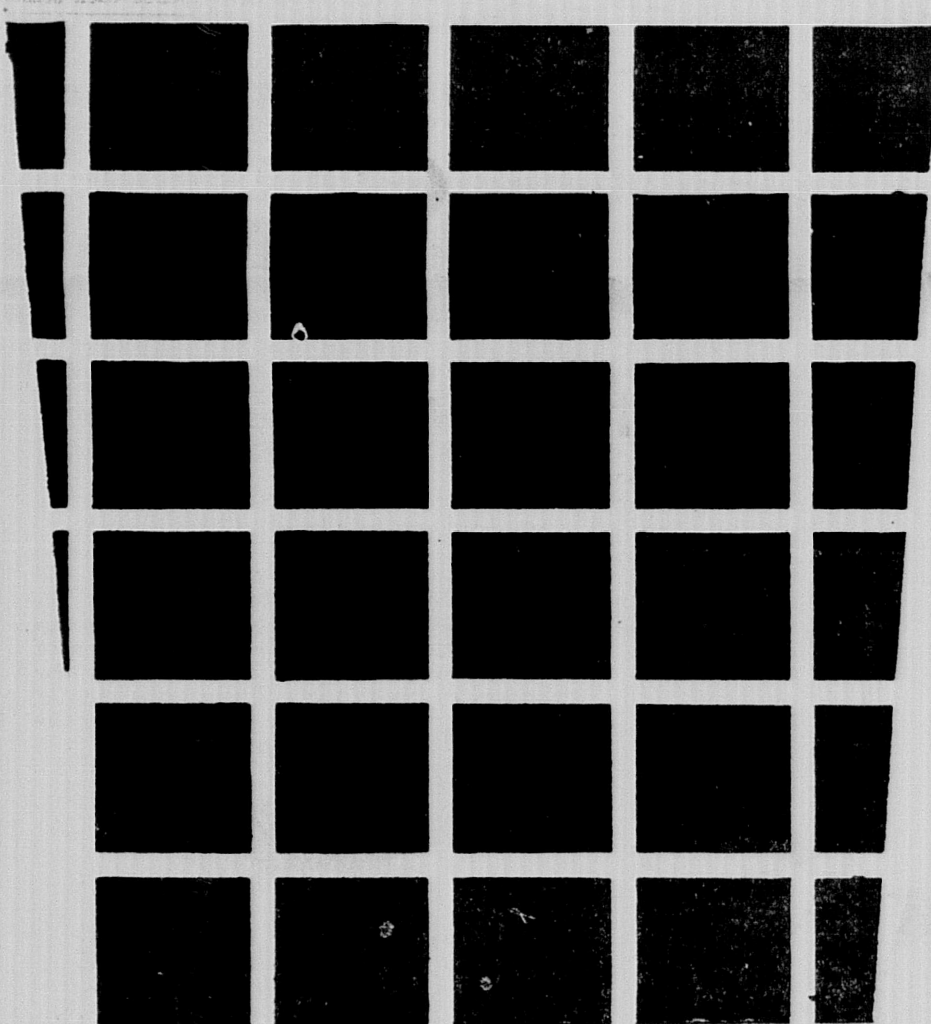

The illustrated lecture is entitled "Old Marblehead." Mr. Stevens is an outstanding photographer and was fortunate in being permitted to photograph some interior pictures of privately-owned Colonial homes and mansions, which he will show, along with other views of picturesque Marblehead.

WYMAN PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

The Wyman Parents' Association met on Tuesday evening, October 22, at the Wyman Auditorium for the first meeting of the year.

Mrs. John Harrison, president, opened the meeting and warmly welcomed Miss Lowry, the teachers and parents.

After the secretary's and treasurer's reports, Mrs. Lyle Longworth announced that the ways and means committee's big money-making project of the year was to be the Wyman Informal Dance on November 2.

The president then introduced Miss Lowry, the principal of Wyman. Miss Lowry, building her message around the three little words "Let's Take Time!", graciously urged the audience to help today's children feel more secure in the midst of this high-speed world. Following her talk, Miss Lowry introduced the Wyman teachers to the parents.

Mrs. George Marks of the Scholarship Foundation spoke briefly about the organization and how it selects students for scholarship aid. 149 boys and girls have been helped in this way since the Scholarship Foundation was formed 12 years ago.

Mrs. Harrison read the names of the room and ticket mothers. She announced that questionnaires would soon be sent to the parents and asked cooperation of all in returning them.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Harry Gilson, superintendent of schools, was introduced by Mrs. Thomas Kell. Dr. Gilson's topic, "Matters of Current Importance to Winchester Schools," was both informative and stimulating. Describing Winchester schools as neither traditional nor progressive, he proved his assertion that they traveled the middle-of-the-road by citing a number of changes in curriculum and student achievement evaluation which are now being studied as well as efforts to provide more advanced teaching for the gifted pupil. The difficulty of finding and attracting good teachers was described by Dr. Gilson as one of Winchester's two outstanding school problems. The other is created by the rapidly increasing enrollment which is taxing and will soon overtake the classroom capacity of the town.

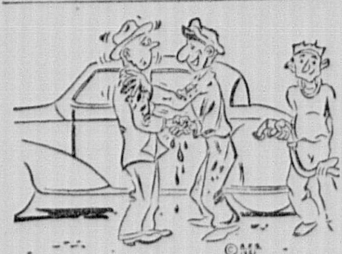

After an active discussion the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. James Lamphier and Mrs. John Ahern in the kindergarten room.

FIRE

Firefighters were called out twice on Saturday for minor fires. One was a burned out TV set at 8 Irving street and the other was for a fire in the railroad ties on Baldwin street.

An early morning brush fire on Monday brought firefighters to Border road. The fire took over an hour to bring under control.

WALTZ EVENING AFTERMATH

The seventh annual Waltz Evening, which was held Friday October 18, in the Town Hall, was, by unanimous opinion, the very best yet. The Friends of the Winchester Hospital have once again completed a highly successful project. The Gay Nineties decorations were original and colorful, and the music of Herbie Salkin and his popular orchestra provided a perfect background for the many enthusiastic and proficient waltzers. All those who had worked so hard to make the dance a success were particularly pleased at the tremendous turnout, which means that a sizable donation to the Winchester Hospital will again be made by the Friends.

The Waltz contest this year was exciting, as always, and was preceded by a short exhibition of superb waltzing by Mr. Russell Curry and Mrs. Guy Mingoletti, the winner of last year's contest. Mrs. Mingoletti and Mrs. Curry did the difficult judging, and decided that the first prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop S. Knox, Jr. Mrs. Knox was presented with a beautiful sterling silver rose pin, designed exclusively for the Waltz Evening and two dozen perfect red roses. Mr. Knox received a handsome and useful raincoat.

Second prize went to Mr. Thomas Worthen and Mrs. Frederick C. Rozelle, Jr. Third prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cade. The committee wishes to thank all of the merchants who so generously made donations which did so much to make the Waltz Evening a success. Mrs. Everett P. Stone was the lucky winner of the door prize, which was a bottle of champagne surrounded by exotic delicacies.

Mrs. Daniel S. Gaynor entertained the usher girls and flower girls at a dinner before the dance. The ushers were: Danny Gaynor, Teddy Little, Donny Beck, Richie Russo, Steven Fisher, Bob Dickey, David Harkins, and Neil Flaherty. The flower girls were: Brenda Cunningham, Mary Weiden, Jane Eliot, Sally Kimball, Twinkie Mueller, Carol MacFarland, Nancy Pizzano, and Ann Flaherty.

LINCOLN SCHOOL FIELD TRIP

Forty-nine sixth graders of Lincoln School recently visited famous historical landmarks in Boston under the guidance of Mr. Robert Nearne. Points of interest on this tour included Paul Revere's home and the small park named in his honor, the Old State House, the Old South Meeting House, the Old North Church, Faneuil Hall, the site of the Boston Massacre, Bunker Hill monument and "Old Ironsides." The children described this in later reports as adding greatly to their knowledge at a time when they are studying the Founding of a New Nation.

Mrs. Edward Cullen, Mrs. Lawrence Palmer, and Mrs. Samuel Ward accompanied Mr. Nearne and the sixth graders.

COMMANDS TRANSPORT ROCKBRIDGE

Captain Philip F. Hauck, U.S.N., formerly of Winchester, assumed command of the attack transport U.S.S. Rockbridge, a unit of the Amphibious Force, Atlantic Fleet, in ceremonies held aboard the ship at the Norfolk Naval Base, Norfolk, Virginia, on Monday, October 7.

Captain Hauck was graduated from the Naval Academy in 1935. His first assignment was in the gunnery department aboard the cruiser Indianapolis. Following a three-year tour aboard the Indianapolis, he served aboard the destroyer USS Utah. He was aboard the Utah when she was sunk during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in December, 1941.

After Pearl Harbor, he served in the destroyer Duncanson as executive officer, and in the destroyer Benett as executive officer and commanding officer. (While the Benett was being fitted-out and commissioned at the Charleston Navy Yard, Captain Hauck and his family occupied for three months an apartment on Church street in Winchester.)

Captain Hauck saw action during the battle of Cape Esperance, the invasions of Bougainville, the Marianas Islands, the Peleliu Islands, and the first battle of the Philippine Sea. He holds two Silver Star medals, the Bronze Star medal, and Letter of Commendation Ribbon.

From 1945 to 1947, he served as instructor in Ordnance and Gunnery at the Naval Academy, followed by two years' service as operations officer on the staff of Commander Destroyer Flotilla 2. He then spent a year doing graduate work at Ohio State University, at the conclusion of which he received his Master's degree in public administration.

Two years' duty in the Bureau of Naval Personnel followed, after which Captain Hauck returned to sea duty in 1952 as executive officer of the cruiser USS Worcester. The following year, he assumed duties as Commander Destroyer Division 102, and a year later entered the Naval War College, from which he was graduated in 1955. (It was during this three-year period that Captain Hauck and his family occupied their home on Canterbury road, Winchester.)

A two-year tour in the Bureau of Naval Personnel, was Captain Hauck's last duty assignment before he assumed command of the Rockbridge.

"HI HO COME TO THE FAIR!"

Winchester shoppers will be able to shop on the "Rue de la Paix," the "Via Umberto," and at "Piedmont Circus" without buying a steamship ticket to Europe this week Tuesday evening and Wednesday as the gala "World Fair" at the Unitarian Church enlivens the town at the corner of Main street and Mystic Valley Parkway. Wednesday the beautiful old carillon bells of the church will ring out the gay invitation "Hi Ho Come to the Fair" and a little carousel will be on the church grounds to remind the public of the secular spirit of the day.

Inside shoppers may find their geography a little mixed up, but as they tour from table to table and country to country they will have the happy convenience of English-speaking custodians at each booth, the wares for which have been in preparation for many months and by many hands.

When shopping begins at 7:30 Tuesday evening a Norwegian Mitten Shop under the direction of Mrs. George W. Hayden, Jr., will be close by an English Bookstore with Mrs. Kenneth S. Hall and Mrs. Gilbert H. Tapley in attendance. A French Clothes Exchange with Mrs. Herbert Black in charge will be convenient to a United States Flower Booth with Mrs. O. Norman Coddling, Mrs. John J. Jefferson, and Mrs. Edward McFarlane salesladies. Gifts from Italy with Mrs. Robert B. Williams, Household Goods from Switzerland with Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, and Dolls and Accessories in German, with Mrs. James C. Breton will be closer than usual to Mysteries from India, White Elephants from Thailand, and Cuddly Toys from Africa. Mrs. Frederick Churchill is in charge of a new table in Scotland, Remnants Unlimited. Especially for children will be a Dutch Midway for shopping, a photographer, and a trip to Utopia, where Dorothy Rankin's very famous Marionette Show will give them a special treat at 8:30.

On Wednesday evening the fair will wind up with a rousing International Show, to feature the teenage group in the church and under

NEEDLEWORK TRUSTEES ANNOUNCE GUILD DISSOLVING

The board of directors of the Needlework Guild of Winchester have felt that there has been a great deal of duplication of effort, among the many organizations in the town, and that their work of procuring new articles of clothing and household linens could well be taken over by a more active group. The En Ka Society are going to take over this responsibility and therefore the Winchester Branch of the Needlework Guild is being dissolved. The board of directors would like to publicly thank everyone, who has so willingly contributed in the past and they are happy that their work will be in such capable hands. Also thanks to Mrs. Edith M. Sache a charter member of the Guild for her splendid articles on the history of the Guild in Winchester.

WINCHESTER NEEDLEWORK GUILD SAYS GOODBYE

The life of an organization, like that of an individual, is marked by its birthdays. A glance at the annual celebrations can bring to mind a clear picture of the growth, development and maturity of that life.

Let us start with the birth of our Needlework Guild in that long-ago November 1909.

A small group of earnest women assumed the responsibility of caring for the infant offspring of its parent, the national needlework organization. They were faithful to their trust, and through two generations have held to the simplicity, and the high ideals of what was even then becoming an outstanding and unique "charity to help all other local charities." It was easy to grow in strength and numbers, for Winchester women have always encouraged unity in carrying on well-fare work in our midst.

In 1919, when our 10th birthday arrived, and again when we reached the age of 25, we received inspiration through visits from the current national presidents. They both considered us a branch outstanding among all those in towns of our size throughout the United States. New enthusiasm and devotion developed as more and more representatives from the different churches became directors, and by degrees we attained our goal of 20 directors, each with her active membership of ten or more donors. To hold the interest, mothers began to pass on their groups to their daughters, and many daughters-in-law put a shoulder to the wheel and kept up our high record of thoughtful gifts.

There was an adolescent period which brought its problems during the war years, and the guild filled special needs in families of servicemen. Each November brought more and better articles for distribution. From our original collection of 140 articles we attained a total last year of 790. Many hearts and homes have been happier because of the help extended in this month of giving thanks.

Like every organization which stands for progress the guild has been awake to changes which come in a town like this. The needs of the less well-to-do and the best way of supplying those needs alter with the passage of time.

The officers and directors of the guild gave serious consideration to these changes at their annual October get-together. It was with sincere regret, but with an optimistic approach, that it was finally voted to merge our endeavors, and pass over our type of giving to younger leaders, already well established in social service work.

Who could be better equipped to carry the torch which the guild passes on than our well-known, efficient, and warm-hearted En Ka society? Already they are in the habit of co-operating with all groups who have the best interests of Winchester at heart, from Scout Cubs to Rotarians, from our hospital to the intimate personal service of all public health and visiting nurses.

They will only be strengthened by adding to their responsibilities, and past members of the guild will always give them loyal assistance. There is always a feeling of sadness when one reaches the closing chapter of a good biography, and the story of the Needlework Guild is no exception. There is however deep satisfaction in knowing that in the words of a familiar poet, "We have lived in deeds not words—In unselfish service, not in figure, On the dial of time."

WALTZ EVENING AFTERMATH

The friends of the Winchester Hospital wish to thank the following merchants for their generosity, which did so much to make the Waltz Evening a success.

Macefield and Chittell's, for the first prize sterling silver rose and raincoat, Handcraft House and Tilley's, for the second prize cocktail shaker and nightgown; Town and Country and Myron Berlow, for the third prize stockings and ash trays; Converse Market, for the door prize, champagne and canned delicacies; Forrester's, for the two dozen first prize red roses; Filene's, for the loan of a mannequin, and the Winchester Cycle Shop, for the tandem bicycle.

The friends are most sincere in thanking these various concerns for their interest and cooperation, which are a large factor in the continued success of the Winchester Waltz Evenings.

1957 DIABETES DETECTION DRIVE

The members of the Diabetes Detection Drive Committee of the Middlesex East District Medical Society who will conduct a search for hidden diabetes during Diabetes Week, November 17-23, were announced today by Dr. Nelson C. Fontneau, committee chairman.

They are: Dr. Ralph Daffinee, Melrose; Dr. Kenneth Codin, Stoneham; Dr. J. R. Marshall, Wilmington; Dr. Arthur Koenig, Reading; Dr. L. S. McLaughlin, Woburn; and Dr. Irving Showstack, Wakefield.

Dr. Fontneau said that the Committee is mapping plans to make every citizen aware of the dangers inherent in undetected cases of diabetes, and to provide opportunities for people to take a simple test to determine whether they have the condition.

"Although medical science is able to control diabetes today, many people who have this condition are not aware of it and therefore are not seeking proper treatment," he emphasized.

"The diabetic whose condition is under treatment need have little discomfort and still less fear," he said. "If he cooperates intelligently with his physician on treatment, diet and pattern of living, he can expect to live a long, useful and happy life, a life as normal in most respects as his fellow-citizens."

The local Drive is sponsored by the Middlesex East District Medical Society, in cooperation with the American Diabetic Association which is conducting it on a nationwide basis for the tenth consecutive year.

Dr. Fontneau urged all residents to pass their family physicians or to avail themselves of the services of the public detection centers which his committee will establish in the community.

A urine test will be done free of charge if specimens are left at the offices of physicians during Diabetes Week, clearly labeled with the patient's name and address. Specimens may also be left at the Choate Hospital, Woburn; Winchester Hospital, Melrose Hospital or the New England Sanitarium.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE AT WYMAN SCHOOL

A delightful evening was had by all who attended the annual Wyman Parents' Association dance last Saturday night at Wyman Auditorium. Ned Marshall's "Mel-Tones" furnished the danceable music. A few strategically placed floor lamps and candles in pumpkin holders shed a soft light on the festivities. Large pumpkins graced the walls and smaller ones decorated the tables around which the dancers relaxed and enjoyed that tasty punch and crisp popcorn.

At intermission time the inimitable Harvey Davies convulsed the audience with his wit. They really laughed when he sat down at the piano and they kept on laughing as he traced "Yes, We Have No Bananas" to its sources in the classics and sang it the way it should be sung!

Door prizes included six pairs of hose (winner's size) donated by Loralane's of Winchester, a gorgeous floral arrangement from Park Florist of Arlington Heights, an ice bucket, a succulent ice-cream cake from H. P. Hoods and tickets to your choice of the Granada, Strand or Auditorium Theatres in Malden.

Mrs. Lyle Longworth, chairman of the dance, was ably assisted by a committee consisting of the mesdames Richard Davenport, Marshall Bassford, George Needham, William Kimball, Edward Little, Winthrop Knox, William Townner, Ben Hermann, Al Pywell and Fred Cardin.

ART ASSOCIATION

The November meeting of the Art Association was held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, November 5. Preceding the meeting coffee was served by Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, Jr., president, presided. Mrs. Abbott regrettably announced that the Art Association is now home as the Library is forced to take over the gallery for stocks. It is earnestly hoped that some other meeting place may be quickly procured. Continuing the subject for the year, "Living with New Dimensions" was presented by Mr. Hans Krieks, a native of Amsterdam, Holland, who now is on the faculty of Boston University's School of Fine and Applied Arts as instructor for interior design. Mr. Krieks opened his talk with a definition of the much used word contemporary. He then discussed contemporary design, whether in painting, music, architecture or interiors should honestly and emphatically express and symbolize the time in which we live. Contemporary design began at the end of the last century in Europe when the industrial revolution demanded higher standards of living for a large group of people. Heretofore art and design had been considered only for the use of the nobility and the rich. The search for new horizons quickly spread and designers in many countries were working with the functional, using extreme simplicity, asymmetrical balance and other features which grew out of this new approach.

Touching upon the "Do-it-yourself" movement which currently is so prevalent, Mr. Krieks made some poignant statements such as "art is not a thing you can fool around with; an artist must have an appreciation of art as well as creative ability."

Pictures were shown on the screen showing interiors of business offices which Mr. Krieks has designed in the contemporary manner using furniture of contemporary design featuring fine materials and interesting designs. A very fine exhibit of contemporary paintings, generously loaned by the Shore Gallery, is well worth a visit during November, especially as this may be the last exhibition the Art Association can present.

The paintings are the work of Laurence Sisson, Ruth Cobb, Paul Zimmerman and other well-known artists.

THE OLDER WORKER

(Contributed)

In savage tribes where skulls are thick and primal passions rage, they have a system, sure and quick, to cure the blight of age. For when a native's youth has fled and years have sapped his vim, they simply knock him on the head and put an end to him. But we in this enlightened age, are built of sterner stuff, and so we look with righteous rage on deeds so harsh and rough. For when a man grows old and gray, we simply take his job away and let him starve to death.

MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAM
NOVEMBER 14

The Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, which includes the towns of Arlington, Bedford, Lexington and Woburn in addition to Winchester, announces today its first open program meeting to be held at 8:00 p. m. on Thursday evening, November 14, at the Maria Hastings School, on Crosby road, near 2618 Massachusetts avenue in Lexington.

"What Can We Expect of a Mental Health Center?" is the topic for the evening, and is designed to answer the questions of many Winchester residents. The panel will include, from the Human Relations Service of Wellesley, Dr. Donald Klein, executive director; Dr. Helen Herzan, research consultant; Miss Barbara Feeney, social worker; Alvin R. Simmons, fellow in psychiatry; and a volunteer worker who will discuss the presentation and interpretation of such a center to the community. Mr. Thomas J. Macdonald, Mental Health Coordinator of the Greater Lawrence Guidance Center, and the moderator, Dr. Stanley M. Cath, of the Harvard School of Public Health Community Health Project, complete the panel.

All interested Winchester people are cordially urged to attend and are requested to arrive at 7:45 so that a short Winchester Branch meeting can be held. Action on the recent nominations of delegate directors to the area group will take place. They include: Mrs. Joseph P. Lynch, Dr. Donald E. McLean, Howard W. Niblock, and Stanley W. Osgood. Serving at present as temporary officers of the Winchester Branch are: Harrison F. Lyman, Jr., chairman; Mrs. John F. Sexton, secretary; and Robert B. Gorham, treasurer.

CHANGE IN Y.P.F. SCHEDULE

The Y.P.F. monthly Corporate Communion of the Church of the Epiphany has been advanced one week to this Sunday, November 10. The evening meeting on "Fit to be Tied" will be omitted this week. The next meeting will be on November 17 at 7:00 p. m.

Wanted... a hauntable house, such as the one under construction in Metcalf Hall by John White, John Harrison, Percy Hill, and Sten and Larry Tullberg, aided by Phoebe Low and Grace White. Blithe spirits like the one above await the night when Tex Renz will light up this abode, tastefully furnished by Marjorie Moore; then they can move among the mortals on stage, costumed by Olive Anderson, made up by Bettina Harrison, and supplied with hand props by Gladys West, Ernie Sands, and Norma Merenda.

Of course Milo, who expected to enjoy a peaceful afterlife in his own home, will be surprised to see these uninvited guests. But not even production chairman Mary Glasshoff and Martha Cabot knew they were coming in on Milo's wheel chair; it looked empty enough when Marjorie Bradford wheeled it all the way down Mt. Vernon street from the Town Hall. Didn't it?

However, stage manager Nancy Schwanke will keep everything under control, while prompters Karen Muncester and Steffi Rath see that both mortals and immortals follow the script.

Wanted... choice seats for this Unitarian Players production of "Lo and Behold!" November 15 and 16. Call Nancy Pritch, Winchester 6-1917-W.

Third Straight Title to Harriers

Winchester Wins State C Crown

Last Saturday a sickness-crippled Winchester High School cross country team traveled to White Stadium, Boston, to run in the State Cross Country Meet.

The race was run under very poor conditions with a wet and muddy course and a steady drizzle. The Class C race was run third and 125 runners took off over the 2.5-mile course with Winchester getting a rather poor start. The runners found the going rough as several slipped and fell in the muddy going.

At about the halfway mark Wayne Lamonth of Worcester South and Paul McDonald of Greenfield had moved out in front with Klaus Reuter of Winchester on their heels. These three continued in that order through the balance of the race.

Meanwhile, with dogged determination a group of three Winchester runners had fought their way into good scoring positions, with Captain Robin Carlson taking 19th, Danny O'Connell, running very well, 17th; and Bob de Rivera, despite a cold, finishing 18th on courage alone. Don Brown, a sophomore, with a driving finish assured victory for the Red and Black as he took 27th.

The major disappointment for the team came when the results of the elapsed time of the three fastest teams to run in the New England was announced and Winchester was not selected. It is interesting to note that had the team had any one of the three runners mentioned above they would have qualified easily, and if all three had been in top condition, Winchester would have been the top team in the state!

The times for the teams selected with Winchester in the 4th position were as follows:

Boston English 68:31
Needham 69:03
Watertown 69:04
Winchester 69:14

A great deal of credit must be given to the boys who ran for the job they did in capturing the C title and missing a qualifying spot by only 9 seconds.

Klaus Reuter was selected to compete in the New England as an individual as he posted a time of 13:18, marking him as the fifth fastest runner in the field of over 500 harriers.

The times for the five Winchester scorers were as follows:

3 Reuter 13:18
16 Carlson 13:53
17 O'Connell 13:58
18 de Rivera 13:59
27 Brown 14:06

EDITORIALS

Elsewhere in this paper are letters about the Wadleigh School written by Mrs. McDonald and Mr. Barnard. The writers do not see eye to eye on the matter of further use of the building for school purposes. Mrs. McDonald believing strongly that such use is entirely feasible while Mr. Barnard is as firmly opposed.

Both are experienced in school matters. Mrs. McDonald, until her retirement a year or so ago, had spent a large part of her adult life teaching, both in the Winchester schools and in Stoneham. As a matter of fact, she taught in the Wadleigh building as a young teacher. She can see no reason why the school cannot again serve the town in the school housing emergency now being faced by the community.

Mr. Barnard's school experience is that of a school committeeman and school building committeeman. He emphatically believes the Wadleigh School has completely outlived its usefulness as a school and that whatever the cost to make it again usable, would be money wasted. At least that is the impression one receives from reading his letter.

It is the Star's hope that both letters, with their divergent points of view, will be read and re-read, carefully, especially by those serving their precincts as town meeting members. The Wadleigh building seems destined to become an increasingly interesting item in future discussions of the school housing problem.

Long-time residents will learn with regret of the passing of the Winchester Branch of the Needlework Guild. Active in Winchester since 1909, this group of devoted women, in some instances mothers, daughters and granddaughters, have carried on this worthwhile community charitable enterprise without the fanfare of publicity, yet with complete effectiveness.

There is the satisfaction that comes from a good job well done, and surely they should find equal satisfaction in the fact that En Ka has agreed to carry on the work of the guild. En Ka is always alive to the chance to be of service, and this taking over of the Needlework Guild effort is just another "star in its crown."

The service of high school and junior high school teachers in extra-curricular school activities as supervisors and coaches is commencing to pose a serious problem to the local school authorities, especially so in view of the extra effort demanded on the part of pupils and teachers in the college preparatory course, due to the intensive competition for college entrance.

Extra-curricular activities are looming larger and larger in the Winchester school picture. A glance at the yearbook leaves you wondering how the youngsters ever find time to do a bit of serious study. The vaudeville show, rifle club, tumblers, camera club, dramatics, glee clubs, the school paper and yearbook, Red Cross, thrift club, athletics and many others compete for the time of both pupils and teachers outside the classroom.

Some of the teachers are commencing to find that the outside supervision is commencing to interfere with their teaching. Naturally the school authorities are concerned about this. They are equally reluctant to curtail the extra-curricular activities of the pupils. They all contribute to the value of the youngsters' education, yet if a teacher has to scamp his teaching to supervise the outside activities, what then?

The school authorities are wondering if there are not in town competent persons who could capably, and would be willing to take over some of this extra-curricular supervision. In fact they are giving some serious thought to the possibility of trying to locate such persons. It seems a tall order, despite the fact that many of these extra-curricular supervisory jobs are paid.

Though Coach Tommy Morse and his WHS cross country team didn't make the New England championships this year, their winning of their class championship in the State Meet at White Stadium in Boston last Saturday may have been the finest effort yet for the Indian harriers and their capable coach.

Competing without two of the school's top-flight runners, at home with the flu, and with several of those actually competing well below peak form because of the bug, Winchester finished only nine seconds off the pace necessary for choice to compete in the New Englands. Had either of the two regulars left at home been able to compete, Winchester would have qualified easily. Had the team been at full strength, the chances are it would have been the top team in the meet.

Winning their division title, the Middlesex League crown and their class championship in the State Meet is glory enough. All were great team efforts, the very best kind! Congratulations!

It is really too bad more people did not attend the "Policeman's Ball" Tuesday evening at the high school, for it was a really good show, especially nostalgic to old timers who remember the "two-a-day" circuits of B. F. Keith and others. You probably bought a ticket. Why not plan to use it next year. Both the police and firefighters really go all out to provide fine entertainment for their friends. Why not plan to enjoy these parties with them?

Reports that the Mothers' Association is to conduct a survey of the school athletic situation for the School Department sent the Star hot foot to Superintendent Gilson this week. We found, as we hoped to find, the reports without foundation in fact.

What the School Department has asked the Mothers' Association to find out is the parents' opinion of the afternoon recreation program being conducted two days a week in the elementary schools.

This afternoon recreation program is really supervised play, the sort of thing kids worked out for themselves in the editor's boyhood, but which now seems to need direction and supervision.

The program has worked out well in some sections of town; not so well in others. It has been more popular with boys than with girls. The School Department wants to know what the parents think about it.

SHOULD USE WADLEIGH SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

I was pleased to see your editorial which dealt with the future of the Wadleigh School. Shortly after the recent Town Meeting I, in company with a member of the Education Committee of the League of Women Voters, visited the School.

As any interested person may observe, the exterior of the building is in splendid condition; the brick work must have been done by skilled artisans of the highest order, for we could detect no flaw, breakage, or imperfection anywhere.

There were some broken windows. Of course, if the Town Committee had had light strapping and a fine wire placed over the windows, this condition could have been avoided. After all, they are the persons responsible for the condition of school property.

Inside, the building is in fine condition, considering the fact that it has been allowed to run down with no attention paid to preserving its usefulness.

The stairs of the school are of steel construction with slate treads, the walls sturdy and strong, the well-built red inner structure of brick showing through the rooms where the blackboards have been torn out.

The floors are in amazingly fine shape. How well men built in those days. Especially when you consider some of the contingencies that have arisen in some of Winchester's later-built schools; an assembly hall floor that buckled (and took a year to find the cause); closed plumbing in another school and a ripping out of walls to assess and correct the breaks, etc. And there have been other situations which can be enumerated at the proper time.

Not in my memory has there been any repair work done at the Wadleigh. Many persons there have been, (those who think good teaching can be accomplished only in schools with pastel-colored walls and, if possible, a sink and bubbler in every classroom), who have begged for the death by destruction of the Wadleigh School, but that dignified building has been too cussed to even get sick!

The day after we saw the school, one of Winchester's foremost builders who had visited the school its floors to hold any machinery that can be put in there, and there is always the cellar.

I think that, with a new heating plant and good wiring as a basis, the Wadleigh could be made into a structure of which we may all be proud. It could follow that space used here could release space in the Senior High School for many additional class rooms.

If our, oftentimes, short-sighted town could have foreseen the soaring tax rate we are faced with today, do you think they would ever have allowed the unfortunate sale of the little Mystic School on Bacon street?

Having it today would obviate split grades in the present Mystic School, and the hiring of a few extra teachers, a janitor and the cost of heating a school is a far cry from building new classrooms at a cost of between thirty-five and forty thousand dollars each.

I am convinced of one thing—we will make school use of the Wadleigh. I have been deluged with telephone calls since the Town Meeting.

And keeping the fine old-fashioned school right where it is, is a part of the dignified combination of the school, the Town Hall, and the beautiful Baptist Church, will help to preserve some part of Winchester's individuality as a town whose civic character is not stereotyped.

THOUSANDS SPENT ON WADLEIGH WON'T SOLVE SCHOOL PROBLEM

Editor of the Star:

Your editorial on the Wadleigh School is interesting and I feel that I am qualified to comment in regard to it, having recently served on the School Committee.

While the recent special Town Meeting did indicate a worthwhile desire to cut down on capital expenditure, I would hesitate to predict that the parents of the children of the town of Winchester would favor any "short change" idea to rehabilitate a building that the school authorities of past years and State safety experts have long since relegated to outmoded usefulness for school purposes.

It is very possible to spend a large sum of money and eliminate the fire hazards in this four-story antiquated building and renovate with new lighting, hung ceilings, and fresh paint, this present shell of a school building. There is no doubt that enough funds can adequately replace the old heating and ventilating system and provide good comfortable classrooms.

There is, however, the disquieting thought that after all this is done, with the expenditure of many thousands of dollars, that the basic problem has not been solved.

Who is going to use the new renovated Wadleigh School? The Freshman High School Class of 1959? No gym! No cafeteria! No music room! No school library! Maybe these youngsters will not mind a step backward but I doubt, however, if their parents will buy it.

Can you visualize with 1959 potential traffic picture, youngsters, dashing from the old Wadleigh School to the High School cafeteria or auditorium and then to Manchester field for their athletic periods, back to good old Wadleigh for their classroom work—rain or shine!

THE MYSTIC VALLEY MENTAL HEALTH ASSOCIATION

The High School Building Committee, created in the March, 1957 Town Meeting, gave a confusing report at the recent special Town Meeting.

They will, I feel sure, hear the real grass-root rumblings of the parents of the Town of Winchester and not bring out politically conceived plans to satisfy those few vociferous Town Meeting members that would rather save a dollar on the tax rate than adequately and properly provide educational facilities for the youth of the town.

Sincerely,
 Daniel F. Barnard

A PLAN FOR THE LIBRARY

Editor of the Star:

If the reported plans of "Our Library" are close to the true plans of the Trustees, we may see the old town hall so transformed that its use as a meeting place for many groups or for exhibits, will no longer be practical.

In other words, it has been suggested, that this area of the library be turned into a reference room, calling for files, shelving, work tables, etc., etc.

Once work and funds have been expended on such a project, it will then be too late for any one to object or to suggest other plans.

We all know that it has been claimed by the Library Trustees that more room is needed, at once, for reference work by teen-agers and by college students, resident in Winchester.

This may be true. On the other hand, there are plenty of voters and taxpayers who are skeptical as to the exact "Intensity-of-need."

To lower the Winchester tax burden by every means, is a constant need for many older residents, on fixed incomes. However, the Library should have alternative plans.

Here is one suggestion. The writer has lived many years in town and has used the Library. In the past twenty years, he has never seen the reading room crowded by adult readers.

Why not turn over the western side of this large reading room and make it an area for reference work, supervised, not much different from what is now actually taking place?

But more shelving, close at hand, is needed. It is suggested that such can be furnished by building, down the approximate center of the room, a double bookcase. This would serve as partition and thus make the eastern side of the reading room a quiet place for reading. Is it not true, that few of us want a table when we are turning over the pages of a magazine?

On the other hand, for most reference work, a surface for note-books and note-taking is a help. There must be room to pile a number of books or magazines from which quotes are to be made.

Surely, some such plan is worth consideration if it offers a chance of saving the exhibition hall for its original purposes. Groups who have been used to meeting in this hall, should check with the library at once as this letter is only one man's point of view.

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Things are happening down around our way this week. Who's going to be on top is getting to be anyone's guess by the way the teams are shuffling back and forth.

St. Mary's now is at the summit but it seems to be a slippery place to be, for those who have reached the top have been toppled in short order.

I don't understand what has happened to all our 300 bowlers, they should have levelled off by now and hit their normal strides.

The few who did it were Tony Saraco, 328; Choppers Gangi, 323; Babe Tofuri, 317; Arca Amico, 304 and Pete Lonigro, 303.

it is to start on time so as to give everyone an even break. Please boys, make every effort to be there on time.

Fame and glory this week go to Holy Cross for high team pinfalls with 1407. A well balanced team with a very aggressive captain in Choppers Gangi.

At the present time they are in a four-way tie for second place but they hold individually the highest pinfalls of the year as a team. Choppers' most able assistants are Jake Garcia, Richard Tofuri, Corregido Fiore, Frank Dattilo and that famous African explorer never without his safran headgear, Ralph Tauro.

We missed the Parakeets last week but it's only a temporary situation as they will be back this week according to "Sketch" Fiore, the scoutmaster of Troop 1 now known at Camp Fellsland as "Shut Door" Fiore.

A weekend pass from the Don Orione Home for Aged Italians was issued to our dear beloved brother Hokie Procopio. His appearance was quite a surprise to all.

His recent ailment no. 364 which was as you all know a fracture of the right radius. At his age healing is not a medical problem but his age is!

His doctor prescribed quizzing a sponge ball in his right hand and he takes his exercise quite seriously, as we see him laboring conscientiously at his task.

He said he wants to be able to bowl again so we humored him the best we could. The manager of the bowling alley presented him a bowling ball that he may practice. Someone else carried the ball to the car for him.

This week's entry in the Hall of Fame is Deadhorse Chelalo.

BOWLERS HALL OF FAME

Tony Chelalo former boy wonder. Known to all as Deadhorse the Plumber. A little older, a little grayer. This former great Soft Hall player. His pants hung low. We'll need a rally. There goes Deadhorse. Down the alley!

We close the eighth week of bowling and the winner of this week's award was Mr. No. 2 bulldozer operator of Winchester, Butzie Mestretta.

See you next week!

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Hawkins of 11 Stratford road and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Symmes of 233 Main street were among the 549 people who attended the fifth annual Freshman Parents Weekend at Williams College. The Hawkins' son, Laurence A., and the Symmes' son, Roger H., are members of the Class of 1961.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

Monday, November 4, was Presidents' Day at the Fortnightly and many presidents and officers of other clubs in our Eighth District attended as guests.

At 1 p.m., a delicious dessert was served by Mrs. Harold E. Berquist and her committee. Two past presidents, Mrs. Walter W. Winship and Mrs. Lora A. Rhodes, poured. The gracious chairman of hostesses was Mrs. Warren H. Whitman, and the hostesses were committee chairmen. Greetings were exchanged in a receiving line which included Mrs. Kirke L. Alexander, president of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Benjamin P. Bill, director of the eighth district, and Mrs. America Chavez, clerk of the State Federation, all of whom spoke later from the platform.

We learned that our state leads the nation in the service it gives to war veterans. Mrs. Alexander emphasized that present-day women's clubs are organized for service. Mention was made of Federation Day at Sturbridge Village on November 14 sponsored by four state committees with reduced entrance fee for federated club members. Special features should induce many to go.

The president of the Fortnightly, Mrs. Paul Atwood, dispensed with any business and introduced the entertainer for the afternoon, Miss Eleanor Ross, a talented dramatic comedienne. Those in the audience who had not had the pleasure of seeing the New York production "My Fair Lady" were treated to a condensed version of the entire score. The story, adapted from Shaw's "Pygmalion," was unfolded in rapid sequences as we saw the Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, transformed by Prof. Higgins. Miss Ross' complete mastery of the part made us feel she was quite capable of appearing on Broadway. Background music and accompaniment to her songs were rendered by an expert pianist.

We thank all who contributed to making this meeting so successful. It was brought to our attention that anyone wishing to entertain a foreign student for Thanksgiving should contact the International Students' Center in Cambridge.

Art Committee

As this is National Art Week, the Fortnightly is sponsoring again an exhibition of the work of local artists. On the Thompson street windows of Filene's two oil paintings by Dorothy Howard, "The Saw Mill" and "Twin Lights" are displayed, also detail from a Nativity scene, "The Madonna," by Gloria Mucera. Two water colors by Emily Marks are shown, "Ships and Rings" and "In the Greenhouse," also two oils by Helen Walker, "Crashing Waves" and "Chrysanthemums."

We are indebted to Miss Rita Mucera of Filene's for the arrangements and to Miss Rachel Armstrong, manager, for allowing the use of the windows again.

The Fortnightly wishes to express its appreciation to the above artists and to Mrs. Hiram Moody, art chairman, who planned the exhibition.

EDISON INCOME DOWN

President Thomas G. Dignan of Boston Edison Company reports to stockholders that net income for the first nine months of 1957 was $6,727,636, as compared with $7,238,210 in the corresponding period in 1956, a reduction of $510,574.

Dividends on the preferred stock issued in June 1956 have been $573,600 thus far in 1957, as compared with $213,396 in 1956. The balance available for common shares for the nine months ended September 30, 1957, was $6,154,036, or $2.27 a share as compared with $7,024,814, or $2.59 a share, in 1956.

Mr. Dignan stated that to meet the problem of rising expenses the Company on September 5, 1957 filed with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities a complete revision of rate schedules, which would result in increases in revenues of approximately $2,488,000 a year. Hearings before the Department are now in progress.

TURKEY WHIST AND BRIDGE

On Tuesday evening, November 12, at 8:15 p. m. St. Mary's Holy Name Society will hold their annual turkey whist and bridge party in St. Mary's Hall.

The affair will be turned over to Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's for the general church fund. Scores of fine prizes donated by the merchants of Winchester including approximately 15 turkeys will go to the winners. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited and a wonderful time is assured to all.

In charge of arrangements are: John McDonald, general chairman; Gerry Freedman and Arthur Duffy, chairmen; Henry O'Neil, prizes; Frank Antonuccio, refreshments; Rev. Martin J. Dolphin, spiritual director; John Fitzgerald, president.

Mrs. Andrew A. Armato, wife of Andrew A. Armato, a senior at the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery, Kirksville, Mo., is a member of the ways and means committee of the Osteopathic Women's Club, a service organization, at the College.

HALLOWEEN SOCIAL

At the closing of church services last Tuesday the I.C.C. Ladies Socialists were invited to their school hall to attend a Halloween Social.

The hall was decorated for the occasion, set the mood for the party, which got underway with little Miss Kathy O'Donnell, dressed as a skeleton setting her bones to rattling with a soft-shoe dance.

The stage was then set for an uproarious skit of a damsel (Rhea Manderville) in distress, kidnapped by Indians (Mara Higgins, Julia Bonasera, Jean O'Donnell) and saved from the burning stake in the nick of time by Handsome Harry (???) and Courageous Nell (Kay McHugh). The antics of all the cast were hilarious and added much to the merriment of the skit.

Stealing their thunder were the "Can-Can Girls" whose gay costumes and lively dance were tremendous. The girls, Ann Brown, Helen Mawn, Ruth Malonson, Florence Lane, Vicki Doherty and Esther O'Donnell, were so colorful that it was necessary for them to do an encore to still the applause.

Helping to maintain this wonderful spirit of gaiety were two renowned comedians, who did a side-splitting routine in pantomime to "To-night you belong to me." They were the show stoppers and it is rumored that they are booked solid for the next four years.

A light collation was served after the show. The sodality Bands 2, 4 and 6 are to be congratulated on their well-planned social. The faces of their sister sodalists wreathed in smiles as they left for home should give them great satisfaction that their efforts were certainly exhilarating.

MRS. KATHERINE L. ABBOTT

Mrs. Katherine L. Abbott of 1 Forest circle, widow of Gideon B. Abbott, and mother of the late Donald S. Abbott, formerly of Winchester, died Saturday, November 2, after a three weeks illness at the age of 80.

Mrs. Abbott was the daughter of Lovell S. and Mary Louise (Sawin) Snow. Born in Roxbury, she had lived in Winchester for the past 18 years. She leaves a daughter, Louise Abbott of Hartsdale, N. Y.; and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by Rev. Charles E. Anadore. Interment was in the family lot in Milton Cemetery, Milton.

MRS. MARY T. COAKLEY

Mrs. Mary T. Coakley of 338 Harvard street, Cambridge, mother of Rev. Mark J. Coakley, a former curate at the Immaculate Conception parish in Winchester, died early Sunday morning at the Cambridge City Hospital after a long illness. She had been a resident of Cambridge for many years.

The funeral was held Thursday morning with solemn requiem high mass at St. Paul's Church, Cambridge, at 10 o'clock. Father Coakley was the celebrant. Burial was in St. Paul's Cemetery, Arlington where the committal prayers were read by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Augustine F. Hickey, vicar general of the diocese.

Winchester Wins Another

Reading Beaten In Rain, 28-0

Winchester High proved a better aquatic team than Reading last Saturday afternoon, beating the Rockets, 28-0, in what was billed as a Middlesex League football game between the two schools on rain-soaked Manchester Field.

Only a very few drenched enthusiasts witnessed the game, which was all Winchester. Fumbles hurt both teams, but on the whole the handling of the wet pigskin was remarkable.

Winchester made only five first downs to two for Reading, rushing for 217 yards to 81 for the Scarlet. The Indians completed neither of their two pass attempts, while Reading made two of six aerials good for 16 yards. Winchester was penalized 30 yards and fumbled five times, recovering once. Reading lost 50 yards in penalties and fumbled four times, recovering twice.

Winchester scored first midway through the first quarter when Graham, whose line play has been consistently good all season, fell on a Reading fumble at the Rockets' 20.

Flaherty broke through for three and then Thomson took a pitchout from Longworth, sweeping left 17 yards into the end zone without a hand being laid upon him. Thomson also rushed over for the conversion and Winchester led, 7-0.

The Indians failed to capitalize on a scoring opportunity in the early minutes of the second quarter when "Art" Stavardis, continuing his sterling play at center, blocked a Tompkins punt and Winchester recovered at the Reading 22.

Winchester fumbled the ball away on the first play and Tompkins kicked out of danger. The Indians were on the way when the half ended, advancing from the Reading 47 to the 20 as the whistle blew.

For some unknown reason Reading elected to kick to Winchester to start the second half, as they did to start the game, and Bill Morton recovered the short boot at the Winchester 43.

Once again Longworth pitched out to Thomson, with "Doug" turning the left corner, aided by some good blocking, and going all the way to the Reading end zone. Flaherty rushed in the extra point.

After the kickoff a 15-yard holding penalty pushed Reading back to its 25. The 215-pound Mason bulled his way to the 34, but Caywood failed to gain and Tompkins dropped back to kick.

Once again Stavardis went barreling up the middle to block the kick and recover the ball at the Reading 26.

Paonessa sneaked through to the 21, and for the third time Thomson swept left for the touchdown from a pitchout, doing some nifty faking and making excellent use of his interference to fool several potential tacklers at the 10. The run was reminiscent of his long touchdown gallop at Cambridge when he executed the same in-and-out maneuver.

In the opening minutes of the final quarter Reading had a big chance when Flaherty got a bad pass back from center on an attempted kick and had to fall on the ball at the Winchester 32.

Reading took over at that point and Caywood and Chess made first down at the 20, the Rockets' initial first down of the afternoon.

Ash was piled up for no gain, and on the next play Johnson dropped back to pass. His long heave was pulled out of the air by "Doug" Thomson at the Winchester 13, and the speedy Winchester fullback was on his way.

Only one man had an actual chance at him an unidentified Winchester boy handled him beautifully, merely running between the tackler and the flying Thomson.

Once in the clear "Doug" turned on the heat and simply breezed away from all pursuit, going into the end zone with no one even close.

Little Cosimo Paonessa rushed for the extra point, and the seconds took over for Winchester. There was no further scoring, though the scrubs missed a good chance when Brian Cullen fell on a Reading fumble at the ten. Winchester fumbled away the ball in turn at the Reading four.

Two passes from Johnson to Chess took the ball to a first down at the 20 as the game ended. The summary:

READING: le. Tompkins; lt. Banfield; lr. Olson; chess. c. Latham; rg. Doherty; rt. Goodwin; manur. re. DeFerrari; qb. McCauley; lbh. Hiesley; fb. Morgan; kb. Hiesley; cb. Mason.

what is an ESTATE

It is the interest that a person has in property, and is to be distinguished from the property itself. For example, a person may have a life estate in real property, which means that his interest in the property lasts only during a lifetime — his own or someone else's — and then passes on to some other person. However, in everyday language a person's estate means all the property of every kind that he owns.

The above is one of the very important questions answered in the Malden Trust booklet, "YOU AND YOUR FAMILY," written by Gilbert Thomas Stephens, an attorney and leading authority on Trust Matters, and available to you without charge.

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD

Robert Seymour Crawford, of 13 Myrtle street, a native of Winchester and member of one of the town's oldest families, passed away Friday, November 1, at the age of 75.

Mr. Crawford was the son of Robert and Margaret (MacLaughlin) Crawford. He was born October 17, 1882, in the house on Myrtle street, built by his father, in which he spent the greater part of his lifetime. His father lived in Winchester when the town was a part of Woburn and was well known as a builder, laying the floors of the Wadleigh School and building the first gate for the town's system of reservoirs.

The younger Mr. Crawford grew up in Winchester, was educated in the Winchester schools and attended the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy. He worked for Frank Covell, druggist, now Hevey's, with John F. O'Connor in his pharmacy at the corner of Main and Thompson streets; and for Chester Baker, a Boston druggist.

Leaving the field of pharmacy, Mr. Crawford moved to the West Coast to enter the advertising business with the Polk Advertising Agency, covering Washington, Oregon and California. During that time he lived in Monterey.

Returning to Winchester he became associated with the Achor Stationery Shop on Boylston street in Boston, remaining there until his retirement ten years ago.

Throughout his lifetime Mr. Crawford was an enthusiastic gardener, and after his retirement he spent much of his time in his flower and vegetable gardens, taking a great pride in the excellence of the flowers and vegetables he grew.

Mr. Crawford's only survivor is his sister, Miss Alice Crawford, with whom he made his home.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with Dr. Dwight L. Cart, minister of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

JOHN L. GRAVES

John L. Graves of 2 Atherton road, sales manager of the Saco-Lowell Shops in Boston, died Monday, November 4, at the Phillips House in Boston of pneumonia. He returned home ill from a trip to Maryville, Tenn., where he attended the home-coming football game of Maryville College on the fiftieth anniversary of his first playing football for Maryville.

Mr. Graves was the son of Samuel M. and Amy (Dick) Graves. He was born October 22, 1889, in Knoxville, Tenn., where he attended the public schools before entering and graduating from Maryville College.

Prior to World War I, in which he served overseas as a lieutenant with the field artillery and engineers, he was employed by Callaway Mills in Lagrange, Ga.

In 1919 he joined the Saco-Lowell Shops in the Charlotte, N.C., office, and after 26 years service in sales offices in Charlotte, Greenville and Atlanta, Ga., he came to Boston as sales manager of that office in 1945.

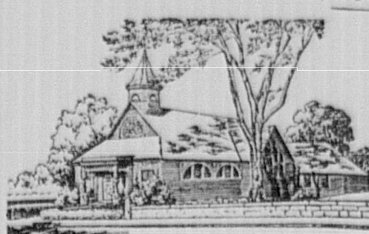

He came to Winchester the following year and had since made his home here. He was a member of the First Congregational Church, Winchester Country Club and the Newcomen Society in America.

On April 28, 1920, Mr. Graves married Ellen Turner of Seattle, Wash., who survives, with a daughter, Mrs. Charles C. Conklin of Wolcott, N. Y.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Burial was in Knoxville, Tenn.

Former Navy Petty Officers and Seamen are needed in the Reserve Training Program. Although our country is not now engaged in a shooting war, we know that the peace of the world is definitely threatened. A strong well trained military reserve is our best and most economical answer to that threat.

Ex-servicemen form the nucleus of experience and leadership important to the successful training of the newly enlisted recruits in the Naval Reserve Program. By attending drills once a week, veterans who already have served active duty time, plus future time spent in satisfactory Reserve Service, provided that total comes to 20 or more years, can be assured of a tidy monthly retirement income that will begin at the age of 30.

Veterans desiring further information may call Lieut. Commander Richard Thomas at Winchester 6-4279-M or the Naval Reserve Training Center Lynn 2-6411.

PATENT TO RAPHAEL

Thomas Raphael of 5 Oneida road and Richard W. Schweizer of Bedford, were the recipients on October 22, 1957 of U. S. patent No. 2,810,775, entitled "Plate Separator for Storage Batteries."

Storage batteries of the lead-acid type are widely used. As a general rule, the positive and negative plates of such a battery comprise grids of lead or an alloy of lead to which the active material is applied as a paste. The platesal stability, non-conduction of elec-are immersed in an electrolyte, and the purpose of using a paste as the active material is to obtain a porous structure and therefore increase the available surface area for the electrochemical reaction that occurs during use of the battery.

In order to obtain a high current output, the plates of opposite polarity should be placed as close together as possible without touching each other and causing internal short circuits. A plate separator is used for this purpose and should have such properties as dimension-tricity, permeability for the electrolyte, and resistance to acids and the harmful effects of oxygen.

In view of these basic requirements, very few materials, according to Messrs. Raphael and Schweizer, have been satisfactory for use as separators for the plates of storage batteries. These include certain veneers of wood, rubber structures, and cellulose fibers impregnated with an acid-resistant thermosetting resin. Although considerable attention has been given in recent years to separators of the latter type and they have been used extensively, nevertheless, they have had the disadvantage of unsatisfactory resistance to oxidation.

Messrs. Raphael and Schweizer have discovered that satisfactory fibrous battery plate separators may be produced by encasing the outermost fibers of a surface there- of with a special thermoplastic resin. This may be done by a spraying operation. In their patent specifications they list a number of resins that may be employed for the purpose, and it is claimed that the practice of their invention results in battery separator plates which have outstanding resistance to oxidation as well as the other necessary properties including superior mechanical strength and flexibility.

This patent has been assigned to W. R. Grace Company, Cambridge, Mass.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

WHAT IS EMARC?

EMARC is the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children serving the towns of Winchester, Melrose, Stoneham, Wakefield, Woburn, Burlington, Reading, North Reading, and Wilmington. It is an organized group of parents of retarded children who are dedicated to help these children regardless of their abilities, and to help the parents who are faced with this human tragedy. It is our hope to give every retarded child a life as full as he is capable of enjoying, for in God's sight and in ours a retarded child is no less precious than his normal brothers and sisters.

Do you realize that in Massachusetts alone there are 142,000 retarded children—that three out of every 100 children born are, or will be, retarded? Retarded children belong to all, Catholic, Jew, Protestant, rich or poor, any community.

Why are we not a member of United Fund? Because United Fund, with the hundreds of organizations depending upon it, cannot guarantee the financial support of a rapidly growing organization such as ours, whose budget nearly doubles each year. It would be detrimental to limit our power for diagnostic and guidance centers, for social workers, sheltered workshops, pre-school and vocational training classes as well as research and educational programs.

Therefore, we must go the way of some of our other brother organizations such as Heart, Cerebral Palsy, Polio, and Crippled Children, until such time as the United Fund has the money to sponsor each and every association to the utmost for its good. That will be a happy day for all!

Until then, from November 11th to December 11th, give a corner of your heart and your pocket-book for the "No Less Precious."

Look in next week's "Winchester Star" for a surprising announcement regarding the new EMARC Fund Drive Game starting Saturday, November 16.

"SILENT AUCTION"
NOVEMBER 13, 14

A "Silent Auction" will be the big feature of the colorful "Santa's Workshop Fair" on Wednesday and Thursday, November 13, and 14, at the First Congregational Church. The fair opens its doors at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening (there is dessert and coffee at 7:15 p. m.), and on Thursday from 10 o'clock until dinner hour.

This Auction, headed by Mrs. Allen O. Eaton and Mrs. C. C. Peter, with a large committee, has acquired some lovely things—decorative, useful, and valuable. You may bid on a permanent wave from the Terrace Beauty Salon, snow tires from the Roberts Jenney Station; a water color by Elizabeth Lobingier; an aluminum storm door from the Stetson Window Company; 100 gal. oil from Parker Lane Winn; paintings, old glass, antique furniture, lamps, figurines, and many other items. Some pieces will go to the highest bidder on Wednesday evening—others will go at certain hours on Thursday, some not until the end of the fair. In order to obtain the item you wish, you simply write down your name, address, and what you would be willing to bid for the item on a paper that will be attached to the item. Your friend may come along and raise your bid, but if you want the item, just come back and change your bid! This committee working on the Silent Auction promises a most interesting time for you at the fair—treasures for everyone!

SENIOR FORUM

"Everyone Has a Job in the Community" is the subject which the Hon. Harrison Chadwick will discuss at the Senior Forum chapel service on Sunday at the First Congregational Church. It is a topic of special interest to teen-agers who have a growing sense of their responsibilities in American life. Mr. Chadwick, town moderator and representative in the Mass. General Court, has for many years been active in work with the town's young people, especially in ice hockey. His enthusiastic interest has made him one of Forum's favorite guest speakers.

Doug Gowdy will be chaplain and Terry Mulford assistant chaplain. Serving as deacons will be Nelson Andresen and Steve Morison. Ralph Thompson and Robert Gowdy will be ushers.

Forumites are planning a "splash" party for Saturday evening, November 16, at the Melrose YMCA. Swimming, dancing, the gym and lobby games will be available from 7:30 to 10:30. The event is in charge of the social committee co-chairmen, Phyllis Rutter and Dave Schumacher.

The first of a series of class nights will be held on Sunday evening, November 17, at the homes of the class advisers. Student Council representatives are planning for lively discussions and a good time for all. The annual Forum Night at the Congregational Men's Club is scheduled for Tuesday, November 19, when Prof. Robert Nichols of Tufts will give an illustrated talk on his adventurous trip to polar regions: "Beyond the Arctic and Antarctic Circles to the Ends of the World."

World War I Exhibit

"At 11 o'clock on the morning of November 11, 1918, an entire world, weary, worn and bent under the disaster of the World War, knelt in thanks to God. The guns ceased booming. A new note was in the air. A new hope was in every heart, a hope and a prayer that the fighting of nation against nation, of people against people, had ended for all times. We want to go back in spirit to that grand moment. We want to recall the purpose common to everyone at that moment to do each his or her share to make impossible, ever again, such a disaster."

To the American Legion from its Commander, 1921
To celebrate and to recall the significance of this important event, the Library has arranged an interesting exhibit of World War I books and posters in the Main Lobby. The posters, which are the work of famous artists of the day, were kindly donated to the Library by Mrs. Herbert Ross of 26 Lakeview road, Winchester.

Among the subjects covered by the books in the exhibit are biographies of important personages of the time, i.e., Wilson, Lodge, Clemenceau, etc.; tales of combat, both fiction and non-fiction; espionage; the League of Nations; and the Russian Revolution.

In Spain's southern provinces entire communities live below ground in natural caves, the National Geographic Magazine says. Their homes vary just as houses do; some have only a single room, others as many as 20 chambers with tiled floors and whitewashed walls. Granada's caverns, a center of flamenco art, have sheltered many of Spain's finest singers and dancers.

OBSERVANCE OF VETERANS DAY

Commander, Frank Provinzano, of the Winchester American Legion, Post 97, urges all Legionnaires and veterans of the town to take part in the observance of Veterans Day. It is our annual duty as veterans to march from the Legion Home on Vine street to the War Memorial at the Junior High School and return to the starting point. It is a short march but a march in commemoration of those who died on the fields of battles and the observance of the signing for Peace after World War I. It is our duty to participate!

There is a compelling conviction of a need for dramatic demonstration of National unity by American people in face of new Communist challenge.

Neutral and friendly nations are being blackmailed by Kremlin exploitation of Sputnik. There is a great need to remind the entire world, friend, enemy, and neutral, that citizens of the U. S. always have and always will stand together in the face of common danger.

The observance of Veterans Day is an expression of our united faith in America. We should show on this day that America is united in its determination to safeguard our way of life. The display of the Flag over every home and building should be a massive reaffirmation of our love of Country.

The veterans will be at the War Memorial on this day at 11:00 a. m. when taps shall be sounded and church bells will be ringing and all of us should be in silent prayers for peace and unity.

Let's all take part in the observance of Veterans Day!

ARCHDEACON JOHN M. BURGESS

TO SPEAK ON THE CHURCH'S WORK IN HOSPITALS

On Tuesday, November 19, at the Epiphany Parish Hall, the Venerable John M. Burgess, archdeacon of Boston in charge of the Episcopal City Mission, and Mrs. Burgess will be the guests of honor at the general meeting of the Church Service League which includes all the women of the parish.

Following the 12:30 luncheon, Archdeacon Burgess will speak on his work in the various Boston mission projects with particular emphasis on one of the growing fields of activity of the church, the hospitals. That this is a special interest of Archdeacon Burgess is understandable in the light of his training and experience.

Following his graduation from the University of Michigan, Mr. Burgess received his M.A. degree in sociology. In 1934 he completed his work at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge with an outstanding record, and was ordained priest in 1935. He served in parishes in Grand Rapids, Michigan, and Woodlawn, Ohio, where he administered a social service center and day school in addition to his church work to try to meet the needs of a depressed negro community.

Subsequently as chairman of the Diocese of Southern Ohio, he guided the work of hospital chaplains and of such institutions as the Youth Consultation Service in Cincinnati. He also acted as dean of students at the Diocesan Youth Conference.

In April 1944, Mr. Burgess was chosen by his former teacher, the Rt. Rev. Angus Dun, D.D., to be one of the two attending Presbyters at his consecration as bishop of Washington in the Washington Cathedral. 1946 found him chaplain at Howard University and shortly afterwards, a canon of the Washington Cathedral, a member of the Department of Social Relations of the Diocese of Washington, and president of its board of examining chaplains.

With increasing scope he has served on the National Youth Commission, the National Committee on College Work, and currently, on the Racial Minorities Advisory Committee to the presiding bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess and their two children make their home at present in Newton Centre.

A cordial welcome is extended to the women of Winchester who are concerned with the social work of the churches, and especially with meeting the spiritual as well as the physical needs of those who are ill.

Tickets for the luncheon may be procured at the parish office, 70 Church street, and must be purchased before Sunday, November 17, as no tickets will be sold at the door.

HALLOWEEN DAMAGE

Several phone calls were received at the police station on Halloween reporting damage to private property and public facilities.

Among the damage reported were street lights broken at Main street and Marshall road, air let out of tires of cars parked near the public library, damage to hockey nets at Ginn Field, several reports of broken pumpkins and fireworks explosions, complaints of dumping rubbish, damage to cars by rotten eggs and one incident of tampering with an automobile ignition.

Tomorrow's "MIRACLES"

New and even more miraculous drugs are being developed by creative scientists, physicians and pharmacists. When the drugs are perfected and released, we will have them in our prescription laboratory. But in the broad definition of the term, every prescription that stops pain or restores to health is a "miracle drug." As pharmacists we specialize in these man-made "miracles" by producing prescribed medicine with true professional skill.

EN KA FALL MEETING

Mrs. Frank D'Elseaux of 12 Sheffield road graciously opened her home on Tuesday, October 29, for the annual fall meeting of En Ka Society. After a very delicious luncheon, served by Mrs. Don S. Greer and her capable committee, the president, Mrs. George L. Connor, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Paul Forester, Jr., announced that plans for the En Ka Street Fair were well underway.

Mrs. John McLean, civic chairman, reported that once again the members are managing the Book Truck and Baby Photo Service at the hospital. VISIT MUSEUM Youngsters from Mystic, Parkhurst and Washington schools, saw electricity in action in a recent special Museum of Science lecture-demonstration program.

They were among some 50,000 children from parochial, public and private schools who will see the year-long School Visit Program under sponsorship of the Metropolitan District Commission.

They see for themselves just what electricity is, what it does and how indispensable a role it plays in our daily lives.

A tour of the Museum's Exhibit Halls, including a stage demonstration of Spooky, nationally famous pet great horned owl, completes the program.

DRAPEAUS RETURN TO TOWN

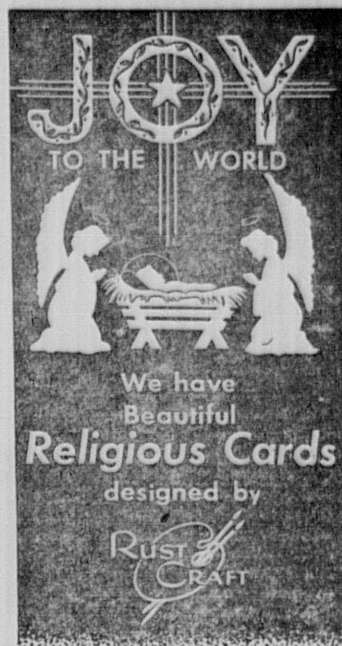

Mr. Thomas J. Drapeau has just returned to town after having enjoyed a well deserved vacation from his position as superintendent of buildings of the Winchester School Department. Tommy has not had a day off in over a year, even working Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays as was necessary when certain maintenance problems presented themselves.

The first two weeks of Mr. Drapeau's vacation was spent down on Cape Breton. Tom traveled over nine hundred miles to get there to visit friends and relatives, and of course to spend two enjoyable weeks hunting. Mr. Drapeau is quite a sportsman and an excellent shot. While hunting he managed to "bag" a 165-pound doe. This is par for the course every time Tom goes hunting "down east." Needless to say, on return to Winchester Mr. and Mrs. Drapeau entertained their son and his charming wife and several friends at a very choice roast deer dinner—a feast which was a gourmet's delight.

This past week the Drapeaus spent in the White Mountains of New Hampshire touring the many famous scenic spots of this well known vacation area. We hope Tom managed to do some hunting while there but we haven't heard yet whether he did or whether he was successful at his favorite pastime in "this neck of the woods."

HOLY NAME HEARS BOSTON COLLEGE PROFESSOR

On Sunday, November 10, St. Mary's Holy Name Society received holy communion in a body at the 7:45 a. m. mass celebrated by Father Edmund Parker.

After mass, coffee and doughnuts were served in St. Mary's Hall prepared by refreshment chairman Frank Antonuccio and Al Thorne, III.

President John Fitzgerald opened the meeting and spiritual director Father Martin J. Dolphin led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge. Secretary George Ross and treasurer Robert Plunkett read their reports. President Fitzgerald announced that Louis Stowe has been appointed sick and vigil committee chairman. Jim Kennedy and Art Sampson are looking for a few men to assist in the singing of the hymns from the choir box during mass.

Program chairman Paul Mulloy introduced the guest speaker Mr. Harry M. Doyle, Ph.D., professor of history at Boston College. Professor Doyle has been at Boston College for many years in fact Father Dolphin was one of his pupils twenty-four years ago. The subject of Mr. Doyle's talk was communism, its history and its aims. "Communism is the sworn enemy of all religions and its object is to take over the whole world," said Professor Doyle. It was a stirring address and one of the finest that St. Mary's Holy Name Society has had in recent years.

Father Dolphin closed the meeting with a prayer.

NOONAN SCHOOL TEA FOR MISS SMITH

On Wednesday, November 6, Mrs. Courtney Crandell, 2 Ardley place, was hostess at a tea in her home honoring Miss Smith, first-grade teacher at Noonan School.

Miss Smith discussed with the mothers the reading program and the expected progress of this subject by first-grade students as the school year passes.

This was followed by a general discussion and a lively questioning period.

A very delightful collation and tea was served by Mrs. Crandell, assisted by Mrs. Edward Hulbert and Mrs. Edward Higgins.

SYMME'S ON THEIR WAY HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall W. Symme flew last month to Los Angeles, Calif., and spent sometime at the La Valencia Hotel in La Jolla, California. They sailed from Los Angeles on the Matsonia of the Matson Line to Honolulu, where they were registered at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel on Waikiki Beach for a week.

Afterwards they made a tour of the outer islands of Kani, Mani, and Hawaii, for a week. Upon their return to Honolulu they were registered at the Reef Hotel. Sailing on the Lurline for San Francisco, they registered at the Mark Hopkins Hotel before returning home.

LEMMENS' WINDOW DECORATED

The experiment which began last week, when one window at the Lemmens was decorated by a group of eighth-grade girls, has been completed. Three eighth-grade boys, Charles Worcester, David Taylor and Jim von Rosenvinger, undertook the second window with great determination and no hesitation. They seemed to know what they wanted and how to get the effects they desired.

Both groups gave much thought and considerable work to this project, and we think they deserve a great deal of praise for carrying it through so successfully.

FREDERICK P. LOCKE

Frederick P. Locke, 76, of 134 Cambridge street died Thursday, November 7, at his home after several months of failing health.

Born on March 15, 1861, he was the son of Varnum and Elizabeth (Hutchinson) Locke. He lived his whole life, with the exception of one winter in Florida, in Winchester and many people will remember him. Until about two months ago, he was up and around and rooted for the Yankees in the World Series.

Mr. Locke was very much interested in Winchester and knew every street and every fire alarm box location; even to the end he would count the rings and tell where the fire call came from. Perhaps the biggest moments in his life were when he put on a white shirt and his blue serge suit on Friday afternoon to go down to the barber shop and to pay his bills at the local stores. Although he lived through four wars, he was never called to the service.

His knowledge of the town was great and there were probably few around now who recall such places as Birch Hollow (Wedgemere avenue and Church street), Stump Hill (the rise between Robinson park and the Country Club), and Meadowgate Seminary (a school house on the left side of Ridge street).

Mr. Locke was one of the farmers who took a horse and tip cart and carried loads of dirt from what is now Oxford street over to Winter Pond for the Mystic Valley railroad which never materialized.

Mr. Locke is survived by two sisters, Miss Bessie Locke and Miss Elsie Locke who both live at the family home on Cambridge street. Funeral services were held Saturday at the Kimball Chapel with the Rev. Walter Bailey officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER NIGHT AT NOONAN SCHOOL

On Wednesday night, November 6, the assembly hall at Noonan School was a scene of complete gaiety when Johnny the Clown entertained a large group of mothers and daughters of the school. The girls, as well as their mothers, were fascinated when Mr. John Sisson of Quincy showed them how he put on the make-up and costume to produce "Johnny the Clown."

This was followed by refreshments, served by the social committee of the Mothers' Association. A short meeting of the Mothers' Association preceded the entertainment.

WINCHESTER MAN YOUTH CENTER HEAD

LT. DEMPSEY PLAYED
LEADING PART IN KENNEDY
MEMORIAL SKATING CENTER

Lt. Detective John F. Dempsey of the State Police, a former Winchester boy and one-time member of the Winchester Police Department, is president and a member of the board of directors of the Barnstable Youth Center, Inc., operating the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Memorial Skating Center in Hyannis Village of the town of Barnstable.

The center was made possible by the gift of $150,000, contributed by Joseph P. Kennedy as a memorial to his hero Navy-flyer son, Lt. Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., who was posthumously awarded the Navy Cross and the Air Medal for his exploits in World War II.

The Kennedy family has long maintained a summer home in Hyannisport, and it was the memories of his own children's happy days on the Cape that prompted Mr. Kennedy to provide the funds for a recreation center that could be used by all the Cape Cod youth, and adults.

His gift of $150,000 was made in November of 1955, at which time Lt. Dempsey commenced the organization of the officers and board of directors of the Youth Center and got plans under way for the erection of the building. Lt. Dempsey, a veteran member of the State Police, is stationed on the Cape.

The skating rink is 216 ft. long by 85 ft. wide, large enough to provide a full size ice hockey rink and a recreational skating area. It is the only ice skating rink on Cape Cod.

Standing beside the rink is the skating center building with an equipment room with skaters can put on their skates and make their way over thick rubber mats to the ice; a snack bar, a check-in counter, toilet facilities and an office for the manager. In the summer, the equipment room can be used by Little League baseball players who use a field near at hand.

The building is attractive in design, the work of Richard Sears Gallagher, architect, and ideally organized for the comfort and convenience of those it will serve.

It will interest the many friends of Lt. Dempsey here to know he played so prominent a part in the construction of the building and that he will continue in close contact with the use of the center as president and member of the board of directors. The center will be dedicated this Friday evening, November 15.

MYSTIC SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE FOR PARENTS

During National Education Week, the Mystic School held its annual Open House for the parents on Tuesday evening, November 12.

Mr. Griffin was graduated from M.I.T. in 1955 and has served a hitch in the service. He is an engineer at General Electric Co., in Lynn.

The teachers gave a resume of the year's work ahead in each individual classroom, and the above schedule allowed all parents to visit all their children's rooms. There was time allowed before and after the teachers' speeches to view the children's work.

Refreshments were served in the auditorium from 8:00 p. m. on, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Warren P. Eldridge, chairman of the refreshment committee. A hearty "Thank You" from us all to Mr. Nick Anderson, general proprietor of Converse Market, for his kindness in giving us our cider.

AWARDED CITATION AT THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Erskine N. White of 9 Rangeley road, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., received one of 16 citations awarded to New England lay leaders in recognition of their outstanding contributions to their Christian Church. The awards were made by Andover Newton Theological School last Friday during its 150th annual convocation exercises.

"Master not only of telephone communication and social relations, important officer in various worthy organizations affecting health, education and government," said Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, director of the Winchester Community Fund, chairman of the board of the Huntington School, he is a former trustee of Andover Theological Seminary and a valued member of the First Congregational Church in Winchester.

FORMER RESIDENT RETURNS TO EAST

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin were married on October 5, in St. Louis and spent their honeymoon in Bermuda. Mrs. Griffin is a 1956 graduate of Jackson College and is associated with International Business Machines Corp. in Boston. She had previously been in New York and in Cleveland. Mr. Griffin was graduated from M.I.T. in 1955 and has served a hitch in the service. He is an engineer at General Electric Co., in Lynn.

Employees Notified

Deadline Nears As Beggs & Cobb Board Speeds Search For Buyer

The board of directors of Beggs & Cobb, Inc., on Swanton street announced to employees through letters from the plant manager that operations at the Winchester plant would be discontinued within two weeks to sell the whole corporation.

The decision comes as a result of several years of unprofitable operations at the plant, due partly to stiff competition in western states. About two years ago the stockholders met and decided to go all out to put the plant on a profitable basis and the best engineering counsel was obtained to institute new methods. Considerable progress was reported, but it was not enough to get the plant back on its feet.

Upon hearing this report, the stockholders were reluctant to put any more money in the unprofitable operation and they began to search for someone to buy the entire organization. At the moment, officials at the plant think the situation is encouraging.

Meetings with several organizations which are interested in taking over the Beggs & Cobb operations are being held this week and it is expected that there will be some sort of a decision reached by the middle of next week. It is expected that if a new organization takes over the Corporation the Winchester plant will continue in operation because of the prominence of the 70 year old Beggs & Cobb name in the field of side upper leather.

However, if nothing develops within a few months, the Corporation will liquidate the plant and the workers will be without jobs. The loss to Winchester in taxes and the means of making a livelihood for so many people will be great; the concern has the largest payroll in the immediate area.

On Thursday, November 7, the first teachers' luncheon of the year was given at the home of Mrs. J. Stewart McKindsey, 86 Lawson road.

Unfortunately, Mr. Joseph C. Fort, principal, was unable to attend but Mrs. Maude Dover, secretary, Mrs. Richard Sawyer, president of the Mystic School Chapter of the Mothers' Association and fifteen teachers of the Mystic School were present.

Mrs. Wayne Cowles, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. William Cantwell and Mrs. William McFarland formed the committee assisting Mrs. McKindsey with the luncheon.

UF RESIDENTIAL SOLICITATION STARTS SATURDAY

Although major emphasis is now on giving to United Fund through payroll deduction, personal calling in Winchester must still play an important role, especially this year. Due to the newness of payroll deduction, some companies haven't as yet been able to put the plan into effect. Also, the give-at-work plan doesn't allow self-employed, widowed and moved residents the opportunity to give.

Chairman Robert Edgar points out that this week, during residential solicitation, is an especially good time to review just who is part of the new Fund as well as what the Fund accomplishes.

Who Belongs
American Red Cross, with 48 local chapters and branches (including Winchester) with its services to veterans, disaster services, armed forces services, blood, first aid, water safety, public health, community and international services.

Greater Boston Diabetes Society, with its well-known detection program and Health Fair, camps for diabetic children, protection and service for diabetic mothers. Massachusetts Association for Mental Health, with its dedication to improving mental hospital conditions and treatment for both children and adults, public education, clinics, counseling, research, facilities and equipment services.

Massachusetts Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundations, providing special training to more doctors, increasing number of scientists, financing development of research and treatment centers, extending public knowledge of rheumatic disease and early diagnosis.

Medical Foundation of Metropolitan Boston, organized to support medical research and program of health education and information, which can and does encourage research in all types of diseases with the exception of category, on a voluntary basis.

The Salvation Army, with its famous fresh air camps, and day nurseries, family services, memorial hospital and home departments. Also its emergency disaster service, rehabilitation work for those who are "down and out," and Red Shield clubwork for men and women of our Armed Forces.

Red Feather Community Services, with its well-known 288 member agencies and Charlestown Y.M.C.A. and Armed Forces Club on Boston Common. The committee feels strongly about the value of a cooperative United Church Canvass as a means of furthering closer understanding of each other's point of view.

HI, HIGH SCHOOLERS!

by Gail Hendricks

Give a cheer! Ten-week tests are finally over! I can't say as much for the flu, though. Those germs have really had a field day at the high school.

I think the flu must have really affected the girls' J. V. field hockey team! At the end of a sports season, varsity players bestow upon the junior varsity players certain regulations that they must fulfill on a certain day. "Law breakers" don't need a bath that night with the gym showers so handy! It's all done in fun, so everyone gets a bang out of it. Tuesday the J. V. looked like they were ready to set out for the beach, wearing (1) their beach towels as shirts. The mouse-trap around their necks pinched quite a few noses, I heard tell. Sweaters under sleeveless blouses, hockey sneakers without socks, hair in six pony tails, and books in dolls' cradles added to their colorful outfits. I've now learned what to do when my clothes supply runs out! Seriously though, they were all good sports, even when they bowed to the members of the varsity team!

Sheila Donahue and Phyllis Rogde are the lucky girls who were selected as freshman class representatives for Girls' International Council. Congratulations!

Neighboring Billerica was the home of Jackie Lee, a new junior. The high school there, she told me, is just a little smaller than ours. Hygiene, a class that is held once a week, is required in the junior year. Also, U. S. history is required in the same year. Something else scholastically that interested me was the fact that a student may carry five majors without special permission from the guidance office.

Jackie likes just about the same sports we go for here. Football, basketball, and so on are played at Billerica High, too.

Musically, Jackie said that the school has a large choir, corresponding to our mixed glee club. Open houses are popular with Jackie, just as they are with us. In Billerica the kids dress in just about the same clothes as we do. No fancy clothes for them, either! Jackie's smile has proved she's happy here, and we're all glad! Good to have you aboard, Jackie!

Parties, all sorts, have been kicking up lately. Brunches have been especially popular with the junior girls. Sandy Ericson and Kay Stoffregen sure didn't help the girls keep slim waists with their yummy food! Cindy Hart's brunch was super terrific, too! That crazy music! Need I say more? Marcia Smith had a fabulous brunch, oh, that spaghetti! Bev Bonnell did some publicity work (?) at everyone's request, showing how her family's hard top convertible worked.

Cornwall Military Academy was really buzzing a couple of Saturdays ago. A wonderful formal was the highlight of the week end spent by Jan Donovan, Sandy Dantona, and myself. Jan's brother Joe, who is a senior, goes there. He and the rest of the boys looked pretty sharp in their uniforms.

Not only have brunches been clicking, but couples, slumber, open houses and hen parties have gotten up steam. Muriel Mirak, Lynn Goodwin, Janis Davidson and Joan Goodwin are just a few who've thrown parties. Leslie Blackwood's refrigerator was pretty empty after her slumber party, from what I heard!

Paul Sullivan's whole family entertained at his last party. His brother's dancing is really a hit with everyone. Everybody certainly enjoys his parties wholeheartedly and really appreciates his parents' friendliness!

One-Act Play Night is tonight! It promises to be a real success! Good luck to all you Oscar hoppers! So long for now!

LIBRARY NEWS

The Winchester Library was host on Tuesday, November 5, to a group of twenty children's librarians from the Greater Boston area. The meeting opened with an informal discussion and review of the new fall books for children.

Miss Marian E. Phipps, reading consultant for our Winchester schools, then gave an informative talk on the methods and materials used in the teaching of reading. This stimulated a lively interchange of ideas which continued through the lunch period.

Music Program

There will be a regular recorded music program Wednesday, November 20, at 2:30 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. in the Downs Room of the public library.

The program will feature: Bach—Suite No. 1, in C Schumann—Concerto in A Minor for Cello and Orchestra, Casals, cello Mendelssohn—Symphony No. 5 in D Minor (Reformation) Enesco—Rumanian Rhapsodies Nos. 1 and 2

COLLEGE CLUB SPONSORS SERIES

The Reverend Henry Francis Smith with Mrs. Smith, chairman of the Winchester College Club Study Group, "Evenings with the Poets" come from a rich background of education and experience. The College Club is fortunate to have them as chairmen of this group which will meet for six sessions every other Tuesday evening beginning on January 28, 1958.

Mr. Smith spent an interesting boyhood in Turkey where his father served as treasurer of Anatolia College and president of the Theological School under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. He came home to the United States for his higher education, which he received at Beloit College while living with relatives in Madison, Wisconsin. He graduated in 1897.

Following two years of high school teaching he became principal of Warren Academy for Boys in Illinois. From there, his "pursue replenished" he went to New Haven for a three-year course at the Yale Divinity School where he received scholastic honors as well as becoming a tennis champion. After graduation, he was persuaded to re-enter the education field and for three years headed the Classics Department of the Yankton College, South Dakota, followed by four years in the chair of Biblical History and Literature at Colorado College. The student estimate of his standing there was aptly expressed in the following stanza written and sung by the Colorado College Glee Club:

"Here's to our long Prof. Bible

Smith
Who says Adam's rib is only a myth.
He's sharp as a tack and deep as a well.

And what he don't know can go to—Boulder!

(Boulder being the State University and rival in athletics) But Mr. Smith's first love, the ministry, beckoned more strongly and he accepted the call to the Second Congregational Church of Beverly, Mass. From Beverly, he was shortly called to the Congregational Church of our near neighbor, West Medford, where he fruitfully served the community, his church and the church at large for thirty-four years.

Among his avocations have been music, poetry, reading, and walking. Mr. Smith is a familiar figure on our streets since coming to Winchester ten years ago, and a good man to meet.

He has served Boston as president of the Boston Ministers Meeting, president of the Boston's Pilgrim Club and chairman of the Trustees of the Massachusetts Congregational State Conference.

In his early years of teaching high school science and mathematics, Mr. Smith met the lady of his dreams, Miss Lilian Parker, teaching English and German across the hall. They were wed before his final year at Yale. Mrs. Smith, grand-daughter of Dr. Leonard Parker, Associated Pastor of the First Congregational Church of Cambridge from the age of 75 to 90, although born in the Middle West, felt she was "back home" coming from genuine New England stock.

Mrs. Smith graduated from Grinnell College the same year as Mr. Smith from Beloit. After five years of teaching she took up the role of "Royal Mistress of the House." Her hands and mind have not been idle since. In her husband's first parish her talents were at once recognized and within a year she had been made president of her Church Women's Union, president of the Beverly Hospital Aid Association and chairman of the Women's Auxiliary of the YMCA.

Like her husband, Mrs. Smith has served her denomination and the church at large in many capacities, including membership on the Board of Trustees of the Massachusetts Congregational State Conference, on the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches and as a member of the Inter-racial Commission of the National Council. She is a popular speaker and both she and Mr. Smith are inveterate readers.

And now another contribution to our community, chairmen of the new study group "Evenings with the Poets" open to members and non-members of the College Club. Avail yourself of this remarkable opportunity to study with them and sign up after the Thanksgiving announcements are mailed to you.

BADMINTON CHANGE

Winchester badminton players will have the privilege of playing in the new high school gymnasium on Tuesday nights, starting November 19. Four excellent courts will be available. Thursday night sessions will be held in the junior high school gymnasium as in the past.

The club continues to welcome new members. Anyone who is interested is urged to attend any Tuesday or Thursday evening between 7:30 and 11:00 p.m. Racquets and birds are available at the gym.

Remember, Tuesday night play will now be in the new senior high school gym.

SUCCESSFUL FAIR AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

To those who gave the smallest donation of effort and time up through those who gave countless hours of creation or just plain hard work Mrs. Raymond C. Terhune and Mrs. Olcott L. Hooper, co-chairmen of the Winchester Unitarian "World Fair" last week, are extending their grateful thanks. That the venture was very successful financially is gratifying to the more than a hundred people involved in the effort, some previously mentioned but many more not named. Miss Eleanor Walker, church secretary, and Mr. John McGuire and Mr. Gildo Corsi, sextons, must be mentioned as giving service over and above the line of duty. Mr. Sherman B. Russell, major domo of the church house, was a contributor extraordinary without limits of activity.

The Wednesday evening International Show, under the direction of the Reverend Robert A. Storer, climaxed the fair on a highly entertaining and relaxing note. Opening the program was a large and competent group of the Metcalf Union boys and girls in song and dance. Giving the audience many a moment of delight were: Mr. Clinton Jonas, with piano wizardry; Mr. Gerald Y. Hills with a magic show; Mrs. Richard Lawrence, soprano; Miss Ann Lakis, contralto; Mr. Sidney C. Blanchard, Jr., baritone; and the young misses Betsy Aiken, Susan Buchanan, Margaret Rich, and Norma Wood in song interpretation.

MEN'S CLUB
TO HEAR DR. NICHOLS

Dr. Robert L. Nichols, professor of geology at Tufts College and already known to Winchester residents after his lecture here in 1953, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Men's Club of the First Congregational Church on Tuesday, November 19. Dr. Nichols will describe his thrilling experiences in the Arctic and Antarctic regions and especially his 90 day sledge trip with only one companion and his Siberian Huskies. His talk, which is entitled "Beyond the Arctic and Antarctic Circles—To the Ends of the World," is beautifully illustrated with Kodachrome slides and will show the life on the trail, penguins, Eskimos and his Huskies on his travels to the northernmost outposts of Christianity and civilization.

This meeting will, as usual, be a supper meeting and will be held in Chidley Hall at 6:30. However, by popular demand and after having set extremely high standards for themselves last year, Robert F. Williams and his committee which includes Alfred J. Higgins, Hartley Curtis, David Choate, Jr., and Raymond F. Conard will prepare the dinner. Mr. Joseph D. Hall is in charge of dinner reservations and can be reached at Winchester 6-1211.

The members of the Senior Forum are to be the guests of the Men's Club at this meeting.

SOCIAL AGENCY MEETING

The November meeting of the Social Agency Group will be held at the District Nurses' on November 20, at 12:30 p.m. Bring a sandwich. Coffee will be served.

Dr. Libby Bower of the Mass. Association of Mental Health, will be with us to explore the possibilities of setting up a study of this subject for our group.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

There is no appreciable change in the standings this week but the race to the wire in this half has been quite unusual. The first five teams are still very closely bunched and it could be anyone's ball game.

Team Standings:	W	L	PF
St. Mary's	23	13	12,516
Alabama	23	13	12,495
Holy Cross	22	14	12,505
Bates	22	14	12,505
California	20	16	12,377
Georgetown	18	18	12,444
Notre Dame	14	22	12,264
Boston College	3	33	12,133

Hi Single:	138
Choppers Gangi	367
Hi Triple:	367
Max La Carubba	105.1
Top Ten Bowlers:	102.4
Tony Saraco	101.9
Choppers Gangi	97.8
Richard Fiore	97.7
Bob Fiore	97.1
Jeff Gaudioso	96.5
Babe Tofuri	96.1
Max La Carubba	95.1
A. P. Tofuri	94.
Tony Chelafio	94.
Dan Gattinieri	94.

They're still not numerous, the 300 bowlers. The ones who crawled up over the mark this week are: Musky Tofuri, 306; Tony Chelafio, 305; Tony Saraco, 304; Richard Fiore, 304; and Scoutmaster Bob Fiore, 301.

Although they are in third place, Holy Cross again as a team have the honor of having high team pin-falls this week with 1375. It's a well known fact that their Captain Choppers Gangi has spark plugged his team to a high pitch. Once again we mention his captain's assistants who are Jake Garcia, Richard Tofuri, Corregidor Fiore, Frank Dattilo and Ralph Tauro.

I am glad to see by the records that there was almost a perfect attendance this week and also want to thank all you boys for cooperating in getting the bowling started on time.

There is no need of elaborating on the keenness, sharp competition and close coordination of the teams this year which is really tending to make it a real fight right down to the wire.

Occasionally a new bowler joins our bowling and as all others before him he is classified to which category he belongs whether he is a 30 or 90 bowler or better. This particular bowler was classified as a 75 bowler just two years ago. Determined to be a good bowler he continued to practice and give his best. Today he is one of the top ten we are proud to say. He came up the hard way and our hat goes off to this grand guy. A father of four and a successful business man in our community our very own Danny "Cigar" Gattinieri.

This week's entry to the Hall of Fame is Choppers Gangi.

Bowlers Hall of Fame

This is Choppers athlete supreme Mr. Gangi is the man we mean. He likes his sports, and at any he'll do.

As a bowler not best, but no. 2 Softball too he likes a lot. A trophy at home to prove he's top. His hearty laugh will make you tingle.

Oh yes girls he's still single. Five weeks, yes only five weeks before the first half closes. The weeks are really rolling by.

The award this week went to our treasurer and one of our charter members Frank Dattilo, Sr.

See you next week.

UF PRECINCT MEETINGS START

ADVANCE GIFTS GOING WELL

Important educational meetings, explaining the new United Fund story to the precinct captains and workers, are well underway, according to Robert Williams, head of the Worker Information Committee.

Precinct II has already held two meetings. First, with Leo Ford as information committeeman, was held at Assistant Precinct Director Charles Buchanan's home on Highland avenue, last Tuesday. Bob Gallant answered questions the same evening at Precinct Director Austin Nanny's home on Mystic Valley Parkway.

Wednesday evening, information committeeman Leo Ford explained Fund facts to Precinct I workers gathered at Precinct Director Bob Westwater's home on Englewood road. Thursday evening another meeting will be held at the Westwater's.

Precinct III workers are tentatively planning a big meeting at Mystic School, under the direction of director Royce Randlett and information committeeman Dick Sawyer. Precincts IV and V plan to meet at Wyman School also on the 13th with chairman Bob Edgar, Residential Assistant Chairman Thomas Kell and committeeman Austin Broadhurst. Residential Chairman Fred Rosell reports no dates have been set yet for Precinct VI, but will be shortly.

Hardworking Secretary for the Advance Gifts team, Helen Monroe of LaGrange street, reports great progress in spite of weather, flu and other roadblocks. Advance Gifts plans to really go over the top.

For those who like to start early and take their time in making selections, our Christmas card sample books are on display. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Mr. Richard "Rick" Robinson, state president of Pilgrim Fellowship, the Congregational high school youth movement in Massachusetts, will be the speaker Sunday at 9:30 a. m. at the Forum chapel service in Ripley Chapel at the First Congregational Church, Rick, as a first-year student at Boston University College of Liberal Arts, is a member of the Park Avenue Congregational Church in Arlington Heights. Last year he was chairman of the Christian Action Commission of the State Pilgrim Fellowship and from his acquaintance with high school groups around the state he is to speak on the subject "You and P. F." Forum always looks forward to the visit of the state president, since it is the one time during their program when one of their age group is the chapel speaker.

The first of the season's class nights will be held beginning at six o'clock in the homes of class advisers as follows: seniors, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Emerson; juniors, Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mueller; sophomores, Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Schaefer; freshmen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Keppler. Discussions will be led by members of the student council, and the spring trip co-chairmen, Doug Gowdy and Stephanie Hersey, will visit each of the class groups.

LOCAL DRAMA GROUPS

PREVIEW "LO AND BEHOLD!"

On Thursday evening the Unitarian Players welcomed to Metcalf Hall representatives of the Parish Players, the Teachers' Club of the High School, and the Winchester Community Theatre for the final rehearsal of "Lo and Behold!" which opens tonight and plays again tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.

As the guests exchanged informal criticism over coffee between the acts, those who were familiar with this unusual John Patrick comedy seemed to give top honors to director Thomas Roach for his skillful blending of the acting ensemble as well as highlighting of the individual roles in this rainbow of characters:

Milo Alcott, writer, Frank Thayer
Daisy Burdell, model, Adele Jones
Wingate, lawyer, Harry Wood
Minnetonka Smallflower, Charlotte Hill
Kamodee, composer, Steffi Rath
Honeychile Wainwright, Charlotte Burr

UNITARIAN

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

An unusual meeting of the Junior High Fellowship of the Unitarian Church was held this past Sunday. Jon Abbott, amateur fly maker, presented some samples of his work to the group. A creative worship service was held in Meyer Chapel at the close of the social period.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams and Elinor Starkweather served as parent guests. Mrs. Norton E. Demsey, Jr., is chapel organist for the fellowship. Mr. Gardner Handy and Mr. Miles McKee are advisors.

NAMES AND ADDRESSES WANTED BY HOMEFRONTERS

The Christmas project of the Winchester Homefronters, the packing and sending of Christmas boxes to the Winchester servicemen and women, is in full swing at 47 Church street. The chairman, Mrs. Malcolm W. Burr, and vice chairman, Mrs. Harland A. Wilbur, with Mrs. Harold Given, executive chairman, and all members of the board are taking turns packing. They are hard at work but also having a wonderful time doing it.

The files chairman, Mrs. Ross Cunningham, and her assistant, Mrs. Eugene C. Hussey, Jr., are getting the names and addresses ready. We do not want to miss a single boy or girl from Winchester serving our country. Therefore, we need the help of their families to be sure to have the latest correct name, rank and address. On the front page of the Star is a printed form to be filled out. This can either be delivered in person or mailed to the Homefronters, c/o The Public Library, Winchester. Or you may telephone Mrs. Eugene Hussey at Winchester 6-3102. We want to mail the boxes as soon as possible so that those far away will be sure to get them in time for Christmas.

We also want to thank the junior and senior high school girls who helped collect at the Reading-Winchester game in the pouring rain. As part of our tag day we had been permitted to collect at the opening home game; and since it was postponed, these girls, in charge of Mrs. Daniel Gaynor, chairman, braved the elements at the first game here.

VIOLIN SOLOIST AT MELROSE

Of interest to all violinists in Winchester is the celebration on November 17 of the 40th season of Symphony Concerts by the Melrose Orchestral Association. This neighboring orchestra is the oldest continuously functioning organization of its kind in the nation. From Winchester assisting in this concert are Miss Ethel McEwen and Mrs. Carl E. Thomas.

This Sunday afternoon anniversary concert, which commences at 3 o'clock in Memorial Hall, Main street, Melrose, will feature the Boston Symphony's new and brilliant violinist, Joseph Silverstein, in solo performance in the great Violin Concerto in D by Beethoven.

The nearness to Winchester and time of day make this an ideal opportunity for our young violin students to hear a live orchestral concert with an outstanding violin soloist. Mrs. George Dyson, Mrs. William J. O'Malley, and Mrs. Carl E. Thomas are taking a large group of young people, and other parents of violin students are urged to take their children to this concert for the pleasure and inspiration it will provide.

ANNOUNCES NEW SUBSIDIARY

Mrs. E. George Pierce of 319 Main street, president of the Boston Filter Company, announced the formation of a new subsidiary, Dow-Pierce Incorporated, at a dinner meeting at the Parker House in Boston on November 12. Though owned by Boston Filter, the new company will operate independently as the Carrier Air Conditioning distributor for Metropolitan Boston. Located at 43 Harvard street, Charlestown, Dow-Pierce will sell wholesale to greater Boston dealers all types of Carrier commercial, residential and industrial air-conditioning units and parts.

At the conclusion of her speech, Mrs. Pierce presented service pins to thirty-five Boston Filter Company personnel in appreciation of their service to the company for periods of five to thirty-five years. The dinner meeting guests included Mr. John J. Bieko, of the Carrier Company, who was responsible for Boston Filter's original Carrier franchise 20 years ago.

W. D. N. A. NOVEMBER MEETING

On Friday, November 8, at the Art Gallery of the Winchester Library, the board of directors of the Winchester District Nursing Association held its monthly meeting. Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, president, called the meeting to order at ten o'clock. The reports of the secretary, Mrs. Walter F. Keyes, and the treasurer, Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, were read. Plans for the December meeting, at which Mrs. Harry Gilson will speak on the handicapped child, were reviewed.

Mrs. Alfred Wiklund, executive director, then presented her nursing report for October which indicated the case load and general program were normal for this time of year. During the fall, Miss Leona E. Porter and Miss Grace P. Eremian, two new members of the nursing staff, have been approved for both Pure Tone Audiometer Testing and Massachusetts Vision Testing in the school-testing programs which are in progress now at all schools except the high school.

has had a committee studying the problem for the past two years, and its members are about ready to submit their report. They will report at a special town meeting if one is held before the annual meeting. If not, they will report in March.

The meeting to be held in Wakefield will, among others, cover waste disposal such as the committee thinks best. Our town officers and interested citizens can inform themselves in advance of the town meeting on the advantages and disadvantages of what the local committee will recommend. Such an opportunity would seem to be well worth taking.

This week is the start of a month-long drive for funds by the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children. As noted in a story in this issue, EMARC will collect by selling guesses in many Winchester stores on the contents of replicas of the house placed in the common.

The money raised will go to a good cause, for the plight of retarded children is a serious problem today. EMARC works in the towns of Burlington, Melrose, North Reading, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Wilmington, Winchester and Woburn. It contributes to a research project and runs two groups in Wakefield for retarded children in the nine-town area.

Among the projects sponsored by the association are an adolescent group with a qualified teacher which teaches work with hands, and a pre-school nursery group with a teacher which meets twice a week. The school meets in Wakefield, and all retarded children in the nine-town area are provided with free transportation. In addition, two scholarships are given each year to teachers who will enter the field, and one scholarship is given to enable a doctor to study the problems of retarded children.

Keep this in mind when you see one of the replica houses in one of the stores!

ROSAMOND DOWNER BOWES

Mrs. Rosamond Downer Bowes, 49, a former Winchester resident who made her home in Newbury for the past few years, died Tuesday at the Anna Jaques Hospital in Newburyport after a long illness.

Mrs. Bowes was born August 12, 1908, in Brookline, but was brought up in Winchester and attended the local schools here. She was a graduate of the Brimmer-May School in Boston and of Rosemary Hall in Greenwich, Conn. She lived in Winchester until 1941.

Very interested in hospital work, Mrs. Bowes concentrated mainly on volunteer work at the Anna Jaques Hospital over the past few years. When she lived in Winchester, she was active in the Parent Teachers' Association, the Red Cross and the First Congregational Church.

Mrs. Bowes is survived by her mother, Mrs. Cutler B. Downer of Winchester; two sisters, Mrs. Henry D. Tallman of Charleston, West Virginia, and Mrs. Thomas Righter, Jr., of Winchester; and three sons, Cutler Downer Bowes, Rodney Downer Bowes and John Norman Bowes.

Funeral services were held at Story Chapel at the Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge with Dr. Dwight L. Carver, First Congregational Church officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

DADS' NIGHT HELD AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL

The Mothers' Association of the George Washington School held a well-attended open house on Tuesday, November 12.

From 6:45 p.m. to 8:05 p.m., parents and friends of the pupils at the George Washington School had an opportunity to visit all the classrooms and inspect the pupils' work.

At 8:05 p.m. a bell sounded and the parents gathered in the auditorium. Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, president of the Mothers' Association, opened the meeting with a word of welcome to all. She then introduced Mr. Howard Niblock, principal of the senior high school. Mr. Niblock spoke on "Stepping Stones to Higher Education." Mr. Niblock gave what he considered to be the "Stepping Stones" for pupils as they advance to high school and then to college. He emphasized particularly the individuality of the child, not conforming to a preconceived idea of the parent; also he emphasized the pupil reading all that is possible, and above all, he emphasized the pupil doing all of his work to the very best of his own ability.

Mrs. Lunt brought the meeting to a close by inviting everyone to a most complete and well rounded set of guides for the parent. All who heard Mr. Niblock speak came away most enriched.

AT-HOME CARD PARTY

The ways and means committee of the George Washington School Mothers' Association held an "At-Home Card Party" on Thursday, November 7. Afternoon hostesses were: Mrs. Richard Hakanson, Mrs. Robert Westwater, and Mrs. W. C. Urmsion. Evening hostesses were: Mrs. John Coakley, Mrs. Lawrence Lunt, Mrs. Leon Boodakian, Mrs. Lester Brooks, Mrs. William MacDonald, and Mrs. Leo Belliveau. These festive "At Home" card parties proved to be most entertaining and successful.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club met last Wednesday evening, November 6, for their annual Military Whist night. The large group which turned out for this affair was rewarded by a wonderfully entertaining night.

The prizes, all of which were donated, were lovely and thirty couples were lucky enough to end up with one of them. Although the game was not rigged, it was very amusing to note that our energetic presidents, the Joe Maloney's, came out on top in the card game to win first prize! We all know that Joe and Mary are naturals for the presidency, but little did we realize their prowess at cards!

Refreshments were served and the conversation then turned to the next get-together on the calendar, the annual Winter Dance to be held on November 30. We'll have more information on this dance next week, so don't forget to pick up your copy of the Star for all the details.

VETERANS DAY OBSERVED

On behalf of the Winchester American Legion, Post 37, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 3719, the respective Commanders Frank Provinzano and Ralph Fiore, wish to extend many thanks to the encouraging number of members from both veteran organizations for participating in the program.

Officers Reardon and Parsons of the Winchester Police lead the short parade to the War Memorial and back to the Legion Headquarters and did a fine job directing traffic. To you we send our deepest thanks.

First in the line of march were the Commanders of the two Winchester Veteran organizations, Frank Provinzano and Ralph Fiore. They were followed by the colors of both organizations and the American Flag. Color-bearers were Norman Doucette, Clem Landry, Ed Farrell, and Cliff Lindberg. Making up the color guard were Al Thorne, Robert Horn. Immediately behind the colors were the veterans who realize the importance of taking part in such a program. It might be mentioned here that if you should have been in the ranks and were not it might be wise to make it a point to be present. It is your duty.

Upon arrival at the War Memorial, the participants encircled the Statue as the chimes of the Unitarian Church began to ring. Mrs. Mary Witham played the chimes and to her we extend our sincere thanks.

The Commanders of the veteran groups then placed the wreath in front of the Memorial as taps were sounded by Parker Gray and Andrew Siphon of the Winchester High School Band. They did wonderfully and to you, too, we wish to thank you for a job well done.

"Old Reliable" Jake Horn and Ken Hall came through again as usual. Jake made certain that the wreath was here for the occasion and Ken Hall was responsible for the delivery to the exact spot at the exact time.

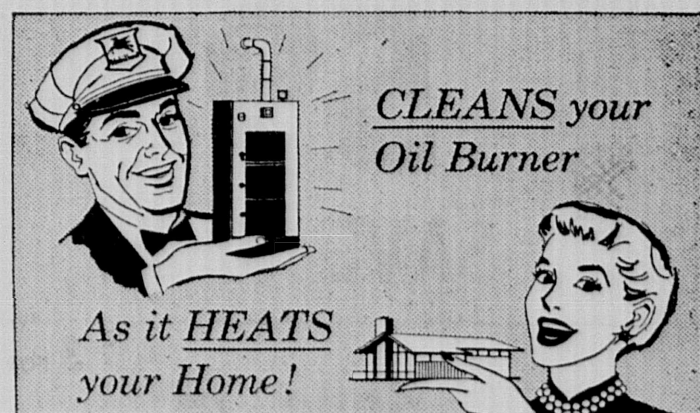

Following the placement of the wreath and the sound of taps the marchers then returned to the Legion Headquarters where a collation was enjoyed by all.

Again, thanks goes to all who helped to make the occasion a successful one.

WINCHESTER WELLESLEY CLUB ACTIVE THIS FALL

At the third, and last, of the Winchester Mornings, Edward Rowe Snow presented a varied program of tales of shipwrecks, light-houses, treasures, and people of the New England coast. Slides illustrated his talk, and books, coins from sunken treasure, and other objects of interest were passed around for the audience to examine. Mr. Snow, expert in the lore of the New England coast, makes his true stories—and his ghost stories—of the coastal region good entertainment for his listeners.

This speaker and the two who preceded him, Paul R. Barstow with a serious presentation of modern theatre, and Rudolph Elie, who gave Winchester Mornings subscribers an extremely amusing talk, made up this fall's program of the Winchester Wellesley Club's annual project. Club members are deeply appreciative of the support of subscribers for the series of mornings. Proceeds from this enterprise provide the club's contributions to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, the Wellesley College Development Fund, and the Wellesley Student Aid Society.

Wellesley alumnae in Winchester gathered at the house of a member, Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, for the annual supper meeting on Thursday, October 24. Mrs. H. Gardner Bradlee, president of the club, conducted a business meeting and later introduced as speaker Miss Daphne Phylactopoulou, a student from Athens, Greece, who is in her second year at Wellesley College. Foreign students, of whom there are a large number at Wellesley, make a great contribution to the college and Miss Phylactopoulou's remarks to the Wellesley Club about her experiences in adjusting to the academic life at Wellesley and about the education of women in Greece were interesting to her audience.

In charge of arrangements for this supper meeting was Mrs. Lawrence W. Lunt, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Lindsay H. Caldwell, Mrs. Richard O. Jordan, Mrs. John H. McClenahan, and Mrs. James H. Maroney.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" DUE AT WINCHESTER THEATRE

Cecil B. DeMille's Production "The Ten Commandments," the mammoth dramatization of the life of Moses, will open on Christmas Day at the Winchester Theatre.

Cast with over 25,000 players, the VistaVision Technicolor colossal stars Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget and John Derek. Starring also are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price in key roles, and a large and distinguished supporting cast of top-liners.

Filmed in part in Egypt on the shores of the Red Sea, in the Sinai deserts and on the slopes of Mount Sinai, ten years in the making, the three-hour, thirty-nine minute Paramount film backgrounds the story of Exodus with spectacle of a dimension that is history-making in its scope.

HOUSE IN COMMON TO START EMARC DRIVE

The house which was placed in the Common last Monday is a part of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children's drive for funds. Replicas of the house will be placed in certain stores on Monday, November 18, and will stay there until December 7. A listing of the stores which will have the replicas will be found on the outside of the house.

Each house contains a different article which could be found in any home. The article is concealed inside. Clues are given on the roof of the house as to what is contained within. Each week a new clue will be added. They will also be printed in the Winchester Star. Envelopes are attached outside the house with a printed form to be filled out. All articles must be given their full title.

Each guess costs only twenty-five cents which is really a donation to the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children. Make as many guesses as you want to and remember each house contains a different article.

Any person who names correctly an article in the house receives an order certificate for a fresh, plump Turkey to be delivered to them just before Christmas. Here is your chance to be charitable and at the same time help yourself.

Houses will be opened in the presence of the store owners. Winners will be personally notified and their names will be listed in the December 13 issue of the Winchester Star.

Fired-Up Belmont Team Fails To Stop Winchester

Crowds turned out last Saturday afternoon in the unusually cold weather to watch Belmont crumple as Winchester moved along in its undefeated season.

Winchester scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods to defeat Belmont 21-6. Fullback Doug Thomson got Winchester rolling by intercepting a pass on the Belmont 38 and six plays later Captain Joe Flaherty raced 10 yards for the first score. Thompson bucked for the extra point.

Left end Butch Murphy recovered a Belmont fumble in the second period on the Belmont 25. Three plays later Thomson scored on an off tackle play and Flaherty bucked for the extra point.

Belmont kicked to Paonessa to start the second half and Winchester started a surge which ended with quarterback Larry Longworth sneaking over for a score; Paonessa bucked for the extra point.

Belmont scored with only a few minutes remaining. Left halfback Tony Croenti intercepted a Longworth pass on the 15 and ran it back to the Belmont 35. Four plays later, a pretty forward lateral from Wood to Kelley to Croenti got a first down on the Winchester 3. Ruggeri bucked for two yards and Wood sneaked over for the TD.

STOLEN CAR FOUND IN NORTH READING

Robert Heitz of Bonnell Motors called police last Thursday night, November 7, to report that a black 1957 Chevrolet sedan has been stolen from the parking lot at the corner of Vine street. The car was owned by the Second National Bank State Street Trust Co. All officers were notified and an alarm was sent by radio.

Two hours later, a call from the North Reading police reported that the car had been recovered. The North Reading police also apprehended two juveniles. Officers Elliott and Martell went to North Reading. The car was damaged and was towed away and the boys will appear in court at a later date.

EVERYTHING READY FOR SNOW REMOVAL

The Town highway department reported that all the snow removal and sanding equipment is ready for any possible winter storms.

According to reports the first snow storm came last year on November 18, and the plows and sanding equipment were used at that time. Let's hope we can delay that "first" this year!

WAKEFIELD ENGINEER DISCUSSES REFUSE DISPOSAL

Considerable local interest is being evidenced in a meeting to be held Wednesday evening, November 20, at eight o'clock in the Mary E. Walton School on Davidson road in Wakefield.

Frank L. Heaney, sanitary engineer with the Boston firm of Fay, Spofford and Thorndyke, Inc., will give an illustrated talk on "Refuse Disposal by Incineration."

"Refuse disposal is becoming a community problem of much perplexity to many municipalities," Mrs. Norman Loomis, Wakefield local affairs chairman told the Winchester Star, "and we of the Wakefield League are gratified with the enthusiastic response of Winchester officials and residents to our invitation to attend the November 20 meeting."

Especially qualified to present the subject, Mr. Heaney is a registered, professional engineer, graduate of Northeastern University. During his sixteen years with his corporation, he has supervised design and construction of a wide variety of sanitary engineering projects and as an officer in the Army Sanitary Corps during World War II, he made designs of sanitary land fills as well as supervising their construction.

A recent project, the completion for his firm of preliminary plans for a 300-ton-per-day incinerator to be installed in Miami's residential area, afforded Mr. Heaney the opportunity to visit and observe large incinerator plants at Atlanta, Ga., Louisville, Ky., Hartford, Conn., and New York City.

"The meeting promises to be a stimulating and interesting one," Mrs. Loomis told the Star, "and we are looking forward to welcoming many Winchester residents. Every interested citizen is extended a cordial invitation to join us!"

Phillips Brooks calendars are now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg. Oct. 18-19

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS

Predicting that the Christmas mail this year will set an all time record, even exceeding that handled here in 1956, Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun, announced his 1957 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign today.

With Christmas only a little more than a month away, the postmaster reminds us, "It's later than you think!" Most folks have a tendency to wait until December rolls around before they give their Christmas mailing plans a thought!

The postmaster further suggested that right now is the time to take the following steps: check your Christmas card lists very carefully—make sure that each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

He said, also, that it is a good idea to stock up on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cords, and paper adhesives, tape for use in securely packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts. If you'd like to include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift packages, just add the appropriate First Class mail postage to the package itself; thus, insuring simultaneous arrival of your gift and greeting.

Be sure to stock up on plenty of stamps at the same time.

Also, ask for free labels reading, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery," so that you can speed arrival of your Christmas cards by sorting and tying them in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Keep in mind that only Christmas cards carrying First Class three cent, or six cent Air Mail postage, may include a personal message. Nothing more than a signature is authorized on cards mailed at the two cent Third Class rate; and be sure your return address is on every Christmas card envelope, this is socially correct, and helps both you and your friends to keep your mail-

CHECK FOR DIABETES NOVEMBER 17 - 23

One million Americans have diabetes, and they don't know it! The Middlesex East Medical Society warns all of us that unless these hidden diabetics are discovered, many of them might have serious or even fatal complications.

This is reason enough for every man, woman and child to take a simple test for diabetes; and the week of November 17 - 23, which has been designated as Diabetes Week, is an appropriate time.

Diabetes need not be feared as an ailment, particularly if it is discovered early. Today, practically all diabetics, husbands, wives, grandparents and children, enjoy active and normal lives. This is due to one of the most significant medical discoveries ever made, the discovery of insulin.

Today, it is most often the diabetic whose condition goes too long undetected, and hence untreated, who faces a serious threat to a happy and productive life.

Many local groups are working together to make diabetes detection tests available to all the week of November 17. They include the medical and allied professions, business and industrial concerns, labor unions, civic and service clubs, women's organizations, and social, cultural, religious and fraternal groups.

Tests are available at conveniently located detection centers or at family doctors' offices. All members of the community should take advantage of this opportunity this week. Specimens of urine, clearly marked, may be left at the offices of physicians during Diabetes week, or at the Winchester Hospital, Choate Hospital, Woburn; Melrose Hospital or New England Sanitarium.

Diabetes can be controlled by diet, exercise, and, when necessary, by insulin. In some older and milder diabetics, recently developed oral tablets seem to be effective in reducing blood sugar levels.

Neglect of the condition may lead to development of complications, the most serious of which are heart disease, failing eyesight, hardening of the arteries, kidney disorders, gangrene, cerebral hemorrhage, or diabetic coma.

The Diabetes Detection Drive during Diabetes Week, November 17 - 23 in 1957, is conducted by the American Diabetes Association in cooperation with its 41 Affiliate Units throughout the United States and with more than 900 County and State Medical Societies. During Diabetes Week, detection tests are provided in hundreds of local communities.

The goal is to find as many as possible of the approximately one million undetected diabetic men, women, and children, and at the same time to educate the American public on the symptoms and the importance of early detection and control of the condition.

Bertram H. Dube of 19 Indian Hill road, account supervisor at David L. Babson & Co. Inc., Boston, will serve on the advisory committee in Winchester in the north Metropolitan division of the United Fund Campaign. The north metropolitan division includes Winchester and 22 other communities.

what is an ESTATE

It is the interest that a person has in property, and is to be distinguished from the property itself. For example, a person may have a life estate in real property, which means that his interest in the property lasts only during a lifetime — his own or someone else's — and then passes on to some other person. However, in everyday language a person's estate means all the property of every kind that he owns.

The above is one of the very important questions answered in the Malden Trust booklet, "YOU AND YOUR FAMILY," written by Gilbert Thomas Stephenson, an attorney and leading authority on Trust Matters, and available to you without charge.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE OPENS

Some 4800 families in Winchester will receive their Christmas Seals in the mail tomorrow, announces Sherman B. Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, and affiliate of the Middlesex Health Association. November 15 is the opening day of the 51st Annual Christmas Seal Sale for funds to fight tuberculosis in the Middlesex County area. "The rosy-checked little girl on the Seal represents those in our own homes and families whom we help to protect when we buy Christmas Seals," explained Mr. Russell.

"Our children are growing up in a world where tuberculosis strikes one American every five minutes," Mr. Russell continued. The year-round tuberculosis control programs of the Winchester committee and the Middlesex Health Association are made possible through Christmas Seal funds alone. Free chest x-ray screening clinics and surveys, health education materials to local school and citizen groups, medical research, and rehabilitation help to tuberculosis ex-patients are among these local services.

"We sincerely hope that every Winchester citizen will buy and use the 1957 Christmas Seals," urges Mr. Russell. "Every purchase of Christmas Seals is vitally needed to keep Winchester a healthier place in which to live."

Other members of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee are: Mrs. Raymond Holdworth, George Billman, Mrs. Anthony Zovickian, Mrs. Walford Wiklund, R. N. Warren P. Eldridge, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen, Mrs. R. Darrel Harvey.

AN INVITATION

A very interesting and worthwhile program is scheduled to take place at the Winchester American Legion Home on Vine street and Commander Frank Provinzano cordially invites each and every Dad and adult to attend. On November 21, the Commander has been indeed fortunate in arranging a lecture to be given by our very capable Chief of Police, Charles Harrold. His subject is one of most concern to everyone and it is a subject that is on the tips of everybody's lips and hits the newspapers daily.

The Chief is going to tell us about some of the goings on by the teenagers in our own town, surrounding towns and in the entire nation. The writer of this article has listened in before and affirms that the lesson taught to the parents and the youngsters is a good one. It is a lecture that anyone interested in teenagers and their activities should be called a must. The Chief has made many such lectures in various places and has been invited back for more but his schedule is quite booked up and it is difficult for him to make as many appearances as he would like.

Despite his very busy schedule, the Chief has found a date for the Winchester American Legion and we feel very fortunate that he is able to talk to us. We are doubly proud to have him come to us as he is a Past Commander of the Winchester Post. He has an added feature in his part of the program in that he displays some of the weapons that he has confiscated and those are the things that really get us thinking quite a bit. Let's be there and take in some excellent advice.

The date again is November 21, the time is 8:30 p. m. and the place is the Winchester Legion Home. Where is your teenager now? Whom are they with? What are they doing? If you know where yours are let's find out what others are doing and let's try to steer them straight. It is better to prevent than to reform. See you there!

17 GIRL SCOUTS SEE STAR PRINTED

The girls saw the steps which lead up to the final printing and then watched the papers come off the press. The last step they saw was the folding machine in operation.

The girls who made the trip were: Marjorie Burns, Arlene Coughlin, Dawn Dauphinais, Cynthia Ehrigott, Elizabeth Farnam, Maureen Pentress, Joanne Fitzgerald, Maryann Griffin, Jeanette Hodge, Maureen Mulloy, Kathleen Murphy, Phyllis Kennedy, Peggy Donahue, Nancy Sheehan, Jane Staffier, Anne Duffy and Ruth Morgan. They were accompanied by Mrs. Frank Weaver, leader and Mrs. Burns, assistant leader.

Molly L. Fitzgerald of 123 Church street, is enrolled in the Cambridge School of Radio-TV Broadcasting in Boston. She previously attended Sargent College of Physical Education.

MENTAL HEALTH ASS'N MET

The first program meeting of the recently formed Mystic Valley Mental Health Association was held at the Maria Hastings school in Lexington last Thursday with more than a hundred representatives attending from Arlington, Bedford, Lexington, Winchester, and Woburn. Mrs. Gordon Thompson of Arlington, president, opened the meeting by reporting the results of the 1957 fund drive in the five towns. Winchester raised over two thousand, five hundred dollars for Mental Health last May, and the area as a whole raised $8,570. This year there will be no drive separate from United Fund.

Mrs. Robert Baylis of Woburn, program chairman, then introduced the subject of the evening, "What Can We Expect of a Mental Health Center?" and turned the meeting over to the panel moderator, Dr. Stanley H. Cath of Arlington, a psychiatrist who in addition to being associated with Tufts Medical School and the Harvard School of Public Health is the Association's Clinic Advisory Committee chairman. Dr. Cath placed the Mental Health program in perspective as part of the total national health picture. He stressed the breadth of scope of mental health activities, emphasizing the need to deal with the whole spectrum of mental health and illness, from the problems of the wholly well person to the needs of the really sick one. He referred to the Wellesley Human Relations Service and the Greater Lawrence Guidance Center as representing, respectively, the more progressive and the traditional ways of approaching work in the field.

Dr. Donald Klein, director at the Wellesley Service, then told the history of this ten year old experimental center, pointing up its emphasis on mental health consultation with community agencies and giving particular attention to its important work with school personnel in the consultative program. Mrs. Charles Evans Taylor, a trustee of the Wellesley Service, then described the lay job of defining the work of the Service to the community and interpreting the needs of the community to the Service.

Mr. Thomas J. Macdonald of Bedford, Mental Health Consultant to the Greater Lawrence Guidance Center and a director of the Mystic Valley group, completed the panel. He told of the State sponsored center at Lawrence and its more usual clinical approach to the problem of good mental health in children. He brought the meeting to the consideration of the type of service it might want in the Mystic Valley area with the opportunity it now has of State support. The audience then broke into group discussion from which it returned to the panel a large number of questions pertinent to the problem of starting a local center. The meeting concluded with a vote requesting the Association's Board of Directors to take steps toward the investigation of housing possibilities for such a center.

PARKHURST THIRD GRADE ASSEMBLY

Mrs. Wiggett's Third Grade at the Parkhurst School had an assembly which was called "Schools Around the World." It was on November 14, which was during American Education Week.

The program opened with "School Days." Some of the children, dressed in costumes, told about foreign countries and their schools. The class sang an original song to the tune of "Around the World in 80 Days" with words as follows: Around the world are schools like ours,

For girls and boys with many joys In happy school time hours. They learn, they play, they study, too,

They learn to speak, they learn to write With care for all they do. We'd like to tell you now right here What we have learned about the schools

And all about their rules. So here we come in costumes bright and gay So listen now to what we say. Each report was followed by a song. These were as follows:

Mexico: Kathryn Baird, song: "Nine Red Norsemen"
Canada: Peter Duffy, song: "Maple Leaf Forever"
France: Katherine Renz, song: "Frere Jacques"

Samoa: Shelley Swanson, song: "Underneath the Stars"
China: Carolyn Robinson, song: "Hop Sing Lee"
Germany: Norma Pheene, song: "The Whistling Boy"

Next the class presented a short play called "Magical Letters." There were seven pictures on the wall: Abraham Lincoln, Gene Gagnon

Jane Adams, Sharon Keith Jacob Rias, Stephen Dunn John Marshall, Barry Blanchard Horace Mann, Kevin Dunn Thomas Jefferson, Mark Donahue Thomas Edison, Stephen Phipps

The children taking parts were Richard Downes, Barbara Nyere, Susan Wilson, Stephen Smith, Robert Sarti, Peter Quinn, Deborah Ericson, Carol West.

If you think, you will see there were seven pictures on the wall and there were seven letters in America. In the play, they all tried together. The seven pictures came alive in the end.

Kathryn Lindbo was the announcer. In the chorus were Kenneth Albertelli, Edwin Berg, Jane Lewis, David Butters, Susan MacKechnie, George Croft, Lisa Douglas, Scott Eaton, Johnny Castle, Thomas Milkie.

The singing of "America the Beautiful" closed the program.

Here, indeed, is a very important fellow. He runs and jumps, makes a lot of noise at times, tracks up the floor, gets lost, and does a host of many other unpredictable things. You and I wouldn't change him for anything, because he is our future.

To us he is one of our most valuable customers. Here is our teenage high school customer of tomorrow and our adult customer in just a few years.

So we cater very carefully to these youngsters. Our stocks of clothing and accessories for this group of boys between eight and twelve are selected not only to dress them in good taste but to insure maximum wearability.

From socks to hats and all apparel in between we are able to wardrobe your junior boy in dress or play clothes.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON

A Masquerade Dance, Scavenger Hunt, game parties and many bridge parties highlighted the fall activity of the Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League Friday evening, November 8. Members of the Junior Circle were hostesses in their own homes and prizes of imported wine were given.

This affair, which was entitled Florence Crittenton Entertains at Home replaced the fall dance. A dance will be held in the spring. The proceeds of this activity go toward the support of the Crittenton-Hastings House in Brighton.

William C. Gurriss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Gurriss of 26 Kirk street, a senior at Industrial Technical School, in Boston, has been elected Class reporter of his division, I.E.-30. A graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1956, Bill is a popular singer.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION CHANGES NAME

The Community School Association of Winchester was formerly known as the Winchester Mothers' Association. This change, along with revisions of the constitution, was voted and passed at a regular meeting last spring of what was then called the central board.

The title of the organization was changed for very obvious reasons. Many of the different school associations include fathers and there are fathers' clubs as well. Membership was changed to include teachers, if they so desired, and any interested citizens.

The position of second vice-president was eliminated, since it was felt to be unnecessary. An addition is the vice president of the Teachers' Club along with the superintendent of schools.

The governing body of the association will now be known as the executive board, not the central board.

Date of the annual meeting has been changed from June to May.

A quorum now consists of twenty-five members of the association, and a quorum of the executive board, a simple majority.

Under standing committees, two have been added and one eliminated. A steering committee has been inserted, consisting of the four officers and the education chairman.

Its duty shall be "to examine all requests for aid, financial or otherwise, and to determine which matters should be brought before the executive board for consideration." An education committee was arranged for, consisting of a chairman and the program chairman of each school chapter. This committee "shall act as the liaison for the executive board with the school committee and the Teachers' Club. It shall coordinate and disseminate educational material to the association chapters."

A ways and means chairman and committee have been eliminated from the by-laws. This was carefully discussed with Mr. Wade Grindle of the Scholarship Foundation and done with the approval of the group. The association will not be connected with any money-raising projects as a group, devoting all its efforts to educational matters.

The constitution and by-laws committee consisted of past presidents of the various school chapters: Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mrs. J. Paul Avakian, Mrs. S. K. Tully, Mrs. Scott Parrot, Mrs. Frederick Stockwell, Mrs. Roger Burton, Mrs. Henry E. Kiley, Mrs. Walter Abbott, Mrs. Robert Ingraham, with Mrs. Charles Crede as chairman. Their efforts have resulted in an instrument which should help greatly with parent-student-teacher relations.

Sergeant First Class John P. Bateson, Medford Army Recruiting Station, and Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye of 91 Mystic Valley Parkway, chairman of the Military Manpower Committee, are shown accepting the "Top Station" plaque this week from Lt. Col. Thomas B. Spiller, Jr., commanding officer of the Army Recruiting Main Station at Boston Army Base. The combined efforts of Sergeant Bateson and Mrs. Toye resulted in the Medford station, located at 49 High street, attaining 380 percent of its objective for October, thus topping all other Army recruiting stations in eastern Massachusetts.

Editor of the Star:

The above paragraph is the official Army release but the important thing to me is, and always has been, not a quota but the type of service being given young men covered by the Medford station which also covers Winchester. With the military situation in its present state of flux it is not the easiest thing in the world to advise young men and should be done only by experienced people. A high standard of ethics has for some years been set up at the Medford station and it is a great satisfaction to see SFC John Bateson carrying on in the same way. Parents of young men contemplating Army service may rest assured their sons will receive only the truth from Sgt. Bateson and all the time necessary to assure their understanding of the present military situation. As usual yours truly is also available for consultation.

Cordially yours,
Mrs. K. B. Toye, Chairman
Military Manpower Committee

COMMUNITY SCHOOL ASS'N
EXECUTIVE MEETING

The executive board of the Community School Association met at the home of its president, Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, on Tuesday morning, November 19.

After the secretary's report was read by Mrs. Harry Arlanson, a report was given by Mrs. Robert Grenzback, chairman of the play committee. She reported that the play, "The Pied Piper," presented on October 25, was a huge success, 938 children having attended. It was unanimously passed that this association again sponsor this project next year.

Mrs. Tully then read a questionnaire which will be sent to parents of fifth and sixth grade pupils in order to determine how they, the parents, feel in regard to the supervised after-school recreation period. The questions are as follows:

1. Do you feel that after-school recreation is desirable as part of the educational program of our schools?
2. Do you favor a program of 1 hour, 1½ hours, 2 hours?
3. Does your child participate regularly in this program?

Mrs. Tully reported that the Scholarship Committee would like a representative from the Community School Association board to attend their next meeting on December 2 at the library. Mrs. Henry Kiley graciously volunteered to be such representative.

The group then discussed the plan of having available to each school's program chairman well informed people to hold discussions in each school district on the school building program.

Mr. Wendell Withington, director of music in the Winchester school, spoke to the group about the Northeastern Music Festival to be held in Winchester on May 3. Since this is the first time Winchester has been host to the surrounding towns for this big event, all members of the board were happy to cooperate in soliciting patrons and patronesses for this tremendous program.

The next meeting of the executive board of the Community School Association will be held in January.

EAST FOR HOLIDAYS

Mrs. Eileen K. (Sullivan) Callahan, wife of 1st Lt. Joseph T. Callahan, Jr., formerly of 5 Russell road, flew in from the James Connally Air Force Base, Waco, Texas, yesterday via the American Airlines.

Mrs. Callahan, with eight-month-old daughter Kathleen Ann, will visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sullivan of 303 Beech street, Rosindale, and with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Callahan of 5 Russell road, for the holidays.

Lt. Callahan is assigned to Stead Air Force Base in Reno, Nevada, and there will take up his duties of pilot and navigator of United States Air Force multi-engine planes. He will be unable to join his family here until after the holidays.

January 15, 1958, Lt. Callahan will be reassigned to Plattsburg Air Force Base in New York State, where his family will join the young flyer.

Lt. Callahan is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1950, and Tufts University, class of 1955. He joined the Air Force after taking his degree in engineering. The friends of the young couple may receive more information by telephoning Winchester 6-1567.

SENIOR FORUM

The Senior Forum will have as its speaker for the chapel service on Sunday Dr. John W. Brush, professor of Church History at Andover Newton Theological School in Newton Center. Dr. Brush is a popular speaker at Forum because of the way in which he makes the history of Christianity "come alive" in the minds of his hearers. He has taken for his subject this year a biographical sketch appropriate to the Thanksgiving season: "John Eliot, Apostle to the Indians." Craig Davenport will be chaplain and Bob Dickey assistant chaplain. Serving as deacons will be Phil Dunn and Jay Dolben, while Rosalind and Larry Templeman will be ushers. The Forum choir will sing at the chapel service, and also again at the 11 o'clock service in a combination anthem with the church choir.

The Forum is making plans for selling Christmas trees in December. Phil Dreyer and Henry Dietz are co-chairmen of the committee in charge. Trees will be available in the church parking lot the second week in December. Proceeds of the sale will go into the Spring Trip Fund.

By vote of the Student Council, Forum at Church and the usual monthly supper meeting has been set for December 1 rather than the customary last Sunday of this month. Forumites will attend the morning service at 11 o'clock that day which will be a Service of Holy Communion. The chapel service this Sunday will be as usual at 9:30 a. m.

NOONAN SCHOOL TEA
FOR MRS. KASPARIAN

On Friday, November 15, Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie of Ardley place was hostess at a tea in her home honoring Mrs. Kasparian, the combined first and second grade teacher at Noonan School.

Mrs. Kasparian discussed with the mothers the pattern of work set forth for the two grades, their accomplishments and what was expected of the students during the year. Art is being used as a method of self-expression and music to teach the children pitch and tone.

Mrs. Genevieve Kelleher, regular teacher of these grades, is still confined to the hospital but is coming along nicely.

A very delightful collation was served by Mrs. McKenzie, assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Ferguson and Mrs. Francis McClellan. Miss Minetta Jurgenson, principal, presided at the tea table.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The annual St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club Winter Dance will be held on Saturday evening, November 30, at 8:30.

We understand from the presidents, Joe and Mary Maloney, that the hall will be superbly decorated for this gala occasion. Mary and Ralph Jacobs, both accomplished artists in their own right, have volunteered to put their talents to work in decorating the hall.

Ann and John Enright have graciously agreed to handle the refreshments, which is another big job and one on which they and their committee have already started work.

Ken Reeves has advised us that he will appear in person with his orchestra, so with Ken at the helm we can be assured of good music. Grace and Al Fay are in charge of tickets. Since the dance doesn't start until 8:30, many of the couples are planning supper parties beforehand.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Winchester Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scouts with their leaders and troop committee members, will enjoy a morning of roller skating at the Waller Rink in Waltham, on Friday, November 29. No one will be admitted to the rink before 9:30 a. m., and only those who have registered in advance will be allowed to attend.

Registration Reminder: All Winchester troops are due to register in November, and the completed forms with survey cards, are due at the Girl Scout office today, November 22.

Office Notes: The local Girl Scout office on South Border road, will close at noon on Wednesday, November 27, and remain closed on Thanksgiving Day, but will be open on Friday, November 29.

D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., met on Monday, November 18, at the home of Mrs. William Goodhue, 13 Herick street. Dessert was served by Mrs. John B. Wills and her committee.

The business meeting was conducted by the regent, Mrs. Hiram F. Moody. The chaplain, Mrs. Howard Wright, led a memorial for Rosamond Downer Bowes, who died last week.

Every November the members make contributions of gifts and money for Hillside School for Boys in Marlborough. This is a D.A.R.-approved school for boys, ages 7 to 14. A basket of gaily-wrapped packages and money will go to the school through Mrs. Chandler Symmes, chairman of approved schools.

After the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Albert Morrissey, regent of the Sarah Bradlee Fuller Chapter of Medford, was presented "Amelia Earhart, Her Life and Achievements" was her subject and a most interesting one told by Amelia's sister, Mrs. Morrissey.

Amelia was known as the girl in brown who walked alone and always asking why. She was the first woman to be granted an international pilot's license.

How could one refuse a shining adventure when asked to fly the "Friendship" from Canada to England? She was 37 years old when she made the final flight around the globe in 1937.

Throughout the world many memorials have been erected in her memory.

Everything you need for school at the Star Office.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Winchester Historical Society held a most interesting and informative meeting at the Winchester Public Library on Tuesday evening, November 12, with Mr. Stanley P. Stevens of Marblehead, speaking on "Old Marblehead."

Mr. Stevens, a well-known organist, is a native of Marblehead, with ancestors among the early settlers. His son Paul had charge of the projector, showing many slides of old houses, other historic sites, and beautiful scenery.

He had pictures of General Glover's old home in the center of the town. He had used up his fortune in putting many of his townspeople to form his regiment, the first amphibious force, for his men rowed Washington's army across the Delaware, surprising the British on that stormy winter night.

On his return Gen. Glover had to convert a front room in his home as a cobbler's shop in order to earn his living.

Another historic house was the home of the early naval hero, Capt. Mugford, who captured several British ships, but was the only American killed then. Samuel Chamberlain, the artist and photographer, lives in the very early Bubber house on Tucker street. Mr. Stevens had pictures of many interiors, including the Hooper Mansion, where the Art Association meets, and the handsome and beautifully furnished Lee Mansion, which is now a museum.

St. Michael Episcopal Church in that area owns a valuable silver communion set, given the church by Queen Anne of England. It had the oldest organ set up here, but when the church was remodelled they removed the works, and replaced them with a new organ in the old case.

"TEN COMMANDMENTS" SCORE WINS WIDESPREAD ACCLAIM

The most sought-after film music assignment in motion picture history went to a virtual unknown among composers, thirty-three-year-old Elmer Bernstein, who was chosen by Cecil B. DeMille to compose and conduct the score for his monumental "The Ten Commandments."

Bernstein's scoring for such momentous events in the DeMille masterpiece, which opens December 25 at the Winchester Theatre with Charlton Heston starred as Moses and Yul Brynner as Rameses II, was the miracles of the Burning Bush, the parting of the Red Sea and the writing of the Commandments by God, the terror-filled Plagues and the stupendous Exodus scenes, along with his musical depiction of ancient Egyptian and Hebrew folk and court dances, has won him widespread acclaim.

ROTARY NEWS

Last week's Rotary Club meeting featured a talk by Mr. Williams on "The Luxury of Yesterday Becomes the Necessity of Today." The fascinating talk was on the never-ending progress in developing new products through chemical research.

The Rev. John Snook of the Methodist Church spoke on "Thanksgiving's Meaning Today."

TROOP 6 CAMPING TRIP

Troop 6, Winchester Boy Scouts, sponsored by the Men's Club of the Unitarian Church, enjoyed a very successful camping and hiking overnight last weekend at Camp Fellsland in Amesbury. It was the second such expedition that the troop has had this fall.

Leaving Winchester early Saturday morning, the twenty-seven scouts disembarked from their transports a mile from the camp site and hiked the remaining distance fully equipped with packs, sleeping and camping equipment, weighing twenty-five pounds a man. By eleven thirty pup tents had been erected, wood gathered for fires, cooking holes dug, and cooking of the noon meal begun.

The boys of the troop devoted the afternoon to map reading and finding their way through the woods, trail blazing, and observation of wild life. After the scouts had cooked their dinners over their own fires, the troop met for a typical camp fire event, where each of the seven patrols put on an amusing skit.

The heavy rain during the night, rather than marring a perfect weekend gave the scouts real experience in camping in the rain with properly pitched tents. All—or almost all—came through the experience warm and dry and the next morning were able to build their fires from wood that had been stashed in their pup tents with them during the rain.

Sunday forenoon Catholic scouts attended Mass at the church in Amesbury and Protestant Scouts attended the County Church at Newton, N. H., where they formed a principal part of the congregation.

Placed them with a new organ in the old case.

Enjoying this practical experience in camping and woodcraft were:

Peter Lawrence, James Eliassen, Walter Josephson, Ricky Halverson, John Toteman, Jeffrey Lyman, Bill Grant, Norman Stafford, John Brotherton, Bill Stavridis, Bill Hoyt, Bruce Carpenter, David March, Paul Gibb, Jeffrey Hills, Thomas LaPointe, William Larkin, Harold Mugford, Bobby Joyce, Edward Cabot, Billy Palmer, Jay Handy, Peter Fisher, William Thomas and Jonathan Sibley.

Accompanying the troop were Robert A. Sands, Scoutmaster, Vincent B. March and Larry Palmer, Assistant Scoutmasters, Carlton W. Toteman, in charge of camping, Robert H. Sibley, Jr., Harold J. Mugford, William L. Hoyt and David B. Thomas.

John F. Doherty of Winchester, a representative of the Aetna Casualty and Surety Company, is attending a special insurance course at the company's home office in Hartford, Conn. A Navy veteran, Mr. Doherty was graduated from Boston College High School and Tufts University. He is associated with Lehrer and Madden Inc. in Wellesey.

STAR IN THE NIGHT

There is one part of the Christmas story that never fails to fascinate me: the Wise Men.

Who were those mystic men who came out of the darkness of Bethlehem, in search of truth? Where did they come from, and what happened to them afterward? How I would like to know their names, their earlier history, and what became of them after they had come to Bethlehem.

Those Wise Men have captured the imagination of the world. No Christmas Pageant is complete without them, no Christmas card is more appealing than one showing the distant figures of these wise men, on camel-back, plodding their way across the trackless wastes of the Arabian Desert, following the star.

They had no road map; they did not even know where Bethlehem was. But they set out across the desert to follow the star.

If they had come in our day, they would have been told by some television news program, with perhaps a brief announcement on the screen: "The Wise Men were transported by Trans-Desert Airline."

But the Wise Men did it the hard way, by camel back. Only one who has ridden a camel knows just how hard that is!

But it seems to me that the really important thing about them was: "They followed the star."

Now a star is not a very big thing to follow. The sky was dark, and so was the road ahead. But they followed the star, the one feeble glimmer of light that they possessed—and it led them to their destination.

The world looks pretty dark to us. We don't very often see the way clearly ahead. But there has never been a time, no matter how dark the night, when we haven't had some light on the road we should take. It might be no brighter than that one little star which led the wise men.

But as we follow the light we have, however feeble, it becomes brighter, and it leads us one day to our eternal goal.

Wise men (and women) of the first century of the twentieth century follow what light they have. Slight as it may be, it is enough.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Goss of 41 Allen road announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Ruth, to Mr. Theodore Bottelle Barrett, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerald R. Barrett of 34 Allen road.

Miss Goss graduated from Winchester High School, and attended Hood College in Frederick, Maryland, from which she will receive her degree in June. At present she is a member of the senior class at the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. Barrett graduated from Winchester High School and Harvard College, class of 1951. He is an electronics engineer in the government service in Alaska.

A June wedding is planned.

MISS TONON CHOSEN

Miss Cathy Tonon daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tonon of 58 Lawson road, has been accepted for membership in two choral groups, Centenary Singers and Chapel Choir, at Centenary College for Women, Hackettstown, New Jersey.

The Chapel Choir participates in the Sunday Vespers held in the Whitney Chapel on the campus. The Singers will be heard during the coming year on concert tours and radio.

CLIFTON MCKENNA

Clifton McKenna, who made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Sargis Matson, at 3 Pine street, died Monday night, November 18, at the End View Nursing Home in Stoneham, following a seven months illness.

Mr. McKenna was the son of Owen, and Josephine (Wilson) McKenna. He was born January 12, 1878, in Brooklyn, N. Y., and lived in that city until after his marriage. Later he made his home in New Rochelle, N. Y., and New Britain, Conn., coming to Winchester with his daughter and her family six years ago.

Mr. McKenna was for more than fifty years associated with the American Hardware Corporation, being at the time of his retirement manager of the New York office of P. & F. Corbin Builders Hardware, a subsidiary company. Following his retirement he was for five years a volunteer member of the staff of the American Baptist Assembly at Green Lake, Wis.

He was a Mason, a member of the First Baptist Church of New Britain, Conn., and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Matson was a widower, his wife, the former Anna Moore, having died in Winchester. He leaves two grandchildren, Margaret and Peter Matson.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Cypress Hill Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ORGANIZE CAMP FIRE GIRLS AT IMMACULATE

The Camp Fire girls' program got underway in the Immaculate Conception parish in New Britain with the first in a series of leader training lectures being held in the parish hall under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Reitering. Over 60 girls and 40 mothers were present at the initial meeting two weeks ago when movies of the Camp Fire activities were shown, and an informative talk on the organization was given by Mrs. Doris McCallum of the Boston office.

Camp Fire girls were founded in 1910 by educators of broad vision, foremost among whom was Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, a dynamic personality who wanted every girl to enjoy a rich, full life, by realizing her greatest potentialities and making them a reality. The purpose of this organization is "to perpetuate the spiritual ideals of the home" and "to stimulate and aid in the formation of habits making for health and character." This is accomplished through a program of leisure-time activities offered to girls between the ages of seven and eighteen.

At present only the junior group, known as Blue Birds, will be organized in the Immaculate Conception parish. These girls will take part in a program of creative play based on family and community living. The program is under the supervision of Rev. Stephen E. Burke, assisted by a sponsoring committee consisting of Mrs. Edward McCall, Mrs. John Mawn and Mrs. Franklin Flahive. Adult leaders of the first six groups to be activated are Mrs. Jacob Avakian, Mrs. Frederick Porter, Mrs. Leo Gonsalves, Mrs. Denis Maher, Mrs. Thomas Morris and Mrs. Robert Heitz.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Joerger, 16 Grove street, at 8 p. m. Sunday, November 24. John Huckins and Robert Chase will lead the group in Worship and Study.

The topic for the evening will be "Make a Noise!" The aim of the meeting will be to awaken us to the meaningful reasons for celebrating Thanksgiving, and to guide us in expressing thanks to the Giver of all that we enjoy.

He was formerly the president of the National Wholesale Lumber Distributing Association and of the local Harry L. Folsom Club.

Born November 4, 1878, in Roxbury, Mr. Hoehle was educated in the Boston schools and at business college in Boston. As a young man he went to work for the Boston brokerage house of R. L. Day Co., and he spent more than fifty years in the firm's employ, retiring as cashier.

Mr. Hoehle was for many years a resident of the Jamaica Plain district of Boston. He was a long time member and former officer of the Central Club, a men's club in Jamaica Plain.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoehle came to Winchester four years ago, and on September 11 of this year observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

During World War I he served overseas as a lieutenant with the Yankee Division. He was a past commander of the Winchester Post-American Legion, and a member of the Somerville Rotary Club. Flags on the common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

Mr. Keefe had lived in Winchester for the past 20 years. Interested in sports and young people, he was a member of the group of Winchester men who drove the Winchester High School football team to and from out-of-town games.

He leaves his wife, Gertrude, and three daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Majewski of Los Angeles, Mrs. Jacquelyn Smith of San Luis Obispo, both of California, and Miss Charlotte Keefe of Winchester.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes, need help at Thanksgiving and Christmas if these holidays are to be happy occasions in accordance with the American tradition.

MOST N. E. STUDENTS ATTEND N. E. COLLEGES

A small number of colleges enrolled a large proportion of the 105,600 undergraduates from New England attending colleges in this region last year, reports the New England Board of Higher Education.

The colleges heading the list included: Boston University, 7,380; University of Connecticut, 5,911; Northeastern University, 5,450; Boston College, 4,878; University of Massachusetts, 3,711; and University of Maine, 3,341.

These six colleges, enrolling 32,174, accounted for 30% of the total. Fifteen other colleges enrolled from 1,000 to 3,000 New England students each, accounting for 22% of the total.

Thus, 12% of the region's 178 institutions enrolled more than half of New England's students who attended undergraduate college in New England. The other 48% was divided among the remaining 157 colleges and universities.

Of the remaining institutions, thirty-one enrolled from 500 to 1,000 New England undergraduates each. One college outside the region surpassed 135 N. E. colleges by enrolling more than 500 New England students. This was Cornell with 606 N. E. undergraduates.

The six state universities enrolled 20,769 or approximately 20% of the total, while 12,303 or 12% were enrolled in the region's 24 state teachers colleges.

These figures were obtained from a NEHE survey conducted last spring in connection with the New England Regional Conference of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. This survey also showed that 34% of New England students obtain their college education in New England.

WEE SACHEMS END SEASON WITH VICTORY

Unless the Wee Sachems get a Bowl bid they ended a successful season on Sunday, November 10, with a 5-2 record.

An undefeated, untied, and reportedly unscathed on the Wee Sachems team travelled to Winchester to play an unusual non-league game. Both eleven man and six man football were played. It was expected that Winchester, with but three hours of practice on eleven man football, would excel only in the six man game. Likewise, it was thought that the undefeated Wellesley team, older and heavier, would most certainly excel in their own game of eleven man football.

Winchester shocked Wellesley 54-19, outscoring them in eleven man football 33-6 and 21-13 in six man football. Wellesley's scores came on desperation long passes. Winchester on the other hand did their scoring by way of the single wing power and wing T deception, combined and well quarterbacked by Paul Grady. The fundamentals fought so well by six-man football paid off. Dick (the rocket) Rowe scored four times as he continued to use his speed, hips, and head to score on long breakaways whenever he was able to get started. Bob Bonicassa, ineligibile this year because he couldn't make the 105 weight limit, was able to play against the heavier Wellesley team. Bob showed he hadn't gotten rusty in his playoff by running for two T.D.'s. Vic Lawson scored when he scooped up a Wellesley punt and streaked forty yards to the touchdown. Barry Johnson went up the middle on a hand off from Parrot to score the eighth score of the afternoon. Points were scored by Rod Wild, Benicassa, Rowe, and Parrot.

MASSACHUSETTS AGAIN LEADS IN R. A. RECRUITING

For the second consecutive month, Massachusetts led the First Army area and First Army led the nation in Army recruiting, according to Lt. Col. Thomas B. Spiller, Jr., commanding officer of the Boston Army Recruiting Main Station at Boston Army Base.

The Bay State shut out the rest of the First Army area in October when Springfield Recruiting Main Station took first place with 157 percent of its quota and Boston placed second with 141 percent of its objective. The first Army area includes New England, New York and New Jersey.

Colonel Spiller reiterates that he believes the sharp upsurge in Army enlistments in this area is due to realization by the people that the United States Army offers the best in educational advantages to young men who must select a service in which to fulfill their military obligation. Additional incentives for Army enlistment are the choice of arm or service and the choice of overseas theatre options open to qualified young men.

St. Mary's is trying to stay on top but she can't seem to shake Alabama off her neck. Thirteen pins separate the teams from a deadlock for first place.

Both leadoff men of the above teams are the prime reasons why they are tied for first. The newlywed of St. Mary's, Peter Gilberti did a tremendous job and Joe Di-Foria of Alabama, the old reliable, when the chips are down, did yeoman work for his team.

We are not counting out by a long shot the next five teams for they also are hanging on for dear life not far behind the leaders.

We can't seem to get more than five of our bowlers to hit the 300 mark or over. Those who did are "Deadwood" Chafalo, 322; Bob Fiore, 313; Tony Saraco, 311; Henry Subrizio, 302; and "Sir Winnie" Frongillo, 300.

Alabama, the rebel boys of the south, took high team pinfall this week with 1432. They were on top but were toppled over and seemed destined for oblivion.

They were, however, not to be denied! Last week and this week with sound determination they let everyone know that this is a drag-out fight to the end, as they took eight straight points.

Their brilliant strategist is captain "Skitchy" Fiore, the scoutmaster who is well known to the townspeople for his record run of 9 seconds from scout camp to police headquarters a few years ago which is now a town legend.

His scouts are First Class Joe DiForia, Tenderfoot Dom Simonetta, Eagle Scout Pete Longiro, Cub Scout Henry Subrizio and Life Scout Joe Ciarcia.

The big news this evening was B.C. finally taking 3 points. This team is at the bottom of the heap. They have been hit by every known misfortune from the flu to the mumps but you will also note that although they were forced to take many dummy scores, their pinfall totals are well up there. Many good wishes and good luck to this hard luck team the next half.

BOWLERS HALL OF FAME

Likes wild game, yes any type.

He's town boss, and just as bright.

Leaves to bowl and strives to win.

But his score is just a sin.

Just keep on bowling, don't give up!

Maybe someday you'll win a cup!

Down goes another week and four to go to close the first half.

The award this week went to one of our most prominent and influential members the most distinguished Sir Winston Frongillo.

There will not be any bowling on Thanksgiving night and all the boys and I wish to extend to all the townspeople a very happy and healthy Thanksgiving.

See you next week!

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART

("Living With Your Heart" is written and distributed weekly as a community service by the Massachusetts Heart Association.)

Are our rigorous New England winters "hard on the heart" for older persons?

In some cases—but they're usually more dangerous and difficult for children, who get out in the winter weather while their elders are hugging the hearthside.

Medical science has no evidence that climate—warm or cold—has any effect upon hardening of the arteries, a major condition leading to active heart trouble in adults.

But the streptococcus infection from which children contract rheumatic fever does its work in the cold months.

Rheumatic fever is childhood's major heart menace, and one which leads to lifelong cardiac complication in many persons.

It is of major importance for adults with children in the family to guard them against rheumatic fever. Modern medicine, through penicillin therapy, can do much to prevent recurrences of this disease, but the breakdown in the effort to stamp out rheumatic fever occurs in the Massachusetts home—where should and can be the front line in our defense against it.

Rheumatic fever usually "runs in families," although this is by no means an inflexible rule; and it develops most extensively in overcrowded places—for instance, home where several children may be sleeping in one room.

The first danger signal in rheumatic fever is a "strep" infection. Strep-like symptoms call for a doctor's diagnosis and, if it actually is streptococcus, the child should be kept extra quiet, warm and dry for the next month.

In rheumatic fever, symptoms of fatigue, sore throat, low fever, weight loss and a dull feeling often are noted as much as three weeks after a strep infection is believed ended. Again, only a doctor can make a firm diagnosis, because these are the symptoms of so many childhood ailments.

Rheumatic fever, even in cases not leading to recurrence or eventual heart complication, is a long-term disease involving months of rest. Approximately 70 per cent of the children studied in a long-term project at Boston's House of The Good Samaritan suffered recurrences within 10 years. The vital need to prevent rheumatic fever is apparent.

For further information on this subject, write to the Massachusetts Heart Association, 550 Beacon street, Boston. Literature will be provided without charge.

Miss Susan Gardner of 571 Washington street is among the fifty pupils at Christian High School in Cambridge who have done work of honor grade for the first quarter of the scholastic year. A seventh grade pupil, Miss Gardner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Gardner.

Another Middlesex Crown to Wakefield

Wakefield Defeats Winchester, 6-0

Wakefield High School's football team repeated as Middlesex League champions by defeating Winchester High School, 6-0, last Saturday afternoon at Walton Field, Wakefield, before a crowd of six thousand spectators.

The aggressive, superior defensive play of the winners and offensive errors by Winchester resulted in the first defeat of the season for the Indians and the first time in thirty-eight consecutive games the Knowlton-coached team failed to score.

Wakefield deserved to win, but a single break at several points, especially in the second half when Winchester came back to show its best form of the game, would have resulted in a happier ending for the Red and Black.

The opening kick-off of Joe Nardone of Wakefield was taken by Captain Joe Flaherty of Winchester on the 30-yard line and returned to the Winchester 41. Then after rushes by Flaherty and Paonessa, "Doug" Thomson made a first down on the Wakefield 48.

Successful tries by Flaherty, Longworth and Thomson gained a total of only two yards, so Flaherty punted to Fazio on the Wakefield 26.

Fazio carried for one yard, then five yards, and Salem made first down on the 37. Quarterback Encarnacao was stopped for a loss on the 32 but a roughing penalty against Winchester gave Wakefield the ball on Winchester's 49. Fazio went through to the 44 and Salem made another first down on the 37.

Two attempts by Fazio through the line netted only one yard but Encarnacao kept the ball and sneaked around his right end to the Winchester 25 where he was brought down in the open with a good tackle by "Doug" Thomson. Fazio gained three and Salem failed to gain. On third down a forward pass by Encarnacao was intercepted by Flaherty on the Winchester 5-yd. line and returned to the 10, a 15-yd. roughing penalty giving Winchester a first down on its 25-yd. line.

Thomson gained two and then captain Flaherty made a good run to the left and a first down on the 37. However, quarterback Longworth kept at center for only a yard and two incomplete forward passes with a 5-yd. penalty abruptly stopped Winchester.

On fourth down Flaherty punted to Scarano who was downed on the Wakefield 20-yd. line as the scoreless first period ended.

Second Quarter
Wakefield started on its own 29 and quickly Fazio gained eleven, Salem, two, and then Salem a first down on the 31.

Next, Fazio went around left end for nine and Salem made it another first down on the 43. Salem, two, and then Salem a first down on the 43.

However, a clipping penalty on the play put the ball back on the 42 yard line. Thomson next carried for a first down on the 33.

Third Quarter
Winchester came back after intermission and played a much better game. Serratore made a good kick-off to Wakefield's Fazio who ran it back from the 10 to the 36. Winchester's better-charging line then stopped Salem, Fazio, and Buckley.

On fourth down a bad pass from center spoiled an attempted kick and Serratore recovered for Winchester on the Wakefield 22 yard line. On first down Flaherty made seven yards but Thomson could not advance on two tries.

Winchester then went into a single wing formation and a bad pass from center did not reach Flaherty, and Wakefield took over on its own 32.

Once again in the period the Winchester line showed to advantage by stopping Fazio, Salem, and Buckley short of a first down. Serratore nearly went all the way on his run back of Fazio's punt, going 29 yards from his own 30 along the Winchester sideline before going down on Wakefield's 43.

Flaherty made three, and Paonessa went to the right for twenty-three yards to the Wakefield 17 yard line. However, a clipping penalty on the play put the ball back on the 42 yard line. Thomson next carried for a first down on the 33.

The Winchester attack then stalled and after Paonessa gained three and Thomson lost three, two attempted passes were incomplete and Wakefield took the ball on its own 32.

Winchester lost five yards on an offside penalty. Buckley made four, and then Fazio got the first down on the 43. Rushes by Salem, Fazio, and Thomson made the next first down on the Winchester 42 as the third quarter ended.

Final Quarter
As the final quarter started, Winchester braced, stopping Curley back on the Winchester 47 after Fazio had carried to the Winchester 36 in two rushes. Fazio kicked to Thomson on the 15 who returned it to the 21.

Winchester could not get its offense going with Thomson, Paonessa, and Flaherty carrying only to the 29 and Flaherty got off a long punt that Salem downed on his own twenty.

On the first play quarterback Encarnacao kept the ball for another sweep around his right end for eighteen yards and a first down

Army Decoration to Voorhis

Receives Commendation Ribbon

Colonel Nicholas R. Voorhis, Judge Advocate, U. S. Army, Japan, and son of Mrs. Henry Voorhis, of 23 River Edge road, River Edge, New Jersey, on November 14 was awarded a Department of the Army Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant.

Lieutenant General Charles D. Palmer, Commanding General, U. S. Army, Japan, made the presentation at Camp Zama, 35 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Colonel Voorhis was cited for meritorious service while serving as the Chief, Procurement Law Division, Office of the Judge Advocate General in Washington, D. C., from November 1954 to February 1957, just prior to coming to the Far East. The citation praised his handling of "many complicated procurement law problems in the fields of taxation, property disposal and contracting."

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Dartmouth College and Harvard Law School, he has been a member of the U. S. Army since November, 1942.

During World War II, he was staff judge advocate with the 86th Infantry Division in the United States, Europe and the Philippine Islands. He served in the Office of the Judge Advocate General from 1946 to 1949 and was director of legal affairs, Allied Military Government, Trieste, until the middle of 1953.

His wife, the former Virginia Warren of Winchester, is with him in Japan. The couple have three children, a son, Nicholas, Jr., an airman in the U. S. Air Force at Eglin Field, Florida, and two daughters, Marjorie, a student nurse at Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C., and Virginia, now enroute to the Far East after graduating from Berkeley School in East Orange, New Jersey.

KEN BROWN WINS N. E. ICA MEDAL

Kenneth Brown, member of W.H.S.'s New England Cross Country Championship teams of 1955 and 1956 and Captain of the 1956 team, was one of the medal award winners in the New England Intercollegiate Freshman Cross Country Race over the 2 5/8 mile Franklin Park course in Boston on Armistice Day.

Ken, running with the Wesleyan University team, led a field of over 80 top hurriers for the first quarter mile. At that point Robert Lowe of Brown University, eventual winner of the race in the record breaking time of 13:50.9 took over as pace setter.

For the next 1 1/4 miles Ken alternated with Harold Hatch of Northeastern, 1956 N. E. Individual Schoolboy Champion, in running second behind Lowe. In the last 1/2 mile the torrid pace told on Ken, but he managed to hang on to finish in 8th place in the excellent time of 14:19—only seconds off the old record set by Tom Tomasi of Northeastern University in 1955. Ken proved to be the only medal winner for Wesleyan in either the Freshman or Varsity races.

Ken has been one of the mainstays of the Wesleyan Freshman Team throughout the cross country season. In Wesleyan's first two dual meets with Coast Guard Academy and Choate School he crossed the finish line hand in hand with Spike Parany, former Lexington H. S. star now at Wesleyan, to establish new course records.

At Amherst in late October, Ken placed second to Parany with both runners breaking the Amherst course record. In Wesleyan's last two dual meets over their home course against Springfield College and Williams, Ken led Wesleyan Freshmen to an undefeated dual meet season, and Little Three Championship, by handily winning both races in near record time.

Ken plans to run the mile in Indoor Track this winter and will probably be running with Wesleyan's 2 mile Freshman Relay Team at Boston Garden in the K. of C. or B.A.A. winter meets.

Miss Anne E. Moriarty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Moriarty of 20 Sheffield road, is a member of the Freshman Class at Connecticut College, New London, Conn. She is a graduate of Winchester High School.

TB PREVENTION PAYING OFF

"The sum of $4.25 was spent on tuberculosis in 1956 for every man, woman, and child in the United States," reports Sherman E. Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee. The total yearly cost was $725,025,000. In Middlesex County, 292 new active cases of TB were discovered. More than 62% of these were in moderately or far-advanced condition. These required prolonged hospitalization, drug and medical treatment, and in some cases, surgery. "Most of the money to provide this treatment comes out of the taxpayer's pocket," indicates Mr. Russell.

Tuberculosis prevention and finding of new cases of TB early, now means that future costs of this disease can be made less," points out Mr. Russell. Free chest x-ray and tuberculin testing surveys to find unsuspected cases early when most easily and economically treated, are provided by the Christmas Seal funds raised by the Winchester Committee in affiliation with the Middlesex Health Association. "The Winchester Committee earnestly urges Winchester residents to consider their present tax expenses for tuberculosis, which may be reduced for the future by the Christmas Seal dollars which they give now."

K. of C. HELD SPORTS NIGHT

HIGH SCHOOL COACHES SPEAK

Winchester Council, Knights of Columbus, was treated to a very interesting Sports Affair on Monday evening, November 18, at the Council Rooms. Featured speakers were Winchester High School Coaches, Henry Knowlton, football and Director of Athletics; Jim Phillips, basketball; and Frank American, hockey. Chairman of the Sports Night was Council Lecturer Dan O'Donnell with Ted O'Rourke as his master of ceremonies.

Coach Phillips outlined the prospects of the coming basketball season and Coach Finigan likewise spoke on the hockey outlook. Both were high in their praise of Director Knowlton and his policies at Winchester High.

Movies of the Winchester-Wakefield game were shown with commentaries provided by Coach Knowlton. In his address to the Knights the popular Knowlton had high praise for the youngsters in his charge, stating that they are always in there trying. He pointed out Woburn's success this year and intimated a hard-fought game in the offing this coming Thanksgiving Day.

A highly amusing film on the Irish sport of "Hurling" was also shown which had the audience in paroxysms of laughter throughout. Combining our own game of baseball with some hockey thrown in the film served to make the Knights appreciate Brother Knight Dan O'Donnell who used to play the game. It is no sport for a timid soul, to say the least.

A very fine collation was served after the sports program by refreshment chairman Jim Wharf and his committee.

The Council is deeply indebted to Coaches Knowlton, Phillips and Finigan for their visit.

NATIONAL GIRL SCOUT CONVENTION

Eight members of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts have returned from the National Convention in Philadelphia, three of whom were our official delegates, the others, interested attendants. One of our vice-presidents, Mrs. Herbert Ross, gives us the following report.

The 34th National Convention of the Girl Scouts of the United States of America convened in Philadelphia November 11 through November 15. There were 3,739 official delegates, with voting privileges, from more than 1,000 local councils from all over the nation, who met with national and regional committee members, visiting Senior Scouts, International visitors, and friends for an opening flag ceremony by the Philadelphia Girl Scout Council. A total of some 15,000 persons saw the flags of each state join our national colors in an impressive ceremony. Throughout the week, Senior Girl Scouts played a valuable part, conducting the opening and closing ceremonies, acting as pages at the 14 microphones stationed among voting members, voicing their ideas, criticisms, and objectives in discussion periods open to all. Senior Girl Scouts were given a program of their own, including luncheons, a superb fashion show, folk dancing and singing, as well as working in many ways for and with the adults. We were all truly impressed by how much their participation added to our program of work, debate and decisions. They are truly a well-trained group to represent our nation around the world.

For Girl Scout adults, the convention is summarized by three words: interesting, exhausting, and most of all inspiring! Our President, Mrs. Roy F. Layton, threw out the key-note by saying: "In the spirit of our people lies the strength of our nation." Hers also is the suggestion: "Give the girls more responsibilities, more challenges, and let the adults remain in the background." The Girl Scout movement has increased 75% since 1951, reaching 3 million members this year. We have 30,000 American Girl Scouts in troops on foreign soil, "TOFS" so-called, in 47 different countries. Miss Dorothy C. Stratton, National Executive Director, in her speech, "Three Million and One" emphasized that our three million are composed of the "one" and that we must never lose sight of the individual, our attention being firmly planted on the girl.

Colored movies of the restored home in Savannah, Ga., of Juliette Gordon Low, our founder, were warmly appreciated. Our new headquarters building at 61st and Third Avenue in New York was announced as completed, to be occupied as of Monday, November 18. Adequate space, a central location, good rentals to other firms of available offices, and a good purchase price for the land, make the new home an economic success even as we begin our term of occupancy. The national budget was reviewed, its sources of income and its expenditures reaching well into the realm of "Big Business."

The real business of the convention, that of adopting the revised constitution and by-laws, was a serious and difficult task. Mr. Joseph N. Welch, a well-known New England lawyer, spoke inspiringly on "A Living Constitution." The National Board, of 68 members, then gave all voting delegates the opportunity to question, discuss, and revise any or all parts of the proposed new constitution. Many delegates spoke, ideas from all parts of the country flew thick and fast, and were well stated. To conduct a discussion involving more than 9,000 women, with half of that group voting on any action is a tremendous task, and it was well done by Mrs. Vaughan Ferguson, chairman of the Constitution Revision Committee, and Mrs. Gordon C. Hunter, 1st vice-president. Final action with differences resolved, came when the entire membership read the Preamble in unison, re-dedicating themselves to Girl Scouting, and passed the constitution and by-laws, revised to meet the new requirements of a 3 year cycle of national conventions.

A national survey of girls in Scouting was studied and interpreted. The forward-looking plans for programs and service were well presented. The need to keep our organization fluid, dynamic, and adaptable to our changing times was constantly stressed. Dr. George H. Gallup, director of the American Institute of Public Opinion, told us "Everyone likes the Girl Scouts, but few know just what they do." In a rather light vein, Dr. Gallup's challenge to just what they do, is to suggest:

1. Raise more flowers to beautify our country.
2. Teach our girls to recognize and prepare much better cooked food.
3. Teach them more appreciation for and interest in the out-of-doors.

Of great interest was the report of the 15th World Conference of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides this July in Brazil. There are 42 full-member countries, of which 22 were

METHODIST CHRISTMAS FAIR

Have you heard about the fair that's yet to be? The one that members of the W.S.C.S. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church undertake with such enthusiasm each year! It will be December 4 and 5, bigger, better, more wonderful than ever before. Those Methodist plans are really propelling themselves into place for "Christmas in the new Parish House." Aren't you excited? Can't wait to see what's in the "Surprise Package" or in the "Trash or Treasure" department (that's the white elephant table), the Children's Table where there will be many little outfits for the kiddies. Of course, we know the children will see to it that you find the exciting "Toy Table!"

For your tummy's contentment there will be the "Candy Table," "The Sizzling Kettle" (that's the preserve table), "The Food Table" which will have all the homemade favorites like apple pie and chocolate cake... sounds delish!

It seems just everyone knows what good cooks the Methodist women are.

A delicious dessert is planned for Wednesday night at 7:00 so that your whole family may come and do their shopping together! We hope you'll drop in for coffee Thursday morning before you shop and then return to have a lunch you didn't cook and be waited on! Do come for tea, yes, make it an occasion!

You'll see accessories and gadgets in the "Kitchen Corner," the lovely assortment of hankies and those darling aprons! For you with green thumbs, and for you without green thumbs, will be the House and Gardens booth to fascinate and inspire. Capturing your imagination will be a choice selection of "Christmas Decorations."

But, best of all, you'll be able to browse and inspect our wonderful "New Addition," our Parish House! See you at the Fair, just two weeks away! December 4 and 5!

Time: The present.
Agatha Christie, who has a unique flair for the detective story in both play and novel form, contrived this nice, tidy whodunit for the 1955 New York season, and endowed it with an engrossing trial scene and sundry other thrills and suspense.
The Parish Players, with the aids of several talented newcomers, really extended themselves in this production, and achieved their usual enthusiastic and workmanlike job.

One newcomer in particular—Charles Russell, did himself proud as the naive (?) young man suspected of murder, who volunteered "useful information" to the police in connection with the murder of an elderly maiden lady, and whose naive and general likableness endeared him to all concerned, leaving little doubt in their minds as to his innocence. Russell played his part to the hilt, and succeeded in conveying exactly what the author must have had in mind. A fine performance in every detail, especially in view of his limited experience.

Another newcomer, Carol Gannon, brought skill and experience to the complex role of Romaine. It was well she had these attributes, for the part demanded them. From her first appearance on-stage one sensed there was more beneath the surface than met the eye. Due to the poise and subtlety with which she endowed the character, it grew in fascination as the play progressed. Perhaps the best tribute to her work is the fact that no one, and I mean no one, recognized her as the street walker in Act III.

So well, indeed, did these two players project their parts, and so convincing were their respective characterizations, that the final scene, which saw the transformation of the young man's character from white to black, while the leopardess "changed her spots" to emerge a loving, trusting and devoted wife, drew a burst of incredulous laughter from the audience.

This conceivably is the fault of the author herself. Did she, perhaps, lean over backwards, a bit and sacrifice some credibility for the sake of a final, unexpected thrill? But, the thrill is inescapably there!

The battle between the two attorneys for the defense and prosecution, respectively, served admirably to display the talents and resources of our own George Connor in the part of Sir Wilfred Roberts, Q.C., sincere, baffled, but persistent, and in the end modestly triumphant, and still another newcomer, Prof. F. Russell Gilbert of Leland Powers School, as Mr. Myers, Q.C., who lent superciliousness, droolery, and final vindictiveness to an always intriguing portrayal. Here were two "vets" in battle joined, with results greatly to the audience's enjoyment. Harlan F. Grant, the director, in one of his infrequent appearances, lent pungency, humor, and humbling pomposity to the part of Justice Wainwright. In fact, these characters might almost have stepped out of a Gilbert and Sullivan production! As the dour Scotsman, Janet MacKenzie, Elizabeth Shepard presented a type familiar to all of us, the typical lady's maid of long and loyal service, strong in her convictions, but loyal, conscientious to a fault, and eminently trustworthy. Her testimony on the witness stand had the strength of Gibraltar, firm against even Sir Robert's wiles.

Grant Burnett excelled as the solicitor, business-like, earnest, logical, a tower of strength to Sir Roberts.

Inspector Hearne, in the person of George S. Hebb, Jr., gave testimony incisively and smartly, conveying the impression of a man who knew his job.

Betty Haley lent a sense of authority to her portrayal of the laboratory assistant, Lenore Clegg. We are told that Charles Katakasakis assumed the role of Dr. Wyatt on last minute notice. Good going, and good sportsmanship!

Benton Stewart as Carter, the chief clerk, was commendably solicitous and diligent. Betty Haley as Greta, tea-server and typist extraordinary, was, per character, flippant, careless, and incessantly curious.

From the brief glimpse we had of Blanche Carter as the ("strawberry blonde") other woman, we would say she was off to a promising start in her chosen field.

Daniel Blanchard proved a busy and capable court usher. How pleasant to note a third member of the Blanchard family behind the same footlights! Yes, we saw you, Doc, in the back row, posing as a barrister and enjoying complete irresponsibility!

Other incidental characters, of which there were a number, helped produce the semblance of reality.

Directing and acting at the same time is not easy. One appreciates Director Grant's double contribution.

The settings were excellent, the courtroom scene, in particular, being a fair approximation of the original.

All in all, a creditable job, and a smart opener to the Players' 1957-58 season.

Philip C. Salmon, son of Mrs. Alice C. Salmon of 128 Church street, has recently been assigned to the 3d Infantry Division, Fort Benning, Ga., where he will undergo military training and accompany the "Marine" Division to Germany next spring.

The Pentomic Marine Division, a new type of Army Combat Force designed to fight and survive on the comic battlefield, will assume North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense responsibilities in the American zone of Germany.

The Marine Division, which earned its unique identification as the "Rock of the Marine" during World War I, is one of the most senior and most decorated Divisions in the United States Army. Some of its major units trace their military histories to the War of 1812.

STUDENTS PREPARE
CHRISTMAS SEAL LIST

Preparations for the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale from the Winchester tuberculosis committee in affiliation with the Middlesex Health Association were begun November 7 in Winchester by Winchester Jr. Red Cross at the Winchester High School who assembled some 7000 Christmas Seal letters. Under the direction of Miss Helen A. Bronson, the students and school personnel volunteered their time and efforts to make ready these letters for the opening date of the Christmas Seal Sale on Friday, November 15.

Funds raised in the Christmas Seal Sale will be used by the Winchester tuberculosis committee and the Middlesex Health Association for local and area programs for better health and tuberculosis control. Through health education activities in schools and community, residents will be warned and reminded of the dangers of tuberculosis and the benefits of good health practices. To find new unknown cases of tuberculosis, chest x-ray and tuberculin testing programs are made available to industries, schools, hospitals, and among high incidence men-over-40 groups. Christmas Seal funds also provide rehabilitation services to help tuberculosis patients readjust to community living.

Mrs. Stanley Cummings, chairman of the Winchester committee, points out that the support of all Winchester residents will be vitally needed to make this the 51st annual Christmas Seal Sale a community-wide success.

Mrs. Cummings emphasized that "with 272 new cases of tuberculosis reported in the Association area in 1955 and with 100,000 new cases occurring annually in the United States, much more work remains to be done before tuberculosis can be eliminated."

HOLIDAY CARE FOOD CRUSADE OPENS IN WINCHESTER

Mrs. Frederick A. Moore, 16 Eaton street, newly appointed CARE chairman for Winchester has announced the Holiday CARE Food Crusade in Winchester.

A special effort is being made between now and Christmas to encourage everyone to give to the needy overseas through CARE. Hunger and despair are the constant companions of many millions of people in the world today. A CARE package carries with it the very essentials of life to those suffering from starvation, disease and dire poverty.

One dollar will deliver a 22-pound Food Crusade package of U. S. surplus food—milk, cheese, flour and cornmeal—to a hungry family abroad. It goes as a "person-to-person" gift, and the name of the donor is inscribed on the package.

Other packages contain medical supplies, warm clothing and tools. CARE—sewing machines, woodworkers' kits and fishermen's kits all provide others with the means to help themselves.

Also available is the opportunity to send holiday greetings to your friends, business associates, or employees with a CARE package sent overseas in their names. Information on this may be obtained at every Winchester Church on December first. All the churches are very graciously cooperating in this program.

Mrs. Moore urges everyone to contribute to CARE so that families overseas will be given new hope in the long winter months that lie ahead.

Seating with Mrs. Moore on the CARE Winchester committee are: Mrs. Richard N. Carr, Mrs. John W. Ellison, Mrs. William F. Ford, Jr., Mrs. Charles P. Harris, Mrs. Vincent C. Lanigan, Mrs. Henry C. Marcionette, Mrs. Roland A. Nault, Mrs. Warren L. Price, Mrs. Donald L. Puffer, Mrs. Edward R. Speare, 2nd.

Anyone wishing to know more about CARE program should contact Mrs. Moore or one of her committee members.

Contributions in any amount may be sent to the Winchester Volunteer Care Committee, Mr. Vincent Ambrose, treasurer, Winchester Trust Company. All donations will be acknowledged.

TO SING TENOR ROLE

John Morabito, formerly with the Winchester Unitarian Church, now with the Malden Universalist Church, has been engaged to be tenor soloist in the cantata "Thou Guide of Israel" to be given by the Belmont Community Chorus, on December 1 in Belmont, and on December 16 in the de Cordova Museum, in Lincoln.

He, also, won the audition with the Arlington Philharmonic Society, to again be soloist in Handel's "Messiah," to be presented on December 8 at 3:00 p. m. in the Arlington Town Hall.

NAMED CONVEYANCERS' V. P.

Attorney Marshall R. Pihl of Winchester was re-elected Monday as vice-president of Massachusetts Conveyancers Association, which is composed of the leading bank attorneys in the state. Mr. Pihl was the principal speaker discussing the new real estate "Purchase and Sale Agreement" recently adopted by the Boston Real Estate Board and drafted by its standard forms committee, of which Mr. Pihl is chairman.

Mr. Pihl is chairman of the Winchester assessors and vice president of the Association of Massachusetts Assessors.

A CHANCE TO HELP

Many elderly and infirm persons, as well as those with small children and limited incomes, need help at Christmas if this holiday is to be a happy occasion in accordance with the American tradition.

To help our less fortunate Winchester friends during the holiday season, gifts of money, food and clothing are earnestly solicited.

Gifts may be sent to the Winchester Community Relief Committee.

TOWN MEETING COMMITTEE REPORTSSETS DECEMBER 5 AS HEARING DATE

When the Annual Town Meeting finished its eighth and final session last spring, many members were very vocal in the expressions of disapproval of the length of time taken to complete the business of the meeting. Those members with heavy schedules or who are required to travel a great deal declared they would be unable to continue serving if future meetings were to be as lengthy. The desire to reduce the number of sessions seemed to be almost universal. Everyone realizes that the business of the town is increasing constantly in volume and complexity. This requires that the efficiency of the Town Meeting be periodically reviewed toward an effort to streamline the time necessary for the deliberations of the body.

Accordingly, at the Special Town Meeting held in June, it was unanimously voted to study the efficiency of the Winchester Town Meeting system. A committee was set up consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison Chadwick, John Dolan, representing the Selectmen; Austin Broadhurst, representing the Finance Committee; Mrs. Margery Livingstone, Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald, James Denton and Frank Hawkins. The chairman is Mr. Hawkins and Mrs. Livingstone is secretary.

The committee has held a number of meetings and has prepared several recommendations to be submitted to the next Town Meeting. The committee has met with the Town Counsel and has considered all suggestions made known to it that have been offered by the citizens. A questionnaire has been sent to all Town Meeting members to elicit their ideas and aid in arriving at a more efficient procedure for future meetings.

Some of the topics studied by the committee were: Saturday sessions, public hearings by boards and committees in place of meetings, use of visual or audible warning device to indicate to speakers that their allotted time is about to expire, a greater differentiation between Town Meeting members and non-Town meeting members in the number of times and the time limit allowed for speaking, the question of the priority of town meeting members to interrogate or cross-examine Town officers in the town meeting.

The committee expects to make a recommendation regarding the Finance Committee's report which it hopes will save considerable time for the town meeting members.

In addition to these activities the committee will hold a Public Hearing to receive any suggestions or recommendations from the citizens. This Public Hearing will be held in the Assessors' Office in the Town Hall at 7:45 p. m. on Thursday, December 5. Everyone is invited to attend.

CAPT. EDWARD D. FITZGERALD

FIRE DEPARTMENT OFFICER STRICKEN WHILE FIGHTING
FIRE

Captain Edward Dillon Fitzgerald, 60 Holland street, veteran member of the Fire Department and a captain in the department since 1948, died Sunday afternoon, November 24, at the Winchester Hospital not long after he became ill while fighting a fire in the former Carroll house on Swanton street, now owned by Nemo Marchese.

Captain Fitzgerald led a detachment to the fire in response to an alarm from telephone Box 31 at 2:52 p. m. Firefighters noticed he did not seem to be his usual vigorous self while working at the fire, and when Chief James E. Callahan arrived he ordered his captain from the house and radioed a call to the police for the department ambulance.

The ambulance was on the scene shortly after 3 o'clock with Officer Clarence Dubarry driving. Firefighter William O'Leary and Call Man Frank Nowell accompanied Captain Fitzgerald to the hospital where he arrived about 3:20 and was attended by Dr. Philip J. McManus. He was conscious during the trip to the hospital, talking with those accompanying him, but all efforts to save him proved of no avail and he died at 4:45 o'clock.

Captain Fitzgerald was the oldest man in point of service in the fire department. He entered the department March 30, 1919, under the then Chief David H. DeCourcy, and during his 38 years as a permanent man served under three chiefs, Chief DeCourcy, Chief John J. Gorman and the present Chief, James E. Callahan. He was respected alike by his superiors and his men, being known as "a good fireman" and the highest compliment that can be paid a firefighter.

As a fireman, as the men were known, he was a Captain Fitzgerald drove all the new pieces of apparatus that came to the department. Of all, Engine 3 was closest to his heart and he insisted, both as a driver and officer, that this piece got the best possible care. He drove the engine to many fires himself, and after he became an officer he invariably rode on this particular piece. During the severe winter of 1921-22 he had experience with horse drawn apparatus when it was necessary to use this type of equipment.

RAILROAD HEARING
B. & M. SEEKS TO CURTAIL
COMMUTER SERVICE

The Department of Public Utilities is holding a hearing December 3 in the Gardner Auditorium at the State House, commencing at 10 o'clock, on the petition of the Boston & Maine Railroad to discontinue passenger service completely in some of its lines to drastically curtail it on others.

Winchester is of course especially interested in the B. & M. plans for curbing passenger service between this town and Boston. Proposed new time tables show a drastic rearrangement of trains in and out of town stopping at Winchester, with some immediate curtailment, which many believe will be increased in the future.

The B. & M. proposes, among other things, to discontinue passenger service and station facilities at North Somerville, Tufts College, Medford Hills, West Medford, Greentree, Lindenwood, Farm Hill, Pleasant street and Stoneham. The railroad's reason for such curtailment is the loss of passengers and consequent loss in revenue.

He had lived in Winchester for many years and was a member of the Lions Club and the Loyalty Order of Moose.

Mr. Strazzere leaves his wife, Edna G. Strazzere; a daughter, Mrs. Anita Tunlinson, both of Winchester; two grandchildren; a brother, Samuel G., and a sister, Mrs. Sarah M. Nichols.

Private funeral services were conducted Monday morning at the residence by the Rev. Herbert K. A. Drigall, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Cambridge Cemetery.

JOSEPH F. STRAZZERE

Joseph F. Strazzere of 107 Wendell street died suddenly Friday, November 22. He became ill while driving his automobile on Main street near Richardson street, and was removed by the police to the Winchester Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

A former resident of Somerville, Mr. Strazzere was 40 years old and new. He had lived in Winchester for the past four years and was a member of the Lions Club and the Loyalty Order of Moose.

Mr. Strazzere leaves his wife, Edna G. Strazzere; a daughter, Mrs. Anita Tunlinson, both of Winchester; two grandchildren; a brother, Samuel G., and a sister, Mrs. Sarah M. Nichols.

Private funeral services were conducted Monday morning at the residence by the Rev. Herbert K. A. Drigall, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Cambridge Cemetery.

WINCHESTER BOY
MAINE GRID LEADERNILES NELSON ALSO WINS
ALL-STATE HONORS

At a recent meeting of the University of Maine football letter players Niles Nelson of Winchester, a regular end for the past two seasons, was elected captain of the team for 1958.

Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Nelson of 44 Water street, comes by his athletic ability naturally. His dad played football at high school and was also a tackle on the varsity eleven at Tufts. His mother, the former Virginia Merrill, starred in field hockey, basketball and tennis in her undergraduate days at high school and was as good an all-around athlete as the school produced in her time.

Niles played varsity football at high school as an end and many will recall his pretty completion of a Billy Ross forward pass for a touchdown against Woburn in the 1953 game.

Nelson went on from high school to University of Maine, Orono, with Jimmy Cusack, and both boys were regulars in the Maine freshman line. Cusack then went into the Army but Nelson made the varsity in chemical engineering, continued his fine play at end this fall as a junior.

Niles is one of the best college football players in the state, as his recent selection as one of the ends on the Bangor Daily News' all-state eleven testifies. The Winchester boy is a dean's list student majoring in chemical engineering, stands 5ft. 11in., and weighs 170 pounds. He is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity.

His selection as Maine captain and all-Maine end is just another indication of the sort of football grounding boys get at Winchester High under Coach Henry Knowlton.

Winchester boys who go to college and play college football generally do pretty well, witness Dave Pratt at Dartmouth, Jimmy Murphy at Maine, Johnny Murphy at Massachusetts U., and of course "Jock" Serika at Xavier U. Mike Murphy at St. Joseph's, Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo in Navy and Jimmy Cullen at West Point. A knee injury kept "Stu" Thomson out of varsity football at Yale, but they thought well of the big blond at New Haven.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

BY HARVARD-RADCLIFFE GROUPS
HERE TUESDAY, DECEMBER 10

One of the most beautiful Christmas gifts to the people of Winchester will be given on Tuesday afternoon, December 10, when the Social Service Guild of the Women's Association, First Unitarian Church, brings to this town the famous Harvard Glee Club and the Radcliffe Choral Society. For the first time in Winchester, this superb choir group will appear here, and the public is most cordially invited to attend, without charge.

The concert will begin at 3 o'clock in the First Congregational Church. Amidst a breathtaking setting of stained glass windows, crimson carpet, Christmas greens, candles, and the beautiful Celtic cross on the altar, this Society of 60 trained voices will present some of the most exquisite Christmas music composed by the masters. Wallace Woodworth, former choir-master at the Congregational Church, will direct, with James F. Armstrong, organist and pianist.

For those who have the time, the Social Service Guild, under Mrs. Sanford H. Moses, director, invites the audience to coffee and refreshments at 2 o'clock in the Chimes Hall, and then to the Christmas concert. Many Winchester people with sympathy tickets have heard this fine group when they appeared as guests at the Boston Symphony, but the group has never before been to Winchester.

Who truly enjoy the singing beauty and joy of Christmas, this program of music has been arranged by the Guild for all music lovers of Winchester. The churches, Junior and High School music groups, have been invited, and the general public is given a warm and sincere invitation to attend the concert on December 10.

ROBBED AS BANDIT
HOPS INTO CAR

Roland St. Onge, 25, of 5 Cottage avenue, reported to police that he was robbed of $60 at 12:05 a. m. Saturday by a man who jumped into his car at a traffic light at Essex and Mountfort street, Brookline, and forced him to drive a half mile with a knife held at his throat.

The hold-up man, about 23, complete with a knife, drove to the parking lot in the rear of a restaurant on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, near the Boston University Bridge, where he took the money from his wallet and fled on foot.

The Winchester man is employed by a Boston advertising agency.

Observe Silver Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Sanger of 10 Chestnut road were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening, November 23, to find upon arriving home that their daughters had arranged a surprise silver anniversary party in their honor.

Over 24 people came to the Sanger home to help celebrate the silver anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Sanger received many silver gifts, and all who attended brought silver dollars.

The party was arranged by the Sangers' daughters, Mary, who is teaching in Cleveland, Ohio and was unable to get home for the occasion, and Leslie who is at home.

BEATEN AND ROBBED

WINCHESTER TEACHER
ATTACKED IN BOSTON

William P. Branley of 81 Brookside terrace, director of the school department's industrial arts courses and popular head of high school driver education, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday evening, when he was attacked by a group of youths and beaten and robbed on one of the side streets of the North Station area.

Mr. Branley had gone to last Saturday evening's Celtics basketball game at the Boston Garden, accompanied by Mrs. Branley, their son, Bill, Jr., and a junior high school friend of the younger "Bill," Robert Watson.

Between the halves Mr. Branley had an errand at the car, which he had parked on a side street near the station and left the Garden temporarily.

As he arrived at his car he was attacked without warning by a gang of youths who surrounded him. He estimated there were at least four in the gang.

Mr. Branley was knocked down, landing in the gutter between two parked cars. He was slugged and kicked viciously about the head, neck, face and chest, as well as along the entire side of his body exposed between the two cars.

Mr. Branley was finally able to get to his feet and as he did so his assailants took to their heels. During the scuffle the youths took Mr. Branley's wallet, containing $50 and a number of personal papers.

Retreated home, Mr. Branley was examined by Dr. Philip J. McManus, who found he had escaped a fractured skull by the narrowness of margins. He was badly kicked and bruised about the right eye, sustained a cut on the head, was painfully kicked and beaten about the neck and chest and covered with bruises and abrasions.

On Monday Mr. Branley and Attorney Leo P. Garvey lodged a formal complaint with the Boston police, and were then taken in a police cruiser through the district where the assault took place. While on the trip Mr. Branley was able to identify two of his assailants whom he spotted in a building as he and the police were passing.

PHIL BROADCASTS
KOREAN NEWS

Last week, while visiting Radio Station KLA The Voice of Free Korea) seeing the facilities and watching the process of sending information to the rest of the world via shortwave broadcasts, PFC William P. Pihl, Jr., now stationed in Seoul, Korea, was asked to do some announcing on one of the news programs, a ten-minute "News Highlights of the Week in Review." This he did. The broadcast was aimed to the entire Pacific area and the western half of the United States.

Pihl is at present in the PIO (Public Information Office) of the KMAC (Korean Military Advisory Group) doing public relations work along with writing feature stories for "The Stars and Stripes," "The Army Times" and "The Korea Times."

As a bit of extra work he recently wrote and read a photograph captions for the annual ROK (Republic of Korea) Army Yearbook, an 80-page affair showing the activities of all the service schools they operate and the branches of their services. For this he received a letter of appreciation from the chief of staff, a four-star general, General Sun Yip Paik, so pleased was he with Pihl's work.

Shortly Pihl will leave for a ten-day furlough which will be spent at the home of his Korean friend, Choi Duksoon, in the City of Kunshan. Quite an experience and one not commonly relished by our GIs in Korea. Duksoon's father is in the import-export shipping and transportation business and his uncle is minister of communications for the country.

SWANTON STREET FOOTBRIDGE TO BE OPEN SOON

The recent closing of the Swanton street footbridge, which is a part of the bridge for vehicular traffic over the Woburn Loop of the Boston & Maine Railroad, has caused vigorous protest from people living to the east of the bridge who wish to reach the shopping center on upper Main street at Swanton street or to attend services at the Immaculate Conception Church.

When the footbridge closed the only access for many living east of the Woburn loop was over a dangerous grade crossing on Hill street, condemned by the railroad as unsafe.

As a consequence residents of the district under the leadership of Mrs. William E. McDonald, appealed to the Selectmen for relief. The original closing of the footbridge came when the entire bridge had to be closed for repairs.

When it was found that these repairs would take considerably longer than was at first estimated the railroad authorities opened up the footbridge and this has continued open until just recently.

It was closed again when it became necessary to complete some work underneath the footbridge, and while this work was in progress an emergency called the B. & M. construction crew elsewhere. The footbridge remained closed in their absence.

The Selectmen contacted railroad authorities the first of the week and were assured that in a week's time the footbridge will again be open.

of what constitutes normal personality development, and its importance in relation to individuals and groups. As aids to formulating ideas, selected films will be presented and appropriate reading suggested.

Dr. Lynch received his A. B. degree from Holy Cross College and his M.D. from the Boston University School of Medicine. After completing his internship at the Boston City Hospital, he served for three and one half years in the army. It was during this time that he became particularly interested in psychiatry and received some valuable training in the field. He was assigned to a psychiatric hospital and center for training at the Mason General Hospital in New York. He was later sent to the European Theatre, where he continued his psychiatric schooling at the University of Paris Medical School. He served in hospitals in England, France, Germany and Belgium.

At the end of hostilities in Europe, Mrs. Lynch resigned her position as assistant to the personnel officer at the M.I.T. Radiation Laboratory to join her husband in France, where he was now commanding officer of the 76th Field Hospital in Mourmelon, France. The following nine months proved to be most fruitful ones for the Lynches, as they were able to tour many of the European countries together and to learn much more about these countries and their people.

After returning to this country in 1947, Dr. Lynch enrolled in a residence course in neuroanatomy at the Harvard University Medical School. His next three years were spent in a psychiatric residency at the Bedford V. A. Hospital and the Cushing V. A. Hospital in Framingham, where he served as assistant chief of the Closed Ward Service. In May of 1949 he became a diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology. He then received further psychoanalytic training at the Boston Psychoanalytic Society and Institute.

Since September of 1949 Dr. Lynch has been engaged in the private practice of psychiatry in Boston, is on the staff of many Boston and local hospitals, and the teaching staff of the Tufts Medical School.

Mrs. Lynch is a graduate of Boston University and is active in many of our local organizations. She is a director of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association, Winchester Branch, a member of the board for the Friends of the Winchester Hospital, and a delegate from the Women's Auxiliary of the Massachusetts Medical Society. They have three children, Joseph, 3rd, and Irene, ten-year-old twins, and Keven, who is seven.

This study group is open to members and non-members of the Winchester College Club. If you do not receive an announcement in the mail after December 1, please call the Lynches.

BONNELL SAYS GOP FAILS TO SELL ITSELF

(From Political Pulse by Cornelius Dalton, Boston Traveler)

Republican leaders must accept much of the blame for their party's recent political reverses, in the opinion of GOP National Committeeman Ralph H. Bonnell.

"We have fallen down completely in getting our story across to the public," he says. "We have issues but we don't sell them."

Bonnell cites as an example the "hue and cry" over the Sputnik. "People seem to be losing their sense of proportion, and the Democrats see a chance to make political capital," he says.

Senators Kennedy, Symington and Kerr, Mr. Truman and a lot of others start attacking the President on the missile issue.

"Yet there is overwhelming evidence that the real lag in the missile program occurred when the Democrats were in office."

"Dr. Werner Von Braun, one of the country's top missile experts, says the United States had no ballistic missile program 'worth mentioning' between 1945 and 1951."

"Despite the evidence, and despite the Democratic attacks, I've heard of only one Republican senator who has come out in support of our position."

The GOP national committeeman points to the budget controversy as another example of the failure of Republicans to "get the true story across."

"Because of the belief that the public was economy-minded, the Democrats reversed their traditional position and began demanding budget cuts," he says.

"Many Republicans jumped on the bandwagon and, despite the efforts of a few people, there was no real support for the President's budget."

Bonnell is particularly irritated by the failure to counteract "Democratic propaganda" that the Republican party is "the party of the rich."

"The plain fact is that the average man in the street is better off today under the Republican administration than he ever has been," he says. "We need to say this, and keep saying it."

Bonnell thinks it would be silly for the Republicans to ignore the significance of recent Democratic victories in New Jersey and New York City.

"We've got a major problem nationally, and anyone who doesn't recognize this just isn't being realistic," he says.

The Republicans must be more alert and more aggressive, he believes, in presenting their case on issues as they arise, and in countering Democratic attacks.

Bonnell for some time has been trying to persuade the Republican National Committee to set up regional public relations divisions.

Under his plan there would be, for example, a publicity expert in charge of the New England area. He would work closely with local GOP officials in the various states, and with Republican members of the England congressional delegation.

His main assignment would be to make sure that the Republican side of every controversial issue was put before the people, at the right time, in the right place, by the right man.

"Our trouble is not that we lack the arguments and the issues," Bonnell says. "We have them."

"But we have been backward and haphazard about getting them over to the public."

Bonnell is not discouraged about Republican prospects in the 1958 elections.

He feels they are particularly bright in Massachusetts, even though Sen. Kennedy will head the Democratic ticket, and is convinced the GOP will recapture the governorship.

But Republicans are not going to win, he emphasizes, by sitting back and letting the Democrats "do all the talking."

Miss Martha V. Cunningham of Winchester is the secretary for the Group Ten elementary school principals, more than 100 of whom met for a dinner and panel discussion November 18 at the new Cole School in Natick. The role of the elementary school principal was the topic for discussion.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club met on Thursday, November 21, at the charming home of Mrs. J. Edward Downes, 84 Cambridge street. The club was most grateful to Mrs. Downes for opening her home as it is seldom today one has the privilege of enjoying such an architecturally beautiful house with its long circular staircase and hand-carved woodwork, a perfect replica of a French chateau.

Her most delicious dessert, the president, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, opened the meeting by reading a most appropriate poem, "Soft Colors."

Mrs. Roland Patrick, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Miss Gertrude E. Allen, whose subject was "Familiar Birds at Home." Miss Allen was qualified in every way to give one of her many colorful talks as she is a graduate of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and has written and illustrated books for children. Her best known are, "Everyday Birds" and "Tommy Chipmunk and His Friends."

Miss Allen described the birds and their habits as she drew fascinating pictures of them in their natural settings. During her lecture she drew five large breath-taking pictures. First was "The Woodpecker and the White-Breasted Nuthatch," "The Goldfinches," "The Robin and Nestlings," "The Baltimore Oriole," and "The Hummingbird Family."

Her drawings and backgrounds for these birds were delightful. Her orioles were perched on gorgeous white flowering dogwood. Her goldfinches were resting on larch with its pale green needles and budding cones. Her hummingbirds were feeding on tiny containers of sugar syrup hanging from branches of witch hazel.

Her knowledge of bird life and her artistic drawings of them was a rare combination of a great naturalist and artist. She was most generous with her talent and gave the club a better understanding of our feathered friends.

At the annual meeting of the Social Service Credit Union of 39 North Bennett street, Boston, Attorney Emidio Di Loreto, of 36 Wintrop street was elected to its Board of Directors.

The Social Service Credit Union commenced business on September 1, 1921 with eleven members and $1425 assets. This was the first Credit Union to be established in a settlement house in the United States. With its present assets of $1,582,142.63 and 3,138 members it is one of the largest and soundest Credit Unions in the State.

Attorney Di Loreto, who has offices in Winchester and Boston, is married to Dr. Antonette E. Di Loreto, who is a member of the faculty of the School of Education at Boston College. They have two children, Elizabeth, 4 years old and Michael, 2 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Prest of 38 Hutchinson road had the distinction of winning first prize for the most beautiful costumes at the recent Ball of the Art Directors Club of Boston at the Hotel Vendome.

About 1,000 persons attended the ball, the costume judges for which were Phyllis Harn of the Boston Herald, Cereld, costume designer for the Jackie Gleason and Perry Como Shows; Leo Egan, sports-caster for Station WBZ-TV and Alan Dary, director of the Alan Dary Show on Station WBZ.

Mr. and Mrs. Prest went as space people, "Mr. and Mrs. Mars." They designed and made themselves their most unusual and attractive costumes which were greatly admired.

In addition to the general acclaim, the Prests received as a prize a fine Motorola Hi-Fi Record Changer.

Twinkling satellites decorate home accessories store.

The Christmas display at Myron Berlow—Home Accessories is up now and is most unusual. The ceiling of the whole store is hung with foil "satellites" which flicker on and off all during the night, creating a fairly real impression.

Mr. Berlow reports that it took over 40 man hours to install the many "satellites" and he urges parents to bring their children down to see the display. However, the total effect of the satellites can be observed only at night when the store lights are off and the store is closed.

The decorations carry out the store's Christmas theme.

POLL SHOWS TB NOT UNDERSTOOD

What would people say about the correct status of tuberculosis if they were asked?

The answer to this puzzling question was sought by the National Tuberculosis Association last year. A nation-wide poll was conducted by Audience Research, Inc., creators of the Gallup Poll, to analyze feelings about this question.

One thousand nine hundred and seventy-five adults in 200 American communities were interviewed in their homes. They were asked: "How much progress would you say has been made in overcoming each of the following diseases—smallpox, common cold, diphtheria, and tuberculosis?"

Answer choices were: practically wiped out, much progress, little progress, no progress, no opinion. Queries about other diseases were included as a basis for comparison.

A disturbing 6%, one in 17 Americans, replied that tuberculosis is practically wiped out! 75% said that much progress has been made. 15% reported little progress, 1% thought no progress, and 3% had no opinion. Through new drugs and treatment, it is true that advances have been made for tuberculosis, yet there are still 100,000 new cases of TB every year in the United States.

To the Winchester Committee in affiliation with the Middlesex Health Association, this poll distinctly revealed:

1. A lack of knowledge about TB, which may lead to disinterest and dismissal of the problem.

2. The question whether opinion-molders in each community are up-to-date on the size and significance of the TB problem.

The Winchester Police Athletic Basketball League commenced its fourth season on Tuesday night, November 19, with the selection of the Junior League teams. Just as last year, there will be six teams. There have been a few changes in the junior coaching staff. A new post has also been established, chairman of the junior league, Bob Winn, Sr., coach of last year's senior league "Eagles" was appointed to this position.

There will be seven new junior coaches and three of last year's mentors return. Most of the junior teams have two coaches. Jim Cogan from last year's Harvard team, "Shine" Amico who coached Yale and Warren Branch, last year's Princeton coach are the returnees.

Branch again returns to the helm of Princeton while Amico moves over to Yale, and Ed Fitzgerald and Tony Juliano of that team.

The "rookie" coaches are Dave Greel and Dan Brenner of B.C., Tucker Nichols of the defending junior champs Dartmouth, Ted Little and Ed Carter of Yale, and Ed Fitzgerald and Tony Juliano of Holy Cross.

Carter and Little (Yale) formed two thirds of the fabulous Scott-Carter-Little triumvirate of the undefeated senior champs of last year, the Lakers.

"Steady Eddie" Carter won the scoring championship in the senior league last year. Dan "Arnie" Brenner (B.C.) holds the record for most points in a single P.A.L. game with 38, while playing for the Hawks last season.

Tony Juliano and Ed Fitzgerald are also ex P.A.L. stars. Tucker Nichols (Dart.) and Dave Greel (B.C.) begin their first year in the league.

The Junior League referees are: "Butch" Grady, Paul Stevens, Jim Caulfield, Bob Callahan and Bob Walsh. All five are former P.A.L. stars and Grady, Stevens and Caulfield are one year veteran referees.

Junior Team Scrimmage After the junior teams were chosen, there were short scrimmage games. All teams look exceptionally well balanced. It looks like a race right down to the wire, with all six teams very close. It would not be surprising if the championship team finishes with five or six losses. It is certain that there is going to be no run away in the junior league. All junior games will be played on Tuesday nights at the Winchester Junior High School gym, beginning at 7:00 p.m.

League play started Tuesday, November 26.

Senior Loop The Senior League will also be organized on the same lines last year with six teams participating. As in the Junior League, the post of league chairman has been established. Andy Crawford, who entered the P.A.L. record books last year when his Hawks scored 103 points in one game, has been named to this position.

This season's returning coaches are Bob Innis, who, with Sonny Swymer, lead the 1956 "Lakers" to an undefeated championship. His co-coach, Swymer, moves over to the Hawks.

Ben Hardy will again coach the Celtics and Tony Pronski returns to the Pistons. Pronski will be joined in the helm of the Pistons by Bobby Thompson, who last year played under Pronski.

Paul MacDonald is another of the "rookie" coaches, in his first year with the Royals. He will lead the Eagles. Finally, the Royals will have two "rookie" coaches, Mario Buzzotta, and a former P.A.L. referee who needs no introduction to Winchester sports fans, Louie Farrell.

The senior referees are Dan Scott, the third man of the "Laker triumvirate" who finished second in the senior league scoring, just 18 points behind teammate Carter, Leroy Penta, a first year man in the league; Jim Gibbons, a former P.A.L. star and the dean of the P.A.L. referees, Leo Garvey, Jr., who will begin his fourth year of whistle tooting. This quartet will soon be joined by the assistant dean of the referees, General Jack Garvey, who is due for his army discharge in January. Jack, like his brother, started refereeing four years ago for the P.A.L.

The official scorers for both leagues are Tony Juliano and Phil Pollard. Pollard was number six scorer last year in the senior league.

Police Chief Chairman The chairman of the league is Police Chief Charles Harrold and the directors are Sgt. John Elliot and officers Joe Quigley and Dick Beaton. The public is invited to all games. Admission is free. Seniors play at the Junior High School gym on Wednesday nights. Come down and support these youngsters. Anybody interested in helping the P.A.L. is asked to contact any of the directors.

OLD HAT

Every fashion magazine and many stores are proudly extolling the virtues of their "Ivy League Styles."

Well they might... but to us it is "old hat." Years before this neophyte in today's fashion parade became so universally popular, Chitel's was showing regimental repp stripe ties, button-down oxford shirts, suit and coat models without padded shoulders (the natural look)—trousers without pleats were always standard equipment.

Today we have more of this "Ivy" styling than ever before. We do not constantly proclaim it because to us it has always been a mode of dress.

Winchester Wins League Finale

Surprising Lexington

Downed, 19 - 13

Winchester High School's football team completed its season's play in the Middlesex League by defeating Lexington High, 19-13, Saturday afternoon before a comparatively small crowd of 2000 spectators on Manchester Field.

The Sachems' winning touchdown came late in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard dash through left tackle by Cosimo Paonessa, after the Minutemen had tied up the game 13-13 halfway through the same period.

The interesting game was close all the way, with the surprisingly strong Lexington team gaining consistently from a spread formation that bothered the Winchester defense.

First Quarter Lexington's opening kickoff by big 215-pound Rester went to Fran Murphy, who carried it back to the 37-yard line. In three carries Winchester just missed a first down by a half yard on its own 47.

Capt. Flaherty punted to Lappin, who raced the ball back 24 yards before being downed by Murphy on the 40. With Schumacher doing most of the carrying, Lexington made one first down on the Winchester 49, but another was nullified by a fifteen-yard holding penalty.

On third down with twelve to go Quarterback Robbat, attempting a forward pass, was smothered on his 43 by four Winchester players. Schumacher then punted to Dan Serieka, who received the ball on the Winchester 20.

After a pretty, fake hand-off to Thomson that completely fooled two Lexington tacklers on the 30, Serieka streaked down the Winchester sideline and completed a thrilling eighty-yard touchdown run. Longworth rushed for the extra point to put Winchester ahead 7-0.

There was no further scoring in the first period, but after an exchange of punts Lexington gained possession of the ball on its own 43 by recovering a Paonessa fumble. Then, operating from its spread formation, Lexington quickly made three first downs and had the ball on Winchester's 19 as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter On the first play of the second period Quarterback Robbat went through center for a first down on the Winchester 15. A holding penalty gave Winchester temporary relief, but, after an incomplete forward, Robbat ran right end to the 19.

Then a Robbat-to-End Clemens forward pass clicked on the goal line for Lexington's first touchdown. The attempt for point after failed on an incomplete pass, Wilkie intended for Clemens, and the score was Winchester 7, Lexington 6.

Lexington was on top the rest of the period, moving once to the 20-yard line and later to the 28, but the visitors could not score and the half ended with Winchester leading by one point.

Third Quarter Serratore's second-half kickoff went to Lappin, who ended up on his 8 after a loose ball. Winchester lost an opportunity after recovering a Robbat fumble on the Lexington 13; four Winchester rushes netted only six yards and Lexington took over on its own seven.

Lexington was soon forced to punt and Capt. Flaherty returned the kick from the Lexington 40 to the 34, Cosimo Paonessa, then took off on a quick opener through right tackle and scored standing up on a thirty-four-yard scamper. Thomson's rush for the point failed, and Winchester led 13-6.

Neither team came close for the rest of the quarter, although Lexington did put together three first downs before being forced to punt.

Fourth Quarter Lexington tied up the game midway through the fourth quarter. Lappin returned a Flaherty punt to the Winchester 32. Quickly, Spears gained seven and Robbat made a first down on the 21. A Robbat to Clemens forward pass made another first down on the 3, and Robbat, on a quarterback keep, went over right guard for a touchdown. The equalizing point was place-kicked by Wilkie and the score stood 13-13 with about six minutes to go.

The determined Winchester team then demonstrated that it can play good football, driving hard for the winning touchdown.

Flaherty took the kickoff by Rester on the 30 and dug to the 43. He then gained eight to the Lexington 49, but on the next play a penalty put Winchester back to its 46.

Two rushes, again by Flaherty, made a first down on the Lexington 46. After Paonessa did not gain, Thomson made seven and Flaherty had another first down on the 34, as the officials indicated four minutes to play.

Thomson then made five at right end before Flaherty made the third straight first down on the 23. Paonessa gained two, Thomson seven, and Flaherty another first down on the eight-yard line.

On the next play Paonessa found a hole at left tackle and carried over for the winning touchdown. A rush by Flaherty for the extra point was stopped, and the score, that was final two minutes later, was Winchester, 19, Lexington, 13.

The game was a make-up of an October 19 postponement caused by the illness of many Lexington players at that time. The win gave Winchester an excellent season's record of seven victories and only one defeat to take into the annual Thanksgiving morning contest against pre-game favorite Woburn High on Manchester Field.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY HEARS PROFESSOR

The bi-monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society was held Thursday, November 21, with a luncheon at the Colonial Country Club in Lynnfield. There were 36 doctor's wives and their guests present.

Mrs. Leonard Wolsky of Woburn then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Elspeth D. Rostov, Professor of Economics at M.I.T. who spoke on "The Continuing Crisis." In her talk on world economics Professor Rostov spoke optimistically about the future, in spite of the grave responsibilities and problems facing this country today. She said the problems were not insurmountable and she felt could be dealt with by re-organization of our Defense Department, re-orientation in our attitude toward NATO and in our dealing with the underdeveloped people. She told her audience that the next 10 years would be a turning point in American history and to come out of this period a major nation, we must convince the world that our way of living is a success.

Mrs. Edward D. Thorp of Melrose, president of the auxiliary, welcomed the guests and the pledge of loyalty was read by Mrs. Gerald Cummings of Wakefield.

A report of the previous meeting was given by the recording secretary, Mrs. Charles A. Kane of Wakefield and Mrs. John C. Anderson of Stoneham, the treasurer, gave a full financial report.

Mrs. Dominic Runci of Winchester, chairman, gave a brief report of the science fair. She stated that out of 13 schools contacted, two were unable to participate due to lack of facilities, seven have agreed to enter and four are undecided. The fair will be held the latter part of March, the place to be announced later. The project has the whole-hearted support of the doctors in the district.

Those who attended from Winchester were Mrs. George A. Marks, Mrs. Roger M. Burgoine, Mrs. Sanford Moses, Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. William Hickey, Jr., Mrs. Gustav G. Kaufmann, Mrs. Dominic Runci, Mrs. W. Morton Grant, and Mrs. Charles H. Dutoit.

I. C. C. LADIES SODALITY

Tuesday evening, November 19, after church services the I.C.C. Ladies' Sodality were indeed privileged to hear the melodious voices of the "Peabody Choralists." Mr. Andrew Quinn, their very capable conductor gave a brief resume on the sacred and secular music they were to sing. Pointing out most aptly that when one sang in a church choir, you sing only for the honor and glory of God. He then led the group in brief excerpts of the mass as it was sung centuries ago and now the only accepted form for all Catholic services.

Mr. Quinn then led the choir in what he called "fun songs." The audience was held spellbound as the choralists burst forth with "Winter Song," "Sleep Kentucky Babe" and "Bless This House." After introducing their wonderful accompanist Mrs. Leonard Mahoney at the piano, Mr. Quinn concluded the concert with Fred Waring's beautiful "Battle Hymn of the Republic." The choralists are becoming so well known that they have been asked to sing at the coming festivities for Bishop Sheen and the grand opening of Peabody's new shopping center. We know that they will soon be back by popular demand, and they promise when they come to bring their 16 boy sopranos.

A light collation was then served, with home-made delicacies from the kitchens of our able committee under the direction of Mrs. Gerry Bresnahan. They were delicious, girls!

On Thursday, November 21, the executive board of the Parkhurst Parents' Association had the pleasure of entertaining Dr. Harry Gilson, Mr. Albert F. Sutula and all the teachers at the Lewis Parkhurst School for luncheon.

The luncheon was planned and served under the chairmanship of Mrs. George Whitten, and took place at her home, 45 Myopia road. She was assisted by Mrs. Richard M. Osgood, Mrs. David W. Burnham and Mrs. Joseph H. McCusker.

the National Biennial Meeting next September. This is to be held at the Statler in Boston. Send your best people to the State Convention in June of next year.

One thing we feel very strongly about is the small percentage of people who vote in State Elections. We may rush to the polls for a national election, but as to this election only about 55% vote. Why? The local elections are very important. If you do not vote you do not have any right to complain about what is done. Think well about this. We are living at a time when good history must be made.

Tea was served after the meeting by Mrs. Alfred Drew and Mrs. Herbert Darling. Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. Arthur H. Haines and Mrs. John Gilbert were efficient helpers. Miss Helen Neidringhaus and Mrs. Clifton Linnell poured.

The December Christmas Party on December 11, will be at the home of Mrs. Don Greer on Arlington street.

Mrs. Browne gave an interesting report on the Conference of New England Republicans which took place not long ago at the Sheraton Plaza. There are 400 clubs in the United States.

Mrs. Whitman spoke on the referendum concerning the abuse of the disability pension in Massachusetts. This is an abuse of which this state should be ashamed. 97% is a disgrace. Stand up and be counted as being against such practices.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Carolyn Standley, chairman of campaign activities. A more dedicated Republican is hard to find. She is not afraid to speak her mind. Consolidation of women in surrounding towns, especially Middlesex County, is greatly needed. Use your Republican stamps. Do not put them in a drawer after you have bought them. Plan to attend

Alabama vs. St. Mary's was the schedule this week. With top honors at stake Alabama met the enemy and chopped her down 3 to 1 to once again gain sole possession of first place, let me at least say it with a grain of salt for staying on top is getting to be quite a problem. Watch out for the dark horse Holy Cross who is really running wild down the home stretch.

... It was so nice seeing all you mothers and fathers again this past week during our open house, and we were thrilled with your nice compliments about the children's progress.

Our second semester enrollment begins December 2, and of course classes are limited in size, so we suggest an early registration for your child... or yourself. We have classes for children and adults.

One of the new features this semester will be special original choreography for individual or group presentation in shows, revues or social events.

A brochure outlining our regular courses is available and I'll be happy to send you one if you will call or write me.

UNITARIAN YOUTH

Young people of the Unitarian Church School brought offerings of food stuffs and delicacies on Sunday morning. These were packed for distribution through the Winchester Division of Welfare for neighbors who are in need.

The Junior High Fellowship held an interesting meeting on Sunday afternoon with Mr. George Appleton as guest speaker. Mr. Appleton, a specialist in the field of underwater diving, described the training necessary for this hobby and occupation. Mr. and Mrs. A. Harmon Hall were parent guests at the meeting. A worship service in Meyer Chapel concluded the program.

Metalf Union members held a successful supper party on Sunday evening. Moving pictures and recreation were enjoyed. On Sunday, December 1, members will attend a Federation meeting in the West Newton Unitarian Church. Motion choir rehearsals are held on Friday afternoons at 2:15 for all high school girls. Mrs. Jane Renz and Mr. Storer direct this program, which is an activity of the church that is being recognized all over the country. At the present time, over a hundred churches in New England area have organized motion or rhythm choirs.

M.S.P.C.A. TO SEE PUPPIES IN THE MOVIES

Mrs. John Boland of 21 Sheffield road will open her lovely home on Monday, next, December 2 to members and friends of the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. Those attending will enjoy seeing the many beautiful paintings which decorate Mrs. Boland's walls.

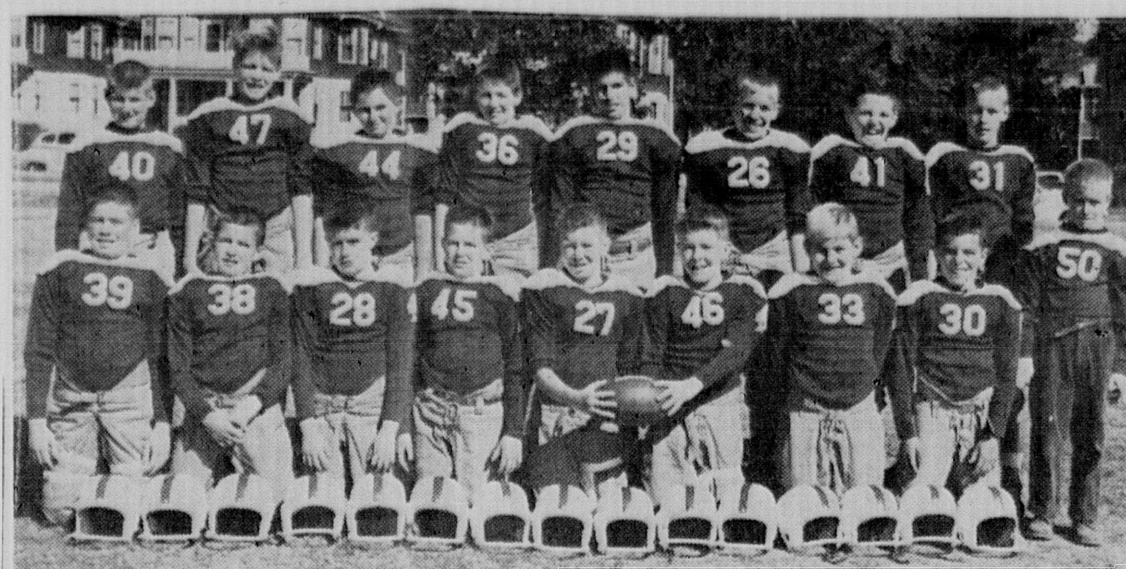

Mrs. Lewis B. Snow will show unique movies dealing with the babyhood antics and the up-bringing of some adorable puppies. Mrs. Snow will also tell us something of the trials and tribulations of a dog owner at the dog show.

The popular "silent auction" held at the club's last meeting will be repeated. Written bids are slipped under the article of your choice. Highest bidder, of course, gets the item. Everything from Chinese vases to children's books to baked goods to ceramic animals is donated by members for the auction. (Might be a good chance to pick up a Christmas knickknack for a son.)

As always, members and friends and animal enthusiasts are welcome.

The latest scientific report which was recently released from the pentagon on our beloved brother Hokie is that erosion is rapidly setting in and the final outcome will be complete disintegration. The exercise he was to maintain in his right hand is over. He closed his hand on the sponge ball and has been unable to release it. Any further dispatches released from the pentagon pertaining to Hokie will appear in this column.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN ROUNDUP DRIVE

Roundup Time is a familiar cry in the western part of the country, but, come the summer of 1959, "Roundup Time" will be the Girl Scout cry all over the nation.

In Girl Scout language, the Roundup is the gathering of Girl Scouts from all over the United States to a convocation of friendship, understanding and mutual exchange of information. Flags of many nations will flutter from staffs in tent areas spread over a wide range of dedicated ground. The first Roundup was held in 1956, near Pontiac, Michigan. This meeting proved such an outstanding success, particularly from the standpoint of what the girls themselves got out of it, that it became almost mandatory that another Roundup be held as soon as possible. Hence, by dint of hard work, 1959 now becomes the target.

This, then, will be the second National Girl Scout Roundup, the 1959 affair to be held near Colorado Springs, Colorado. Here, in a beautiful setting of golden hills and fertile valleys, Girl Scouts will gather in another special fortnight of international good will. Here the girls will live with and talk with their peers in a spirit of friendliness and cooperation. Camping habits and skills will be exchanged; new games and activities of many kinds will be learned; ideas and future plans will be discussed, girl to girl.

Boy Scouts have their Jamboree, now Girl Scouts have their Roundup.

More than a year is spent, after the selection of the Roundup area, in making preparations for the arrival of the Girl Scouts, their well-being while they are there and their uncomplicated departure for home after an exciting sojourn. Land must be leased and cleared, feeding arrangements must be made, health facilities must be prepared. A well-rounded program must be planned so that all types, races, creeds, colors and nationalities of Girl Scouts will be properly cared for and adequately provided for during their well-earned trip to the momentous Girl Scout Roundup.

And not all the preparations are done at the camp site.

In order to keep the attendance at a maximum of relative distribution, extensive preparations are made, years in advance, by the girls themselves in their own home towns. The qualifications set up for Roundup attendance are necessarily stiff, for one of the fondest wishes of every Girl Scout is to be able to attend the Roundup.

For several years prior to a Roundup, new skills are learned and practiced, while proficiency is striven for in all phases of Girl Scout activities. When the time comes to select the most representative girl or girls, according to the quota set up by national headquarters, it becomes a difficult task of the appointed selection committee. One had to be a Girl Scout since the latter's recent deactivation.

year of Senior Girl Scouting and who will have completed the 5-point Program. This latter program comprises well rounded activities both in outdoor living and indoor skills, specifically pointed toward the development of individual accomplishments, group projects and community service.

But it takes money to go to the Roundup, and special programs of "fare raising" are necessary to provide the required funds.

The first such program has been planned by Troops 5 and 10. Beginning December 2, these Winchester Girl Scout members will offer especially vacuum-packed cans of peanuts and mixed nuts to the entire town.

All proceeds of the effort will be put towards sending Winchester girls to the 1959 Girl Scout Roundup in Colorado Springs.

The troops have advised that if someone wishing to obtain one or more two-pack sets, and who do not recall any phone numbers on posters, can obtain delivery by calling Winchester 6-3598 or Winchester 6-3087.

HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

Last week when the Winchester Home and Garden Club held their regular November meeting, Mrs. George Ham gave her delightful talk on Christmas Decorations. The members who had been so industriously working for the last four weeks preparing articles to be sold at the annual Greens Fair, which will be held on December 11 this year, had a chance to relax and enjoy themselves while acquiring many new ideas.

For her introduction Mrs. Ham displayed, against a red background, a large pine cone wreath that had been gilded and tied with a green velvet bow. She then went on to show and explain several wreaths that had been made from seed pods, dried fruits and even sea shells. Her pine spray swag for the front door trimmed with gourds cut to represent bells along with her gilded magnolia leaves wired to look like poinsettias particularly pleased the audience. She reminded us to call on shut-ins at this time and suggested we trim a small tree for them as she had done with miniature flowers, birds and ornaments.

At the close of her talk, the audience was invited to inspect and buy some of the pieces that Mrs. Hills committee had been working on. Two tables had been set up at the rear of the hall. One had dried arrangements and wreaths most attractively displayed on a dark green cloth which suggested several uses for Thanksgiving. The other was a table of bird houses and creches that had been made by Mr. Newman, a husband of one of the members, and will be among the items for sale at the bird table next week.

PUPIL SHOWS TEACHERS HOW

For some time now Captain Donald J. McFarlane of 2 Bonad road, Metropolitan police officer, has been telling Mrs. McFarlane about the thrill of hunting big game. He has also been instructing her in the use of firearms against the possibility of his wife's wanting to accompany him on a hunting safari!

Now the captain is a good firearms instructor, having acted in that capacity for police departments for many years. He is also a convincing talker.

As a consequence Mrs. McFarlane agreed to accompany her husband on a hunting trip in New Hampshire recently, and while there, on November 19, in Freedom, shot a 212-pound buck on her first attempt as a huntswoman.

"Don" had the doubtful fun of getting the buck out of the woods and safely ensconced in a freezing plant. His "Mrs." on the other hand, or really, both hands, is sporting a pair of white buckskin gloves made from the pelt of the buck, and also a "smile that won't come off."

According to "Don" all objection to further hunting trips is now a thing of the past, provided, Mrs. McFarlane gets to go along! "Hunting," says she, "is fun!"

CHRISTMAS GREENS SALE HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

When Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills and Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken get together to head the annual Home and Garden Club Christmas Greens Sale once more, you can rest assured it will again be one of the best ever sales.

So, again, Home and Garden Club members have been meeting at Mrs. Hills' home avidly working and creating ingenious indoor and outdoor Christmas swags and wreaths, also table and mantel decorations in gay colors and designs. Those specially gifted members are busy making the unusual for the so-called "special" table while others are putting together delicate and original Christmas corsages. And then, there is also Mr. James Newman, who is graciously donating his time making beautiful Christmas creches in various sizes, which will be found at the table where bird food and feeders may be had.

This Christmas Greens Sale of the Home and Garden Club will be held on Wednesday, December 11, at the First Baptist Church. Doors open at 10:00 a.m. and at 12:30 a luncheon prepared by Mrs. William Holdich and Mrs. Percy Bugbee will be served to those who have bought tickets in advance.

Remember: for the unusual in decorated evergreen wreaths; for very special table decorations; indoor swags and wreaths and centerpieces; gay and original Christmas corsages; home-cooked food; and those things that make for the comfort of our birds, come to the Winchester Home and Garden Club Christmas Greens Sale!

Christmas is coming upon us with leaps and bounds, and as of now it looks like Winchester will have no Christmas lighting in the center this year.

A year ago a group of merchants and service club members set out to improve Winchester's Christmas lighting on a contributory basis, but for one reason or another their effort failed of success, and it is dollars to doughnuts that last year's group will not make another try to light the center this year.

For many years Winchester limited its community Christmas lighting to a tree and marginal lights on the Common, a modest display which some thought wholly inadequate in view of what other communities were doing.

The Park Department always did the Common lighting, but this year, according to their chairman, they have no money in their budget for such a project.

At the March town meeting a proposal that the town do its own Christmas lighting as a municipal project was turned down by the voters. There seemed little, if any, enthusiasm for such a plan.

The Park Board, with no money for lighting, has appealed to the Selectmen, who have no funds for such a purpose either. Another appeal to the town accountant for funds for community lighting has failed of approval.

So it looks like we are not going to have any outdoor lighting at all this year, and the center, aside from what is done by individual merchants in their stores, will be devoid of holiday decoration.

It is a pity that effort of the merchants and service club members came such a cropper last year, for it looked like a start toward a holiday feature many would like to see here.

We all have an occasional complaint over telephone service, though when you consider the number of calls and the human elements involved the margin of error is very small. And it is so often that the telephone operators step into a breach to render service of a special kind in time of trouble that we really shouldn't be too critical if there is no one on the line when our bell rings.

The Star was talking last week with a family who had lost a loved one and their praise of the telephone operators' helpfulness and the service rendered away beyond the call of duty was nice to listen to.

We pass it on so that our readers may know, as we do, the response you get when you appeal to your telephone operator at a time of sickness, death or other emergency. You will find her ready and eager to go all out to help!

We all tend to take our service organizations too much for granted.

Most of us have cause at one time or another to be grateful to our telephone, electric and gas companies, as well as police, fire and other municipal services for helpful response in an emergency. Let us all remember that response in the hour of need more often.

Many in Winchester, including all our law enforcement agents, learned with regret of the Governor's Council vote to compel Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph King to retire December 1 because he has reached age 70. The council even refused to permit the Registrar to finish out his term.

It is always a matter for regret when a good public servant, still capable of rendering efficient service, is forced to retire because of his age. Mr. King has been a good public servant, and unfortunately such are becoming all too few. His satisfactory replacement will not be too easy. It should be made with great care.

Automobiles have become big business in Massachusetts as everywhere else. It takes an exceptional man to administer the Registry, a man combining judgement with firmness. Mr. King has been such a Registrar. May his successor continue on the high level of public service he has set.

It is to be hoped that all town meeting members will plan to attend the hearing to be held on December 5 by the Town Meeting Committee. This committee has been since its creation in June studying the matter of streamlining our town meetings so that they will consume substantially less time than has been taken in the past few years.

Questionnaires have been sent to town meeting members and their opinions on certain proposals seeking to shorten the meeting sessions has been, and is being, compiled.

We see in the questionnaire no mention of the part reconsideration of articles plays in prolonging town meetings, yet this can be one of the greatest factors in dragging out individual sessions and overall meetings. This year's eight-session meeting could have been reduced to two sessions had it not been for the reconsideration of two articles, not because the meeting felt wrong decisions had been made but because those especially interested in the articles had not been present at the meetings at which they were taken up.

The Star feels strongly that articles should be reconsidered for only one reason, that being a belief by the necessary two-thirds majority that the original decisions are open to question. We feel it is the responsibility of those having special interest in individual articles to be present when the articles come before the meeting.

It is never safe to estimate when a particular article will come up for consideration. The meeting should not be penalized because those with special interests to protect make a wrong guess.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Eight Explorers from Post 3, Winchester, under the leadership of Explorer Advisor Lawrence E. Beckley and Thomas Hill, spent the weekend of November 16-17 on a camping trip to Mount Stratton, Vermont.

A camp site was set up at Stratton Pond Saturday, and on Sunday morning the boys climbed the mountain, three miles from camp. They cooked all their own meals. The origin of their design and the artistry and skill which go into the making of oriental rugs is a fascinating subject and one which cannot be completely covered even by long study and research, as Mr. Boodakian pointed out, but his talk was very enlightening and instructive and highlighted by the exhibit of some beautiful examples of Caucasian, Turcoman and Persian designs. The beautiful Boodakian showrooms contain many orientals of antique design and make. For the pleasure of the members of the Study Group, Mr. Boodakian hung his world-renowned "Rug of Civilization," a truly magnificent example of oriental rug artistry.

The questions from the members were ably answered by Mr. Boodakian and certainly the members profited by his advice and very informative lecture. The time for the delightful refreshments came all too soon.

We invite you to come in and look over our Christmas card sample books. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

Mary Ling, C. Norman Noonan and James Wakefield won awards at the Thanksgiving party at the Town Hall.

ANTIQUE STUDY GROUP

The second meeting of the Winchester Antique Study Group was held at the showrooms of Koko Boodakian & Sons on Loebman street, Tuesday evening, November 19, and despite the inclement weather, a large number of the members attended.

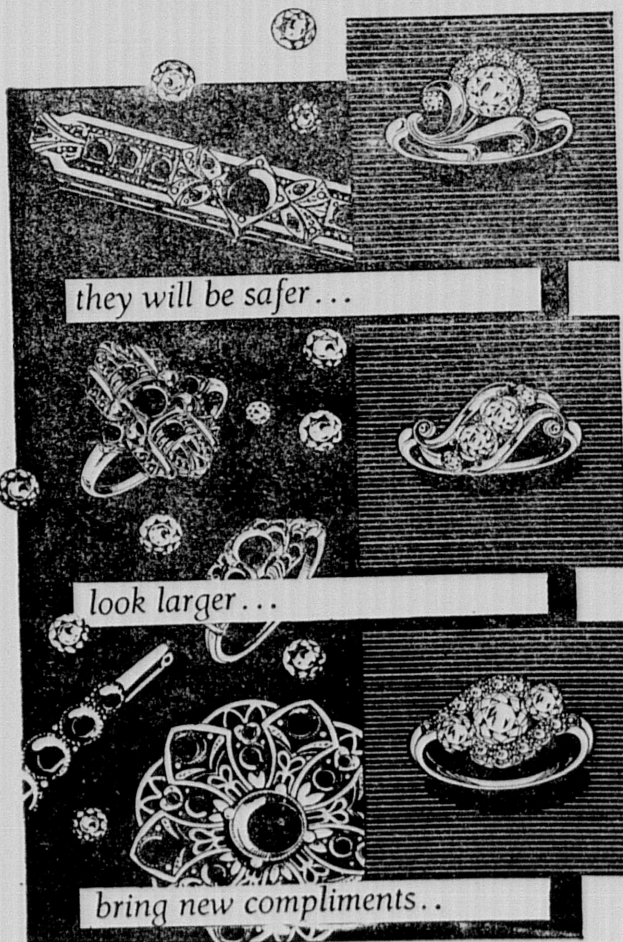

Mrs. Clarence Blake, chairman of the group, addressed the meeting and introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Leo Boodakian, whose talk was to be on oriental rugs.

Captain Fitzgerald was promoted to acting lieutenant in the department October 13, 1942, serving in this capacity until March 18, 1943. He was appointed captain October 13, 1948. Following his death the Central Station was draped in black and flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half-staff.

Captain Fitzgerald was the son of Edward F., and Elizabeth (Dillon) Fitzgerald. He was born September 5, 1895, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and working for the then old line expressing firm of Kelley & Hawes. He came by his interest in fire fighting naturally, his father having been a call captain in the Winchester Department, while his brother James, and his late brothers Frederick and Harold were also members of the department.

During World War I Captain Fitzgerald entered service September 17, 1917, as a bugler in Battery A of the 301st Field Artillery, 31st Brigade, 76th Division, serving overseas from June 27, 1918, to January 5, 1919. Among the officers with whom he served were Leverett Saltonstall, now senior Senator from Massachusetts and Raymond S. Wilkins, now Chief Justice of the Massachusetts Superior Court.

Captain Fitzgerald was active in local veterans affairs. He was the first commander of Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars, when it was organized in 1938, and maintained his interest in the Post until his death. He was a veteran member of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association, serving the organization for many years as secretary. He was also a member of the Massachusetts Firemen's Relief Association, of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B.P.O.E., and of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

On September 6, 1926, Captain Fitzgerald married Mary B. Fitzgerald, daughter of Allston, who survives, with a daughter, Miss Sally Marie Fitzgerald and a son, Edward D. Fitzgerald, Jr. Also surviving are two sisters, Miss Elizabeth F. Fitzgerald of Winchester and Mrs. Royal Langston of Chelmsford; and a brother, James H. Fitzgerald of this town.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home, the cortege being led by the colors and color guard of Aberjona Post, 3719, Veterans of Foreign Wars. A detachment of Veterans was also in line led by Post Commander Ralph Fiore.

A police escort, led by Lt. Edward W. O'Connell, was also in line with a large detachment of firefighters, led by Chief James E. Callahan. Chief Michael J. Kane of Woburn fire department and Chief Harold F. DeCourcy of the Bedford Air Port fire department.

Pall bearers, marching on both sides of the hearse with its flag-draped casket, were Captain Frank Amico, Lt. Joseph Shea, Lt. John J. O'Melia, Lt. Peter Galuffo, Firefighter Joseph Connolly and Firefighter Norman Doucette, all of the Winchester Fire Department.

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. The pastor, Rev. John M. Manion, was celebrant, Rev. Martin J. Dolphin was deacon, and Rev. Charles E. Anadore, subdeacon. Town officials and representatives of Fire Departments from surrounding cities and towns were among those attending the mass.

Members of the Fire Department acted as guard of honor as the casket was carried from the church and the cortege reformed for the trip to Wildwood Cemetery, passing the black-draped Central Fire Station on the way to the interment. Men and apparatus from Woburn and Stoneham "covered in" at Headquarters to relieve the Winchester permanent men so that they could attend the funeral. Apparatus was in front of the Station, Engine 3 bearing the Captain's Helmet. Engine 1 was flower car.

Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery where the committal prayers were led by Father Manion.

MISS CARVER TO CONDUCT EPIPHANY MEDITATION

In preparation for the Christmas season, there will be a Quiet Day service for women at the Church of the Epiphany on Tuesday, December 3. For the second consecutive year Miss Estelle C. Carver has been invited by the Church Service League to conduct a series of meditations from 10:30 a. m. following the 10 a. m. communion service, to 2:15 p. m.

Dessert and coffee will be served in the Parish Hall for a small fee to supplement the sandwich each woman is asked to bring. During this 12:15 to 1:00 p. m. period, music appropriate to the thought-provoking presentations of Miss Carver will be provided.

Women of all denominations are cordially invited to attend the Quiet Day for all or any part of the program that meets their convenience.

Miss Carver, an outstanding lay leader in the spiritual life of the Episcopal Church, was born in Jamaica, B.W.I. The daughter of an Anglican clergyman, her great interest in the Bible began under her father's direction. She spent her early life in the West Indies, and later continued her education in England.

In 1955 she completed a 25-year period of teaching English at the Hopkins Grammar School in New Haven, Conn., the second oldest preparatory school in the United States, which prepares primarily for Yale. At that time Bishop W. Appleton Lawrence persuaded her to come to Western Massachusetts as Director of Religious Education and to live at Lasalle House, Whitinsville.

Miss Carver's teaching classes and Quiet Days have taken her from Maine to Texas, with many in the South. She has carried a prodigious program speaking to groups of all ages and several denominations, to youth and men's groups but more especially to women.

For several years she led Quiet Days at Trinity Church, New York, which Bishop Stokes, then Rector, enthusiastically attended. Hundreds have expressed their gratitude for Miss Carver's understanding, inspirational help.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

A regular meeting of the Fortnightly was held Monday, November 25, in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church, the president, Mrs. Paul W. Atwood, opening the business meeting at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Carlyle D. Fiske, chairman of the cooperation with War Veterans, gave her attentive audience of the bags that she will take to the Chelsea Hospital on December 12. They are generously filled with useful articles and will certainly please the patients. A collection for the project was taken, amounting to $34.84.

It was announced that the speaker at the silver tea to be given by Mrs. Charles E. Potts, Jr., chairman of international relations and foreign service, on December 2 at 2 p. m. will be Mr. Abdul Aziz. He is a student at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy and is a native of Karachi, Pakistan.

The program of the afternoon was a talk on flower arrangements by Mrs. George E. Ham of Arlington. At a long table on the platform she displayed a succession of lovely creations suitable for centerpieces. From her own experience she ably gave her attentive audience many useful and practical ideas about bases for containers, sprays, and materials, (natural dried, or artificial). She advised simplicity rather than over-elaboration. Chatting pleasantly she explained her method for making fruit wreaths, which with a large candle alight in the center, are especially attractive. Everyone decided to try her hand in making something original and pretty for the holiday season.

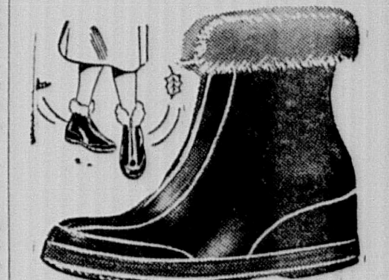

At the Barbo store Friday afternoon, November 22, two films on venerated furniture and room-furnishing were shown. Then Fortnightly members enjoyed exploring the store, particularly the gift shop. A door prize of six large glass tumblers with gold coin ornamentation was won by Mrs. Walter P. Roberts.

The Literature Committee held a meeting November 6 when favorite poetry was read and Mrs. Ralph R. Meigs gave a book review of "Autumn Across America" by Edwin Way Teale.

A week ago Thursday, firefighters were called out by a telephone operator to go to 14 Kendall street where she had a report that a boy was choking. The boy was rushed to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance. Later in the day they answered a call from the Missionaries of Mary for a bad brush fire near 1 Arlington street. On Friday, two calls brought firefighters to the home of Anthony Pronski, 6 Ridegway, for a fire in an electric frying pan; and also to the home of Robert E. VOLUNTEERS NEEDED AT MENTAL HOSPITALS

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, right, pledges support to George Swartz, state chairman of Mental Health Committee appointed by Governor Furolo. Promoting mental health, said His Excellency, is the nation's foremost problem. "Your task," he told Swartz, "will be to multiply volunteers in mental hospitals, encourage them, and organize them into even more effective avenues of service. We can never overestimate the good these volunteers do. They prove to those in institutions for mental illness that they are not forgotten and that they have a place in society." Archbishop Cushing promised not only complete moral support "but also my active and enthusiastic cooperation."

LIFE LINES

DOWN BUT NOT OUT

The prisoner at the bar in Felony Court certainly looked like a bum. His gray hair was unkempt and curled at the nape of his neck. He was unshaven, and obviously unwashed. His clothes were ill-fitting cast-offs: the pants too tight, the jacket too loose.

The presiding magistrate looked up in surprise when this derelict took his place before the bar, and said in perfect English, "Your Honor, if you will reduce the charge to a misdemeanor, I will waive for Special Sessions."

"What is this?" queried the judge. "Are you a lawyer?"

"Yes, your Honor. I was disbarred in 1935, and I've been on the bum ever since."

This man's record showed that he had been arrested thirty-nine times. His record also showed that he was an honor graduate of one of our nation's leading law schools.

It was of men like this that General William Booth, founder of The Salvation Army, was thinking, when he said, "A man may be down, but he's never out." I know from my own experience in working with men like this, that those words are true.

Recently in Chicago, I addressed a group of one hundred and twenty men, well dressed, distinguished-looking, every man with a fine job and a respectable position in society. Yet, I knew that every one of these men had once been "down-and-out." But these men had found deliverance, and had worked their way back up the ladder. It can be done. But only by Divine Power. "God is able to deliver all who come to Him." That miracle can be repeated in your life.

PHONE CALLS

RESULT IN ARREST

Two telephone calls to the police on Thursday resulted in the arrest of a truck driver who was causing damage to property in Winchester.

The first call came at 4:19 and reported that a small truck had just struck Fire Box 62 at the corner of Mt. Vernon street and Highland avenue. According to the report, the truck was travelling north on Highland avenue.

A few minutes later another phone call reported that the same truck was entering Walcott road. Both patrol cars were notified and Officer Poole arrested the truck driver on a charge of operating under the influence of liquor.

"MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS"

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgun, said this week, "early mailing of all Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all of the mail delivered before Christmas. Post Office facilities have been expanded, extra help will be available, and everything is geared up to handle a record Christmas mail in Winchester this year."

The Postmaster suggested that you take special care in preparing gift packages for the mails. Make sure that all addresses are legible and complete.

"If you have any articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the Post Office before attempting to mail them," the Postmaster warns. The limits on size and weight of packages varies, depending on where you mail your package.

When wrapping gifts for mailing, it is always better to use corrugated cartons, especially where there are a number of various sized objects in the shipment. Use plenty of wadded tissues or newspaper for extra protection against shock, and securely wrap each package or carton in heavy paper, and then tie it with strong cord. Be sure to include an extra label with your return address and the recipient's address inside the carton or package before it is wrapped.

Another good idea is to place a piece of transparent cellophane tape over the address portion of the label on your package so prevent defacing in transit, and always make sure to include the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone and state.

Postmaster Gilgun says that if you will follow these three simple rules, you are certain to have your gifts delivered before Christmas Day. Wrap them securely, Address them correctly, and Mail them early.

Christmas Cards

When mailing your Christmas cards, use the free label from the Post Office reading, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery." By sorting your Christmas cards and tying them in two separate bundles, with the addresses all facing one way, you're sure to speed their arrival.

All Christmas cards should be sent by First Class mail, and be sure to put your return address on your card envelopes. This is not only socially correct, but will enable both you and your friends to keep your mailing lists up-to-date. Christmas cards and packages for out-of-town destinations should be mailed well before December 10, and your Christmas mail for local delivery should be sent at least a week before Christmas.

GOOD INSURANCE

In a recent speech to a group studying the project of "Survival" Albert D. O'Connor, regional administrator for Federal Civil Defense told the assembly that we here in America will be thrown right into the front lines in the event of another war, and that if ever there existed a need to re-evaluate and take stock it is now, today.

Recent Russian achievements should make us all sit up and take notice. Never again will United States have time to prepare ourselves after a war has been declared. Governments, industries and the people will be the next targets. Home Defense, Civil Defense, non-military defense—call it anything you like all boils down to the fact that we must have protection for our people and properties therefore this call for advance planning, planning for survival itself. Present thinking now calls for a long-range program "to make Americans understand that Civil Defense must become a regular part of their everyday thinking, of their living and of their Government."

Federal Government already is organizing a CD structure program to fit into all phases of government. The survival of this Nation depends on the ability of State and local governments to carry on in the event of nuclear attack or a natural disaster.

DAVE PRATT

WINCHESTER BOY DARTMOUTH FULLBACK

Dave Pratt, senior fullback, has been a standout on coach Bob Blackham's 1957 Dartmouth College football team. Pratt, a graduate of Winchester High School, has the difficult job of being first string blocking back in Dartmouth's V-formation play. He must make the key blocks on each play if the team is to score. Dave has been doing just that all season long.

Although Pratt does not carry the ball often with this type offense, he leads the team with a 7.9 yard average per carry. The versatile Pratt has the second highest punting average of 36 yards on this undefeated, once tied Dartmouth team. Besides blocking and punting, Dave has been used on kick-off run-backs, and was on the receiving end of a 40-yard touchdown pass play against Harvard.

A Naval ROTC member at Dartmouth, majoring in engineering, Pratt won "most valuable" honors at Winchester High in both basketball and baseball, and was a three-year football letter winner, playing on a State Class B championship team in 1953.

Dave is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Pratt of 1 Salisbury street, who are presently spending a year in England.

HONORED BY H. P. HOOD

Recently honored at special ceremonies conducted at H. P. Hood and Sons in Boston was Arthur Stewart of 67 Dunster lane. Thirty-five years ago this month, Stewart joined the dairy company. He is now a contact salesman in the Boston wholesale milk sales branch.

At a luncheon held at the executive dining room, Boston general offices, Stewart was presented with a gold service pin marking the anniversary of his employment. He was one of eight people with service records from twenty through thirty-five years honored at these ceremonies.

Presentation of the gold service pin was made by Harvey P. Hood, president of the company.

Robert Lindsey, yeoman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Lindsey of 36 Harvard street, with the staff of Commander Amphibious Group, Three, is participating in an amphibious training exercise (NAGLEX-58G), in the San Diego-Camp Pendleton, Calif., area during November 12 - 22.

MOST IMPORTANT FOR AMERICA

Editor of the Star:

The most important thing for America at the present time is to possess the good will of all nations. But, we must also remain prepared in order that present dictators, as those of the past, who think they can conquer the world, will change their minds when they consider the United States as the power for world peace. Therefore, we must continue to have the best Naval Officers, the best Army Officers, and the best Aviation Officers in the world, and continue to maintain an adequate military program so that future dictators will be afraid to start out on a war of destruction.

We are spending large amounts for foreign aid which, in many cases, is making enemies of us rather than friends. A small part of this foreign aid program should be used to build a school to teach men who want to go into Foreign Service to be the best prepared men in the world for this type of service. To do this, we must not only build the school, but must also have our very best Diplomats as instructors. Young men who really want to go into Foreign Service should be selected as students.

Today, we have 17 colleges in the United States that offer courses for men or women who want to go into Foreign Service. Naturally, none of these schools concentrate on the Foreign Service courses. Men who finish these courses can take their examinations in 23 cities throughout the United States. The examiners are only interested in the applicants' written examinations; they know nothing of the applicants' qualifications or personal lives.

All of us can see and understand that the best way to cure this hazardous way of selecting Foreign Service men is to have one school, such as the Army, Navy and Air Force have. By emphasizing proper training and observation only the best men would be selected for Foreign Service. Our country should pay these men well for this type of work, instead of paying them four thousand dollars per year as we now pay our Consuls. You cannot get good men without paying them enough. These Consuls, who are located in all main seaport towns, should be men working themselves for so long now it is hard to remember when they were any different.

I would like to tell the "High Schoolers" of an incident that occurred in my time that will show how different things were.

When I was in high school, class of 1895, I took part in an operetta put on by our director of music, Mrs. Susan Bailey of pleasant memory. It was supposed to portray a girls' boarding school that was giving the play "Cinderella" an all-female cast. The parts were all assigned, one being the part of the prince.

Here came the drawback. No nice girl would get up before an audience on the stage of the town hall of Winchester in boys' clothing. Shocking! No, not even if that costume were white satin with gold trim! Something had to be done about it and was.

The cast was changed and a boy brought in to take the part. That boy was the late Miles Holbrook.

INTERESTING POLIO FIGURES

Care of polio victims in Middlesex County this year has cost $380,000, it was revealed at the kickoff dinner for the March of Dimes campaign held at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge November 13. The campaign will climax with the traditional Mothers' March in January.

The expense of patient care and rehabilitation is being emphasized under the campaign theme, "Survival is Not Enough."

Medical care of Middlesex County polio patients in 1956 cost $630,000. Our generous friends in the county contributed $447,000. After sending the National Foundation our normal allocation for research, the deficit was $404,000. This sum was sent here by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The cost of patient care and rehabilitation in Middlesex County during 1957 will be approximately $380,000. In our last campaign we collected $313,000, half of which is allocated to research.

From Jan.—Oct., 1957, payments to communities for medical care of polio patients includes the sum of $3,420,49 paid to Winchester.

LIBRARIAN WRITES ON LIBRARY SITUATION

Editor of the Star:

As I interpret the recent Town Meeting votes concerning the library, these things become evident:

1. The voters realize that the library has needs which are not being met in the present building.
2. They feel the town can not afford the plans proposed.
3. They think the present library space has not been used to capacity.

The Winchester library has been for many years a fine example of the best in public library service. I know Winchester people want to continue to have the best public library they can support. A modern library provides the community not only with books, but also with other services such as films, records, pictures, the materials for discussion groups, and a place for such groups to meet. However the original basic needs of the library must be met first. These are room to shelve the books, and room for the people who come to read, to seek information from, and to borrow those books.

Since the recent Town decisions, the library and the staff have had to consider the building and its uses from a fresh point of view. The library welcomes the suggestions and constructive ideas which have come from Mr. Mott and others, who have been interested enough to examine our problems and talk with us about them. The best solutions come from a free interchange of ideas.

When all the possibilities have been weighed, it will be the responsibility of the trustees and the librarian, with the advice of our trained and experienced staff, to make decisions as to what will give the best library service in the present building. Plans for the necessary changes will be explained in an early issue of the Star after this week's meeting of the board of Trustees.

Lois G. Smith, Chief Librarian

TRANSFER WADLEIGH TO LIBRARY

Editor of the Star:

Since the day when the Wadleigh school was relegated to a ghost structure and the public library trustees felt the time was opportune to begin propagandizing for additional space, it was the humble conviction of the undersigned that the old school building could be advantageously transferred from the school committee to the library administration.

Mrs. McDonald has stated that the edifice is safe and sound. Mr. Barnard has stated that it is unfit for educational purposes. Both respected opinions are correct. Mr. Mott publicly and a greatly others privately lament the loss of the attractive and useful assembly room in the library to book shelves and stacks, therefore the following happy (?) solution.

Convert the Wadleigh school building to a storage place for little used books and library supplies. Our proficient library staff can cull from the thousands of volumes which would be transferred.

Surely the moldy old books won't mind being stored away from the main library and neither will many of their lonely since moldy old authors be upset as long as any of their works can be re-circulated in a few moments by making a short trip across the street.

Keep the assembly room at the library as the same wonderful art gallery, family motion picture room so sorely needed by our youngsters as a deterrent from watching the sordid trash flashed across most screens and as a meeting place for the varied high calibre organizations and committees who find it an atmosphere in which to accomplish their ends.

Relieve the school committee of the problem of finding functional use for an outdated edifice, thereby making them happy.

The library trustees and staff should be happy in finding needed additional space so close at hand, thereby making possible the continued use of the existing rooms in the library and possibly more.

The children and adults who use and love their library and its fine programs should be happy to know that nothing will be curtailed and the tax payers should be happy in the knowledge that a whale of a lot of stacks and shelves can be easily built in a sound building for a tiny fraction of the cost of constructing additions to the present library.

CRITICAL OF HIGH SCHOOL SCOUTING

Editor of the Star:

In this morning's (November 18) copy of the Boston Globe, my eagle eye caught a headline which read as follows:

"Unsung Boys' on 2nd team credited for Wakefield win." This was in reference to Wakefield's victory over the Red and Black the previous Saturday.

I also quote "they put on Winchester plays for us, all week. The scrubs even wore numbers corresponding to the Winchester backfield."

I have always been under the impression that high school and college football was a healthy, sportsmanlike, amateur game played in competitive spirit, and "may the better team win!"

I was also under the impression that scouting, as they call it, under hand spying or snooping would be my term, came under the heading of professionalism.

The Winchester's team plays were all anticipated. Would you call this clean, amateur School Sportsmanship?

I may be old-fashioned and do not understand the terms, competition amateur, sportsmanship.

Will you please comment. Yours sincerely,
M. L. Snyder

TREASURERS AND COLLECTORS OFFICES MAKE COOPERATIVE MOVE

In a joint, constructive effort of mutual cooperation directed toward greater efficiency in both offices, the Town Treasurer, E. Abbott Bradlee, and Town Collector and Collector of Taxes, Donald Heath, together with the employees of both offices, have acted to bring their two offices closer together. On November 21 it was agreed by all concerned that the double sliding doors between the two important town offices would be opened permanently. This will permit the workers to move freely between their offices, helping each other as the work load varies, as absences occur, or during the lunch hour. Of immediate practical value will be the assistance given Mrs. Betty Titilash, asst. treasurer by Miss Marguerite Troop, chief clerk of the collector's office, and her two assistants, Mrs. Lillian Donaghey and Miss Angie Politano during the coming fall.

absence of Mr. Bradlee for a few weeks. Herein the move of the collector's office to the new building, which has been necessary for the town to hire temporary clerical assistance for Mrs. Titilash during this period.

Assisting with the details of coordinating this move were members of the Fiscal Survey Committee who acted with full cognizance and approval of the Chairman of the Finance Committee. In complimenting the personnel of the two departments for their broad approach to this question and willing cooperation Mr. Don S. Greer, Chairman of the Fiscal Survey Committee, said "The action you have taken today marks an important step forward in our method of operation here in all our town offices. It has long been recognized by some, and was early pointed out by our committee, that there are great variations in the demands of the different functions and offices in the town hall. People in one office may be hard pressed, even working overtime, while those in another have little to do. Within a short time, perhaps a few weeks, the tables may be actually reversed. The obvious answer has been to establish a policy of voluntary movement of personnel back and forth to cope with these situations. It has been the conviction of many that the people most affected, namely the workers in the offices, assist willing to do this. Your action today is proof of this fact."

"We of the Fiscal Survey Committee had early established as one of our important goals the effective working out of an agreement among all town offices that such shifts of personnel should be the rule rather than the exception. Your action today marks a tangible first step in this direction. We are delighted and congratulate you.

WINCHESTER MEN AT H. C. DINNER

Winchester men will play prominent roles at the Holy Cross Club of Boston dinner at which Tom Greene, Holy Cross quarterback, will be presented the O'Melia Trophy at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston, on Thursday, December 12. There is special Winchester significance in the award because it is in memory of a former Winchester boy, Eddie O'Melia, who starred as an end at Holy Cross.

Leo R. Ford, 215 Forest street, is chairman of the dinner committee. Serving with him are Raymond I. Rigney, 35 Nathaniel road; Paul J. Whitney, 30 Kenwin road, and Dr. Phillip J. McManus, 465 Main street.

Greene was awarded the trophy as the outstanding player of the Holy Cross-Boston College football game. As is customary, actual presentation of the trophy will be made by the captain of the opposing team, in this instance Tom Joe Sullivan of Boston College.

The dinner's speaking program is expected to erupt into a battle of wits with toastmaster Tom Dowd, secretary of the Boston Red Sox (American League) engaging the fiery Birdie Tebbetts, celebrated manager of the Cincinnati Reds (National League).

The principal speaker will be the Very Rev. William A. Donaghy, S.J., president of Holy Cross College. Arthur Sampson, Boston Herald football expert and former Tufts coach, will speak as a member of the O'Melia Trophy selection committee.

Head table guests will include the Very Rev. Joseph R. N. Maxwell, S.J., president of Boston College, and the respective football coaches at Holy Cross and Boston College, Dr. Eddie Anderson and Mike Holovak.

HOME FOR THANKSGIVING

Miss Ellen Glowacki of 18 North Gateway was home for the Thanksgiving week end, from Swarthmore College, where she is a sophomore.

Miss Glowacki is a member of the Swarthmore chorus, which, with similar groups from Bryn Mawr and Haverford (270 voices in all) recently sang with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, under Eugene Ormandy.

This was in a regular Friday-Saturday concert series, November 1, and the chorus sang Bach's cantata, Number 50, on an all-Bach program.

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High Fellowship of the First Congregational Church enjoyed the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Tadatsugu Itoh from Japan, presently doing research work in electronics at Harvard. Mr. and Mrs. Itoh talked with the group about differences between Japan and the U.S.A. and helped us to grow in appreciation of that country's struggle for a happier future of its 90 million people.

The evening closed with a Japanese song and an oriental tea in which Mrs. Itoh explained the traditional tea ceremony and details about the beautiful kimono she wore. The experience of having met highly educated persons who have not grown in the Christian tradition, made us newly aware of our responsibilities as Christian youth.

In connection with their study on Japan, members of the Junior High Fellowship will visit the Japanese section in the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, including a lecture by Miss A. McGuinness. The group will meet this Saturday with Miss Reich, Mr. Robert Ericson and several parents at the church at 10:30 a. m. sharp and be back in town in the middle of the afternoon.

FIRES

Firefighters were called out three times on Thanksgiving Day for two fires and a false alarm. At 3:35 a.m., D. J. McLaughlin of 4 Foxcroft road called to report a fire in his home. Firefighters were quickly at the scene and extinguished the fire which was in a sofa. At 9:25 a. m. a brush fire was reported on Linden street. The false alarm was from Box 252 at the senior high school.

Two alarms on Saturday turned out to be a false alarm from Box 361 at 5:05 a.m. and a report of smoke at 24 New Meadows road. Firefighters found that the cause of the trouble was a burned-out electrical ceiling fixture.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

The Women's Republican Club of Winchester is looking forward to the Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Don Greer, 82 Arlington street on Wednesday, December 11. All members should put this date on their calendar without fail. Come one, come all and really get into the Christmas Spirit.

The social committee will serve dessert and coffee at 1:30 p. m. The program will be appropriate to the season. All republicans are urged to come.

John G. Trump of 9 Cambridge street, member of the Bowdoin College Club, will sing in the traditional Christmas season performance of Handel's "Messiah," to be presented on Saturday, December 7, in the First Parish Church in Brunswick.

INJUN FEATHERS

After the coldest day of the fall Wednesday, Thanksgiving turned out to be great, at least from the spectator point of view. It was mild with just a bit of a breeze, that proved no factor in the game, and the field was in good shape.

The crowd, while a big one, was not as big as the one that saw the game here two years ago, in the opinion of the Star. We would say that was tops for the series.

Most Winchester rooters took the defeat in good part, which was the only way to take it. Woburn was just too good for our boys this year. Local fans were happy to see the Indians score on such an adversary.

After the game Coach Knowlton thought this year's Woburn team is the best he has faced, even better than that unbeaten team of three years ago. The Woburn writers in the press-box didn't think so, saying that "Joltin' Joe" Castiglione made the difference.

You won't see better ball handling among college teams than Woburn showed the holiday, and the faking by Anderson and Carbone was strictly top drawer. One of the writers in the press box quipped, "We didn't know where the ball was! How can we blame those Winchester boys on the field for missing it!"

Many Winchester fans wondered why the Indians didn't base on the scoring spread sooner. Coach Knowlton felt that showing it to Coach Dorrington of Woburn before the half would give the capable Woburn coach a chance to set a defense against it.

Winchester seemed much improved starting the second half, and it is too bad that "Butch" Murphy had the ball jarred loose from his grasp when he was tackled after completing that pass on the Tanager 25. A score for the Indians at that point could have made a different ballgame of it, for Woburn had only a 13 point lead. We can't believe it would have meant the game, though. Woburn was just too good for that!

On the whole the officiating seemed pretty good, but that definitely was a bad "piling on" call against Winchester in the sequence that led to Woburn's 4th touchdown. The boy in question was able to leap completely over the pile on the ground and it looked like the official called the infraction prematurely.

There were some distinguished people in the press box. "Jerry" Nason, sports editor of the Boston Globe, covered the game personally, and "Hizzoner", Mayor William Shaughnessy of Woburn came aboard with "Jim" Haggerty, editor of the Woburn Times.

Bob Vary, Times sports editor, passed up his usual sideline coverage of the game for a vantage point in the press-box. He tried out the crowd's nest at the Winchester-Lexington game, and liked it.

Officer Archie O'Connell was the official guardian of the press-box and did a good job. "Arch" also gave the official estimate of the crowd as nine to ten thousand.

We got a glimpse of Father Harold Garrity across the field near the Woburn bench. It just wouldn't be a Winchester-Woburn game without Father Garrity and he is equally popular with Woburn and Winchester fans.

"Nick" Fitzgerald, who was spotting for the Star and "Bob" Vary had a bet on the game involving a dollar and the size of the score with 14 points entering into it in some fashion. "Nick" collected after the game, but we still don't see just how!

The Winchester writers stood with bared heads as their Woburn conferees left the press box. There were a few "wait 'till next year," but that was all!

In its pre-game story the Star said that footballs take some funny bounces. One took a mighty funny one on the 4th play of the six-play Woburn scoring sequence at the start of the game. The ball squirted from Carbone's arms, bounced once and returned right to the fumbler, who ran from his 39 to the Winchester 11. If Winchester had recovered that ball it could have cooled off the Tanners a bit.

We got a peek at one of Winchester's most loyal and best informed rooters in the stands as Woburn was surging irresistibly goalward on one of its drives. "Doc" Hinder's head was bloody, but unharmed, and his post-game statement summed it all up nicely. That was a damn good team," opined "Church," "It's no disgrace to lose to a club like that!"

Both bands and cheer-leaders put on good half time shows, the Woburn band forming a big "W" before the Winchester stands and playing the local football song, "On Winchester." They showed off a couple of somersaulting drum majorettes who got a nice hand.

The Winchester band played its usual Thanksgiving Hymn, "Come Ye Thankful People Come," while forming a huge church on the field. The cheer-leaders and tumblers marched into the church as the band played and it was a well done spectacle.

The Winchester tumblers didn't get much of a chance to perform. The other half time features taking so long. Many were disappointed not to get a longer look at this classy outfit.

The Friends of the Band did a landslide coffee, hot chocolate and hot-dog business between the halves. "Babe" and Claire Mullen had quite a job supervising the activity, and you should have seen Selectman "Jim" Scott dispense hot chocolate and coffee. "Jim" makes a great man at the spigot!

Key man in the Woburn victory was undoubtedly Harold Anderson, one of the slickest ball handlers and fakers ever to play against Winchester. It will be doubtful consolation to Winchester fans to know that his father, Harold, senior, grew up on Grove place in this town, went to high school here and wrestled for the late "Gus" Hakanson's Vikings wrestling team.

The game was hard fought but so far as could be seen from the press box was cleanly played. Good spirit prevailed on both sides of the field and the game, both as a sports event and spectacle was tops.

In one of the oldest schoolboy rivalries of Greater Boston, going back to 1891, Winchester and Woburn have played 52 games. Winchester has won 24, Woburn, 18; and there have been 10 ties. From 1931 through 1935 the teams played five tie games, three being scoreless stalemates and the other two, 6-6.

Woburn Beats Winchester 27-13

Tanners Unleash Devastating Ground Attack In Victory

A finely drilled, hard-hitting Woburn High School football team unleashed a devastating ground attack Thanksgiving morning to beat an outclassed Winchester High team in the traditional game between these two long-time rivals, 27-13.

Between nine and ten thousand supporters of the two teams jam-packed the stands, blackened the hillside to the east of the gridiron and stood rows deep in the end zones. It was surely one of the larger crowds to see a game here, though possibly not the largest.

The game was all Woburn. The alert, hungry Tanners had no trouble containing Winchester's running game, and it wasn't until the Indians started passing from a new spread formation during the second half that the visitors seemed nonplussed. This offensive flash came too late for an chance of victory, but it did serve as a bit of balm in the gloom for the Winchester wounds, rubbed raw by the juggernaut Tanager attack of the first half.

A glance at the statistics gives a good idea of the advantage the Orange enjoyed over the Red and Black.

Woburn rolled up 21 first downs and 481 yards, all on the ground, while Winchester's running game, its chief offensive weapon all year, was good for only 42 yards. Winchester made five first downs, three on passes, lost another on a penalty and still another on a fumble after a forward pass completion at the Woburn 25.

Woburn threw only two passes, completing neither, lost 55 yards in penalties and fumbled three times, recovering once, a recovery that set up the visitors' first touchdown.

Winchester passed thirteen times, completing six for 156 yards and two touchdowns. One pass, its last, was intercepted by the Tanners on a down opportunity beckoning. The Indians lost 25 yards to the white pants and fumbled twice, recovering once.

Woburn chose to receive and Carbone ran the kickoff back from the 20 to the 28 yard line. Six plays later the Orange had scored. Carbone bucking over from just outside the one.

This touchdown was set up by a Carbone jaunt from his own 39 yard line to the Winchester 11. For a moment it looked like the Tanager march might end at the 39 as Carbone fumbled the ball behind the line with two Winchester defenders converging on him.

The Winchester boys tried to play the ball, which luckily for Woburn, bounded straight up into Carbone's arms. "Big Sal" lost no time in getting on his way, passing the two Winchester defenders, who could not recover from their initial lunge at the ball.

"Doug" Thomson and Danny Serikela gave chase and finally knocked Carbone out at the 11, but the damage was done. Carbone bucking to the five and then to just short of a first down at the one. On the next play "Sal" lunged over. An attempt to place kick in the extra point by Parrish with Burnham holding was spoiled by a bad pass back from center.

Lecasse kicked off to Morgan at the Winchester 37, but the hard charging Tanager line stopped Winchester cold, and Flaherty had to kick. Anderson taking his boot at the Woburn 36.

Woburn was clipping on the play and the ball went back to the 21, but there still was no stopping the Tanners. With Neergaard, McInerney, Carbone and Anderson running through big holes in the Winchester line, the Orange set up first downs at its 36 and 49, following with a first down made by Neergaard and McInerney at the Winchester 38.

Carbone hit inside Winchester's left tackle for five and then Mc-get the first down at the Winchester 18.

Carbone picked up five and Neergaard reached the 10, from where McInerney on a pretty cut-back went over standing up and without a hand being laid upon him. Parrish again kicked the goal.

Winchester Scores

Serikela ran back the kick off from the 18 to the 35, and the Indians then went into a new spread formation which took the Tanners completely by surprise. Quarter-back Joel Peckham hit Thomson with a long pass at the Woburn 30 and "Doug" legged it down the near sideline to the five, where he was knocked outside.

The play was brought back and Winchester was assessed five yards for having a back in motion, but with the ball at the Winchester 30 Peckham hit Faennessa with a pass and Cosimo reached the Woburn 35 for a first down. The key block on this play was thrown by Thomson who was Winchester's backfield star all morning.

Once again Peckham passed from the spread this time to Johnny Hosmer who was downed on the Woburn 10.

The Winchester stands were in an uproar, but the Tanners stopped Thomson and a Peckham pass fell incomplete. On third down Peckham tried to eat the ball at the 15. On the next play Thomson got around the corner and scampered into the end zone, only to have the play brought back because both teams were offside.

Peckham tried again from the spread and this time hit Thomson at the two with "Doug" driving into the end zone for the touchdown. Flaherty bucked over for the extra point.

Woburn Again

Serikela tried a short kick, but his boot traveled to the Woburn 40 where it was recovered by the Orange.

Carbone picked up eight and on the next play Winchester was called for piling on, the 15 yard penalty moving the ball to the Indians 29. Winchester didn't like the call, and it looked like the boy in question cleared the pile rather than landed on it.

From the 29 Carbone drove to the 10 and then into the end zone for the touchdown, the smooth-working Tanners covering sixty yards in four plays. Parrish kicked in the extra point.

Paennessa ran back the kickoff to the Woburn 45, and then picked up two yards. With Larry Longworth at the helm Winchester scored in a single play. Longworth from the spread hitting Thomson at the Woburn 25 and "Doug" sprinting into the end zone along the near sideline.

It looked like Woburn might stop "Doug" about the five, but he squirmed through the defenders for the touchdown as Winchester whooped it up and Woburn began to show a bit of concern.

Woburn ran the kickoff back to the 30 and drove to the Winchester 33 where Freddie Bartlett got Anderson after a 12 yard scamper.

The Tanners were rolling, but on the next play Winn recovered a Woburn fumble for Winchester at the Indians 35.

With the Winchester stands beginning for a score, Longworth passed up the middle from the spread, but Captain Carey of Woburn intercepted at the Winchester 44, and the Tanners had reached the 33 when the final whistle blew.

Longworth was hurried by two Woburn boys on the play and his pass was hurriedly thrown. Thomson was all alone behind the Woburn defenders in perfect scoring position could the ball have been gotten to him. The summary:

WOBURN—Parrish, 1; Lecasse, De-Teo, H. R. Carey, Ahern, Jr.; Shaughnessy, E. Willett, C. Morrison, Jr.; Odoms, Jr.; Galtick, DeRosa, Jr.; Anderson, Spencer, Gb.; McInerney, Burnham, Ibb.; Neergaard, J. C. Carey, Jr.; Carbone, Jr.

WINCHESTER—Morgan, Hosmer, Vespa, Jr.; MacDonald, Jr.; Wakefield, Neerham, Erb, Jr.; Stavaridis, Peluso, Watson.

TOYS FOR TOTS DRIVE

The Toytime collection of new and good toys for unfortunate children, sponsored by the Salvation Army, Shell Oil Company, and the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, started on Friday, November 29. The general public is asked to take the toys to any Shell Oil Service Station, where they will be picked up and distributed to children who otherwise would have no gifts at Christmas.

During the past several years, the Salvation Army and Shell Oil Company have cooperated in this Toytime project. This year, the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve is joining with these organizations to make a success of the Toytime collection of Toys for Tots. The collection will continue until Thursday, December 19.

CHRISTMAS GREENS SALE HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

Evergreen wreaths artistically decorated by Home and Garden Club members, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard Keppler and Mrs. Theodore Atkinson are more unusual than one can ordinarily find anywhere, so come to the Christmas Greens Sale, Wednesday, December 11 at the First Baptist Church to get yours. Also, ingenious created indoor swags and wreaths, table, mantel and fireplace decorations for Christmas holidays may be had for the choosing, but come early! They go very fast!

Mrs. Frank Robinson and Mrs. Robert Baylies have solicited from specially gifted members, more unique types of home decoration which may be had at the so-called "special" table, should you fail to find just what you are seeking elsewhere.

Delicate and original Christmas "oranges" which will be a joy to own and wear have been assembled by Mrs. Edward Mansfield and her committee and are sure to please you.

Maybe you would like to buy your own "ingredients" for wreaths and home decoration! If so, Mrs. John Chipman, Mrs. Frederick Cole and Mrs. Marshall Pihl have arranged many types of dried material, (plain and gilded) cones, seed pods, and assembled evergreen wreath decorations.

Not only do the Garden club members plan for gay Christmas decorations, but the birds are also remembered and this year Mrs. James Newman and Miss Corinne Mead are ready with all sorts of food, feeders and even advice for the welfare of our birds. Also, Mr. James Newman has kindly consented to make for this table beautiful Christmas Creches of various sizes.

And, finally, as you leave the hall, Mrs. Frederick Churchill and her committee will tempt you with home made food solicited from club members.

So, come to the Christmas Greens Sale of the Winchester Home and Garden Club, Baptist Church, Wednesday, December 11, have lunch and leave with beautiful decorations for your home!

Mrs. Gerald Y. Hills and Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken are co-chairmen. Mrs. Stewart Chaffee in charge of hall arrangements and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl has handled the publicity.

LIFE LINES

EXPERTS IN THE UPPER ATMOSPHERE

These are momentous days in which we live. Science has discovered more about the world in which we live, during the last hundred years, than mankind learned during all the previous ages of history.

Now, we are shedding the shackles that bound us to the earth, and are piercing the mysteries of the upper atmosphere, and beyond. Today, it is earth satellites circling the earth outside the pull of gravity; tomorrow, who knows? The moon? Some other planet? There seems to be no limit to what man may achieve. Even as I write, the news bulletin says that a recent rocket went four thousand miles into space.

Entirely apart from any military significance, we are gaining new knowledge, about cosmic rays and a thousand other important fields of science, which will enrich our lives and those of our descendants. Already a new branch of science has developed, and a new story read: "Upper Atmosphere Experts Open Harvard Session Today."

"Upper Atmosphere Experts"; there is a phrase to thrill the human mind! But it is of another type of "Upper Atmosphere Expert" that I would remind you today. For, according to the Scriptures, you and I can, and should become "Upper Atmosphere Experts." None of us needs to be satisfied with dwelling in the low-lands, but we may climb to the higher altitudes of faith and spiritual experience and service.

We read so often in the Scriptures, that men of faith, when they would see clearly, sought communion with God, "on a mountain top."

We have great need today for men and women like that, who have become experts, who are able to sing:

"Lord, lift me up and let me stand
By faith on heaven's table-land;
A higher plane than I have found,
Lord, plant my feet on higher ground."

Let us strive to be "Upper Atmosphere Experts."

HI, HIGH SCHOOLERS

by Gail Hendricks

Hi-lo! Well, I do believe that we're all on the road to recovery now that the flu and report cards have finally passed, either gently or otherwise!

One-Act-Play Night was really successful last Saturday night. Director Cindy Dunn and assistant, Liz Fisher, were the lucky ones to win the Oscar for best directing. They certainly deserved it, working hard to get their play in shape, as did the rest of the directors. The junior cast of "The Tantrum" could have out-yelled the cheerleader that night when they won the plaque for the best-done play, which was the play that Cindy and Liz directed.

Acting Oscar winners were Roberta Rich and Steve Fisher, who appeared in the senior play "Love's Errand." Bobby Cooper, who had a blast playing Tim in "The Tantrum," and Emily Fish, who did wonders in her role in "Four Little Words." Emily, a frosh, really accomplished quite a feat, being chosen for her honor, "Bert" Rich turned on the tears fabulously in "Love's Errand." Congratulations to you all! And congratulations to everyone connected with the night for doing a fine job!

Cindy Dunn's was the scene of celebrating after the program for the junior cast. Yummy pizzas topped off the victorious night! Wonder if Miss Trickett enjoyed hers? Miss Trickett, an English teacher at the school, judged the plays along with "Tabby" Page and Mrs. Robert Sibley. What's this I hear about Carl Masi removing a certain pizza from a certain place? Hmm?

Boy, we have some courageous junior girls! Nice going to you girls who took the "Beat Wakefield" sign around the field during the half at Wakefield last week! We have some stars on the faculty at the high school! Mr. Morse, our well-liked drama, radio, and speech teacher; Mr. MacCowsky, new language teacher; and Mr. McGhee, who is one of our math teachers, all turned actors for the Community Theater production, "Kiss Me, Kate." They did a marvelous job!

Anyone looking for a tall Southerner? Phil Fox, a new junior, fits the bill. Phil, who comes to us from Eastern High, one of the many high schools in Louisville, Kentucky, told me a lot about his former high school.

To begin with, Phil said that each of the approximate 2000 students is required to take in his frosh year only phys ed, which is three times a week. Phil likes the full sports activity here, for ice hockey, intramural sports and riding were not included down in Eastern High. Something that will interest the boys especially is that in sports there are no class distinctions, like Class A, Class B, etc. Phil's favorite sport is emphatically basketball, in which E. H. S. was state runner-up last year.

Parties, Phil said, are a popular pastime with E.H.S. students, too. The parties are, however, mostly put on by the "social clubs" of the school, rather than individuals. Does the end of May sound like a nice time to start a summer vacation?

That's when the Louisville students got out last year! One drawback, though, no vacations except Christmas time and a couple of days in the spring! Take your pick! Every six weeks is "fun time" down there. Report cards! But because report cards come out so often, their teachers spare them from deficiencies.

Eighteen credits are needed for graduation, compared to our 80. But, rather than having a 5-period major count 5 credits, a major counts as 1 credit. Two years of science and U. S. History, plus English are the requirements for graduation in Eastern High School. It's rather late for me to say "hope you'll be as happy as we at W.H.S. are.. Phil, because I think you already are!"

Yummy hot dogs were made in mass production at Janie Moran's when Janie had a bunch of the junior girls for lunch last Saturday before the game. Did Jane Overacker get there in time for lunch? Oh, a caution to drivers, Janie had the lunch partially to celebrate her sixteenth birthday!

Tally Kelly also had a lunch for some juniors last Saturday! They invented some new tricks, I hear tell, and got pretty tangled up in them! The freshmen had a blast at Roxanne Hall's last Saturday night, while the senior girls had a gay ol' time at Marian Pollacci's.

As Porky Pig says, "That's all, folks!" Keep smiling!

BE AN "ARMCHAIR TRAVELER"

No trip this winter? Can't get away or can't afford it? Cheer up! Join the "Armchair Travelers." Again the Winchester College Club will sponsor the Travel Study Group on Monday evenings beginning January 27, for six sessions every other week.

Would you like the opportunity to roam the world? (By color film!) For the second year, Professor and Mrs. Chester L. Dawes, as chairman, will take the group on six interesting and varied trips. Each session will be presented by a "traveler" in the group.

First on the list might be the Dawes, back from a summer trip to Russia where Mrs. Dawes collected her spectacular colored films while Prof. Dawes was observing technical and industrial progress of the Soviets.

Dr. Dawes is a headliner to us; his recent speech before the Engineering Societies of New England was reported in the Boston Herald, November 13, from which the following is quoted:

"Prof. Chester L. Dawes, who visited Moscow, Leningrad and Zaporozhye for two weeks last July for the annual meeting of the International Electrotechnical Commission, found the Soviet second, if not equal, in aeronautics."

And again:

"Prof. Dawes, 71 today, and professor emeritus since 1953, visited industries, and technical sessions at the University of Moscow during his stay in the Soviet."

"They are the only people flying jet planes in scheduled commercial service," he said of the Russians.

"They are pressing aggressively ahead on projects which seem to work, even if they don't meet our ideas of efficiency and craftsmanship."

"In technical education, the Harvard scholar found, the Russians run close to this country in quality. In quantity, they turn out 50,000 engineers annually to our 23,000."

"He was impressed by the Soviet educational system."

Prof. Dawes is best known as a teacher, of infinite patience, a top man in his field, who received his own education in electrical engineering at M.I.T. where after graduation he remained as instructor for two years. He then began his teaching at Harvard University where he remained until retirement except for two years leave of absence to teach at the Post Graduate School of the U. S. Naval Academy.

Prof. Dawes holds an honorary A.M. degree from Harvard and an honorary Doctor of Engineering degree from Northern University. He is the author of four widely used electrical engineering textbooks, two of which have been translated into Spanish and Portuguese. He is consultant for the

Is Your Pet Pampered?

Pampered Pets Features Pet Supplies, Accessories, Grooming Service

A new store at One Waterfield Road offers everything for your pets. Many local pet owners, who have already visited the store, agree that a complete pet service is indeed welcome.

The store, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hemmerdinger, has a full line of pet items, from necessities for pet maintenance, to items with which to delightfully pamper deserving pets.

Pampered Pets' grooming service, located in Woburn, is now operated in conjunction with the Winchester store. Pampered Pets has been of service to pets in surrounding towns and cities for some time and will continue to do so. Mr. Hemmerdinger has many years of experience in the pet field, and increasing numbers of well-groomed dogs show evidence of his grooming ability.

A visit to Pampered Pets is well worth the time to see how many things are available in the pet line. Does your dog need a sweater or raincoat? Or maybe a bed for your cat or dog? What will be under the tree for your pets Christmas morning?

PROF. NEIL H. BORDEN TO COUNSEL IN AUSTRALIA

PROF. AND MRS. BORDEN LEAVING DECEMBER 11

SENIOR FORUM

Rev. Paul B. Myers, minister of the Christian Education of the Massachusetts Christian Conference, will be the guest speaker at the 9:30 a.m. chapel service of the Senior Forum at the First Congregational Church this Sunday. Mr. Myers is loved by young people throughout the state for his work with them at conferences and in their local churches. He was for several years minister of the Phillips Congregational Church in Watertown, where he was a wise and understanding pastor of young people. Although he has spoken to other groups in Winchester, this will be his first visit to Forum. His subject is the timely one, "The Meaning of Christmas." Serving as chairman will be Cindy Dunn, with Sue Mallory as assistant chairman. The deacons will be Marilyn Beckley and Barbara Croft; the ushers will be Martha Dyer and Donna Woodcock.

Next week will see the arrival of a load of Vermont Christmas trees which Forum will sell in the church parking lot for the benefit of the spring trip fund. Co-chairmen of the sale are Philip Dreyer and Henry Dietz. A large number of Forumites will be involved in the various details of the project.

Phyllis Rutter and David Schumacher, co-chairmen of the social committee, have announced plans for the annual mistletoe dance which Forum holds each Christmas season. This year's event will be semi-formal to be held on Saturday, December 21, in Chidley Hall, with music by the Mel-tones, who were so popular at last year's party.

Assisting Mrs. Harry P. Hood, Jr., chairman, with arrangements for last Sunday night's Forum supper were Mrs. Joseph Dolben, Mrs. Chester C. Manimon, Mrs. Laurence Robbins, Mrs. Robert Scott, and Mrs. Robert Smith.

Cyril S. Hart of 6 Myopia Hill road, president of the Boston Insurance Group, was recently elected to the Board of Gordon College of Beverly Farms.

FOOTBALL VICTORY DANCE

BEST PLAYER TROPHIES AWARDED AT HIGH SCHOOL AFFAIR

About 750 boys and girls, about equally divided between Winchester and Woburn High Schools, attended the 20th annual Football Victory Dance at the spacious Winchester High School gymnasium on Thanksgiving evening. As usual the dance was sponsored by McCormack's Apothecary with Fred McCormack in personal charge of arrangements. The first of the dances was held in 1937 in Waterfield Hall.

The high school gym was gaily decorated for the 20th edition in the colors of the two schools, the red and black of Winchester mingling with the black and orange of Woburn. Ray Allen and his band of radio and TV fame played, providing music both fast and slow to suit all preferences.

The conduct of the young people at the dance was at all times exemplary, and the friendliest spirit prevailed.

Highlighting the Dance was the presentation of the trophies awarded each year to the outstanding Woburn and Winchester backs and linemen, selected on their play in the Thanksgiving morning game.

Fred McCormack introduced Paul Sullivan, president of the Winchester High School senior class, who presented the awards.

ter High School senior class, who presented the awards.

The McCormack Trophy, going to the outstanding Winchester back, was awarded to Captain Joe Flaherty, right halfback; and the Hevey Trophy for best Winchester lineman, went to Art Stavridis, center. The Charles T. Foley Memorial Trophies for best Woburn back and lineman went respectively to Sal Carbone, fullback; and Captain Bob Carey, guard. The recipients were loudly acclaimed by the dancers.

Aiding Mr. McCormack with arrangements for the dance were Paul Sullivan, Anne Flaherty, Ann Legere, Brenda Cowles, Carol McFarlane, Mike Macdonald, Don Seaver, Albert Thorne and Akkie Adams.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Quinn of Woburn and Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacFarlane, Jr.

SRA TESTING PROGRAM SHOWS MARYCLIFF PROGRESS

Results of the 1957 Iowa Tests of Educational Development show above standard progress at Marycliff. In a conference for parents, teachers and pupils, November 26, William T. Stimson, guidance counselor for Science Research Associates, stated that students' scores went beyond standard growth in one year.

Standard growth is 2.0. Marycliff sophomores increased their scores 3.3; juniors, rose to 3.1 and seniors reached 1.9 points. Senior growth was difficult because, last year, the class was already in the 98th percentile.

Mr. Stimson, a graduate of Clark University, has studied at Heidelberg and Harvard as well. He has done special work in Spanish at Santa Barbara State Teachers College and special work in Japanese at University of Colorado. After 20 years of teaching, he has served as guidance administrator, as a school board member and is an author. He now services 125 schools in establishing the SRA testing program.

In his demonstration of test results to over 150 parents, Mr. Stimson was enthusiastic in his praise of the Marycliff system of education and of its teachers. He found that provision for individual differences and personalized guidance for all students were both adequate and effective.

At present every class is above the national 50th percentile norm. Also, the seniors and juniors rank in the 98th percentile on their composite score. The sophomores rank in the 83rd; the freshmen are in the 76th. This optimistic scholastic picture is not the result of exclusive selection of students for their high intelligence. Students capable of doing high school work are accepted at the school. Mr. Stimson did, however, congratulate Reverend Mother Jannin and Mother Winters, principal, on their wise selection of worthy scholarship winners.

LIFE LINES

GOD'S RATION BOOK

The other day, rummaging through some old papers, I came across a little book half full of coupons. It was one of the ration books which were so important to all of us during the Second World War. Most of us, in this land of plenty, have almost forgotten them.

But during those war years, few things were more important to us than those ration books. To this day, I understand, in less fortunate lands, ration books are still in use, and probably will be for a long time.

Remember how carefully we "counted our points," to make sure that everything necessary would be obtained? We knew that we had just so many coupons, so many "points," each month. If we wasted them on non-essentials, our families would suffer real privation.

But did you ever stop to think that you and I live by just such a ration book every year of our lives? It is called the calendar. In just a few days now, God will be passing out a new ration book to us, called "Calendar 1958." In that ration book there will be just three hundred and sixty-five coupons. The richest person in the land cannot obtain a ration book with more coupons. There is no black market in "time."

It is a sobering thought, isn't it? That we can't "buy" time. That we can't "save" time. We have to use each day, each minute as it comes along.

"Wasting time" is like tearing up a ration coupon and throwing it away. Let's try to use our time more wisely during this next year; there never seems to be quite enough time. Let's make every coupon count.

School notebook covers with the Winchester Indian. Sturdy construction to give lasting service. Very specially priced, 89¢, at the Star Office.

PREPARE FOR WINTER DRIVING

"The prevention of traffic accidents requires not only caution, but imagination and foresight," Police Chief Charles J. Harrold said today. "But it's difficult for some people to realize that the only way they can stop accidents is to take adequate preventive measures before the accident happens."

The chief observed that when a community experiences a fatal traffic accident, "people wonder why it happened and what could have been done to prevent it. It's easy to get stirred up about safety at a time like that, but it's not so easy to anticipate each accident and take preventive measures beforehand."

As an example, Chief Harrold pointed out that motorists in this part of the country are familiar with the difficulties and hazards of winter driving, yet many of them do not prepare adequately for the winter season.

"A driver with experience and foresight will not postpone winterizing his car until he is caught in the first snow or sleet storm," he said. "And he realizes that a good job of winterizing means more than an oil change and the addition of anti-freeze."

The chief emphasized that the coming of winter means the driver will be forced to rely more on his car's safety equipment. Therefore, he should make doubly sure this equipment is in first rate condition to meet the test of cold weather.

Among the items of safety equipment that need seasonal attention, Chief Harrold listed:

Windshield wiper blades and defrosters, to keep the windshield clean when driving in rain, sleet or snow.

Head and tail lights, properly adjusted for increased use during winter's longer nights and during snowfalls.

Battery, for surer starts and to insure safe lighting.

Brakes, equalized for efficient operation on slippery pavements. Reinforced tire chains in trunk, ready to provide stop-and-go traction needed on ice or snow.

"It takes a little time to have these items checked, and replaced if necessary, but it is by such precautions as these that accidents can be prevented," the chief emphasized.

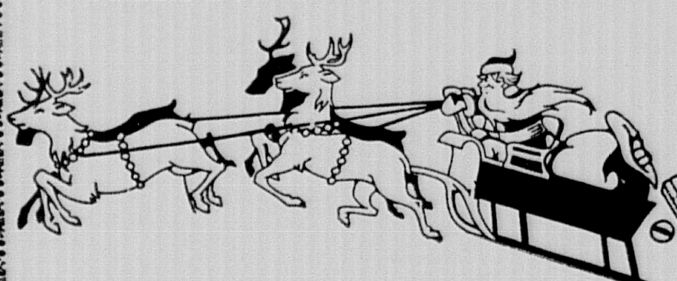

MIDDLESEX LEAGUE CHAMPS FETED

Wakefield High School's Middlesex League Championship football team was feted at a dinner party last Tuesday evening at the Colonial Country Club.

The party was held by George Page, owner of the Colonial Country Club and father of Burton Page, regular center of the team.

Special guests included Celtics stars, Bill Sharman and Bill Russell, and Sam Jones. Off-season, Sharman is a golf pro at Shaker Glen Golf Course, one of George Page's courses.

WELCH — CREAMER

Of Winchester interest is the marriage which took place in Holy Name Church, West Roxbury, Saturday morning, November 9, when Miss June Theresa Creamer of 103 Redlands street, West Roxbury, became the bride of John Paul Welch, son of Mrs. Frank B. Welch of 28 Lehanon street, and the late Mr. Welch. The Rev. William J. McLean officiated at the 9 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. A reception was held at the Hotel Beaconsfield, Boston.

Mr. Thomas E. Dunn of West Roxbury gave the bride in marriage, and Mrs. Dunn was the only bride attendant.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and tulle with a chapel length train, and a tulle fingertip veil caught to a headpiece of lace and matching tulle. She carried a prayer book with streamers of stephanotis topped with a white orchid.

The matron of honor wore a red crystal dress trimmed with matching velvet and silver crown. Her flowers were red and yellow roses.

Francis Welch was best man for his brother, and ushering were two brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, Joseph McNaught of Malden and Hubert O'Donnell of Winchester.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Mr. Welch and his bride are living at 218 Jamaica Way, Jamaica Plain.

The bride is a graduate of Mission High School in Roxbury. Mr. Welch attended Winchester High School and Wentworth Institute.

Mrs. Jean Daniels Aitchison of Wykagyl Gardens and Cotuit, was married Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church to Carroll Stillman Hilton of Falmouth, Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George A. Daniels of Wykagyl Gardens, and the late Mr. Daniels. She was the widow of R. Gray Aitchison. Mr. Hilton's wife was the late Mrs. Edna Hilton. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Hilton, formerly of Winchester.

The Rev. Thomas L. Gee, minister, performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at Wykagyl Gardens.

Given in marriage by her brother, George A. Daniels, Jr., of Glenville, Conn., the bride wore a cranberry red suit with brown accessories and a champagne colored orchid corsage.

Mrs. Rowland E. Cocks of Cotuit was matron of honor, wearing a banker's grey ensemble with matching hat and green orchid corsage.

Dr. A. Robert Killam of New Rochelle was best man for his stepfather, whose ushers were his son, Stillman G. Hilton and Peter Aitchison, the bride's son.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton will make their home in Falmouth. The bride, who is a past president of the New Rochelle League of Service, was active also as a member of the Parents' Association and Mothers' Club of the Thornton-Donovan School. She has another son, Bruce.

Mr. Hilton is a vice president of the Elhide Company in Cambridge.

ERNST MAKECHNIE

(Ed. Note: Mr. Makechnie was music supervisor in the Winchester schools for several years prior to 1910.)

On Sunday, October 6, Ernst Makechnie, "the founder of the Massachusetts Teachers Federation," died at the Mount Pleasant Nursing Home, North Billerica, at an advanced age and after a long illness. It was to him more than anyone else, who started the MTF in 1911.

Early meetings preceding and following this start often were held in his home in Somerville; he was the first president and later the secretary. During his period of leadership came such things as the retirement law (1914), the tenure law (1914), and the minimum salary law (1918) which, with their later amendments, have meant so much to the welfare of Massachusetts teachers. We are all in debt to him for his great accomplishments.

(The Massachusetts Teacher, November 1957).

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES OF MARY BAZAAR

The Medical Missionaries of Mary will hold their Christmas Bazaar in St. Mary's Hall, Washington street, on Saturday, December 7 all day. Lunch and supper will be served, and many beautiful gifts will be displayed suitable for Christmas gifts. There will be a table for home baked goods and Irish bread will be a special feature.

Proceeds of the Bazaar will go towards the new wing which is being constructed at One Arlington street. From this house of training many Sisters will go forth to the Missions as doctors, nurses, pharmacists, chemists and trained in all branches of medical work. They help the sick and suffering in areas where no doctor or nurse is available, and minister to many patients suffering from leprosy.

Last year one of the Sister doctors who visited in Winchester had under her care 9,000 leprosy patients, but great hope is held out for those patients now that the new sulphone and other new drugs are being used. In contributing to the Bazaar you are helping in all these works.

DEBORAH LYDOTES

Deborah Lydotes, five-year-old daughter of George A., and Athena (Gifts) Lydotes of 38 Sargent road, died suddenly Wednesday, November 27.

Deborah was born in Bridgeport, Conn., and had lived with her parents in Winchester for the past four years, attending kindergarten at the Mystic School. Besides her parents, she leaves two brothers, George A., Jr., and Peter Lydotes; also her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gifts of Portland, Maine, and Mrs. Mary Lydotes of Cambridge.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Carr, officiating. J. Albert Wilson, organist and choir-master of the church, played. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MORGAN MEMORIAL APPEAL

Morgan Memorial, Inc., and its Goodwill Industries which provides employment to 432 handicapped workers, will launch an appeal, opening December 2 for $100,000, comprising only twenty percent of the total cost of operations serving the needy of all ages during the winter months.

Henry E. Helms, executive secretary, said the Christmas appeal to maintain the Goodwill Industries and seven allied social service agencies, will be conducted during the month of December.

Helms emphasized that eighty percent of the Morgan Memorial operating cost is derived from nearly self-supporting departments, which clean, rebuild and resell repairable merchandise sent in by more than 200,000 contributors in the eastern Massachusetts area.

Morgan Memorial is the birthplace of Goodwill Industries which has branches in 120 cities across the United States, and in Canada and Mexico.

"At Boston's Goodwill Industries, we pay out more in opportunity wages than both the Massachusetts and United States government combined appropriate for rehabilitation and training of handicapped in the state," Helms said.

"Ours is the largest private social agency serving handicapped in New England," he said.

The appeal will help maintain the Goodwill Day Nursery, caring for children of working and ill mothers, the Youth and Children's Center, The Charles Hayden Goodwill Inn for homeless boys, the Eliza Henry Home for women and married students, the Seavey Settlement for men, family Service and Goodwill Industries.

A special campaign committee comprises one hundred members of the Board of Directors and corporate members of Morgan Memorial.

THEY'RE OFF!

Editor of the Star:

The Metropolitan District Commission has recently made application to the Federal Government for the acquisition of two islands declared surplus areas, namely: Fort Warren on Georges Island and Fort Standish on Lovell's Islands. The former is to be used as a national shrine and the latter as a yachting and recreation center.

Commissioner Charles Greenough missed the boat when he failed to make application for some of the islands in the Pacific after World War II, for then he could apply for foreign aid.

This writer has, in the past, criticized the M.D.C. and rightfully so. Here is a brazen move by this outfit to extend their services from the shores of our one great Commonwealth at the added expense of the taxpayers who now shoulder the burden of the present M.D.C. system. It is no wonder that this group is running wild and out-of-hand.

The electorate complain of higher taxes but those of the Legislature are the spend thrifths they vote for, with such complacency and apparently condone the extravagance of the above system. These dreamers will eventually bankrupt this state—already in critical financial condition—unless the taxpayers awaken from their indifference, and take an active part in discovering how their money is squandered.

The General Court consists of two hundred and eighty members at the present time. By comparison, it is the largest of any state in the Union. A much smaller membership would act with more wisdom, keeping in mind the drastic need for economy. "Something's gotta give!"

JUST TOO BAD!

Editor of the Star:

I am fully aware that "Winchester Beautiful" is at least for the most part residential, not industrial, and yet I feel badly to hear the news that "The Old Stand-by," Beggs & Cobbs, will close.

Years ago I felt badly over the United Shoe going, but the tannery going, to me seems just too bad! For years I boarded right across the tracks and to me the smell of that bark used in tanning was just part of Winchester! (I liked it).

ST. MARY'S SODALITY ENJOYS SPECIAL EVENT

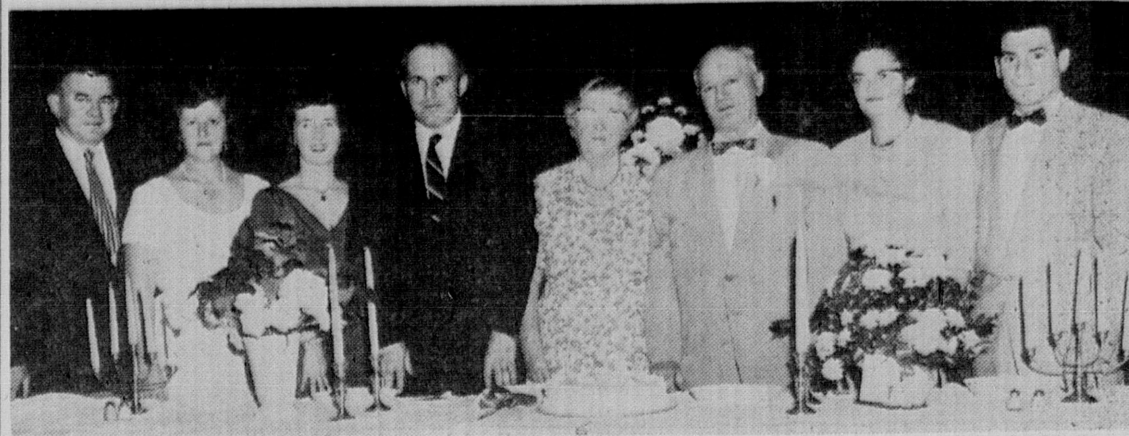

For the members of St. Mary's Sodality, last Tuesday evening was a night to "Remember." At a solemn ceremony held in the church at 7:45, the entire organization watched with intense interest while more than sixty new members approached the altar to be enrolled in the Blessed Virgin Sodality and received their medals from the Spiritual Director, Father Charles Ansdore. During the impressive event, Mrs. Lawrence Penta sang the Ave Maria, accompanied by Mrs. John Ryan at the organ.

Immediately after the candidates were received into the society, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament closed the meeting. The huge gathering then proceeded to the hall where an evening of surprise features awaited them in the form of an Acoustic Social. Master Ryan, chairlady of the entertainment committee again accompanied Mary Penta, who rendered in songbird style two selections. "You are Love," and "Tantum Ergo." Mary Sullivan added her part to the success of the evening by leading the hall full of ladies in community singing.

Following the musical program, was the presentation of "The Archbishop Comes to Winchester," a color movie featuring St. Mary's Confirmation class of last spring, together with candid shots of the First Communion, and the Opening Day of school.

The highlight of the affair came when Mrs. Carl Damberg, one of the new members, related the intriguing story of her three years as a prisoner of war in the Philippines, during 1942 - 1945. A spirited and enthusiastic question period followed that kept the women enthralled with other side-lights of her life in the Japanese internment camp. Before Mrs. Wanda Damberg left the hall, groups were still conducting informal sidewalk interviews, inquiring as to when she would return again for the second installment of "The Wonders of Wanda in the Philippines."

At the close of the evening the refreshments went round and round in "satellite" fashion, as everyone shared in the "desserts of distinction" prepared by the hostesses. Cooks in the town. General chair-lady for the Social was Mrs. John J. Donovan, assisted by the following: Mrs. Daniel Murphy, Mrs. Lily Stover, Mrs. Leo Manoli, Mrs. Guy Laird, Mrs. Frank Hurley, Mrs. Henry Barry, Mrs. John Dower, Mrs. Joseph Moran. The reception committee included: Mrs. Ernest Dietrich, Mrs. Nicholas Dellova, Mrs. William Burns, Miss Abbie Callahan, Mrs. Clyde Armstrong, Mrs. Francis Farley, and the officers of the Sodality: Mrs. Bellamy and Hay, president; Mrs. Mabel Hicks, vice president; Mrs. Edward Gaffey, treasurer; and Mrs. Ronald O'Hanley, secretary.

"WHAT TAX REVISION BEST?" ASKS LEAGUE

All of us feel that the Massachusetts tax structure is far from perfect, but to agree on how it should be improved is another question. The Massachusetts League of Women Voters has taken a stand for or against certain taxes and certain proposals for tax revision. The League has had its say in the League's stand. At the December unit meetings League members will review their position in this field, have a chance to change their stand if they so desire, and clear the way for study of new proposals bound to come in the 1958 legislature. If you feel strongly about a graduated income tax, a limited or general sales tax, a withholding system of taxation, taxation of rental income, (not taxed by the state at present), now is the time to declare your position. Only if you are present and voting at units can your opinion be counted. It is hoped that new members will attend a convenient unit, as these discussion groups are the heart of the League program. Unit hostesses and discussion leaders are as follows:

Wednesday, December 11, 7:45 p. m., hostess, Mrs. Robert Joslin, 6 Crescent road. Leader, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbey. Thursday, December 12, 9:30 a. m., hostess, Mrs. Olcott Hooper, 228 Highland Avenue. Leader, Mrs. Ernest Dietrich. Thursday, December 12, 7:45 p. m., hostess, Mrs. William B. Harvey, 55 Yale street. Leader, Mrs. Karl Terzaghi. Friday, December 13, 8:00 a. m., hostess, Mrs. T. M. Hennessey, 37 Cabot street. Leader, Mrs. Lawrence Kelbey.

COLLISION AT WASHINGTON AND SWANTON STREETS

Police officers investigated an accident on Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Washington and Swanton streets. Two cars were involved in the mishap.

John C. King of 12 North Warren street, Woburn, operating a Ford sedan, collided with a 1958 Ford, owned by Mrs. Carola E. Goriansky, 148 Main street, Andover, at the intersection.

Mrs. Goriansky was traveling east on Swanton street and when approaching the intersection collided with the King car, which was headed north on Washington street. Passengers in the King car were Mrs. King and her three daughters, Sheryl, Debbie and Michelle, and Mrs. King's mother, Mrs. Bella Parapollos. All were taken to the Winchester Hospital and treated there.

Damage to the King car was on the left front fender and hood. The new Ford had a badly damaged front end and was towed away.

WARNING FROM FIRE CHIEF

Fire Chief James E. Callahan reported to the Star that he had received two calls from women in Winchester reporting that they had been approached by a person claiming to be a fire prevention expert.

According to the Chief's report, the person involved was a woman of 35-40 years of age who drove a black car with a light gray top. The woman claimed that she would show the occupant of the house fire prevention means and would examine and point out the best exits. In addition, the woman said she would return during the evening for further demonstrations.

Chief Callahan urges residents who are approached by this person or others representing the fire department to call the department or contact the police. If the person is a member of the fire department they will not object to this check.

WINCHESTER OPENS HOOP SEASON

Winchester High opens its 1957-58 basketball season tonight at the high school gym, playing Arlington, first and second teams, commencing at 7:00 p. m.

This is a non-league game, but one that has been played for several years and is always a good contest.

With only 6ft. 5in. Hank Schumacher returning from last year's regulars Coach Jim Phillips is facing a building year, and the scrimmages held against Medford, Malden Catholic and Everett have pointed up defensive and offensive flaws that pose problems for the coaching staff.

Winchester had an 18 and 2 record last year, with the second team posting a 19 and 1 record. Reporting from the JV's are Doug Thomson, Dave Schumacher, Rich Roberts and Henry Kiley. Fred Bartlett, Joel Peckham and Jim Wakefield are others with experience who can help, while Vandy French, a sophomore, is making a strong bid for a regular job.

Winchester will probably line up with Hank Schumacher at center, Dave Schumacher and either Rich Roberts or Henry Kiley, forwards; and Doug Thomson and either Bartlett, Peckham or Wakefield, guards.

Tonight will give the fans their first peek at the new team, and their last look until Stoneham comes to Winchester. The Indians play Woburn at Woburn, December 13; Wellesley away, December 23; Wakefield at Wakefield, December 27, and Lexington away December 30. The game scheduled for December with Marblehead has been cancelled by the "Heads."

RESIGNS FROM PLANNING BOARD

Harold V. Farnsworth of Central Green, former Selectman and member of the Planning Board since 1952, has resigned from the Planning Board, finding that with the change of his business headquarters from Boston to Framingham and the pressure of business he no longer has the time necessary to devote to the ever increasing duties of Planning Board member.

At a meeting of the Planning Board and Selectmen Monday evening, George B. Redding of Cranston road, former Selectman and Finance Committee chairman, was elected to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Farnsworth's resignation.

POST OFFICE CHRISTMAS HOURS

On Saturday, December 7, 1957, the local post office will open at the usual hour of 8:30 a. m. for the sale of stamps and mailing of parcel post. Next week, Monday through Friday, the office will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. the same as last year. So buy your stamps and mail your parcels early to avoid the rush. This helps the post office and helps you.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Hubert of Winchester announce the engagement of their daughter, Carole Adrienne, to Francis M. O'Rourke, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis O'Rourke of Woburn. Miss Hubert graduated from Winchester High School and Chandler Secretarial School for Women.

LEAGUE TO PRESENT SPEAKERS ON ARMS CONTROL

The Massachusetts League of Women Voters is sponsoring the annual School of International Relations this year on January 29, 1958, at Kresge Auditorium in Cambridge. The question, "Arms Control: Riddle of our Future" will be explored by two nationally known speakers in the morning and a round table discussion of experts in the afternoon.

The speakers will consider the possibility and desirability of controlling arms, alternative methods of lessening world tensions, and concrete plans they propose for the United States to consider for immediate action. Mr. Henry Kissinger, Associate Director of Harvard's Center for International Studies urges us to adopt a doctrine of limited warfare instead of disarmament proposals designed only to prevent surprise attacks.

Mr. Kissinger is the author of "Nuclear Weapons and Foreign Policy," which he wrote after working over a period of eighteen months with a large group of experts on these problems.

The second speaker is Mr. Thomas Finletter, secretary of the Air Force under President Truman from 1950 to 1953. Mr. Finletter believes that we must continue to work for arms control agreements. There is a question period after both men have spoken.

In the afternoon there will be a round-table discussion centering on the thesis of the morning speakers. The expert participants in the discussion will be Col. Richard Leghorn, formerly of Mr. Stassen's disarmament staff, and chairman of the National Planning Association's special project to study security through arms control; Mr. William R. Frye, U.N. correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, and author of the recently published "United Nations Police Force"; Mr. Harold J. Berman, Professor of Law at Harvard, and specialist in international trade law; and Mr. Jerome B. Wiesner, director of the Research Laboratory of Electronics at M.I.T. and a member of the President's Science Advisory Committee.

These meetings are open to the public and it is hoped that many non-members of the League will attend. Mrs. Edward S. Rendall of Ardley place, is in charge of reservations.

NEW MEMBERS RECEIVED
At last Sunday morning's service of worship at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church 18 new members were received into the church. Included were Mr. and Mrs. Allister B. MacKay of Lockland road; Gordon D. and R. Bruce MacKay; Capt. and Mrs. James S. Bethea of Wildwood street, James S., Jr., and Thomas D. Bethea; Dr. and Mrs. Murray Blair of North Border road; David P. and Curtis P. Blair; Mrs. James G. Ross of Arlington; Mrs. Paul L. Hayford of Lebanon street, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Sillicker of 288 Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Parker of Arlington. Associated with the church for a year while attending school, Mr. and Mrs. W. Henry Cone of Water street.

SOCIAL AGENCIES JOIN IN MENTAL HEALTH WORKSHOP

A group of interested social agencies and other professional people met recently to explore the possibility of setting up a Mental Health Workshop designed for training in mental health principles and their application to everyday, on-the-job, inter-personal relationships.

The group is the local Social Agencies Group which meets regularly once a month to coordinate effort and exchange information between its members: the Winchester Boy Scouts, Civil Defense, District Nursing Association, Girl Scouts, Hospital, Library, Police Department, Red Cross, School Department, and Welfare Board. The president of the group is Mrs. Edward Shimada of the Girl Scouts, the secretary Miss Marian R. Balboni of the High School Guidance Department.

Much interest in a Mental Health Workshop was expressed and a program was designed to follow in the next six consecutive meetings of the group, commencing at 12:45 on Friday, December 13, with the High School Guidance Department, each meeting a mental health film will be shown dealing with parent-child relationships, strengthening the emerging personality, or everyday problems of growing up.

Following the film there will be discussion conducted by a psychiatrically trained leader, Dr. Libbie B. Bower, Director of Mental Health Education of the Massachusetts Association for Mental Health. Group members will have an opportunity to present some of their everyday problems, and to listen to new ideas. Through use of the group process participants will have a chance to take a new look at old problems and to increase their awareness and sensitivity to others.

This program is sponsored by the Winchester Branch of the Mystic Valley Mental Health Association and is the first of many such community programs it hopes to sponsor. Similar workshops have been conducted by State Association personnel with such groups as the Arlington Parents Council, the Boston Council of Health Education, the Brookline Police Department, the Norwood Mental Health Board, and the North Reading Teachers Association.

TUESDAY GROUP

"Christmas Symbols from Many Lands" will be the subject of Mrs. Anne Austill of Wellesley at the next meeting of the Tuesday Group of the Epiphany Church Service League, to be held on December 10 at 3:00 p. m. Mrs. William Townner will be the hostess at her home at 37 Wildwood street.

Mrs. Austill is well-known to Epiphany parishioners for her work with the young people of that church last year. She has traveled extensively and has fascinating objects to show how people all over the world celebrate the season of Christmas.

Following this program there will be group singing of Christmas carols with Mrs. Walter Hutchinson at the piano.

Tofuri of Medford; also 16 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Charles E. Anadore was celebrant, Rev. L. Parker, deacon, and Rev. Thomas Foley of St. Joseph's, East Woburn, subdeacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

Since the printing of the following report of the Class of 1957, Winchester High School, the School Department has been informed that David Wilson is attending Boston College.

THANKSGIVING ASSEMBLY AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

The members of Grade 2 at Lincoln School under the direction of their teacher, Miss Margaret M. Harkins, and student teacher, Miss Nancy Bruce, presented a Thanksgiving Day program on Tuesday morning, November 26.

Lynne Jones was the announcer. The program began with choric speaking; a poem revealing the turkey's feelings. This was recited by the following children:

David Harold, Amy Carlson, Marie Ravalli, Deborah Mullen, Anna Buzzotta, and Daniel Garvey. A play was adapted by the children from "The Thanksgiving Story" and presented in three scenes:

On Board the Mayflower
Pilgrim Mothers Planning the Feast

The First Thanksgiving
Susan Mead was the narrator. The following children participated:

First Pilgrim Mother—Barbara Ehrigott
Second Pilgrim Mother—Janice Doherty

Third Pilgrim Mother—Valerie Kelley
Pilgrim Men—Toby Harvey, Jed Doyle

Pilgrim Children—Jane Curtis, Sally Haley

Two White People—Philip Pizzo, Edith Heyek

Indians—Kenneth Tully, Ricky Grenzback, John Benson, Pamela Tuttle, Garry Guarente, Pater Caputo, Margie Fickett, Patricia Jennings

The program was concluded by the entire class singing "Prayer of Thanksgiving."

"THE MAN WHO WAS TOO BUSY"

This coming Sunday morning at the 11:00 o'clock service at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church the Reverend John Snook, Jr., pastor, will present Lucius H. Bugbee's "The Man Who Was Too Busy To Find The Child."

It is an interesting story that has an analogy for our twentieth century or almost any century. It depicts the web that so many of us get caught in, of taking on so much responsibility in the many demands at Christmas time that we fail to catch the real pulse of Christmas in its true meaning.

Special Christmas music will be presented on this second Sunday in Advent. The choir will be singing "The Shepherds" by K. K. Davis and Mr. William L. Sillicker will present a message in music called, "Come To The Stable With Jesus," by O'Hara.

Mrs. Carl E. Morse of Lloyd street spent Thanksgiving with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Phippen, in Marlborough, Conn.

Featured speaker on the program was Charles E. Kramb, marketing manager for Gulf Oil Corporation.

Mr. Godwin with his wife, Edith, reside at 7 Grassmere avenue. Their daughter, Jane, is a senior at Bradford Junior College, and Lester, Jr., is in the Air Force stationed at McGuire Field, New Jersey.

NOONAN SCHOOL TEA

On Wednesday, November 20, Mrs. John Spencer of Inverness road was hostess at a tea in her home honoring Mr. Gleason, fourth grade teacher at Noonan School.

Mr. Gleason discussed with the mothers the aims and accomplishments of his fourth graders, with more drill work in writing and multiplication. A lively and interesting question and answer period followed the discussion.

A delightful collation was served by Mrs. Spencer, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Connolly and Mrs. Edward McCormack.

ART ASSOCIATION

The December meeting of the Art Association was held in the Library Gallery Tuesday evening, December 3. Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh, Jr., assisted by Mrs. Richard Wyman served coffee preceding the meeting.

The subject of the evening "The Rediscovery of Mural Art" was ably presented by Mr. Matthew W. Boyhan who teaches fresco painting at the Museum of Fine Arts School and is also teaching at the Harvard University School of Architecture. After graduating from the Museum School Mr. Boyhan won the Prix di Rome and spent several years in Italy, France and Greece studying fresco painting where it flourished.

In his talk which was illustrated by slides, Mr. Boyhan traced the development of frescoes from the ancient Spanish cave paintings through those in Egypt, Crete, Greece, Italy, Byzantine mosaics up to the present day concluding with the Orozco murals at Dartmouth College. From ancient days mural decoration had been an integral part of architecture until the end of the 19th century when it was practically given up. At the present time, Mr. Boyhan said, it is being revived to add interest to the simplicity of contemporary architecture.

Some of Mr. Boyhan's drawings for the murals which he has executed were on exhibition and also several paintings in the gauche medium displaying interesting vivid colors.

The Winchester Art Association reluctantly leaves the Library Gallery where it has been privileged to meet and hold its exhibitions for more than 25 years and sincerely hopes another place may be found before the January meeting.

WOBURN AND WINCHESTER
TIE AT JAMBOREE

Winchester and Woburn hockey fans got an advance peek at their clubs at the hockey jamboree at the Lynn Arena last Saturday night when the Tanners and Indians battled to a 15 minute 2-2 stalemate.

Woburn had the better of the first half of the contest, and was enjoying a 2-0 lead before Winchester rallied to knot the count. Gentle put Woburn out in front at 4:43 when he tallied on an assist by O'Rourke. Woburn scored its second goal at 8:17 when Captain Day beat Gowdy assisted by DeMonico and Johnson.

Ten seconds after this tally Winchester had a goal with Eaton scoring on an assist from LaMarche. Craig Davenport sank the equalizer at 11:45, taking a pass from Harkins.

The summary:

HOCKEY COACHES
ELECT OFFICERS

The newly formed Massachusetts State High School Ice Hockey Coaches Association recently announced the election of their first slate of officers.

The following were elected: president Clem McCann of Brookline High School; eastern vice president Henry Hughes of Melrose; secretary-treasurer Frank Finigan of Winchester High School. The purposes of the organization are to promote the welfare of the game of ice hockey, its coaches and players; and to maintain the highest standards of coaching.

Membership is limited to public school hockey coaches. Each of the officers is highly regarded by his fellow coaches. Clem McCann, the popular Brookline coach has turned out some of the hardest hitting sextets in recent scholastic circles. Hughes' Melrose teams were New England champions in 1956. Frank Finigan, Winchester mentor, brought hockey from infancy six years ago in Winchester to the status of a recognized hockey power in Massachusetts.

It is greatly to be hoped that the roughhousing around the center and high school the night before the Woburn game Thanksgiving is not a forerunner of affairs of a similar nature with each group of participants trying to improve on the activity of the previous year.

Good-natured rivalry before a big game is all right, to be expected, and if it does get a bit on the boisterous side, no one is going to get too upset.

When, however, youthful enthusiasts take to throwing rocks through car windows, breaking store windows, trying to overturn automobiles, throwing rotten eggs, and tearing down business signs; when youthful groups gravitate toward a central spot to stage a gang fight, that is something else again. There is no excuse for such actions in a town like Winchester, and the authorities should put a quick stop to any attempts at repetition before the property damage assumes more serious proportions, or what is worse, some youngster gets badly hurt. If anyone had gotten in the way of some of the missiles that were thrown, he could have been seriously injured, at the least.

Some seem to feel that the police were to blame for what took place on Thanksgiving Eve, and there is some justification for the contention that what took place could have been anticipated and sufficient police been provided to prevent it.

In the overall picture, however, the police are not alone responsible for a growing tendency toward rowdiness on the part of our young people. The police have given the town pretty much what the community has wanted in the matter of youth control, and have had little encouragement to get tough with the kids, either from the town authorities or the parents.

Winchester, as a community, has been very lenient with its anti-social youngsters. The Star has more than once commented on this leniency and advocated a tighter rein on conduct that is only a hair-line away from juvenile delinquency, if it not indeed that. The Thanksgiving Eve fracas and its follow-up potential gang fight the following day indicate that things are getting out of hand. You do not expect such things to take place in the very center of a community like Winchester.

It has been easy to shrug off past youthful escapades, because on the whole Winchester has been free of the serious trouble, in which so many youngsters of other communities have so often and so long been involved. It couldn't happen here, everyone has said.

Well, Thanksgiving eve did happen here, and we can all be thankful the results were not worse. A tendency toward lawlessness on the part of some of our youth is definitely on the increase, and this tendency is by no means confined to the boys and girls from our less fortunate homes.

The automobile, liquor, loose home ties, total lack of parental discipline and responsibility for their children have been contributing factors. The situation is a lot more serious potentially than any of us like to believe.

A start toward the return to a more law-abiding youth in a more law-conscious adult community needs to be made, and soon! These pre-game football rumpuses would seem a good place to start; doubly good because the big game with Woburn, one of Winchester's finest sports events, won't stand too many of them!

MULTIPLYING HAPPINESS

Editor of the Star:

Can your recall ever standing on the shore of a pond or a lake, picking up a flat stone and skimming it out across the water. More and more small eddies would appear farther and farther away with ever widening circles entwining as the stone skipped across the top to finally disappear under the surface. Some don't have to look back as far as others to remember, perhaps, but I'm sure all can recall the pleasure received from a perfect "skimmer" and the happiness it brought. The more ripples multiplied out of one stone the greater your joy.

Multiplying happiness can be compared to sending skimmers across the water. All you have to do, on your part, is give to our Fund Drive. As your contribution starts out on its way that brings happiness to me as the Winchester Chairman of the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children because it brings me closer to making my quota. In turn give it to my Organization and that brings more people happiness, the parents of Retarded Children, because we can go on with the aims and objectives of the Association.

Classes for these youngsters to attend from towns which, as yet, have no provision for such specialized teaching; scholarships for teachers and doctors, in the field of retardation, it's cause, and the help that can be given in the development of these children; sheltered workshops for the educable to make responsible citizens of them so that they may take their place in a community.

And last but not least the hundreds of children themselves who gain happiness because they can become part of this life on earth—human beings—mingling with others, instead of being a "Child Alone." Just think of how far reaching a donation from you can be, as the ever-widening circles from the "skimmer," in reaching throughout the nine towns of the Association multiplying happiness.

CURTAILMENT OF COMMUTER RAIL SERVICE SERIOUS

Editor of the Star:

I wish to state that I view the proposed curtailment of commuter trains by the Boston & Maine Railroad between Winchester and Boston as a most serious situation for this town.

The Railroad has been consistently and repeatedly reducing our service for some time. It seems that every time a new timetable comes out we have lost some trains or station stops. Apparently, it is the intention of the Boston & Maine to reduce our service to a very few trains or eliminate it entirely. The span of time between trains is constantly becoming greater. If the present trend continues, Winchester will be virtually marooned in the near future as far as commuter service is concerned.

Because of the situation I have outlined, I have taken the following steps: (1) I have consulted with the Board of Selectmen with respect to joint action on the problem; (2) I have made plans to appear before the current hearings being conducted by the State Department of Public Utilities to launch a vigorous protest; (3) I have requested the Department of Public Utilities to hold a public hearing on this question in the Town of Winchester; (4) I have filed a bill for consideration at the coming session of the legislature for the creation of a Commuter Services Commission whose duty it would be to bend every effort to preserve, co-ordinate, and improve all of the various commuter services in Greater Boston.

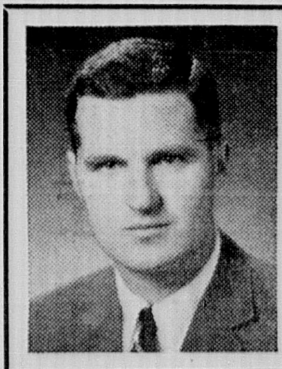

I hope as many as possible of our citizens will attend the public hearings now being conducted at the State House or write letters of protest to the Department of Public Utilities at the State House. I also hope our citizens will attend any local hearing afforded us by that department.

Lastly, I realize that the railroads have problems too. No private corporation can be expected to carry on a public service forever at a burdensome loss without some form of compensating aid. During the issue by eliminating the service or pricing themselves out of business is not the way to solve the problem, however.

Very truly yours,
Rep. Harrison Chadwick
29th Middlesex District

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS

The Postmaster reports that the present flow of Christmas cards is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of gifts by Parcel Post is somewhat behind schedule. He suggests that all gift parcels to most distant points be sent by Air Parcel Post from now on.

He also emphasized the importance of wrapping all gifts with heavy paper and securely tying with strong cord, after they have been packed in sturdy corrugated cartons. It is especially important to write legibly, or better yet, print the recipient's full name, street address, zone number, city and state, on all mailing labels, making sure to include an extra label inside your gift package.

If any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9" x 12" or smaller than 2 3/4" x 4" they can be sent only by First Class mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

If you wish to enclose your Christmas card or letter in your gift package, merely add the appropriate letter postage to the postage for the package itself and indicate the presence of a letter or Christmas card inside the package.

BUSINESS AND PLEASURE
AT M.S.P.C.A. MEETING

On Monday last, Mrs. Lewis B. Snow put on a delightfully amusing home-movie show for the members and friends of the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A. The cinema dealt with pug puppies from birth and was at times hilariously funny, very touching, and sometimes quite instructive. Mrs. Snow's assistant and producer of most of the shots was Mrs. Richard Pettingell of Oxford street. After the movies, we saw an interesting display of ribbons won by Snow pugs at the dog show.

This meeting of the M.S.P.C.A. was held at the lovely home of Mrs. John Boland, 21 Sheffield road, who outdid herself in the line of delicious tea sandwiches and cakes, for the congenial social hour at the end of the afternoon.

It was voted to donate a part of the proceeds from the very successful "Glamour Show" recently held at Wyman School to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, to be used toward the purchase of a Mono Autotechnion, which is much needed in the hospital's pathological laboratory.

MODEL HOME
AT "WINCHESTER ESTATES"

On Sunday, December 8, the beautiful new all-electric Model

Home at "Winchester Estates", located on the corner of Squire and Carriage roads near Ridge street in Winchester, will be open to the public for inspection. One of the finest residential developments in the area, the DeVries Construction Company, builder of the fashionable homes, have located the planned community on 140 lots of gently sloping hills, landscaped to assure that both home and location mutually complement one another in the most perfect setting possible.

Visitors to the model home will notice the Adequate Wiring Certificate that means complete, all-electric living from front to back. The large capacity 100-amp. service entrance and complete wiring facilities provide the all-electric home with maximum electric living today and for the future.

Planned with both contemporary and traditional architecture, the prospective home owner may select his particular design from the many plans available in this community of fine homes. Boston Edison representatives have worked closely with the DeVries Company in the development of the new all-electric model home.

Only the most advanced electrical equipment is provided in the split level model home, where visitors will see electric living at its best.

WINCHESTER GRANGE MEETS

The Winchester Grange No. 343 met Tuesday at the Masonic Hall. Mrs. Maizie Rae of Washington street was elected to membership.

Highlight of the meeting was a program conducted by Mr. Morris C. Roberts, County Club Agent of Middlesex County Extension Service. Mr. Roberts spoke on 4-H Club work in this county and showed slides of sewing, and gardening projects. He also showed slides of the 4-H band in Woburn which is the only such organization in the country. Mr. Roberts is interested in starting a 4-H club here.

Visitors were from Dracut, Reading, Wilmington, Melrose and Stoneham.

The next meeting will be held on December 17, when the program

LIONS' LINES

Mr. Francis X. MacFeeley, Commissioner of Boy Scouts was the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions. Mr. MacFeeley in his short talk expressed his thanks to the Lions Club for their cooperation in the past and the splendid work being accomplished with Troop One of Winchester. Since the Lions took over the sponsorship of Troop One it has become the most active Troop in the Town.

The Commissioner stated that Troop One of Winchester sent more boys to camp than any Troop in the district. Commissioner MacFeeley presented the Club with the renewal Charter for 1958 for Troop One; and membership cards to all the Troop committeemen.

Deputy District Governor Carl Reessler and Zone chairman Joseph App were also in attendance for the regular meeting. King Lion Shohet called on both distinguished guests for short talks.

The Lions are now preparing for the annual March of Dimes Drive. This drive will be handled by the Winchester Lions again this year with Lion Ted Boecker heading the drive. Plans for the Mothers' March and Childrens Movie are now near completion.

Any boys in town interested in becoming members of Winchester's only Sea Scout Unit should report to the Elk's Home on Monday evening at 7:30 for a short organizational meeting. All boys between the ages of 14 and 17 are invited.

SATELLITE CALIDYNE TESTED

It is of particular Winchester interest that the satellite-packing Vanguard rocket which the Defense Department hoped to launch Wednesday afternoon had been subject to vibration testing by delicate apparatus produced at the local Calidyne plant.

The testing machine used is known technically as a No. 177 Random Noise Shaker System and it was used to vibration test the head of the satellite at its launching site, Cape Canaveral, Fla.

With all but the residential solicitation work complete, exhausted but happy workers are feeling more than rewarded by Winchester's exceptional results.

Bill Swett and the rest of the Advance Gifts section report over 100% subscription! Most interesting, according to Bill are the percentage figures. As of this week, Winchester's Advance Gifts is 47% ahead of last year. The United Fund advance gift average is 30% ahead—Winchester being a solid 17% above the average. Total so far is $37,500, with more expected. Also, gifts of securities are expected.

George Whitten, reporting on his team's success in the local commcial section, states that Winchester's stores and businesses contributed over $900, just double the amount pledged last year.

Tom Raphael's division, the residential canvass, has perhaps the most exciting news of all. Many expected the door-to-door effort to fare poorly because of the new emphasis on giving at work through payroll deduction. Results are still incomplete but Winchester residents have already subscribed $18,500 versus $17,600 last year. It is also interesting to note that last year's average at-the-door gift was $5.34 against this year's $12.22. In other words, though less gave at home, those who did gave considerably more in money. This year's 1,516 people subscribed at home.

It looks like the new United Fund will be a complete success providing other towns do as well as ours.

SAINT MARY'S CYO

CYO'ers of Arlington, Belmont, Burlington, Lexington, Reading, and other points north are responsible for two of our high-schoolers taking tranquilizers. They selected Brenda Cunningham and George Ducharme to spend three exciting days representing them at the National Catholic Youth Convention in Philadelphia last week. Highlights of the trip were the keynote address by Bishop Sheen; the banquet with actress Irene Dunn, Vice-President Nixon, and Cardinal Spellman; the Cotillon with singer, Julius LaRosa; champion, Floyd Patterson; and the new record-star, Trist Dwyer; and a Pontifical Mass in Convention Hall at which Archbishop Cushing spoke to 30,000 youth. Representing the Chi Rho of the Deaneery were Virginia Heitz and Ann Cognina from Immaculate Conception. Father Burke accompanied the four Winchester delegates.

A "Holly Hop" will be held in St. Mary's Hall on Saturday evening, December 14, from 8:15 - 11:00. Mary Quinn, Youth Council member, and her co-workers, Mary Garvey and Bonnie Harrington, have nearly completed their plans. On hand at the bandstand for the C.Y.O. Dance will be a popular disc jockey who has appeared at dances in many parts of the country.

LIBRARY ANNOUNCES STAFF APPOINTMENTS

In keeping with the library policy of advancement within the staff, the following position changes have been announced.

Mrs. Pearl G. Winter has been appointed assistant librarian. She has been a member of the staff of the Winchester Public Library since her graduation from Simmons College School of Library Science in 1951. She joined the library staff in the position of circulation librarian and later advanced to young adult and special services librarian.

Mrs. Kathleen A. Gonsalves has moved into the position of young adults and special services librarian. Mrs. Gonsalves is a recent graduate of Simmons College School of Library Science where she obtained special training in work with young people. She joined the Winchester Library staff as general professional assistant.

The vacated position of general professional assistant has been filled by Mrs. R. D. Roberts, formerly known to many Winchester residents as Leila Jane Smith. Mrs. Roberts, a graduate of Oberlin College, majored in English literature and education. She was a teacher of English at the Winchester High School before joining the library staff.

THANKS TO ALL

I wish to thank my friends for the beautiful flowers, cards and messages sent to me during my stay at the Winchester Hospital and, also since have returned home. I also want to thank them for being so kind and helpful to my sister during that time. Thanks to all.

Sincerely yours,
Mary A. Kenney

Private Charles J. Allen, Jr., 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Allen of 13 Grayson road, has recently been assigned to the 3d Infantry Division, Fort Benning, Ga., where he will undergo military training and accompany the "Marine" Division to Germany next spring.

NEW LOOK FOR OLD COLLEGE CLUB MUSIC GROUP

Attention Music Lovers! Would you like to know more about Light Opera?

The Winchester College Club again presents its Music Study Group for 1958 to be held on Monday evenings, every other week, for six sessions beginning January 20. The season will be spent on the study of Light Opera. As in the past, the group will be under the guidance of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, familiar personalities to the Club, of wide musical background. All meetings will be held at the Kirkwood's home where the members are given the opportunity to hear their music on one of the finest recording systems available.

This year, one evening will be spent on Gilbert and Sullivan who developed satire and buffoonery to its peak. A fascinating evening should be provided in this study in which political backgrounds and national institutions are so wittily portrayed with slapstick action and lusty musical scores.

Other evenings might be spent on Strauss, Gershwin, Herbert, Britten or Lehar, as preferred by the group. Each evening is directed by an interested member assigned as leader who will present the background and carry on the discussion around the recorded or "live" music of the evening. "Listen and Learn."

The Music Group welcomes all members or non-members of the College Club interested in a few evenings of relaxation set to music. If you have not received the registration announcement mailed November 29, please call Mrs. Philip Efronson at Winchester 6-3967.

TO SPEAK AT EPIPHANY

Mrs. Ross Thomas, a missionary of the Winchester First Congregational Church from Bombay, India, will speak to women of the Parish of the Epiphany at 1:00 p. m. on Tuesday, December 10. Her address will follow the regular Tuesday Work Day luncheon in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. Thomas, who with her husband is in this country for a year's furlough, has been active in work for the blind at Perkins Institute in Watertown and in Bombay. She has also served on the board of the magazine Treasure Chest and held the position of assistant treasurer of the American Marathi Mission. Mr. Thomas has been in India since 1928 under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions (Congregational Board).

The Epiphany group, some of whose Circle members are studying the problems involved in the Church of South India, will be particularly interested in hearing Mrs. Thomas speak on this subject, as it is an important issue to come before the Triennial Convention of the Episcopal Church at Miami, Florida, next fall.

Orasio Mangini, who died suddenly by accident in Genoa, Italy, on November 28, left a sister in Winchester, Mrs. Alfred Castagnola of 38 Ledyard road.

HOCKEY TRYOUTS

More than fifty boys turned out last week as candidates for the 1958 edition of the Winchester hockey team.

Captain Frank Finigan also expects an additional ten boys from the football team after their customary week layoff.

With the graduation of nine seniors from last year's state tourney semi-finalist, only two lettermen are left, Captain Craig Davenport, second line left wing, and Bill Emerson, reserve forward. Coach Finigan feels that this inexperience can be overcome. When asked for a possible starting lineup, he said that all positions are still open.

Winchester opens the league season next Saturday night at 8 o'clock against a strong St. Mary's High School of Lynn team. This team replaces the Revere sextet which left the North Shore League this year.

SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

Attention! All delegates and members of the General Committee. On December 12 at 7:45 p. m. the annual meeting of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation will be held in the Speech-Arts Room on the second floor of Winchester High School.

Important meeting. Please try to be present.

G. Wallace Woodworth Leads Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society

HARVARD-RADCLIFFE GROUP TO SING HERE DECEMBER 10

A special Christmas gift of beautiful carols sung by the combined Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society will be presented to music lovers of Winchester on Tuesday afternoon, December 10th, at 3 o'clock in the First Congregational Church. The public is invited to attend this concert, the first of this famous choral group has ever presented in Winchester, as guests of the Social Service Guild of the Women's Association, Mrs. Sanford H. Moses, director.

This season marks the 100th birthday of the Harvard Glee Club, and the 54th year that the group has been joined in concert work with the Radcliffe Choral Society.

G. Wallace Woodworth, the director, is celebrating his 25th year as conductor of the glee club. For many years, Mr. Woodworth served as choirmaster and organist of the First Congregational church.

Music lovers who have heard this choral group at Harvard in Christmas concerts, and with the Boston Symphony, or who have purchased some of their famous recordings, know what a superb concert these 60 young people offer.

Among the carols will be the chorale from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio"; "O Magnum Mystrum" by Handel; "Ave Verum," Mozart; "Three Settings of the Sanctus"; "While By My Sheep," an old German carol; "The Boar's Head Carol," English; "The Huntsman's Lullaby," an old Flemish poem, by Mabel Daniels; "Venite Adoremus," an English carol harmonized by Lee Sowerby; Gruber's "Silent Night"; Handel's "Messiah" music and others.

This coming Sunday, December 8, the Senior Fellowship worship service will be led by Jane Snook.

The main subject of the service will be about the spiritual booklet for young adults called, "Power." Miss Snook will speak on how this can guide the young people spiritually.

In the afternoon a business meeting including the whole fellowship will be held at 4:00 p. m.

The theme of the Methodist Youth Fellowship this year is "Christ Above All" and in the seasonal program they are being challenged with the thought of keeping Christ in Christmas.

"PLAY LADIES' BASKET SHOWER"

A "Play Ladies' Basket" shower, the latest in shower ideas, was held recently at the home of Mrs. Donald S. Koskinen, 65 Grove street.

Children's Hour chairman of the Friends of the Winchester Hospital. Taking advantage of the lull in her volunteer service due to the restriction of visitors at the Winchester Hospital caused by the prevalence of respiratory infections this fall, Mrs. Koskinen invited Friends interested in the happiness of children confined to the Hospital to attend this unique party. The purpose was to start filling a basket of special toys and play equipment to be used under the supervision of the Children's Hour volunteers. The items contributed were of an instructive and constructive type rather than simple play things.

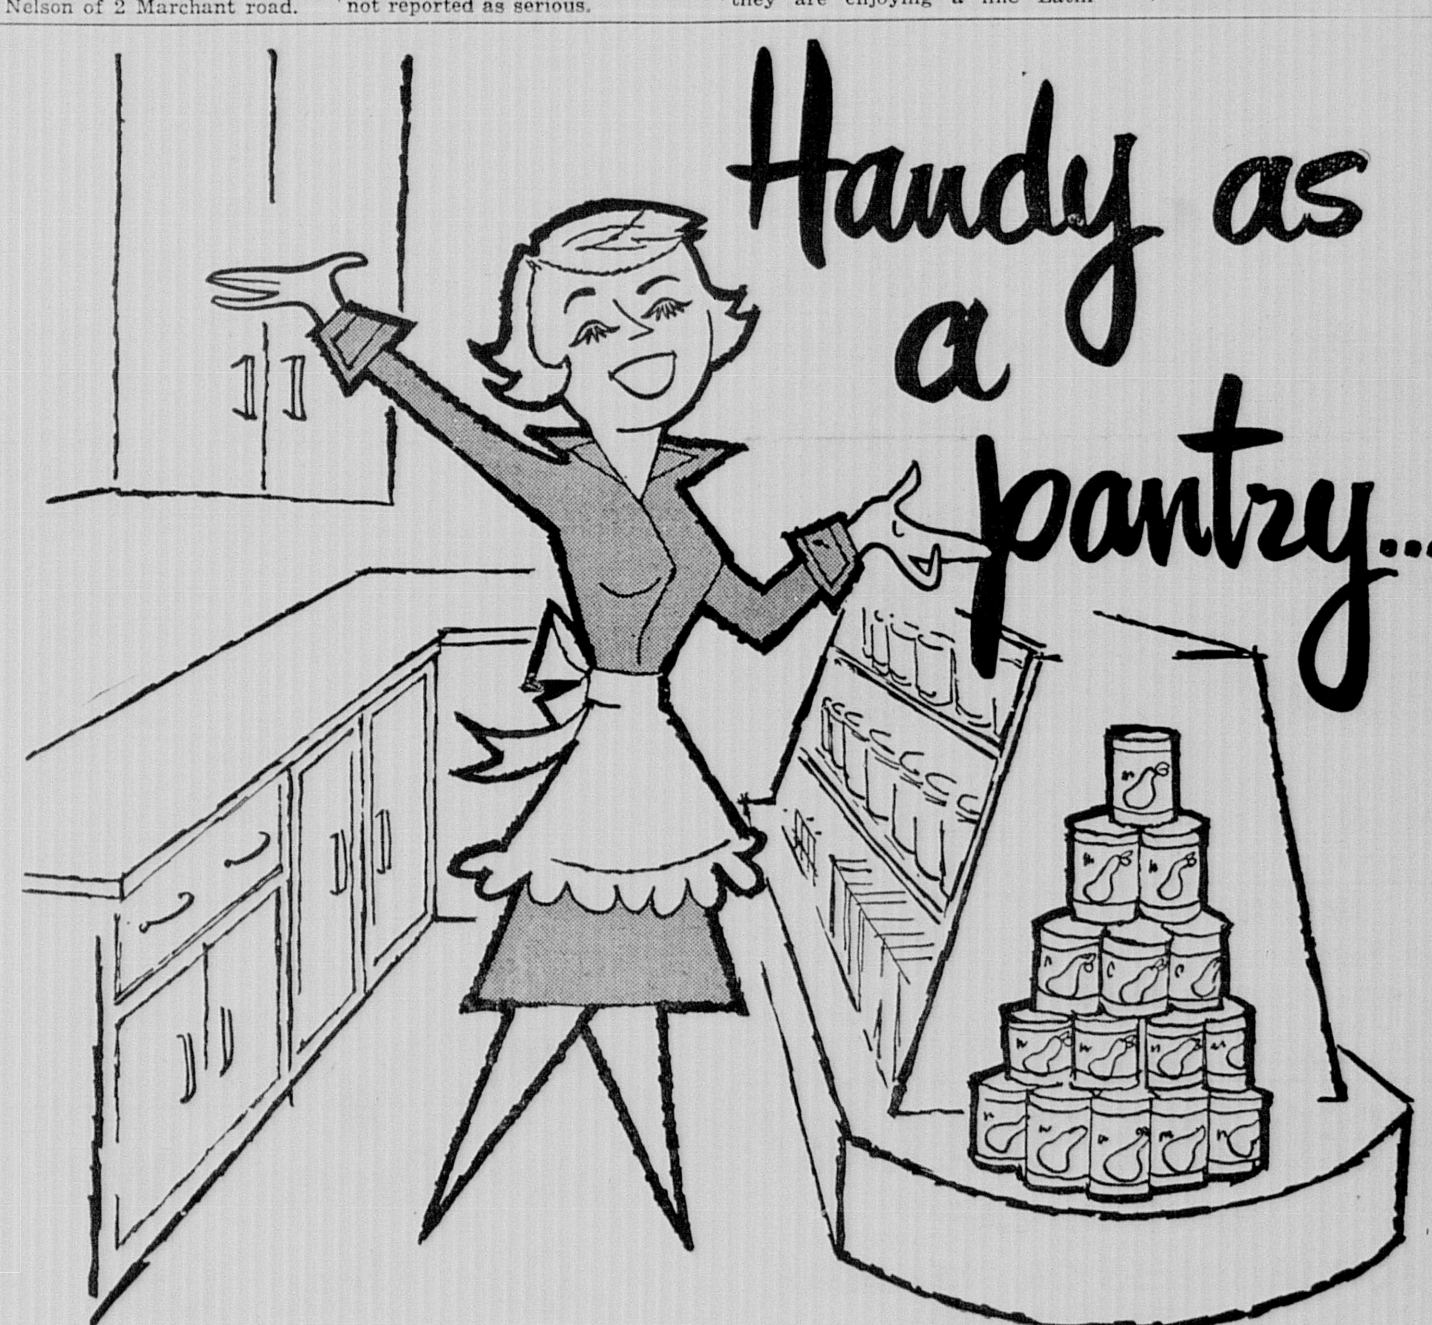

Needed are more art supplies, sticky tape, aluminum foil, crayons, blunt-end scissors, pipe cleaners, rubber bands and construction paper. With winter here, more children will be confined to the Hospital. Contributions would be greatly appreciated by the chairman. Why not shop for a few extra Christmas stockings presents and donate them to the Play Ladies Basket for the Holidays. Get in touch with Mrs. Koskinen about your donations.

CARS COLLIDE AT WASHINGTON AND SWANTON STREETS

Ford sedans driven by John C. King of 12 North Warren street, Woburn, and Carol Goriatsky of 148 Main street, Andover, were in collision last Sunday afternoon at 4:40 at the intersection of Washington and Swanton streets.

REV. SNOOK REMEMBERED

Thanksgiving turned out to be quite a day for the Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. In addition to the usual Thanksgiving festivities, during the afternoon Mrs. Snook came to him with an envelope which she said came from a group of business men, "the corner" (which would be on Church street not far from Mr. Snook's church).

The clergyman opened the envelope with mixed feelings, thinking some sort of joke was being played, but inside he found a handsome case, and in the case a fine Lord Elgin 23 jeweled watch, with the legend, "Thankful to have you around on Thanksgiving Day!"

Needless to state Mr. Snook was delighted and deeply touched. You can't make him believe Winchester isn't a pretty nice place full of wonderful people.

Miss Crovo Soloist

Mystic Glee Club Holds First Concert Under New Director

Keith L. Phinney, the new conductor of the Mystic Glee Club, Genevieve Crovo, guest soprano soloist, and the club's own "Two by Four" set, were responsible for a high level of musical entertainment last Saturday evening as the club opened its 18th season with the annual Christmas concert in the junior high school auditorium.

A large and warmly appreciative audience quickly recognized in the first number (Tito's) "Behold Now, Praise the Lord") that this is a solid male chorus which sings with crisp vigor and good tone under competent direction.

The choice of the guest soloist was a wise one as Miss Crovo proved a delightful personality with a fine voice. Her budding Broadway career has magnified her talent to project her art across to her audience with the youthful zest and freshness characteristic of musicals. Seldom has the Mystic Glee Club presented a more entertaining artist to its patrons.

As always, the "Two by Fours" double quartet performed its intricate close harmonies with smoothness and contagious good humor. Key man Tom Norther's short, choice introductions, while piping the boys onto their pitch for each number, are no small part of the overall enjoyment of this sure-fire group. The audience loved them as usual, especially their renditions of "Goin' Home Train" and "When I See."

We saw by the program that there are three new faces in the "Two by Fours" this year, but due to a frustrating lack of stage lighting throughout the first half of the evening those faces were never visible to the audience as the group sang far forward of the overhead lighting on the club proper. This put them in a complete shadow and detracted from what could have been an even more enjoyable experience had the individual personalities been allowed to register.

This certainly was no fault of the "Two by Fours" but stemmed from an unfortunate lack of foresight by those who staged the concert. It was even more frustrating not ever to be able to really see the face of the guest soloist while she was singing or of Keith Phinney when he turned to accept the audience applause.

Also unfortunate was the fact that Miss Crovo had to do her own stagehand work by removing the director's music stand, which was left in the precise spot where she was to stand for both of her appearances.

Although they tell us that this renovated junior high school auditorium has no projection booth from which to clip in a spotlight, we recollect that this problem was solved last year when the conductor or was in a perpetual spot of light in this same auditorium. Don't ask us how it was done, but it was. May we suggest the use of the footlights hereafter as the overhead lights by themselves are not enough and even throw grotesque shadows on the faces of the singers.

Now that that's off our chest we really want to give all due credit to Mr. Phinney, the men of the Mystic Glee Club and its accompanist, Mr. Cameron Rylance, for a most enjoyable evening.

set the stage musically for the evening.

In the good rousing "Land-Sighting" by Grieg, the baritone of Joseph Mitchell was particularly satisfying in the solo section.

We thought Mozart's "Ave Verum" had some nice bass singing but the number as a whole seemed to lack variety in its dynamic levels.

Genevieve Crovo's first selection in the familiar "Mi Chiamino Mimi" by Puccini revealed a surprising warmth and power of voice.

Her show tunes from "Most Happy Fella," "My Fair Lady" and "The King and I" were enthusiastically received and done with fine diction.

Miss Crovo's teacher, Mrs. Madge Fairfax, was her accompanist and a fine support.

The high point of the whole evening was the soloist's rendition of "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" by Frank MacGuinness. In this Christmas spiritual she rose to a truly high artistic level and with deep feeling wove a tender spell. The audience reacted to this selection with its most extended applause of the evening.

The Mystic Glee Club's renditions of the sea chanteys were done in good taste and pleasing rollicking tempo. They were not always together, but the spirit with which they sang made up for this slight flaw.

In the club's singing of "It Ain't Necessarily So" by Gershwin, the three lead singers, Lyman, Mitchell and Guilbault, carried the humorous lyrics in good broad burlesque style, getting many chuckles from the audience.

The Christmas numbers were all well done but we felt that the men grew a bit sluggish and dirgey and sang themselves to sleep in "How Far Is It To Bethlehem" and "Lo, How A Rose E'er Blooming." The tone quality of the club was never better than in the last two selections, however, when they sang "White Christmas" and "Silent Night." These are both fine arrangements, rich in deep chords. Mr. Rylance's accompaniment was particularly good in "White Christmas." Kendall Wright's true tenor was pleasant in the sprightly carol "Go Tell It On The Mountain."

The concert was taped in its entirety by Wedgemere Studios and the recording is being donated to the Converse Market where it will be played for shoppers in the remaining weeks before Christmas.

John Everett and Jack Wilcox will cut recordings of individual numbers.

It is a great source of satisfaction to see the Mystic Glee Club in such competent directing hands as those of Keith Phinney. He is obviously a fine musician and we look forward to many more enjoyable concerts under his baton.

ACCIDENT ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

An early morning accident on Sunday resulted in damage to both of the cars involved, but no personal injuries. The accident took place at the intersection of Highland avenue and Eaton street.

Involved in the accident were Thomas P. Dee, Jr., of 11 Fairmount street who was driving a Ford convertible and Charles H. Nease of 741 Main street, the driver of a Chevrolet sedan.

The two cars were both traveling north on Highland avenue, one in back of the other. Upon approaching the intersection of Eaton street, the first car signaled for a left turn. At this moment, the car behind attempted to pass. The first car turned back, but the cars collided.

The Dee auto was damaged on the front end and that driven by Mr. Nease suffered damage on the rear fender and trunk.

More Proof that GREATER BOSTON IS GROWING GREATER!

Giant New Turbo-Generator Now in Service

On December 5th, more power for the ever-growing needs of Greater Boston began flowing from a giant new turbo-generator at Boston Edison Company's Mystic Station. This triumph of engineering skill, with a capability of 140,000 kilowatts, is the largest single unit in our generating stations.

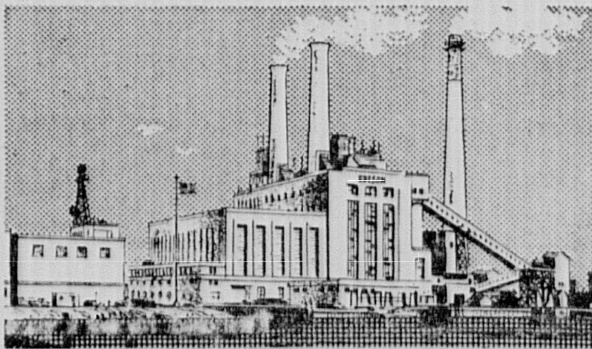

Edison's Generating Capability Now 1,036,800 Kilowatts

With the addition of this new giant, Edison's generating capability now stands at 1,036,800 kilowatts. That's double the capability available at the close of World War II. This new turbo-generator, part of our continuing plant expansion program, is the sixth major generating unit to go "on the line" since World War II.

More Growth Now on the Way

Today our average residential customer uses more than twice as much electricity as he did ten years ago. Industrial and commercial demands have shown a similar growth. Hence, our plant expansion program continues. As the new 140,000 kilowatt turbo-generator goes into service at Mystic Station, construction is already under way for a companion unit of equal size. Along with generating equipment, our program calls for corresponding expansion of transmission and distribution facilities. Thus, as Greater Boston continues to grow greater, Boston Edison stands ready to power that growth.

Mystic Station in Everett, one of three generating plants owned by Boston Edison Company, now has a battery of four generating units, with construction well under way for a fifth unit.

Cadillac

Order Early...for a Full Year at the Wheel!

The man you see above, talking with his Cadillac dealer, has just done a very wise thing.

From the first instant he saw the new 1958 Cadillac, he knew he would want to make this his year to own and drive the "car of cars"—and so, at the earliest possible moment, he came in to place his order for the color and model of his choice.

IF AN ANIMAL COULD SAY "THANKS"

Dear Winchester Friends:
We wish we had an animal that could say "Thanks" because, if we did, it would be able to tell you straight from its heart how thankful all animals are for the help they get from the Animal Rescue League of Boston, and how much your support is needed this Christmas Season.

We wish, too, you could see the light in the eyes of a little girl as she cuddles a tiny kitten, the proud stride of a young boy leading his very own dog, these are scenes of pure joy, multiplied a thousandfold at the League in the course of a year. Nor could anything be more gratifying than the ecstatic bark of a little lost pup as he leaps into the arms of his master, or the smile that breaks through the tears of a grieving child reunited with the pet he had given up for lost.

Or, picture the skillful hands of a League veterinarian as he sets the broken bones of an accident victim, and the daring of the man who rescues a cat amid the lofty branches of a tree.

Think, too, of the neglected horses and mistreated livestock; and the hundreds of friendless animals which find refuge with us every week and month of the year.

Any, or all of these acts of kindness you can perform quickly and easily. For the Animal Rescue League of Boston will serve as your messenger as it performs these acts of mercy. All you have to do is give to the League. Your generosity and your spirit will go with the League staff as they make their rounds. Please, then, send your check now before the rush of other Christmas giving makes you forget.

Yours for a Joyous Holiday Season.

Carlton E. Buttrick, President
Animal Rescue League of Boston

BAY STATE SECOND IN TRAFFIC DEATHS

According to the latest release from the National Safety Council covering the operation of motor vehicles during the first ten months of 1957, the total estimated traffic deaths for the United States were 31,350, a decrease of 3% from the corresponding total of 1956 and an increase of 2% over the corresponding total for 1955. Based upon this estimate, the national death rates were 22.6 per 100,000 population and 5.6 (8) per 100,000,000 motor vehicle miles.

Massachusetts' reported total of 408 motor vehicle traffic deaths was 7% less than the corresponding total for 1956 and 3% less than the corresponding total for 1955. Based upon this estimate, Massachusetts' death rate was 10.2 per 100,000 population and 2.9 (9) per 100,000,000 motor vehicle miles placing the Commonwealth in second position among the 48 states on both the population and mileage bases. The standings of the first ten states follow:

	Population	Mileage
1. Rhode Island	9.5	2.7
2. Massachusetts	12.1	2.9
3. Connecticut	12.1	3.3
4. New York	13.0	3.6
5. Maine	14.4	3.8
6. New Jersey	14.4	4.1
7. New Hampshire	17.0	4.1
8. Pennsylvania	17.0	4.3

MAIL EARLY

Postmaster Thomas J. Gilgan said today, "We hope to keep up our good record on the Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve." He said further that much depends on your cooperation in mailing your Christmas cards and gifts as soon as possible. The Postmaster stated, "Most people realize that the early arrival of a Christmas card or gift is always welcomed, although there are still some who have the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance. Actually, it's the thought behind the gift or card, and not the time of arrival that is the important consideration."

The Postmaster asks for your special cooperation to be sure that recipients name and address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel Post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Be sure to use First-Class postage on your Christmas cards, because this enables you to include handwritten messages. Cards sent by First Class mail will be delivered promptly and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelope, a custom, by the way, which is entirely socially correct.

Response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date have been excellent, the Postmaster said. Now it's a case of keeping up the good work to avoid those last minute Christmas mail pile-ups.

You can do both yourself and the Post Office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read, "All for out of Town Delivery" and "All for Local Delivery." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses, and on those for out-of-town destinations, and mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those intended for local delivery.

Plan your Christmas mailings so that all Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first.

The Postmaster has asked the co-operation of all business firms to postpone the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

Now that the holiday is over and their turkey has been digested we resumed bowling again. The three top teams were taken over the hurdles the week of Alabama still maintains top position although she only salvaged one point. St. Mary's dropped four and Holy Cross dropped three points.

Team	Standings	W	L	PF.
Alabama		31	17	16,577
St. Mary's		28	20	16,597
Holy Cross		27	21	16,771
Georgetown		26	22	16,722
California		26	22	16,539
Bates		23	25	16,537
Notre Dame		19	29	16,365
Boston College		13	35	16,352

Hi Single: Babe Tofuri 144
Hi Triple: Max La Carubba 367

Top Ten Bowlers:	Score
Tony Saraco	104.5
Choppers Gangi	103.1
Dick Fiore	99.7
Babe Tofuri	99.2
Bob Fiore	98.6
Jeff Gaudioso	98.6
A. P. Tofuri	98.6
Tony Chafalo	95.3
Max La Carubba	95.5
Dan Gattineri	94.4

The gap between Tony Saraco and "Choppers" Gangi is getting smaller in the average department and a great battle seems to be in the making as the first half is fast coming to a close.

There was more activity in the 300 department this week which indicates that the boys are really loosening up. The individual who led this department this week was at one time one of the greatest bowlers in our organization.

In the first string he bowled 131 which was remarkable, but the outstanding achievement was that in this particular string going into the seventh box he had a 65 T.P.F. and a strike, a strike and a spare gave him a 66 for four boxes bringing back to his memory the days of old when he used to turn in such accomplishment with ease. Regardless, he still is a good bowler, our brother, Musky Tofuri, who came up with a 343 T.P.F.

The others were Jeff Gaudioso, 335; Choppers Gangi, 305; Tony Saraco, 302 and Babe Tofuri, 291. There's another accomplished bowler on the other side of the Iron Curtain who bowled 333. This pretty feathered and colored parakeet whose bowling form is studied by many of our bowlers holds the high single, high triple and the high average and answers to the name of Tony. Not bad for the weaker sex I'd say.

The high team T.P.F. was broken this evening as Georgetown smashed a tremendous 1483 giving each individual bowler an average of almost 100.

Their captain, Babe Tofuri, is doing a wonderful job and getting superb cooperation from his well balanced team. His mates are the professional B.C. graduate, "Kangaroo Kid" Jeff Gaudioso, the soft spoken Muligan Fiore, Winchester No. 1 bulldozer operator Butsie Mistretta, Paul Lentine, our fine accountant; and the Don Juan of the team, Dom Suppa.

We hope our brother Pete Lonigro, who was recently hospitalized, is back with us soon as we wish him a speedy recovery.

A near accident marred our evening as Bob Fiore did a full front and then a reverse flop but being made of foam rubber he quickly bounced up on his feet.

Naturally Dr. Chic Vespucci immediately rushed over with his pill box but his medical assistance was not necessary.

There were 32 bowlers who bowled over 100 this week. Very promising. The overall average per man was 92 which is darn good! We also had another record set this week as Ben Giolitti bowled a 3-string total of 201. Enough said!

Correction Fiore and Frank Dattilo, Sr., were seen frothing at the mouth as their team, Holy Cross, was smothered by Georgetown 3-1.

Boston College, taking its 10th point out of a possible 12, these last 3 weeks nailed warm Miya's for 4 points this week and almost drove the Captain of St. Mary's, Tony Saraco, out of his mind. No one can do it any better than the greatest aggravator of all times "Deadhorse" Chafalo, captain of Boston College.

Bowlers Hall of Fame
And now we have John Bertolucci About whose score he's very touchy He's got three trophies in his little vest.

His score is always with the very best
We'll Win, We'll Win, you'll hear him yell
We'll win my friends for "Class Will Tell"

Always on time he's never late And he has a brother-in-law who is really great.

(P.S. I'm his brother-in-law) Two weeks left to go and the first half closes. The award this week went to Mr. Fitzgibbon's right hand man Michael D. Saraco.

FAMILIES LOSING VETERANS' BENEFITS

Oversight on the part of many Massachusetts veterans may deprive their families of money at a time when they need it most, William J. Blake, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Boston, warned this week.

Mr. Blake said an increasing number of cases are coming to light in which proceeds from GI life insurance were paid to other than the veteran's immediate family.

In most of these cases, Mr. Blake said, it can be presumed that the veteran, through carelessness, failed to keep his VA listing of insurance beneficiaries up to date.

The 198,000 Massachusetts veterans holding GI insurance policies were urged by Mr. Blake to notify VA immediately of any desired changes in beneficiaries to match the changes in family status occasioned through marriages, divorces, births, or deaths.

Mr. Blake said VA is required by law to pay GI insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record, whether or not that beneficiary still is in any way connected with the veteran.

In many cases, Mr. Blake said, the beneficiaries of record are same ones the policyholders named when they took out their policies, even though they have since married and now have families.

"If any of these policyholders should die today," Mr. Blake said, "VA would have to pay the GI insurance proceeds to the beneficiaries of record, instead of to the veteran's widow or children."

Changes of beneficiaries can be made at any time without notifying the beneficiaries, but they must be made in writing over the policyholders' signature and sent to the Philadelphia District Office, P.O. Box 8079 in order to be made beneficiaries of record under the law, Mr. Blake said.

COMPLETES YEAR AT SEA

Cadet Harold H. McKinley son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. McKinley of 11 Elmwood avenue, recently returned to the United States Merchant Marine Academy, Kings Point, N. Y., after spending a year of sea duty aboard various American Merchant Marine vessels.

His year at sea was a regular part of the curriculum at the Merchant Marine Academy. It gives the Cadet an opportunity to learn first hand about the ships upon which he will later serve as an officer. His remaining two years of the four year course will be spent in pursuit of a rigorous academic schedule and the military training necessary for a successful career at sea.

During his training period at sea, Cadet McKinley visited ports in such countries as Japan, China, India, Guam, Italy, France, Germany, Brazil, Uruguay, and Argentina. Upon graduation in August 1959, he will receive a license as Third Mate in the Merchant Marine, a Bachelor of Science degree, and commission as Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. He graduated from Winchester High School in 1954 and was a member of the State championship basketball team of that year.

MISSION COMPLETED

Five months ago missionaries for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly called the Mormon Church, entered Winchester for the purpose of better acquainting the town folk with the Book of Mormon, its origin and its message.

The Book of Mormon is a history of the early inhabitants of the American continent and its ancestors to the American Indians. These early Americans kept records of their people and their religious teachings on metal plates. They wrote in a reformed Egyptian language. These records were translated in 1827 by the Prophet Joseph Smith, and their coming forth was in direct fulfillment of a prophecy given by John the Revelator (Rev. 14:6-7) that the everlasting gospel (Christ's gospel) would again be restored to the earth.

Because of the interest of the citizens of Winchester, in the Book of Mormon, the New England Mission of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has submitted to the Winchester Public Library the following list of books which will give further insight into "Mormonism".

Book of Mormon
Joseph Smith - John Henry Evans
Brigham Young - Preston Nibley
Essentials in Church History - Joseph Fielding Smith
A Marvelous Work and a Wonder - Le Grand Richards
What of the Mormons? - Gordon B. Hinckley
Articles of Faith - James E. Talmage

They extend to each and every one best wishes for a very Merry Christmas and a Joyous and peaceful New Year. May there be kindness and nurtured within each of us greater comprehension of Christ's mission and the true meaning of Christmas!

CRITTENTON CHRISTMAS MEETING

Mrs. Vera I. McKenzie, president, will preside at the Christmas meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League to be held on Friday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Don S. Greer, 82 Arlington street.

Mrs. Theodore P. Messer, chairman of the program committee, will introduce Mrs. Ruth Ley, the guest speaker of the afternoon. Although Mrs. Ley attended an art school in Boston, she turned to feature writing and reporting for the local newspapers. She then went into radio. Soon she was producing and starring in her own television show "All About People." In New York, Ruth Ley produced color shows for RCA during the pioneer days of color TV. After working as producer of films for organizations and institutions, she finally began "shooting" her own documentary films which she uses for her lecturing. Because of her work in newspaper, radio and TV, Mrs. Ley has met many people, both great and the small. Having produced the TV shows of Under Secretary of State Hester in his last gubernatorial campaign, she had the privilege of filming him in the privacy of his home in Millis, Massachusetts, for her "Celebrity Close-ups" series.

At present, Ruth Ley is editing her newest film "Around the West in 30 Days." But whatever her medium, Ruth Ley's hobby, avocation and vocation is people. It is around this subject that all of her work is centered.

It is hoped that many members and their guests will be present to enjoy this entertaining speaker. Tea will be served by Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and Mrs. Donald J. Lewis and their committee.

Miss Catherine E. Tonon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tonon of 53 Lawson road will begin her Christmas recess from Centenary College for Women, Hackettstown, New Jersey, on December 20 and will return to the campus on January 7, 1958.

LIBRARY DECISION QUESTIONED

MANY UNCONVINCED BY REASONS FOR ART GALLERY MOVE

Editor of the Star:

In an article in last week's Star on the December meeting of the Art Association, the statement was made that this meeting would be the final one in the Winchester Library. For the Library had given notice to the Art Association that after its December meeting it could no longer use the Library. Many of us regret this decision and do not feel that it should be final. There are other solutions. But this letter is not written to discuss that phase of the problem. It is written because, under the circumstances, it seems appropriate to remind the Library authorities of the history of the relationship between the Art Association and the Public Library.

The Art Association is unlike any other organization that has been using the Art Gallery. It has never been an organization that approached the Library, asking permission to meet there. When the Library was built there was no Art Association. It was the Trustees of the Library who conceived the idea of having a room to be used specifically as an Art Gallery.

It was they who had the plans made so that the building actually included this Art Room. It was they who encouraged interested people in town to organize an Association that might assume responsibility for this art interest, as part of the Library program.

When the Winchester Art Association was organized over 25 years ago (in May, 1932), the Trustees of the Library gladly named one of their number to serve on the Art Association Board; the Library Trustees welcomed the idea of monthly exhibitions; and for a few years they even arranged to have the Library open on the first Sunday afternoon of the month for an opening tea in connection with each new exhibition.

The Library Trustees of these early years unanimously supported the work of the Art Association, were personally interested in it, and convinced that, in its work, the Association was cooperating with them in their plans to add this cultural feature to the life of Winchester, as a function of the Public Library. Long before music was regarded as a library function, art was so regarded.

There is another reason why the Art Association's use of the Library stands in a different category from that of any other club or organization that has chanced to use Library facilities as a meeting place; namely, the fact that in addition to holding monthly meetings it has had an art exhibition on the walls for the public to enjoy, every month of the year, for twenty-five years. Many of these exhibitions have been outstanding.

As a result, Winchester has come to be regarded as an art center, beyond what might normally be expected from a town of our size. Barring a few towns such as Lincoln and Andover, in which there are permanent and outstanding Art Museums, Winchester has made its art contribution far beyond that of the average town in the Commonwealth.

If the decision of the Library is to stand, Winchester will go backward in this particular cultural area. May I express the hope that the Library Trustees will find a way of maintaining the Art Gallery for its original purpose. Many conversations about town lead to the conclusion that a large number of citizens are unconvinced by the mere statement that the room in question must be taken for stacks and for the use of high school students.

BONNELL SAYS 12 SHOPPING DAYS FOR GOP

The Bay State's G. O. P. national committeeman, Ralph Bonnell, is holding to his January 1 deadline for the Republicans to pick the man they will run next year against Sen. John F. Kennedy. How's the picking coming?

"No one yet," confided Bonnell, and then breaking into a big smile he added: "There are 12 more shopping days to Christmas, you know!"

Actually there's quite a bit of talk among Republicans that they might find their Kennedy opponent in the present Bay State congressional delegation. Names most mentioned are Cong. Laurence Curtis and Edith Nourse Rogers. The belief is that either could make as strong a run against Kennedy as any other Republican in sight.

Bonnell is concerned that Republicans, in the face of sputnik performances, are losing their sense of balance. "We're criticized about missiles and we jolt the criticism. We're criticized about the budget and we join the critics."

"I sat in the House when Congressman Wigglesworth was asking more funds for the defense program and the Democrats voted his requests."

"The administration viewpoint on the budget should have been stronger. It was given months of study. We should have acted like Truman when he sent in his budget and said it couldn't be cut a dime. Instead we said, 'Go ahead and cut it!' We should have stood by what was asked instead of moving away from the first requests."

"As for sputniks, I'm not upset. We have got to recognize that sputniks had a psychological value all over the world. The situation is like the time Lindbergh flew the Atlantic. There was terrific value in being first. But the aeronautical value in the next aviator going was just as important a few weeks later."

"I believe our satellite will be going up in six months, maybe sooner. The scientific value can be as great or greater than that of the sputniks. I have confidence our scientists will have a better satellite. I think we have a good program, a strong defense. The new Secretary of Defense has already ordered intermediate missiles into production."

"We need to keep a sense of balance. Too many are tending to think better missiles are just a question of spending. That in my opinion is not the key. We have to spend what is necessary, but to go into an unbalanced budget and big deficits would play into the Soviets' hands. Their major objective has always been to weaken our economy."

(John Harris in the Boston Globe.)

NEW MARINE CORPS RECRUITING POLICY

A new "Stashee" program for male and female marine applicants and two-year active duty plan for female applicants have been approved by Headquarters Marine Corps, according to T/Sgt. James G. O'Keefe, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub-station in Medford City Hall. The station is responsible for the recruiting of prospective marines in the town of Winchester.

The new women marine recruiting policy authorizes a 2-year active duty contract for young ladies. Women marine applicants will now be allowed to enlist in the Marine Corps Reserve for three years, two of which must be served on active duty, the remaining year can be served on inactive duty.

Under the new male program applicants will be enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve on inactive status while awaiting active duty orders. Men enlisting in this program can delay their active duty reporting for any period up to 120 days, this waiting period is creditable to their military obligation and for pay purposes.

Young men and women in the Winchester area that desire further information concerning these programs may contact T/Sgt. O'Keefe by calling MYstic 6-9334 or by visiting the recruiting station in the Medford City Hall, Salem street, Medford, any weekday from 8:00 a. m. till 4:30 p. m.

CIVIL AIR PATROL OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Citing the Civil Air Patrol as a "vital source of power in emergencies" President Dwight D. Eisenhower recently extended congratulations to the more than 75,000 members of the CAP on the occasion of its sixteenth anniversary.

"The daily missions of the Civil Air Patrol add strength," the president declared "to the national community and the immediate availability of its trained volunteers provides a vital source of power in emergencies."

"Congratulations and best wishes."

Founded just six days before Pearl Harbor, the Civil Air Patrol has for more than a decade and a half provided the United States with a home front air arm in war and peace. During World War II these civilian volunteers flew more than 24,000,000 miles on anti-submarine patrol off East and Gulf coasts. Their tiny single engine planes heavily laden with bombs and depth charges ranged out of sight of land in search of the Nazi U-boats preying on our defense shipping.

Since the war these same civilian volunteers have flown millions of miles on aerial search and rescue missions.

Today the CAP boasts 40,000 adult members, flight and ground crews, communications men and first aid technicians. It operates some 1,100 light liaison planes owned by and operated by the organization. Its members own and operate another 5,000 light planes in performance of its missions. Some 16,000 CAP members are rated pilots. CAP also operates more than 10,000 radio stations on fixed, mobile and air borne, for use in emergencies.

The Civil Air Patrol Cadet program, the only U. S. youth program based on aviation and the air age, now has more than 36,000 teenagers participating.

SACHEMS RALLY TO WHIP ST. MARY'S, 4-2

Again Winchester continued to press. A good most of the play was in the St. Mary's zone but the Satchems could not score.

In the third period, the strong team was simply outskated. St. Mary's Coach Frank Finigan had been using three well-drilled lines. This paid dividends in the last period. Capt. Craig Davenport circled the net and drilled a shot from the right side. The puck went in perfectly. This tied the score at 2:27 but St. Mary's was still fighting. In a quick breakaway, Norton rushed in on Gowdy. Gowdy went down brilliantly to save, taking the puck away. The Satchems were making a play for the rebound blasted the puck toward the open cage only to miss by inches.

U. N. CAMPAIGN EXCEEDS NINE MILLION

At last week's final report dinner, United Fund Campaign Chairman, O. Kelley Anderson announced that $9,381,104 had been raised for the benefit of 377 social agencies in Greater Boston.

Area vice chairman Robert M. Edgar reported that Winchester contributed $24,322 in residential solicitation alone, toward the final figure. Later information will be available on amounts given by residents at their place of employment.

Anderson told more than 600 volunteer campaigners at the Hotel Somerset dinner that the current total exceeded by more than $1,000,000 the amount raised separately last year by the participating agencies.

The present figure is the highest ever raised in the Greater Boston area by a non-sectarian organization. This year's amount also surpassed the nation-wide average increase of first United Fund Campaigns over their past community drives.

The following chairman reported these department totals:

Erskine White, Metropolitan Dept. $1,523,901
Lloyd D. Brace, Advance Gifts Division $4,590,077
Adrian O'Keefe, Commerce & Industry $3,267,126

The eight drives that will benefit from the fund include: Red Feather, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Mental Health, USO, Medical Foundation of Metropolitan Boston, Diabetes, Arthritis and Rheumatism.

ON BENTLEY DANCE COMMITTEE

Mr. John J. Walsh, 144 Arlington street, is serving on a committee for the annual Christmas dance sponsored by the Student Council of Bentley School of Accounting and Finance in Boston.

The dance will be held at the Bradford Hotel on Friday, December 13th. Ken Reeves will supply the music.

INFECTED PERSON TB CARRIER

"A person with active tuberculosis, under no medical supervision, is a source of infection for everyone who comes in contact with him," reports Sheman B. Russell, chairman of the Winchester Tuberculosis Committee, an affiliate of the Middlesex Health Association. Some 100,000 Americans have active infectious TB, but do not know that they are sick. "The discovery of all these active cases is the only means to ultimate tuberculosis control," points out Mr. Russell.

The search for unknown tuberculosis cases is laborious and costly, requiring adequate casing and programs. Last year, $33,448.96 in Christmas Seal funds was spent to find new tuberculosis cases. Throughout Middlesex County, free chest x-rays were provided as follows: Men-Over-40, 2447; industries, 6551; foodhandlers, 557; screening clinics, 6085; newly admitted hospital patients, 4103; community, 3291.

In 1952, 292 new cases of tuberculosis were reported in Middlesex County.

Most of these new conditions were moderately or far advanced, requiring longer treatment and hospitalization. This points to the great need for sufficient casing to detect TB early.

"In the need to find new unknown cases of tuberculosis, it is more important than ever that we exceed the total amount raised in the 1956 Seal Sale," said Mr. Russell. "Efforts must be concentrated on high TB incidence groups such as Men-Over-40, foodhandlers and others. Chest x-rays are an invaluable part of the tuberculosis control program in maintaining the gains already made in the continuing fight against new infection. Every purchase of Christmas Seals is important."

CLARA BARTON

RED CROSS FOUNDER BORN CHRISTMAS DAY

Clara Barton was born on Christmas Day, 1821. She served as a nurse during the Civil War. In 1865, President Lincoln placed her in charge of missing men of the Union armies, and in this connection she identified and marked the graves of more than 12,000 soldiers. In 1866 Clara Barton visited Switzerland for her health and there learned of the new Red Cross movement. The cause made an immediate appeal to her imagination and after witnessing Red Cross work during the War of 1870 she became an enthusiastic Red Cross advocate.

In 1877, on her return to America, Clara Barton presented to President Hayes a letter from Mr. Moynier, President of the International Red Cross Committee, asking once more that the United States accept the articles of the Convention. The letter was referred to the State Department where it was shelved. But Clara Barton, getting together a committee of four, continued her campaign.

Encouraged by President Garfield's promise to recommend ratification, the Committee reorganized and had itself incorporated in 1881 as the American Association of the Red Cross, with Clara Barton as president, serving until 1904. Garfield did not live to carry out his promise, but in March 1882 President Arthur and Senator Blaine secured ratification of the treaty by the Senate without a dissenting vote.

Clara Barton died Easter 1912 at her Glen Echo, Maryland home. The Grand Rapids (Michigan) Press said:

"The world lost a friend when Clara Barton died. Humanity is richer for her having lived."
A nobler epitaph no man or woman ever earned.

AGREES WITH DR. TALLY

Editor of the Star:

I certainly agree with Dr. B. Throckmorton Tally's article published in your paper of last week except for the statement, "Today, we have 17 colleges in the U. S. that offer courses to men or women who want to go into Foreign Service. Naturally, none of these schools concentrate on the Foreign Service Courses."

Georgetown University has a Foreign Service school which concentrates on these courses.

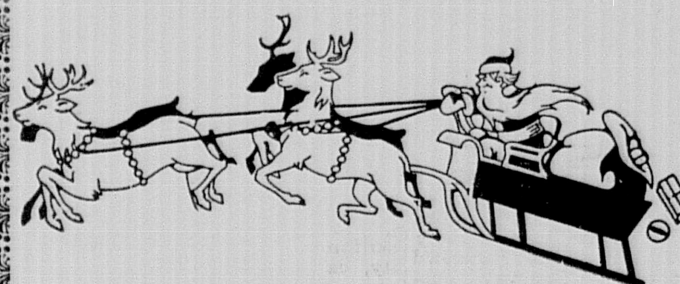

I remain,

Born in Chelsea, October 24, 1865, Mr. Smith was for many years until his retirement, a book-binder for the Plimpton Press, and later, the Norwood Press, retiring in 1939.

He made his home in Winchester in the nineties, taking up residence in Norwood in 1897. He had been living with his son, Carl L. Smith, at 26 Hoyle street, Norwood, before entering the nursing home. His wife, the former Minnie E. Storey, is deceased.

Mr. Smith was the oldest living member of William Parkman Lodge and a life member of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Massachusetts. He was also a member of Woburn Royal Arch Chapter, Hyde Park Council, Temple Commandery, and Samoset Chapter, O.E.S.

Donations will be gratefully accepted for this worthy cause and people are urged to give toys for children from 1 to 16 years old. All gifts donated will be wrapped by Kiwanis members and presented by Santa Claus to the children on Christmas.

TOWN MEETING HEARING

Some thirty citizens attended last Thursday's hearing led by the Town Meeting Committee in the Assessors Rooms at the town hall. The Town Meeting Committee was instituted at the special June town meeting to study the need for, and means whereby town meetings can be shortened.

In advance of the meeting questionnaires were sent town meeting members asking their opinion of certain procedures believed contributing to the length of town meeting sessions and proposed ways of eliminating them.

The only question on which all those at the meeting agreed was that the meetings should start promptly. There also seemed general agreement that some mechanical means of acquainting a speaker with the fact that he is approaching the end of his time should be employed.

There was opposition to limiting the time of non-town meeting members and not permitting their participation in debate.

Frank Hawkins, chairman of the town meeting committee, presided.

CELEBRATE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis of 154 Highland avenue were pleasantly surprised last Sunday by an open house given in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary by their children, Sandra Curtis and Lt. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis. Nearly sixty friends and relatives were on hand to congratulate the honored couple.

A second surprise was seeing their son and his wife and two children, whom they were not expecting for another two weeks. It was the first time they had seen their granddaughter who was born last August in Tampa, Florida, where Lt. Curtis is stationed with the Air Force.

TIME OF ST. JOHN'S HOCKEY GAME CHANGED

The time of the Winchester - St. John's hockey game at Lynn for Saturday, December 14, has been changed to 4 o'clock instead of the original starting time of 5 o'clock.

The St. John's team requested the change since their school is holding an important dance that evening.

Coches' Frank Finigan of Winchester greatly respects this year's edition of the St. John's team. They have seven out of the nine men that played for them last year returning. They were in contention all the way last week before falling to a very strong Lynn English team 2-0.

MORTAR MIXER STOLEN

Walter Deskarais, superintendent of the Charles Logue Company of Newton Highlands, called the police station on Wednesday to report that a mortar mixer had been stolen from a job at Hemingway and Main streets. The mixer had been left at the job since the previous Friday.

The mixer was a "Kwik-Mix" with an electric motor, dark orange paint and two wheels with pneumatic tires, valued at $900.00. The machine was covered with canvas and it was not missed until they went to use it on Wednesday.

Four in Semi-Finals

Winchester Pupils In Merit Scholarship Competition

Four seniors at Winchester High School have been named semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Competition, according to Principal W. Howard Niblock. The local students are listed among the 7,500 high scorers on the Scholarship Qualifying Test, a nationwide college aptitude examination given in 14,000 high schools on October 22.

The semi-finalists named today outsourced 300,000 fellow seniors, and thus moved a step closer to the $4 million in Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the 1958 program.

The Winchester semi-finalists are Stephen Root, Lindie Gross, David Hopkins and Talbot Page. Merit Scholarships are sponsored by over sixty business and industrial firms, as well as by professional societies, foundations, and even individuals. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation is the largest sponsor, with 100 awards worth $500,000 being granted annually.

The sponsor's list includes such nationally known names as International Business Machines, National Distillers and Chemical Corporation, F. W. Woolworth Co., Pittsburgh Plate Glass, McGraw-Hill, B. F. Goodrich, Time Incorporated, Gulf Oil, and many others.

The semi-finalists now face a rigorous three-hour College Board examination to be given in testing centers throughout the country on January 11. Students whose high scores substantiate their earlier test performance will become finalists in the competition.

At least 7,000 of the semi-finalists are expected to survive this second hurdle, according to John M. Stalaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual competition.

The Finalists' group will be made up of some of the most able youngsters that America has ever produced. We expect to have over 800 scholarships available for them—about one for every nine of these superb young people. Our need to identify, and help, as necessary, the scientists, engineers, teachers and other leaders of the future, is more apparent right now than it has ever been. The far-sighted business and industrial companies that are making these awards possible are to be congratulated," declares Mr. Stalaker.

In the final phase of the competition, the high school grades, extra-curricular attainments, and the leadership and character of the competitors will be evaluated.

About May 1, a fortunate 800 will become the Merit Scholars of 1958.

The other finalists will receive Certificates of Merit, attesting to their high ability; and all colleges and universities will be notified, enabling these students to be considered for thousands of other awards and prizes.

Merit Scholars make their own choice of college and course of study. The value of each of the four-year Merit Scholarships varies with the financial need of each individual student, ranging upward from $100 per year (the minimum) to $2,000 per year or more.

The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars will receive grants-in-aid averaging $2,000 per Merit Scholar to help defray the actual costs of educating the students.

The Merit Scholarship program is now in its third year. It was established in 1955 through grants of $20.5 million from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The Merit program is designed to search the nation for those students most able to benefit from a college education.

representatives will be a Christmas tea at the Girl Scout cabin on Tuesday, December 17, from 3:30 to 4:45. Juliette Low representatives from all neighborhoods will attend. Christmas Party for the Board
The December meeting of the Board of directors of the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts took place in Rockport at the lovely new home of Mrs. Eleanor Shinnick, our executive director. The fire in the fireplace, the view of the ponding surf, the excellent refreshments, and the spirit of good fellowship made it an occasion to be remembered. Mrs. Herbert Ross, our vice president, presented Mrs. Thomas Hill, our retiring president, a thanks-badger for her invaluable services to scouting in Winchester. Roundup Peanut Sales Troops 5 and 10 are proving themselves good saleswomen! In their Peanut and Mixed Nut sales campaign to help defray expenses to the 1959 Girl Scout Roundup, almost every girl of the two troops has sold at least one 6-pack case. Linda Chase and Betsy Root of Troop 10, sold 6 six-pack cases in a whirlwind personal call drive, Saturday afternoon, alone! Laurel Ingram and Jackie Cartier, a team from Troop 5, chalked up 49 sales of two can packets, last week!

A last minute reminder to those leaders who have not completed their Christmas Service Project. All troop collections are due at the office of the Girl Scout cabin, today, December 13. This is a town-wide project and we expect every troop to participate.

CHRISTMAS VESPER SERVICE

On Sunday afternoon, December 22, at four thirty o'clock, the augmented choir of the First Baptist Church will present a Christmas Vesper Service. Both the Junior and Senior Chorus are busy preparing carol-anthems for this service which will include the traditional Christmas Carols sung by the congregation and the Christmas Story told in Scripture by Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor.

The families of the First Baptist Church cordially extend an invitation to all townspeople and the surrounding communities to join with them for this Christmas Service. The complete program will be announced next week.

The Star is pleased to acknowledge the receipt of a handsome art type calendar from Harry A. McGrath, Jr., insurance broker located at 140 State street in Boston.

CANTATA PREMIERE THIS SUNDAY

An unusual Christmas Cantata "Break forth with Song" will make its premiere at Trinity Methodist Church in Medford on Sunday, December 15, at 7:30 p.m.

This cantata was written and will be directed by Mr. Donald MacFeeley, organist and choir director of St. John's Methodist Church of Medford. The choir of both churches will combine in this presentation.

Guest soloists include:

Soprano—Margaret Janis
Baritone—Chris Adams
Solo Quartet—Matina Djimas, Elizabeth Bruno, Sylvia Duckworth, Marilyn Seminario

The text for the cantata comes from the Bible passages of Isaiah and Luke.

Mr. MacFeeley, of Winchester, is a church music major at Boston University, School of Fine and Applied Arts, and a member of Phi Alpha Fraternity. Student Chapter of the Guild of Organists and assistant to Mr. David Blair McClosky of the faculty.

ROTARY NEWS

The Winchester Rotary Club held its usual weekly meeting yesterday and heard a most interesting program by John Coughlan of the Department of Youth Correction and Joseph Foley of the Youth Probation Service.

Next week the club will hold a Christmas party in place of the regular noon meeting. It is hoped that all members will attend.

The directors and committee chairmen will meet on December 17. Be sure if you can't attend to have your committee represented.

THE WILCOXES TO GUIDE PLAY-READING GROUP

Visiting Woodford and Lesley Wilcox in their lovely old home guarantees a pleasant interlude whether or not it is play-reading time. We found them relaxed after a walk in the chilly afternoon and willing to chat about their various interests, says Mrs. C. A. Abbott, co-chairman of the Play-Reading Study Group of the Winchester College Club.

Woodford likes fishing for Atlantic salmon on the Miramichi River in New Brunswick and mountain climbing in addition to the theater and such theatrical amusements as play reading, charades, etc. His remarkable voice and keen wit make him exceptional at these; not to mention his ability as raconteur. Either family modesty or family loyalty prevented a conclusive comment on his singing voice.

Mr. Wilcox comes from Fairfield, "down Maine." At Boston University he managed to complete the four years of pre-legal training and the law course itself in a single four-year period. He went immediately into banking and has remained in the investment field. Obviously, an investment analyst has no trouble in recognizing the best in plays, and in reading he lends credibility and excitement to any role.

The second, and by no means secondary, of the Wilcoxes is the former Lesley Brown, "the only interruption to the Wilcox schedule," and it would be impossible to imagine a better one. She is quick and warm, very responsive to people. Her husband says she is a hard and conscientious worker without being a "do-gooder," to which her years on the board of the Florence Crittenton and other work so aptly testify. Mrs. Wilcox is a loyal graduate of Winsor and Vassar. She is an excellent swimmer, having been taught by Harvard's Tom Richards, and a good walker, but she says she is letting her skill at tennis get away from her. She also is a regular theater-goer, and a reader with great individuality of voice and style.

The Wilcoxes' lovely daughter Lesley has provided them with three small grandchildren. Their son Jackson is a graduate of Tufts Engineering who specializes in hi-fi and theatrical lighting and generally reflecting the family interests and talents. Mrs. Wilcox's father, Mr. Walter J. Brown, completes the family at 29 Calumet road, and at 87 still goes every day to his place on the floor of the Boston Stock Exchange.

The play-reading group enjoys the reading and discussion of six plays. The group is open to members and non-members of the Winchester College Club and will meet on Monday evenings every other week for six sessions beginning January 27. If you have not received an announcement in the mail, please call the Wilcoxes.

BOY LOSES FINGER

A call received at the police station a week ago Thursday brought police officers to the scene of an accident in which a 10-month-old boy lost a finger.

Officer Andrew Crawford went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle on 54 Salem street and found that 10-month-old Michael Doyle had caught his finger in a door and cut off the little finger on his right hand at the first joint.

Officer Crawford stopped the bleeding and took the child and his mother to the Winchester Hospital.

LINCOLN SCHOOL ROOM TEA

There was a room tea for the mothers of the afternoon session of Kindergarten held on November 19, at the home of Mrs. E. Blair Hawley. Miss Richardson, Kindergarten teacher, was the guest of honor, and Miss Cunningham, principal of Lincoln School, was also a special guest. Mrs. Hawley and Mrs. George Hayden, Jr., room mothers, were hostesses for the very lovely tea.

New records were set on Thursday night, December 5, by Thorne's Briers the new team single 506, new team triple 1437.

The men who had a hot night by hitting the 100 mark at least once were as follows: Johnson 100, 114, 100 for a total of 314; Merenda 132, 110, 91 for a total of 333; Dave DeCourcy who wants publicity 111, 110, 91 for a total of 312; Ed Forbes 102, 106 and Scaturro 101, Thorne 109, Gorrassi 106, LaPointe 113, C. Manoli 103, Connors 101, Gannon 103, Plunkett 101, Cleary 106 and Mistretta 104.

This was a quite a night and it seems as if a lot of fellows used the week off for a little practice. Ed Sanford is still hitting them and so is Joe Grant. Artie Gorrassi is starting to find himself again. It seems that Artie went a little sour after his girl stopped escorting him to the alleys, maybe if she reads this item she will show up in the future and he will give Dave DeCourcy a run for the anchor man's job. All I want to know in closing is what has happened to Dunbury's Robbers, they were hot at one time now it seems hard to get a team together.

Recently, Mr. Raymond Dickman, principal of the Junior High School, spoke before a group of students making in art at the Rhode Island School of Design. His topic covered the field of art education in the Junior High School.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCE

Against a beautiful setting of Christmas greens and poinsettias, candles, and stained-glass windows, the combined Harvard Glee Club and Radcliffe Choral Society gave a magnificent Christmas concert in the First Congregational Church on Tuesday afternoon. Outside the rain drove against the building and the afternoon was a dreary one, but inside the church, almost every pew was filled, and music lovers from every denomination, of every age, sat spellbound before the artistry of this choral group, under the direction of G. Wallace Woodworth.

It is of particular interest to Winchester that Mr. Woodworth was for a time organist and choir-master at the First Congregational Church.

Familiar Christmas music, as well as seldom-heard pieces were sung by the 60 voices, but especially beautiful was the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah. It was on this inspiring music that the concert concluded.

The entire program had been arranged by the Social Service Guild of the Women's Association, First Congregational Church, and since it was the Christmas season and this choral group has never before appeared in Winchester, the guild opened the concert to the public. From the size of the audience, and the great enthusiasm shown, the public thoroughly enjoyed the Guild's gift!

We had a visit Saturday morning from a Winchester woman who liked our reference to the fine service rendered in time of real need by our telephone operators. She, too, had experienced this service and the friendly way in which it was supplied, and had this suggestion for those who often wonder why telephone service is not what it should be.

Her advice to those who grumble about phone service is to visit the local exchange, or any exchange, as she did with a Scout troop. It

You give them an opportunity to get better acquainted with our free enterprise economy. You give them a personal stake in the future of an American company.

For further facts about giving stock for Christmas, drop in and talk to one of our registered representatives. Ask him about the new Massachusetts law simplifying gifts to minors. No obligation, of course.

is her belief that anyone making such a visit and seeing the switchboards operated by the girls will cease complaining and wonder how the service can be so invariably good.

The removal of the covering from the west wall of the library art gallery makes it possible for visitors to see again the beautiful Tiffany stained-glass window given to the town as a memorial to Joseph H. Tyler, prominent citizen who was formerly for some years a library trustee and registrar of the probate court in East Cambridge.

Mr. Tyler died in 1892 and the window, composed of three lights, was placed in the old library in the town hall in 1894. It was installed in the new library when the building was built and was covered when the art gallery began to be used for motion pictures. Many have regretted the hiding of the window, for connoisseurs have rated the glass as unusually fine, in color, texture and design.

Elsewhere in this issue is notice of the Winchester hearing to be held in the State House at 10 o'clock Monday morning, December 16, on the petition of the Boston & Maine to curtail, and in some instances discontinue entirely, its commuter service. Winchester is affected by the proposed curtailment and stands to be further affected in the future.

Rep. Harrison Chadwick, who has led the fight against local curtailment, hopes that as many commuters as possible will attend the meeting and make their feeling known. This is definitely the time to do so; not after the proposed curtailment becomes a fact.

REQUIRED READING

Editor of the Star:

If you take part in our Town Government, and especially if you are on a School Building Committee, you should expect to study-up on the subjects involved.

For example; a member of a School Building Committee, should understand the question, "How could a change to a 6-3-3 system, give Winchester relief from crowding in the Senior High School? Would it change the course of study? How? Why?"

Our present troubles are due directly to lack of know-how on the part of some one. One or more persons had but a dim idea about how population trends can be surveyed. These people did not even know that they did not know! The architects were given a faulty list of requirements, in all likelihood?

As required reading, your attention is directed to:

lances?" "Readers Digest" for September 1957. See Page 37.

(2) Excerpts from address by Admiral Rickover. (He suggests five reforms for High Schools.)

LIBRARY CHANGES ANNOUNCED

The Winchester Public Library is presently changing the arrangement of books and services to provide more space for book expansion and work areas.

The American Library Association has said a public library should add each year one volume for each five persons served. At present, in our library this means 3,271 volumes should be added each year. At the same time, at least 1,000 books a year are being withdrawn, which gives us a net of over 2,000 books a year.

The total book collection at the end of 1956 was 61,500. With a net increase of 2,000 books a year we should have at the end of this year 63,500; at the end of 1958, a total of 65,500 books, and so on. Let us say here that the figure quoted in the October Town Meeting—that a library collection should total 2 1/2 books per person—was taken from 1945 minimum standards!

Based on the American Library Association figure of six books per foot to allow for growth, the stack area of the library should shelve 11,000 books on each floor. At present one floor of stacks alone houses 17,000 books. The same proportion of overcrowded shelves is true in all areas of the library.

As indicated in a recent letter to the editor, changes are being made in the library to temporarily relieve some of the crowded areas. A special article in the Warrant will ask for funds to provide for more permanent changes.

The children's room is the section in greatest need of both shelving and seating. Here, the immediate change is to move the children's librarian's office and workroom into the present janitor's room. This will give the librarian more work space and also free both closets for the shelving of books.

The janitor's room at the foot of the stairs. This is larger than their present room thus providing space for a large work table, tools, and supplies. With room to work and tools to work with, the janitors can do many jobs of repairing, etc., which previously were done by outside workmen.

The staff room is moving into the present downstairs workroom. The workroom has been moved upstairs to the catalog office. This will enable a more efficient use of present personnel since those in the workroom can easily be called to the circulation desk when needed. To create space for the workroom, the Cataloguer and the part-time typist have moved into the Librarian's former office.

What used to be the high school alcove is now being used as an office for the librarian and assistant librarian. The new librarian, Mrs. Smith, is especially pleased with this location since it will enable her to be near the center of activity. All are cordially invited to come into the office to get acquainted.

The books from the High School alcove will be relocated. College catalogs and a few books for teenagers are shelved in the former business and technical alcove. The bulk of the high school books are in the process of being shelved with adult fiction and non-fiction. The facilities of the entire library are now open to high school students.

Business and technical books will be found in the gallery reading room, as well as magazines and newspapers. Also shelved in this room is recent non-fiction. It is felt that this room will be conducive to quiet reading. The attempt has been made to arrange furniture so that exhibits may be hung on available wall space.

Reference books will be shelved in the former non-fiction alcove. The main reading room will hold part of the fiction collection from the stacks and this change in turn will temporarily alleviate the

The entire Church School will assemble in the Social Hall at nine forty-five o'clock to trim the Tree with socks and earnings for less fortunate people. The gifts will be taken later to the Heath Christian Center, Boston. All Church School classes will return to their respective classrooms.

"Making Room for Christ" the Sermon title chosen by Rev. Bailey for the eleven o'clock Sanctuary Service, together with special Christmas music, will prepare us for Rev. Bailey's message the following Sunday, "The Greatest Story Ever Told" and the birthday of Christ.

At five-thirty o'clock in the evening our entire Church family, together with relatives, friends and neighbors, will gather in the Social and Recreation Halls for our Annual Christmas Family Party.

Mrs. Walter Bosselmann is chairman of this festive occasion, assisted by the following committee: Mesdames Herbert Mullen, Joseph Dunn, Arvid Gustavson, Harley Hart, Harold Ekstrom, Leonard Mortenson, Charles Prescott and William Wickwire. A buffet supper will be served from 5:30 - 6:30, after which the large Church family will join in Carol singing led by Mr. Cameron Ryland, organist and choir director. Miss Muriel Roel, Director of Christian Education, will lead in worship.

A Christmas Pantomime "The Snow" will be presented by the Junior High Fellowship, coached by Miss Roel. The cast includes: Peggy Matson, Robert Chase, Marsha McLatchy, Carol Brink, Kenneth Carlson, William Thoms, Ann Shidder and Robert Prid.

The Kindergarten, Primary and Junior Departments will share their ideas of Christmas musically, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Carr, Miss Doris Emery and Mr. Cameron Ryland.

A special treat for everyone will be a visit from Santa Claus. Mr. Joseph M. Dunn Church School superintendent, will act as master of ceremonies.

During the month of December Elizabeth M. Lobingier of Winchester is having an exhibition of her paintings at the Town and Country Club in Hartford, Connecticut. At the opening tea on Tuesday, December 3rd, Mrs. Lobingier gave an informal gallery talk on the exhibition.

MARYCLIFF RE-ADMITTED TO NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

After eleven months of watchful waiting, Marycliff Academy rejoiced to hear of its renewed membership in the National Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, on December 6.

Mother Winters, R.C.E., Principal, learned of the continued accreditation at the annual meeting of the association at the Hotel Statler. As a member, Marycliff has met the highest grading and instructing standards set by America's top colleges.

In 1945, the school was admitted for the first time. Last February, the accrediting committee requested a day of inspection and the submission of curriculum data before renewing accreditation.

Faculty Attend N.C.E.A. On the following day, Mother Winters and Mother Behlen attended the annual meeting of the National Catholic Educational Association at Boston College. Here, Reverend Neil G. McCloskey, S.J., education editor of America, gave an informative talk on the role of the Phi Beta Kappa in the Catholic College.

In the afternoon there were also group discussions on the general topic: Discipline in the Secondary Schools. Sub-topics which were treated by separate groups concerned: Mutual Understanding Between Home and School; Where Discipline Ends and Psychiatry Begins; How a Student Council Can Aid General Discipline.

The discussion leaders were principals of New England Catholic High Schools; all present engaged in the group discussion.

LARGE GROUP HEARS MRS. SPAULDING

Members of the League of Women Voters enthusiastically received an interesting talk by Mrs. William Spaulding at the League's general meeting held December 4 at the home of Mrs. Leonard Mead.

Mrs. Spaulding gave the League a look at the near and far East from a woman's point of view as she told of her recent trip to Egypt, Lebanon, Iraq, Indonesia, and Japan. She accompanied her husband who was making a business trip to these countries as a representative of a group of book publishers.

Mrs. Spaulding had a chance to meet and spend time with many families in their homes in the countries she visited and she gave League members new insight into the problems and aspirations of these people.

Her many charming anecdotes left the members with a warm feeling and a sense of having shared her interesting experience.

MARYCLIFF PUPILS PRESENT CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

Grade Eight of Marycliff Academy presents a carol play, "One Christmas," at the Academy on Sunday, December 15, at 3:30 p. m. The pupils of Grades One through Seven form the supporting cast; while the little kindergartners open the entertainment with Christmas Songs. The program closes with a Nativity Tableau.

Winchester students in the cast are: Paula DiFietro, Patricia McDonald, Dianne Bayley, Ann Schneider, Mary McBain, Dierdre Hamel, Marie Mainberger, Paul Guarente, Michael Hintlian, and Arthur Triglione.

Tickets are available at the Academy.

This is a new group in the Church, and much interest is being shown in it. The adult advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brownell. At the party, gifts will be exchanged and refreshments served.

INJURED IN WOBURN ACCIDENT

Miss Mary Copley of 18 Ardley road was painfully injured in an automobile accident which took place at the intersection of Green and Prospect streets in Woburn last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

According to the police, Miss Copley was driving a Ford sedan south on Prospect street and was entering Green street when her machine was in collision with a Chrysler sedan driven by Elbert D. Howe of 94 Main street, Woburn.

The Ford, out of control after the collision, continued across the intersection and stopped against a curbing near a tree on Green street. Both cars were disabled and were towed to an East Woburn garage.

Miss Copley was taken by the Woburn police in their ambulance to the Choate Memorial Hospital in that city, where she was treated by Dr. Vincent DiRago for injuries to her head, back and legs.

Her injuries were believed to be possibly serious and she was held at the hospital for further diagnosis and treatment. Later reports were more reassuring and she was discharged from the hospital last Saturday.

CHRISTMAS

AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

With the Fall canvass over and a most successful Fair by the Women of the church having been completed, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church now moves into its Christmas program in one of the most joyous of all seasons.

This coming Sunday is the third Sunday in Advent. Another in a series of Christmas messages will be preached by the pastor, Christmas music will include "Four Christmas Scenes" by K. K. Davis. The solo chosen is "I Wonder As I Wander," a beautiful number by Niles.

The last Sunday before Christmas Day will climax the Christmas Sunday Services with special music, carol hymns and a Christmas challenge from the pastor.

The traditional and well received Christmas Eve Candle Lighting Service will be held on Tuesday, December 24, at 11:00 p. m. Have you been to one? It certainly prepares one to enter Christmas day in the proper spirit. Ask one who has attended.

The Sunday School has scheduled its Christmas parties as follows: Friday, December 20, 3:30 p. m. Nursery through Grade 2 and 6:45

p. m. Grades 3 through Grade 6.

The Intermediate and Senior Fellowships will be setting up their own plans. Intermediate Christmas Caroling, Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 4:00 p. m. and the Senior Christmas Caroling, Christmas Eve, 7:00 p. m. Refreshments will be served at 9:30 p. m. and then the young people will attend the Candle Lighting service as a group.

White Christmas Gift Services will be held this Sunday and next Sunday. Members will bring toys wrapped in white paper to the services and they will be presented to needy children at Christmas.

PARTING OF RED SEA TRIBUTE TO GENIUS

When audiences at Cecil B. DeMille's production of "The Ten Commandments" see the thundering chariot army of Pharaoh Rameses II perish in the raging waters of the Red Sea as the fleeing Israelite multitude crosses safely over, they will be watching the wizardry of Oscar-winner John P. Fulton answer screen history's greatest challenge to the special effects man.

Fulton's weird wares have another dramatic display in the De-

Mille masterwork, which opens December 25 at the Winchester Theatre. The depiction of the historic clash between Moses, the man of God, played by Charlton Heston, and Rameses, the tyrant, portrayed by Yul Brynner, is back-grounded by the creeping green mists, blood-red rivers and flaming hail of Fulton's scripture-based version of the Plagues.

CHRISTMAS CAROL SING

COMMON IS THE SCENE OF SCHOOL CHILDREN'S EVENT

Under the sponsorship of the Winchester School Department, all sixth grade pupils of all the elementary schools in town will be bussed to the Common on Thursday, December 19 at 3:00 p. m. where they will join together in a Christmas Carol Sing. The chorus of over 300 pupils will be under the direction of Miss Jean London, Supervisor of Music in the Elementary Schools.

The program will be a varied one consisting of traditional carols and others sung in unison, two and three parts.

The public is cordially invited to be there and hear the sweetest of music, that of children singing.

THE FORTNIGHTLY

In spite of bad weather on Monday, December 9, this, the only meeting in the month, was well attended by Fortnightly members in the Social Hall of the First Baptist Church. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Atwood, the meeting was called to order by Miss Helen Niedringhaus, first vice-president.

Chairman of Music, Mrs. Frank B. McCullough, brought up the question of whether the club wanted carol singing on the Common Christmas Eve. This has been customary for many years but few club members came last year. However, it is a community project sponsored by the Fortnightly for the town and is voted to have the singing this year as usual. The time 7:15 p.m.

Mrs. Henry K. Pitts announced a change of date for the Literature Committee's next meeting. It will be on January 8 in the Public Library, at 2:00 p.m.

The entertainment of the afternoon was a delightful one by "The Bell Ringers of Cape Ann," directed by Mrs. Lloyd C. Runkle of Gloucester. These fine young women have earned an outstanding reputation over a wide area. Ringing fourteen hand bells (all cast in London) with quick interchanges and wonderful precision and timing, they played a varied program of English, French, and Italian songs, mostly old, traditional, and seasonal.

Mrs. Runkle spoke briefly of the art of bell-ringing from very early times. We are glad she has revived it and as leader of this unique and remarkably proficient group she certainly is to be congratulated. An enjoyable Christmas tea followed. At the long, prettily-decorated table, the pourers were Mrs. Warren C. Whitman and Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor, both ex-presidents of the Fortnightly. Members who attended the Silver Tea at Mrs. Charles E. Potts, Jr.'s home December second heard a very interesting informal talk by Shahary Khan of Pakistan, member of the Foreign Service. He formerly lived in central India and his mother, ruler of the province, is now ambassador to Brazil.

A refugee ten years ago, he was educated at Cambridge University, England, and is now a student of law and international relations here. He discussed the history of his country, its politics, the two religions Moslem and Hindu, culture, Kashmir's situation, relations with other countries, family life, and his own adventurous boyhood. It was a privilege to meet this representative of Pakistan.

Mrs. William E. Priest poured at the tea table which was resplendent with delicious cakes. We thank Mrs. Potts for her generosity.

At the regular meeting of the Literature Committee December 4 at the Public Library "drama" was considered, specifically "Mary of Scotland" by Maxwell Anderson and "Marie Stuart" by Schiller (in translation). Readings from these plays were given by Mollie Hodge and Caroline Fitts. A book review of "Mrs. Longfellow" (collected letters) by Edward Wagenknecht was given by Martina Evans.

Next Fortnightly meeting is January 13, 1958, and remember: there is to be a food sale.

ST. MARY'S HOLY NAME

On Sunday, December 8, at the 7:45 a.m. mass members of St. Mary's Holy Name Society received holy communion in a body.

The mass was celebrated by Father Edmund Parker and in his sermon he explained the dogma of the Immaculate Conception. The newly formed Holy Name choir under the direction of Art Sampson and Jim Kennedy sang the hymns for the first time and added considerably to the beauty of the mass.

After mass coffee and doughnuts were served in the hall, prepared by Refreshment Chairman Frank Antonuccio and Al Thorne.

With President John Fitzgerald presiding, Father Martin J. Dolphin, the society's spiritual director, led the group in the recitation of the Holy Name pledge. Secretary George Ross and Treasurer Robert Plunkett read their reports.

President Fitzgerald reported that the Thanksgiving turkey whist party was a success with a substantial amount turned over to Father Manion the pastor. Mr. Fitzgerald thanked all who helped to make this affair a success, especially Mrs. Leo Manoli of Cambridge street for her great assistance.

Program Chairman Paul Mulloy introduced the speaker, Len Merullo, Mr. Merullo is a former Chicago Cubs shortstop and at present is the New England scout for the Cubs.

Lennie gave a most enjoyable talk on the duties of a scout and what they look for in a boy. He said that the Junior American Legion baseball program provides a great training ground for future big leaguers.

During the question and answer period many interesting and humorous facts and stories about baseball were told. It was a truly fine talk by a dedicated Catholic gentleman.

Vice President Gerry Freedman closed the meeting with a prayer.

COUPLES CLUB BAPTIST CHURCH

The Couples' Club of the First Baptist Church will hold its next meeting on Saturday, December 21, at 6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church.

Following a smorgasbord supper, the Jubilees, a choral group from North Reading will provide the entertainment. Then all will enjoy a song fest of Christmas Carols and familiar music.

Any one wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Joseph Dunn, Winchester 6-3230. Working with her for the success of this occasion are Mrs. William Sorenson, Mrs. Richard Lovaas and Mrs. Paul Butterworth.

Winchester has many attractive shop window holiday displays this Christmas. Among those we hear mentioned most frequently are Lorraine's and Myron Berlow's.

WOBURN JUDGE AND POLICE CHIEF INTRODUCE BILLS

Judge William H. Henchey of the Woburn District Court, who is president of the Massachusetts Chapter of Juvenile Judges and a member of the National Council of Juvenile Judges, has introduced in the Legislature through Senator Frederick T. McDermott of Medford, a bill binding the State to an interstate agreement for the return of runaway juveniles.

Under the present law juvenile refugees can not be brought back to the state for certain acts, and the National Council of Juvenile Judges feels that juveniles not under proper supervision and control, or who have absconded, escaped or run away are likely to endanger their own health, morals and welfare as well as endanger the health, welfare and morals of others.

Police Chief Thomas J. Maguire is introducing through Rep. Frank Tanner, a bill requiring District Attorneys to file a complete transcript, including photographs, of all murder trials with the Criminal Information Bureau of the State Police.

The bill is intended to assist police chiefs and their officers to prepare cases with the benefit of information gathered, and data impounded by the District Attorneys.

CURLING AT COUNTRY CLUB

WINCHESTER SPONSORS SECOND FRIENDLY BONSPIEL

The Winchester Country Club will sponsor its second annual Friendly Bonspiel at Winchester on December 14 and 15, 1957.

Invitations to participate have been extended to, and accepted by, two rinks from the Country Club, two from Nashua, two from Norfolk, and one each from Brae Burn, Wellesley, and Highland. These with the three rinks from Winchester, complete the entry list of 12 rinks.

Each rink will engage in three matches, with the curling to take place on Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday morning, December 15.

Pins have been donated by an interested curling member of the club. They will be competed for this year for the first time. Pins also will be awarded to last year's winners.

It is hoped that the Winchester curlers will show their interest in this Bonspiel, and will turn out in large numbers as spectators, and as hosts to our guests.

The members of the Winchester Country Club rinks will be as follows: No. 1, G. L. O'Brien, R. Fisher, T. L. Stirling, H. V. Farnsworth, skip; No. 2, W. J. Spears, Jr., A. A. Rath, W. J. Clifford, A. E. Butters, skip; No. 3, A. F. Howard, J. V. Holdam, Jr., E. French, T. E. Garrity, skip.

W. D. N. A.

Because the Winchester District Nursing Association feels that many of its friends may have seen the legal notice of the proposed change in name of the organization we would like to explain a little of the background for this proposed change.

In 1899 a group of civic minded women in Winchester formed the Association giving it the name of "The Winchester Visiting Nursing Association." It was designed to give part time care to the sick in their own homes.

In 1912 the need for a hospital became apparent and the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association established the first small cottage hospital located on Washington street. By 1934 the Hospital had grown large enough to become a corporation by itself.

In order to avoid confusion the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association then changed its name to the Winchester District Nursing Association.

In recent years the term District Nursing has gone out of usage. This Association therefore has voted to return to its original name and become again the Winchester Visiting Nursing Association. As such it will continue to serve the town and its citizens in their Public Health needs.

NEW EDISON UNIT IN OPERATION

 More power for the ever-growing needs of Greater Boston began flowing from a giant turbo-generator at Boston Edison's Mystic Station in Everett on Wednesday, December 4. The 1,000,000-pound Unit
No. 4, the largest single unit in Edison generating stations, has a capacity of 140,000 kilowatts.

 With the addition of the new unit, Edison's generating capability is now 1,036,800 kilowatts. This represents a figure double the capability available at the close of World War II. Part of the utility firm's continuing plant expansion program, the new turbo-generator is the sixth major generating unit to "go on the line" since World War II.

 Likened to the mythical giant,
Paul Bunyan, the new Unit No. 4 provides more electrical grow-power to the ever-expanding population and industries of Greater Boston. Today, the average Edison residential customer uses more than twice as much electricity as he did ten years ago. Industrial and Commercial demands have shown a similar growth.

 The 82-foot long unit is housed in a new 100-foot long turbine room section begun two years ago at the Everett plant. With construction already under way for a companion Unit No. 5, its identical generating capability will make Mystic Station the largest of Edison's three generating stations.

 Mystic Unit No. 4 represents the biggest part of Edison's capital expenditure of $38,000,000 for 1957.
Aggregate expenditures are reported at $150,000,000 from 1946 through 1957. Along with the companion unit now building at Everett and scheduled to be placed in service in the second half of 1959, corresponding expansion of transmission and distribution facilities are called for in the continuing expansion program.

CAN STILL HELP!

 "The time has passed to talk about 'Mailing Early For Christmas,'" Postmaster Thomas J. Gil-gun, said today. "but you can still help us to avoid a tremendous last minute pile-up of Christmas mail if you'll send all your gift packages and Christmas cards right now!"
To the inevitable last minute
mailers he suggests that you use
Air Mail for every Christmas card or gift going to distant places out-of-town. He points out that even a few hours delay at this critical time may mean disappointment for your friends and loved ones on Christmas Day.

 The Postmaster says that he expects the 1957 Christmas mails will break all records, and that the mail load will undoubtedly hit its peak within the next few days. The flood of outgoing Christmas cards and gifts is being matched by a like torrent of incoming mail that is becoming greater every day.

 Postal employees are digging in harder than ever. There's still time for local deliveries, but all Christmas cards should be sent by First Class mail. Be sure to include your return address on all Christmas card envelopes and package labels.

 The Postmaster expressed his thanks for the fine cooperation from the public so far, and asks your continued help so that all gift packages and Christmas cards can be delivered before Christmas Eve.

METCALF UNION

 Sunday evening the Unitarian Young People heard a speaker from the Unitarian Service Committee.
It was a very informative talk, as few of us knew in how many parts of the world this worthwhile organization has enabled people to learn to help themselves. Instead of just sending packages of food to needy people the U. S. C. sends over experienced workers so that the people may learn to produce their own needs. Incidentally, the U. S. C. does not attempt to convert to the Unitarian way of thinking but only to aid.

 In keeping with the Christmas spirit, we are planning to have a Christmas party on the 22nd. A dance is also planned for February so keep watching for the date.

PAL RESULTS

The Winchester Police Athletic League unveiled its 1957-58 Basketball team on Tuesday, November 26, at the Junior High School Gym. The opening competition was in the Junior Division and gave a preview of things to come. Many new players, as well as new coaches were active and immediately made their presence felt.

Due to the Thanksgiving closing of the school, the Senior Division did not open their competition until December 4. It was a real pleasure to welcome many of last year's Junior players into the Senior Circuit. Bill Rogers of this year's Hawks and last year's Junior leading scorer, made his debut with a solid 20 point performance. Dan Serika of the Eagles declared himself in the race for this year's Sr. trophy with a 21 point outpour.

Among the Juniors, Parsons of Princeton, Donlon of Harvard, Callahan of Dartmouth, Flaherty of Yale, Peckham of Boston College all showed fine scoring potential. Junior League games are on Tuesdays at 7:00, 8:00, 9:00 p. m. Senior League games are on Wednesdays at 7:00, 8:00, 9:00 p. m. All games at the Junior High School Gym, and you are invited, no fee.

GOOD NEWS—W. H. S.

MUSICAL SHOW TONIGHT

Why have the night lights been burning at the high school? Why, it's because of rehearsals, of course. What rehearsals? The rehearsals for the biggest production of the year, "Good News," Friday and Saturday evenings, December 13 and 14. Yes, 60 students have been working hard to put together their shows so it will be a pleasure and long remembered as a success at W.H.S.

Tom, played by Phil Dryer, is in danger of being dropped from the football team if he doesn't pass Astronomy. Since he is the star player, all the sports enthusiasts do all they can to help him, including his sweetheart, Patricia, played by Suzanne Simpson.

She pushes her lovely and demure little cousin, Connie (Gail Hendricks) onto him and under the stars they begin to study Astronomy, but Connie's dream of being a nurse, not much Astronomy is being studied.

Of course, Tom passes his Astronomy and, with the aid of Bobby (LARRY LEWIS) the same is true for Winchester, but it is an important game for all that. Winchester and Woburn always go all out to win the annual two-game series between them.

This year it is a question as to just how much either school has to all out with, since neither is over-bleasted with veteran talent. Woburn has a new coach this year, "Mike" Azzone, former team-mate of Winchester's "Jim" Phillips at Northeastern. It goes without saying that both "Mike" and "Jim" will pull all stops to win tonight.

The Tanners have only one veteran available for the current campaign. He would be Joe Marchetti, a 5ft. 7in. guard who made the team last year as a sophomore and who is the Orange play-maker. John Parrish, 6ft. 11in. football end, played mostly J.V. ball last year, though he was used occasionally on the varsity.

Bill Devereaux, 5ft. 9in. holdover who led the Tanners seconds in last year's game, has clinched the other guard spot, and it may be that big Bob Leessee, 6ft. 2in., 210-pound football tackle, will also see some service as each Azzone tries to get some height in his lineup.

Winchester looked both good and bad against Arlington last Friday. Big Hank Schumacher, 6ft. 7in. captain and center, should be much better at Woburn than he was against the Menotomy towners, since he had only a few days preparation for Arlington due to an injury.

The football players, Thomson, Peckham and Bartlett, also should be better tonight with a full week's work under their belts.

C. E. SMORGASBORD

The Senior Christian Endeavor group of year, has clinched the other guard spot, and it may be that big Bob Leessee, 6ft. 2in., 210-pound football tackle, will also see some service as each Azzone tries to get some height in his lineup.

Winchester looked both good and bad against Arlington last Friday. Big Hank Schumacher, 6ft. 7in. captain and center, should be much better at Woburn than he was against the Menotomy towners, since he had only a few days preparation for Arlington due to an injury.

The football players, Thomson, Peckham and Bartlett, also should be better tonight with a full week's work under their belts.

IN MERRIMACK SHOW

Howard R. Goodrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Goodrow of 116 Forest street, appeared in the role of Horney in the Merrimack College Ostagers' production of "Stalag 17." The play, presented on November twenty-third and twenty-fourth, under the expert direction of Reverend Francis X. Smith, D.S.A., was an overwhelming success.

Mr. Goodrow, a junior Business Major, made his first dramatic appearance with the Ostagers. His brilliant acting ability will long be remembered.

Indians Win Hoop Opener

Arlington Beaten In Overtime, 42-40

Winchester outscored Arlington, two baskets to one, in the overtime, to win a 42-40 decision over the Menotomy towners in the opening game of the new season last Friday night at the high school gym. The game was a real seat-squinner with the Winchester routers having the unique experience of wondering whether their team was going to win after several years of easy victories.

The Indians and their coach, Jim Phillips, face a building season this year and can hardly be expected to equal the records of the crack quintets turned out by the school in recent years.

Winchester wasn't in too good shape for the Arlington opener. Captain Hank Schumacher, 6 ft. 7 in. center and the only regular back from last year, was away below par physically, having only recently returned to action after being sidelined with a dislocated toe. Thomson, Bartlett and Peckham from last year's squad were also below par last Saturday, having reported only a few days before the game after playing football all fall.

In view of the lack of competition on the part of its experienced players, Winchester did well to win. The Indians at this point lack a good outside set shot, and one will have to be developed if the locals are not to face a tight zone defense all season.

On the credit side of the ledger was the willingness of the team to fight back and pull out a close game.

Winchester led at the quarter, 10-5, and had an 18-15 advantage at half time. Arlington outscored the home team in the third quarter, 12-11, but Winchester had a single basket lead as the teams went into the final period, 29-27.

It was nip and tuck over the final chukkal, with Arlington again having the scoring edge, 11-9. This single basket advantage enabled the visitors to tie the game at 38 as the final gun barked.

With the stands in an uproar the teams returned to the floor for a three minute overtime period, and it was during this extra session that "Vandy" French, a sophomore guard, showed to good advantage, setting-up two plays on which Joe Peckham scored baskets to give Winchester a four-point lead.

Arlington cut the lead to two points, but thereafter French did some effective controlling of the ball to keep the Indians winning margin safe.

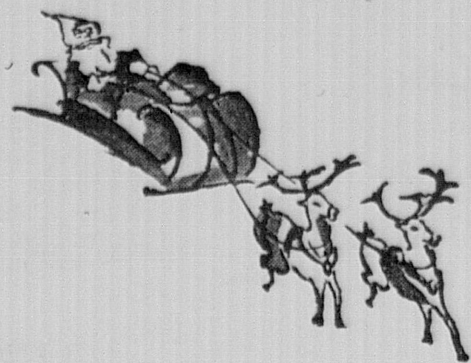

French actually scored himself at the end of the game, but the officials ruled the shot was in the air when the gun sounded and the basket did not count.

Between the halves of the varsity game the Winchester seconds won from the Arlington seconds 44-37.

EN KA CHRISTMAS PARTY AT THE HOME

ENTERTAINED HOME FOR AGED

On Thursday, December 12, Dell McKenzie, wife of Dr. Wilfred McKenzie, cooperating with En Ka, presented "A Visit to Santa's Workshop" at the home for the Aged. It was an enchanting performance by fourteen children, from three to ten years of age.

The star of the show, Verne McKenzie, age five, after playing Christmas music on the piano, fell asleep and dreamed that she was in Santa's Workshop. She went from toy to toy, winding them up and watching them perform. The "dolls" were just perfect, and in very colorful costumes representing:

A clown—Roddy MacCormack, Winchester.

A ballerina—Jean Hutchings, Winchester.

An Eskimo doll—Cherry Gerry, Woburn.

A Chinese coolie—Elaine Shiang, Winchester.

Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy—Susan Guarente, Melrose, and Alison Gordon, Winchester.

Military dancing doll—Cathy Gerry, Woburn.

Colonial dolls—Tommy Leland, Woburn, and Nancy Greco, Medford.

Drum majorettes—Karen and Pamela MacCormack, Winchester.

Candy doll—Cheryl Harvey, Woburn.

Jack-in-the-box—Edward Marcy, Winchester.

The graceful charm of the miniature danced by the Colonial dolls, the amusing antics of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, the clever military tap and the acrobatics of the jack-in-the-box reflected the capable coaching of Dell McKenzie.

"Miss Dell," as she is known in her profession, directed the television show known as Playschool U. S. A., and many of the children in this performance were members of the original cast of this show.

Jean Hutchings' ballet dance ended little Verne's dream, and then Verne closed the show by singing a lullaby.

Mrs. MacWha, matron at the Home, said the family had never had a show like it and everyone enjoyed it, perhaps more so because it is so nice to see little children at Christmas time.

The performance was followed by supper, served by a committee of the En Ka Society. Mrs. R. Ronald Wyman, Mrs. Henry Dellicker, Mrs. V. Hamilton Dickey, Mrs. Frank Creelman and Mrs. John W. Page.

The tables were most attractive, with evergreens, centerpieces and candles, a favor for everyone.

Chemirac drawing and marking pens, 10 vivid colors, dries instantly—never fades, now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg.

HOTTEL HEADS ADVISORY GROUP

The advisory committee on adult education met on December 11 to consider recommendations for the winter session of evening classes. This committee of citizens acts as an advisory board to the school department and school committee.

Several interesting new courses to help our understanding of the difficult world situation was suggested along with an expanded program in the practical and creative arts. The choice of offerings is determined by interest in the subject by the physical capacities of the school plant, by the availability of teachers, and the budget. Full details about the adult education program will be given in the Star in January.

The advisory committee was chosen as representative of different interests, occupations, and neighborhoods. Dr. Hoyt Hotel, elected chairman of the group, is professor of chemical engineering at M. I. T., and director of all solar energy projects at the university.

He was a member of last year's committee which helped to establish the evening program. Also serving a second year on the committee is Mr. William Spaulding, president of Houghton Mifflin Company. Mr. Gilman Wallace, a lawyer, has served on many town committees.

The feminine viewpoint is represented by three women. Hugh Erskine is librarian in the high school at Newton, which has a flourishing adult program. Mrs. Herbert Lamson has had experience with the study groups of the College Club and is well known as a tutor to children and parents. Active in many organizations, Mrs. Carle Zimmerman is a past president of the Women's Alliance of the First Congregational Church.

CAROL SINGING

On Christmas eve, at 7:15, the Fortnightly is sponsoring the singing of carols on the Common as it has for many years. It was in May of 1925 that the club planted a "community tree" here and on Christmas eve of that year it was presented to the town and dedicated to the Fortnightly's first president, Mrs. Ann B. Winsor. A procession of Fortnightly ladies marched from the Town Hall to the Common singing as they went—presumably carols. A card party was held to pay for the lighting of the tree. This particular one has long since disappeared and also its bronze tablet, but other trees have been planted by the town and the custom of having carol singing around one of them has continued.

BEATS THE BEST OF THE LOW-PRICE THREE—FOR LESS MONEY!

Match this big, bold Chieftain against the top models of the "low-price three" and it takes them on all counts!

IT'S BIGGER—with a whopping 122" wheelbase cradling roomy stretch-out interiors. IT'S MORE POWERFUL—they all fall far short of Pontiac's jeweled-action Tempest 395 power.

IT'S MORE ADVANCED—bringing to the low-price field the boldest engineering in history: Aero-Frame stability... Quadra-Poise roadability... Circles-of-Steel safety. And Pontiac provides color-coordinated interiors and wall-to-wall carpeting as standard equipment.

IT'S MORE CAR—with scores of "extras" at no extra cost—oversize tires, Safety Plate Glass all around, crank-operated ventpanes, to name a few. So why buy a smaller car when Pontiac gives you more for less? Check into it and see.

FIRES

Friday, December 13, 6:58 a. m., the Winchester department sent a detachment to Woburn to cover in at the Woburn Fire Station while Woburn firefighters were at a house fire in North Woburn. While they were at the station, the firefighters answered a call for a divan fire.

At 9:00 a. m. a call was received from Mrs. Wayne Wyman of 132 Forest street for a cellar full of smoke. The firefighters responded to the call and found that the smoke was caused by a delayed ignition of the oil burner.

Mrs. Ralph Purrington of 1 Apalachian road called to report trouble at her home. Firefighters responded and found the difficulty was caused by a short circuit in the door bell buzzer.

At 4:55 p. m. Mrs. David Muncester of 18 Crescent road called to report ashes smoldering in the fireplace clean out.

Saturday, December 14, Mrs. Allan T. Buos of 14 Cabot street called and sent off Box 58 for a fire at her home. Firefighters found the cause to be grease burning on a stove.

DAMAGED PROPERTY

Mrs. George A. Moore, Jr., of 15 Agawam road reported damage done to her property last Friday night.

Officer Parsons went to Mrs. Moore's home and found that two wrought iron outdoor lights had been bent. Officer Parsons straightened the iron out.

NUCLEAR FACTORY VISITED BY SCIENCE CLUB

The production of radioactive chemicals, the construction of Geiger counters, instruments to measure precisely the thickness of substances many times thinner than paper, and devices to follow iodine through the thyroid gland were only a few of the things observed by sixteen members of the WHS Science Club who toured the Tracerlab plant in Waltham on December 12.

The trip through the two million dollar building was arranged by members of the club; three teachers, Mrs. Travis, Miss Daniels and Mr. Finneran provided transportation.

Formed in 1946, when the field of atomic energy was just beginning, the Tracerlab Corporation is now combined with the Keleket X-Ray Corporation. Besides the principal plant in Waltham, this large company has laboratories in Richmond, California, and Houston, Texas. Shipping its products to every free country in the world, Tracerlab fills orders ranging from those of an individual scientist to those of a huge company like Bethlehem Steel.

The nuclear energy handled by Tracerlab is not that of atomic bombs, but rather consists of minute radioactive particles called isotopes which have been described as "the greatest invention since the microscope." Many elements are made radioactive in the Tracerlab laboratories and can then be traced through any chemical reaction by measuring radioactivity with precision equipment.

Club members were shown practical application for these isotopes. The most striking was the measurement of the exact thickness of substances like cellophane, paper, or rolled metal by passing radioisotopes through them and the automatic adjustment of rollers processing the materials according to the amount of radioactive energy which could penetrate them.

Other applications in this rapidly growing field include the discovery of leaks in fuel systems, the determination of the level of a liquid within a tank from the outside, the precise measurement of wear on the piston rings of an engine, and safety tests in areas where there might be too much radiation.

According to several club members, this was one of the most educational and rewarding trips ever taken, and plans for other excursions are being made.

WINCHESTER CAR STOLEN, RECOVERED

James L. Coughlin of 10 Forest street called the police early Saturday morning to report that his 1949 black Chevrolet sedan had been stolen from his yard. Mr. Coughlin reported that his car had been parked in his yard since midnight. The car contained Christmas toys and some clothing.

Less than three hours later the Winchester police heard from the Stoughton police that the car had been recovered. Mr. Coughlin was notified and went to get his property.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS STOLEN

Two Winchester residents called police on Sunday to report that Christmas lights had been stolen from their outdoor trees.

The police have checked on the complaints, but have been unable to locate those responsible.

A high velocity gun that uses steam-heated helium instead of gun powder to propel bullets, is being fired at the Naval Ordnance Laboratory, Silver Spring, Md., to test the flight characteristics of projectiles.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

What a first half finish this is going to be! Never in our records were the teams so closely bunched going into the last week.

With Alabama trailing desperately to a two point margin, St. Mary's faded from second to fourth place, Holy Cross bounced to second and California crawled up into third. Any one of the first four teams could finish up on top!

Team Standings W L P.P.
Alabama 32 20 17,920
Holy Cross 30 22 18,169
California 30 22 17,874
St. Mary's 29 23 17,367
Georgetown 27 25 18,115

Notre Dame 19 33 17,653
Boston College 16 36 17,804

Bob Fiore 98.4
Tony Chetalo 98.3
Max La Carubba 95.6
Gene Rotundi 95

We can never recall writing about such a pitch battle as is being waged presently in the average department. Two great bowlers have really locked horns this year, Tony Saraco, one of our greatest bowlers; and "Choppers" Gangi, another great bowler who is having his best year. It is a privilege to watch these two who can almost name the line in which the ball is to travel.

They were pitted against each other this week with the results as follows: "Choppers" bowled 325 and Tony, 321. Remarkable and accurate bowling, we'd say. Others to bowl over 300 were Carl Bertolucci, 314; Tony Chetalo, 309; "Correction" Fiore, 306; and "Babe" Tofuri, 300.

A great team sometimes stumbles and makes mistakes, only to become a winning combination in the end. Boston College had this trouble and has ironed it out and is now the hottest team around. B.C. has taken 14 out of a possible 16 these last four weeks, knocking many of the top teams off like wooden soldiers.

This week this team walked away with high team pinfalls of 1433, averaging 97 per man. Their captain, "Deadhorse" Chetalo, is proving he is still one of the all time great bowlers as he rallies his team by setting a tremendous pace. It has been rumored that the new belt hit team bought for him to hold up his pants has made the difference.

His team has such greats as LeRoy Penta, New England's largest lumber dealer; "Ara" Amico, the proud grandpappy; Johnny Dattilo, proprietor of a laundral in Arlington who gets his clothes whiter than white and passes the Cheer window test; Frank Corby, the international playboy; and last but by no means least, property owner, dog fancier, contractor, politician, gentleman farmer, milk producer, father of fourteen, past venerable of our organization, the beloved creeper, himself, Gene Rotundi!

We had quite an experience this week when Santa Claus paid the boys a visit at the alleys. Santa had a feminine voice and played her part well, writing down all the boys' requests for Christmas.

A correction is in order for the parakeet's name is not Nora but Norma. Regardless, she has terrific bowling form to accomplish the feats that she does.

Periodic reports on case no. 250. In a person to person interview with Silas Mamer (better known as Hokie Procopio) at the home for the aged Italians, we have good news to report. A cure has been found for his ailments but it will take about fifty years of careful planning. This program is now underway.

Having a severe case of laryngitis he wrote this message in shaky handwriting to be conveyed to the boys. "Merry Christmas to you and to all my friends."

Bowlers Hall of Fame

Gene Rotundi this week's prize He's a contractor of pretty fair size A fair size family and that's no pity

One of his sons is a former middy Always tired from pushing his Roller

In spite of it all a very good bowler So Gene Rotundi takes this weeks

The man with the pull, just ask his cow. The first half will be closed as you read this article and it will be interesting to note who finishes on top. The award this week went to that staunch Yankee fan, Richard Bucci. May I in closing extend to all a very Merry Christmas. See you next week!

WINCHESTER MEETS BROOKLINE TONIGHT

SUBURBAN LEAGUE TEAM REPLACES MARBLEHEAD

Winchester High will meet Brookline High in a basketball game at the high school gymnasium this Friday evening, December 20, at 7:00 p. m.

This game replaces the one originally scheduled for December 17 with Marblehead. The "Hens" did not want to go through with the game, and Winchester was pleased to get Brookline as a substitute attraction, feeling that the Suburban League will give the Indians a better game than Marblehead.

MISS HOTTEL SOLOIST

Miss Barbara E. Hottel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt C. Hottel of 27 Cambridge street, and a freshman at Pine Manor Junior College in Wellesley, was a soloist with the choir in the Nativity Cycle of the York Mystery Plays, Pine Manor's Christmas play given December 14.

The Pine Manor production presented the Osgood translation in a setting of 14th and 15th century carols, sung by the Choral Club. It provided the Pine Manor community with an unusual opportunity to see a medieval religious drama in a setting of appropriate music. These mystery plays were an outgrowth of the Church's early efforts to dramatize the Nativity story for congregations and have become an important part of Christmas dramatic literature.

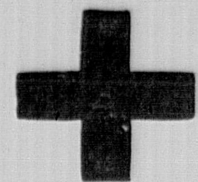

PEE WEE HOCKEY

After a successful football season the Winchester Pee Wees are turning to hockey, which opened Saturday, December 7, with a session from 8 to 11 a. m. at the Belmont Hill rink.

Pee Wee hockey is limited to boys, 15 and under, and a total of 165 enthusiasts from hereabouts reported to head coach Scott Parrot for the initial workouts. Winchester with 35 candidates leads the group numerically.

The Pee Wee management greatly appreciates the interest and co-operation of the Belmont Hill School for making its rink again available to the boys.

RED CROSS CANTEN

"Yes, I think I have heard of the Red Cross Canteen, but I am not sure what it is or what it does." This is what many people in Winchester might say if asked about the Canteen. So here are a few facts about the Canteen and its work in the community.

On Bloodmobile Day in Winchester, it is the Canteen helpers, in uniform, who serve refreshments to the donors of blood. There is also a committee of several ladies who prepare and serve dinner to the professional staff of workers on the Bloodmobile unit. Uniforms are not required for this work.

On the first Wednesday of each month a Canteen worker in uniform, is one of the members of the unit from Winchester Red Cross Chapter who goes in to Boston to staff the Blood Donor Center at 314 Dartmouth street, from 9:45 a. m. to about 3:00 p. m.

Canteen members, some in uniform, provide home-made cookies, and assist in serving coffee at the Bedford V.A. Hospital once or twice through the year, on Sundays and put on a hot dog picnic at the same hospital in July.

All Canteen members are expected to stand by to help provide sandwiches or help in serving food or coffee in case of a local disaster, here or in a neighboring town, as in the recent Medford train disaster.

This is a good time to consider giving a few hours of the New Year to this worthwhile work. If you are interested in helping at the V.A. hospital teas or picnic, making cookies occasionally, assisting with a supper once a year, or working for part of the day on Bloodmobile Day, please call Mrs. Cusack at the Red Cross office, Winchester 6-2300, or Mrs. Archibald, chairman, at Winchester 6-4387.

The Red Cross gives service, through volunteer workers!

Fire Chief James E. Callahan and Mrs. Callahan attended the annual Christmas party of the Massachusetts Fire Chiefs Association last Thursday at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Wives of the chiefs, who were invited, brought the number in attendance to several hundred. There was an entertainment program and holiday favors for the ladies.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SQUAD

WINCHESTER HAD GOOD FOOTBALL SEASON

Many local football fans who meet seem to feel that Winchester High had a poor grid season this fall, basing their opinion on doubt on the outcome of the big Thanksgiving Day game with Woburn and the comparative ease with which the crack Tanager unit disposed of its old time Indian rivals. It is always the most recent game you remember easiest, and there is no denying that Winchester looked bad against the fired-up, hard-hitting and smooth-working Woburn team.

Figures, however, do not bear out the contention that the Indians had a poor football season. Many schools and their followers would gladly settle for Winchester's record of seven wins in nine games. That is a pretty good percentage, but in recent years Winchester has done so uniformly well in football and basketball that anything less than a perfect record is looked at a bit askance by those not too close to the local athletic picture.

It is doubtful if Winchester, at the peak of its form, could have beaten Woburn this year. It is also doubtful that any other teams, in their class could have turned back the Tanagers as they played Thanksgiving. They were one of the best teams ever to play on Manchester Field, old or new, on that particular day.

Winchester's other loss came at the hands of Wakefield in the game that decided the Middlesex League championship. Wakefield won that one, 6-0, cashing in on what was really the Scarietti's only scoring chance. Winchester had several good chances to score, but a questionable choice of plays in some instances, a questionable penalty and uniformly up blocking up forward kept the Indians behind.

Against Wakefield the Indians had to pay the penalty for winning their preliminary games too easily. The local boys had no real testing previous to meeting Melrose, despite the closeness of the Melrose score, while Wakefield had already been beaten by Woburn to get its head out of the clouds.

Winchester opened the season with an 18-13 victory over Concord with both teams still short of work, and the Indians' win rather more convincing than the score would indicate.

After Concord neither Stoneham nor Cambridge Latin offered any opposition worthy the name, and Coach Knowlton, never one to "rub it in," used every man on his big roster to keep the scores of these games within bounds.

Following Cambridge Latin, at a critical time of the season so far as development was concerned, Lexington, because of a prevalence of illness in its student body and among its football squad, postponed its game with Winchester. Could Lexington have given Winchester the game it ultimately turned in on the Saturday before Thanksgiving at the halfway mark of the local schedule, the Indians would have benefitted materially from the meeting.

As things turned out Winchester completed half its schedule without a real testing, with neither its coaches nor fans knowing just what the team could do against a worthy opponent.

Melrose gave the Indians a battle so far as the score went, only. Most of the way one had no feeling the big Red could win. Reading was much weaker this year than usual, and Belmont, touted as having its best eleven in years, proved no match for the Indians.

This sent Winchester against Wakefield with no real testing, and with its first string performers definitely short of work, because of the weakness of the opposition. Both these factors counted heavily in the Indians loss to the fired up Wakefield boys, but the pictures of this game showed conclusively that Winchester, given a break here and there and a little better choice of plays could have won.

Winchester's trouble this year has been the same old Achilles heel that has plagued the Indians in recent years, a weak line. The blocking up front was never crisp and decisive, and this poor blocking and lack of charge hurt badly in the losing games against Wakefield and Woburn.

Winchester had three good backs in Thomson, Flaherty and Paonessa. That they didn't accomplish more against Wakefield and Woburn was lack of running room. They seldom had a chance to get really started. When they did they showed plenty of potential.

Get Thomson around the corner, or Paonessa into the open and either would go as far as the next game. Give Flaherty a crack in the enemy forward wall and he bucked effectively enough. He had neither the size nor drive to open a hole for himself.

Fumbles plagued the locals quite a bit this fall, and of course the backs are blamed for these bobbles, when really it is in many cases the fault of the line that the ball gets away from the carrier. Many times when Winchester fumbled, an opposing lineman was in the backfield at the same time as the ball, giving Longworth little chance to hand-off cleanly.

Another thing that hurt Winchester against the good ones, was the lack of a consistent passing game. Longworth was just too short to pass effectively, and this lack of an aerial threat had the locals running against seven and eight man lines all season. In view of this the yardage Winchester rolled up and the points tallied are surprising.

Of those who faced Woburn on Thanksgiving, Winchester loses Morton, end; Serratore and MacDonald, tackles; Wakefield, Needham and Erb, guards; and Stavariadis and Watson, centers. Backs who played their last game Thanksgiving were Captain Flaherty and Paonessa, halfbacks; Bartlett, fullback; and Longworth, Peckham and Starkweather, quarterbacks.

This leaves Coach Knowlton with a good nucleus for next year, including both regular ends, Murphy and Morgan, and reserve ends, DeMinico, Hosmer and Vespucci. Byron Cullen, tackle, returns with Graham and Winn, guards; and Peluso, center. Backs returning include Captain Thomson, fullback; Serratore, Tofuri and Migliccio, halfbacks. Of these DeMinico, Winn, Cullen and Hosmer are sophomores.

This year's team has again been coached by Henry Knowlton, high school director of athletics, who completed 25 years of coaching, including five years at Plymouth, this fall. Assisting him were Frank Ward Burns and Jim Phillips. Joe Flaherty captained the eleven and the head manager was Peter Mahoney.

Following is the season's record:

Winchester, 18	Concord, 13
Winchester, 39	Stoneham, 13

TOYTIME COLLECTION CONTINUES

The toytime collection of toys for tots is in the third week of operation. The Salvation Army
Men's Center, the Shell Oil Company, and the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve have combined to sponsor this Christmas project—the collection of new and good used toys for distribution to unfortunate children at Christmastime.

This year, emphasis has been placed on the fact that new and good toys are wanted for redistribution. Brigadier Richard Baggs, Commanding Officer of the Salvation Army Men's Center, made this appeal: "We would ask the general public to remember that even children who have no hope of Christmas still dream of shiny, bright, new and good toys. Repair facilities are extremely limited, and we cannot bring ourselves to give a child a broken toy. We ask our donors to remember the dreams of children who wish for a visit from Santa, and give only toys suitable for answering those dreams."

Toys may be taken to any Shell Service Station in this area and left in special containers placed there for the Toytime collection.
The toys will be picked up by the Salvation Army or U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, and given by these organizations to those children who otherwise would have no Christmas.

A SAD COMMENTARY

Editor of the Star:
Recently on a Sunday morning a member of the household of one of my neighbors became seriously ill. The fire and police departments who were called offered every possible aid within their respective provinces. It is, however, a sad commentary to note that two hours passed before a physician could be found to attend the person who was critically ill. The services of a physician were finally obtained through the efforts of the police department. Our hospital was unable to provide a physician to attend this person at her home and her condition was such that it seemed inadvisable to move the patient to the hospital, even by ambulance.

Although my opinion is only that of a business man, it seems to me that our town is populated by a large number of physicians for one of its size so it is difficult to understand why a situation of this sort should occur. If one's heating system, for example, fails to operate on a Sunday, there is adequate service available to restore it to proper operation in a short time. Surely our physicians who seem to enjoy very adequate incomes from the people of this town should at least provide equal service.

Gentlemen, your Hippocratic oath is showing.
Sincerely,
Philip M. Marvel

MRS. CARL W. MEYER, JR.
MEYER — DODGE

White gladiolus, and carnations, green fern and pine decorated the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, December 14, for the marriage of Miss Susan Joy Dodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook Dodge of 17 Lakeview road, to Lt. Carl Walter Meyer, Jr., USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Walter Meyer of 21347 Erie road, Rocky River, Ohio. The minister of the church, Rev. Robert A. Storer, performed the 2 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed at the Bear Hill Golf Club in Stoneham.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Dodge wore a princess style waltz length gown of heavy white taffeta, fashioned with an Alencon lace bodice embroidered with pearls and iridescent sequins and short lace sleeves. Her four-tiered elbow length veil of French illusion was caught to an Alencon lace cap embroidered with clustered pearls and she carried a crescent cascade bouquet of white carnations, variegated holly and white pine adorned with seed pearls.

Mrs. John Turner of Maplewood, N. J., was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Ann Cook of Boston and Miss Margot Bowden of Marblehead. Mrs. George Wilson of Columbus, Ohio, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Suzanne Haddrell of Marblehead and Mrs. Carter Tallman of San Antonio, Texas, were honorary bridesmaids.

Mrs. Turner was gowned in Christmas red chiffon, her dress being fashioned with a jewel neckline, pleated bodice, a wide cummerbund and a bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a band of holly and she carried a crescent cascade bouquet of holly, white carnations and pine.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of holly green styled like that of the honor attendant. Their bouquets matched hers and they also wore holly headbands.

Mrs. Dodge, mother of the bride, was gowned in seafoam green chiffon and wore a silver brocade hat and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Meyer, also wore white orchids with her gown of mauve lace over pink satin delicately embroidered with pearls of the same color. Her hat and shoes were of matching satin and her accessories were white.

William C. Hendrickson of Pittsburgh, Pa., was Lt. Meyer's best man, and ushering were Robert Kaase, Jr., of Avon Lake, Ohio, and Richard Kohls of Melrose, cousin of the bridegroom.

After a wedding journey through New Hampshire, Lt. and Mrs.

Meyer will make their home for 18 months in Laredo, Tex., where the lieutenant is an instructor pilot in the Air Force.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Adelle B. Gibson of Atlanta, Georgia and Greenville, Alabama, announces the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Gibson, to Mr. Robert Cyril Duckworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Duckworth, of Decatur, Georgia. The wedding will take place on Saturday morning, December 28 at 10 o'clock at Saint Anthony's Catholic Church in Atlanta.

Miss Gibson, daughter of the late Robert L. Gibson, attended the University Hospital School of Nursing, Birmingham, Alabama, and was later graduated from St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing, Birmingham. She was a member of the Army Nurse Corps for several years and served with the 121st Evacuation Hospital in Korea during the first year of the Korean War, followed by a tour of duty at Tokyo Army Hospital and three and one-half years at Walter Reed Medical Center, Washington, D. C. She is now attending Georgia State College, under the auspices of the Medical College of Georgia.

Mr. Duckworth graduated from Winchester High School, class of 1949, and served with the Air Force in Japan, Korea and the Philippines. He is presently attending Georgia State College, majoring in Sales and Sales Management.

He is past president of the Veterans' Club, secretary of Pi Sigma Epsilon, National Professional Sales Fraternity, and St. Thomas More's Theater Guild, Newman Club, Knights of Columbus and the American Legion.

Mr. Duckworth is associated with Hills Motors of Buckhead, Inc.

ON B. U. WOMEN'S TEAM

Miss Martha Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Hall of 63 Oxford street, is co-captain of the Boston University Women's Rifle Team which recently won its first match of the season from Northwestern Women's Team, 1475 to 1446.

The team hung up an outstanding record last year, winning 22 of 23 matches to annex the National Rifle Association Women's Intercollegiate Championship. The girls captured 21 of the 41 medals offered by the National Rifle Association by women shooters last year, taking nine silver medals in the championship matches.

Last year was the first in which the B. U. girls competed on the national level, and they took first, second and seventh places, firing from the prone position. B. U. first and second squads also smashed the old women's national record of 1933 by scores of 1986 and 1973.

In individual competition the B. U. team won the first three places and though it was their first year in three-position firing, they finished third in the nation in this competition.

On Friday evening the police received a call reporting that some boys had broken two street lights on Marshall road.

Officers Callahan and Cogan went immediately to the area and found the first two street lights on Marshall road had been broken. They searched the area but could find no one.

dec-31SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

The annual meeting of the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was held on December 12 at the Winchester High School with Wade L. Grindle, Chairman of the General Committee presiding. The meeting was well attended, especially by representatives from the civic organizations supporting the Foundation.

The chief business item was consideration of several proposed amendments to the Declaration of Trust. These amendments, which were unanimously adopted, provide a smoother and more effective organization but do not in any way alter the original purposes of the Foundation.

The reports given by the secretary, treasurer, Scholarship Committee and Finance Committee indicated that the Foundation is completing one of the most successful years since it was founded in 1945. Over $15,500 was raised for scholarships the largest amount in its history. Nineteen graduates of Winchester High School were given financial aid for the current college year. The Foundation has spent over $40,000 for this purpose during the past 12 years.

The following officers were elected: Wade L. Grindle, Chairman General Committee; William J. Speers, Jr., Trustee for 6 years; Mrs. Edward G. Stacy, Secretary; Charles W. Butler, Treasurer; Bradford B. Bentley, Scholarship Committee 4 years.

George L. Connor, Chairman Finance Committee; Walter Birnie, Ralph Bonnell, Jr., Alfred Elliott, Mrs. Arthur Hills, Mrs. James Jenks, Finance Committee.

All qualified organization representatives are members of the General Committee. In addition, five individual members were elected to the General Committee as follows:

John H. Van Dyke, Alfred Elliott, Mrs. George Gowdy, Arthur L. Johns, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer, Mrs. George H. Gowdy, Wade L. Grindle, Arthur L. Johns, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Executive Committee.

STILL NEED TOYS

Mr. Elliot H. Small, 55 Auburn street, West Medford, New England public relations representative of the Shell Oil Company, and a sponsor of "Toytime" collection, urged the general public to take new and good toys to the nearest Shell station for pick-up and distribution to unfortunate children in the Greater Boston area.

In a statement to this newspaper Mr. Small said: "Christmas is very close, and the quota of toys needed has not yet been filled. The Salvation Army Men's Center, co-sponsor of this Toytime collection, with the Shell Oil Company and the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, has informed us that they have had many more calls for toys than can be filled. We do not want any child to be without a remembrance at Christmas. Please ask your readers to help us in this effort."

Old Farmer's Almanacs now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg.
nov15-tfREPUBLICAN WOMEN

The Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. Don Greer, on Arlington street on December 16, was a huge success. The beautifully decorated home and a most gracious hostess welcomed the one hundred who came.

Dessert and coffee was served by Mrs. Alfred Drew and Mrs. Herbert Darling. Their work is appreciated because it is no easy task to plan and prepare for so many. They were helpfully aided by Mrs. Charles E. Crede, Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. John C. Gilbert, Mrs. Arthur H. Haines, Mrs. Raymond C. Strawbridge, Mrs. Harold Twombly and Mrs. Walter W. Winship.

President Mrs. Theodore C. Browne gave a friendly welcome to the members. Mrs. Thomas L. Morrison brought us up to date by reading the minutes of the last meeting. Miss Helen R. Neidringhaus gave the treasurer's report.

The speaker of the afternoon was Winchester's own Ralph Bonnell. He is G.O.P. national committeeman. We were glad to welcome him. He said, "do not lose your sense of balance when hearing opposite statements from the two parties. Develop responsibility, especially in fulfilling your opportunity to vote. Do not be complacent and let the other fellow do it."

The holiday spirit was expressed by the singing of carols. A lusty voice here and there helped along those members who were not quite sure of their prowess as singers.

Not so with Mrs. Ernest Wright. Pretty to look at and with her sweet voice she led the group. Accompanied by Mrs. Siran Hovnanian, she sang the solo, "No Candle Was There and No Fire." A carol or two more and all those present left with the joyous feeling that another Christmas was on the way.

CHAMBER MUSIC CONCERT

Last Thursday evening a program of chamber music was given at the Home for the Aged. The players have been meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl E. Thomas on Oxford street every Wednesday evening to practice sight-reading and to get acquainted with classical music for a small informal home group of players.

Corelli's "Sonata da Camera in F major" opened the program. Three numbers from Handel's "Water Music" followed, a Bourree, an aria, and an allegro. Another "Sonata da Camera" by Corelli, one in D minor, finished the major part of the program, which ended with the playing of Christmas carols.

The violinists were Jane O'Malley and her mother, Mrs. W. J. O'Malley, Beverly Bailey, Aniko Szabo, Alice Dyson, James Reid and Paul Johnian. Paul's father, Mr. Aram Johnian, played viola. The two cellists were Stephen Rochow and Richard Niles, and Christopher King was the very competent pianist.

These young players are beginning to play with real ensemble feeling and are to be congratulated for their earnestness and enthusiasm for this most exacting but most rewarding class of music.

CAP AIDS AIR FORCE

According to a spot survey of officers and airmen on active duty with the United States Air Force approximately one out of every 30 is a former member of the Civil Air Patrol.

These significant statistics were emphasized today by Maj. Gen. R. Agce USAF national commander of the Air Force's civilian auxiliary.

The large number of Air Force officers and airmen," declared General Agce, "who received military and aeronautical training as cadets of the Civil Air Patrol together with hundreds of others who have taken their place in the aviation industry and its associated sciences is living proof that CAP's youth training program is paying off in man power for air power."

The results of the last Air Force-wide sample survey indicating that some 27,000 airmen and 4,600 officers were CAP members, were released today as General Agce sent a "well done" to the more than 75,000 current CAP senior members and cadets on the occasion of the Civil Air Patrol's sixteenth anniversary.

"As a veteran Air Force commander," said the general, "I have had the opportunity to commend many men for their devotion to duty and their outstanding performance. None has deserved the commendation more than the civilian volunteers of the CAP who continue to dedicate their efforts to the security of their homeland and the well being of their fellow man. I am proud to be associated with these men and women."

General Agce also pointed out that the value and quality of the Civil Air Patrol Cadet training is evident in the number of former CAP cadets now enrolled in the new U. S. Air Force Academy. Presently there are 85 former CAP cadets enrolled in the Air Force Academy. This amounts to more than 10 percent of the entire academy enrollment.

Headquarters of the Medford Cadet Separate Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, nearest unit to Winchester, are at Medford City Hall. Information concerning the Squadron may be had by phoning MYstic 6-8253, or Thursday nights, call Squadron Headquarters, MYstic 6-5506.

TOYTIME COLLECTION EXTENDED THREE DAYS

"Toytime", the collection of new and good toys for unfortunate children, has been extended an extra three days, until Monday, December 23. The close of the collection period was originally scheduled for Thursday, December 19, but has been extended in order to attempt to fill all the calls for toys that have been made to this "Toytime" collection.

The Salvation Army Men's Center, The Shell Oil Company, and the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, co-sponsors of "Toytime", ask the general public to make a special effort to donate new and good toys, in order that many children can have a "ren-oo-wine" (to quote the youngsters) Christmas.

New and good toys can be taken to any Shell Oil Service Station (there is no time to repair broken toys), and deposited in special "Toytime" containers. The toys will be picked up by the Salvation Army, and distributed to children who could otherwise hope for nothing.

EMARC CHAIRMAN EXPRESSES THANKS

Editor of the Star:

The East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children ended a very successful Fund Drive in Winchester Saturday, December 7, with a Monte Carlo Party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester L. Horne, 3 Stratford road. About seventy-five friends attended and with their generous contributions swelled the Fund to an almost completed quota. During the course of the evening a drawing was made on the Gold Tea Service, the lucky winner being Miss "Mimi" Barnes, 10 Summit avenue, Winchester. The dated young lady presented her mother with the Service as a Pre-Christmas gift.

For those who played the EMARC Fund Drive Game,

"What's In The House" a listing of the articles in the houses is given as follows: Nemo's Market, piece of electric wire; Winchester Trust, hands of a clock; Converse Market, strawberry huller; Converse Market Garage, bottle of water.

McCormack's Apothecary, paper clip; Winchester National, jar ring; Fells Hardware, trivet; Hevey's Drug, electric switch plate; Ann's Doughnut Shop, teakettle whistle;

Winchester Drug, carrying handle; Aberjona Pharmacy, faucet washer; Five and Ten Cent Store, (1) shellac (2) corn holder; Renton's Market, dictionary.

I want to publicly thank the many people who supported the Association through contributing and supporting the projects offered. In the future you are going to hear much more about Retarded Associations and the marvellous work they are accomplishing, because they are in reality closely allied and related to you and your Community.

You will gain greater knowledge and understanding about the good they do and you will realize that there should eventually be a place made for these children not only in the home, when possible, but in the school and also in the church. They are truly the "No Less Precious."

Ans so, at this season of the year, with the feeling of snow in the air, the sound of Christmas Carols being sung, shoppers hurrying to and fro and children who can hardly wait for Santa's visit I feel it most fitting and proper in "signing off" to borrow the words of good old St Nick and say, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a Good Night."

Mrs. Sylvester L. Horne,
3 Stratford road

SACHEMS ROMP OVER WOBURN

A twenty-two point third period gave the Sachem hoopers an easy 57-31 victory over arch-rival Woburn before a sparse crowd at the Woburn gym Friday night.

Captain Hank Schumacher paced the Sachems scoring attack with 13 points. Joel Peckham and Dave Schumacher also hit for double figures as they both collected 11 points. Little Joe Marciano was the only Woburn player in double digits with 10 points, eight of which came at the free throw line. The Sachems were cold in the first two periods as they hit only nine out of twenty-three shots from the floor. The Tanners, however, scored on three out of twelve shots in the first half.

At the end of the first half the locals had a six point lead, 21-15. The Sachems were boiling hot in the third period as they pumped in nine out of fourteen shots from the floor and four from the foul line for twenty-two points and a twenty-two point bulge over the sluggish Tanners who tallied six points in this stanza.

The Sachems continued their hot streak into the fourth quarter, hitting 80% of their shots, to win going away.

Dave Schumacher led the Sachems in rebounds with 15 with Hank Schumacher grabbing 10. The Sachems out-rebounded the Tanners 38-22. Besides tallying 11 points, Joel Peckham also had six assists to lead the team in this department. Joel also did a good job on defense as he intercepted nine Woburn passes.

The Sachems made the phenomenal total of 50 errors. This Friday the Sachems are playing class A Brookline and if the locals don't improve their general play over that of the Woburn game they might end up on the short end of the score.

WINCHESTER EDGED ST. JOHN'S

Winchester High's hockey team made it two in a row last Saturday at the Lynn Arena, edging St. John's of Danvers in a Northeast Conference game, 1-0.

Craig Davenport scored the game's only goal at 7:46 of the second period, after being thwarted earlier in the period on a great save by Gately, St. John's capable goalie.

Two minutes later Craig stole the puck from a St. John's player and drove in all alone, faking Gately out of position to drive the rubber past him into the strings.

Both Gately of St. John's and Gowsdy of Winchester turned in fine performances in the nets. Winchester's pressure on Gately the entire first period, but couldn't beat him. After Davenport's goal St. John's forced the going and Gowsdy had to make some outstanding saves to protect the slim Winchester lead. Gowsdy had 16 saves, and Gately, only one less.

In the second period Gowsdy made a corking save on a sizzler by Burke of St. John's who soared in on him all alone and looked sure to score. The summary:

Winchester: Gowsdy, Cullen rd, Eaton 14, R. Scott, c, Harkins, cw, Davenport 1st, St. John's: Gately, Burke rd, Fisher 14, St. John's spares: Powers, Curtis, LaMarche, D. Scott, Emerson, Hooper, Kelly, Wannerberg, Carlton, Chambers. First Period: Penalties: Fisher 1:25, Chambers 2:59, Cullen 5:31, Fisher 9:32. Second Period: Goals: Davenport (unassisted) 7:46. REPRESENTED WINCHESTER

CHADWICK AND SALTSMARSH PROTEST B. & M. COMMUTER CUT

Speaking for Winchester at the Boston & Maine hearing on commuter schedules were Representative Chadwick and Chairman Saltmarsh of the Board of Selectmen. The hearing was held last Monday before the Public Utility Commissioners at the State House.

Representative Chadwick commented on the dependence of Winchester on the rail commuter service, the trend to eliminate trains and station stops, and the ever-increasing time gap between trains. He said he recognized the problems of the railroad, but felt the present management was not commuter-minded. He contended more commuter business was available to the B. & M. if they made an effort to get it.

After making some suggestions to benefit the mass transit situation, including the filing of his own bill for the establishment of a Commuter Services Commission to coordinate all of the commuter agencies in Greater Boston, he urged the Department of Public Utilities to disallow the Boston & Maine petition until such time as they had made a determined effort to serve the commuter traffic more advantageously.

Chairman Saltmarsh stressed the necessity of an adequate rail commuter service for the people of Winchester in getting to their work. He called attention of the commissioners to the hardship that would result to the citizens of this town if the train service were to be reduced below the present schedule.

LEGION KIDDIES XMAS PARTY

Commander Frank Provanzano of the Winchester American Legion, Post 97, has announced that the post will hold its annual Kiddies' Xmas party at the Post Home on Vine street at 2:00 o'clock on Sunday, December 22.

Chairman of arrangements, Walter Appleton, has lined up an interesting program of entertainment, Christmas carol singing, refreshments and the ever-awaited arrival of Santa Claus, who will present "boxes" to each youngster at the party. The Legion Christmas party has always been popular, and this year's promises to be no exception.

Bring your kiddies along and hear Santa shout ho! ho! ho! Merry Christmas!

Post 97 is also taking part in relieving the pressures on some of the less fortunate families in the town. For a number of years during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, the post has presented food baskets to needy families in the town. These baskets are delivered to help the recipients have happiness for the holidays.

Our own post also plays a big part in bringing happiness to the veterans at the Bedford Hospital. A group from the post attends the party at the hospital to offer refreshments and entertainment to the patients, and it does our best to see that the joy in the eyes of those in the hospital.

The post wishes everyone a Very Merry Xmas and a prosperous New Year.

DUNN EXPERIENCED RAILROAD MAN

The recent promotion of Paul C. Dunn of Winchester to the position of assistant general mechanical superintendent of the Boston and Maine Railroad places an experienced railroad man in this important position.

Starting his railroad career in 1932 as a special apprentice in the Billerica shops, Mr. Dunn was later made traveling mechanical inspector.

In 1940 he attended M. I. T., receiving his master's degree in business and engineering administration, after which he returned to the Boston and Maine as enginehouse foreman in Dover, N. H., and later was named general foreman at the road's shops in East Deerfield. He was appointed manager of the road's suggestion system in 1942 and later was made superintendent of locomotive maintenance, the position he has held until his promotion to assistant general mechanical superintendent.

Mr. Dunn is a graduate of Dartmouth College and in 1944 donated an army captain's uniform and reported to Fort Slocum, New York, for duty with the 752nd Railway Operating Battalion.

He is married and resides with his wife and family at 3 Grove street in Winchester.

W. D. N. A.

The December meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held December 13 in the Edgar Rich room of the Public Library.

Mrs. Rowland Patrick, president, presided and reported that she had recently attended a meeting of the annual convention of the Massachusetts League for Nursing at the Hotel Somerset.

Reports by Mrs. Bradford Bentley, recording secretary pro tem, and Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, treasurer, were read and accepted.

Mrs. Allen Bryson then read a letter from Mrs. Mildred Symmes, a W.D.N.A. staff member, expressing her deep satisfaction at having attended, in New York, a recent regional conference on Public Health nursing.

She was accompanied to these meetings by Mrs. Wiklund, W.D.N.A. executive director, and Mrs. Thomas L. Purtle, a member of the board of the W.D.N.A. They all felt that these conferences, which covered a wide scope of Public Health nursing problems, were most worthwhile.

Mrs. Wiklund then presented the monthly nursing report. She related that although there had been fewer calls made than is usual during the month, the total calls for the year were still 200 over average.

There had been 150 hours of school nursing done, and the vision and hearing of patients were nearing completion. Mrs. Wiklund spoke of going to an Institute on Tuberculosis and Alcoholism, held at the Middlesex County Sanatorium and sponsored by the Christmas Seal Society of the Middlesex Health Association. It was attended by a wide variety of doctors, including psychiatrists, social workers and Public Health workers.

Mrs. John Harrison, co-chairman of the Education Committee, announced that the annual evening January meeting would take place at the Mystic school at a date to be decided. A discussion followed concerning the choice of speaker for this meeting.

A year's report of the Public Relations Committee, prepared by Mrs. George Marks was read. Mrs. Paul Forester, chairman of the Nominating Committee, then presented a list of officers for 1958 and a partial list of Association Members.

The president spoke with regret of the members of the board who will retire after January. Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, Mrs. Allen W. Bryson, Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, and Mrs. George B. Redding and thanked them for their loyalty and good work.

Mrs. Rolf Eliassen, co-chairman of the education committee, then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Harry Gilson, an Association member of the W.D.N.A., who spoke in the capacity as consultant for the National Association of Crippled Children and Adults.

Her subject was "The Philosophies and Services of the Easter Seal Society." She told of the gradual awareness of the public of their responsibility towards the physically handicapped, which resulted in the establishment of schools for the blind and deaf and mentally retarded in the mid 1800's.

There were many significant forward moves made in the care of this group following World Wars I and II. Today the U. S. Civil Service Commission, by use of publicity, is trying to show industry that "It's Good Business To Hire The Handicapped" by revealing statistics which prove that there are less accidents and less absenteeism in this group than in others.

The Easter Seal Society maintains 1100 centers in the U. S., which yearly treat 145,000 children and adults of all races, colors and creeds on a national program of research and education of personnel, parents and the public.

In Boston the Easter Seal Society maintains the Bay State Medical Rehabilitation Center which has a placement Bureau for the physically handicapped, whose slogan is "J.O.B." or "Just One Break." There are centers also in Worcester and Springfield.

Mrs. Gilson terminated her talk by saying that everyone can help in this worthwhile endeavor; by prevention of accidents through education, by trying to interest our young people in choosing professions, such as physical or occupational therapy and social service work, the rewards of which are most satisfying, and by a growing understanding of the handicapped person.

The meeting was adjourned by the president at 11:30 a. m.

TOWN MEETING QUESTIONNAIRES INTERESTING

The committee studying the streamlining of Winchester's limited town meeting sessions recently sent to all town meeting members questionnaires seeking their opinion on some means of shortening meetings under discussion by the committee since its inception. The replies have been tabulated and the results are quite interesting.

On only one question was there unanimity of opinion. That was on the question of starting meetings at exactly the hour appointed. All who answered favored such starting.

By a majority of 69 to 18 those answering questionnaires favored opening the meeting with prayer. Eighty-five favored the 10-minute recess with 10 opposing. A signal to warn of the approaching end of a recess was also favored, 85-9.

The vote on whether precinct meetings are a satisfactory means of acquainting town meeting members with the business to be taken up at the town meeting was close, 50 thinking so, and 45 disagreeing.

Those sending in questionnaires were about evenly divided on the proposal to have an advance hearing on the budget, 37 opposing such a hearing and 36 feeling it would be advantageous.

Forty-seven favored a series of advance hearings by town departments and committees with 31 opposing such hearings. By 47 to 41 the questionnaires favored the administration of an oath of office to town meeting members.

Saturday sessions of the town meeting were rejected, 56 to 37, and a big majority, 79-16, favored some signaling a speaker when his time is about to expire.

Concerning the privileges of town meeting members and non-town meeting members, 56 opposed the granting of equal speaking time to non-members with 38 in favor. Fifty-nine favored different lengths of time for chairmen of boards and committees, town meeting members and non-members.

By 52-42 the questionnaires opposed the confining of the right to interrogate officers of the town to town meeting members. Sixty-two felt that debate and rebuttal at town meetings should be limited to town meeting members, with non-members being limited to expressions of opinion. Thirty-two opposed this limiting of non-members.

On the question of whether non-members should be limited to one expression of opinion on any one article or item in the budget, 59 favored such restriction with 36 opposed.

HEADS COPLE SOCIETY

Lee W. Court of Canton, a former Winchester boy, now widely known in art and advertising circles, was elected president of the Copley Society of Boston at the recent annual meeting.

Mr. Court is a craft and council member of the Society of Arts and Crafts, chairman of the advisory committee of the Massachusetts School of Arts and consultant for the United States in directing international exhibits.

MISS CHARLOTTE MASON GREER
MISS GREER,
MR. CARLISLE ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Don Swint Greer of Winchester announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Charlotte Mason to Mr. Stuart Parker Carlisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Carlisle, Jr., also of Winchester.

Miss Greer, who is a graduate of Dana Hall School, attended Albion College for two years and is now a senior at Garland Junior College.

Mr. Carlisle is attending Boston University, following three years with the U. S. Army in Alaska.

A family wedding at the home of the bride's parents is planned for Christmas Eve.

D. A. R.

The Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R., met on Monday, December 16, at the home of Mrs. Charles Vanner, 10 Oxford street, which was gallantly decorated with a variety of Christmas wreaths and flowers.

In the absence of the regent, Mrs. Hiram Moody, Mrs. Marshall Symmes, vice-regent, presided at the business meeting.

A delightful program appropriate for the season was presented by Margaret Carver's "Choralettes," consisting of Jane Foster of Framingham, contralto, Suzanne Smith of Framingham, soprano, Margaret Carver of Brockton, mezzo-soprano, and Dorothy Eklund of Natick, accompanist. They were attractively dressed in green velvet. Selections from "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," "Pale Star," an English carol, "Carol of the Bells," which was the Ukrainian carol, "Winter Wonderland," and others were given by the group.

A most attractive tea was served by Mrs. John Wills and her committee.

Hurricanes contain many times the energy of a tornado, according to aerologists with the Navy's Hurricane Hunters. In fact, hurricanes have been known to contain tornadoes and water spouts in the outer edges of their structure.

WILLIAM B. WOOD

William B. Wood of 61 Church street, long time and widely known resident of Winchester, died Tuesday night, December 17, after a three months illness.

Mr. Wood was the son of Daniel W. and Sarah (Cameron) Wood. He was born September 18, 1874, in Fitchburg, and was for 40 years associated as salesman with the Boston office of the Underhay Oil Co. When Underhay consolidated with the Standard Oil Company of New York he continued with the new firm until he retired 18 years ago.

Mr. Wood came to Winchester in 1916, living first on Highland avenue, and in recent years at 61 Church street. His genial personality and willingness to be of service made him many friends among residents of all ages.

He was a member of the Winchester Unitarian Church, and especially active in the Men's Club of the church. He was also a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, past patron of Winchester Chapter, O.E.S.; and actively identified with De Molay. He was Dad Emeritus of Winchester Assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls, being one of the founders of Rainbow in the east 35 years ago.

On May 22, 1895, in Cambridge, Mr. Wood married Sara Wilson, who survives, with two daughters, Alma W. Nutter of Winchester and Doris C. Lloyd of Greenwood; three sons, William R. Wood of Tacoma, Washington; L. Allan Wood of Winterport, Me.; and Herbert L. Wood of Winchester; also nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church, with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

OUR TIFFANY WINDOWS

Editor of the Star:

The trustees are to be congratulated on the improved appearance and usefulness of our Public Library. Your editorial of last week gave recognition of their restoration to the public of their Tiffany Windows. Next to the Parkhurst War Memorial they probably have a higher value as works of art than any other item owned by the town, yet remained concealed from the public by wall-board in all recent years.

For a better understanding of the value of these windows and what they represent, reference is suggested to the item on Louis Comfort Tiffany in any good encyclopedia and a leaflet available to all at the library desk giving a full description of these windows taken from the Winchester Star of November 17, 1894 and reprinted in the Star for April 28, 1950, and December 13, 1957.

Friends of the library who have been in the building in the last two weeks should drop in on a sunny afternoon to appreciate and enjoy the improvement that has been accomplished.

FRESHMEN HOCKEY NOTES

The freshman hockey team has played two games, both close ones, on their league schedule for the season. The first game, with Walpole, ended in a 1-1 tie. Jon Smith scored the only Winchester tally.

Last Saturday at the Boston Arena, the freshmen beat Stoneham 1-0. Again Jon Smith sank the lone Winchester score. In the first ten seconds of play he received a quick pass in front of the Stoneham cage from Paul Johnson and popped it in just in the nick of time. From then on, the game was a standoff for both sides.

Coach Chadwick is pleased with his new squad and reports they have excellent spirit, splendid ability to carry the puck into enemy territory and a willingness to subordinate individual play for the good of the team. Work in getting the members of the squad fully coordinated, especially the defense, remains to be done.

After the Stoneham game, Paul Johnson was elected captain for the season.

The game with Malden Catholic on December 28 has been advanced from 11:30 to 10:30 a.m. The freshmen will play Belmont Hill School at Lynn January 4 at 11:45 a.m.

J. V.'S TOPPLE WOBURN

Taking a 22-5 lead in the first period, the Winchester Jay Vees stopped Woburn's five by a score of 65-51. In the second period Woburn hit for 23 points while Winchester could only get 6. However, in the last half it was Winchester all the way, as they outscored Woburn 27 to 23 behind a 12 point output by Bob Freeman.

Scoring honors were taken by Vandy French and Bob Freeman with 16 and 15 points respectively, and Ned Bolster of Woburn with 14 points.

Notes:

Damage to the building which is owned by Mr. John Holt of Wayland was estimated to be between $15,000 and $20,000. Damaged extensively, Ward's Market which was pretty well gutted had to dispose of all of their stock. An inspector from the Mass. Department of Public Health working with the Winchester Board of Health inspected the store and supervised the removal of all damaged merchandise.

Water which poured into the basements of the three stores was responsible for damage to some summer stock stored in the basement of the Winchester Appliance Company and also to stock stored in the basement of Tilley's. Other damage to these stores was caused by smoke which permeated all three buildings and was also reported at Ronell's. Tilley's has been having a sale all week to dispose of its merchandise.

Ward's Market is temporarily out of business but is filling certain meat and Christmas turkey orders through the Winchester Fruit Company. This service is made possible due to the generosity of the Winchester Provision Company which, along with Renton's, has offered the Market any help they can give. Mr. Stanley Lavender, and Mr. George Clark, owners of the Market, both remarked how grateful they were for all the help and kind words from the townspeople.

Construction is already underway on the building, the hole in the roof has been secured against the weather and interior construction will begin immediately. The

Two Alarm Fire Damages
Two Stores On Thompson Street

Winchester's business center suffered damage Saturday night when a two-alarm fire broke out in the 15-17 Thompson street business block. Discovered by Police Officer David Greel, the first box number 23, was turned in at 9:50. The second alarm was sounded at 10:05.

Local firefighters responded to the call and found the rear of Ward's Market enveloped in flames. When Chief James E. Callahan ordered the second alarm all apparatus and all men both on and off duty who heard the call came to the scene. Woburn answered the second alarm and sent its Engine 1 to the scene.

Arlington and sent detachments to cover in at the Winchester station. Arlington's ladder and engine company responded at 10:12 and Stoneham sent an engine company at 10:25.

It is believed that the fire started at the rear of Ward's Market and spread to Tilley's, the adjacent store. Chief Callahan and his firefighters were able to bring the fire under control before much damage was done to Tilley's.

While fighting the fire in Tilley's, Firefighter James Haggerty was overcome by smoke and was rushed to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance. He was treated with oxygen on the way to the hospital and was treated by Dr. Roney upon arrival. Firefighter Haggerty was released from the hospital on Sunday morning and reported back to work later that day.

The probable cause of the fire was believed to have been wiring which was either defective or overloaded. The cable which is blamed for the blaze was located at the back of the inside of Ward's Market and the outer brick wall of the building was credited with stopping the spread of the flames. Chief Callahan and Lt. Edulis Burke of the State Fire Marshal's Office investigated the site on Monday morning.

Damage to the building which is owned by Mr. John Holt of Wayland was estimated to be between $15,000 and $20,000. Damaged extensively, Ward's Market which was pretty well gutted had to dispose of all of their stock. An inspector from the Mass. Department of Public Health working with the Winchester Board of Health inspected the store and supervised the removal of all damaged merchandise.

Christmastime!—The spicy smell of evergreen branches, candle-light playing on shiny holly leaves and berries, the striking red of poinsettias, gaily decorated Christmas trees, the hum of happy voices, the breathless expectancy of younger children!

Christmastime!—Thronged churches, familiar carols floating down from the choir stalls, pealing organs, the joyous Christmas message, the simple beauty of "Silent Night!"

All this is Christmas, undimmed by the ages. The angels' song of "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men" means just as much as, or more than it did when it was heard by the shepherds of Bethlehem 1900 years ago.

Christmas to many means the exchange of gifts, and there is tradition in this custom, too, for the Magi brought the riches of the ancient world to lay at the feet of the Christ Child in the manger. It isn't, however, necessary to give gifts to honor the Birthday of the King of Kings. The old hymn, "Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning," tells us that in place of gifts, "Richer by far is the heart's adoration; dearer to God are the prayers of the poor."

Many cannot give presents at Christmas. For many, also, Christmas cannot be a merry time. For them there is the deeper significance of the Christmas of the spirit, better perhaps than all the gift giving and celebrating possible.

The love of one's fellow man, the warm greeting of a friend, the little service only you can give—they, too, can be Christmas, and a very rich Christmas, too, full of personal satisfaction that only the giving of oneself can bring. This weary world of ours, torn by dissension and caught up in a mad struggle for survival would be so much better off to follow the simple precepts of the Babe of Bethlehem. Love of God and our neighbor is still the lodestone of all civilization, still the real hope for the future.

Sometimes it takes a disaster to let a chap know how many friends he has. Last Saturday night's fire in the block on Thompson street is a case in point. Though Tilley's women's wear shop and the Winchester Appliance both sustained damage from smoke and water, it was Ward's Market that bore the brunt of the fire and was most badly damaged.

Chatting with one of the owners, George Clark, the Star learned that two of the markets in the center, Renton's and Winchester Provision, had offered him their facilities to use as he wished and any other help possible. Customers and non-customers had dropped in to express sympathy and to learn Ward's future plans. Mr. Clark and Stanley Lavender, his associate, and the staff of Ward's were greatly heartened by the kindness shown them.

We remember Jack Chitel had the same story to tell, as did Judy's Hairstyles, when fire damaged their quarters in Lyceum Building a few years ago. There are some good fellows in business in the center, and by and large Winchester people rally around a townsman in trouble. It is a nice thing to know about a town.

It is also nice to hear Al Korn of the Winchester Appliance praise the skill of the Winchester firemen and the care they took to prevent undue damage to his stocks. It is reassuring to know in the event of fire striking, as it may at any time for many reasons, that we have available the best possible fire protection.

The Park Department has been encouraged by the way the first flooding of the new skating rink on Shore road held up, and Supt. Mullen believes with colder weather a good sheet of ice can be had there.

The ice, however, will never be good, or indeed safe for skating if big rocks, sticks and other debris are going to be thrown on it before, or as soon as it forms.

It is hard to understand why anyone would try to spoil the ice of a public skating rink, but the authorities encountered such mischief in its attempts to flood the tennis courts on Manchester Field; and now the same sort of thing is taking place at Shore road. Continued interference can easily result in the Park Department giving up the project. That would be a pity.

It is likely that the discussion of the proposal to streamline our limited town meeting will not help much in that direction at the coming meeting in March.

The committee appointed to consider ways to shorten the number of sessions necessary to complete the annual warrant, has had a number of suggestions of considerable interest (they are listed elsewhere in this issue) and its final report is quite likely to be provocative.

There has been, for instance, no unanimity of opinion that non-town meeting members should be limited in their participation in meetings, though the majority of those expressing opinions favor such limitation.

Some feel that department and committee heads could be much briefer in their explanations, and most people favor a strict enforcement of the time limit for all speakers.

Opinion seems about evenly divided on the value of precinct meetings in advance of town meetings, and in this connection one suggestion was that these meetings should be strictly limited to explanations of warrant articles and a summary of the pros and cons concerning them. There should be no debate at precinct meetings.

Another interesting suggestion is that no article should be taken up out of order unless notification of a request for such action is made to the moderator and announced at the beginning of the meeting at which such an article is expected to come up.

Most of those who have expressed opinions to the town meeting committee feel that the best way to shorten town meeting sessions and the overall meeting is better understanding of the articles in the warrant by the town meeting members. Several ways in which such information can be made available have been suggested.

A substantial majority of those consulted by the committee have not favored Saturday sessions.

The Star feels that one way to keep meetings from dragging is to permit reconsideration of articles passed at preceding sessions only if a two-thirds majority of members feel that a wrong decision has been made.

Reconsideration because someone interested in the article, or his representative, failed to be present when the article was discussed is not in our opinion sufficient grounds for tiresome repetition of arguments that have already been made, and acted upon.

ANTIQUE STUDY GROUP MEETING

The Antique Study Group held its December meeting in the Rich Room of the Winchester Library on Tuesday evening, December 17, Mr. Clarence Blake presiding.

The members brought in samples of their collections for exhibition and discussion. One member showed part of her collection of goblets and a varied assortment of rose jars, another of her collecting hobbies. Another member brought in a room from her doll's house—a living room centered on a fireplace with its accessories and featuring a tiny Christmas tree with presents. Other things on display were English cutglass, bead bags, a wooden scoop, a Liverpool cup and saucer with transfer decoration of Mount Vernon, books on antiques, and a unique setting hen of large size with a black porcelain top.

The most comprehensive collection to be seen was of cup plates—opal, opalescent, colored, and plain—many of Sandwich manufacture, others of Western origin. Typical patterns shown were the hairpin, the Harrison log cabin with its barrel of cider, the "Cadmus," the eagle, the heart, and the Bunker Hill Monument. The latter cup plate is commonly found in this region, it having been sold in the early nineteenth century by the women to raise money for the erection of the monument. Details of the manufacturing process were explained that made it clear why there are so many variants of one pattern.

Chemirac drawing and marking pens, 10 vivid colors, dries instantly—never fades, now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg.

BOOK WEEK AWARDS

As there were so many good book displays in our elementary schools from Grade One through Grade Six during National Book Week, we found it difficult to choose a single best exhibit.

Therefore, it was decided that awards of merit would be presented to those classrooms whose exhibits were praiseworthy and color pictures taken of them. These pictures will be shown this week in our elementary schools on the following dates:

December 17, Tuesday, Lincoln School; December 18, Wednesday, Mystic School; December 19, Thursday, Noonan School; December 20, Friday, Parkhurst School. Immediately after the Christmas vacation the pictures will be shown on the following dates:

January 2, Thursday, Washington School and on January 3, Friday, Wynsley School. We congratulate the boys and girls and their teachers who participated in our special Book Week plan for their splendid book displays.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY AT MYSTIC SCHOOL

"Christmas as a time for giving"—was the theme of the play which was presented by the boys and girls of Miss Millican's fifth grade at the Mystic School on Wednesday, December 18.

The play, entitled "The Secret of the Christmas Spirits" portrayed the typical hustle and bustle of families everywhere in getting ready for Christmas. The Howard family in particular was so wrapped up in its own preparations that they lost sight of the needy ones about them in town. The happy ending to the story is brought about by three mischievous "invisible" Christmas Spirits who teach the Howard family the true meaning of Christmas.

The characters are:
Mr. Howard: Robert Cummings
Mrs. Howard: Judith Caruci
Bill Howard: Donald Bates
Helen Howard: Susan Porter
Hannah, the maid: Sherry Jellison
Charlie Hall: Thomas Kelley
Dutch Jones: Douglas Carpenter
Jim Brown: Philip Mortensen

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS STOLEN

Three additional complaints of stolen Christmas lights were received at the police station on Wednesday and Thursday.

Two reports came from Wellington road. H. A. Hellman of 10 Wellington road reported the theft of 14 bulbs from a string of Christmas lights on his porch and Frank Shiverick of 5 Wellington road reported that he lost 12 lights from his home on Tuesday night.

Amadeo Pignone of 338 Highland avenue reported Thursday that between 11:30 Wednesday night and Thursday morning the flood light bulbs were taken from the shrine which is on his lawn. The four floodlights were a part of a Christmas display which lit the shrine.

Supermarkets add glamour
at home, serve as
U. S. ambassadors abroad

America's supermarkets are not only booming at home but acting as ambassadors abroad.

The United States, with the cooperation of the food-chain industry, has exhibited two fully stocked models of its self-service variety stores—one at Rome and the other at Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

Half a million Italians visited the first exhibit, set up in connection with an international congress on food distribution. Eyes popped at a display of 5,000 staple and luxury items, ranging from fresh, frozen, canned, and processed foods to housewares and cosmetics.

A similar show, marked at Zagreb's International Trade Fair drew more than a million Yugo-slavs in two weeks. Fascinated crowds watched American home economists demonstrating bread-cake, and soup mixes, prepared baby foods, instant coffee, and frozen "heat and eat" meals.

So alluring were the household hints, and the feminine demonstrator reported, that she received nine proposals of marriage.

The United States, with some 25-000 supermarkets, is by far the world's leader in the field, says the National Geographic Society.

SUPERMARKETS ADD GLAMOUR
AT HOME, SERVE AS
U. S. AMBASSADORS ABROADAMERICAN JETLINERS EXPECTED TO CARRY PASSENGERS
NEXT FALL

New Yorkers will soon be able to run out to California for lunch and be back home in time for dinner.

Fastest commercial flights across the continent now take eight to ten hours. Round trips in about the same time will be possible on American-built jet airplanes expected to start hauling passengers in the autumn of 1958, the National Geographic Society says.

Food chain experts trace the origine of this new countrywide self-service industry to Memphis, Tennessee. There, in 1913, an enterprising grocer redesigned his store so customers could help themselves.
In so doing, they passed through a turnstyle along aisles where tempting food displays of all kinds would catch the eye.

During the depression of the 1930's the help-yourself markets became popular as a means of cutting food-distribution costs. But the greatest expansion followed World War II, when population boomed and mushrooming suburban communities called for neighborhood shopping facilities.

Year by year, supermarkets have grown bigger, more luxurious, and more like the old "general store."

They came such related non-food items as soap, mops, and kitchen utensils; then drugs and cosmetics.
Today, some supers sell anything—from goldfish, toys, and clothing to TV set, power lawnmowers, and even airplanes and fishing licenses.

Supermarkets have changed in form too. Architects have turned from early designs to straight lines and cold white-enamel purity to spectacular stock displays, colorsplashed walls, balloon and streamer decor.

The stores' customers with soft lights and music, gardens, huge parking lots, nurseries, lunch counters, and mechanical parcel-pickups. When Britain's Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip recently visited Maryland's supermarket, the Queen remarked to a young mother rolling her baby in a shopping-cart perch that it was nice to be able to bring the children along.

Outside the United States there are some 10,000 self-service food stores scattered in 40-odd countries.
No more than 100 perhaps are supermarkets, as Americans and Canadians know them.

Cities that have taken to the giant "one-stop" markets include Mexico City, Cologne, Zurich, Melbourne, Rio de Janeiro, and Lima.

A big super has even opened its business in Rome as a result of the American exhibit there. In Moscow, the Russian government, which operates all retail outlets, was reported to have opened its first self-service Gastronom.

An esoteric Chinese supermarket flourishes in New York City. It offers shoppers, among other things, tiger balm, dried lotus roots, and Refined Shark Fin.

Four decades ago, a brilliant American physicist envisioned sending a rocket to the moon.

No one took Dr. Robert H. Goddard seriously. Yet the New England professor was not indulging in Jules Verne fantasy. His was a coldly scientific view of the future, seen through his own trail-blazing research in rocket propulsion.

Today the late Dr. Goddard is recognized as a grandfather of space travel. In Europe as well as the United States his pioneer experiments in the 1920's and 1930's are credited with having opened the way to development of rockets capable of launching artificial satellites.

A historic Goddard rocket wobbled skyward in 1926 from a farm near Auburn, Massachusetts, the National Geographic Society recalls. The flimsy-looking, skeletal device rose only 41 feet, but its flight was the beginning of a new era in rocketry.

In its design Dr. Goddard had broken away from the limitations of solid fuel, then available, and invented a successful liquid-fuel rocket with the potential of powerful jet thrusts.

His theory of fuels proved sound.
The Germans used many of his conclusions in developing World War
II's long-range V-2.

Dr. Goddard produced the first veto-stabilized rocket. In 1935 one of his rockets rose 7,500 feet above
New Mexico. Still another reached the then incredible speed of 700
miles an hour.

One Goddard invention, a recoilless rocket launcher, which the American military ignored in 1918, turned out to be the famed bazooka of World War II. In all, he held some 214 patents.

Curiously, Dr. Goddard's work got little attention in his own country until shortly before the war. He served in wartime at the Navy research laboratories in Annapolis, helping develop jet-assisted take-offs for aircraft. He died at Baltimore in 1945.

Like many pioneers, Dr. Goddard walked a long road, often ignored, often looking for financial aid to continue his work. He was born in Worcester, Massachusetts. He spent much of his professional life there, first as an instructor at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, then as physics professor at Clark University. Local alarm at his experiments finally drove him to the wastes of New Mexico—not far from today's White Sands Proving Grounds.

Exploration of the Atmosphere
Dr. Goddard was chiefly interested in finding a way to explore the upper atmosphere. In a letter to the National Geographic Society in 1916, he wrote of the "vast amount of information that is to be gained by the sending of apparatus into the region that lies above 100 or 200 miles from the surface of the earth."

Merry Christmas To All

JUNIOR HIGH FELLOWSHIP

The Junior High of the First Congregational Church and their parents met last Sunday afternoon in Ripley Chapel for a Candlelight Service with the theme "God Does Care For All of Us," which focused upon the universality of the Christmas message including all races, countries, and all types of suffering and good life.

Participants were: Carol Arian, Tom Bell, Judy Blake, Stuart Bowers, Frank Curtis, Anne Gregory, Charles Irwin, Margo Harmon, Richard Lindsey, Joanne McClenahan, Bill McConnell, Janet Niles. Soloists were: Gwen Eugley, Paul Johnian and Joe Kingston. The organist was Donald Crede from the Forum. The proceeds from the offering will go toward Christian youth work in Japan.

After the service 130 parents and Junior Highs enjoyed a Sukiyaki dinner in Chidley Hall which was followed by a talk for the parents by Miss Reich and for the Junior Highs a filmstrip and discussion of "Kimoko of Japan."

Cooks and hostesses for the well liked dinner were: Mrs. Gordon S. Bird, Mrs. Ray Brown, Mrs. Robert L. Clifford, Mrs. Raymond J. Carter, Mrs. Jenness Eugley, Mrs. Robert H. Gregory, Mrs. Roger Griffin, Mrs. Clifford Hammel, Mrs. Thomas Kell, Mrs. Robert Lowry, Mrs. Harold J. McKinley, Mrs. Edwin Nelson.

Final nominations for the Junior High Fellowship were announced: Frank Curtis, president; Dianne Watson, vice president; Richard Lindsey, secretary; Janet Millican, treasurer. We look forward to working happily and faithfully together.

"THE WREATH"

A Christmas family experience will be observed in the Winchester Unitarian Church on Tuesday afternoon, December 24, at 5 o'clock. An original pageant, "The Wreath," will be directed by Paul-ett Long Taggart. The children of the primary grade will represent children from around the world who are visiting an American church school to participate in a carol singing ceremony by the Junior Choir. Mr. George A. Blair, Jr., is director of the Junior Choir.

Mrs. Mary Ranton Witham will play the music for the service and Mrs. Ralph Lasselle and Rev. Robert A. Storer will enact the parts of the teacher and minister respectively. The offering will be devoted to the non-sectarian work of the Unitarian Service Committee. Parents and small children are cordially invited.

At the conclusion of the pageant, decorated candles will be given to all children. These are to be lighted at the family table on Christmas Day. The children have learned a special prayer to be said during the ceremony.

The Motion Choir, with Mrs. Erwin Renz, Jr., leader, will present an original nativity scene using forms of the sacred dance, at the conclusion of the family service on Sunday morning, December 22.

CHRISTMAS STORY HOUR

On Saturday afternoon, December 21, at 3 o'clock, there will be a Christmas story hour for children at the Winchester Library. Miss Russell, children's librarian, will have a group of Christmas stories all youngsters will enjoy. Because of limited facilities, tickets must be obtained in advance from the boys' and girls' room.

The library is pleased to have on display in the gallery reading room an unusual exhibit called "Rachel's Rocks and Minerals." Rachel is well known to many Winchester townspeople as an enthusiastic collector of geological specimens. Why not stop by the library and see the interesting and colorful exhibit.

And Once Again Christmas... Once again... Christmas... Cold without and warmth within. Glowing hearthstone fires. Stars in the eyes of children. Fragrant evergreen. Candlelight and vested choirs. Songs of Bethlehem... And for me, let there be bells Echoing from frosty spires.

Gertrude Olson The staff of the Winchester Public Library wishes you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Big memorial Manchester Field boulder leaves its old position at the entrance to old Manchester Field, opposite the post office, for its new position on the new Manchester Field just inside the gate leading to the school parking lot. Forrest C. Manchester, in whose honor the boulder was erected, led the movement to transform the old tanneries and railroad yard into the original Manchester Field, lying to the west of the present field.

CHRISTMAS AT METHODIST CHURCH

There will be one service held this Sunday morning at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The hour is eleven o'clock. A special program is being arranged for the 9:30 Sunday School hour. Those attending at this time are invited to attend the morning service with their parents as the church commemorates the anniversary of the birth of Christ.

Climaxing the Christmas activities in traditional fashion, a service of Candle Lighting will be held Christmas Eve at eleven o'clock.

Invitations have been extended to the First Baptist Church and the Second Congregational Church.

The Reverend Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be bringing the meditation and The Reverend Norman Smith, pastor of the Second Congregational Church will be sharing in the worship service along with The Reverend John Snook, Jr.

At midnight, candle lighting by individuals will take place and in a circle of Christian fellowship around the sanctuary the climax will come with the singing of "Silent Night, Holy Night."

On New Year's Eve from 11:30 until 12:00 o'clock the pastor of the church cordially invites members and friends of the church and community to fellowship with him in a period of meditation and communion. The doors of the church will be open to the public and special meditations are being prepared.

Other Christmas activities are given in the church notices of the Star.

"THE TEN COMMANDMENTS"

Cecil B. DeMille's Production "The Ten Commandments," the mammoth dramatization of the life of Moses, will open Christmas Day at the Medford Theatre.

Cast with over 25,000 players, the VistaVision, Technicolor colossus stars Charlton Heston, Yul Brynner, Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget and John Derek. Starring also are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price in key roles, with a large and distinguished supporting cast of top-liners.

Filmed in part in Egypt on the shores of the Red Sea, in the Sinai deserts and on the slopes of Mount Sinai, ten years in the making, the three-hour, thirty-nine-minute Paramount film backgrounds the story of Exodus with spectacle of a dimension that is history-making in its scope.

MRS. MARY CHAMPION

Mrs. Mary Champion of Melrose, wife of Lemuel Champion and sister of Martin J. Foley of Englewood road, died suddenly Sunday, December 8, following a heart attack.

A native of Woburn, Mrs. Champion had lived her married life in Melrose, where her son, Harold, is a member of the Fire Department. Besides her husband and son, and her brother in Winchester, she leaves three grandchildren and two sisters in Woburn, Mrs. Margaret O'Hearn and Miss Bessie Foley.

The funeral will be held Wednesday, December 11, with requiem high mass at St. Mary's Church in Melrose. Burial was in Pine Banks Cemetery there.

Two local mothers, Mrs. Dorothy Schacht and Mrs. Jewell Collins, with their children attended the Christmas Kiddie Party for children of Fisher Junior College alumnae held Saturday at the college on Beacon street, Boston.

TUESDAY GROUP

On December 10 the Tuesday Group of the Parish of the Epiphany met at the home of Mrs. William Townner on Wildwood street to hear an inspirational talk by Mrs. William Austill of Wellesley.

Mrs. Austill, former Director of Religious Education at Epiphany, spoke on "Christmas Symbols of Many Lands." Her hobby for several years has been the interesting one of tracing the age-old customs associated with Christmas throughout the world. The large group that attended the meeting came away with renewed faith in the essential meaning of this season.

Group singing of carols, with Mrs. Walter Hutchinson at the piano, followed the speaker, after which everyone enjoyed the delicious and festive tea served by Mrs. Walter Watson and her committee.

Mrs. Townner's home was a perfect setting for the occasion for it had been charmingly decorated in keeping with Christmas and revealed many beautiful and original ideas of the hostess.

NEW ROBES

The Senior Choir of the Second Congregational Church, under the direction of Mrs. Lovine Friend, organist and director, have purchased new maroon robes with white collars, to be worn on Christmas Sunday. These replace the traditional black robes. Purchase of these beautiful robes, which make an addition to the dignity of the service, was made possible by the efforts of the chairman of the music committee, Mrs. Richard Brownell. Also, individual contributions were received. Choice of color was in keeping with other appointments in the sanctuary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. McLean of Harwich, Mass., formerly residents of Winchester left Saturday to spend the winter in Florida.

THE SENIOR FORUM

Alumni of the Senior Forum will hold their annual Christmas "get-together" this Sunday evening at 7:00 p. m. in Ripley Chapel and the Tucker Room of the First Congregational Church. Nils Nelson will be the former Forum President in charge of the brief devotional services in the chapel. He will be assisted by Ozzie Osborne and Bill Mason, the two Forum presidents who succeeded him.

This annual event brings out many young people who are home from college and others in town who have been interested in Forum through the years. The coffee hour following the chapel service will be in charge of Ann Neville and Larry Longworth, co-chairmen of the alumni committee. All Forumites are welcome to attend.

The big social event of the season will be the Christmas formal to be held in Chidley Hall this Saturday evening, from 8:30 to 11:30. Arrangements have been made for a colorful and pleasant evening with Christmas decorations, refreshments, and dancing.

Dave Schumacher and Phyllis Rutter are co-chairmen of the event. Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. John Monro.

Forum will go carolling Christmas Eve, beginning at 7:00 p. m. Buses will leave the church at 7:00 p. m. to take groups around town to sing at the homes of older and shut-in members of the parish. Later in the evening the group will gather for refreshments and to attend the midnight service at the church where the Forum Choir will sing.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY EXPLORES GARDENS OF AMERICA

The National Geographic Society, long accustomed to reporting on distant jungles and deserts, has just completed an expedition through the gardens of America. The explorers came back with trophies of many origins: an exotic flower from Africa (the gladioli); plants eaten by the ancient Romans (broccoli); a luscious fruit from the Caucasus (the apple); and a strange tuber from South America (the "Irish" potato).

The report on this backyard safari is a book called "The World in Your Garden," published today (November 25). It gives the history of familiar flowers, fruits, and vegetables, with paintings that show plants in their far-flung native settings.

The book tells about explorer David Livingstone's finding of the watermelon's birthplace in Africa; frenzied tulip growers bidding up to $10,000 a bulb during Holland's "tulipomania"; black-eyed peas traveling with slave traders; and the grapefruit's discovery by a scout two centuries ago. It is a scant two centuries ago, it says, that eggplant was once prized as a love potion and asparagus as toothache medicine.

"The World in Your Garden" sums up the significance of plant culture in man's life—from Stone Age harvests and the spice quests of early explorers to the research of modern laboratories using atomic materials to trace growth processes.

The reader may find many surprises. A popular seedless grape sprang from a plant that sprouted a thousand years ago. Botanists have imported wasps to make fig trees bear fruit. Ancient Chinese gardeners warned growers not to plant peach trees near a lady's boudoir, because pink peach blossoms were associated with promiscuity.

Everyone is familiar with the mutiny on H.M.S. Bounty, but many forget that Captain Bligh's mission was to bring breadfruit from Tahiti to the West Indies. Such transportation of plants from country to country—Columbus brought to America the orange, the lemon, wheat, barley, and sugar cane—has made possible the enormous variety of foods enjoyed today.

A meal in medieval Europe lacked many foods now considered essential. Not even a king could get potatoes, lima beans, tomatoes, squash, or corn on the cob. Nor did he have any bananas or pineapples, or tea, coffee or chocolate.

To vary diet, medieval gourmets ate flowers. Knights seasoned their venison with marigold; relished primrose stew; and ate "sallets" of wild onions and violets. "The World in Your Garden" presents archaic recipes all safe, if anyone wants to try them for such quaint dishes as "primrose-leaves in March with eggs," "cowslip pudding" and a Roman "rose pie" dish, taken from what may be the oldest surviving cookbook.

The Society's new book also has a special section on the history and symbolism of flower arranging, with full-page drawings of original floral creations. The authors—plant explorer W. H. Camp and horticulturists Victor

R. Boswell and J. R. Magness, of the United States Department of agriculture—report that the overwhelming majority of plants in an average American garden originated in foreign lands. The authors also wrestle with such perennial questions as whether the tomato is a fruit or a vegetable (botanically a fruit, legally a vegetable) and when a wild flower becomes a weed. Elise Bostelmann, who prepared the paintings for the book, depicts several American weeds that later made good as flowers. The long-scorched native asters, for example, made a sensation abroad and came home in triumph to America with their name changed to Michaelmas daisies.

Botanists now are remodeling plants, virtually to the housewife's order. Onions that won't cause tears, p y g m y watermelons, stungless celery, and peaches that won't turn brown after slicing, are in the offing.

"The plant breeder is now truly an inventor," writes Dr. Melville Bell Grosvenor, President and Editor of the National Geographic Society, in an introductory section. "He can patent certain discoveries of early explorers to the research of modern laboratories using atomic materials to trace growth processes."

Town-Wide Meeting

To Discuss School Building Program

At 8 p.m., Wednesday, January 22, there will be an open meeting at the senior high school to discuss the school building program. Members of each town committee concerned have been invited to send one representative to form a panel, so that all points of view can be aired.

There will be a discussion period following the short talks by panel members, during which the audience may submit written questions. These will be collected and sorted by a committee to prevent duplication and to direct each question to the proper panel member. Some time before January 22, it is planned to announce a post office box number to which suggestions and questions can be addressed, to help the panel in planning the presentation of its material.

The Community School Association is presenting this evening of discussion in response to many requests for information on the school building situation. The invitation to attend is extended to every resident of Winchester, whether a parent of school children or not.

Fred G. Gillespie of 83 Main street, died suddenly at the Winchester Hospital on Monday afternoon, December 23, the result of a cerebral thrombosis.

Mr. Gillespie was the son of Mrs. Grace (Burns) and the late Fred C. Gillespie, former lawyer and lumber broker of the Winthrop schools and Canisius College in Buffalo. He spent all of his business life in the lumber business, and was for many years the expert salesman of the Atlantic Lumber Co. in Boston, traveling extensively throughout Europe for them.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Aline (Koeber) Gillespie, a daughter, Joan, a student at the Country Day School of the Sacred Heart in Newton; a son, Garrett, at Tufts Medical School; his mother, Mrs. Fred Gillespie of Brookline and St. Petersburg, Fla.; two brothers, Dr. Luke Gillespie of Brookline and Dr. John Gillespie of Amherst; also several sisters.

Mr. Gillespie came to Winchester six years ago. He was a late member of the New England Export Club, the Winthrop Golf Club, the Country Club, the Winthrop Yacht Club, the Cottage Park Yacht Club, Winthrop Lodge of Elks, and the Holy Name Society.

The funeral was held from the Maurice Kirby Funeral Home in Winthrop Thursday morning with a solemn high requiem mass at the Church of St. John the Evangelist in Winthrop. Burial was in Winthrop.

Report Of The Committee

To Study The Town Meeting

The special town meeting of June 1957 unanimously voted to establish a committee to study the town meeting and to make such recommendations as might seem appropriate toward an effort to improve the efficiency of the meetings and to shorten the time necessary to deliberate on matters pertaining to the business of the Town of Winchester.

It was voted that the committee should consist of the moderator, one member of the board of selectmen, one member of the finance committee, and four members appointed by the moderator. The committee held a series of meetings and consulted with the town counsel for legal advice. Inquiries were sent to all of the forty towns in the commonwealth having the representative form of town meeting. Thirty-five responded and these replies were tabulated and studied. The committee sent a questionnaire to all town meeting members and invited their comments and suggestions. The one hundred twenty-six responses contained many thoughtful and constructive expressions of views which have been most helpful.

On December 5, 1957, the committee held a public hearing in the town hall, and received from citizens who were present suggestions which have been carefully considered.

The program which this committee has directed to study seems to fall into these categories:

1. The length and number of sessions. (The annual town meeting in 1957 required eight sessions to complete action on seventy-three articles. None of the thirty-five towns which answered our inquiry held as many sessions. Their average was six sessions, and the number of articles dealt with comparable.)

2. The apparent lack of information on the part of many of the town meeting members and citizens concerning articles to be voted upon.

3. Overlong and repetitive speaking.

4. Parliamentary procedure and conduct of meetings.

Your committee believes that the annual town meeting can be shortened only if in fact there is a basic change in the way the meeting is conducted. We feel that too large a proportion of the debate at town meeting has not been to the point, and that the tendency toward unnecessary delay is increasing.

Without recommending any significant reduction of the right of any person to speak, we recommend a generally more rigorous approach to the conduct of the meeting.

We recommend a tightening of the mechanics of the conduct of these meetings.

First: We recommend the adoption of Roberts' Rules of Parliamentary Procedure in place of the Cushing Manual now used. Roberts' is much more widely used and its mechanics are more explicit, is more easily understood and has kept pace with developments in parliamentary procedure.

Second: We recommend a more definite approach toward punctuality. Each session ought to start on time and each recess ought to end at the termination of ten minutes.

Third: We recommend that the spokesman for committees and boards be limited to ten minutes speaking time when making their presentation, and that all others, whether town meeting members or not, be limited to five minutes speaking time.

We recognize that in extraordinary cases extensions may be voted. To enforce these time limits, we recommend the use of a mechanical device which will warn the speaker the meeting and the moderator when the limited time has been used up.

The committee will present special articles covering these recommendations for consideration at the next annual town meeting.

We believe that by a rigorous acceptance of the rules with respect to time limits for speaking and for relevancy wasted time will be cut to a minimum. If the town meeting members and the citizens of the town are willing to conduct the town meeting in a formal and businesslike manner, the moderator's gavel can and should be used more freely.

We feel that in recent years the general approach toward an expedient solution of the business of the town meeting has been considerably relaxed. Special articles and budget matters must be discussed concisely and carefully. The length and number of sessions required at the last annual town meeting prove that we can no longer afford leisurely and inefficient methods.

It is most important that town meeting members be informed and prepared in advance for the town meeting. We believe that by the adoption of certain changes, better and more extensive information may be made available before the formal town meeting.

Precinct meetings have served a valuable function, but we believe that the subject matter that has had to be considered at precinct meetings has become too much to handle at one meeting, consequently, we recommend that only special articles be discussed at the precinct meetings.

In addition, we recommend that the finance committee hold a general public meeting for town meeting members and others on all budget articles. The time spent at

MR. HIGBEE RETIRES

It should prove of interest to any of his former pupils living in Winchester or within reach of the Star that Thomas W. Higbee, who was director of Physical Education at Winchester High School in the early twenties retired last June after 34 years as director of health and physical education in the South Orange-Maplewood public school system.

Mr. Higbee was at high school while "Rufe" Bond was coaching there. He did a lot with calisthenics and tumbling at school and gave exhibitions of physical education and tumbling in the town hall, including mass calisthenics and drill. His team of tumblers, "A" Horn, Frank Tansey and "Al" Horn, were especially good in their individual tumbling act.

MacVANE — TAYLOR

Many messages from abroad and from far points in the United States extending best wishes were received by Miss Patricia Vieve Taylor and Mr. David Henry MacVane shortly before their marriage Saturday, December 21. Miss Taylor, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Henry Laskey Taylor of 15 Central street, and Mr. MacVane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rufus MacVane of Cliff Island and Portland, Maine, were married at 12 o'clock noon at the Church of the Epiphany.

Dr. John W. Ellison performed the private family ceremony. Pink and white snapdragons were the altar decoration, and Mr. Enos Held played the wedding music. A wedding breakfast followed in the church parish hall.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Taylor wore a street-length oyster white wool jersey dress with soft neckline draping. Her silvered nylon chiffon veil was caught to sparkling coronet of seed pearls and iridescents. Her mother and grandmother wore her gold heirloom necklace mounted with pearls at the time of their marriages. She carried a white orchid with streamers tipped with stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Miss Joan MacVane of Cliff Island and Portland, Maine, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. Eyelet embroidery encircled the skirt of her street-length pistachio green wool flannel dress. She wore a 28 inch black velvet and carried a colonial bouquet of pastel carnations.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, chose winter blue silk crepe trimmed with satin and a matching panne velvet picture hat for her costume. Her corsage was of pale coral glamelias. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. MacVane, wore an aquamarine knitted dress with a black velvet hat and an ivory orchid corsage.

Mr. Howard L. Libby, Jr., of Newport, R. I., uncle of Mr. MacVane, was his best man.

After a hunting trip in northern Maine, Mr. and Mrs. MacVane will live in Winchester temporarily.

Mrs. MacVane attended the Winchester and Syracuse, N. Y. schools. She is a technician in pathology research at Mallory Institute, Boston City Hospital. A member of the Maine Lobsterman's Association, Mr. MacVane attended the Cliff Island and Portland, Maine schools. He was in the U. S. Air Force for four years.

The marriage service was read at 8:30 by the rector of the church, Dr. John W. Ellison, and a reception followed at the Winchester Country Club.

Miss Pierce was given in marriage by her brother, Elisha George Pierce, 3rd, of Columbus, Ohio. She wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory satin, princess style, which was trimmed with pearls and had a full court train. Her full-length rosepoint lace veil was a family heirloom and she carried sprays of calla lilies.

Her grandmother is Mrs. Charles Pike Dowd of Lexington.

Mr. Meister prepared at the Belmont Hill School and is a student at Harvard University, where he is a member of the Owl Club, the Varsity Club, and the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770. After a wedding trip to Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Meister will live at 65 Sparks street, Cambridge.

Joan Segerstrom and Nancy Main opened the program with an outline of the background of Christmas observance. Stephen Kimball read from St. Luke, Chapter II as a narration for the tableau in which Marietta Barnes played the angel, Kathleen Kelly was Mary, David Hoffman depicted Joseph and Thomas Bolivar and Reed Koop represented the shepherds. The girls' glee club provided the music and was accompanied by Martha Ross and Rosalind Amico.

Mary Lou O'Donnell was the reader of a poem which introduced a violin solo, Ave Maria, played by Paul Johnian. This was followed by the Brass Quintet playing O Sanctissima, O Little Town of Bethlehem, and We Three Kings. Members of the quintet were Richard Hansen, Alta Merritt, Dean Erickson, Reed Lowry and Paul Wickwire. Once again the tableau was presented, this time with the boys' glee club providing the music with Robert Carroll as soloist. William Eddy was the speaker and Judith Towle the accompanist. The three kings were played by Frank Johnson, Malcolm Bennett and David Anderson.

The origin of Christmas carols was explained by Stephen Kimball and illustrated by the "Eighth Notes," fifteen eighth graders accompanied by Joyce Horvath. Their selections were O Come All Ye Faithful, Joy to the World, and Hark the Herald Angels Sing.

Next, Deborah Harrison reviewed the legend of Santa Claus and Susan Bryant coyly invited her audience to witness Santa Claus coming to town, a scene presented by the girls' glee club and dancers Elizabeth Folkers and Emily Langer. As The Night Before Christmas was sung, Robert Fontaine played Santa, Norah Dale danced, Joan Zrodowski and James Nolan were "Ma in her kerchief and Pa in his cap," and Leslie Shean was speaker for the scene.

As Mr. Dickman closed the program with a Merry Christmas to all, it was evident by his demeanor that he greatly appreciated the fine performance of every single participant. His thanks, and all those concerned, go to the Faculty Committee, Claire Fitzpatrick, Edna Hatch, Charlotte LeClaire, Eleanor A. Thistlethwaite, to Marie Dugan for helping with costumes, to Fred Murray for helping with the quintet, to the stage crew who were Robert Thompson, in charge, Richard Taney, a John Colander, Stephen Wardwell, William Gaffney, Mary Woodward, and certainly to the various churches of the town who generously lent costumes for the religious tableau.

Miss Jane D. Godwin, a senior at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, is at home for the Christmas vacation. She is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Lester R. Godwin of 7 Grassmere avenue.

S. O. I. BOWLING LEAGUE

One of the most spectacular finishes closed the first half of our bowling season. Holy Cross the dark horse which I predicted six weeks ago to watch nosed out Alabama in a photo finish. Tied for points she won on pinfalls which she had stored up as she was tearing down the stretch. Alabama had to settle for second place and Georgetown really poured it on as she was running over the opposition such as California and St. Mary's and came in to show for the third place spoils by pinfalls.

The average department is getting a lot of limelight as this category is getting hotter each week. Only five tenths of a point now separates two of our finest bowlers, Tony Saraco and Choppers Gangi. The old man of yesterday is really putting on a one man show in third place by the name of Musky Tofuri. Eight weeks ago is name didn't appear in the top ten bowlers. He sure has come a long way wouldn't you say. He also led the 300 bowlers this week with 335; Bob Fiore, 331; Joe Garcia, 309; Choppers Gangi, 308; and No. 1 bulldozer operator Butsy Mistrretta, 308.
A name well to remember took high team pinfalls with 1471. The name being Notre Dame. This team captained by the person getting a lot of publicity this week Musky Tofuri. Born A. P. Tofuri. A. P. stands for, sorry I have heard requested not to reveal the true meaning of A. P. I can tell you this much he is no heir to the A&P chain store millions. He has the oldest bowler on his team. We hope that Santa brought him a gross of handkerchieves for the second half. If he's the sportsman we think he is he should give a few of them to Tony Saraco captain of St. Mary's who finally wound up in fifth place. The team to watch this second half is Georgetown. SACHEMS TOP BROOKLINE

Winchester High won its third basketball game in as many starts last Friday evening when they defeated visiting Brookline 50-37. Dave Schumacher led the Sachems with 14 points while Joel Peckham also drew double figures with 12. Tom Hennessey paced Brookline with 14 points.

The Sachems took charge immediately and rolled up a 16-4 lead at the end of the first period. Brookline's four points all came on foul shots.

A cold second period gave the Sachems only 7 points and a 23-15 lead at half time.

Winchester continued to control the ball through the last quarter to win going away.

Both teams had low shooting percentages with the Sachems making 18 of 46 to give them a 39% average. The Wealthy Towners made 11-36 for a 31% average.

Winchester out-rebounded Brookline 35-24 with Hank Schumacher pulling down 13 rebounds and Dave Schumacher, 12. Doug Thomson and Richie Roberts each had 4 assists to lead in that department.

At last Sunday evening's Alumni Service former and present Forumites were led by Niles Nelson, Ozzie Osborne and Bill Mason in the candlelight devotional service, with Kirby Baker as organist. Representatives of several years of Forum classes were present. Refreshments were served by the alumni committee, Ann Neville, chairman.

A meeting of the Student Council will be held Sunday evening at the home of Hank Schumacher, president.

The surprise feature of the entertainment at the Mistletoe Dance held in Chidley Hall last Saturday night was the appearance of 13 men from St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y. John Butler, a former Forumite, is a member of this group and arranged for the appearance of the singers. They were very enthusiastically received by the party. The regular entertainment followed at 10:30 p. m. and was provided by Sue Nanny, popular freshman singer, and the High School Girls' Octet, with Gail Hendricks as soloist.

Oh, say, can you skate? Then you had better not wait a day longer to get your ticket for the "Winter Whirl." In case your head has been soundproof these past two weeks, that's our private evening session—and these can't be had at the Skating Club of Boston on Monday, December 30.

The most famous skater at this rink is Tenley Albright, the women's world figure skating champion. She practices there all hours. But that night it figures to be Ed Sandford, former Boston Bruins' captain. Back in action will be Ed and his wife, Patricia. They are new Winchester residents and the evening's hosts.

Susan Macdonald, a junior at WHS, is chairman of the event. Among the ballerinas on blades—with the sharpest edges ever honed, they claim—have been distributing tickets are: Ann Lerero, Brenda Cunningham, Joanne Mitchell, and Virginia Lizotte. Other stars on skates who have been assisting them are: George DuCharme, Edmund Crotty, John Carroll, and Paul Mulloy.

Mythic Glee Club will entertain the Frances Tomassello Club of Boston with a one-hour program of choral music at the organization's annual meeting and musicale January 19th. The program will be in the Louis XIVth Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset. Mrs. Louis Parziale of 55 Oxford road is president of the Tomassello Club.

Since the Glee Club's Winchester concert December 7, the men's chorus has sung for employees of the Middlesex County National Bank in Everett and presented a program of Christmas carols at the Winchester Home for Aged People. Club members held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Crabtree, 7 Rialto road on December 18 and listened to recordings of the December 7 concert made by Wedgemere Studios, John Everett and Jack Wilcox. A tape of the Winchester concert was also played over Radio Station WEEL on the Jerry Howard Show the Saturday before Christmas.

Phillips Brooks calendars are now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

The Winchester Garden Club held its annual Christmas meeting at the lovely home of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood of 7 Swan road. Mrs. Kirkwood's house, as always at this time of year, was completely decorated for Christmas. Her large Christmas tree which reached to the ceiling was filled with imported ornaments and many unusual and delicate ones made by Mrs. Kirkwood herself.

After a delicious Christmas dessert served by Mrs. Kirkwood and her co-hostess, Mrs. Angelo Ghirardini, the president, Mrs. Percy Bugbee, called the meeting to order. She graciously welcomed the members and their guests and especially welcomed the four new members; Mrs. James L. Jenks, Mrs. Philip Boone, Mrs. Maurice F. Freeman and Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken.

Mrs. Bugbee read a very appropriate poem, "The Little Christmas Road," and then called on Mrs. William Gilpatrick who read an original poem published in 1955 entitled, "Sophronia Saxe."

The program chairman, Mrs. Roland Patrick, introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. Robert Richards, whose subject was "Christmas Decorations."

Mrs. Richards took us on an imaginary tour of her own home showing us the many beautiful decorations she had made for each room. She was most generous in explaining and showing us just how each wreath was made and the proper use of her materials.

Her first wreath was made of white pine with a red bow, simple but dignified. Another was made of Douglas Arborvitae, small green pears, red sumac tied with an olive green satin bow. Her Chickadee wreath made of Juniper as a background had eighteen different specimens of dried berries and cones. This she tied with an orange satin bow to bring out the orange in her Bitter Sweet and dried flowers.

Another outstanding wreath was made of Hinoki Cypress, Love apples, cones and silver bells. She brought with her several small artistic miniature fruit wreaths tied with tiny velvet bows. Two of her wreaths were gold, one made of gold maple leaves and aqua colored Christmas balls, while another large wreath was made of Southern Magnolia leaves, California wood roses and purple grapes.

The Spiritual side of her decorations was introduced by using gold Friendship Angels and exquisite Madonnas with backgrounds of red, purple, green and rose velvet.

Her little Christmas tree was charmingly decorated in gold with many tiny gold satin bows, candy canes and purple garlands. She trapped in gold foil and ropes of tiny gold balls strung through the boughs. This she called her Candy Tree.

Her pink candle tree, surrounded by small pink artificial Christmas trees and pink angels made a stunning centerpiece for her dining room table.

For the children she used four rope horses dragging a Yule Log on a sled. For color she used red cranberries tossed casually over a large white snow ball.

Her many swags for over her mantle piece were breath-taking and showed much imagination. No one could create such beauty without having the true Christmas Spirit within her own heart and mind.

A most inspiring table arrangement was a pale blue china Madonna with a background of pale blue velvet and wild juniper, silver magnolia leaves and pewter candle sticks.

Mrs. Richards held her audience spellbound with her originality and the endless amount of time and thought she had put into her Christmas decorations. Her great ability and charm of manner endeared her to the Club.

Mrs. Edward Crabtree of 7 Rialto road called the police on the Friday before Christmas to report that someone had stolen 22 Christmas lights from a tree outside her home.

The police investigated the incident and later found the bulbs smashed near the small water house belonging to the Water Department.

EDITORIALS

The Star extends to its subscribers, advertisers, friends and the entire community its very best wishes for a happy, healthy and peaceful new year. We have appreciated your friendliness during 1957 and have tried to profit by the helpful criticism we have received from time to time. May we hope for your continued support in our effort to give Winchester a good family newspaper in 1958.

Many have commented on this year's Christmas lighting in the center, or lack of it, and a number of those who have talked to the Star about the matter seem to feel that it is the merchants' fault that the local lighting display is so modest.

This isn't fair to the merchants. A year ago a group of local business men started out to give Winchester Christmas lighting more in keeping with what is done in other nearby cities and towns. They raised money among themselves without trouble, and tackled the lighting problem enthusiastically.

Unfortunately, the merchants did not check their lighting plans with the town fathers, and when they started to put them into operation they found that they could not do some of the things they had planned. The result was delay and finally a last-minute substitute lighting arrangement that pleased no one, least of all those who worked so hard to try to give the town something good.

Though some of the Selectmen were not too sympathetic with elaborate Christmas lighting, all the board members were unhappy over what had taken place and decided to insert in the warrant an article providing for Christmas lighting at the town's expense and under the town's supervision.

This proposal was rejected by the March town meeting, almost, as we recall it, without debate, certainly without any protest from the many who now seem to want more elaborate lighting.

You cannot blame the merchants for attempting nothing more this year. It is the burnt child who dreads the fire.

In some other towns it is reported that the merchants and the town divide the Christmas lighting bill. Perhaps some such scheme could be put in operation here. Another article would have to be put in the warrant for such action, and time grows short.

If such an article is inserted those favoring better town lighting will have to be prepared to fight for it on the floor of the town meeting. There was little sympathy shown for town-sponsored lighting at the last meeting. The merchants will likely support any movement for better Christmas lighting, but they probably will not lead a campaign to this end. You cannot blame them too much for not wanting to, either!

THE HOSPITAL'S POSITION

Editor of the Star:

Thank you for your invitation to make use of the columns of the Star to state the hospital's position in the current widely publicized dispute between some of the hospitals in the Commonwealth and the Commissioner of Administration.

One thing that has developed from this controversy is the fact that hospital finances, and particularly the initial service charge, is very poorly understood by the public. In fact, it seems to be poorly understood by the State officials who have precipitated this crisis, and if this is the case, we can hardly blame the public for being confused by some of the statements now appearing in the press.

To properly understand the problem one should be acquainted with certain basic facts of hospital financing. These are:

1. Practically all of hospital income to meet expenses must come from patients.

2. The majority of hospitals are non-profit and expect to charge their patients no more than is necessary to break even.

3. Hospital costs have increased tremendously in the last few years because over 70% of hospital cost is in payroll. Hospitals have been compelled to raise their salary standards from a substandard level to a level that meets industrial competition.

4. Approximately 85% of patients admitted to the hospital have some part of their bill paid by a third party, such as Blue Cross or commercial insurance. Over 50% of the patients admitted to the hospital have Blue Cross. Blue Cross is a non-profit operation sired by the hospitals to provide a means for the average person to budget for future hospital expense. Hospitals have a direct interest in Blue Cross. This interest is expressed in a contract which we have with them to provide hospitalization to its members and board charge, at no added charge to the patient, regardless of the amount received. The hospital is permitted to charge the patient the difference between the patient's room and board allowance and the rate for the room. These hospital Blue Cross contracts for ancillary services under the law must be approved by the Commissioner of Administration, who certifies the cost figures that we submit as the basis for reimbursement.

These facts should be borne in mind in discussing the present issue, which is the hospital's right to charge an initial service fee.

On October 1st the Winchester Hospital granted its staff nurses a wage increase approximating 20%. The present salary range for a staff nurse is $93 to $122. A fact that even after the increase most people will consider not to be particularly high in today's market for skilled personnel. To meet this wage increase and other increases that have accompanied it, the Winchester Hospital had to develop a means of producing over $5,000 a month added income. There were two choices open to the hospital. 1. A general rate increase, and 2. The adoption of an initial service charge. Cost studies have shown that the patient that stays one or two days costs the hospital considerably more per day than the patient who stays a week or more. Since the room rate structure applies to all patients equally, it is based on the cost of the average patient for the average length of stay. Therefore, the patient who stays one night is being subsidized by the patient who stays beyond the average length of stay—4½ days. It is the opinion of most of us concerned with hospital administration that the cost of a patient's care should be charged to the individual who incurs the cost, and that no other patient should be obliged to pay for someone else's hospitalization.

Analysis of our cost figures show that the reason that the short stay patient is more expensive to care for is primarily in the cost involved in admitting him and starting him on his course through the hospital. These costs involve the operation of an admitting office staffed twenty-four hours a day, setting up of a patient's medical and accounting records, the extra nursing care required in getting a patient into his bed and started on his course of treatment, added housekeeping expense in preparing the patient's room and bed for a new admission, extra dietary costs involved in establishing the dietary regime of the new patient. These are non-recurring costs that are incurred within a few hours of the patient's admission. They apply alike to all patients. It makes sense to us that all patients should be charged alike for these costs. These costs could be included in our room and board charge. To do so would mean increasing our room rate at least one dollar a day. Hence, the patient who stays thirty days would be paying at least $30 extra, instead of the present $10 extra.

The Commissioner of Administration has stated that the initial service charge is a duplicate charge. This we contend is false. If we are compelled to eliminate this charge, we will be forced to increase our room rates along the lines previously explained. If this is the case, how can it possibly be a duplicate charge? The Commissioner further contends that the initial service charge falls within his jurisdiction of supervising Blue Cross ancillary contracts. To make such a claim it can only be surmised that the Commissioner does not understand what an ancillary service is. The ancillary services that the law authorizes him to review for contract purposes are such things as laboratory, drug, operating room and x-ray charges. The law grants him no authority to establish room rates covering the general services of the hospital. The services included in the initial service charge are, by almost unanimous agreement, general services, in the same category as housekeeping, nursing and dietary.

We believe the Commissioner to be acting without authority in ordering us to abandon the initial service charge. We further believe that he is acting against the interests of the public in attempting to compel us to institute a less equitable charging system to the patient. We believe the initial service charge to be the fairest means that can be devised to pass on to the patient the added costs of hospital operation. But more important than the initial service charge itself, and regardless of its merits, we believe there is a principle involved here that should concern every citizen interested in maintaining the American system of private enterprise. We believe that no political official should have the right to dictate to any free competitive business the prices it should charge for its commodities. We do not believe that any official should be permitted to threaten cancellation of a contract which is within his authority to supervise, if he does not agree with some other facet of the operation which is without his authority to supervise. If the threat of cancellation of the Blue Cross contract can be held over the heads of the hospitals to enforce a charge policy agreeable to the Commissioner, then this suit club could be used on the hospitals to make the hospitals completely subservient to the Commissioner of Administration for any other phase of the hospital's administration, from what drugs it is permitted to stock to what color it should paint its front door.

We believe in our right to charge an initial service fee. We believe in the fairness of the fee, but more importantly we believe that the American people want their hospitals to operate as free institutions, controlled by the representatives it elects to its governing boards, and by the laws of economic competition which effect hospitals as well as any other business. For the preservation of this right and principle we are determined to resist political interference with all the legal means at our command. Sincerely yours,

DOCTORS NOT TO BLAME

Editor of the Star:

Through your newspaper I would like to offer my apology to the doctors of this town for the criticism directed toward them in my letter that was published in your last issue. When I wrote this letter I was not fully aware of all the facts in connection with this case. Since then, evidence brought to my attention has convinced me that our doctors were not at fault. However, let us hope that we may all learn from this unfortunate incident ways and means to prevent a recurrence. It would seem that better coordination of communication of all agencies involved might have prevented the delay.

Sincerely,
Philip M. Marvel

A FANTASY (I)

'Twas two thousand fifty-seven,
And a lady and a lady
Were strolling slowly, hand in hand,
In Greater Boston, Mass.

(For people in that distant day
And century, had found
It quite a novel pastime
To travel on the ground!)
Then, noticing a structure
Looming up ahead,
The little girl asked, "What is that?"
To which the lady said:

Well, years and years and years ago
This place had some renown,
It's name, I think, was Winchester,
A pleasant little town;

And it was back in those days
That what they called a "train"
Would take the folks to Boston,
And bring them home again.
Right through the heart of Winchester
The railroad took its way,
And heavy trains came roaring through
A dozen times a day.

Till citizens cried out in fright
And stated, then and there,
The menace to their lives and limbs
Was more than they would bear,
And "something really must be done."

The years went by, and then Another generation came
And said the same again!

"Then came the automobile
(Of which you've seen a few)
Bringing what they considered speed,
And complications new;
And people in their speed cars
Raised up a hue and cry
Because it took so long to wait
While trains were passing by.

And for a score of years or more
Kept up a constant din
Until this massive structure
Was finally put in.

"Well, almost at the self-same time,
In keeping with the trend,
All service on the railroad
Came to a sudden end,
And the good folk who worked so hard
To get it, had to find
Some other way to use it
For the service of mankind!"

"'Twas then someone conceived the thought
That maybe it should be
A permanent memorial
To a vanished industry;
And so, a special meeting
Of inhabitants was called,
And with due ceremony
A splendid plaque installed;
"In Memory of Railroads"
The brief inscription read
(And there were some who mourned
But most of them are dead!)

So there it stands unto this day,
A tribute to the worth
Of railroads, only read by those Who like to walk the earth.

"And now, my dear, the self-same thing
Is happening again,
When autos are as little used
As railroad trains were then,
And all the huge garages
Stand here and there you see
To a day that used to be!

(But there is one advantage,
To give the thing its due—
With the demise of autos went Their traffic problem, too!)

"And still there are those who look back
In spite of modern ways,
And wish that we had trains once more,
As in the good old days.

"Well, now you've had your little stroll—
Adventure, if you will,
And I suppose you'll tell your friends
About your brand new thrill;
And, if you wonder at it all,
Just bear this fact in mind—
That change will always dog the steps Of restless humankind!"

at 7:08 of the first period when Matthews sank the rebound from Comeau's shot which Gowdy had stopped.

Sophomore Dana Kelly, who was Winchester's star, scored the equalizer at 4:35 of the second period on a nice shot from 15 feet out; and he put Winchester out front five minutes later when he picked up a loose puck inside the Saugus blue line and drove it between Gallant's legs into the strings. Winchester really put the pressure on Saugus at this point and only some fine goal tending by Gallant prevented scores.

The Indians iced the game midway through the final period when Dave Harkins took a pass from Craig Davenport to beat Gallant. Matthews' second goal for Saugus, though it came too late, was the result of some pretty passing by Comeau and Churchard, with Matthews going in alone.

The summary:
Winchester—Gowdy, g; Cullen, rd; Eaton, ld; R. Scott, c; Harkins, rw; Davenport, lw.
Saugus—Gallant, g; Comeau, rd; Maxwell, ld; Sullio, c; Matthews, rw; Churchard, lw.

Saugus Spares—Wolfe, Spencer, Edmunds, Maher, Gustafson, Patch.

Second Period—

Penalties: Cullen (slashing) (charge).
Comeau (hooking); Sullio (charge).
Third Period—
Goals: Harkins (Davenport) 5:19; Matthews (Comeau, Churchard) 7:07.
Penalties: Cullen (tripping)

BUILDS OWN CHURCH

VERMONT PASTOR
COUSIN OF REV. SNOOK

Rev. Harry Snook has literally built his own church, The Assembly of God Church in Rutland, Vt., and this fact has Winchester significance because the Vermont pastor is a cousin of Rev. John Snook, Jr., pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Besides being ministers, the cousins have in common their leaving their jobs to enter the ministry. Rev. John Snook left business; Rev. Harry Snook was a cabinet maker, and an expert one before he became a parson.

The latter, starting seven years ago with $5 and a congregation of seven persons, has built a church seating 200 and valued at $45,000. The church has marble facing, walls paneled with oak to eye level, a ceiling of white acoustic panels supported by dark oak beams and four stained glass windows, secured without cost from a church in Webster and cut to size and framed by Mr. Snook himself.

The church has a social room in the basement, reached by two winding staircases, with another staircase leading to the steeple. The church nursery class is housed in a sound-proofed room. Although he was familiar with carpentry and masonry work, it was necessary for Mr. Snook to study machinery and electrical wiring before he set out to build his church.

Ordained in 1954, he still does the expert cabinet making for which he has a wide reputation, to bring in sufficient revenue to meet the needs of his family.

NEW SODALISTS RECEIVED

Perhaps one of the most impressive rites to be held in the church year at the Immaculate Conception Church is the solemn reception of new sodalists into the Sodality of Our Lady.

Tuesday evening, December 17, fourteen new sodalists were received into the sodality. As each sodalist receives her medal she is then veiled in her mantle of blue which she will wear at all solemn processions. Rev. Stephen E. Burke, spiritual director placed the medal of Our Lady on their shoulders and was assisted by Mary Graham, prefect; and Mrs. Florence McCall, mistress of candidates, in placing the veil on their heads. They then recited the Act of Consecration in unison and in all it made quite a beautiful ceremony.

Adding to the pleasure of the evening, the new sodalists and their sisters retired to the Parish Hall to enjoy their annual Christmas Party.

The new sodalists who for the past three weeks have been rehearsing their program gave a terrific performance of a Christmas minster.

The four jolly Santas, who filled the hall with their Ho-Ho's as they came down the aisle to do a Tambourine Overture, were a sight to behold.

Kathleen Prue, a daughter of one of the sodalists gave a delightful recitation on "Wonder if Christ had a Little Dog."

Santa, Edith Brooks sang the gay ditty "Santa Claus is Coming to Town" and Sheila McGowan's, "Visit from Santa" stole the show as she portrayed a broken rag doll. Our four jolly Santas were next seen doing the Charleston and jolly they were as their pillowed tumblers threatened to give under the strain of the dance.

Remembering the spirit of the season, the show was brought to a close with the chorus singing "Christmas Carols" as a backdrop to a beautiful nativity scene.

The new sodalists and cast for the evening were:

Audrey Barry, Choralier; Edith Brooks, Santa; Margaret Carr, Santa; Irene Castine, Angel; Mary Etheridge, Choralier; Janet Downey, Choralier; Marjorie Cambino, Santa; Ida Gillette, Santa; Janet Jacomet, Angel; Jean McNulty, Choralier; Agnes Moran, Choralier; Rita Lizotte, Choralier; Eleanor Mullaney, Blessed Virgin; Virginia Odin, Choralier. Assistants: Jean Connolly, Sheila McGowan, Phyllis McGuerty, Florence McCall, Rose Donleavy.

DRAMATIC GROUPS
HEAR NOTED N. Y. CRITIC

Little Theatre Group people from many communities, as well as representatives from the local groups, were the guests on Wednesday evening last of the Parish Players at a special "Theatre Evening," held in the lovely Grey Room of Dr. and Mrs. Howard J. Chidley. The guest of honor that evening was Miss Margaret Jane Fischer of New York City, an outstanding drama critic and avid theatre-goer. Miss Fischer was the Chidley's house guest, and had consented to speak before the Parish Players' and their theatre people.

The hospitable home of the Chidleys was in itself a delight to the guests that evening, many of whom had traveled from Concord, N. H., Portland, Maine, distant towns, to hear Miss Fischer. Egg-nog, coffee and fruit cake, was served by the Players.

Miss Fischer proved to be a very pleasant quiet little lady, simply dressed, smiling, delighted to see so many new friends. She was given a warm word of welcome by Mrs. Chidley and by George S. Hebl, Jr., chairman of the Parish Players' board. Then Miss Fischer who has attended plays in leading theatres abroad, who has seen Hamlet played in Elsinore Castle, who enjoys the Stratford on Avon Plays as well as the leading London comedies, and who is a World Theatre-goer, began to speak. And from the first words, her audience was spell-bound in silent tribute.

Miss Fischer spoke of important American plays, such as "Long Days Journey into Night," the beautiful moving "Look Homeward, Angel" by Thomas Wolfe. Both of these plays are stark autobiographies of American key writers and Miss Fischer outlined the story of each, told of the background, the playwright—told of the leading actors, the problems and greatness of both plays. She was honest in saying that she preferred "Look Homeward Angel" for its superb characterization, its greatness, its human values.

Her informal talk included "The Cave Dwellers," by Saroyan, and she wondered why amateur groups did not do more Saroyan plays, when this American playwright was such a good writer, a writer with a childlike, fine belief in man's goodness to man. She spoke of the new Inge play, "The Dark at the Top of the Stars," of the Helen Hayes "Time Remembered," and others. She gave her audience a splendid preview of a new Australian play that may be coming this way soon, "The Summer of the Seventeenth Doll," and again, in her vivid style and pictorial speech, told the story of this first Australian play by an Australian playwright.

There were many gems placed in the hands of a grateful audience by Miss Fischer that Wednesday evening. In front of her were men and women interested in acting, in play selection, backstage work, in just seeing good plays. They were enchanted with the exquisite diction and speech of this little lady from New York's theatre world—with her quiet charm, her keen insight into what makes a play good, great, and lasting. They asked her questions about plays for amateur groups; what makes some plays successful, other plays a heart-breaking flop. Miss Fischer was kept busy just appeasing the theatrical appetites of these eager people in her audience. And long after her "talk" was over, they cornered her with questions. It was one of the most enjoyable Christmas presents a Little Theatre person could have—hearing Miss Margaret Jane Fischer—and the groups in the audience that night are still talking about it!

FIRES

Thursday, December 19, Mrs. Ferber of 10 Hillcrest parkway called the fire station to report trouble with an oil burner. When the firefighters arrived the oil burner repair men were already there.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

Mrs. Don S. Greer opened her beautifully decorated home on Arlington street for the Christmas meeting of the Florence Crittenton League on Friday, December 20. Mrs. Vera L. McKenzie, the president, after cordially welcoming the members and their guests, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. McKenzie thanked Mrs. Greer for her gracious hospitality at this busy season and also mentioned other members who had generously opened their homes in the past.

After the reading of the secretary's and treasurer's reports, various committee chairmen were called on and Mrs. Ernest J. Wright, hospitality chairman, was particularly commended for her lovely teas.

The report of Mrs. Albert M. Thompson, bazaar chairman, was given by Mrs. Paul C. Dunn. Mrs. McKenzie thanked Mrs. Thompson for her untiring efforts and remarkably hard work. Mrs. Thompson thanked Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Selberg and other members of her committee for their assistance. Mrs. McKenzie reported on the lovely new chapel at Crittenton Hastings House and said that she hoped all members would see it at a later meeting.

Mrs. Theodore P. Messer, program chairman, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Ruth Ley, whose subject was "People Are Fun." Mrs. Ley, a vivacious personality, proved to be a very entertaining speaker. Drawing from her contacts with numerous celebrities, she told many amusing and interesting experiences. She convinced her audience that even everyday people are fun if you choose to try to discover what goes on behind a frequently gruff exterior. From the sound of merriment throughout the room, it was very evident that her audience was completely enjoying itself.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Paul C. Dunn and Mrs. Harold F. Meyer poured at the very festive tea table. Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and her committee had once more produced a delightful tea.

B & P CLUB

On December 11, as the first and only snow of the Christmas season came gently down, Santa Claus came to Chidley Hall at the First Congregational Church. The good old saint came to greet 29 youngsters from the Children's Haven of Boston and the Cambridge, who were guests of the Business and Professional Women's Guild.

A chicken pie supper was served by Mrs. Ernest Parker and her committee, after which Mr. Charles Russell, of Providence, R. I., put on a marionette show which delighted the youngsters and adults as well. A Christmas program was given by the children themselves. These little youngsters do pull at the heart strings! Then came Santa with gifts (Mr. William Hodge) for all and the evening ended as excitement reigned supreme.

Invited guests present included: Dr. and Mrs. Dwight L. Cart, Rev. and Mrs. Wesley Mallory, Miss Jutta Reich, Mrs. Robert D. Lowry and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murray of Children's Haven.

DIRECTED CHRISTMAS PLAY

Louis J. Gonnella of Winchester, was directed of one of the Christmas plays presented recently to the students and faculty associates of Winthrop House at Harvard College.

On December 14, as a part of the annual Christmas celebration, the students presented "Bessie, the Bandit's Beautiful Baby" and "I'll Die for Dear Old Harvard." Gonnella directed the latter. Preceding the play was the traditional Christmas dinner and carol singing; following was a House dance. Winthrop House is one of the seven undergraduate residences at Harvard.

Gonnella, the son of Dr. John P. Gonnella of 76 Arlington street, has appeared in the Christmas plays for the past two years. A member of the Board of Health of the Winthrop House Committee.

HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN!

Did you receive your Christmas Seal in the mail this year? You probably did but have you sent in your contribution for them yet? We feel sure that every Winchester resident would not want to omit his support and interest in keeping tuberculosis under control. We confidently hope that as well informed active citizens that all Winchester people will demonstrate and continue support of local tuberculosis control programs this year too.

While tuberculosis is now under control and less people die from TB, it is by no means an extinct disease. In this area, it still represents a major public health problem. Eighteen hundred eight new cases of TB were discovered in Massachusetts last year; 292 of these were from Middlesex County. Tuberculosis in an infectious disease against which a continuous battle for control must be fought.

That is why we urge you to answer your Christmas Seal letter now, if you have not already done so. Your contributions in return for the cheery Christmas Seals that have just lent such a colorful note to the holiday season must support our entire effort against tuberculosis. They provide medical research to find new improved methods of diagnosis and treatment; chest x-rays and tuberculin tests, to find TB early when most easily treated; rehabilitation to help patients resume normal, useful activities; health education to increase public awareness and practice of tuberculosis control measures. Eighty-four cents of every Christmas Seal dollar remains within this county area to continue these year-round activities.

To help those who need it so badly, and to help curb the inroads of this terrible disease; send in your Christmas Seal contribution now.

ACCIDENT ON WILDWOOD STREET

Donald R. Foley of 94 Eastern avenue, Woburn was involved in an accident on Wildwood street and Woodside road last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Foley was driving north on Wildwood street and had just entered Woodside road when his car went out of control, going over the sidewalk and knocking down three trees.

Police Officer Boyle investigated the mishap and brought Mr. Foley to the Winchester Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Paul Kelley, her for a cut on his mouth and for one near his right eye.

The car was badly damaged and towed away.

GIRL INJURED

ON ACCIDENT ON CROSS STREET

Late last Saturday evening an accident on Cross street resulted in injury to one girl and damage to the car involved.

Phillip Murphy of 18 Clark street was driving west on Cross street and as he approached the intersection of Holton street the right door of his car flew open.

Marsha Streechi of 48 Henry street was thrown out on the pavement and Susan Dunbury of 797 Main street who was in the middle of the front seat also fell out of the car in an effort to save the Streechi girl.

Mr. Murphy tried to save both girls and control of the car. The car jumped the curb and entered the side yard of John Comita of 179 Cross street.

Miss Streechi was taken to the Winchester Hospital where she was treated by Dr. William S. Garcelon for scalp lacerations, multiple abrasions, contusions and lacerations of both knees. She was the only injured person.

The car was damaged and had to be towed away.

NEW YEAR'S EVE AT METHODIST CHURCH

This coming Tuesday, which is New Year's Eve, the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will be open to the public from 11:30 until midnight for meditation and communion.

The pastor, Reverend John Snook, Jr., has arranged several meditations and prayers which will be given to those who attend as they enter the sanctuary.

The individual may spend as much time as he wishes for meditation and prayer. When he has finished, the pastor will be at the altar extending an invitation to Holy Communion. After the communion the guest is welcome to stay, or leave, as he wishes.

As we approach 1958 it would seem reasonable and wise in such a critical time as we live, with so much uncertainty, to seek God for guidance and strength in the days ahead.

The service is open to all who wish to attend.

The Winchester eighth grade basketball team lost a hair-line 39-38 decision last week to the Woburn eighth graders. The winning basket, shot by Eddie Foley, was stolen away just before the final buzzer. Mike Bellino, last of the Bellinos, led both teams in scoring with 15 points.

On Christmas Sunday, December 22, Mr. Ralph del Sordo of Winchester, former violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, played at the First Congregational Church on an American violin that was made in Boston in 1882 by J. B. Squier.

Of special interest, the violin was made of wood taken from the Old South Church. This is exceptional, as most American violins are made of imported wood, especially from Italy.

WINCHESTER, 54; WELLESLEY, 48

Winchester continued unbeaten in the interscholastic basketball ranks by beating Wellesley High at Wellesley Monday evening, 54-48. The Jay Vees won the preliminary game, 55-40.

Winchester led at the quarter, 17-7, but dropped behind at the half, 25-22, when Wellesley came up with a big second period, outscoring the Indians, 18-8.

The third period was close all the way, but Winchester had the scoring edge, 21-18, and the clubs were deadlocked at 43 going into the final chukkah.

Winchester pulled out the game in this period by outscoring Wellesley, 11-5. Dave Schumacher turned in the high total for both teams, 23 points, on seven foul goals and nine from free tries. Edwards led Wellesley with 11. The summaries:

The Winchester J.V.'s halted Wellesley's Juniors by the score of 55-40. Winchester started strong and was able to net 21 points while Wellesley was held to 11.

In the second period, however, the Sachems went cold and got but eight points. Wellesley, however, suffered the same fate and got only five points bringing the halftime totals to 27-16, Winchester.

Starting the third period, Bob Freeman threw in three quick field goals which offset a rash of Sachem fouls, and gave them a sixteen point bulge.

The fourth period saw Wellesley find the range and outscore the visitors 13-12 despite a six point output by Vandy French, but it was too late for much damage to be done, and Winchester finished 55 points ahead.

Bob Freeman was high scorer with 17 points and Vandy French collected 12. Neither of these players played the full game, with Freeman getting 3 periods and French playing in only 2.
